Invitations Go Out To All Volunteers For Local Drive

Mr. James Nowell, community chairman of the Winchester Community Fund Drive which is being conducted as a part of the Greater Boston Community Fund Drive this year, has issued invitations to a special function in the interest of both drives. The party will be held at the Winchester Country Club on Tuesday evening Jan. 9 at 7:45 o'clock.

This novel method of bringing together the executives of the Winchester Chest, the many volunteer workers in our town, and the executives of the Boston Chest is characteristic of the unusual effort behind the local campaign this year. Mr. Francis C. Cray, Mr. R. Ammi Cutter and the Rev. George P. O'Connor, all of the Boston Chest, will be present at the Country Club at this time.

Mr. Harold S. Fuller, president of the Winchester Chest, informs us that the organization for the actual drive is making rapid progress. The keynote of the campaign, "by the people, for the people" taken from Lincoln's famous words, has particular meaning in Winchester where a record number of workers and campaign leaders is being assembled. Recent additions to the list of workers includes as precinct directors:

Precinct 1—Ralph W. Hatch
Precinct 2—Charles C. Clarke
Precinct 3—Wayne B. Thompson
Precinct 4—Marshall W. Fihl
Precinct 5—Erskine W. White
Precinct 6—Charles H. Gallagher.

These precinct leaders will be assisted by the following assistant precinct directors:

Precinct 1—Mrs. Frederick M. Ives, Jr., Charles H. Woolley
Precinct 2—Mrs. Sherman W. Saltmarsh, A. Thad Smith, Jr.
Precinct 3—Mrs. Jomeson S. Slocum, Arthur S. Harris
Precinct 4—Mrs. Edwina R. Rooney, E. Ober Pride
Precinct 5—Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, John B. Kenerson
Precinct 6—Mrs. Thomas W. Conlon

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

The matter of budgets for town departments for 1940 has been having much careful consideration by the Board and various other heads of departments vitally interested in the welfare of the townspeople.

Warrant for the town meeting in March will close Jan. 29 at 8 o'clock p. m. All items of insertion in the warrant must be in the hands of the town counsel or the Board before that date.

David H. DeCourcy has been re-appointed local forest warden for 1940.

MR. CUSHMAN FETED

Stuart Cushman, Edison salesman recently transferred from the Winchester office to Boston, was given a surprise party Wednesday evening by a group of his friends at Horace Ford's on Winchester terrace. Among those present, besides Mr. Cushman, were Wayne B. Thompson, Mr. Wakefield, Mildred Johnson, Malcolm Bennett, Eleanor Mansfield, Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Pollard, Mr. Burd, Alfred Muerling, Katherine Weld, Edward Bennett and Philip Gallagher.

MYSTIC SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

On Tuesday, Jan. 9, at 3:30 the Mystic Mothers' Association will have the pleasure of hearing Mrs. T. Grafton Abbott talk on "Discipline." Mrs. Abbott is consultant in parent education in the division of Child Hygiene of the State Department of Public Health; and a most able and interesting speaker. Here is an opportunity to see, without embarrassment, if your authority as a parent measures up to the modern mark. Don't miss it.

WINCHESTER GIRL CHOSEN

Gertrude Meserve Outstanding Young American

Miss Gertrude Meserve, daughter of Mrs. Anna C. S. Meserve of Cutting street, was recently named by Harry Miller, editor of "Youth Today," national journal for young people of high school age, as one of the ten "outstanding young Americans for 1939."

Miss Meserve won her honors in the field of aviation, becoming at the age of 19, the youngest full-fledged commercial airplane pilot in America. She is now teaching aviation at the school where she herself learned to fly upon completing her course at Winchester High School in 1938. During her senior year she was a leading scorer and captain of the girls basketball team that went through its season undefeated, a distinction a Winchester girls' team had not won for many years.

INTERESTING POLICE FIGURES

The Police Department made 444 arrests in 1939, of which 325 were males, 19 females and 10 juveniles. One hundred and forty-four were residents and 300, non-residents. Four hundred and forty-four arrests is not a top figure for Winchester, in fact, it is much lower than the 725 arrests in 1925.

Of the cases taken to court, 178 were fined and paid, 101 were placed on file, and only 10 found not guilty.

Property valued at $11,688.55 was stolen in Winchester during 1939, the police being successful in recovering $8,578.50 of this amount. There were 16 breaking and entering cases in town during the year.

Police investigated 1169 complaints and police cars covered 90,054 miles. The department had 141 days sickness during the year with 14 additional days due to injury. Special officers were paid $1,927.18. There were 1038 dogs licensed in town and 589 complaints of dogs investigated.

Among the recommendations of the Chief of Police are the purchase of a new ambulance for the town and a radio transmitter to be installed at headquarters.

NEW ART EXHIBIT AT LIBRARY

Opening next week, the Winchester Art Association will sponsor an exhibition of portraits by well known Boston artists in the art gallery of the Public Library. Marguerite Fitzhue Browne, Marie Danforth Page, Marguerite S. Pearson, Richard D. Briggs, Elmer Greene, Charles Hopkinson and Bernard M. Keyes will each show three or four pictures, making a sufficiently large and varied show to be both interesting and worth while.

For members of the Art Association there will be a pre-view of the exhibition and tea Sunday afternoon, Jan. 7, at 4 o'clock, when Miss Browne one of the exhibiting artists, will speak on "Some Experiences of a Portrait Painter," a subject which should prove quite entertaining as well as instructive.

ALGAE AFFECTING WATER

The taste of Winchester's water is being materially affected by the growth of algae, a plant-like animal substance that has developed under the ice in the South Reservoir because of the low water resulting from the lack of rain last summer. The algae, in disintegrating give off an oily substance into the water, causing a most unpleasant taste.

The Water Board is unable to treat the water in the usual manner because of the ice. The condition, while unpleasant, is not injurious, and one which fortunately Winchester experiences only very infrequently.

Incidentally the new driven wells on the West Side are now supplying one-third of the water used in town.

MISS JONES ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Gardner Jones of Ridgefield road have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Suzanne Jones, to Jack Bradley Pierce of Marblehead, son of Cornelius Pierce.

Mr. Pierce prepared for college at Cushing Academy and was graduated from Washington and Lee University in 1936.

The wedding will take place in the spring and Mr. Pierce and his bride will make their home in Meadville, Pa.

OLD TIMERS NIGHT, JANUARY 19

Unitarians are planning a gala night for Friday, Jan. 19, when McGee's Orchestra will play old and modern dances.

Many will come in costumes of other days and old and young will join in the Grand March. There will be an old-fashioned flavor given the refreshments and an atmosphere of the good old days will be recaptured for the evening.

Dancing classes to learn the old dances are being held each Wednesday evening in Metcalf Hall until Jan. 19.

OIL BURNER STOLEN

Some time during last Friday night some one entered the newly erected clubhouse of an Italian Society on Raymond place off Chester street, stealing the new Esso oil burner installed in the heater.

Sergt. Thomas F. Cassidy investigated the theft and found access had been gained to the clubhouse through a cellar window and that a quantity of paint was taken as well as the heater. The latter was cleanly disconnected.

ARTHUR THAD SMITH

Arthur Thad Smith of 235 Mystic Valley Parkway, a leading Boston attorney with offices at 10 Postoffice Square, was stricken with an acute heart attack Monday evening, Jan. 1, in the South Station where he had been his daughter, Miss Jeannette Smith, off for New York after a holiday visit in Winchester. He was pronounced dead upon arrival at the City Hospital. His son, Arthur Thad Smith, Jr., of this town, accompanied him to Boston and was with him when he was stricken.

Mr. Smith was the son of Dr. A. Noel, and Hattie (McCann) Smith. He was born May 1, 1875, in Silver City, Idaho, but as a boy went with his parents to Dover, N. H., where he attended grammar and high school. He was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1896, being the second ranking student in his class, a member of the Phi Beta Kappa honorary scholastic fraternity, Delta Kappa Epsilon and Casque and Gauntlet, Dartmouth senior society.

For five years after graduation he served as principal of the Nute High School at Milton, N. H., leaving this post to enter the Harvard Law School, from which he was graduated in 1904. He was admitted to the bar the same year, became a member of the Federal Bar two years later and was admitted to practice in the Supreme Court in 1912.

He had engaged in general law practice in Boston since 1904, first with Bartlett and Anderson, later for many years as a partner in the firm of Bartlett, Jennings and Smith, and more recently in his own office where for the past four years his son had been his associate.

On Nov. 15, 1906, Mr. Smith married Orinda Dickey at Milton, N. H. In 1910 he came to Winchester from Boston and had since made his home here, interesting himself in the town's civic welfare and attending the First Congregational Church. For seven years commencing in 1920 he served as a member of the Town's Board of Appeals.

He was treasurer and a director of the Thayer-Osborne Shoe Company, a member of William Parkman Lodge of Masons, a member of the American, Massachusetts and Boston Bar Associations and of the Winchester Country Club.

Besides his wife, son and daughter, he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Laura S. Clark of Hyde Park and Mrs. C. V. Peck of Upper Montclair, N. J.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the late residence with Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiating. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

ISAAC ROCKWOOD WEBBER

Isaac Rockwood Webber, retired Boston bookseller and former vice president of Charles B. Lauriat Company in that city, died Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 2, at his home, 289 Main street, after a short illness.

Mr. Webber was in his 92nd year. He was the son of Philip and Lydia (Underwood) Webber, was born Oct. 30, 1848, in the West End of Boston, educated in the Boston schools and as a boy went to the employ of Leon Cambell, bookseller in that city.

Later he became associated with Estes & Lauriat, wholesale and retail booksellers and publishers, remaining with them for some years and taking a prominent part in starting the popular young people's magazine, St. Nicholas, published by that house.

When Charles B. Lauriat left the firm of Estes & Lauriat to go into the retail book business Mr. Webber joined him in establishing the firm of which he became vice president and which gained a high reputation for its specialization in rare and imported books. He retired six years ago.

Mr. Webber came to Winchester from Somerville in 1901 and had since made his home here. He was the oldest member, in point of age, of Hiram Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of Arlington, and was a member of Agassiz Council, Royal Arcanum, of Cambridge.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at the late residence with Rev. R. Mitchell Rushton, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment will be in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge.

DELOREY VETS COMMANDER

Daniel Roderick Delorey of Garfield avenue has been elected commander of the Massachusetts State Guard Veterans' Association, Unit 20, of Medford for the year 1940. Mr. Delorey was a member of the Winchester Machine Gun Company and saw service in Boston at the time of the Police strike.

THWING—JONES

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Irene Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Jones of Newport street, Arlington, to Roger William Thwing, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Thwing of Lloyd street, took place Sunday afternoon, Dec. 31, at 5 o'clock in Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church with the pastor, Rev. Howard J. Chidley, D. D., officiating. Immediately before the entrance of the bridal party Miss Ruth Oliver of Arlington sang "O Promise Me" by De Koven. The wedding organ music was played by George Welsch of this town.

Miss Jones' honor maid was Miss Anne Vorhis of New Haven, Conn. Miss Marguerite Thwing, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Marjorie T. Lewis of Belmont were bridesmaids and Miss Natalie Anne Peter, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Deeb E. Peter of Cambridge, was flower girl. Kirby Thwing of Winchester was his brother's best man and the ushers were Paul S. Jones of Arlington, brother of the bride; Marshall Patch of Winchester, Arthur Worthen of Lynn and George V. Merryfield of Waltham.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin with a conventional veil of tulle, arranged with a coronet of seed pearls, and carried a bouquet of cala lilies. The honor maid wore powder blue satin with a short matching veil held in place with a powder blue rosette. Her bouquet was of roses and snapdragons, the same flowers being carried by the bridesmaids who wore dusty pink satin frocks with short matching veils and rosettes. The small flower girl wore a blue taffeta Kate Greenaway dress and carried a basket of sweet peas.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church social hall. Upon their return from a wedding journey to Williamsburg, Va., Mr. Thwing and his bride will make their home at 21 Wendell street in Cambridge.

The bride, whose father is regional manager for Nash automobiles, was graduated from Simmons College and the Harvard Graduate School of Education. Mr. Thwing is a graduate of Northeastern University, is past master councillor of Middlesex Chapter, Order of DeMolay, and past president of the Eta Tau Mu fraternity.

McCALL—HARDEN

A marriage of Winchester interest took place in St. Joseph's Church, Medford, New Year's Eve, Jan. 31, when Miss Florence Harden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Harden of Pilgrim road, Medford, became the bride of Edward McCall, son of Mrs. Mary McCall of Main street, Woburn, formerly of this town. Rev. Thomas F. Ferris performed the marriage ceremony, for which the altar of the church was attractively decorated.

Miss Harden was attended by Miss Doris Conners of Somerville and William Joyce of Winchester was Mr. McCall's best man. Edward Welch of Winchester, cousin of the bridegroom, was usher.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with a conventional tulle veil and lace cap, and carried a bridal bouquet of white roses. The honor maid wore a green taffeta dress with matching hat and carried talisman roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents who assisted in receiving with the mother of the bridegroom. A wedding supper was served, and later the bridal party and guests went on to a New Year's party held in their honor at the home of the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Regan of Pleasant street, Woburn.

Upon their return from a wedding journey Mr. McCall and his bride will make their home in Winchester. The bride is a graduate of Medford High School. Mr. McCall attended the Winchester schools and is in the employ of Beggs & Cobb, leather manufacturers of this town.

MASONIC OPEN HOUSE

The annual New Year's Open House of the Winchester Masonic bodies, William Parkman Lodge, Mystic Valley Lodge and Winchester Royal Arch Chapter, was held Monday in the Masonic apartments with an attendance of about 250 members and guests.

Chief among the latter were Most Worshipful Joseph Earl Perry of Belmont, Grand Master of Masons in Massachusetts; and Most Excellent Ralph T. Low, Grand High Priest of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter.

Grand Master Perry brought to Winchester as his personal guest a British Mason, Albert Edward, a member of the Labor Party of the British House of Commons. The two became acquainted while Mr. Perry was in England and was introduced to the House of Commons by Mr. Edward.

The latter spoke most interestingly upon war conditions in England, particularly as they affect the British people, who he said do not expect that the United States will be drawn into the European War. Reports which are current to the effect that England expects the United States to enter the war on the side of the Allies are, he said, without foundation in fact. The English, he added, value the United States much more as a source of war supplies than as an active participant in the fighting.

The toast to the Grand Master was delivered by Ralph W. E. Hopper. An entertainment program was offered by professional talent and light refreshments were served.

HIGH SCHOOL CLASSES PRESENT "THE LATE CHRISTOPHER BEAN"

"The Late Christopher Bean" by Sidney Howard will be given in the High School Auditorium by the Junior-Senior classes, Saturday evening, Jan. 13, at 8:15. It it a delightful comedy, gay and amusing, which carries agreeable excitement throughout the performance and ends with an adroit twist that will leave the audience pleasantly surprised.

A painter named Christopher Bean had died in a New England village, leaving only a few dirty canvases to pay the doctor for his efforts to heal. It was a mild surprise to Doctor Haggett and his family when an old friend of Bean's dropped in, and paid Bean's old bill, and took away only a couple of pictures as mementos. It was a bigger surprise when another old friend of Bean's turned up on a similar errand, and the biggest of all when a New York art critic arrived to pay his respects to the memory of the dead artist. It was overwhelming when they learned that Christopher's daubs were worth a fortune—and how they scurried to find the remaining pieces. There was one in the chicken coop; the daughter of the house had painted some flowers on the back of another; and Abby, the servant girl, had a Christopher Bean portrait of herself in her room. A mad scramble ensues with Abby in the thick of it. And always in the scramble, the effect on the characters of those involved is uppermost, always there is the flurry and distress of minds under the turmoil of action; always through it is the lovable simplicity of Abby, to whom Christopher was an unmercenary memory of distant happiness.

Mr. Howard has laid his story in New England, which he knows so well. The unfolding is odd, amusing, hilarious; and beneath it all is the deep abiding love of Abby for her departed lover. Of all the people in town, she alone sensed his aspirations and basked in the glow of his great soul. Her wistful retrospections, her faithfulness to his memory win respect and admiration.

The play is being directed and coached by Kenneth Meinke of the high school faculty, who produced "Bab" last year with signal success. An able and an especially suitable cast has been chosen. Many of the young artists are not strangers to Winchester audiences, having appeared both in school and town theatrical projects.

Edna McCormick, who played successfully the lead in "Bab," is again taking the lead in the role of Abby, the "hired girl" in the Haggett family; Wallace Howard, a favorite in high school dramatics, appears as an oily and too affable Jewish gentleman; Brock Lynch, who has delighted audiences with his unusual tap dancing, is appearing as an elderly gentleman.

The characters in the play are:

Dr. Haggett, a middle-aged country doctor James Coon
Susan Haggett, his daughter Leila Jane Smith
Abby, the "hired girl" in the Haggett family Edna McCormick
Mrs. Haggett, with "cityfied airs" Jane Armstrong
Ada Haggett, another daughter Sylvia Robinson
Warren Creamer, the self-satisfied village painter Peter Hickey
Tallant, a "city slicker" Robert Elliott
Rosen, and oily an too affable Jewish gentleman Wallace Howard
Davenport, the distinguished art critic Brock Lynch

WINCHESTER OPENS LEAGUE SEASON TONIGHT

Winchester High School's basketball team will open its current campaign in the Middlesex County League this evening, playing Stoneham High in the local gymnasium, commencing at 7:30, first and second team games.

This will be the first start for the locals since the pre-vacation game with Woburn which Winchester lost 27 to 17. Coach George Lauer has had the his boys working since the resumption of classes to correct some of the mistakes that cropped up in the Woburn contest, but too much improvement should not be expected in the short time available.

Stoneham has one Middlesex League game under its belt, playing Wakefield Wednesday and losing a close one 33 to 30. If Wakefield is anywhere near as strong as usual this result would indicate the boys from the hockey town have a team capable of extending Winchester this evening.

The locals ought to have more court strength than Stoneham, a small school supporting two winter sports, with the emphasis on hockey. Against Woburn, Winchester, while outclassed, showed possibilities and should get away on the right foot tonight. Whether Coach Lauer will deviate from his Woburn game lineup of McEwen and Waugh forwards; Captain Horie, center; and Marabella and DeTeso, backs, probably won't be decided until right before game time, but the chances are this combination will start against Stoneham.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Six members were absent from the meeting of Jan. 4. Let us better this record and start the New Year right.

It is a fact too well known that relief work in aid of the war-stricken peoples of Poland and Finland is in-peperable. Rotary clubs in the USCNB area as well as individual Rotarians are naturally interested in this work. Financial contributions constitute the most effective means of rendering the required help and the American Red Cross and the Finnish Relief Fund, Inc., Herbert Hoover chairman, are the agencies best qualified to render such contributions effective. The American Red Cross may be reached at its headquarters in Washington, D. C. or its branch offices in practically every city or county in the United States. The Finnish Relief Fund, Inc. maintains headquarters at 420 Lexington avenue, New York City or if preferred local newspapers will accept contributions to be transferred to New York. The need is great and growing greater. Immediate action will be doubly valuable. And in the Scriptures we read that the conduct of the Good Samaritan was preferred before the neglect of him who passed on the other side of the way. Consult your conscience.

Mr. Harold S. Fuller, well known local citizen, spoke before our club yesterday in the interests of the coming annual campaign of the Boston Community Service Federation for funds with which to carry on its work. The local Community service organization has lately joined forces with the Boston Federation which now includes Boston and seven other suburban cities and towns, and is said to be the largest body of its kind in this country with the exception of the Jewish relief system of New York City. The drive in this area commences Jan. 22 and continues until Feb. 6 and the allotment assigned for collection in Winchester is $30,000. As a result of the affiliation of Winchester with the Boston Federation there will be but one solicitation for funds this season in place of the two annual drives previously conducted. It should be borne in mind that many important Boston hospitals, social and charitable institutions are rendering service for the benefit of suburban communities; indeed it is affirmed that, in a recent year 68 per cent of the work of such institutions was performed for communities in the metropolitan area of Boston. Wherefore Winchesterites should not hesitate to render all possible assistance at this time. At the conclusion of Mr. Fuller's address a motion picture was exhibited in illustration of the highly constructive work being performed in metropolitan Boston in behalf of its distressed citizens.

Our Dr. Harry Mueller will address the club next Thursday, Jan. 11. We understand that he will tell of his experiences while a resident in the southland, but whatever his subject it is going to be worthy of our best attention. And of course he will appreciate the largest possible attendance.

Average Attendance for December, 1939—89.29 per cent.

M. C. W. G. NOTES

The regular meeting for January will be held next Thursday evening, Jan. 11 at the home of the Regent.

Mr. William G. Reed who has been making his home with Mr. William J. Allen of Vine street for the past year, has entered Montana State University at Missoula, where he is to specialize in Forestry.

MRS. ELIZABETH M. J. ROBERTS

Mrs. Elizabeth Mary Jane Roberts, wife of John L. Roberts, died Sunday night, Dec. 31, at her home, 10 Blind Bridge street, after several months' illness.

Mrs. Roberts was the daughter of Duncan and Betsy (Robinson) Shaw. She was born on Robinson's Island, P. E. I., 80 years ago and was married there April 21, 1882.

In 1890 she came to this country, settling in Waltham, from which city she came to Winchester five years later. She was a charter member of Winchester Grange, 343, and had many friends among older residents of the town.

Mrs. Roberts leaves, besides her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Helen Dewar and Miss Ethel Roberts, both of Winchester; a son, Leigh S. Roberts of this town; eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren; a sister, Miss Catherine Shaw and two brothers, James A., and Edward A. Shaw, all living on Prince Edward Island.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Kelley & Hawes Chapel with Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiating. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

O. E. S.

The 186th stated meeting of Winchester Chapter 175, Order of Eastern Star, will be held in Masonic Apartments Monday evening, Jan. 8, at 5 o'clock (note change of time).

Business and reports at 5 p. m.

JOHN PICCOLO

John Piccolo, retired fruit and produce dealer died suddenly late Saturday afternoon, Dec. 30, at his home, 7 Park avenue, of an acute heart attack with which he was stricken after returning from an errand which took him to the block of stores on Washington street at the foot of the hill. He became ill with a heart ailment last August and was for five weeks in the Winchester Hospital, being confined to his home for a time after his release. He had been getting out for about two weeks before his death, his sudden passing coming as a severe shock to his family and many friends.

Mr. Piccolo was born in Medford 51 years ago, the son of Stephen and Frances (Volpe) Piccolo. He attended the Medford schools and as a young man worked for the fruit and produce firm of Volpe & Piccolo, in which his father was a partner.

Their store was located on Mt. Vernon street in the Lyceum Building, continuing at that location for many years. Later Mr. Piccolo, in partnership with his brother, Fred, conducted a similar business on Main street in the Brown & Stanton Block until the death of his brother nine years ago.

Three years later Mr. Piccolo closed out the business and was for a time in the employ of the First National Stores in Stoneham, retiring because of poor health two years ago. He was a former member of the Knights of Columbus and of Winchester Lodge of Elks.

Mr. Piccolo leaves his wife, the former Mary Holland of Winchester; his mother, living in Medford; two sisters, Mrs. Frank DePalma of Medford and Mrs. Arthur Tobia of Belmont; and two brothers, Angelo and Frank Piccolo, both of Medford.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the late residence with high mass of requiem celebrated in St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Francis J. Sullivan. Rev. Fr. Samuel Mathews, S. S. J., of Washington, D. C., was seated in the sanctuary. Bearers were Fireman Everett W. Kimball, John S. O'Leary, John D. Coakley, George Young, all of Winchester; Cosmo DiPirro of Wellesley and Dominick Rescuttie of Belmont. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Father Mathews and Rev. Fr. Joseph E. McGoldrick of St. Mary's Church.

Martin L. Lally, a resident of Winchester for the past 25 years, died early Monday morning, Jan. 1, at the Winchester Hospital, after a brief illness. He was 55 years old.

Mr. Lally was the son of Marcus and Mary (Carr) Lally. He was born in Ireland and spent his boyhood there, later coming to this country and settling in Winchester 25 years ago. He was a stationary fireman and was formerly for a time employed by the Eastern Felt Company of this town. He was a member of St. Mary's Church and of St. Mary's Holy Name Society.

Mr. Lally was unmarried. He leaves three sisters, Mrs. Owen E. Reardon, Mrs. John H. Bryce, both of Winchester; Mrs. Sarah Glidden of Nantucket; three brothers, Patrick, of Winchester; Thomas of Woburn; and Daniel Lally of Arlington; and several brothers and sisters living in Ireland.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the Lane Funeral Home on Main street with solemn requiem high mass celebrated in St. Mary's Church. Bearers were Ernest Reardon, John Reardon, Marcus Lally, Daniel Lally, Mortimer McGrath and William Lally. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

Sunday afternoon shortly before 3:30 Donald C. Roberts of 12 Glenwood street, Woburn, reported to the Police that a Dodge sedan which he had parked in front of 739 Main street was slightly damaged when a Plymouth sedan skidded into it while headed north. The Plymouth was registered to William Mason of 34 Hollander street, Roxbury.

"by the people, for the people"

GIVE to Greater Boston's COMMUNITY FUND

Jan. 22-Feb. 6 1940

TEACH HOPE TO ALL, DESPAIR TO NONE

GIVE

Greater Boston's Community Fund poster for 1940 is arousing wide interest as it appears on subway walls and billboards and in windows throughout the metropolitan area. A striking head of Abraham Lincoln, together with his immortal words, "by the people, for the people," taken as the slogan of the coming campaign, Jan. 22 to Feb. 6, makes a strong and timely appeal.

Conceived by Donald T. Carlisle, Boston advertising man and chairman of the Fund's publicity committee, the poster was executed by Richard F. Bartlett and John H. Cook.

The poster which already has received high praise from artists and advertising men, is built around a specially drawn head of Lincoln, whose philosophy has been adopted as the theme of Greater Boston's 1940 Community Fund campaign.

Leaders of the 1940 Fund, headed by general chairman Francis C. Gray, chose the Great Emancipator as the campaign theme in recognition of the 75th anniversary of his death. His enlightened words, "Teach hope to all, despair to none," express the aim of Greater Boston's Community Fund in seeking support for more than 175 hospitals, health and social service agencies annually caring for some 300,000 metropolitan residents.

TERRARIUMS AND DISH GARDENS

On Wednesday, Jan. 17 at 2 p. m., at the art room of the Winchester Public Library, Mrs Herbert H. West, member of the Better Homes Garden Club, will speak on the making and care of terrariums and dish gardens.

Mrs. West will give the history and development of these glass house gardens, which have recently gained such popularity.

Mrs. West will make one of the gardens during the lecture and will also bring bowls of partridge berries and a bottle garden. Members, who have gardens of this sort, are urged to bring them. They will create interest and enthusiasm.

A question period will follow the meeting.

SKIING PARTIES

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bean of Stetson Hall and Conrad "Bubbles" Larson, Jr., spent last week skiing in Braintree, Vt., returning to Winchester New Year's Day. Mr. Bean and Larson spent two days at Mount Mansfield, reporting great sport.

Over the holiday week-end at Braintree were Nancy England, Will Grush, Cy Perkins, Bronson Garner, Ted Yeo, Betty and Ted Dissell.

SECRET SERVICE THRILLS

"Secret Service Thrills," a talk by Maj. Allan A. MacFarlan and trumpet selections by Luido Talone will be the entertainment progrom for the Winchester Junior Fortnightly as guests of the Senior Fortnightly next Monday evening Jan. 8. The meeting will be held in Fortnightly Hall. The Juniors thank the Seniors for their invitation.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

With throats worn raw from frequent and exuberant renditions of beloved Christmas Carols, with knees worn raw in thanking God for the privilege of being Americans, and with hearts overflowing with the great joy of this happiest of "Happy New Years," we turn over another star be-decked page in our memory book and turn to 1940 with hope in the continuation of our American freedom. And the first page of the 1940 Fortnightly activities announces a week of most interesting, educational events.

On Monday night, our annual guest night program, brings us Allan A. MacFarlan, a major in the British Army, who will tell some of his experiences during and since the World War, under the title "Secret Service Thrills." Fortnightly husbands and Fortnightly Juniors are to be special guests of the evening. Other guests may be invited at the usual door fee.

On Wednesday afternoon, Miss Mildred Keane, a member of the State Parole Board, will discuss "The Parole and Pardon System of Massachusetts," at the meeting of the Legislative Committee in Fortnightly Hall at 2 o'clock. Tea will be served by Mrs. Sparks and members of the Legislation Committee.

On Friday, the 12th, Mrs. Edward Timmins will give a talk on "Old Jewelry," and will exhibit a group of interesting old jewelry, at a meeting of the Antiques Group in Fortnightly Hall. Members desiring to exhibit their old jewelry are asked to contact the co-chairmen, Alice Andrews or Adelaide Partridge.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLES' ACTIVITIES

The Young People of the First Baptist Church of Winchester have enjoyed many exciting adventures this fall and winter. The season of outings began with the delightful trip to Gloucester where the young people learned much about the fishing port. On the 11th of November a party climbed Mt. Monadnock. As the day seemed quite chilly the boys and girls wore ski suits which turned out to be the suitable clothing for the mountain that day was as cold as those in Greenland. However, in spite of the cold, icy winds most of the young people acclaimed victory by arriving at the top. When the group descended they drove to Nashua, N. H., where they saw that much talked about picture "First Love," starring Deanna Durbin.

Many other interesting meetings have been attended by the Young People. Among them have been visits to neighboring churches, a visit to Park Street Church in Boston, and also Sunday evening meetings at the homes of the members of the group.

A successful pageant was given on Christmas Sunday afternoon by the group in the First Baptist Church under the direction of Miss Ruth Ormsby. On Christmas Eve many of the Young People congregated to sing carols and many a lonely person was brightened by the youthful voices.

The New Year was ushered in with a most impressive candle-light service. Miss Helen Ulrich, who attended Ocean Park this past summer lead the meeting. The music of the evening was offered by Miss Betty Ann Elliott.

The group is now anticipating an illustrated lecture on Sunday evening by their artist Paul Butterworth and the Splash Party on Jan. 11. Now young people you have heard, if you are eager to meet a fine group of wide awake boys and girls and are not associated with some other group, come to the Baptist Church this Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

WINCHESTER RED CROSS NOTES

The members of the Washington Chapter, Mothers' Association, are assisting the Winchester Red Cross Chapter with the War Relief quota. The members meet every Tuesday to sew and if members wish to join this group to sew kindly call Mrs. Severin Ritchie, tel. Win. 1175-R.

The Red Cross room, third floor, Town Hall is open every Monday from 10 to 4 for sewing. Our second quota is large and the need is urgent so the Winchester Red Cross would be most grateful to all who are able to give any time for this great service to help those who are suffering.

For any further information, please call Mrs. George A. Dutting, tel. Win. 2191.

LADIES' FRIENDLY SOCIETY

At the next meeting of the Ladies' Friendly Society we will be privileged to hear two speakers who bring a special and a timely message.

Miss Frances Wood, one of our leading Unitarian educators will speak on "Parents as Teachers of Religion." This should prove interesting to all parents.

Mrs. Clarence Miller will speak on "England, Estonia and Russia." She had gone to Europe with her daughter, a Vassar student, who was to have a year's study. Of course the war changed her plans but not until she had a glimpse at the Baltic which is holding the world's interest today.

With two such interesting speakers we should have a full attendance.

WINCHESTER TUBERCULOSIS COMMITTEE

The Winchester Tuberculosis Committee appeals to all citizens who have not yet paid for the Christmas Seals sent through the mails to do so at once.

The response to the Seal Sale campaign has been very gratifying, but every cent is needed in order to carry out the program planned for 1940, according to Mrs. Edwin R. Rooney, treasurer.

Approximately $600 has been received to date. This money will be used in a program to prevent tuberculosis in Winchester and throughout the country where 70,000 lives are claimed each year by this disease.

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

The first meeting of the Evening Study Group will be held on Monday, Jan. 8, 1940 at the home of Mrs. John D. West, 74 Wedgemere avenue. Coffee will be served at 7:30. The subject of discussion "Is Modern Advertising an Economic Waste?" will be under the direction of Mr. Robert A. Drake and Mr. John D. West.

Post card notices of succeeding meetings, which will take place on alternate Monday evenings, will be sent to all members who indicate their interest. The dues are $1.25 a couple for College Club members, $2.25 for non-members. There will be eight meetings, concluding with a dinner meeting. The members of the committee for these popular and interesting gatherings are Miss Natalie Jewett, Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Wyman, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kitchin, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne E. Davis. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Wayne E. Davis, chairman, 9 Marshall road, tel. Win. 1237-M.

The History Study Group will resume meeting on Monday, Jan. 8, at 9:45 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Herman F. Pike, 30 Arlington street. The subject continues to be "The Versailles Treaty and its Aftermath."

The study group on American Architecture will meet for the first time on Friday, Jan. 12 at 10 a. m. in the Winchester Library. A lecture with slides will be given by Mr. Thaddeus Clapp, former director of the Federal Art Project in Boston. Subsequent meetings which will include lectures and visits to museums and places of interest will be held on Jan. 20, Feb. 9, Feb. 23, March 8, March 22, April 5, and April 26. The fee for College Club members will be 50 cents, for non-members $1.50; guests may attend the library meetings for 25 cents, but the membership list is limited to 45 persons for the museum trips because of the difficulty of conducting a larger group. Application should be made to Mrs. Alton Jackson chairman, 3 Lewis road, tel. Win. 0832.

The next meeting of the Music Study Group will be held on Thursday, Jan. 11 at 10 a. m., at the home of Mrs. Morton, 38 Arlington street. Post card notices will be sent to each member.

CORPORAL O'LEARY BROADCASTED MESSAGE ON SAFETY

A number of Winchester people had the pleasure of hearing Corporal Arthur T. O'Leary broadcast over Station WESX at 6:45 last Saturday evening as a guest speaker on the program entitled, Our Municipalities.

Corporal O'Leary, who is a member of the Massachusetts State Police, is the son of Mrs. Arthur O'Leary of 104 Church street, this town. At present he is in charge of the State Police Barracks at Wrentham.

Corporal O'Leary is considered an expert on highway and traffic problems and in his radio address he warned motorists that they are virtually "on the skids" as they begin the new year, because of the ice-covered highways and the holiday spirit which makes them gay and often reckless. He said that for the most part, the automobile accidents which take their toll of human lives and cause injuries could be avoided if careful driving had prevailed. The officer implored all motorists to make one sincere resolution for this year: "I shall drive carefully;" and to bear in mind that 25 miles per hour is the maximum speed at which a motorist can drive with safety on slippery roads.

ACCIDENT AT WILDWOOD AND YALE STREETS

Two cars were wrecked and two motorists injured in an autombile collision at Yale and Wildwood streets, reported to the Police Sunday afternoon at 3:30.

According to the report a Cadillac sedan owned and operated by Walter Chapin of 206 Buckminster road, Brookline, while heading north on Yale street and crossing Wildwood street, was in collision with a Mercury coupe, owned and operated by Roger C. Flynn of 238 Highland avenue, who was headed west on Wildwood street.

Edith C. Flynn, riding in the Mercury, was cut about the face and was taken to a nearby residence where she was treated by Dr. William D. Barone. Riding in the Cadillac was Samuel J. McDonald, Jr., of 290 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, who complained of injuries to his right side and right wrist.

QUIET WEEK-END

While there was plenty of New Year's jollification in Winchester the Police reported things very orderly about town during the three day holiday week-end.

Three arrests for drunkenness were made and there was one false alarm of fire, rung from Box 143 at the corner of High and Ridge streets at 2:30 Monday morning. This is one of the coldest runs the firemen have to make and it is more than likely that if the boys on the apparatus laid their hands on the party responsible for the alarm, it would have been some time before he had the urge to repeat the performance.

KYANIZE SALESMAN CONCLUDE CONVENTION

Kyanize salesmen of the Boston Varnish Company from all parts of the country completed their annual sales convention Tuesday night with a banquet where they learned that sales, for the year just closed, set a record high.

Franklin J. Lane of this town, vice president, conducted the meeting and J. B. Lord, also of Winchester, president, presided at the banquet where prizes were awarded to contest-winning salesmen by H. A. Hall, treasurer of the concern.

Advertising plans for 1940 were announced by C. A. Dana Redmond, advertising counsellor, and C. F. Eberle of Winchester, advertising manager.

WINTON CLUB PLANS CABARET

With the Christmas tree on the ash pile and the punch bowl stored away, the midwinter holidays are over and the thoughts of many townspeople turn toward the Winton Club Cabaret, which occurs on Feb. 1, 2, 3. This annual affair is given by the Winton Club to raise money for its purpose of supplying all the linen at the Winchester Hospital, and it is always the occasion for much entertaining in the form of cocktail and dinner parties and after-the-show gatherings, where, over scrambled eggs and coffee there is a lively discussion about the numbers in the show.

Mrs. Harold F. Meyer, who has proved her ability in much organization work, heads the general committee, which includes Mrs. Edward V. French, Mrs. Frederick E. Ritchie and Mrs. Clifford Roberts.

This committee has been busy for weeks planning and arranging the revue and music to build it into grand entertainment. The Rogers Co. are again to provide scenery, costumes and a director, the latter who will be new to Winton Club casts and highly recommended for ability and personality.

It is still a little too early to publish the program of entertainment, but we might reveal that it has been named "American Follies," and has plenty of dancing, music and comedy. Tryouts will be held on Jan. 15 in the Town Hall, at 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. and many of the stars and choruses of recent years, as well as new and untried talent will be on hand to compete for places in the cast.

Others who are heading committees include Mrs. M. Walker Jones, who is planning the musical score with Sammy Eisen, of the Ruby Newman Orchestras; Mrs. Clarence McDavitt, in charge of the advertising and program; Mrs. James C. McCormick, tickets; Mrs. Charles J. Emerson, floor; Mrs. Torr Wagner Harmer, wardrobe mistress; Mrs. T. Price Wilson and Mrs. Fulton Brown, costume supervision; Mrs. Joseph Worthen, makeup; Mrs. Frank W. Rounds, shoes; Mrs. Hollister K. Olmstead, decorations; Mr. and Mrs. John Tarbell, refreshments; Mr. and Mrs. James Murray, properties; Mrs. Percy Bugbee, smokes and candy; Mrs. Harris Richardson, flowers; and Mrs. Irving Jennings, publicity.

BETHANY NOTES

Although the Bethany Christmas party was held several days after the other holiday festivities, it was in no wise an aftermath or anti-climax.

With good attendance and much spirit from the younger members the games planned and directed by Mrs. Eddy provoke much jollity.

Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. Farnum's demonstrations of nationally advertised products were so clean-cut and vivacious we suspect previous experience. Mrs. Snyder, with a tell-tale "sang-froid," was perfect in "Time to Retire."

The distribution of presents was as eagerly awaited as though Santa himself were in charge. Mrs. Eddy again proved herself adequate to meet the situation and each one received her gift in due time. Eyebrows were lifted however at the pair of blue vases, never in this world purchased within the stipulated amount, which went to the out-of-town guest, Mrs. Cain, and eventually came to rest on the mantlepiece of your scribe.

Refreshments of sufficient delicacy and variety to please everyone were served and the party enthusiastically declared a great success.

The annual meeting of the Bethany Society was held in the vestry of the church following the public luncheon Tuesday, Jan. 2. The following officers were elected for 1940: president, Mrs. W. Scott Farnum; vice president, Mrs. Clarence Eddy; secretary, Mrs. Rony Snyder; treasurer, Mrs. Hosea Foster; finance committee, Mrs. Whiting, chairman; Mrs. Abrahamson, Mrs. Chaffe, Mrs. S. Foster, Mrs. Ruth Perkins, Mrs. Richburg, Mrs. Roth; chairman flower committee, Mrs. Nutting; apron committee, Mrs. Fogg, Mrs. Weber, Mrs. Morrow; quilt committee, Mrs. G. Thompson, Mrs. Fogg, Mrs. A. Foster; press committee, Mrs. Goodwin.

The sincere sympathy of every member of the society goes out to the family of Mrs. Helen Driver. The Bethany and Missionary groups will miss her lovely personality and helping hand in their midst. Although a comparatively new members she had made a very great and dear place for herself and her loss is keenly felt.

LOCAL SWIMMERS AND DIVERS TO BE COACHED

As a part of the Community Center work the Park Department is arranging for the coaching in swimming and diving for the boys and girls who showed especial aptitude in the competitions last summer. The coaching is given without charge through the kindness of the Boston Swimming Association at one of the city pools.

Cars are needed to transport the groups to and from the pool. It is asked that citizens volunteer to help with the transportation. Mrs. W. Dudley Cotton, 29 Wildwood street, telephone Win. 1174, is in charge of the transportation.

JUNIOR FLORENCE CRITTENTON CIRCLE

The second meeting of the Junior Florence Crittenton League will be held on Tuesday evening, Jan. 9 at the home of Mrs. William H. Mitchell, Jr., 7 Gardner place, at 8 o'clock.

The speaker will be Dr. Otto Yen. Refreshments will be served.

Dr. Yen graduated from Harvard in 1924, from Harvard Medical in 1929 and interned at Massachusetts General Hospital. He has been chief of Children's Cardiac Clinic at Cambridge since 1933, is visiting surgeon of the Cambridge Medical Service and on the Pediatrics Staff of the Florence Crittenton Home.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. Wayne E. Davis was the hostess for the Winchester Garden Club, Thursday, Dec. 28. The spirit of Christmas preleminated, the theme of decoration being red, pinks and candles burning brightly in floating lilies. Little formed green trees in the ices were served with the luncheon desert.

Mrs. E. W. Bratt's subject was, "Christmas Decorations" which included "The Story of the Christmas Tree" by Alma Margaret Higgins. Mrs. Bratt told interesting stories about the customs of different countries at Christmas time; England, where holly grows profusely and is used to decorate the whole house and candels in windows tell carolers where to sing; Spain, where pictures of Christ are displayed as it is believed that on Christmas Eve the Virgin blesses every home in which she finds a picture of her Son; China, where there is a flavor of old Bethlehem in her Inn Court yards; France, where the familiar Creche is made of mosses, lichens and holly with figures of the holy family, the wise men, shepherds and angels; Ireland, where they set a sieve of oats, placing around it 12 lighted candles with a larger one to represent Christ and the 12 Apostles as lights of the World; Scandinavian countries, sheaves of grain are fastened to poles placed in the ground for birds; Holland where gifts are disguised and go through many hands before they reach the rightful owners; America, whose symbol of Christmas has been the poinsettia since it was brought to South Carolina from Mexico by Dr. Joel Roberts Poinsett in 1929.

"The story of the Christmas Tree" was beautiful in description. As Mrs. Bratt told the story, Mrs. John Wills placed on a miniature tree a symbol or figure which conveyed the entire story of the Nativity.

The dominant message of Mrs. Bratt's interpretation was, "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men."

Facing the lighted tree, the members sang several carols, accompanied by Mrs. John Ghirardini.

MIDDLESEX BASKETBALL LOOP STARTS

The Middlesex Basketball League, of which Winchester High is a member, got under way Wednesday afternoon when three games were played, Belmont beating Concord 45—30, with Wakefield winning from Stoneham, 33—30; and Reading defeated Lexington, 25—15. Reading's 10 point defeat of Lexington was something of a surprise as was Stoneham's good showing against a favored Wakefield team.

Tonight Lexington plays at Belmont, Concord at Reading, and Stoneham here. Next Wednesday afternoon Wakefield plays Winchester in the local gymnasium at 3 o'clock. The league standing:

Belmont	1	0	2
Reading	1	0	2
Wakefield	1	0	2
Winchester	0	0	0
Concord	0	1	0
Stoneham	0	1	0
Lexington	0	1	0

SKATING AT LEONARD FIELD POOL

The Park Department, the weather assisting, has been able to provide skating at the Leonard Field pool which covers one and one-half acres. The snow has been cleared off and the ice is made smooth by spraying from the artesian well that is used to fill the pool during the summer.

There is a hockey rink and an additional hockey area. There is also a large portion of the surface reserved for free skating where no hockey sticks are allowed.

That there should be this public skating place is due to the fact that there was no thaw during the workless days of the long week-end. The department has no funds for overtime and is obliged to wait and hope that th re will not be a thaw at the wrong time.

PROFESSOR HARRISON TO SPEAK AT SENIOR FORUM

Prof. George R. Harrison of the Department of Physics, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will lead the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church, Jan. 7, 14 and 21, at 9:30 a. m. in Ripley Chapel.

Professor Harrison will present the scientist's approach to religion. He is one of the ablest expositors of science of our day and has written numerous articles in the Atlantic Monthly and other magazines. His most recent and popular book, "Atoms in Action," is just off the press.

His three topics for discussion are: "Atoms and Stars—The Material Universe" "What is Living?" "Science and Religion"

CHURCHILL—JACOBS

Miss Elizabeth Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Jacobs of Ashcroft road, Medford, formerly of Winchester, and Frederick Lee Churchill of New Orleans, La., son of the late Dr. and Mrs. John Churchill of Plymouth, were married Saturday evening, Dec. 30, at the Unitarian Church. The candlelight ceremony was performed by the minister of the church, Rev. George Hale Reed.

Miss Jacobs was attended by Miss Virginia Farnham of Pelham, N. Y., and Miss Mary Churchill Small of Bridegroom, a cousin of the bridegroom. Frederick A. Cole of Winchester, also a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man, and the ushers were Putnam Silley of East Milton and Francis Sears of Belmont.

A reception was held after the ceremoney, with Mr. and Mrs. William Reydel of New York, the latter a classmate of the bride at Vassar, and the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. John Lee Churchill '91, of Belmont and Plymouth assisting in receiving. The bride is a graduate of Vassar, class of 1929, and has for the past 10 years been associated with the advertising department of the Boston Globe. She is widely known in amateur theatrical circles, having played leading parts in Winchester Group Theatre productions and with the Unitarian Players. Mr. Churchill, a former member of the United States Army Air Corps, is now in the insurance business in New Orleans.

GEORGE WASHINGTON-HIGHLAND CHAPTER

The January meeting of the Chapter will be held in the assembly hall of the George Washington School on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 9, at 2:30 p. m. The program will be furnished by our teachers and supervisors under the direction of Miss Gertrude Lewis, the elementary supervisor of our Winchester schools. Their subject will be "How School Work is Integrated Around a Central Theme." There will be on exhibition, materials and books used in teaching in the schools. Tea will be served following the meeting by the social committee, Mrs. Frederick Ives, chairman. Small children will be cared for in the kindergarten room. Yearly dues may be paid to the treasurer at the meeting.

On Tuesday mornings the school will be open from 9 until 12 o'clock for Red Cross work. Come any or every Tuesday to knit or sew. For further information call Mrs. Arthur Fay, Win. 2513, chairman of the district.

APPOINT BOYS' TENNIS COACH

Faculty Manager of Athletics Ray V. Hayward announced this week that the School Department has appointed Williams H. Rodgers of the Mathematics Department, to coach and supervise boys' tennis at Winchester High School this coming season.

Mr. Rodgers has had considerable experience in coaching and handling tennis, and it is felt that his appointment as coach should be beneficial to the boys' tennis team, the members of which have as a general thing had to get along in the past pretty much on their own, except for such help as they could get at odd hours from interested older players about town.

Even without a regular coach the local boys have managed to better than hold their own with most of the teams faced and should improve with the added help of skilled coaching.

TWO TIPSY DRIVERS ARRESTED

Two operators, one an Arlington man and the other a resident of this town, were arrested by the police over the holiday week-end on charges of drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor.

The Arlington man was arrested early Sunday morning on Washington street between Swanton and Mt. Vernon streets by Sergt. Joseph Derro and Patrolman Henry P. Dempsey. He appeared in court Tuesday morning, his case being continued until today.

The Winchester motorist was arrested by the same officers on Fenwick road after their attention had been attracted by his car out on the ice of the river to the west of the street. Investigating further, the police found the driver attempting to climb the steep banking to the street and took him into custody. He too appeared in court Tuesday morning, was found guilty and fined $50.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Marion C. Parkhurst of Greenwood announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Dorothy C. Parkhurst to Harold T. Donovan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Donovan of Wedgemere street.

The Editor usually receives a pleasing surprise for Sunday morning breakfasts the year-round, sometimes by request and sometimes through the Little Woman's inspiration. Therefore last Sunday, being the last one of the old year, deserved a specially noteworthy menu. It was served, but not needing any inspiration in the Wilson household. Our good friend John H. McManus of Wildwood street, vice president of the John P. Squire Company, averted any brain storm and provided the one delicacy comparable to the occasion. His gift of delicious Arlington sausages hit the spot and filled the bill to perfection. There's nothing like 'em, either on Sunday or any other morning.

Thus far during this glorious year of 1940 we have spent its bright days making out our milk report for that great booster of unemployment and insecurity known as the Social Security; otherwise the great New Deal Milk Fund. This little office, when and if we get the money to pay all 1939 checks due, will have dropped into the pail about $700! This tribute to the New Deal milk fund of the Nation is made up from an insignificant average weekly pay roll of $237! But hiring eight people, providing their living and that for such dependants as do not figure under this Social Security, requires a lot of milk. Of course we have to pay a pay roll tax. That is not for the milk fund as advertised. That is fairly acknowledged as a tax for New Deal spending. Then for further New Deal experiments, new armaments, yachts and insurance, we pay a Federal and State income tax. Likewise we should not leave out our own social security for those who work for us, for we carry Workmen's Compensation insurance. That is not a small item at all. Quite the contrary. Of course in these pping days of New Dealism we would not dare to be without Public Liability insurance. State, County and Town taxes are of course all right, and perhaps if they get all those fellows who have industriously tried to provide for their own social security by devious political methods, we may even—some day, hope for a little rebate. We read that the New Deal milk business is now employing the greatest bookkeeping department on earth. Quite to be expected. Thousands upon thousands are now socially secured, either gathering in or doling out the milk. If we could get our application blank sponsored and scrape up the initiation fee, we would be sorely tempted to join this army. It must be nice to get a tidy little sum coming in every Saturday night and know that you will get it—even though the whole United States goes broke. It's a future to look forward to by those boys who have to wait till they are 18 before being allowed to work and have 10 or 20 years to kick around in before they reach their Social Security goal. We, ourselves, are like the Ohio ball player, who when laid off during the winter, was refused his Social Security in Wisconsin. We think it was fixed up, but we do not get anything for our share of the bookkeeping demanded of us for the milk fund. And at that we are not expert enough to escape the penalty of a few fines for this and that. All-in-all, these bright days of 1940 have started with a decided sour note so far as our own social security is concerned. We wish we could throw back our magnificent head and let our hearty laugh ring out, but we are out of tune, so it seems. We do not want anybody to starve. Of course not. What money we have poured into the milk fund we earned according to the laws and tenets of the America we were born and brought up in—not as it is now made over. And up to now we have always been willing that anyone else should do likewise. However, the milking of America goes merrily on, and judging from what we are pouring into the pail, there ought to be enough for everyone to take a place at the trough.

SHORT CAMPAIGNS

President Roosevelt was suspected of trying to purge the Supreme Court. Now, having failed, there are those who wonder if his suggestion that both parties have a short political campaign in 1940 does not have the appearance of an election Blitzkreig.

THIRD TERMERS

Is it in good taste or complimentary to the intelligence of American citizens for Ambassadors, Cabinet Officers, and other officer holders—not elected by the public but appointed to their high positions and high salaries—to be the first and loudest in their demands that President Roosevelt be elected and elected, re-elected and re-elected?

May the citizens not wonder if these men are not tempted to play garden politics with their high, inherited positions, either to repay their benefactor or to perpetuate their own positions?

Such appointed office holders have certainly the full rights of citizenship but too active participation in party politics is really too obvious to be much of a factor.

Perhaps it may prove that silence would have been the better judgment.

MR. ICKES

Mr. Ickes, the Secretary, called Mr. Dewey's Minneapolis speech "baby talk," further stating:

"It proved his qualifications as a candidate, for he talked 45 minutes without saying anything."

Mr. Ickes "babies" have talked for seven years and they have said plenty; but when will they learn to walk?

A Secretary of the New Deal, Mr. Ickes, has a reputation for bitter sarcasm.

Criticism in the form of sarcasm is often very effective in debate and politics; but to be effective it must be based on facts to be seriously of interest for long.

In a recent press release, Mr. Ickes is quoted as saying that "The national income rose from $40,000,000,000.00, in 1932, (with their lamented Hoover prosperity) to $70,000,000,000.00, in 1939, which doesn't look like we're going to hell right away."

The true fact is that we are vastly poorer as a nation, in 1939, than we were in 1932, under Mr. Hoover.

That increase in national income—as Mr. Ickes calls his increase of $30,000,000,000.00—was due only to the spending of our $20,000,000,000.00 borrowed increased national debt and additional taxes imposed on the people. If Mr. Ickes can seriously call a $20,000,000,000.00 increased national debt—with the almost unbelievable increase in state, city, town, and county debts, together with ridiculously increased taxes and 10,000,000 still unemployed—as an increased national income, then to be really prosperous we, as a nation, should owe our entire national wealth, have a 100 per cent income and indirect tax, and have 130,000,000 unemployed. We are actually twice as near that goal as we were under Mr. Hoover.

The sarcastic answer to this would be,—Relief and starvation must be taken care of. The truth of this is that those in need could have had twice as much if Mr. Ickes had given direct relief without useless projects and high administrative expenses.

GOLD

There is full reason to worry. The gold buying theory of New Dealers is the most ridiculous economic scheme ever attempted by any government in the history of the world. It can destroy all our world commerce. Today the United States owns over 50 per cent of all the gold in the world. When this war is over we will own practically all of it. Then what? As I have suggested since the very beginning of this "New Deal plan"—and constantly since—the American people should stop it. Even now it may be too late.

This is what has actually happened to date: Gold has been made valueless as a base for currency. No other country in the world today bases its currency on gold. No other country will even buy it. Gold has been made simply another commodity, useful only for dentists, jewelry, and holes in the ground. It has greatly increased our already enormous excess reserves, which present the grave possibilities of wild inflation. It will for years keep interest rates at starvation returns—affecting the savings of labor. Prosperity can never return with low interest rates. We have financed European war preparations by their profits on gold sold to us. We have sold American labor short by fictitious gold purchase prices for our goods. Last war we loaned 'em. This time we forced 'em to take it. Either way we charge it off.

America will have one big national headache before it solves this farce of buying gold and paying a price that renders such purchases practically worthless at the same time. Imagine raising the price of gold while at the same time, through propaganda, telling citizens that to own gold or property, through thrift, industry, or labor, is "entrenched greed," or makes one an "Economic Royalist," "Tory," or "International Banker."

The New Deal plan of prosperity is to pay as much as you can for anything that can be made of little value at the same time.

Today there is not one recognized economist in the world that has any clear cut idea of how President Roosevelt and the Brain Trust can get out of this tinsel shell game. (Seashells may become the coin of their realm, at that!)

Gold today has no currency value. Other countries want goods not gold. And here in America it has been made a legal and social crime to own gold—or most anything else. Yet they still buy it with our laborers' toil.

WINCHESTER SKI CLUB

The Winchester Ski Club had its usual weekly meeting in the clubrooms last Wednesday night and this being the first meeting of the month, a short business meeting preceded the moving pictures which have been a regular event every two weeks this year.

Allton Dunsford, chairman of the dance committee announced that the third annual dance of the club would be held at 8:30 Friday night, Jan. 19 at the Winchester Country Club. The orchestra will be from Longfellows Wayside Inn under the direction of Mr. Albert Edmund Haynes, who is dancing master at Sudbury for Mr. Henry Ford. Dress will be strictly informal and will include ski clothes except that ski boots are barred.

Mr. Haynes is well known for his ability to teach the old square dances which, in addition to the modern dances, will be a feature of the evening. This will give those attending an excellent opportunity to learn or to brush up on the old square dances.

The club had as its guests, Miss Delphine Carpenter, associate editor of the Ski Bulletin and ski writer for several newspapers, Miss Elizabeth Till, secretary of the Ski Bulletin and Dr. Max Barsis, well known artist and best known for his new ski book "Bottoms Up," the most "unreliable" skiers guide published to date. Dr. Barsis very kindly autographed copies of the book for members present. Other guests included four members of the Black and Blue Trail Smashers of Lowell including Lucy Hawks of Winchester.

After the very nice refreshments by Carol Dunsford, some of the members and their guests tried out the slopes of the Unicorn Country Club in Stoneham by the help of a flashlight jointly owned by Harry Bean and Bubbles Larson. There were no casualties and the only disappointment had something to do with a ski binding or lack thereof.

There are many people in Winchester, both young and old, who do quite a bit of skiing and yet are not members of any ski club. To these people the club extends a cordial invitation to visit at any Wednesday night meeting in the clubroom at the corner of Lake and Main streets. Membership blanks may be obtained through any member or directly upon application to the Secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Thomson, 4 Park road, tel. Win. 2094-W. The cost is very nominal and the association, knowledge gained and better enjoyment of the sport are well worth it.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

Dec. 29, 1939

To the Editor of the Star:

The Winchester Star has performed an important public function in lending its valuable cooperation for the success of the 1939 Christmas Seal Sale. As the campaign draws to a close, in the name of those who have worked so faithfully for its successful conclusion, I extend heartfelt thanks.

One of the important objectives of this campaign was to direct public attention to the ever-present problem to tuberculosis, the nature of the disease and the vital necessity of prevention, as well as cure. Without the generous assistance of your paper, this objective could not have been attained.

The whole-hearted response of the community to our appeal is evidence enough, but we feel we would be derelict in our duty if we did not call attention to the helpfulness of the Winchester Star. You have, indeed, fought the good fight, and we are grateful beyond expression.

TRANSFERRED U. S. SHIPS FLY FLAG OF HEMISPHERE'S YOUNGEST REPUBLIC

There are around 40 vessels owned by American lines and flying Panama's flag. Twenty-two of these, with a tonnage of 142,543, were shifted to Panama registry between October, 1938, and October, 1939.

In this exchange of flags, points out a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society, the banner of the oldest republic in the Western Hemisphere is thus lowered for that of the youngest.

Easily Identified Markings

On Dec. 20, 1903, Panama, as the newest independent nation of the West, formally adopted her present national flag, a banner divided into quarters, two white, one red and one azure. On the two white sections are large five-pointed stars, blue in the first quarter, red in the fourth. An earlier design, originated by a Frenchwoman, was rejected by those responsible for the young republic, as the work of a foreigner.

Its red and azure squares on a white background were chosen to represent the peaceful meeting of the two traditional political parties, Conservative and Liberal.

Three Political Parties

Today, in Panama City, capital of the republic, a third party has joined the original two, as indicated by a sign over a waterfront building near the president's palace. The sign reads "Headquarters of the National Revolutionary, Liberal, and Conservative Parties."

In addition to Panama's own national holidays, such as Secession-from-Columbia day, Nov. 3, and the birthday of the Latin liberator, Simon Bolivar, on July 24, dates on which the Panamanan flag is officially flown include the birthday of George Washington, Uncle Sam's Fourth of July and Thanksgiving day, as well as the anniversary of France's Fall of the Bastille, July 14.

"God is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, January 7.

The Golden Text is: "Ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the Lord your God, and none else" (Joel 2:27).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Bless the Lord, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases" (Psalms 103:1-3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To ignore God as of little use in sickness is a mistake. Instead of thrusting Him aside in times of bodily trouble, and waiting for the hour of strength in which to acknowledge Him, we should learn that He can do all things for us in sickness as in health" (p. 166).

TURKEY'S KARS DISTRICT IS GUARDING GATEWAY TO THE EAST!

The report, later denied, that Soviet Armenia has demanded from Turkey her eastern province of Kars give headlines again to the name of one of the world's small but much-contested regions.

Since 1921, in accordance with a treaty between the Soviet and Turkish governments, the district of Kars has been a part of Turkey, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. For three years preceding the treaty, Kars was held variously—through temporary occupation and international agreements—by British troops, Armenians, Turks, and Soviets.

On Strategic Land Bridge to the East

On the northeast shoulder of Turkey as it thrusts northward into the Caucasus land bridge between the Black and Caspian Seas, Kars lies astride a historic route between West and East.

It was an independent Armenian principality in the 9th century. In the 11th century, its capital, with the same name, fell to the Seljuk Turks. Later, Mongol hordes overran it. After a century or so of peace, it was taken by the great Mongol conqueror, Tamerlane. Heavily fortified in the hands of the Turks, the town of Kars held off, from time to time, both Persian and Russian attack. Eventually, however, following the Turkish-Russian war of 1877-78, this region was joined to the Russian Empire, which status it retained until the treaty of Brest-Litovsk in 1918 initiated the stormy three years that culminated in its final transfer to Turkey.

Today, with a population of some 25,000, the town of Kars is still a fortress. Visitors are unable to take photographs even of people in the streets. Roads from it are well guarded and it is impossible for travelers to walk the mountain frontier trails without special permission.

To the west lies the military road to the Black Sea by way of Ardahan, once powerful stronghold of the old Turkish Empire. To the east lies Soviet Armenia; north is the Georgian Soviet Socialist Republic, birthplace of Joseph Stalin.

Frugal Living on High Plateau

On their high plateau land, cold in winter, hot in summer, the people of the Kars district wring a frugal living largely by farming and stock-raising. Kars has many cattle and sheep, goats and donkeys. The lack of fertility in much of the land is in striking contrast with its flourishing livestock.

In the capital a little manufacturing in carpets, cotton and woolen goods affords industrial employment.

Kars has a population of more than 300,000, like the rest of the Transcaucasus isthmus a mixture of innumerable races that have passed this way. The men usually wear Russian blouses with heavy sheepskin jackets and coats for the colder weather. The women don baggy pantaloons, covered with wide, split skirts, and turbanlike headdresses with white cotton draperies framing the face.

A NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION

"Resolved—I will start the New Year right by searching my own thought for whatever might make this world a less happy prosperous place for all men to live in."

Right thinking is vital in both personal and Economic life, in fact is the spring from which flows all right action. If the spring be checked by ignorance, prejudice or ill will the world will never know of its existence.

The basic laws of economics are not complicated, in fact we often overlook them because of their simplicity. The Henry George School of Social Science (chatered by the University of the State of New York) offers a 10 week course in Fundamental Economics and Social Philosophy which is handled as discussion groups meeting once a week in over 150 cities and towns of the United States and Canada. These grouns are led by one prepared by the school. This is the ideal method as the subject matter is presented from the point of view indicated by the discussion itself.

Arlington — Robbins Library, Wednesdays, 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.
Boston—Doll and Richards Gallery, 138 Newbury street, Mondays and Thursdays, 7:45 p.m.
Brookline—Brookline Public Library, 361 Washington street, Wednesdays, 7:45 p. m.
Cambridge—Phillips Brooks House, Harvard University, Mondays, 7:45 p. m.
Dorchester—Dorchester Branch Library, 1 Arcadia street, Fields Corner, Thursdays, at 7:45 p. m.
Malden—Dowling Bldg., Room 516, 8 Pleasant street, Mondays, 7:45 p. m.
Somerville—High School, Highland avenue, Tuesdays, 7:30 p. m.
Winchester—American Legion House, 84 Washington street, Tuesdays, 7:45 p. m.
Woburn Y. M. C. A., 555 Main street, Thursdays, 7:45 p. m.

The Winchester class meets at the American Legion House on Tuesday evenings beginning Jan. 9. Since Mr. Morris Hand, who has led several Winchester classes, is transferred to Malden, the coming local classes will be led by Mr. Winthrop L. Upton who is chairman of the Committee on Factual Research has given much time to the practical side as well as the philosophical.

For the fall classes the Boston Extension enrolled over 225 students and present indications are for a marked increase for the winter series. This is your opportunity to solve to your own satisfaction such questions as the cause for and remedy of recurring industrial depressions with consequent unemployment, social upheavals, poverty and excessive costs of government. The only tuition is your attendance and thoughtful attention. The more you give in this way, the more you will receive.

NEUTRAL AMERICA

"The Neutral Americas, from Passamaquoddy to Cape Horn" will be Eunice Harriet Avery's subject for the sixth lecture in her Winchester series, to be given on Wednesday, Jan. 10, at 2:30 p. m. in the Wyman School Hall. This popular course is sponsored by the Smith College Club for the benefit of its scholarship fund. Ushers will be Mrs. John B. Cecil, Mrs. Robert Jennings and Mrs. Henry K. Spencer. Mrs. Geoffrey C. Neiley, chairman of the committee for the lectures, and Mrs. Richard Parkhurst will be at the ticket table.

SNOW CRUISER EXPLORES SOUTH POLE

(Above) the snow cruiser as it will appear in the Antarctic wastes. (Lower) one of the huge Timken roller-bearing wheels being put in place.

LOOKING like something out of a bad dream, here is the huge 55 foot snow cruiser which will carry Admiral Byrd and his party over the Antarctic wastes during the coming year to claim more land for America. The cruiser, which was designed by the Armour Institute of Technology, has all the comforts of home, and the facilities of a good laboratory. Should Admiral Byrd wish to look at the stars, he needs only to lie back in his bed and gaze through a set of permanently mounted binoculars. Should he want to fly over the pole, he needs only to go upstairs, step into the airplane which is carried pic-a-back on the cruiser, and warm up the engine for a takeoff while the portable derrick sets the plane down upon the ice.

The snow cruiser is one of the largest single transportation units ever built. Perhaps its most fantastic feature is the wheels. These are ten feet high, tired by the largest rubber tires ever built. They are individually powered by electric motors set in the wheel spindles. They run on Timken roller bearings twenty-four inches in diameter, the largest roller bearings ever built to be mounted in wheels. They are far bigger than the roller bearings on the drive wheels of the largest and most powerful locomotive ever built.

The wheels slide up and down vertically by means of a hydraulic arrangement, making it possible for the cruiser to manouver the large chasms frequently encountered in the Antarctic. In the picture above, the cruiser is shown manouvering a 15 foot chasm by means of lifting the front wheels, lowering the back wheels for power, and sliding the front end across the chasm. With the front wheels on the other side of the chasm, they will be lowered, the rear wheels lifted, and the rear of the cruiser will be dragged, toboggan fashion, across the opening.

Because the cruiser is expected to leave its base in Little America and be away for perhaps two years, every precaution has been taken to insure a safe journey. Two spare tires will be taken, and an ample supply of spare parts with which the cruiser may be repaired. Only the roller bearings are not to be safeguarded with an extra set. Precision engineered to accuracy limits of 1/10,000th of an inch and manufactured of super-hard steel, modern tapered roller bearings are one of the most perfect mechanical achievements of science. Even under the gruelling strains of railroad service, failures rarely occur. Yet to make doubly sure, the snow cruiser's bearings were made 625% more powerful than the expected load necessitated.

HEART TO HEART TALKS

Let Us Not Forget the Lonely

With the advent of a New Year many folks make new resolutions which are broken after a few days or in a few weeks. Once a fellow has acquired a love for liquor or tobacco one hardly expects him to forgo such dissipation over night although many have tried and failed. We know a man who every year swears off swearing. For a week or two he does pretty well with his resolution but long before February is ushered in his ability to use naughty cuss words seems as prolific as ever.

But there is one resolution one one should find it easy to keep. We refer to the making of a resolution to have a thought for some lonely neighbor. Lonely folks may be found in every community but how many persons ever pause to think of the lonely hearts in public institutions, for instance, men and women who are the forgotten people of the Commonwealth? One of the saddest sights in a mental hospital is when the mail is passed out to the patients and the charge attendant cries "Packages!" Some get letters and packages from home or elsewhere—others get nothing at all and sometimes this goes on for years and years. Only the other day we read in a psychiatric journal of a case of a woman hospitalized for 11 years who had been entirely forsaken by family and friends and this seemed to be her greatest tragedy while in the institution. At Christmas such neglect is all the more noticeable and certainly all the more unbearable It is easy to picture the heartbreaks among the neglected on the one day of the year when gifts are being exchanged. True, the institutions provide a gift of some sort for every patient but this is poor consolation for any person the victim of neglect by relatives and friends.

The idea may sound rather odd to many people but for a long time it has been the conviction of this writer that every community should have a Public Institution Committee of Church Folks to visit the institutions and in between make certain that patients neglected by family and former friends have the consolation of letters and gifts. The names of such patients may be procured from every state hospital superintendent and the staffs are only to anxious to co-operate in any program aimed at the happiness of the men and women in their care. It is such a simple way of bringing happiness to others that such a New Year resolution would be kept because once the joy of rendering service to the less fortunate is understood it would prove an all-year joy.

Maybe somebody raises the question "But aren't insane people so deteriorated mentally that they would not appreciate such kindness?" Nothing is more remote from the truth. Many of the mentally ill are not much different from the average run of folks in the community and one doesn't have to be a psychologist to recognize that many abnormals still enjoy their freedom.

Once men accept as the rule of human life the principles of stewardship how is it going to be possible to overlook a single portion of humanity? Just where are we to draw the boundary line in this business of being kind? Three meals a day, a clean bed to sleep in, and humanitarian treatment by hospital employees are a great deal. Yet not enough. The problem of the lonely in the community as well as in the public institution is a smple one. The whole situation may be summed up in one question, "Am I my brother's keeper? During the short span of my life what am I doing to bring happiness to others, to my brethren in the out of way places? And how much out of my way am I going to give cheer to others?"

W. C. T. U. NOTES

At the National W. C. T. U. Convention held recently in Rochester, Mr. Donald A. Barnes, who gave the address on Youth Night, is reported in the Union Signal of Dec. 2, 1939, as saying in part:

In January, 1938, the Seagram Distillers Corporation issued the following statement in the leading state papers; 'Pay your bills first. No person should spend a cent for liquor until the necessities of living are provided and paid for. Bills for groceries, clothes, shoes, rent, light, heat, doctors. Bills such as these have the first call on America's pay-roll. We do not want to sell whiskey to anyone who buys it at a sacrifice of the necessities of life. Fine whiskey can play a pleasing part in the scheme of gracious living, but only when taken in moderation and only after the bills are paid.'

The distillers published this article because they have been warned by their own advocates that, unless the excesses of sales are curbed and the evil of liquor subdued, public opinion is likely again to resort to National Prohibition."

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Cora Anthony,
Director of A. & P. Kitchen

An abundance of citrus fruits and apples continue to arrive in market and is selling at attractive prices. This is a good time of year to put up preserves of these fruits to use in the summer when they are not so inexpensive.

New cabbage and Iceberg lettuce are the outstanding vegetables for sale, with beets, mushrooms, onions, rutabagas, and Hubbard squash also good values.

Meats and poultry as well as eggs continue at about the same price levels. However the supply of fresh fish has diminished due to the unfavorable weather and few fishing expeditions during the holidays. Consequently the prices have risen slightly.

Old Fashioned Herb Jellies For Us New Fashioned Cooks

THERE'S no doubt about it, grandmother's herb lore has completely captivated the modern cook. Once again marjoram, basil, and savory are household words . . . and even the most cautious homemaker adds a pinch of sage, thyme, or rosemary to the soup and stew.

But the most delicious evidence of our new enthusiasm is found on the jelly shelf—for all the charm of a fragrant herb garden can now be captured in delicate spreads. Sage jelly to serve with duck and turkey, savory jelly to dress up a plain pork roast — those are the things that set guests to talking and put your best friend in a clamor till you lend the recipes.

These directions are foolproof, require but a half-minute boil, you get four medium glasses from your three cups of sugar . . . and so fine are the flavors you'll want to make several batches to put away for Christmas gifts.

SAGE JELLY
(Makes about 4 medium glasses)
1 cup sage infusion
¼ cup vinegar
3 cups sugar
Coloring
½ bottle fruit pectin

Pour 1¼ cups boiling water over 2 tablespoons sage. Cover, let stand 15 minutes, strain to remove herbs.

Measure infusion into 3 - quart saucepan, adding water if necessary, to make 1 cup. Add vinegar and sugar, and mix.

Place over hottest fire and while mixture is coming to a boil, add coloring to give desired shade. Use coloring which fruit acids do not fade. As soon as mixture boils, add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard ½ minute.

SAVORY JELLY
(Makes about 4 medium glasses)
1 cup savory infusion
¼ cup vinegar
3 cups sugar
Coloring
½ bottle fruit pectin

Pour 1¼ cups boiling water over 2 tablespoons savory. Cover, let stand 15 minutes, strain to remove herbs.

Measure infusion into 3 - quart saucepan, adding water if necessary, to make 1 cup. Add vinegar and sugar, and mix.

Place over hottest fire and while mixture is coming to a boil, add coloring to give desired shade. Use coloring which fruit acids do not fade. As soon as mixture boils, add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard ½ minute.

POLISH-ROMANIAN FRONTIER A NARROW BOTTLENECK FOR REFUGEE HORDES

Like a stream of water pouring through a funnel, thousands of Polish refugees and soldiers surged for days across the narrow Polish-Romanian frontier, only 90 miles wide as the crow flies, and second shortest of Poland's six foreign borders.

Viewed on a map of Europe, this frontier looks like a natural southeastern outlet for funnel-shaped Poland, says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic Society. The analogy is heightened by the fact that most of the frontier is formed by two rivers, both flowing eventually southeastward toward the Black Sea.

Carpathian Mountains on West

The route of most of the refugees who fled Poland probably channeled through the lowlands between the rugged Carpathian Mountain chain on the west of the frontier area, and the meandering Dniestr (Dniester) River on the east.

The Polish-Romanian frontier begins in the west high in the Carpathians, and follows the course of the Czeremosz River northeastward down from the highlands to the point where it flows into the Prut River in the lowlands. Then the frontier cuts north about 30 miles to the Dniestr River which flows down out of the Polish Carpathians. From there the border follows the winding course of the Dniestr eastward to the edge of the U. S. S. R.

In the mountains at the west end of the frontier, peaks rise more than 6000 feet and snow patches linger into the spring. Far up on the heights travelers still come across rusting barbed wire entanglements, stone-lined trenches and ruined dugouts, where Austrians and Russians fought in the World War of 1914-18. Peasant shepherds tend flocks now in the high pastures. On the summit of Pop Iwan 6646 feet high, on the Polish side, an observatory recently has been constructed for the study of astronomy and meteorology.

Monasteries Have Paintings on Outer Walls

On other hilltops stand ruins of castles erected in bygone days when the Carpathians formed a natural defensive line for Europe against invasion from the East. Among the mountains, too, stand ancient fortress-monasteries that provided physical as well as spiritual refugee during troublous times of the past. Especially noted are the monasteries of Putna and Sucevita on the Romanian side of the border, whose exterior walls are covered with frescoes of Biblical scenes, the colors still fresh after 350 years.

Gradually the Carpathians slope down to the wooded lowlands of fertile Bucovina, once a crown land of Austria, but awarded to Romania after the World War of 1914-18. Ukrainians live on both sides of the border, and bulbous-steepled churches show the influence of Byzantine culture. Many Germans also are settled in Bucovina, brought in during the days of Austrian rule.

Only a few miles south of the border is Cernauti, on the Prut River, one of the largest cities of Romania. Half a dozen main highways radiate from it, and it also is on the main line of the railroad running from Bucharest, the Romanian capital to Polish Lwow (Lemberg).

PORTRAIT EXHIBITION AT LIBRARY

Art Association Pre-View Largely Attended

Nearly 100 members and guests of the Winchester Art Association attended the tea and pre-view of the association's exhibition of portraits by Margaret Fitzhugh Browne, Marie Danforth Page, Marguerite S. Pearson, Richard D. Briggs, Elmer Greene, Charles Hopkinson, and Bernard M. Keyes in the library art gallery last Sunday afternoon. Hostesses for the tea were Mrs. F. Patterson Smith and Miss Alice Joy. Miss Cora M. Quimby poured and the servers included Mrs. E. V. French, Miss Edna Hatch, Mrs. Ben Schneider, Mrs. Carl Eaton and Mrs. James O. Murray.

Margaret Fitzhugh Browne spoke upon "Some Experiences of a Portrait Painter," telling of painting such celebrities as former King Alponso of Spain, Henry Ford, Cardinal O'Connell and Senator Borah. Her remarks led one to suppose she has little sympathy with the theory that a portrait should be first of all an artistic picture and then, if possible, a good likeness. She places the emphasis first on the likeness without which after all you have no real portrait, adding however that the artistic side of portrait painting is of real importance and should be carefully treated by the artist.

The current exhibition is the first which the Art Association has sponsored devoted exclusively to portraiture. The show is excellent, including the conventional type of portrait, those of the illustration type, child portraits and several that are interesting character studies.

Among the conventional portraits shown are that of the chemist, Arthur Little, by Margaret Fitzhugh Browne, the same artist's study of Cardinal O'Connell, done on shipboard in his cardinalate robes; Elmer Greene's study of a famous sledge-dog racer in his fur-trimmed parka and Marguerite Pearson's portrait of Bishop Babcock in his vestments

Also by Richard Briggs is the exhibit's most striking portrait of a young girl wearing a black decollete gown. The beautiful skin tones of the shoulders and arms, the pose of the head, the delicacy of features and the expression of the face make a picture to which the eye returns again and again.

Another intriguing study is Bernard M. Keyes' girl with a guitar, wearing a black loose fitting gown lightened with touches of blue and a black beret upon her head. The treatment of the hands on the guitar and the slight turn of the head as if listening for the notes from the strings are especially noteworthy.

Perhaps the outstanding character study of the show and surely as picturesque as any picture hung is the man reading his paper, a sturdy, laboring type of man with leathery skin, bristly gray moustache, strong features and bare arms, wearing the typical blue shirt and open waistcoat one associates with such a man. The expression of the face, the pipe in the mouth, the paper held at a distance, are to the very life.

There is an exquisite small portrait of a young girl by Marguerite Pearson, softly and deftly handled in dark colors that complement the attractive subject. A most unusual portrait that is very striking is Marie Danforth Page's elderly man with a red tie.

Dear to the feminine heart are "Betty," by the same artist, a chubby little flaxen haired cherub in a blue frock, and Charles Hopkinson's fine study of an older girl wearing a white dress and standing in a doorway with the not-too-pleased expression of one posing against her will.

Other interesting studies are the self portrait by Elmer Greene and Margaret Fitzhugh Browne's two little girls in plum colored dresses reading to their dolls. The exhibit will remain at the library through January.

HISTORIC MATERIAL NEEDED

A committee of the First Congregational Church is looking for material for a historical exhibit for the 100th Anniversary Celebration. If anyone who reads this notice can contribute anything of interest connected with the early history of the church, it would be much appreciated if he or she would notify Mr. Franklin E. Barnes or Miss Helen Hall.

GRAY AND CUTTER SPEAK AT COMMUNITY FUND MEETING

More than 200 workers in the Winchester organization of Greater Boston's 1940 Community Fund campaign met at the Winchester Country Club last Tuesday evening to meet the Community Fund leaders. It was by far the most inspiring and enthusiastic meeting of its kind ever held in the town and community chairman James Nowell is to be congratulated upon its success.

Harold S. Fuller, president of the Winchester Community Chest presided and introduced as speakers, James Nowell, Raymond S. Wilkins, vice president of the Chest as well as a director in the Community Federation of Boston. Harold Bates, associate vice chairman of the Metropolitan Division and a Winchester Chest director; R. Ammi Cutter of Cambridge, chairman of the Metropolitan Division, Father George P. O'Connor, pastor of the St. Mary's Church in Dedham and Francis C. Gray, general chairman of Greater Boston's 1940 fund campaign.

The sincerity of the speakers and their clear cut approach to the situation at hand were very convincing evidence of the worth whileness of the efforts of all in this great humanitarian campaign.

In addition to the speakers the campaign film was shown portraying many of the services rendered by Community Federation agencies. This was particularly interesting this year as Winchester agencies, through the Chest are particularly in the united campaign for the first time.

After the meeting adjourned refreshments were served and the group had an opportunity to join Mr. Gray, Mr. Cutter and Father O'Connor in friendly conversation.

If this meeting is an example of the enthusiasm of the organization the success of the campaign as far as Winchester is concerned is assured.

MURPHY—McDONOUGH ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

The engagement of Miss Mary Louise McDonough of Roslindale to John Henry Murphy, Jr., of this town was announced last Friday evening at a buffet supper by Miss McDonough's father, Deputy Chief John F. McDonough of the Boston Fire Department.

Miss McDonough, a teacher at the James P. Timilty School in Boston, was graduated from the Posse Nissen School and from the graduate school at Boston College. Mr Murphy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Murphy of Mystic avenue. He graduated from Winchester High School, Phillips Exeter Academy, where he captained the baseball team, and was a member of the Harvard class of 1936. He is now associated with the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

A deputy from the state income tax office will be in the general committee room at the town hall on Feb. 7 from 9:30-1 and 2-4 for consultation with any who wish to have help in filing their income tax returns.

Mr. Albert S. Snow, 55 Yale street was drawn as traverse juror to serve Feb. 5 at first session of Superior Criminal Court at Cambridge.

The State Department of Conservation has re-appointed Mr. George M. Bryne, 4 Copley street, as local fish and game warden for 1940.

MRS. FRANCES McNEIL CORSE

Former Resident Was Niece of President Pierce

Mrs. Frances McNeil Corse, widow of General John M. Corse who was Sherman's chief-of-staff, died Saturday at her home on Wendell street in Cambridge. She made her home with her family in Winchester during the 1890's in the so-called General Corse mansion at the corner of Washington street and the Parkway opposite the Public Library.

Mrs. Corse, who was 79, was born in Hillsboro, N. H., the daughter of General Simon McNeil. She came of a distinguished family, being a niece of President Franklin Pierce. After her marriage she became known internationally as a hostess to brilliant political gatherings. Her husband, General Corse, was one of the outstanding heroes of the Civil War and at the Battle of Lookout Mountain was shot through the face, refusing to go to the rear until the battle was over. After the war he served for a time as postmaster of Boston. He was a nephew of Chief Justice John Marshall, and will be remembered by older residents of the town.

Mrs. Corse leaves a son, Murray P. Corse, an architect living in Cambridge.

A requiem mass was celebrated for her Monday morning at 10:30 at the Episcopal Monastery of St. Mary and St. John on Memorial Drive in Cambridge. Services were held at 11:15 in Bigelow Chapel, Mt. Auburn Cemetery. Burial was in Burlington, Iowa.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Three members were absent from the meeting of Jan. 11.

In the 1st CSCNB area the November attendance contest shows the following Massachusetts clubs in honor positions. The Lynn club heads Division D with 97.78 per cent. The Swampscott and Marblehead clubs each registered 100 per cent to enter multiple ties in F and G Divisions, respectively. South Deerfield registered 98.90 per cent.

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors was held on Monday the 8th all members of the board being in attendance.

The subject of the imposition of fines were discussed at length and with some degree of thoroughness at our current meeting. Many talked, several expressed positive opinions, but none confessed to an expert knowledge of the subject. Evidently this business of fines is going to be great fun so long as the other fellow is fined, but a substantial number feel that they can stand the shock of being on the receiving end provided the fine collector is sufficiently funny. Surely this is a gradn opportunity to exhibit the fine points of jocosity. Meanwhile the cash box yawns.

This club is in receipt of the revised edition of R. I. Pamphlet No. 42 which treats of Rotary Club Student Loan Funds. Student Loan Funds should be distinguished from scholarship funds are outright gifts to the beneficiary. Nearly 500 Rotary Clubs now operate student loan funds ranging in size from $50 to $77,000 and totaling over $1,450,000 in capital funds. More than 15,000 young men and women have been aided. The Rotary Club of Boston has worked in this field with excellent results.

Our club members and guests listened today to an address by one of its own members, Dr. Harry L. Mueller, who told us of his experiences in the rural medical service conducted by the Rockefeller Foundation. Dr. Mueller's unit was stationed in a sparsely settled district of southeastern Aalabama for a considerble period and being a keen observer, he was able to give us a clear idea of social conditions prevailing in that area as well as the problems of the local physicians. Harry's address was extremely interesting to all present and could not fail to impress laymen with the difficulties under which medical men in outlying areas perform their duties. Score another point for the member speakers of this club.

Next week we shall listen to an address by Mr. John J. Donovan, Jr., assistant State Administrator of the National Youth Administration. He has a real message for us and he knows how to deliver it effectively. Your presence is requested.

FIRESIDE GROUP TO BE HOSTS AT SERVICE OF LIGHTS

The young people of the Epiphany Fireside Group will be hosts to all young people of Winchester at the annual Service of Lights at the Church of the Epiphany Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

This occasion will mark the fourth year that the Epiphany young people have been hosts for this beautiful and impressive service of the Epiphany season, commemorating the manifestation of Christ to the Gentiles and typified by the lighting of the candles of the congregation from those upon the altar.

No one who has witnessed this service has failed to be impressed by its beauty as the lights of the church go out and the lofty nave and chancel are lighted only by the tiny flames of the candles. All are cordially invited to attend on Sunday.

COAL TRUCK TIPPED OVER

Driver Injured in Attempting to Avoid Collision

Considerable excitement was occasioned on upper Main street last Friday morning when a Brockway dump truck, owned by John Akeson of 235 Salem street, Woburn, and loaded with seven tons of soft coal tipped over as its driver, Ralph A. Porter of 16 South Bedford street, Woburn, attempted to avoid a collision with a Chevrolet coach leaving the curb on Main street near Sheridan circle south.

According to the police the driver of the Chevrolet, James Bisso of 2 Melvin street, Wakefield, drove away from the curb with the intention of turning left into Sheridan circle south. The truck was headed north on Main street and was about to pass the Chevrolet when the latter left the curb.

The truck skidded across some hard snow and ice in the middle of the road, crossed over the curbing and sidewalk on the left side of the street and tipped over with the cab smashing against an Edison Light pole. The load of coal was strewn on the sidewalk and street, part falling against and damaging the front end of a Pontiac sedan, parked on the westerly side of Main street by its owner, Grinville B. Gerrish of 26 Standish road, Melrose.

Porter, the driver of the truck, was shaken up and injured about the head and arms. He was taken by a passing motorist to Woburn and there treated by a physician. The coal was shovelled up and the truck righted and towed to Woburn by Akeson employees.

200 SIGNATURES FOR NOMINATION PAPERS

Candidates for election to town office at the coming election in March will do well to remember that this year 200 signatures of registered voters are now necessary on nomination papers in Winchester.

This new requirement is the result of the new law passed this year by the Legislature, known as the Acts of 1939, Chapter 191. This law provides that three per cent of all votes cast for Governor at the last State Election shall be the number of signatures necessary on all nomination papers for city and town officers.

The new law applies to city and town elections throughout the State. In Winchester at the last State election 6631 votes were cast for governor, making actually 199, or as the registrars rule, 200, necessary on local nomination papers.

At the time the new law was passed the opinion was expressed by proponents that it would prevent independent candidates running for office for the express purpose of being bought off. Many thought then the law applied only to State elestions, but such is not the case and already it has caused some confusion in its application to local elections.

The greater hardship is of course worked on the larger cities where huge votes are cast for governor, making large numbers of signatures necessary on nomination papers. In smaller places however, where there are a number of candidates for the same office, difficulty will be experienced in avoiding duplication of signatures.

DRIVER BLINDED BY SUN

Robert E. Carter of 243 Harrison street, Manchester, N. H., told the Police that the sun blinded him when his Chevrolet coach was in collision at the junction of Main street and the Parkway Tuesday afternoon at 3:15 with another Chevrolet driven by Daniel L. Hanlon of 32 Park avenue, Cambridge. Carter's car was going west on the Parkway and crossing Main street, along which Hanlon's car was last and south.

Both cars were damaged and Hanlon was taken to the office of Dr. Richard W. Sheehy for treatment.

RAILROAD EFFICIENCY

Winchester had a good example of railroad efficiency Monday when one of the rails broke on the Boston & Maine crossing in the center shortly after midnight. The trouble was immediately reported and crews summoned to repair the damage.

The crossing had to be dug up, the rail replaced and some welding done. Early morning trains had to pass over the crossing slowly, but by 9 o'clock the work was practically done and everything working smoothly.

PROFESSOR ZIMMERMAN TO LECTURE

Mrs. John Carruthers, of 7 Pine street, will open her home on Wednesday, Jan. 17, at 10 a. m. for a lecture on "The Family," by Prof. Carl C. Zimmerman of Harvard, under the auspices of the Education Committee of the Fortnightly. Coffee will be served.

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS CARVER ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Carver of 446 Highland avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Catherine, to the Rev. Roger T. Burton pastor of the First Congregational Church of Springfield, Ohio. The wedding will take place in the summer.

GEORGE HOMER EUSTIS

George Homer Eustis, chairman of the Board of Library Trustees and former Town Treasurer, died Friday night, Jan. 5, at his home, 14 Stevens street, after a three weeks' illness that followed a gradual decline in health. In his 94th year, he was one of Winchester's oldest residents. Flags on the common and public buildings were displayed at half staff in his honor.

Mr. Eustis was born in the South End of Boston, Feb. 18, 1846; the son of Joseph and Eleanor St. Barbe (Tracy) Eustis. He attended the Hawes School and the Brimmer School, from which he was graduated in 1860, being awarded the Franklin silver medal for excellence in scholarship.

Entering English High School, he completed his studies there in three years, graduating in 1863 and being treasurer of the class fund in aid of needy students, a post he held until his death.

A liking and great aptitude for figures led him into the field of civil engineering and he was first employed by the Engineering Department of the City of Charlestown, then engaged in the construction of the Mystic Dam and the taking of water from Mystic Pond, now Mystic Lake.

Later he was employed with the engineering crew that constructed the aquaduct and reservoir at Tufts College.

Leaving this field, he went to Harvard, studying under Prof. Louis Agassiz and assisting the eminent naturalist at the Peabody museum. From this post he entered the employ of Bigelow Kennard, jewelers, in Boston, remaining with this well known firm 40 years and advancing from an entry clerk in the wholesale department to credit manager, a position he held for some time.

On Nov. 24, 1869, Mr. Eustis married Clara Ann Ellis at the Unitarian Church in Woburn. In 1871 he came to Winchester and had since made his home here in the house on Stevens street in which he died.

Interested in town affairs, he was elected to his first public office in 1903 when he became a library trustee, an office he held until his death. He was appointed town treasurer by the Selectmen in July, 1910, to fill the unexpired term of Thomas S. Spurr, who had resigned, was elected treasurer the following year and continued in office until August 1918, when he resigned. He was elected chairman of the library trustees in 1911, and held this post until his death, devoting much time and energy to his library duties, in which he always had the keenest interest.

Following his resignation as town treasurer, he continued his interest in town business and was until the inclement weather of the late fall this year a daily and welcome visitor at the various town offices, his knowledge of town affairs and sound advice often proving of real value.

As a young man Mr. Eustis was greatly interested in Odd Fellowship and for years served as financial secretary of the one of the then prominent Boston lodges. In Winchester he joined the old Young Men's Club that later became the Calumet Club, first meeting in Lyceum Building and later over the present Central Hardware Company, before the clubhouse on Dix street was built.

For many years Mr. Eustis served the Calumet Club, as treasurer. He was the oldest member of the Winchester Unitarian Society and long served as a member of its standing committee. Always an ardent baseball supporter, he was a familiar figure at the town games and years ago served as treasurer of the Winchester Baseball Association which for several seasons supported teams of championhip caliber in the semi-professional class.

Surviving, besides his wife, are three daughters and two sons, Mrs. Francis A. Gray of Auburn, Calif., Mrs. Clarence A. Burt of Springfield, Mrs. Morton C. Seelye of Puyallup, Washington; W. St. B. Eustis of San Francisco, Calif., and Ernest R. Eustis of this town, town cemetery commissioner and treasurer of the Winchester Co-operative Bank.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at the late residence with Rev. George Hale Reed, minister of the Unitarian Church, officiating. Town officers and representatives of the various town departments attended the services, the public the library being closed while they were being conducted. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

OLD TIMER'S NIGHT AT THE UNITARIAN CHURCH JAN. 19

The dancing classes on Wednesday evenings at the Unitarian Church have been so successful that Old Timer's Night promises to be one of the big events of the season.

People who have not attended these classes will enjoy the modern dances that will be interspersed with the old while those who dance the quadrille the lancers, the polka and the Portland Fancy will make the rafters ring with old time gaiety.

This is to be a grand time for the Parish and their friends, old and young. Come in costume if you can, but come anyway.

TOWN CANDIDATES LINING UP

Several new candidates have taken out nomination papers for town office since the last issue of the Star, but thus far the only contests assured are for Assessor and Constable where already there are more candidates than there are offices to be filled.

Assessor John F. Cassidy is running for re-election, the other candidates in this bracket being Edward G. MacDonald, who ran strongly against Mr. Winn last year, and Patrick T. Foley, long active in local politics. Candidates for Constable include three for re-election, Edward F. Maguire, Gleason W. Ryerson and Michael J. Foley, and Frederick J. Larson, who was a candidate last year.

A new candidate entered the Selectmen's field this week when Marshall W. Symmes, a member of one of Winchester's oldest families, took out papers. Philip H. Gallagher took out his papers some time ago. Two Selectmen will be elected this year. Following is the complete list of candidates, as of last night:

Assessor—John F. Cassidy, Edward G. MacDonald, Patrick T. Foley.

Cemetery Commissioners—Alfred H. Marchant.

Commissioner of Trust Funds—James W. Russell.

Park Commissioner—William S. Packer.

Selectmen—Philip H. Gallagher, Marshall W. Symmes.

Trustees of Town Library—Edgar J. Rich, M. Walker Jones (3 years), Clinton L. Farnham (2 years to fill vacancy).

Water and Sewer Board—Edmund C. Sanderson.

Wedding plans as yet are indefinite.

WINTON CLUB

The January meeting of the Winton Club was held last Monday at the home of its president, Mrs. Henry K. Spencer on Central green. A brief talk on the Boston Community Fund was given by Mrs. Phister Cowin, Metropolitan chairman of the Educational Division of the Boston Community Fund, and a most interesting movie with accompanying music and explanatory talk was shown, which brought a clear and poignant picture of the splendid activities of this organization.

In connection with this, it is well to remember that the Winton Club, founded in 1911, guarantees only one service, that of supplying the total amount of linen used at our Winchester Hospital. Not merely giving a check each year, the club appoints one member of the club to do the actual buying of the linen, and she spends many hours co-operating with the linen supervisor to assure a well stocked linen room. The chairman of the work committee with her group, plans and cuts many bolts of cloth into the articles which the club works upon at its monthly meetings. Besides the linen supply, the Winton Club has donated much needed equipment and many thousands of dollars to the hospital. This is the reason for the Cabaret, the only money-raising activity which the club undertakes.

With the date of the "tryouts" set for next Monday at the town hall, enthusiasm is mounting for the "1940 American Follies which will be staged on Feb. 1, 2 and 3, whose chairman is Mrs. Harold F. Meyer of Sheffield west. This will be a strictly all-American revue, with no Russian dances or German band to disrupt the fun and gaiety of the ensemble. The entertainment starts with a fast-stepping chorus, continues with dance rhythm and comedy and ends with a stunningly costumed drill, whose turns and wheels will be led by a gorgeous drum majorette, in fact, the very one who won the prize at the World's Fair! A South American number will add its dashing rhumba rhythm to the peppy tap dances and gracious waltz. Of great interest to all who are familiar with the talents of the club's popular president is the news that she is to write and arrange one of the comedy numbers.

The Winchester Country Club, always so generous in the past with the use of its large hall, will again be the scene of the balance of rehearsals, while several members have offered the use of spacious living rooms for smaller groups to practice together.

One of the busiest committees is headed by Mrs. Clarence McDavitt, Jr., and Mrs. Kenneth Moffatt, the advertising and program. Spending many hours contacting merchants and business men for their advertisements are Mrs. Herbert Kiley, Mrs. Howard Morrison, Mrs. Gardner Pond, Mrs. Charles Eaton, Mrs. John Joy, Mrs. Robert Abbott, Mrs. John Tarbell, Mrs. Harold Fuller, Mrs. Prescott Wild, Mrs. Jameson Slocum, Mrs. Ben R. Schneider, Mrs. Geoffrey Neiley, Mrs. Stephen Neiley, Mrs. George A. Marks, Mrs. Walter Birnie, Mrs. Richard J. Clark, Mrs. Charles Burnham and Mrs. Charles Farnsworth.

FIREMAN'S ASSOCIATION ELECTS

At the annual meeting of the Winchester Fireman's Relief Association the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

President—John F. O'Melia
Vice President—Howard Ambrose
Secretary—Edward D. Fitzgerald
Treasurer—Lt. David J. Meskell
Directors—Lt. Raymond Hanscom, Edward Fitzgerald, Stanley Mullen, Robert McKee
Auditors—Dep. Chief J. J. Gorman, Homer Davidson, Frank Amico

WINCHESTER RAINBOW

The regular meeting of Winchester Assembly Order of the Rainbow for Girls will be held Friday, Jan. 12, at 6:30 p. m. at the Masonic Hall, Mt. Vernon street, Winchester. There will be initiatory work about 7 p. m.

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

The Evening Study Group initiated the season's program with a highly successful meeting on Jan. 8, at the home of Mrs. John D. West. The committee felt well rewarded for their efforts when more than 60 persons came to enjoy Mr. Wests and Mr. Drake's well organized and entertaining discussion of "Is Modern Advertising an Economic Waste?" The same high tone of excellence is promised for the second meeting in this series which will be held on Monday evening, Jan. 22, at the home of Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl, 30 Mystic Valley Parkway. Coffee will be served at 7:30. The program will be under the direction of Mr. Charles E. Grune, and the subject, "The Low-Cost Housing Problem and Its Solutions" will be discussed by Mr. John Ely Burchard, 2nd, director, the Bemis Foundation, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who will be the guest speaker of the evening.

The Nature Study Group is planning a trip to the Harvard Observatory for its last meeting, the date of which is dependent upon the weather. Telephone notice will be given to the members of the group by the chairman, Mrs. John Chipman. The study of nature love was an innovation this year, but its popularity is attested by the faithful attendance of 20 interested members and occasionally there wree as many as 30 in attendance.

All meetings have been held at the home of Mrs. Chipman, who is to be congratulated upon the success of her course and her unlimited resources and versatility.

BETTER HOMES GARDEN CLUB

The January meeting of the Better Homes Garden Club will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 17 at 2 p. m. at the Art Room of the Winchester Public Library. Please note the change in time.

Mrs. Herbert H. West will give a demonstrated lecture on "Terrariums and Dish Gardens." Mrs. West is a member of the club and will be well remembered for her lecture on "Mushrooms."

Come and hear this new lecture and learn how to make your own Terrariums.

Club members are reminded that tickets for the Spring Flower Show at Horticultural Hall, March 11-16 inclusive will be available for them and their friends at a slightly reduced rate if secured through our club.

NEW BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY

Over 200 books were purchased and prepared for circulation at the Winchester Public Library in the past two weeks including several timely volumes on the present European agitation and on America's prospective role in this war. The library has another new photography book of special value now that the snow gives opportunity for particularly good camera work, and an addition to our winter sports shelf, Schniebs' book on American skiing. And those who followed the daily newspaper accounts of the organized search in the Maine woods for the little New York Boy Scout, Donn Fendler, will be interested to read of his experiences in his own book "Lost on a Mountain in Maine."

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Abrahamsen of Boston, formerly of Winchester, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jean Abrahamsen, to Mr. Richard Merritt Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Merritt Stevens of Montreal.

Mr. Stevens is at present attending the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Winchester Brick Company was held in Winchester on Jan. 10.

Officers elected for the year were John J. Gallagher, president; Philip H. Gallagher, vice president and treasurer and William P. Coady, clerk.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

The regular monthly meeting of the Winchester Women's Republican Club was held on Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 3. After the business of the club was concluded, the president, Mrs. Warren C. Whitman, presented Mrs. Vincent P. Clarke, a former club president, who spoke on the Greater Boston Community Drive, explaining the purposes and benefits of the drive. This year the Winchester Community Chest has combined with Greater Boston's Community Fund so that Winchester will have but one drive, which begins Jan. 22.

The second speaker on the program was Mrs. Frederick S. Hatch, chairman of the Education Committee, who gave highlights on Current Events in the political news. She spoke of Governor Saltonstall's first year and particularly stressed his reductions in expenditures and his halting of the pardon racket. Mrs. Hatch also asked members to watch what was done in the present U. S. Congress regarding Federal appropriations, taxes, trade treaties and the Logan Bill, which passed last July and has been called for reconsideration. Mrs. Hatch touched briefly on the presidential candidates and spoke of the importance of knowing just what stand each candidate took regarding the above matters.

Guest speaker for the afternoon was the Hon. Dewey G. Archambault, who had just completed two terms as Mayor of Lowell, which he said was priceless in experience and in the understanding of human weaknesses. Mr. Archambault, a forceful speaker had for his subject, "Giving the New Citizen a Square Deal." He declared that it was just as important for us to impress on American children, who are coming to voting age, their duties and responsibilties as good citizens as upon the foreigner who seeks citizenship. Both are too prove to think only of the privileges. He spoke of the destruction of the ideals, which were the basis of our civilization and present day selfishness, which has a tendency to destroy us all. He spoke of the unrest apparent everywhere in the large cities of America and the policy of the present Federal administration, which has fostered it by catering to good-for-nothings, working against American Democracy, underneath and from within. He said that it is definitely our duty to teach the new citizen love of country and thrift, to assume the duties of citizenship and are that our neighbors do likewise for this can accomplish much. Youth, he said, is over ambitious to do, we must give them the opportunity.

A social hour followed with many compliments for Mrs. Theodore Elliot, chairman of the social committee for her unique table decorations. A circle of elephants graced the tea table bearing the message A Happy New Year. The tea was in charge of Mrs. Alvin M. Litchfield and Mrs. William Cusack and Mrs. E. G. Pierce poured. Assisting Mrs. Litchfield were Mrs. Carl Bolter, Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth and Miss Eleanor Dow.

ATTENDED CARPENTER-MORTON ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Lord of Pine street with their son-in-law and daughter, former Selectman and Mrs. Franklin J. Lane of Yale street were among those from Winchester who attended the dinner and dance last Saturday evening at the Parker House, Boston, concluding the four-day sales convention held by the Carpenter-Morton Paint Company of Boston in honor of its 100th year in business.

Mr. Lord, who is president of the Boston Varnish Company, is a director and former president of the Carpenter-Morton Company, the occasion having as a consequence great significance for him. Mr. Lane, also a director of the Boston Varnish Company and president of the Paint and Oil Club of New England, was also greatly interested.

Eugene E. Morton, president of the company, a grandson of John D. Morton, who joined the companv in 1859 and was its first president after incorporation in 1893, presided at the banquet. Mr. Morton is a past president of the Paint and Oil Club of New England.

Guests included employees, their families, stockholders, principal suppliers, customers and other friends of the company. Carpenter-Morton Company's main offices are at 77 Sudbury street. It has a plant at Everett and warehouses in Philadelphia, Long Island City, Buffalo, Detroit and Chicago.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Robeson Kinnersley Swift of Weymouth and Northport, Me., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marion Frances Swift, to Mr. Robert Howland Denison, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kendall Denison of Peterborough, N. H., former residents of Winchester.

Miss Swift is a graduate of Katharine Gibbs School. Mr. Denison was graduated from Harvard College with the class of 1933 and received his Ph. D. degree at Columbia University in 1938. He is now assistant curator of the college museum and instructor of Zoology at Dartmouth College.

YOUNGSTERS IN AFTER GAME ROUGH HOUSE

A large group of Winchester youngsters created considerable disturbance and did some little damage at two local ice cream shops after the basketball game between Winchester and Stoneham high schools last Friday evening in the high school gymnasium.

So boisterous did the youngsters become in one of the shops that the management sent for the police, Patrolman Winthrop Palmer, clearing the store of the exhuberant rough-housers.

At the other store salt cellars and ash trays were stolen, tables, walls and the floor were smeared with ice-cream and other eatables and general pandemonium reigned. The youngsters trailed out after the proprietor had ejected three boys who were staging a wrestling match near the door of the shop. Officer Palmer arrived as the shop-keeper was giving the youngsters some good advice outside. Both boys and girls were in the group, the latter being said to yield nothing to the former in general rowdyism.

MORE RETURN TO SCHOOL

Among the boys and girls attending schools and colleges who returned this week after enjoying the Christmas holidays were the following:

Jean Howard, Grace Crougiwell and Helen Butler returned Monday to Bradford Junior College.

THWING BOWDOIN DIVE WINNER

Kirby Thwing, sturdy Winchester boy and former Winchester High football player won the dive in the dual swimming meet at Brunswick, Me., last Saturday between Bowdoin and Boston University. Kirby competed for Bowdoin which won the meet 54—21.

"As the representative of His Eminence, William Cardinal O'Connell, and as director of the Catholic Charitable Bureau, I am happy to say that the Bureau is actively supporting and participating in Greater Boston's Community Fund, as always," the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Robert P. Barry stated this week.

Long a leader in Greater Boston's Community Fund, Msgr. Barry is a director and member of the executive committee, the budget committee and the metropolitan committee of the Community Federation of Boston, one of the administrative organizations of the Fund.

"I find myself in the unique position of being at the same time a director of the Federation and head of a Community Fund agency, in addition to being the Cardinal's representative in the social service field," Msgr. Barry told R. Ammi Cutter, chairman of the metropolitan division of Greater Boston's 1940 Community Fund. This year's campaign, which has as its goal $4,625,000 for the support of over 175 hospitals, health and social servic agencies, will run from Jan. 22 through Feb. 6.

"Out of these contacts several deep convictions have come to me," Msgr. Barry declared. "First of these is the orderly economical way in which the Federation and Greater Boston's Community Fund are conducted. This, of course, springs from the constant scrutiny, by the directors and executives, of everything that is done.

"Second is the great sum of sacrifices made by more than 16,000 volunteer people in order that they may help the Community Fund cause. Third is the ready acceptance of the Fund by some 250,000 subscribers throughout Greater Boston.

"Fourth, it is a striking and significant fact," Msgr. Barry pointed out, "that many of the men and women who are most generous givers to the campaigns each year are also those who study and scrutinize the cost of raising the money.

"My fifth conviction about the Community Fund is that this joint financing has brought about a great improvement in the work of the agencies themselves. The Greater Boston Campaigns have brought about intelligent budgeting and a common consideration of social problems, rather than the divided aims and energies that hampered social service in Greater Boston before the Fund was organized.

"All this, however, is the mechanics of the Community Fund," Msgr. Barry smiled. "To me, there are many other important aspects of these common Campaigns on behalf of our unfortunate fellow men.

"The most important thing is the tremendous amount of good that is done through Greater Boston's Community Fund for those in need physically, socially, mentally or economically.

"In addition," Msgr. Barry said, "there is the spiritual benefit that spreads throughout our great community from the unity of purpose that joins all classes, races and creeds in Greater Boston's Fund each year. There have been so many traditional factors separating citizens unfortunately.

"I believe that the Community Fund is a powerful force for good in the way it breaks down all barriers between men. It is democracy functioning at its best," Msgr. Barry declared.

One of the largest and most active social service agencies in New England, the Catholic Charitable Bureau, a member of Greater Boston's Community Fund, does extensive work in the hospital, children's, family welfare, and other fields. The Bureau is closely associated with the Boston College School of Social Work, established in 1936 with the blessing of Cardinal O'Connell.

BOY SCOUT CABIN ENTERED

Scout Executive Edwin Nelson reported to the Police on Sunday that some time during the night previous the Boy Scout cabin on Border road had been broken into.

Police Sergt. Thomas F. Cassidy went to investigate and found that access had been gained by prying off the padlock latch on the front door. Entrance to the office inside had been made by jimmying the Yale lock on the door. A sum of money was taken from a drawer in the desk, another larger sum elsewhere in the office having been missed by the thief or thieves. Nothing else was disturbed.

TABLE TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIPS

Greater Boston table tennis championships in Class A and B, women's singles and in mixed doubles, will be decided on Saturday afternoon and evening at the Colonial Table Tennis Club, Hobbs Building, Davis Square, Somerville.

Barbara Shields of West Roxbury will defend her Class A title against a field of ranking women players that includes Corinne Deley of Somerville and Alice Sweeny of Dorchester.

All women not having ranked during the past three seasons will be eligible for Class B.

WINCHESTER DROPPED LEAGUE OPENER

Winchester High dropped the opening game of its Middlesex League basketball series last Friday evening in the local gymnasium, losing to Stoneham High in a low scoring game, 19—12.

The visitors, with a game on Wednesday under their belt, led all the way, having a 6—4 advantage at the quarter and an 8—6 margin at the half.

With the resumption of play Stoneham continued in the driver's seat, outscoring the locals in the third quarter, 9—3, to run its three-quarter lead to 17—9. The locals came back in the final stanza to have whatever advantage there was in the play, outscoring Stoneham 3—2. The visitor's, however, had too big a lead and coasted in. Stoneham won the second team game easily, 30—18.

In the varsity game both clubs covered closely, Winchester's defense being about as good as that shownu by the winners. Stoneham's advantage came with its boys' ability to shoot more effectively than the locals, who couldn't make their long ones count and found difficulty in penetrating the Stoneham defense for the easy ones under the net.

Stoneham, too, had its troubles getting in close for shots of the "sucker" variety, but when checked in close its rangy center, Dean, could occasionally sink a long one to bring the total up.

Dean was the game's high scorer with four floor goals for eight points. Bill McEwen's three points were matched by Hultgren to lead the local pack. The summary:

HIGH SCHOOL ENACTS CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

Monday, Jan. 8, one of Mrs. Stacy's senior American History classes dramatized the Constitutional Convention in the auditorium with all the American History classes as an appreciative audience.

The play, written by Jane Cahalane and Edna McCormick, traced the Constitution from its beginning in several different plans, through the compromises and changes that gave us our modern Constitution. Every member of the class, 30 in all, contributed to the development of the play and each had a part to perform in the Convention.

WINCHESTER HIGH AT WOBURN

Wincheter High School's basketball team faces another tough assignment when its members hop up to Woburn this evening for a return game with Woburn High.

The locals took a 27—17 beating from the Tanners in the opening game of the season for both schools before the Christmas vacation. At that time Woburn seemed much further along than Winchester and has played fully as much basketball as Winchester since the season's opening.

On their home court the Tanners will be hard for Winchester to beat, but the locals may surprise. Stranger things have happened in these cockeyed days of sport.

WINCHESTER UPSET WAKEFIELD

Winchester High upset the dope Wednesday afternoon and served notice that it will have plenty to say about the ultimate championship of the Middlesex County Basketball League when it gave Wakefield High a 49—35 shellacking in the local gymnasium. The Wakefield seconds won the preliminary game 28—19.

Winchester showed a complete reversal of its lack of scoring form, caging 21 goals from scrimmage and seven from free tries. "Bill" McEwen had a field day, leading both clubs in scoring with 20 points, amassed on nine goals from the floor and two from the foul line. Conroy, Wakefield's star center, found the hoop six times from scrimmage and also sank a brace of foul goals to pace the losers.

The locals led all the way, having a 13—8 advantage at the quarter and being in front at the half 24—12. Wakefield staged a rally with the resumption of play and equalled the 11 floor goals Winchester picked up in the last two quarters. The locals, however, maintained a slight advantage by sinking three foul baskets to Wakefield's one and with its big first half lead was never in danger.

The result of the game was a surprise because of the fact that Wakefield held a decision over Stoneham, which team in turn won a six point victory over Winchester last Friday. Wakefield's defeat by Winchester and Reading's win over Belmont leaves Reading the only unbeaten club in the league.

SOFTBALL ASSOCIATION TO ELECT

District Commissioner Joseph Tansey announces the annual meeting and election of officers for the Metropolitan Amateur Softball Association to to take place Wednesday, Jan. 17, 7:30 p. m. at 739 Boylston street, Boston.

The executive softball officials are: president, Edward Sharkey, Somerville; vice presidents, William Caldwell, Milton, and Stanley Wood, Stoneham; and members - at - large John Lane, Newton, and John Saunders, Chelsea.

This association, founded two years ago to include 23 cities and towns of Greater Boston, has developed organized amateur softball to its present degree of popularity as a publir recreation activity.

Softball has rapidly gained favor with the young, as well as the old, for in spite of past ideas about this sport, the manner in which thousands of persons all over the country are now playng softball, has proved it to be both fast and exciting.

Playground leaders have found the sport to be ideal for their requirements. It takes less space than the regular game, uses less equipment than baseball, and as the average time for a complete game is little more than an hour, it is the ideal sport for communities that observe "daylight" saving" part of the year.

McSPADEN PHILIPPINE OPEN WINNER

Harold "Jug" McSpaden, golf pro at the Winchester Country Club, added another to his rapidly mounting list of tournament victories when he annexed the Philippine Open Golf tourney last week-end at Manila.

McSpaden carded 287 for the 72 holes to finish four strokes under the runner-up, Emery Zimmerman of Portland, Ore. The local pro played consistent golf, finishing one under par. T Miyamoto, Japanese star, finished third with 292, and the defending champion, Norman Vonnida of Australia was eighth with 302.

FELT NEW OWNER

Mr. Francis E. Felt of Main street former manager of the Winchester Paint Company at the corner of Main and Thompson streets, has taken over the business and will conduct it in the future at the same location. Mr. Felt is widely known through his participation in the athletic, musical and dramatic activities of the town. He extends a cordial invitation to his friends and general public to visit him at his business home.

New Year—New Leaf—

Why Not New Car?

THE slate's clean, the past is past, you're making a new beginning on a new year you hope will be happier and finer and richer — how about doing the job up right?

You spot the fun possibilities in this brilliant and buoyant Buick just by watching it flash by, but have you been in to try it?

Do you know what it's like — first hand, we mean — to have a hundred-plus Dynaflash horsepower waiting your treadle-foot's nudge? Have you sampled the thrill in such an engine micro-poise-balanced to smoothness a wrist watch can't hope to equal?

Today's winter-roughened roads give you swell chance to try out BuiCoil Springing's gentle ride — raw weather emphasizes the stout snugness of Unisteel Bodies by Fisher and the convenience of the Flash-Way Direction Signal.

Now's when you most need firm new rubber — sure, soft, tiptoe brakes — Buick's automatic choke — stout, taut frames and rugged bodies, and why wait for spring to buy beauty that gives your spirits a lift?

Then too, driving speeds are naturally lower now and driving distances shorter, making this the best time of all to get a car properly started in life.

So figure it out! It's a new year. You've turned a new leaf. Ask your Buick dealer what a new Buick will cost you now — and let every month of 1940 contribute to a happy new year!

Not a six but an EIGHT for $895 and up delivered at Flint, Mich. * Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories — extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

Our great Ruler, so we gather from the current news, is now open for suggestions on how to balance the budget.. Presidential candidate Taft, so we also read, has suggestions along that line as quoted from Mr. Roosevelt's previous speeches and endeavors. Others adopt the attitude of "he got us into it, is keeping us in it, and let him stew in his own juice." Be this as it may, we are all in it and all stewing together. However, we might suggest a remedy for that great booster of unemployment and preventative of prosperity—namely, the so-called Social Security. Our suggestion is that this handicap be removed herewith; then let the great army of unemployed and insecure continue as they are now going, and sue everyone who has any property, and such matters will be speedily righted. With the assistance of a new government bureau, they ought to effect the redistribution of all wealth and wipe out insecurity in short order.

SOCRATES SAYS-

OUR HISTORIC "HORSE AND BUGGY" POSITION (AT SEA)

President Roosevelt said, when signing the Neutrality Act: "We have returned to our historic position."

The spark that started at least two of our European wars was interference with "our freedom of the seas." The President can only—by going back to the days of the American Indian—be right, for they had no merchant marine.

The first result of the Neutrality Act will be to reward the New Deal administration with yet another W. P. A. project. You will shortly hear that New Dealers are to start a W. P. A. project to teach American sailors how to sail model boats, dance the hornpipe, and tie knots. A processing tax on maritime companies—to complete the ploughing under of American ships on the seven seas—will be seriously discussed.

Already we hear that—to encourage "cash and carry" of war profits for "war mongers" and "international bankers"—someone is encouraging American ship owners to give up the American flag and register their vessels under some foreign flag. The navies of Panama and Antarctica will protect them.

What a ship subsidy the New Deal, if it were not for 1940, could exact in future years, after our entire merchant marine has had a blackout, American sailors and American ships have been driven from the principal ports of the world.

America does not want to become involved in a European war, but America does not want its legitimate export markets ruined, its merchant marine to rot in port, its sailors to be unemployed, nor its "historic position" discarded.

American ships and sailors should have been told that they could sell—at their own risk—to any port on earth, if we as a nation have decided to give up our " historic position" at any cost. This would have allowed the individualism that has built up these United States to the greatest nation on earth to have retained at least "the freedom of the seas;" and they would have retained it, regardless of the cost.

We do not want war. We will not have war. Would that we could return to our historic "horse and buggy" position—both on land and sea. The facts, however, seem to be that the New Deal is now "at sea" on both land and water.

DAILY DOUBLE REFERENDUMS AND CIGARETTE SMOKING TORIES

Attorney General Dever of Massachusetts, is of the opinion that it is right for citizens to determine, by referendum, whether they will pay certain taxes. It was also inferred that if anyone disagreed with the idea, he was a "Tory."

In ye good old Tory days, we had a misunderstanding once due to "taxation without representation." Now the Attorney General apparently feels that we must have one due to "taxation because of representation." This new idea, if accepted, could have great effect on representative government.

Should enough citizens in Massachusetts ever agree with the Attorney General financial chaos would result in the Commonwealth (a condition near the hearts of some New Dealers).

If the cigarette tax can be repealed by referendum, why not the gas tax, the liquor tax, the automobile tax, and even dog licenses, etc.?

Why not repeal all real estate taxes by referendum? Rents of homes, tenements, apartments, and rooms would but about 50 cents on every dollar they earn is spent by New Deal Government—obtained by indirect taxes on every necessity of life they must buy. Why not get rid of them also? No one likes taxes anyway.

If a tax on cigarettes can be repealed by referendum so can the inbe enormously lower. Wages would go up as employers would pay so little rent and taxes. If taxes are repealed the people could sleep on the Common, if they could not get relief.

Millions pay no direct tax at all, come tax, should enough citizens want to do it. Think what this idea could do for the government with its troubles over relief. It could do away with the giving of any relief for there would not be any money. The government as no money except what it gets from taxes.

This opinion of the Massachusetts Attorney General—while it is his interpretation of the referendum laws and might be upheld where specific appropriations have not been made by the legislature, suggests the best possible attack that a tired people could have as their defense against New Deal wasteful spending. It would be funny if a New Deal Attorney General had innocently called wide attention to a method of protection against the theory of New Deal spending.

Perhaps we can—by the tax referendum idea—have a blackout of all taxes that anyone dislikes. Then we can live simply by taking in each others' washing, do away with representative government, and govern ourselves by citizens' committees of toothless comrades and daily double referendums.

The wide attention given to this opinion of Attorney General Dever is due not so much to any law interpretation that he has made, but to the unnecessary, political vote-baiting, Tory implication that accompanies it.

Even President Roosevelt himself took great exceptions to the raising of "imaginary bogey men," during the neutrality debate. It is about time that we understood that in a democracy, political "baloney," as it refers to Tories, Economic Royalists, etc., is shopworn. Even the New Dealers "lifted" the war mongers and international bankers with their neutrality act.

FOR DEMOCRACY AND CIVILIZATION

How much harm have we innocently done?

During the campaign of 1932 it was repeatedly charged that what the United States needed was "a plan"—that we "grew like Topsy," etc., etc.

This attack against our economic order was largely attributed to political New Deal ballyhoo and vote baiting.

Even after the election—when the attacks continued and were kept up right through the 1936 election to the present time with constant cries of "Tories," "Economic Royalists," "Entrenched Greed," "Peaceful Revolution," and with assertions that "our Democracy must be made to work"—citizens in America considered it all simply politics in the raw.

Now it is indeed difficult to attempt to anticipate how history, 50 or 100 years from now, will record what part the internal political attacks against our form of democracy, and its economic order, had upon the peoples struggling for and with totalitarian forms of government in other lands.

Might it not be shown that during the 1932-1939 crisis the world-wide war on democracy was encouraged by the constant New Deal publicized attacks, tending to show that democracy had not worked in the United States either?

Our country grew to be the greatest nation on earth with the highest standard of living of any nation in the world. The spiritually-minded founders of our country had "a plan"—it worked and could continue to work. "The plan" was our Bill of Rights and our Constitution. The principles and wishes of our citizens of today are just the same as were our founder in 1776.

Progress, and necessary changes to meet new conditions, must, of course, always be attempted, as they have been since the inception of democracy; but they must be accomplished, in a democracy, in an orderly and tolerant way—otherwise, we may discourage the cause of democracy in other lands, while at the same time causing confusion of mind in our own country.

For seven long years the entire world has been given reason to believe, over the air and in every other conceivable way, that our old economic order was all wrong—that we, also, needed "a plan," and that we, too, were struggling to make our democracy work. How much harm have we done to the cause of democracy?

We love and believe in our democracy be we New Dealers, Democrats, or Republicans—let us not ever belittle it again—let no political expediency allow us to ever again tolerate loose talk against our lack of "a plan," or attempts to stimulate distrust of class against class.

Here in America we have no classes. The laborer of today through ability, industry and thrift, becomes the management of tomorrow; otherwise, there would be no hope of the laborer ever bettering his or his family's position. The laborer has more to lose by any breakdown of our form of democracy than any other citizen.

As we believe in democracy so will we never belittle it—even for internal political purposes. It will prove wiser, and even politically smarter, not to—especially during this present world crisis. It must stop "for democracy and civilization"—they both need our moral support.

—Socrates

BADLY HURT BY FALL

Charles T. O'Connor of Bridge street, employed at the Bonnell Motors Company, was badly injured by a fall at that plant Wednesday. The removal of a grating for filling an underground coal bin was unnoticed by him and he fell to the bottom of the bin to the concrete floor. He was taken to the Winchester Hospital, where it was found that one ankle and leg was broken in several places besides severe body bruises and lacerations. He will be confined to the hospital for a considerable time.

TAXES—CAUSE AND EFFECT

Taxes are higher than they ever have been before. In 1938 they were almost double the 1923 amount, having increased in fifteen years from $7.2 billion to about $13.5 billion (some say $14 billion or more).

Taxes per person were about $65 in 1923 and about $103 in 1938.

Harder to Pay Taxes

Meantime, the national income has gone down. In 1923 our income was about $640 for every man, woman and child. In 1938 it was only $560.

More money is demanded by the tax collector but there is less income from which to pay him.

In 1923 we paid in taxes a little over 10c out of each dollar of a $640 income. Last year we paid over 20c out of each dollar of a $500 income. Surely no advocate of heavy government spending will contend that it is easier to pay $103 a year in taxes out of a $500 income than it is to pay $65 in taxes from $640.

Brakes on Recovery

These higher taxes mean less money remaining for each person to use in buying food, clothing, shelter and other essentials.

So far as the heavier taxes upon business are passed on to consumers, their costs are increased. Purchasing power is reduced. Taxes that cannot be passed on must be absorbed by business concerns and other producers.

Business activity is discouraged. Enterprise is retarded.

Spending Means Taxes

Taxes are caused by government spending.

But government today is spending far more than it can collect in taxes. It borrows the difference, thus piling up additional taxes for everyone to pay in the future.

Of course, some of these expenditures are necessary. Essential services must be maintained. Relief must be given to those in need.

Not all government expenses fall in these classes. Government does many things which might better be dropped entirely or left to private enterprise to do more efficiently and at less cost.

Spend Less—Tax Less

The answer then, is less government spending in order that taxes may be reduced — less government spending all along the line, in federal, state and local agencies.

Eliminate waste, abandon unnecessary outlays and keep government activities within a program consistent with basic needs and our ability to pay the cost.

Educational Effort

Realizing that a dollar in taxes to government—federal, state or local—is a dollar taken from the taxpayers' pockets, business groups are endeavoring to obtain recognition of the need for reducing the costs of government generally.

While cooperating in relation to state and local situations, these business men through local organizations are urging a program to reduce excessive federal spending. Some of the features of that educational effort are—

Reduction of deficit financing in the 1940 fiscal year and a definite approach to a balanced budget in 1941.

Limitation of new debt incurred in 1940 to the amount required to (1) pay contractual obligations carried over from 1939, and (2) give indispensable aid to communities unable to provide reasonably for relief of needy unemployed.

No new federal spending agencies.

No more "pump-priming" expenditures.

Abandonment of enlarged public works programs for unemployment relief. Federal public works should be kept to the minimum essential for ordinary governmental operations.

Larger state and local responsibility for relief, with full discretion left to those governments to determine whether grants or loans of federal funds will be employed in direct relief or work relief.

Adoption of a policy that federal grants or loans to state and local governments for relief purposes will be permitted only if prescribed requirements for efficient administration are met.

The business community should itself refrain, and urge persons or groups within or without the government to refrain, from exerting pressure for appropriations of a special-interest nature.

Less taxes—more jobs.

Weavers Use Mirrors

Tapestry weavers are obliged to watch the progress of their work in mirrors, as a tapestry has to be woven from the back, declares Collier's Weekly. The weaver checks his work in a mirror facing the front of the fabric.

READING LEADING MIDDLESEX

The three-way tie in the Middlesex County Basketball League was broken Wednesday when Winchester High topped Wakefield from the unbeaten class and Reading did the same to Belmont. The result leaves Reading leading the league with an unblemished record.

Tonight's games find Stoneham playing at Belmont and Wakefield at Concord. Belmont and Wakefield will be favored to win. Winchester goes to Woburn for a non-league engagement with Woburn High.

Reading is reputed to have another strong team this season and its win over favored Belmont Wednesday lends added weight to this contention. Coach "Mel" Wenner isn't among those who believe his Belmont club invincible, placing his team very much in the in-and-out class, likely to be hot for one game and poor the next time out.

Winchester looked good against Wakefield, shooting well, but the locals couldn't shoot a lick against Stoneham. Tonight's game with Woburn ought to give a better line on their real ability.

Tuesday of next week Winchester plays at Concord and Stoneham at Reading. Belmont and Wakefield play at Wakefield Wednesday. Friday Winchester goes to Belmont, Lexington to Stoneham and Reading to Wakefield. This last one ought to be quite a game for Wakefield is usually tough on its own court.

Following is the standing of the teams as of today:

	won	lost	pts
Reading	3	0	6
Belmont	2	1	4
Winchester	1	1	2
Wakefield	1	1	2
Stoneham	1	1	2
Lexington	1	2	2
Concord	0	3	0

WINCHESTER RED CROSS

Finnish Relief

A statement issued by Chairman Norman Davis of the American Red Cross recently states that there is great need in the present war among civilian victims, particularly in Poland and Finland.

The American Red Cross is meeting their full share of these emergency needs without neglecting our important duties in the field of relief within our own country.

Upon first news of the suffering inflicted and the shortage of supplies in Finland, our National Headquarters made an initial appropriation of $25,000. Of this sum $10,000 was cabled to London for the badly wanted medicines, which were rushed to Finland by airplane and delivered to the Finnish Red Cross. This entire operation was carried out in the incredibly short time of 24 hours.

From Red Cross representative Wayne Chatfield Taylor in Helsinki comes word that hundreds of thousands of Finnish women, children and aged men fleeing west from the danger zones, need immediate medical care and clothing.

The threat of typhus and other oriental diseases has prompted Chairman Norman H. Davis to send two American physicians, stationed in Europe by the U. S. Public Health Service to Finland. Ten ambulances are being prepared in this country for immediate shipment of Helsinki.

Already the following list of relief supplies have been shipped to Finland from the American Red Cross: 123,946 surgical dressings; 365 operating gowns; 8000 men's sweaters; 4000 women's sweaters; 4000 children's sweaters; 4000 women's heavy dresses; 4000 girls dresses; 300 layettes; 3500 pairs of men's socks; 650 mufflers; 700 beanies; 2000 hospital bed shirts; 10 field ambulances; large quantities of assorted drugs.

The women of Winchester are working at the Red Cross room at the Town Hall, third floor, every Monday and Wednesday from 10 to 4 o'clock to sew on the War Relief quota. The need in Finland is so great for clothing especially with the weather so cold that the Red Cross would appreciate more workers.

GOD GIVE US TRUE FRIENDS

(Written for the Winchester Star)

(Real friendship does not consist of clamorous professions of respect; it is not confined to well-tuned paragraphs of compliment or oral expressions of favor, but it is always active and assiduous, ever seeking for opportunities of performing acts of kindness and benevolence.)

God give us truly sympathetic friends
Men endowed with kindly voices.
And who can feel sad when we are sad,
And be full of joy when we rejoice.
Yes, God give us true, sympathetic friends.
Who can one's sorrows see:
Men who will ever kindness show,
Especially when good fortune ceases to be.
Men want and need sympathizing friends,
To whom Adversity's victim may open his heart
And speak of foe and speak of others ill deed
With whom it has been necessary to part.
And tell of joy and tell of grief.
And speak of hope and of fear;
And then we'll say, 'tis a relief
To have a share in the friendly tear.
May you and I ever prove a true friend,
If such a one we find,
And grief and pain we will never send
With God's help into a heart so kind.

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, January 14.

The Golden Text is: "I am the Lord that bringeth you up out of the land of Egypt, to be your God: ye shall therefore be holy, for I am holy." (Leviticus 11:45).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy lovingkindness: according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions. . . . Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me. . . . Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation; and uphold me with thy free spirit" (Psalms 51:1, 10, 12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "One's aim, a point beyond faith, should be to find the footsteps of Truth, the way to health and holiness. We should strive to reach the Horeb height where God is revealed; and the cornerstone of all spiritual building is purity. The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual life and its demonstration" (p. 241).

W. C. T. U. NOTES

For Drunken Drivers

"The authorities at St. Petersburg are being spurred to take action against persons who persist in driving automobiles while drunk. The St. Petersburg Times is in the thick of the fight to suppress this evil and threat to life and limb. Just now it is carrying the following statement on its first page in such position and with such display type as to attract attention:

'St. Petersburg Facilitates for the Care and Keep of Drunk Drivers—Jails (if you live unhurt), 2. Hospitals (if you live), 3. Morgues, 7.'

And the Miami Herald's Town Cryer chimes in for his city: 'So you who drive will after celebrations may as well be advised, the Metropolitan Miami facilities are: Hospitals, 7. Jails, 6. Morgues, 24!'

TWO AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS SATURDAY

The first of two automobile accidents reported to the police last Saturday afternoon took place shortly after 12:30 when a Chevrolet truck owned by H. P. Hood & Sons of Charlestown and driven by Thomas H. Randall of 735 Main street, while attempting to back into a driveway at the residence of Mr. George Horwood, 529 Washington street, was in collision with a Ford coune, being driven south on Washington street by William J. Grant of 35 Winthrop street. The Ford only was damaged but no one was injured.

At 2:30 Saturday afternoon a Ford roadster, driven west on Church street by Evelyn Vaillancourt of 4 Wilmarth street, Taunton, in attempting to stop for a red traffic light at Fletcher street, skidded through the intersection, colliding with a Dodge sedan, owned by A. Allen Kimball of 18 Cabot street and being driven by his daughter, Jane T. Kimball, who was leaving Fletcher street to cross Church street into Bacon street.

After the collision the Ford continued diagonally across the street, over the sidewalk and onto the lawn of the Lombard estate at the southwesterly corner of Bacon and Church streets. Both machines were damaged, the Dodge so badly it had to be towed away.

Miss Vaillancourt and Mary Favia of 4 Wilmarth street, Taunton, who was riding with her, complained of injuries. Miss Vaillancourt was taken to the office of Dr. Milton J. Quinn and then to the home of relatives on Lebanon street. There she and Miss Favia were attended by a Boston physician. No injuries were reported by the occupants of the Dodge.

NEW DISCUSSION GROUP

Last Tuesday evening an enthusiastic group met at the American Legion House, Washington street for the first of a ten weeks series of discussions of the underlying causes and possible remedy for the unstable and economic and social conditions facing our country and the world at large today. This session was largely devoted to getting acquainted with each other and with the essentials of the problem itself. This was followed by an outline of the methods to be used in attacking the situation facing us.

Next Tuesday evening this ground will be reviewed so that any who missed the first session may drop right into place in the work of the group. Do not fail to come out because you missed the first evening.

Problems do not solve themselves. Overseas we see the effect of letting things slide. "It can happen here" if we do not meet these challenges to our civilization with forethought guided by understanding. "What is everybody's business is nobody's business." Unless we make it our particular business, things will slide here as they have abroad. We already have miniature examples enough in Kansas City, New Orleans, Boston, San Francisco, New York and Cleveland to drive this fact home to us. Check up for yourself that you may be prepared to carry your share of responsibility as well as to enjoy the benefits of our democratic way of life.

The Henry George School of Social Science stands by with the opportunity. Its value to you depends on your own use of it.

ANNUAL RECEPTION AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

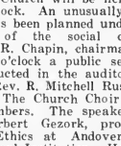

Jan. 19, 8 P. M.

The annual reception of the First Baptist Church will be held Jan. 19 at 8 o'clock. An unusually fine program has been planned under the direction of the social committee, Nathan R. Chapin, chairman.

At 8 o'clock a public service will be conducted in the auditorium, the pastor Rev. R. Mitchell Rushton presiding. The Church Choir will sing two numbers. The speaker will be Dr. Herbert Gezork, professor of Social Ethics at Andover Newton Theological Institution. He was formerly pastor of the First Baptist Church, Berlin, Germany, and is well qualified to speak on, "The European Situation Today."

At the conclusion of the auditorium service a reception will be held in the church parlor. An orchestra will entertain while the members and friends meet the pastor and officers of the church.

A social hour with refreshments will follow.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The regular monthly meeting of the Winchester Girl Scout Council was held in the library building Jan. 10, with the troop leaders, assistants and council members present. Reports told of an increase in Girl Scout membership, original and interesting community service during the holidays by the Brownies, the successful Christmas party for all Scouts held during the holidays and the coming introduction to Scouting course, Jan. 24 at the Lyceum Building.

Mrs. Harold Farnsworth, Commissioner introduced the showing of a film by the Greater Broston Community Federation. This film illustrated many phases of community service, accompanied with appropriate sound effects. Mrs. Donald Heath, associate chairman in Winchester, gave an interesting follow-up of the local tie-up with the Greater Boston Federation and of the responsibility of each individual.

The meeting was adjourned after an open question period following Mrs. Heath's talk.

GEORGE WASHINGTON HIGHLAND CHAPTER

The January meeting of the Mothers Association was held on Tuesday afternoon in the assembly hall. Mrs. Lyman Smith, president, presided over a short business meeting and then introduced Miss Gertrude Lewis, Elementary Supervisor in our Winchester schools. Miss Lewis presented Miss Hatch, principal of the school, Miss Kellar, art supervisor and Miss Larrick, music supervisor. These teachers told in a most interesting manner how a project is worked out tying up the various activities connected with it, in a central theme. Miss Loranger, principal of the Highland School told of her work conducting two classes in a single room as is done in that building. Miss Storer, remedial reading teacher, stated her experiences with children needing corrective reading.

It was a most interesting afternoon and all came away feeling they had gained a clearer picture of the planning of school work in its many phases.

Mrs. F. M. Ives, Jr. and her social committee served a delicious tea with Mrs. Carle Zimmerman and Mrs. J. Stanley Barnes, pouring.

All members and their friends are urged to attend the Red Cross meetings held each Tuesday morning in the school at 10 a. m. Workers are needed for sewing and knitting.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Saturday Morning Boy's Activities

All boys from 8 to 12 both ages inclusive, who attend the Sunday School of the First Congregational Church, or who belong to Cub Pack No. 3, are invited to go to the parish house of the church on next Saturday morning, Jan. 13, at 10 o'clock to take part in the winter Saturday morning activities. A new program is being worked out by the Men's Club and the Cub Pack Committee.

$4,625,000 SET AS FUND GOAL

Within 10 days all the communities of Greater Boston will be engaged in a united, determined drive to oversubscribe the 1940 goal for Greater Boston's Community Fund, $4,625,000, the minimum amount necessary to carry on the vital services of the more than 175 hospitals, health and social service agencies. James Nowell, chairman for Winchester, has his local organization nearly completed, ready to go, Jan. 22, when opening gun sounds throughout Greater Boston.

James Nowell, Community Fund chairman for Winchester announced this week the the appointment of Mrs. William McDonald, Jr., as asst. precinct director of precinct six. Mrs. McDonald has already enrolled many workers and is enthusiastic in her efforts to make her precinct go over the top.

As special district director, Carmino Frongillo is organizing the Italians in all the precincts for work in the Community Fund Campaign. He has appointed William Penna, Angelo P. Tofuri, and Alphonse Lambiase as his captains. Once again this group is proving its civic mindedness and its interest in community affairs and their efforts are greatly appreciated.

Figures show that 68 per cent of patients in all Community Fund hospitals, 44 per cent of children under the care of Community Fund child-placing agencies, 49 per cent of those in Community Fund homes for the aged, 54 per cent of patients in Community Fund convalescent homes and 78 per cent of mothers in Community Fund maternity homes, came from outside Boston last year. Much of the support of these agencies is certainly the responsibility of citizens living in Greater Boston.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

Meat is usually the food which gets budgets into trouble but at present all are reasonable in price. Outstanding values are to be found in poultry, smoked and fresh pork, lamb and forequarter cuts of beef. Rounds and loins of beef and veal cost more but are not expensive.

Egg prices continue to be most attractive with ample supplies coming to market in spite of the continued cold. Butter is somewhat higher but still under average winter prices. Generous supplies of green vegetables from California, Texas, Florida, Cuba and Puerto Rico are available at reasonable cost. Citrus fruits and apples are the chief fruits in market and all are cheap.

Low Cost Dinner
Boiled Smoked Shoulder of Pork
Mashed Potatoes Creamed New Cabbage
Bread and Butter
Fruited Orange Gelatin Cookies
Tea or Coffee Milk

Moderate Cost Dinner
Chicken Pie with Biscuit Crust
Browned Sweet Potatoes Green Beans
Bread and Butter
Chocolate Soufflé Hard Sauce
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner
Tomato Juice Stuffed Celery
Roast Lamb with Minted Pears
Browned Potatoes
Mixed Vegetables in Cream
Avocado Salad
Rolls and Butter
Vanilla Ice Cream with Strawberries
Wafers Coffee

THE CAPITOL THEATRE HAS NEW MARQUEE

Have you noticed the new marquee in the front of the Capitol Theatre? Many patrons have remarked to this editor that it's attractiveness is a distinct asset to the downtown shopping district.

Manager Parker, who seems to be spending both his working and sleeping hours planning to beautify and modernize his Capitol Theatre, is responsible for the new marquee which is most attractive, modern and very easy to read. It features new silhouette lettering and neon tubing.

For those readers who are not sure just what the "marquee" is, it is French for "a sign that hangs over the sidewalk.

WINCHESTER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The January board meeting of the Winchester District Nursing Association was held on Friday, Jan. 5, at the home of the president, Miss Adelaide Homer, with the following members present: Mrs. Percy Bugbee, Mrs. Vincent Clarke, Mrs. E. Craig Greiner, Mrs. Robert Holmes, Miss Adelaide Homer, Mrs. E. D. Horner, Mrs. Arthur Jackson, Mrs. Ralph Jope, Mrs. Malcolm Nichols, Mrs. John Pearson, Mrs. Richard Parkhurst, Mrs. Gordon Pond, Mrs. Thomas Righter, Mrs. Harlow Russell, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, Mrs. Jameson Slocum, Mrs. Lowell Smith and Mrs. Charles Young.

Mrs. O'Leary reported a busy month with 109 cases under care and 310 visits made during the month. Also 10 visits were made to the Nursing Schools and 125 children examined.

Mrs. Shoemaker, chairman of the Finance Committee reported that her committee is preparing an up to date board manual for the Winchester board.

Mrs. Nichols, chairman of the education committee spoke briefly about the Medical Discoveries of 1939 stating that sulfanilamide was considered to be the "Drug of the Year."

Mrs. O'Leary gave the following report on the pre-natal care available by calling the District Nurse.

To the Expectant Mother

Before your baby arrives the Winchester District Nurses will be glad to discuss with you:

1. Personal Hygiene.
1. The type of clothes that would be most healthful and comfortable.
2. The care of the skin, its importance as an organ of elimination.
3. The need for both rest and exercise every day.
4. The care of breasts and nipples.
5. The importance of dental, as well as medical, care during pregnancy.
2. Nutrition.
1. The foods necessary for maintaining the health of the mother, and building a sturdy body for the baby.
2. The part played by the vitamins and other food elements in producing the good health of mother and baby.
3. Mental Hygiene
(Do you know that a mother cannot "mark" her baby?)
1. The importance of some recreation in maintaining a happy attitude, important to all members of the family.
2. The instruction month by month, in coming events of pregnancy, to remove the fear of uncertainty.
3. The need for having the expectant father share the pleasant anticipations as well as the responsibilities.

GREATER BOSTON MALE CHORUS

GREATER BOSTON MALE CHORUS

Music Festival Winning Chorus to Sing in Winchester

Winchester lovers of male choral singing will have an opportunity to hear one of the leading negro groups in this field next Thursday evening, Jan. 25, when the Greater Boston Male Chorus comes to this town for a concert in the town hall. The New Hope Baptist Church is sponsoring the concert which will benefit the church mortgage fund. Tickets may be obtained at Hevey's Pharmacy and at the Star Office.

The Greater Boston Male Chorus was formed in the spring of 1931, and since that time has become widely known because of its many successful appearances as radio and concert artists throughout New England. Among other honors it has had the distinction of winning first prize for three consecutive years in the International Music Festivals at Symphony Hall.

There is a quality to the negro voice and fervor to negro musical interpretation that make their singing unique and appealing. Especially is this so when they sing the loved spirituals as only they can sing them.

This type of music will appear on the Greater Boston Male Chorus' program next Thursday with other choral numbers by such representative composers as Bach, Dvorak, Sibelius, Brahms and Handel.

Assisting the chorus will be its director, Dorothy Richardson, contralto, who will sing a group of songs by Gluck, Carpenter, Hageman, Chausson, Wolff and Strauss. Two of the spirituals to be sung by the chorus are prize songs which have been sung in festival competition. The concert will commence promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

EN KA MEETING

The second regular meeting of En Ka was held on Tuesday, Jan. 9, at the Nurses' Home. Sixty-five members were present.

Interesting reports were given by the various chairmen, showing the wide scope of work En Ka is doing to help the various organizations in Winchester.

As usual, the highlight of this meeting was the report of the ways and means chairman, Mrs. Allan Lindblad. She divulged that the 1940 Street Fair would take the form of an Artists' Fair. All the workers to be costumed in smocks and berets, with the decorations appropriate to this theme. She announced many plans were still brewing, with more exciting details to be given out at the March meeting.

Mrs. Donald Heath spoke for the Community Fund Drive. The movie of the Drive entitled "By thePeople, For the People" was shown. This film was most interesting and instructive. The 1939 Street Fair film was also shown and much enjoyed by the many participants present.

Mrs. Carl Bolter, chairman of the meeting committee, continued to live up to her enviable reputation, and served the members another delicious tea.

UNION LENTEN SERVICES

The Protestant Churches of Winchester will hold a series of Union Lenten services in the First Baptist Church, beginning Ash Wednesday, Feb. 7 and continuing until Holy Week.

It is hoped to have three speakers this year. Dr. Herbert Gezork of Wellesley College, Dr. Gaius Glenn Atkins, formerly of Auburn Theological Seminary and Rev. Raymond Calkins, D.D., pastor of the First Church in Cambridge. Fuller announcement will be made later.

The women's organizations of the churches participating are sponsoring these services again this year, and the ministers are loking forward to the usual large congregations which have attended in former years.

"THAWING PIPES"

The Fire Department answered an alarm from Box 47 at 2:35 this morning for a fire at the home of Mr. Michael Nelson, 258 Cross street. Thawing frozen pipes in the cellar was the cause of the trouble. The damage done was slight and was confined largely to smoke.

FORTNIGHTLY TO PRESENT GEORGE BRINTON BEAL

For the first time in the history of the circus, an authorized motion picture has been made of the fascinating world of sawdust and spangles. This picture, entitled "Through the Back Door of the Circus," will be presented, by its author, George Brinton Beal, on Tuesday evening, Feb. 13, in the high school auditorium, for the benefit of the Fortnightly Philanthropy Fund.

Under Mr. Beal's skillful guidance you are taken on a personally conducted tour of the biggest show on earth. From dawn to dusk, through a never ending day of continuous thrills and tremendous toil, you see the circus as circus folk see and live it, visiting seven circuses on two continents. It is an endless, fascinating revelation in natural color motion pictures, by far the most novel and entertaining performance that the lecture platorm has had to offer in a generation.

Mr. Beal, who himself lived the hazardous life of the circus in the making of this momentous film, and undergone many hairbreadth escapes that you might be able to see this previously unknown world, is a Boston editor, feature writer and critic. He has been writing about the theatre, motion pictures and the circus for the past quarter of a century, and is lecturer on Dramatic Criticism at Emerson College, and dramatic critic of the "Emerson Quarterly."

A special performance for school children will be given in the afternoon.

WILLIAM J. CROUGHWELL

IN HONOR OF GEORGE H. EUSTIS

The Board of Library Trustees hereby inscribes upon its records its tribute to George H. Eustis, for 37 years its chairman, who died in his 94th year on Jan. 5, 1940. No elective officer of Winchester, since its incorporation as a town in 1850, has such a record of continuous service. But length of service does not measure his contribution to the library. Until his last illness he rarely missed a meeting of the Board. His service to the library was by no means confined to these meetings. It is doubtful if any unpaid public official in this town ever devoted so much of his time to the task, always congenial to him, of administering the functions entrusted to him. When the library was in the town hall he was for 14 years the Town Treasurer and was thus in constant touch with it. When the new building was opened an office was provided for him, and much of his time was spent there. Thus he had unusual opportunities to keep informed of the needs and administration of the library. Outside of his home the library was his joy and his life.

HOLBROOK—CANNING ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mrs. Elizabeth Canning of Woburn announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Betty Canning, to Arnold P. Holbrook, son of Town Engineer and Mrs. Parker Holbrook of Mt. Pleasant street. The wedding will take place in the early fall.

"OUR TOWN," PULITZER PLAY, IN OUR TOWN

Thornton Wilder's hauntingly beautiful Pulitzer Prize play, "Our Town," will be presented by the Parish Players of the First Congregational Church of Winchester on the evenings of Jan. 26 and 27 in the Little Theatre Beneath the Spire.

Although Parish Players' audiences are accustomed to important and ambitious productions by Winchester's leading little theatre group, the presentation of "Our Town" should exceed any achievement of the past.

Originally produced on Broadway in February, 1939, where it enjoyed a 12 month run, "Our Town" has assumed a top position in American drama written in this century. Without question it is one of the most important plays written in recent years.

The play depicts the humor, picturesqueness, and pathos of life in a small New Hampshire village, set against a background of social history and deep-rooted religious faith over the centuries.

Mr. Wilder's play is a successful experiment in a new form of dramatic presentation, for its actors are called upon to bring back the pantamime of the old theatre. The play is without the artificial stimulent of scenery and properties. The thread of the story is drawn by the "Stage Manager," who describes the characters and their activities from his place at the corner of the stage.

"Our Town" is directed by Francis R. Hart, Jr., of the Cape Playhouse at Dennis. He has directed several notable successes of the past here in Winchester, among which have been such favorites as "Ghost Train," "Petticoat Fever," "To the Ladies," "You Can't Take It With You," "Three Cornered Moon," "Stage Door" and "Fresh Fields."

"There is the fragment of immortal truth in 'Our Town,'" writes Brooks Atkinson, New York Times drama critic. "It is a beautiful play!"

The principal characters are: Oscar W. Crowers, Myra Coon, Margaret Randall, Harlow Russell, Helen Rasgat, Van Cunningham, F. Milna Blanchard, Samuel M. Graves and Alfred R. Pennell.

Minor roles: Eleanor Randall, Dorothy M. Wills, Richard J. Johnson, John Kishler, Eben Caldwell, Louise Olivier, Allan Breed, J. Waldo Bond, Kezar G. Nichols, Sally Parsons, Mary Snell, Francis Russell.

BELMONT HERE

Winchester climbed a bit in the Middlesex League basketball standing as a result of its hair-line victory over Concord Tuesday, and this afternoon faces a real test when Belmont High, currently the second ranking club of the circuit, comes to town.

Coach "Mel" Wenner, former Winchester High "pys-edder" and coach, is in charge of Belmont's hoop destinies and admits his club is very much in and out, good one time out and poor the next.

If Belmont has one of its good days, the locals will have to show their best basketball of the year to pull out on top, but a Belmont team having an off day ought not to be too tough for Coach Lauer's charges.

The locals really need to win this one to keep within reach of Reading and will be out to give their best.

Coach Lauer will probably start his usual lineun of McEwen and Waugh, forwards; Captain Horie, center; and DeTeso and Marabella, backs; with Hultgren, Provinzano and Boardley in reserve.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gale Butler (nee Dorothy Ober) are announcing the birth of a son, Robert Brown, at the Morrill Wyman House, Cambridge Jan. 13.

Winchester friends of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Elliott of Montreal, P. Q., will be interested to learn of the birth of a daughter, Alice Jean, on Saturday, Jan. 13.

MORE CANDIDATES FOR TOWN OFFICE TAKE OUT PAPERS

Since the last issue of the Star several new candidates for election to town office in March have entered the field.

Papers were taken out for three new candidates for Selectmen, William J. Croughwell, Stafford Rogers, and Ben R. Schneider. Mr. Rogers, a former Commander of Winchester Post, A. L., is proprietor of the Rogers Sign Co., Mr. Croughwell is associated with the First National Bank of Boston as purchasing agent and Mr. Schneider is a consulting engineer and chairman of the Finance Committee.

This week saw the first papers taken out by a candidate for School Committee, Mrs. Rachel T. Kimball of Cabot street having entered this field. Mrs. Kimball, a Radcliffe graduate, is the mother of four children, two of whom are in the Winchester schools, from which the others were also graduated.

Earle E. Andrews, seeking re-election to the Board of Public Welfare, is being opposed by William T. Mulcahy, a salesman living at 162 Highland avenue. Moderator George B. Hayward, seeking re-election, is having opposition in the candidacy of Raymond S. Wilkins, former chairman of both the Finance Committee and Board of Selectmen.

Edmund C. Sanderson, veteran chairman of the Water and Sewer Board, also seeking re-election, is being challenged by John J. Doherty, proprietor of the Fells Plumbing and Heating Company and Exalted Ruler of the Winchester Lodge of Elks.

Arthur W. Dean has taken out papers for the Planning Board, being as yet the only candidate in that bracket.

Following are those who have taken out papers as of last night:

Cemetery Commissioners—Alfred H. Marchant.

Commissioner of Trust Funds—James W. Russell.

Moderator—George B. Hayward, Raymond S. Wilkins.

Park Commissioner—William S. Packer.

Planning Board—Arthur W. Dean.

School Committee—Rachel T. Kimball.

Trustees of Town Library—Edgar J. Rich, M. Walker Jones (3 years), Clinton L. Farnham (2 years to fill vacancy).

Water and Sewer Board—Edmund C. Sanderson and John J. Doherty.

DEATH CHEATED

Death was cheated of four victims last Friday night, when gas from a broken main seeped into the home of Thomas Drapeau of 78 Sylvester avenue. Mr. Drapeau, his wife, son Thomas, and brother-in-law, John MacIsaac were saved from asphyxiation when Thomas, Jr., a pupil in the sixth grade of the Noonan School awoke with an acute headache. He attempted to get a drink of water, and feeling queerly nauseated, went to is father's room for assistance. After some effort he succeeded in arousing Mrs. Drapeau, but she soon collapsed. Mr. Drapeau, though semi-conscious, was aware of someone's screams and he managed somehow to arouse himself sufficiently to discover the plight of the members of his family. Fearing that something was wrong with the furnace he hurried as best he could to the cellar. The furnace was operating perfectly but there was an overpowering odor of gas. He immediately summoned a physician and the emergency crew of the gas company, who after somewhat of a search, discovered the broken main at the front of the house. The gas had been seeping into the cellar all night, following the pipe lead into the house. Presumably the ground upsets due to frost conditions were responsible.

GAVE TEA

Mrs. Emerson Priest gave a tea Tuesday afternoon at her home on Euclid avenue. Her guests included Mrs. Harry Bean, Mrs. C. Stewart Cole, Mrs. Robert Singer, Mrs. Jerome Foster, Mrs. Edith Way, Mrs. Ernest Gross, Mrs. Cliff Bergere, Mrs. Blanchard Ford, Mrs. Augustine Pistorino, Mrs. Erving Dingwell, Mrs. Arthur Griffin, Mrs. John Creedon and Mrs. William Selberg.

TIPSY DRIVER

Sergt. Joseph Derro and Patrolman Henry Dempsey of the Police Department arrested a local motorist last night on Washington street in front of St. Mary's Catholic Church on charges of drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. He was booked at Headquarters and appeared in court this morning.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

Ralph H. Bonnell, 10 Fells road, was drawn for Superior Civil Court at Cambridge, second session, to appear Feb. 12.

Report of the first aid examinations taken by the police officers showed interest and a very fair rate of proficiency.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

We learn from George Carter's report, submitted today, that the busy bee has nothing on the busy Rotarian. The compliments showered on George and his assistants must have been very pleasing but we know that derive much greater satisfaction from the consciousness that they did a good deed and did it well.

Announcement is made that the 1940 edition of the Rotary Club Song Book is now available. Many favorite songs printed in earlier editions but discontinued in the previous edition appear in this revision, while songs new to this collection are also included.

Mr. John J. Donovan, Jr., assistant State Administrator in Massachusetts for the National Youth Administration, addressed our club today. Mr. Donovan has had many contacts with young people of grade school, high school and college ages and is intimately acquainted with the problems which confront the youth of today, particularly those who have been unfortunate in securing suitable employment. He told us of the very substantial assistance which the NYA has been, and is able to furnish to a large proportion of the nation's youth who require it. The NYA is a national organization, strictly non-political, supported by the United States Government and operated by subsidiary administrations in each state. Mr. Donovan assures us that the Massasetts division is considered the most effective of all and co-operates successfully with many other agencies which render similar service. And we well know that Rotary is one of these agencies. Members were most appreciative of Mr. Donovan's courtesy in coming to us at this time. There is much that our club can do along this line and this address has provided a welcome stimulus to that end.

Question and answer in explanation of Rotary activities:

What does Rotary mean by community service?

By community service Rotary means those things that a Rotarian does in his many community relationships which demonstrates nis thoughtfulness of and helpfulness to others. Such acts may be performed by the Rotarian as an individual, or in conjunction wth others, Rotarians and non-Rotarians. They vary greatly, according to the Rotarian's interest and ability, and according to local conditions. They include civic, educational, patriotic and philanthropic enterprises on behalf of children, youth, health, recreation, etcd, etc.

Lock! There will be an open meeting of this club next week, Jan. 25, for the discussion of club activities. Everybody come and help us to go! 'Tis Jan. 25.

Three members were absent from the meeting of Jan. 18.

MRS. HAROLD C. MEYER
Chairman of the Committee in charge of the annual Cabaret of the Winton Club to be held at the Town Hall Feb. 1, 2 and 3.

ATTENDED YOUNG PEOPLE'S CONVENTION

Five members of the Young People's Fireside Group of the Church of the Epiphany, accompanied by their director, Mr. Dana Cotton, attended the Diocesan Convention of Young Peoples' Fellowships on Wednesday evening in the crypt of the Cathedral of St. Paul in Boston. Speakers were Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill and Henry P. Van Deusen of Union Seminary. In the Winchester group were Sally Sharon, Roberta Ray, Nancy Dodson, Leonard Sherman and George McQueen.

JUNIOR FORTNIGHTLY

"Cosmetic Romance" will be the subject of a talk to be given by Mrs. Georgianna Cole for the Winchester Junior Fortnightly on next Monday evening, Jan. 22. Meeting will be held at Fortnightly Hall, Church street.

MRS. CHARLES A. WATERS

Mrs. M. Leone Waters, widow of the late Charles A. Waters, who died Jan. 6, was buried from the Wilson Funeral Home in Somerville, Jan. 10. Three clergymen officiated at the sevices, which were in charge of her former pastor, Rev. Frederick Heath of Belmont. The scripture reading was by Rev. R. Mitchell Rushton of the Winchester Baptist Church and the prayer and the committal service was given by Rev. George N. Mott of the Winter Hill Baptist Church of Somerville. The interment was in the family lot in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

Mrs. Waters was one of Winchester's old residents. Born in Boston 89 years ago, she came to this town shortly after her marriage to Charles A Waters of East Boston, and for many years lived in the residence built by him on Wilson street. She was the daughter of Deacon Benjamin Carter of the Cary Avenue Baptist Church of Chelsea. Her husband, who was associated with the Oliver Ditson Co. of Boston, died 22 years ago.

Mrs. Waters is survived by three children, Emma T. of Boston; Percival B. of Somerville; and Leonard O. of Salisbury road, this town. She also leaves three grandchildren, Dr. Earl F. Waters of Texas; Mrs. Dorothy McArthur of Pennsylvania; and Mrs. Robert Christie of this town.

Although of advanced age, she was of keen mentality and was as industrious as usual until taken ill. She was sick but three weeks, her death being caused by pneumonia.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Troop 5 Council Meeting

A council meeting of Troop 5, Winchester Boy Scouts, was held Monday evening, Jan. 15, at the home of Scoutmaster Samuel A. Ferro. Those present included Frank Buzzotta, president; Joseph Marchesi, vice-president; Joseph Ferraina, secretary; Francis Lambaize, treasurer; treasurer; James Tabaudo, Charles Ferro, Tony Paonessa and Angelo Paul Amico.

By-laws, made by the by-law committee, comprising Frank Buzzotta, Tony Paonessa, Francis Lambiaze, Angelo Paul Amico and Joseph Ferraina, were read by Scoutmaster Ferro and generally discussed. Other matters of especial interest to the troop were acted upon and the Scoutmaster spoke upon the necessity for the troop members to assist in the care of the new clubhouse.

Information on the scout rally to be held Feb. 8 was given and the meeting was closed with the scout oath.

Joseph Ferraina, Secretary

FRED BAKER COLE

Mr. Cole was born in Kingston, on August 13, 1867. In November, 1898 he married Eugenia Churchill Sears of Plymouth.

Graduating from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in June 1888, Mr. Cole became associated with the mechanical engineering profession; first with Dean & Maine, then for many years with Charles T. Main, and subsequently with his own organization from which he retired in 1932.

He is survived by his widow and one son, Frederick W. Cole.

The Fire Department was called at 7:03 Wednesday evening to put out a chimney fire at 40 Elmwood avenue, the house occupied by James Wilson and Kenneth Colgate.

WINTON CLUB CABARET IN REHEARSAL

"1940 American Follies," the Winton Club's newest revue, scheduled for Feb. 1, 2 and 3 at the town hall, is taking shape with great rapidity. Mrs. Harold F. Meyer, cabaret chairman, who named over 200 people who turned out for "tryouts" last Monday at the town hall. As always, the Winton Club is deeply grateful to these attractive young people who are so generous with their time and talent, for no Winton Club Cabaret could be a success without them. The Winchester Country Club is the scene of rehearsals where, morning, afternoon and night the various groups are put through the routines of drill, tap dances, tango and waltz by Mr. William Ratterman, the director. The latter is new to local Cabaret casts but has already won the admiration and liking of all who are to work with him.

Mrs. Fulton Brown and Mrs. T. Price Wilson will be on hand on the exciting day when the costume trunks arrive, for they are to check each one. Mrs. Torr Harmer will work very closely with them, for she is to make sure that each one fits each performer to perfection, and she has a large committee to help her with fittings and alterations, including Mrs. Clark Collins, Mrs. J. Harper Blaisdell, Mrs. Charles P. LeRoyer, Mrs. W. Campbell Ross, Mrs. Joseph Butler, Mrs. Paul Avery, Mrs. William McGill, Mrs. Lowell Smith, Mrs. Alfred White, Miss Mildred Stone and Mrs. Robert Armstrong. Mrs. Frank W. Rounds is in charge of shoes, assisted by Mrs. Warren Goddu.

Mrs. Hollister K. Olmsted is to decorate the town hall, whose vast interior offers a challenge to the decorator each year. However, all who are familiar with Mrs. Olmsted's work have confidence that on the nights of the show, it will be as gay and sparkling as the several posters that she has designed and that are attracting much attention in local store windows. Helping her are Mrs. Sanford Petts, Mrs. Alden Sherman, Mrs. Thomas Righter, Jr., Mrs. Alfred White and Mrs. George Marks.

Mrs. Harris Richardson, assisted by Mr. Raymond Dexter, is in charge of the sale of gardenias, while Mrs. Percy Bugbee, with Mrs. Loring Nichols and Mrs. E. George Pierce will attend to the Smokes and Candy. Lined up for vendors are the following attractive young girls: Misses Esther Blanghard, Janice Dexter, Janet Eaton, Louise Kelley, Ann Murray, Edna McCormick, Nancy Newton, Jean Roberts, Betty Roberts, Dorothea Richardson, Joan Wild, Lee Clark, Louise Wild, Ann Crowell, Joan Blanchard, Cynthia Newton, Alice Parker, Elizabeth Pride, Jean Rooney and Marion Neiley.

Table reservations for the Cabaret are now being made, and the ticket committee, headed by Mrs. James McCormick, reports that the demand is as great as in former years. Plans for entertaining are being made by many hostesses and no doubt both nights will be a sell-out. Ruby Newman's orchestra, led by the popular "Sammy" Eisen, will be there both nights and as everyone knows, his music is tops. Enthusiasm is running high, and everything points toward a grand show.

BROKE ANKLE IN FALL

Mrs. William C. Cusack of Mystic Valley Parkway sustained a badly broken ankle when she slipped and fell while leaving the home of Mrs. Raymond Dexter on Yale street last Friday shortly after noon. She was taken to the Winchester Hospital in the police ambulance by Patrolmen James P. Donaghey and John J. Murray, and attended by Doctors Milton J. Quinn and Alexander Aitken. She was able to return to her home on Tuesday.

Edith Caverly, a member of the Winchester Art Association, is having an exhibition of her pictures at the Copley Society in Boston from Jan. 22 to Feb. 3.

NOBLE PLAYING WITH ST. CHARLES

Local basketball fans can see an old Winchester favorite in action Sunday afternoon when the newly organized St. Charles Club of Woburn meets the strong Sennott Associates of Cambridge at the new Catholic Center gym on Myrtle street next to the Woburn Armory commencing at 2:30.

Fred "the Red" Noble, ex-Winchester High three letter athlete who has played a lot of baseball since graduating with the Millionaires and professionally in the Maritime and Colliery Leagues in Canada, is getting into the St. Charles lineup regularly and will be seen in action Sunday against the Sennott's,

"Red" is best known as a baseball player, but he is also a very capable performer on the basketball court, and he had to be much better than average to play with St. Charles, for the Woburn club is sporting a strong lineup.

"Dannie" O'Brien, "Pie" O'Connor and Dean Coolen are some of the ex-Woburn High stars on the team, along with two former Arlington High captains, "Charlie" Lowder and "Mike" Burke.

The St. Charles management is playing the best teams available, having already met such strong combinations as the Beverly City Club and the Garfield A. A. Plans are under way to bring some real attractions to Woburn, and local fans are invited to see St. Charles and "Red" Noble in action.

TWO ACCIDENTS OVER WEEK-END

The first of two accidents reported to the police over the past week-end took place at 4 o'clock last Friday afternoon when a Ford sedan, driven by Mrs. Marion B. Godfrey of 4 Pine street, while headed north on Wildwood street and turning into Pine street, was in collision with a Chevrolet sedan, driven east on Wildwood street by Richard McCormack of Winchester place. Both machines were damaged and Mrs. Godfrey complained of injuries to her knee.

Saturday morning at 8:15 a G. M. C. tank truck, carrying 1000 gallons of fuel oil, while being driven north on Highland avenue and making a left turn into Mt. Vernon street, skidded and struck two trees in front of the residence of Mr. George A. Saltmarsh. The truck, which was registered to a Cambridge concern, was driven by Robert E. Murrin of 204 Minthrone road, Roxbury who escaped injury. The truck was badly damaged and had to be towed away.

CUT OF PRESENT CHURCH

OLD WASHINGTON SCHOOL

WINCHESTER'S CHURCH for COLORED PEOPLE

January 15, 1940

This modest but rather attractive church building, remodeled from the old Washington schoolhouse which was built in 1851, the first year after Winchester was incorporated, is located on Cross Street and is the place of worship for the colored people of our town.

A few days ago I received a letter from the officers of that church telling me that the times had been so hard and so many of their people had been out of work for the last few years that they have been unable to pay the interest on the mortgage placed on the church some years ago, and they are beginning to fear that they might lose their church home unless they can do better. They asked me if I could advise them how to proceed so as to prevent this calamity.

So I went up and looked over the church proprerty and talked with Rev. William H. Smith, the minister who has served them so faithfully for 30 years, oftentimes without any compensation, who, at the age of 70, has now retired. I have known minister Smith for many years as one of the most useful citizens of our town. He has done a great service for our community in gathering these people together and keeping them interested in the best things of life.

I find that there are about 150 colored people in our town. There were about 250 before the depression period, but some members have moved out of town and located in places where they could secure work. At present they have 70 members who belong to the church and an average Sunday attendance during the year of between 40 and 50, and occasionally 100, with a Sunday School of 40 to 50.

Now, if this church were to be discontinued it would not only be a misfortune to these people, but a real asset of the town would be lost. For while the doors of all our churches would be open to these folks if they wished to attend, the chances are that very few of them would take advantage of this opportunity, for they would feel that they might not be welcome, and would much prefer to worship and keep by themselves.

Also, we would soon have growing up in our midst the children of these people and it would be a real liability to the town to have such a community of young colored people without a church home. Conditions like this favor the formation of gangs, and gangs often become the breeding places for young criminals.

I found out that they purchased this old schoolhouse from the town in 1922, and remodeled it, putting in an investment of about $15,000, and placed on it a mortgage of $3500, which has been gradually reduced to $1950; the overdue interest on this as of February 1, 1940, is $130, making altogether an indebtedness of $2080, the only claim upon this property.

I visited the owners of this mortgage in Boston, stated the case to them and asked them what they would take in spot cash for the debt on the first day of February—principal and interest. After a conference they said they would take $1600, which I thought was a most liberal concession.

We can, each one of us, realize how we should feel if we were to be deprived of our church home. Now this little church is just as dear to these people as our more pretentious churches are to us. Individuals are at this time so engrossed with the demands of the Federal and State Governments and the equally important requests of the Community Drive, that I venture to make this somewhat unusual suggestion as a method of liquidating this mortgage.

We have in Winchester, besides this church, the following:

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
CATHOLIC CHURCH
METHODIST CHURCH
EPISCOPAL CHURCH
UNITARIAN CHURCH
BAPTIST CHURCH
CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
SECOND CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

These churches contribute constantly, each in its own way, toward making Winchester a most desirable place in which to live. Some of them still have mortgages upon their property, but no one of them is in such dire straits as this church is. In fact, this is a case of a brother church in distress, and here is an opportunity to come to its rescue and insure for all time to come a church home for the colored people who live in our town.

Let each church as an organization decide what it can gladly give of this $1600, depending upon the size of its congregation and the financial ability of its members, and prove that all the churches are really interested in the welfare of all sections of Winchester, and so give a practical demonstration of the sentiment expressed in the following lines from a hymn written by a minister who was pastor of one of the churches in Winchester nearly 60 years ago:

When the harvest-sheaves ingathered
Fill thy barns with store,
To thy God and to thy brother
Give the more.

If thy soul, with power uplifted,
Yearn for glorious deed,—
Give thy strength to serve thy brother
In his need.

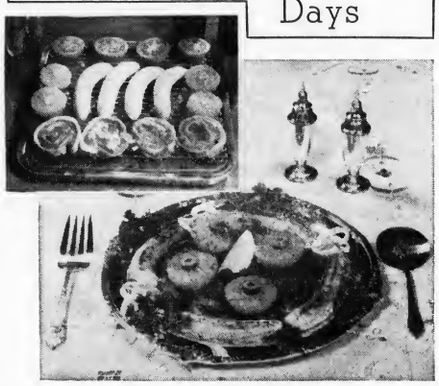

Share with him thy bread of blessing,
Sorrow's burden share;
When thy heart enfolds a brother
God is there.

Here is an opportunity for the churches to do what they recommend their parishioners to do, namely help a brother in distress and at the same time add to the civic strength of Winchester.

Contributions may be left with the Winchester Savings Bank, which has kindly consented to act as a depository until February 1, 1940.

LEWIS PARKHURST

These Are Broiler Days

By BETTY BARCLAY

Whether you live in town or country, brisk autumn days no doubt have brought a whirl of activity and little time to give to the ever-present problem of "what shall we eat?"

Quickly prepared meals are a "must" in many busy households, yet the needs of family health and budget restrictions also must be met. Appetites often pick up amazingly with cooler days, making the menu problem even more acute.

When planning meals with an eye on the clock, how many homemakers remember the adaptability of the modern broiler? Meat, fruit and vegetables — almost the entire meal — can be broiled at once. There is no quicker method of cooking and none more healthful. Moreover, there are many excellent combinations which can be cooked in this fashion, and with the addition of a soup or salad and perhaps dessert, your meal is ready.

An excellent choice is this banana-orange meat grill, with lamb or veal chops or ground meat patties wound with bacon strips, and slices of orange, banana and tomato, all broiled for 10 or 12 minutes and served on grill plates. Like this:

4 green-tipped bananas, peeled
4 orange slices, ½-inch thick
4 lamb chops, ½-inch thick
4 tomato slices, ½-inch thick
Salt and Pepper
Melted butter or other fat

Place the bananas on the center of a greased broiler rack. Around them group the orange slices, tomatoes and chops. Brush bananas with melted butter. Salt bananas and tomatoes. Set broiler rack 4 inches under a moderately high broiler flame. Broil for 10-12 minutes, turning once to secure an even brown. Serve on hot platter, seasoning meat with salt and pepper. Garnish with lemon wedges, sliced stuffed olives and parsley.

With a green salad, served with lemon French dressing, and a light dessert, your meal will be complete. To make lemon French dressing, shake together ⅓ cup each of lemon juice and salad oil, 1 teaspoon each of salt and paprika, and 2 tablespoons sugar or honey.

A delicious dessert which may be baked early in the day and served cold, or baked at the same time the rest of the meal is broiling is

Lemon Chiffon Pudding (Serves 4)

Cream: 2 tablespoons flour
¾ cup sugar
1 tablespoon butter
Add: 2 egg yolks, beaten
¼ cup Sunkist lemon juice
1 cup milk
Fold in: 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Bake in an 8-inch unbuttered pudding dish or individual custard cups, set in a pan of warm water. Bake 35 minutes in oven (360° to 375° F.) Will form a cake top with a layer of custard below.

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

The American Architecture Study Group will meet for the second time on Friday, Jan. 20, at 10 a. m. in the public library. The large number who braved the storm to hear Mr. Thaddeus Clapp's first lecture last Friday will be glad to welcome him for the second time in this series. Mrs. Alton B. Jackson, chairman, announces that the list is closed and that no guests may be admitted to the groups on museum trips, but non-members may attend the meetings at the Winchester Library for a fee of 25 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl will be hosts to the Evening Study Group on Monday evening, Jan. 22; coffee will be served at 7:30 by Mrs. Ben Schneider. Mr. Charles E. Grune will present the subject, "The Low-Cost Housing Problem and Its Solution." The guest speaker will be Mr. John Ely Burchard of Winchester, director, the Bemis Foundation, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Mr. Burchard is a graduate of the University of Minnesota, with a Master of Science degree from M. I. T. He worked as architectural draftsman and designer with several eastern firms and from 1925-38 was associated with the Bemis Industries, Inc., and its affiliated housing company. He became vice president of both corporations and after Mr. Bemis' death became director of the Albert Farwell Bemis Foundation at M. I. T. He is the author of a dozen books on building and housing problems and has been a member of several national commissions studying current problems.

The History Study Group will hold its next meeting on Monday, Jan. 22 at 9:30 a. m. at the home of Mrs. William Morton, Arlington street.

The Music Study Group will meet on Thursday, Jan. 25, at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. William Morton on Arlington street.

There will be a series of four lectures at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, on Wednesday afternoons, at 3 o'clock beginning Jan. 24, on Florentine Painting, by Dr. George H. Edgehill, director of the museum. The first lecture is entitled "Early Painters."

FORTNIGHTLY GLEE CLUB ON THE AIR

Splendid reports are being heard regarding the success of the Fortnightly Glee Club over WORL last Thursday morning. Introduced by Mrs. G. Stuart Woodman, eighth district director, program explanation by Mrs. Paul H. Howard, president of the Fortnightly, directed by Mary Ranton Witham and accompanied by Lucy Wilcox, the Glee Club gave an unusually splendid performance, which was a joy to hear as it came over the air.

Special: 72 single sheets of paper, 50 envelopes in Vellum or Parchment for 50c at Wilson the Stationer.

Mileage Hints

By J. F. Winchester

ALTHOUGH I sincerely hope none of my readers will have accidents, I must admit accidents do happen, or, more accurately, are caused. It behooves every motorist to know just what he should do in case he is involved in an accident.

First, and obviously, you should stop and give first aid to any one who may have been injured in the accident. Second, remember that after the excitement has died down you'll be faced with the fact that you have to make a report of the accident. Today, nearly every state requires a report of all but the most trivial accidents. Moreover, your insurance company will want a report of the accident, if you are insured.

Therefore, if involved in an accident, calm down as quickly as possible and jot down some notes. Tell what time of the day or night the accident occurred; whether the weather was clear, cloudy, raining, snowing or sleeting. Note what type of road the accident occurred on, whether it was wet or dry, level, hilly or straight; whether it was a 2, 3 or 4 lane road. See if there is a solid or broken white, yellow or black line on the road and measure the distance from this line to the tire marks made by your car and to the other car or vehicle.

If the accident happened at night see if the lights on both your car and the other car are lighted. Get the names of the occupants of both cars as well as the names of any persons who may have witnessed the accident. Then make a diagram of the accident; tell how it happened and jot down as many details of it as you can remember, such as the speed at which you were driving. Write down the names of any doctors who attended any one injured. If a camera is handy take a picture of the accident. Make a note of the damage to both cars.

Get as much detailed information as you can and put it all down in black and white. It may save you trouble and money later on.

CUB NOTES

Pack 4

Pack 4 will take a trip to the New England Museum of Natural History in Boston on Jan. 20. Mr. T. M. Atkinson announces that the Cubs will be shown two motion pictures "Atop Yosemite" and "Jungle Roundup." After the pictures there will be an opportunity to inspect the museum. Cubs will meet at Mr. Atkinson's at 1:30 p. m.

Plans are being formulated for the Pack to participate in the Scout Exposition at the Medford Armory in February.

On Jan. 10, Den 1 entertained their mothers at their regular Den meeting. A number of interesting and clever charades were acted out by the Cubs. Miss Mary Kumler entertained both the mothers and Cubs with an excellnt tap dance in costume. Refreshments were served by the Cubs under the direction of Mrs. R. W. Kumler and Mrs. T. M. Atkinson.

WOMAN SECRETARY ACCUSED OF THEFTS

Mrs. Mary M. Lynch, 45, of Brush Hill road, Milton, was arraigned in municipal court Tuesday afternoon before Judge Joseph T. Zottoli on complaints charging 27 counts of larceny from Mrs. Carolyn Gilpatric, widow of Dr. William Gilpatric, a former Commonwealth avenue dentist. She pleaded not guilty and was released on her own recognizance for a hearing Jan. 30.

Inspectors Joseph Desmond and James F. McDevitt charged Mrs. Lynch, who was a bookkeeper and secretary for Dr. Gilpatric up to his death in April of 1938 and continued to handle his business affairs for some time afterwards, devoted some of the Gilpatric funds to her personal needs, using some on a mortgage payment. Mrs. Lynch indicated through counsel that she had made loans to Dr. Gilpatric. The alleged larcenies total about $2000.

THE YOUTH MOVEMENT

Although refusing similar privilege to the Community Federation, the Boston School Committee has voted to allow collection boxes in the public schools for contributions of school children to the President's Birthday Ball.

CONSOLIDATION DELUX

It's a clever idea these New Dealers have to "consolidate their gains," from our observation it works this way. When these taxes and assessments and what-all are piled upon the people, they do not expect to be able to hold them there as originally levied. By taking a little off when the howl gets too big they are gradually getting down to the point where, while all feel they are imposed upon, the relief from such concessions as are made is so great, that the objections drop to a degree wherein the "consolidation" can be effected. Take our friend "Billy" McLean, who runs the News Company, for instance. He has been driven nearly frantic with the Social Security. His payments were bad enough, but his bookkeeping has been such as to tax the capacity of a force of expert accountants. Evidently he and his business associates put up such a howl that something was liable to break. So what was done? Why, the tax was taken off all his boys 18 years and under. Imagine what a relief this was to him! So now his bookkeeping is greatly reduced—not that it is eliminated; oh no, not by any means. So we suppose in our case that all these fines and penalties we have been getting may be lessened. Prevailing along this line, it might be assumed that with this feature eliminated, we will be so delighted that we will be glad to keep quiet in the future. With only two months out of the year 1939 in which we were not required to make out forms and pay out money, the relief can well be imagined. Will it work? The milking of America goes merrily on. How about all these poor children who are being deprived of their Social Security?

SOCRATES SAYS-

NEW DEAL POLITICS

Every New Deal aspirant for the Democratic Presidential nomination, except one has hurried to state he will withdraw if President Roosevelt decides to try for a third term.

As no press releases has Mr. Garner intimated he would step aside for Mr. Roosevelt. Why?

Could it be possible that the political stage is being set? If it is later felt that war conditions or any other diverting incidents should occur, even Mr. Garner, the only outright opponent of President Roosevelt, could withdraw. This would then remove every possible opponent for, should others appear—without the withdrawal reservation, Mr. Garner's example would do the trick. Watch it work.

President Roosevelt, as things stand today, will not run. Mr. Garner and Mr. Hull are both too old, as were "the nine old men."

The question really before the nation is what Republican shall be nominated? There are so many qualified from whom to choose and none of them would take a walk.

Socrates

CANNOT "CHOOSE TO RUN"

To the Editor of the Star:

It is with deep appreciation and regret that I am obliged to say to the good friends who with such generous enthusiasm (without my knowledge) promoted my name for a vacancy on the Board of Library Trustees, that, because of other interests I cannot "choose to run" at this time.

Several excellent women are available for this position. I sincerely hope that one may win. Surely the library is a place where a woman's interest and ability may be used to good advantage.

It seems to me a matter of simple justice and common sense that two out of six members of this board should be women.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE ACTIVITIES

Last Sunday evening the Young People of the First Baptist Church of Winchester visited the Episcopal Church, taking part in a most worshipful Candlelight Service. The group later returned to its own church and held the regular Sunday evening Youth Service. The speaker was Robert Beggs, who is attending Gordon College and is leader of the Young Peoples group in Melrose. He spoke on his conception of prayer and its need in the lives of young people. Mr. Beggs used a bit of poetry which really explains prayer:

Prayer is Faith in God
A confidence that in his love
The lonely heart may rest its burden great
Prayer is not a mystic thing
To be invoke at special time or in a special way
Prayer is a part of us
Prayer is Faith in God
A feeling that God knows and hears us when we talk to him
All time time and anywhere
Prayer is faith in God.

The Baptist Young People of Winchester are really finding much enjoyment in their Youth Service in the church. The healthful outings and the inspirational meetings have been met with approval by both parents and young people.

On Jan. 25 at 8 p. m. in the Baptist Church Social Hall the Young People will sponsor a program "New England Wonderland" by John W. Roberts. The breathtaking loveliness of New England in the summer, autumn and winter will be shown in pictures. Do your part to make this program a success. Bring your family and friends.

SPEED, DISTANCE AND ALTITUDE RECORDS FALL IN 1939

A pilot flew 575 miles per hour, an automobile driver sped more than 368 miles per hour, two aviators soared in a seaplane for 30 days and a motor boat was driven 141 miles an hour. These are among the records for 1939 listed in a year-end bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

At Buffalo, N. Y., H. Lloyd Childs dived at the rate of 575 miles an hour while demonstrating a Curtis pursuit airplane to French army officials. For straight flying however a new record was made by a German flier, Fritz Wendell. He flew 469.11 miles per hour, six miles per hour better than the former record.

Paris to London in 41 Minutes

Francisco Sarabia, foremost Mexican aviator, made a record flight from Mexico, D. F. to New York 2359 miles in ten hours and 48 minutes. A new trans-continental flight record was set by a "flying fortress" of 22 tons when, in August, a bomber flew from Burbank, Calif., to New York, 2500 miles, in nine hours, 14½ minutes.

Alex Henshaw of England broke the round-trip airplane record from England to Cape Town, flying the 13,000-mile route in 4 days, 10 hours and 16 minutes and cutting 31 hours from the previous record. Paris and London are only 41 minutes apart by air since the new record made in January by a plane of the Royal Air Force.

The women's light plane speed record was broken by Jacqueline Cochran in July when she flew over a Long Island course at a speed of 173.097 miles per hour. This bettered the former record, made by the same aviatrix, by about ten miles per hour.

The new air endurance record set in 1939 was made by Wes Carroll and Clyde Schlieper, near Long Beach Calif., on Oct. 30. In the air 726 hours they broke the former record by 73 hours.

Clipper ship records fell too this year. The American Clipper of Pan American Airways flew from Southampton, England, to New York, by the northern route in 29 hours and 53 minutes. The Yankee Clipper set a new flight record between the Azores and New York; it flew the route in 17½ hours, or 29 minutes less than the previous record.

The Atlantic Clipper flew from New York to Bermuda, 779 miles, in 3 hours and 53 minutes in April, but that record was bettered by the Bermuda Clipper in November, by 4 minutes. Imperial Airways set a new record for the Ireland to Newfoundland transatlantic jump when the "Cabot" made the flight in 13.005 hours, or one-half hour less than the previous record.

Italy laid claim to the world's altitude record for seaplanes when, in September, Col. Nicola di Mauro climbed to 44,457 feet in one hour and 58 minutes.

Automdbile and Boat Speed Records Broken

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, again was the scene of a new automobile speed record. In August, John R. Cobb, a London fur broker, sped 368.85 miles per hour, or about ten miles per hour faster than the former record held by another Englishman, Capt. George E. A. Eyston. Sir Malcolm Campbell, former holder of automobile speed records, this year shattered the speed record on water by driving his craft 141.74 miles per hour. The former record was 130.9 miles per hour by the same pilot.

SCIENCE STILL SEARCHES FOR BONES OF STONE AGE AMERICANS

A few more facts were pieced together in 1939 about the men who lived on earth in the distant past, 10,000 to 100,000 years ago. A brief review of the discoveries during 1939 of human bones belonging to that prehistoric period is contained in a bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

Most interesting American to paleontologists, says the bulletin, is the mysterious Stone Age American, Folsom Man, whose dart points were first unearthed near Folsom, New Mexico in 1925; Smithsonian Institution scientists led by Dr. Frank H. H. Roberts, Jr., have made a dogged search during the past six years at the famous Lindenmeier site in northern Colorado for Folsom remains. Red and yellow paint, beads, dart points and knives show clearly the probability that man lived on this continent from 10,000 to 25,000 years ago. But the bones to prove his existence have not yet been brought to light.

First Neanderthal Skull Found in Central Asia

Dr. A. Okladnikov reported the discovery in the Hissar Mountains Uzbek, U. S. S. R., of a skull and other bones of an eight year old child, described as the first evidence of the presence of Neanderthal man east of Palestine and the Crimean Peninsula. Neanderthal skulls have been found in Europe and Africa, the name comes from a valley of the Dussel, a tributary of the Rhine. An especially fine specimen of a Neanderthal man who probably died in a club duel 70,000 or 80,000 years ago was unearthed during the past year at Mount Circeo, on the coast between Rome and Naples. The finding of the child's skull in Central Asia adds weight to the belief that man is a direct descendant of the Neanderthaler rather than merely an offshot from a common ancestor.

Seven skulls, apparently belonging to a family group, were uncovered in the famous Soukoutien caves near Peiping, China, by Drs. Franz Weidenreich and W. C. Pei, Peiping Union Medical College. These remains were found in 1930, but they were not announced until 1939. The curiosity of the discovers were piqued by the marked differences of a racial character in the skulls of these ancient victims, who died between 20,000 and 100,000 years ago. Their tentative conclusion is that ancient man was not divided into a few distinct types which modern civilization has mixed. On the contrary they suggest, primitive man was of many different racial types and only with the establishment of exclusive and isolated family and clan groups did uniformity of physical characteristics make its appearance.

River Boats Have Chimes

Some river boats have chimes which are tuned to chords. River residents identify the various boats by their chimes long before they come into sight.

Sweet Dreams Punch

4 cups freshly made, chilled decaffeinated coffee
1½ pints ice cream
Grated nutmeg

Pour the decaffeinated coffee over a pint of ice cream in a punch bowl or big mixing bowl, and blend lightly with an egg beater until the ice cream is partly melted. Sprinkle with grated nutmeg. Vanilla, coffee, or chocolate ice cream combines well with the coffee flavor.

To make decaffeinated coffee by the percolator method, use 1 heaping tablespoon decaffeinated coffee, regular grind, for each cup (½ pint) of cold water. Pour cold water into pot. Set percolator basket in pot and put coffee in it. Cover. Let percolate slowly and gently 15 to 20 minutes. (For a 4-cup percolater use ¾ cup coffee.)

Lima and Ham Loaf

1 cup cooked, dried Limas
½ cup ground ham
¼ cup chili sauce or catsup
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon minced onion
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 cup cracker crumbs
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Rub Limas through a coarse strainer. Add ham, chili sauce, eggs, pepper, salt, minced onion, butter and cracker crumbs. Shape into a loaf, place in a buttered pan in a moderate oven (360° F.) and bake for 30 minutes, basting occasionally with the melted butter. Serve with brown gravy.

Orange Frosted Doughnuts
(For 24 doughnuts)

Allow 1 good sized doughnut for each guest. Frost with orange-tinted icing made by creaming together well:

3 tablespoons butter
2 cups powdered sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons orange juice
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
Orange vegetable coloring, as needed

Magic Butternut Pie

1½ cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk
2 eggs, separated
1 cup butternut meats, or other nut meats
2 tablespoons granulated sugar
Unbaked pie shell (8-inch)

Thoroughly blend sweetened condensed milk, beaten egg yolks and finely chopped butternut meats. Pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake in moderately slow oven (325° F.) 25 minutes or until set. Cover with meringue made by beating egg whites until stiff and adding sugar. Return to oven and bake 10 minutes or until meringue is brown.

Recipes for Parlor Fun

The newest recipe for parlor fun is Contack, an exciting new game played with 36 triangular pieces—each side with a different color and number. The object of the game is to match colors and numbers and to make scoring totals — a streamlined development of domino technique that's easy to learn. Another sure way to end the social ice breaking problem is Quick Wit, a hilarious quiz game that's played with card and guarantees new and different questions every round.

TO JOIN THE REGULAR ARMY

At present there are still a small number of openings for enlistment in the Regular Army of the United States to bring it to its full authorized strength.

Enlistment affords a young man regular employment, opportunities for learning a trade, travel and knowledge of his own country, and a wholesome regular life to improve his physical condition and character.

The Army wants men who are interested in these things and the Army offers these men what amounts to an opportunity to attend a vocational school and yet be paid for it.

The general qualifications for enlistment are:

Applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 35 for original enlistment, unmarried, and those under 21 must have the written consent of parents or guardians; they must be at least 5 feet, 4 inches in height and weigh not less than 115 pounds; they must be of good moral character, as evidenced by written testimonials from reputable citizens of their respective communities; they must be in good health and free from incapacitating or disfiguring deformities. They must be citizens of the United States by birth or naturalization at the time of enlistment; they must be able to pass the inteiligence and literary tests as prescribed in regulations governing recruiting for the Regular Army.

Any Winchester man who is interested in this opportunity can get further particulars at any recruiting station or if he will call Winchester 2583-W and leave his name, a Reserve Officer will personally see that any help he wishes will be immediately forth coming.

A Modern Treasure Chest

Mr. Burpee at the Treasure Chest — Photo of Single Bloom

By RICHARD S. BOND

During many years of Luther Burbank's life he cherished an iron-bound trunk in which he religiously stored little sacks and packets of his experimental seeds. This romantic old relic, battered and scarred by journeys with Burbank since 1875, is really his legacy to the world's flower lovers. Time alone can tell the horticultural wonders that may emerge from this treasure chest of a famous man.

Today it is owned by David Burpee of Philadelphia, who by the way is not only a horticulturist of note but a cousin of Mr. Burbank. The chest still contains many packages of rare seeds, carefully labeled by the original owner. Among them Burpee found seeds of the Giant Zinnia in pastel shades — the offspring of zinnia seeds once secured by Burbank from David Burpee's father. Last year there were only fifteen or so of the new David Burpee Zinnia strain produced.

In the world. This year the seed is comparatively plentiful and the David Burpee Zinnia will be grown in thousands of gardens. It is an astonishing flower, five and a half to six inches across, and sometimes four inches deep. Actually, it looks more like a big Chrysanthemum than a descendant of the "Old Maid" grown by our grandmothers in their little plots of ground.

The colors are soft and rich — soft pastel shades of apricot, buff, salmon pink, burnt orange, peach and terra-cotta-cerise. Many of the flowers are bi-colored and some are tri-colored in combinations that are very pleasing.

Best of all, this zinnia is still a foolproof flower — one that will grow anywhere, as its great-grandparent, the "Old Maid" grew. From the treasure chest of Luther Burbank one more wonder has been added.

"Life" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, Jan. 21.
The Golden Text is: "This is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son" (I John 5: 11).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life and breath, and all things . . . for in him we live and move, and have our being" . . . (Acts 17: 24, 25, 28).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is divine Life, and Life is no more confined to the forms which reflect it than substance is in its shadow. . . . Life is Mind, the creator reflected in His creations" (p. 331).

Announcer, Edward Murphy. Curtain, John McHugh.

Many Miners Killed, Injured

If all the miners killed and injured in our collieries in one year were to march past us four abreast, says London Answers Magazine, the column would measure nearly thirty miles in length.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

On the editorial page of the Union Signal, dated Aug. 26, 1939, is an article that is well worth considering by thoughtful wives everywhere. It is headed:

"Home Standards Set By Wives"

That there will be no alcoholic drinks served in the Louisiana state executive mansion so long as Governor Earl Kemp Long and his attractive young wife live there, was the recent announcement made by its present mistress, say the New York Times.

Mrs. Long, 30-year old, auburn-haired, young and regarded as the prettiest first lady Louisiana has seen for a long time, was quoted by the press as saying that the easiest way to avoid trouble over the liquor question is to rule liquor out of the official residence.

Following the suggestion, so often made in liquor ads directed at the American housewife, that she keep the refrigerator stocked with liquor in order to play the gracious hostess, usually would mean far more occasions for ungracious actions resulting from imbibing in the home, than if there were no alcoholic beverages on hand to tempt the family or a caller. The Southern Governor's charming wife knows, just as many other wise housewives know, that if there is no liquor on hand, there will be no drinking problem.

Governor Long is no teetotaler, but he sees the wisdom of his wife's logic and is quite willing to co-operate with her. When the wife takes a definite stand to keep home standards high, almost any husband is ready to play along according to her ideas. Mrs. Long, like many other wise home makers, realizes that even when the wife is an innocent bystander who does not drink she can never be sure what a liquor-stocked refrigerator may lead to in her home, no matter how tactful she may try to be.

Human nature being what it is, a husband is likely to put the blame on the wife if the home is broken up, even by his own drinking. If she can maintain a fine and satisfying home, he is equally likely to give her the credit.

The easiest way to avoid trouble over the liquor question in any home from governor's mansion to humble cottage, is, as Mrs. Long advises, to rule it out!

Not on Mainland

"THE LATE CHRISTOPHER BEAN"

Paced by the effective acting of Jane Armstrong, Edna McCormick, and James Coon, a capable high school cast produced satisfactorily for a large and enthusiastic audience "The Late Christopher Bean" at the Winchester High School auditorium last Saturday night.

Before mentioning any individuals of the cast, it is highly regular to say that their work showed evidence of good coaching by Mr. Kenneth Meinke of the high school faculty. Such items as proper spacing of characters on the stage, well timed entrances, and lack of trouble with the amusing lines of the play were quite obvious. Also, to the discerning, they were adept at the tremendous amount of "business" called for in some of the slower moving scenes. For amateurs of high school age, this group did very well in avoiding the pitfalls which lurk before the beginning actor.

Individually, the longest and hardest parts were those of Mrs. Haggett, played unusually well by Jane Armstrong, who was "in character" every moment that she was on the stage; Abby, played very ably by Edna McCormick, who now has shown her versatility by starring in "Bab" and in the current production; and Dr. Haggett, well interpreted by James Coon, who had to extend himself to the limit to become the weary and befuddled, though inherently honest country doctor.

Among the others there can be no just rating if one must select individuals. Perhaps the most difficult role was that of Ada Haggett, played by Sylvia Robinson, who did very well with the part of a consciously unmarried elder daughter of 24, or was it 26? Leila-Jane Smith played a more or less "straight" with intelligence and enthusiasm.

Robert Elliott played the suave Mr. Tallant, who operated with any convenient alias, like an old timer. Wallace Howard put together his many talents to show Rosen in his various stages of viscosity and frustration. Peter Hickey as Warren Creamer looked the part of the careless young artist and succeeded in demonstrating his awkwardness in the more tender moments. Brock Lynch hid behind the well trimmed beard of Davenport and posed excellently as an art critic and biographer.

The Play Itself

It seems that an obscure artist, Christopher Bean, had spent his time painting valuable masterpieces while under the care of the venerable country physician, Dr. Haggett, a man whose medical knowledge had succeeded in doing but one thing; namely, accumulating a long list of creditors. While accepting the hospitality of the good doctor's home, Chris Bean had won the heart and hand of the invaluable family servant, Abby, and had married her, unknown to the doctor's family, consisting of Susan, Ada, and Mrs. Haggett.

Complications set in ten years later, after the unfortunate Chris had died, and his wife, Abby, had faded. An article in a leading magazine had described the value of the late artist's work and had reprinted several of Chris's letters. Although the critics were aware of the value of Chris's oils, Doctor Haggett and his family had found them only a nuisance. Abby, alone, had clung to one painting, a portrait of herself. So the stage was set perfectly for the unscrupulous collectors, Tallant and Rosen, and quite upset again with the arrival of Davenport, an honest critic and biographer of the late Christopher Bean.

By paying only the indebtedness of Chris Bean, Tallant is rewarded with an almost priceless painting rescued from the chicken coop, and another which had been utilized as a canvas for the hopeless brushwork of Ada Haggett, although he has to pay 50 dollars for Ada's side of the canvas. He is soon followed by Rosen, who astounds the household by offering a thousand dollars for the lot, but his bid is interrupted by the timely arrival of Davenport, who tells the truth.

When a search of the premises reveals no paintings, although there have been several, Mrs. Haggett confesses to having burned them. However, Abby's portrait is wheedled out of her as a keepsake, but when she discovers the mercenary methods of the Haggett's she refuses to sell it, and, much to everyone's consternation, she produces the other 17 which she had salvaged from the fire when Mrs. Hagget was not looking.

Dr. Haggett is tempted to take the priceless paintings from Abby, but in the end yields to his honesty and allows her to leave for the home of her brother, made sad by the death of his wife. When last seen she has the oils under her arm and Davenport as an escort, leaving collectors and family to be partitioned off by the final curtain.

Following is the cast and committees:

BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The Boston Symphony Orchestra, Inc. youth concert committee take pleasure in announcing a new series of three youth chamber music concerts in Jordan Hall.

They are for young people of any age and adults who wish to attend.

The famous Roth Quartet will play the first and third concerts.

Wheeler Becket, conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, Inc. Youth Concerts plan the program and will speak about the music in the same delightful manner so much appreciated by the Youth Concert audiences.

These unique low priced chamber music concerts are made possible largely through the generosity of Mrs. Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge.

The first one in the series will be Wednesday, Jan. 24 at 4 o'clock.

READING PACING MIDDLESEX HOOP TEAMS

Unbeaten Reading High still leads the Middlesex County Basketball League with five straight wins. Belmont is in second place with three wins and two losses, Winchester and Stoneham being tied for third, each having won a brace of games. The locals have a slight edge on the boys from the hockey town, having dropped but one game while Stoneham has met two reverses.

This afternoon Winchester goes to Belmont for a game that the locals pretty much have to win to stay in the select class. Lexington plays at Stoneham tonight and Reading at Wakefield. Reading ought to win but Wakefield on its home court will provide the league pace-makers with a real test.

Tuesday's games will bring Stoneham and Concord together, and the latter team seems to be improving right along. Reading comes to Winchester for the most important game of the schedule to date. Reading has quite a ball club, but Winchester is noted for its ability to upset the good ones and can well dump the leaders from the unbeaten class if they get by Wakefield tonight.

Lexington plays at Wakefield on Wednesday and Friday of next week Lexington plays at Winchester, Belmont at Concord and Wakefield at Stoneham. Following is the standing of the teams as of today:

	won	lost	pts
Reading	5	0	10
Belmont	3	2	6
Winchester	2	1	4
Stoneham	2	2	4
Wakefield	1	3	2
Lexington	1	3	2
Concord	1	4	2

WINCHESTER CHAPTER, GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

Mrs. Hector Gai of West Newton, one of the most prominent women in Catholic action, who is well known for her interestinng and stimulating talks on current literature and the Catholic Press, gave a very educational report on several recent books at the attractive home of Mrs. William F. Hickey, 12 Edgehill road, on Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 17.

A delicious tea was served after the talk the pourers being Mrs. Martha E. Smith, Mrs. Morgan T. Ryan, president of the Boston Guild of the Infant Saviour and Mrs. James H. Carr.

Several members of the executive board of Boston were among the large number of members and friends present.

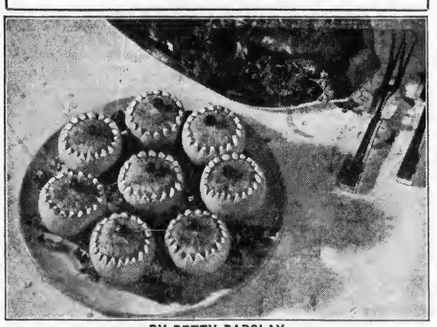

The next meeting of the Guild will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 23, at 2:30 p. m. at Lyceum Hall.

Mrs. C. S. Cole of this town will give a talk and demonstation on Cosmetics at this meeting.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. F. L. Poirier an informal Bridge will be held at Lyceum Hall on Tuesday, Jan. 30, at 2 p. m.

A Winter Treat – Baked Spiced Oranges

BY BETTY BARCLAY

What winter fruits lack in variety they more than make up for in universal appeal and availability. Everyone likes oranges and apples; everyone can have them as Nature is generous with these fruits which are packed with health as well as flavor.

There's no better way to serve apples or oranges than just as they come from the tree — or in juice form for oranges, but there are many ways of cooking them which will be different and delight the family. For instance, these large California Navel oranges which ripen just in time for the holidays and can be had all winter are grand when seasoned a hit and baked to serve hot with meat — especially with goose, duck, pork or ham.

Many variations in cooked oranges to accompany the meat course have been originated by Californians — perhaps because California Navels, seedless and firmer-meated than most varieties, usually grow to a larger size than other oranges and are therefore easier to work with.

For the Baked Spiced Oranges pictured, choose large or medium-sized fruit, one orange for every two persons. Cut oranges in halves. Loosen segments in each half with a sharp knife or scissors. Top each half with:

1 teaspoon brown sugar
½ teaspoon butter
Sprinkle of nutmeg and cinnamon

Bake in moderate oven (350°) for about 45 minutes or until well heated, and butter, sugar and spices have penetrated into the fruit. Serve as a meat accompaniment. Each orange half may be decorated with a cherry or a glazed cranberry. It is important that the oranges be hot when served.

If you don't have time to prepare these spiced oranges, why not try some broiled orange slices? Choose clean, unblemished fruit. Cut the whole, unpeeled fruit into slices ¼ inch thick. Marinate 30 minutes or more in Lemon French dressing, using ½ cup lemon juice, ½ cup salad oil and seasoning. Place about 3 inches under the flame and broil for 5 to 10 minutes until edges of orange slices are slightly browned. Serve hot.

Another recipe which is delicious is for baked oranges to be served hot with meat or cold in a salad or dessert.

4 Navel oranges
2 cups water
2 cups sugar
⅔ cup white corn syrup

Boil whole, unpeeled oranges for about 30 minutes or until tender. Cool. Cut into halves, quarters or ½ inch slices. Mix corn syrup, sugar and water together and cook 5 minutes. Pour this syrup over the cooked oranges which have been placed in baking dish. Cover closely and bake at moderate temperature (350°) for 1½ hours. If orange pieces are not completely covered by syrup, baste frequently. Remaining syrup may be served with oranges as a sauce.

For variation syrup may be colored red, may be flavored with spice or with maple syrup. The orange may be stuck with whole cloves before baking.

To keep for future use, seal while hot in sterilized jars.

For a salad, arrange [illegible] orange around a mound of cottage or cream cheese on bed of lettuce, accompany with any desired dressing.

For a dessert, brown a [illegible] on each quarter or slice or sprinkle with cocoanut.

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS

Started in 1917 with four small troops, the Girl Scouts today include 12 troops with 250 Scouts and six Brownie Packs with 109 Brownie members. The local Girl Scouts maintain a cabin on the Brooks Estate which is open to Scouts at all times. Under the guidance of a Director it is open three days a week in the summer as a day camp.

Commissioner—Mrs. Harold V. Farnsworth.

WINCHESTER BOY SCOUTS

According to the best records available, one or two official Boy Scout troops were functioning in Winchester just previous to the World War. Records show that two troops started in 1917 are still in existence. On Dec. 31, 1930 there were 94 boys enrolled as Scouts. On Dec. 31, 1938 the scout rolls had increased to 264 boys. Part of this gratifying increase has been due to the program to attract younger boys (Cubs) to Scouting.

The Fellsland Council, with headquarters in Winchester, is of tremendous help to the local troops.

The boys can enjoy the advantages of Camp Fellsland which is an excellent summer camp, as well as Camp Lane where there is a real Scout cabin available.

WINCHESTER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

Founded in 1899, this organization is active in doing social service work directly in the homes. Typical figures of one of the past years indicate that over 4000 calls are made a year to about 1000 patients, and that of this total number of calls, 700 are made without any charge on over 500 patients. The nurses' activity includes emergency and first aid calls, and availability in times of community disaster. They assist in minor house operations and Board of Health Clinics. They take care of prenatal and maternal cases, and handle the care of chronic patients. They supply free layettes, crutches, ice bags, to those that need them. While some of the patients pay nominal fees for the services of the Association, the expenses have always necessitated contributions from the generous citizens of the town.

President — Miss Adelaide Homer.

SUPPORT LOCAL INSTITUTIONS

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

The Winchester Hospital was founded in February, 1899.

It is not a public institution supported by town, state, or nation; nor is it a private hospital conducted for profit. The hospital's financial needs are determined by the money needed to supply 24 hour a day service to help people get well.

Since 1928—when a new addition was added—the hospital administration has been successful in maintaining a high level of equipment and personnel efficiency. Complete surgical, X-ray, laboratory, maternity, and dietetic facilities make it one of the outstanding 85 bed institutions to be found anywhere.

Ideally located, the hospital stands ready to serve the residents of Winchester at all times. The expert medical staff is supported by an efficient group of graduate nurses.

President—Henry E. Worcester.

HOME FOR AGED PEOPLE IN WINCHESTER

The corporation named "The Home for Aged People in Winchester" was established and started to function late in March of 1894.

The original Home was located at 2 Kendall street. In 1913 this building was rebuilt and enlarged so that more people could be cared for.

In 1923 the house at 110 Mt. Vernon street was purchased. Extensive alterations in 1925 provided for a sun parlor which served as a connection between the two buildings standing on adjoining lots. At this time also a central heating plant was installed, and other changes made, so that today the Home has facilities to take care of four times the number of people it did at its inception.

The purpose, as stated in the Corporation By-Laws, is "to furnish aid and comfort and a home for aged people."

The present matron is Mrs. Maud T. Wolloff.

MARY CUTTER BADMINTON WINNER

Mary Cutter, daughter of Mrs. Grace Cutter of Black Horse terrace, won the women's singles title in the annual Class B Championships of the Massachusetts Badminton Association, concluded last week-end on the courts of the University Club in Boston.

"Susie," as she is generally known in tennis circles where she is a former leading eastern junior player and ex-intercollegiate champion, was unseeded in the tourney, but breezed through the early rounds of play and disposed of Beverly Bridges in the quarter finals 11-12, 11-3, 11-3.

Against second ranked Louise Mueller of Framingham in the semi-finals, "Susie" won in straight sets, 11-5, 11-3, going on to the championship bracket were she met the top-ranking Mary Ingalls of Tedesco.

Very much on her game with the pressure on, "Susie" disposed of the the top-seeded favorite, again in straight sets, 11-2, 11-4, to bring the women's Class B crown to Winchester.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

"Let Us Be Gay," Rachel Crother's modern comedy, in which Francine Larrimore scored such a tremendous hit on Broadway, will be presented by Miss Nora Woodward, well known play reader, at the regular meeting on Monday. To those interested in dramatics or the world of the theatre, this is an important occasion, for Miss Woodward's presentation of this amusing play is well worth hearing.

The members of the Garden Group are planning a luncheon in Fortnightly Hall on Tuesday, Jan. 23, at 12:30. There will be an exhibit of bulbs or forced buds, a speaker on flower arrangement, and a question box. All Garden Group members desiring to make reservations for the luncheon, or exhibit bulbs or buds, should contact Ruth Carter, Anna Grosvenor, Anna Gleason or Eleanor Bancroft before Saturday, Jan. 20.

WINCHESTER EDGED CONCORD

Winchester High came back from its Woburn game defeat to edge a stubborn Concord High team in a Middlesex League game Tuesday afternoon at Concord, 22—21.

"Don" Waugh, local left forward, decided the issue, when with the score knotted, just before the final gun, he sank a shot from a free try.

The teams tied in floor goals but Winchester had the edge, four to three, in foul baskets. "Bill" McEwen led both clubs with 10 points for individual scoring honors, tossing in four goals from scrimmage and two from the foul line. Hutton with one less foul shot was Concord's high scorer.

Between the halves of the first team game the Winchester seconds nosed out the Concord seconds by the same score as that deciding the varsity game. The summary:

WINCHESTER TENNIS PLAYERS WIN N. E. RANKING

Winchester was well represented in the official rankings made public last week-end by the New England Lawn Tennis Association.

None of the town's senior performers won their way into the select ranks, but the youngsters of the town, particularly the girls, did well for themselves, both in the junior and younger girls' singles.

Lois Ladd, Frances Keyes and Priscilla Tapley, all members of last year's unbeaten girls' tennis team at Winchester High, ranked respectively five, six and seven in the first 14 juniors, headed by the redoubtable "Sissy" Madden. Helen Carroll, captain-elect of field hockey at high school and well known as a swimmer, ranked 10.

Polly Kimball, another member of the high school girls' team, and Dolly Greene, still another of this undefeated group, rank three and four in the first 15 younger girls, number one being little Norma Meister of Sharon. Mary Keyes, sister of the junior, Frances, ranks 13.

The only boy in Winchester to catch the eye of the ranking experts was Lane McGovern, high school junior, who is ranked six in the younger boys' class.

WINCHESTER LOST AT WOBURN

Winchester High's basketball team played a non-league game with Woburn High at Woburn last Friday evening, losing to the tanners 34—12, in a game that found the locals badly outclassed during the first half.

Woburn was playing its best ball of the season last Friday and this fact, plus the long narrow floor of the tanners' gym proved too big a handicap for the local boys who never seriously threatened, though they did put up a much better all around game against the Orange during the second half.

Woburn led at the quarter 9—3, and at the half had built this advantage to 20—4, the Winchester sharpshooters having apparently checked their eyes for the basket in the local locker-room after the Wakefield game.

After half time the locals stiffened, but still were a long way from a scoring spree in doubling their first half total while holding Woburn, with several second stringers in the line-up, to 14 points.

The third quarter was a fast, hard fought period, each team scoring five points and covering the other closely. The final quarter, however, found the Orange once more in the driver's seat, out shooting Winchester 9—3.

For the winners, Paul Doherty, center, was outstanding, scoring 14 points, all from scrimmage. Hutchinson, Cristaldi and Gaffney, each scored five. "Bill" McEwen, who enjoyed a field day against Wakefield, was held to three points by the close-guarding tanner defense. Marabella, also had three to tie McEwen for Winchester honors.

Between the halves of the varsity game the Winchester seconds won from the Woburn seconds, 17—11, with Peter Provinzano having seven points to lead both clubs.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

The 15th annual meeting of the Fellsland Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America was held at the Winchester Country Club on Thursday evening, Jan. 11, with some 75 Council members present.

Judge Frederick W. Fosdick, of the Superior Court of Massachusetts, and resident of West Medford, was the chief speaker of the evening. The meeting was called to order by President Robert H. Sibley of Winchester, and Fr. Leo E. Sullivan of St. Raphael's Church in West Medford gave the invocation.

The regular business meeting of the evening got under way with the various officers and executive board members making their reports, with only brief remarks and referring to their report, as published in the 33 page manual that was presented to every member present. This report was a very comprehensive study of the operation of the Council and its officers for the year 1939. The highlights of these reports were the net gain in Scouts for the fifth consecutive year, showing that during the year 1939 1569 boys participated in the program during the year, with a membership of 1035 as of Dec. 31, and a net gain in the financial structure, showing the net worth of the Council as being a little better than $9,000 with only indebtedness being a mortgage on the Camp for a little more than $2000.

After reading of the various reports the nominating committee presented the slate of officers for the year 1940 as follows: president, Robert H. Sibley of Winchester; vice presidents, William O. Jones and Dr. Paul A. Warren of Medford and Myron P. Peffers of Stoneham; Commissioner, Raymond A. Alden of West Medford; secretary, Lloyd W. Miller, Medford; and treasurer, Ralph W. Hatch of Winchester. The members-at-large were Prof. Crosby F. Baker, William F. Bennett, Jr., Lucius H. Groves, Reginald H. MacMinn, Robert W. Meserve, Harry C. O'Brien, Karl D. Seates, Charles L. Oxnard, Ralph A. Stevens of Medford; Maurice C. Bird, Frederick S. Hatch, Franklin J. Lane, R. H. B. Smith, Edwin C. Whittemore, W. Allan Wilde, of Winchester; William M. Cooke, Gustave W. Everberg, John C. Hodges, Eric B. Johnson, Harry A. Preble, C. Earl Sevrons of Woburn; Walter E. Fish, Jr., Vernon A. Harrington, Alexander C. Hayward, Thomas W. Shay, and Charles E. Varney of Stoneham.

Mr. Sibley was re-elected as president of the Council for the fifth consecutive year. It has been under his guidance over the past four years that the Boy Scout membership has increased from 643 to 1035, in addition to reducing the Camp mortgage from $5600 to $2000, as well as paying up all old bills.

During the supper hour and immediately following, community singing was led by Luther W. Child, Jr., accompanied by Herbert F. Gilman at the piano.

Just previous to the regular meeting Scouts Fenton Mitchell, Jr., Warren Dumas, Lester Haddock, Jr., and Waldo Chellis, Jr., all members of Troop 8, Medford, gave a number of interesting demonstrations and verbal descriptions of the Scout program. These were all under the direction of Scoutmaster Leslie P. Hinds.

Two special awards were made at the close of the regular business meeting, the first of these a Scoutmaster's Key, the last of which was presented in 1931, was presented to Field Commissioner Clarence L. Thompson of Medford by Scout Executive Edward W. Nelson. The second award, known as the Silver Beaver Award, of which there have been only four presented in the Council in the past, was presented to President Robert H. Sibley by a committee composed of the men who have previously received this highest award honor to be given by a local Scout Council. This award is made for special meritorious services in the promotion of the Scout program.

Judge Fosdick, in his address, commented the assembled group for their efforts in promoting the Scout program, thereby helping their respective communities prevent the number of delinquent boys. He stressed in particular the great need of our communities was to rectify the so-called problem boys in their teen years, and prevent the tremendous loss of money and morals of the communities through these boys who become problems to the community due to wrong environment or associates. He stated very definitely that during his entire experience on the Bench he had very few boys who were members of the Scout organization to appear before him. He also stated that a very secret ambition or hope on his part was that every boy could be a member of the Scout organization. He felt also that the newspapers and their editors could, and would play a tremendous part in directing the thinking of the general public in relation to delinquent children and many of the other types of crime that are rampant in our various communities. In closing he challenged the men assembled to continue their great work, and challenged them also to recruit a greater number of men of affairs to join them in their work.

The meeting was closed by all assembled reaffirming their pledge by giving the Scout Oath, under the leadership of Scout Executive Edward W. Nelson.

WEST SIDE HOME DAMAGED BY FIRE

The fire, which was in the sunporch, did considerable damage, burning the radio, several chairs, rugs, drapes and the piano as well as doing some smoke damage elsewhere in the house.

Two small lines of hose were laid by the firemen to fight the fire, the men working an hour before the all out was sounded. A short circuit in the radio is thought to have caused the trouble.

HARVARD CLUB OF EASTERN MIDDLESEX

Dr. William F. Boos, '94, eminent toxicologist, and author of "The Poison Trail," will address the Harvard Club of Eastern Middlesex at its dinner meeting on Jan. 24 at the Shaker Glen House in Woburn. Dinner will be at 7 p. m., with cocktails at 6:30.

The Harvard Club of Eastern Middlesex was organized three years ago for the purpose of providing Harvard men from Melrose, Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield, Winchester and Woburn to have an opportunity to meet together several times a year and at the same time to hear prominent men in the University discuss current problems of both University and general interest. The membership of the club at present includes approximately 45 and it is hoped that there will be a steady increase from now on, as over 500 men are eligible for membership in the above towns. If any Harvard man in Winchester has not received a notice of the meeting, the officers hope he will come without a special invitation.

TO PRACTICE HERE

Dr. Harry L. Benson is announcing this week the opening of his office at 63 Washington street, for the practice of surgery and medicine.

Dr. Benson is well known in this town, having been born here and having attended the grade schools and the Winchester High School. He is a member of the Church of the Epiphany where he sang in the choir for 17 years.

He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Boston University, College of Liberal Arts, and his Doctor of Medicine degree from Boston University School of Medicine in 1936. While at college he was a member of the Boston University Men's Glee Club and also of the College of Liberal Arts Chapel Choir. He is a member of Beta Chi Sigma fraternity. At the School of Medicine he assisted in organizing and was business manager of the Chanting Medicos Quartet.

After graduation from medical school, Dr. Benson served a one year rotating internship at the Union Hospital in Fall River. Following this he was an assistant to Dr. Samuel Brown of Fall River for a few months. Then he began a two year appointment in surgery at the Boston City Hospital successfully completing this work in November, 1939. While serving as a surgical house officer at the Boston City Hospital he took an active interest in the various activities of the hospital, and in the spring of 1938 held one of the leading roles in the annual Joy Fund performance "Chain Lightning."

Dr. Benson lives at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Benson, at 312 Washington street.

LEGION NOTES

The regular monthly meeting of Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, was held last evening at the Post Headquarters on Washington street. Commander Marshall W. Symmes presided.

Following the business session the interesting and absorbing movie called "Safari on Wheels," showing country covered and incidents during an African Exploration, was enjoyed. Light refreshments were served.

COMMITTEE OF SAFETY CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The January meeting of Committee of Safety Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held on Monday, Jan. 15 at the home of Miss Clara R. Russell, 36 Grayson road, with the regent, Mrs. J. Churchill Hindes, presiding. As this was the meeting at which contributions are made for the welfare work at Ellis Island, many of the members brought yarn, shirting and other materials to be forwarded.

During the business meeting contributions were voted for Hillside School in Marlborough and Crossnore School in the South, both approved D. A. R. schools, and also to State Headquarters and the Girl Home Makers Fund.

Mrs. Hindes and Mrs. Bryne were appointed delegate and alternate respectively to the Continental Congress in Washington in April and also to the State meeting in Boston in March. The following alternates were also appointed for the State meeting: Mrs. Edmund A. Merriam, Mrs. Reginald F. Cahalane, Mrs. Harry T. Jackson and Miss Clara R. Russell.

Mrs. Irving R. Merriam of Dorchester, State Historian, was the guest of the chapter and the speaker of the afternoon, who spoke on "Historical Research." Mrs. Merriam gave a very clear picture of the work the society does in searching for and marking historic spots, and stated that 1400 graves of Revolutionary soldiers had been marked in Massachusetts. She also described in detail the new document room in Washington and stated that 50 old documents have been given her this year, and described several of the oldest. One of the most interesting was an "accompt" of Experience Ingersol of Charlestown, who on the day of the Battle of Bunker Hill had just put her baking in the oven when her house was set afire by a cannon, and this account sets forth the things she lost by reason of the "damage of King George the Third."

At the close of Mrs. Merriam's talk refreshments were served by Mrs. William A. Purdy, Mrs. T. W. Harris, and Mrs. Archibald C. Jordan.

TAMPER-PROOF GAS TANKS—your ignition key locks the gas tank door in the fender, prevents gasoline loss through pilferage. Standard equipment at no extra cost.

So why wait to get your Buick? Prices are low now—lower than on some sixes—and delivery is prompt. Your dealer has a full line to show, too, and your old car's worth more now than it will be later.

How about some action? Time's a-wasting, there's fun to be had—and there's a Buick waiting to hang your license plates on!

Not a six but an EIGHT for $895 and up delivered at Flint, Mich. Transportation based on rail rates, taxes and local rates, (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

The City of London

England's capital city of London, unlike most other great cities of the world, has no centralized government. The metropolis is divided into several areas, oldest of which is the city of London, ruled by the city corporation, a municipal body which clings to ancient customs and traditions. Although the city of London is but a small area some of England's greatest commercial institutions are located there.

CAPITOL THEATRE FEATURES NEW RETIRING ROOMS

Movie going patrons of the Capitol Theatre, Arlington, are discovering that the newly redecorated men's and ladies' retiring rooms are the latest word in comfort and taste.
Standard Theatres Supply Co., decorators for most of New Englands most modern theatres, have just completed their redecorations of the retiring rooms at the Capitol. Some of the features of the retiring rooms include walls that are done in gold damask on the walls, new indirect lighting and new ventilating systems.
Manager Parker states that this is just another feature in his renovations program with which he hopes to make the Capitol Theatre, Arlington favorite movie houses.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Cora Anthony
Director of A. & P. Kitchen

Eggs continue to be the outstanding market value in the food field. Plentiful, of excellent quality and low in price, the housewife will find them a real bargain. Most families enjoy omelets, souffles and the many egg dishes which are suitable for luncheon and dinner service as well as the wide range of desserts and cakes which eggs alone make possible.
Butter is again higher. Fish and sea.d of all kinds are less plentiful due to cold and poor fishing weather. Meats are generally very moderate in price and poultry continue low.
Apples and the citrus fruits are abundant and inexpensive. Bananas too, are a good winter fruit to use freely. Ample supplies of fine quality vegetables are available at reasonable cost..

That Luscious Lima Bean

By BETTY BARCLAY

We force ourselves to eat many foods because we are told they contain some vitamin or mineral we need. So far as Lima beans are concerned, we eat them because we like them — a mighty good reason for eating any food. Check the orders in your favorite restaurant when Limas are listed with the vegetables, and see how consistently they are ordered.
Yet that luscious Lima bean is far more than an enjoyable food. It tops the list of alkaline-reaction foods that are needed to offset acidity. It contains more calcium than lean beef or eggs; more phosphorus than milk or lean beef; more sulphur than milk or potatoes; and more iron than any of these other foods. It's an excellent source of those minerals so necessary to perfect health.
Now that cooked dried Limas are available anywhere in cans and not nutritious dishes are particularly delectable to protect the body from cold, the following recipes for Baked Limas with Marshmallows (see illustration) and Lima Chowder are presented to you as tasty treats for nineteen forty:

Baked Limas with Marshmallows

2 cups cooked dried Limas
½ teaspoon salt
1½ tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ cup hot water
3 strips bacon
3 to 6 marshmallows

Put Limas in a buttered casserole dish, adding water and stirring in salt, butter and brown sugar. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) for about 20 minutes (until thoroughly heated). Then place bacon strips over top, dot with marshmallows and place under broiler flame until toasted a golden brown.

Lima Chowder

2 cups cooked Limas
2 cups diced potatoes
2 slices fat salt pork
1 small onion, sliced
1 cup boiling water
4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
3 cups hot milk
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Cut salt pork into dice. Place in a saucepan and cook 5 minutes; add onion and cook until just turning yellow, then add potatoes and boiling water. Cook until potatoes are tender, then add Limas. Melt butter, add flour, stir until smooth, then add hot milk; cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened, then add Lima mixture and seasonings.

Foxglove a Powerful Poison

Foxglove is not native to the United States, but is brought from Europe as a garden plant and often escapes to grow wild over sunny hills and along roads, says a writer in the Washington Post. Its tall stalk of bell-like flowers has earned it many vivid names, such as "bloody fingers," "dead man's bells" and "fairies' thimbles." Though its digitalis has kept alive many a person with heart disease, it is also a powerful poison. When a patient gets an overdose, everything he sees looks blue. Properly administered, however, the drug regulates circulation of the blood.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS A MINISTER IN IRELAND

Rev. W. H. Townley-Tilson Father of Winchester Man

Rev. W. H. Townley-Tilson, father of Mr. Dermot Townley-Tilson of this town, was recently honored upon the completion of 25 years as minister of Grey Abbey, the Non-Subscribing Presbyterian Church (Unitarian) at Grey Abbey in Northern Ireland. Congregations of Grey Abbey and Newtownards held a special anniversary service in the church on Sunday afternoon, at which Rev. Mr. Townley-Tilson was the subject of a special congratulatory address and the recipient of a substantial check. Mrs. Townley-Tilson was presented with a handsome mahogany bureau. So large was the congregation at the service that extra seats had to be placed in the aisles.

In presenting Rev. Mr. Townley-Tilson with his check Mr. William M'Millan of the Newtownards congregation paid high tribute to the minister as a friend, guide and spiritual helpmeet to young and old, whether in sickness or in health, and as a preacher of the gospel, ably expounding the doctrine of the spread of the Kingdom of God on Earth. In conclusion he expressed the belief that the congregations of Newtownards and Grey Abbey have been blessed in their pastor, adding the hope that Rev. and Mrs. Townley-Tilson would long be spared to continue their ministerial labors.

Replying, Rev. Mr. Townley-Tilson expressed his own and his wife's heartfelt thanks and appreciation of the honor shown them, praising his parishioners' loyalty, sympatny and affection which had, he said, made his work among them a pleasure. The fact that the members of his congregations looked upon him as a friend, guide and spiritual helpmeet, was, he felt, a sufficient reward, and in his opinion, the highest compliment which could be paid him.

Pastors of several neighboring churches brought greetings to the service, adding their tributes to Mr. Townley-Tilson and their appreciation of his ministry at Abbey Church.

CONCERT BENEFITTED NEW HOPE CHURCH

Before an enthusiastic audience of good size last evening in the town hall the Greater Boston Male Chorus, under the direction of Dorothy Richardson, presented a program of standard sacred and secular selections, devotionals and spirituals, including: Bach, "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee;" Handel, "Hallelujah, Amen," (from Judas Maccabeus); Schubert, "Who is Sylvia;" Dowland, "Come, Come Again;" Palmgren, "Summer Evening;" and Baldwin, "Lift Thine Eyes." Devotionals included "In Joseph's Garden," "Leaning on the Everlasting Arm," "Rise and Shine," "Sinner Please Doan Let Dis Harvest Pass," and "Good Night, Sweet Jesus." Spirituals were "I Know De Lord Has Laid His Hand on Me," "My Lord, What A Mawnin'," "My Lord's A Riding All the Time," "Roll Jordan, Roll," and "Good News, Chariot's Comin'."

Elwyn Barrow was the accompanist and added pleasure to the program with selected piano numbers. Miss Richardson, the director, also contributed several very pleasing contralto solos. Her numbers included Coleridge-Taylor's "She Rested by the Broken Brook," the traditional spiritual, "Bye and Bye;" and "Do Not Go, My Love," by Hagaman. With the chorus she was heard in the devotional, "Good Night, Sweet Jesus."

The chorus gave the finished performance one would expect from a group which for three consecutive years has won first prize in the International Music Festival at Symphony Hall. The rich quality of the negro voice was most apparent in their tone while their attacks and responsiveness to their leaders demands marked the chorus as well trained and musically intelligent.

The program presented was sufficiently varied to be generally interesting and the chorus showed its versatility in the manner in which its members adapted themselves to the types of music presented. While their performance of the spirituals was especially noteworthy their singing of the numbers by Bach, Handel, and Schubert was also pleasing and well done.

Recalled after the devotional group the chorus added a vocal arrangement of "Finlandia," by Sibelius. Encores after the final number were the spiritual "Shine on Me," concluded in the wings of the stage; and the beautiful "Lullaby," by Brahms.

The concert was given by the New Hope Baptist Church for the benefit of its mortgage fund.

Members of the committee in charge of arrangements included Mrs. Maude Crowell, chairman; Mrs. Verna Canada, Mrs. Edna Hunt, Mrs. Etta Dodson, Miss Mary Wimbush, Miss Ovida Kimbro, Miss Esther Kirby, Miss Lucy Kirby, Mr. Hezikiah Griffith, Mr. T. Thomas, Mr. Howard Kirby, Mr. Clement Barksdale and Rev. William H. Smith.

1940 COMMUNITY FUND

Winchester Organization

The end of the fourth day of the Greater Boston Community Fund finds the Winchester organization well under way with a large and enthusiastic group of workers reporting good progress.

James Nowell, Winchester Chairman for the Fund wishes to impress upon the workers and also the Winchester public that the absolute closing date for the drive this year will be Feb. 6. There will be no clean-up campaign following this date; therefore all solicitations must be done as early as possible.

He also points out that if the Winchester quota be reached this year all contributors must give at least as much this year as they gave in both drives last year. Even $1 less from each family would mean several thousand dollars under the quota.

Since there is to be but one drive this year it is essential that this present drive go over the top. The whole quota of the campaign must be raised if Winchester agencies are to receive the full amount of their minimum requirements.

WINCHESTER'S WATER

The Town is very fortunate in having had the additional water supply to take care of its needs during the very dry summer of 1939. The use of water has had to be limited in many places, including New York City, but not in Winchester. Many wells throughout the New England States have gone dry and people have been put to a great deal of inconvenience.

The emergency for our Town appears to have passed, as the reservoirs are beginning to fill and the amount drawn from the wells is being gradually reduced.

Our Water Board was very farsighted in procuring this well water supply for emergency purposes only, while there was still plenty of water to be had from our reservoirs. The careful records kept by the Department and checked by Water Works engineers and the State Department of Health indicated very plainly that we had reached our maximum safe yield in dry weather some time ago, but the excessive rain during the last few years has kept the reservoirs full. This water from the emergency supply is hard, but it is hoped that when the ground refills the water will be softer. If this does not materialize, careful consideration will be given to softening the water, which can be done at a nominal expense. The only objection to the new supply is the hardness of the water. The color is very clear and when seen in a porcelain bathtub or sink often looks blue. The State Department of Health has made many examinations and always report that the water is safe for drinking.

Just at present, the water from the reservoirs in some parts of the town has a disagreeable taste. This is caused by algae in the South Reservoir and, it is hoped, will clear up soon. The condition cannot be treated now on account of the ice.

Many wild rumors are floating around about the quality of the water. The Water Board can assure the citizens that the water is perfectly safe for drinking and that everything possible is being done to improve the taste. The Board is in consultation with the best Water Works authorities in the State.

These meetings will be held on Tuesday mornings through Feb. 13.

HEARING HELD ON PROPOSED CHANGE IN WINCHESTER'S REPRESENTATIVE DISTRICT

The joining of Ward 1 in Woburn to Winchester, to constitute a new 29th Middlesex County Representative District in the General Court was proposed Monday afternoon at the hearing before the special commission created by the Legislature under Chapter 467 of the Acts of 1939 for the purpose of redistricting the various representative districts of the Commonwealth.

The hearing was held at the courthouse in East Cambridge before the Special Commission for Middlesex County, comprising Nathaniel I. Bowditch of Framingham, chairman, a member of the County Commissioners; Miss Anna Tillinghast of Cambridge, Miss Mary A. Brennan of Malden, Irving H. Chadwick of Lowell and Jeremiah J. Healey of Natick.

The law requires the redistricting of representative districts every 10 years. Middlesex County was last districted in 1926, and at the present time has 52 representative districts, the largest number of any County in the State. Under the new law the county will gain two representative districts, making the new total 54, commencing with the State Election next November. The commission has ruled that the population and the number of voters as of the State census taken in 1935 shall be the basis for the new redistricting. In order to keep the districts even it has been decided to elect a representative, so far as possible, for every 7658 voters.

So far as the 29th Middlesex District (Winchester) is concerned there were in town, in 1935, 6859 voters, or 799 short of the requisite number for a separate district. The commission proposes to add to the Winchester District, Ward 1 of Woburn, having 1441 voters in 1935. The aggregate number of voters would then equal 8303.

The figure, 7658 voters, taken as the necessary number for a separate district, is arrived at by dividing the total number of voters in the county in 1935 by 54, the number of districts now allotted the county by the commission.

Adding Ward 1, the South End Ward, of Woburn to Winchester raises the question of political lines. Winchester is strongly Republican and has been for years. Woburn has been just as strongly Democratic and the South End of Woburn, or Ward 1, preponderantly so. In the 1938 election of Governor, Winchester cast 4838 Republican ballots and 1635 Democratic. Ward 1 of Woburn cast 280 Republican ballots and 1063 Democratic.

The addition of Ward 1 to Winchester will not materially affect the party tendencies of the town, for the addition of Ward 1 Republican votes would have given Winchester 5118 G. O. P. ballots cast in 1938 to 2698 Democratic, the latter being the total of the Democratic votes cast here and in Ward 1 in that year.

Woburn, however, does not take at all kindly to the proposed change and had several representatives of both the Democratic and Republican City Committees at Monday's hearing. All opposed the proposed redistricting, removing Ward 1 from the voting ranks of the tanning city.

Winchester's representative, William E. Ramsdell, also attended the hearing and concurred with the views expressed by the Woburn citizens. He made it clear that he did not speak for the entire town, since he had not had sufficient time to judge the sentiment of anything like a majority of the voters. He received his first notice of the hearing on the Friday afternoon preceding the hearing, too late to give the matter anything like effective publicity. Insofar as his own opinion went, Representative Ramsdell felt that the 29th Middlesex District should remain as it is.

The change is of course only proposed at this time and quite probably further hearings will be held before any definite action is taken by the commission. Any one interested, and it would seem the entire town should be vitally so, should express their views at once to the Special Commission for Middlesex County Redistricting at the County Commissioners' office.

WINCHESTER SALESMAN JOINS ARLINGTON AUTOMOBILE FIRM

Mr. Harry David Bean of 2 Elmwood avenue, well known to local motorists through his association during the past four and one-half years with John H. Bates in Woburn, has joined the sales force of the Arlington Center Motor Company at 440 Massachusetts avenue, Chevrolet dealers.

Mr. Bean will have local territory including Winchester, and having a wide acquaintance with Winchester motorists and their preferences, will be able to afford them the best of service. Aside from his automobile activity, Mr. Bean conducts an insurance business at 33 Thompson street. He is actively identified with the Winchester Ski Club and among the town's most enthusiastic soft-ballers.

CONRAD SEXTON LARSON

Conrad Sexton Larson, widely known in Middlesex County Legion circles and past commander of Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, died suddenly Friday night, Jan. 19, at his home, 4 Maxwell road. His death was caused by an acute attack of heart disease and was wholly unexpected, he having been in his usual good health during the day. In the afternoon he attended a sales meeting of the George H. Wahn Company, wholesale electrical supply dealers, of 101 High street, Boston, with which firm he was associated, the meeting being followed by a dinner at the University Club.

He complained of feeling ill at the dinner and was driven to his home where he was attended by a physician who left him resting comfortably and in no apparent danger. Shortly afterward he became acutely ill and died before further medical assistance could be given him. His death came as a severe shock to his family and many friends. Flags on the common and public buildings were displayed at half-staff in his honor.

Mr. Larson was born Nov. 25, 1899 in Everett, the son of Carl, and the late Ida M. (Gustafson) Larson. He came as a young boy to Winchester and received his education in the Winchester schools, having been a member of the Class of 1918 at Winchester High School.

During the World War he served in the aviation branch of the United States Army, and following his discharge entered the electrical supply business, being associated with Wermore Savage, R. V. Pettingell and for the past 12 years, with George H. Wahn as a salesman.

Mr. Larson was vitally interested in the American Legion and had long been active in the affairs of Winchester Post, 97, serving as adjutant, finance officer, vice commander and finally as commander in 1938-39. As commander he led the town's first morning observance of Memorial Day. Few members have surpassed the service he rendered the post as an officer, individual and committee member. He was a former member of Winchester Lodge of Elks.

On Feb. 21, 1923, Mr. Larson married Mabel Gray of Winchester, who survives him, with a son, Conrad S. Larson, Jr., a pupil at Winchester High School. His father also survives with two sisters, Mrs. Carl Sylvan of Everett and Miss Evelyn Larson of Winchester; and five brothers, Carl of Woburn; and Harold, Frederick, Bernhard and Ralph Larson, all of this town.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon, full military honors being accorded by Winchester Post A. L., under Comdr. Marshall W. Symmes. Legionnaires with their colors and color guard escorted the body from the chapel of Saville & Kimball on Church street to the Church of the Epiphany where the Episcopal funeral service was read by the rector, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley. Eleven former Commanders of Winchester Post served as honorary bearers, they being Kingman P. Cass, Kenneth S. Hall, Stafford Rogers, Vincent P. Clarke, Nathin Thumim, Richard Parkhurst, Wade L. Grindle, W. Allan Wilde, John H. McCarthy, Otis Alley and Arthur S. Harris. The deceased was the first past commander of Winchester Post to die and also the youngest member of the post.

At the grave in Wildwood Cemetery a brief Legion service was held with Commander Symmes and the Post Chaplain, Vincent P. Clarke, officiating. Three volleys were fired and taps blown by a firing squad and bugler from Fort Banks.

INJURED AS TRUCK HIT CAR

George F. Osborne of Clematis street, well known building contractor, was taken to the Winchester Hospital yesterday morning by Patrolmen John H. Boyle and D. Irving Reardon and treated for injuries to his neck and back sustained when the automobile which he was driving on Main street near the center was in collision with a G. M. C. truck, registered to Wings Express Inc., of 266 River street, Haverhill, and driven by John E. Robinson. According to the Police the truck was headed south on Main street and when near the Esso Station skidded as the driver applied his brakes, striking the rear of Mr. Osborne's Chrysler sedan which was stopped waiting for the traffic lights to change. The sedan was pushed aeross the street and damaged so that it had to be towed away. The front of the truck was slightly damaged.

CONTESTS LOOM ON THIS YEAR'S BALLOT

Nomination papers placed in circulation since last week's issue of the Star guarantee one of the liveliest elections in March that Winchester has experienced for several years. In addition to the contests more or less generally expected each year candidates are coming forward for posts which more often than not go uncontested.

There still is officially no contest for School Committee, though another candidate has taken out papers this week in the person of Geoffrey C. Neiley of Yale street, a former member of the Board, who after a year's absence, has decided to seek election again.

George B. Hayward, veteran moderator, is to have competition this year, Raymond S. Wilkins of Cabot street, former chairman of both the Finance Committee and Board of Selectmen, having announced his candidacy. Despite rumors prevalent that he is not in the running this year, Moderator Hayward announced the Star yesterday morning that he will positively be a candidate for re-election.

The three candidates already in the Assessors' field was increased this week by the addition of Marshall R. Pihl of Mystic Valley Parkway, an attorney who is chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Massachusetts Conveyancers' Association.

Charles H. Gallahger of Canal street, treasurer of the Winchester Taxpayers' Association, has taken out papers for the two year term as trustee of the Town Library, for which Clinton E. Farnham of Wolcott road has already announced his candidacy.

Dr. J. Harper Blaisdell, chairman of the Board of Health, seeking reelection, is another meeting competition this year in the candidacy of Dr. Robert L. Emery, a well known local practitioner who is actively identified with the Winchester Lions Club.

Frederick LaTorella of Irving street has joined the five candidates already in the race for the two vacancies on the Board of Selectmen.

Following is the complete list of candidates to date:

Assessor—John F. Cassidy, Edward G. MacDonald, Patrick T. Foley, Marshall R. Pihl.

Board of Health—J. Harper Blaisdell, M. D., Robert L. Emery, M. D.

Board of Public Welfare—Earle E. Andrews, William T. Mulcahy.

Cemetery Commissioners—Alfred H. Marchant.

Commissioner of Trust Funds—James W. Russell.

Moderator—George B. Hayward, Raymond S. Wilkins.

Park Commissioner—William S. Packer.

Planning Board—Arthur W. Dean.

Selectmen—Philip H. Gallagher, Marshall W. Symmes, Stafford Rogers, William J. Croughwell, Ben R. Schneider, Frederick LaTorella.

School Committee—Rachel T. Kimball, Geoffrey C. Neiley.

Trustees of Town Library—Edgar J. Rich, M. Walker Jones (3 years), Clinton L. Farnham (2 years to fill vacancy), Charles H. Gallagher, (2 years to fill vacancy).

Water and Sewer Board—Edmund C. Sanderson and John J. Doherty.

POLICE ESTABLISH DONOR'S LIST FOR BLOOD TRANSFUSIONS

The members of the Winchester Police Department have established for the benefit of the community a donor's list for blood transfusions which because of the availability of the average police officer should prove very valuable in times of emergency. Winchester Post, A. L., has had such a list for some time and its donors have been called upon in several cases when transfusions have been necessary.

The advantage of the Police donor's list is, as stated above, in the availability of the donors. Police officers are subject to call 24 hours a day though they are seldom called upon to serve during all of that time. In the event an officer happened to be out-of-town on his "day off," others would always be available for transfusions.

Already a number of the officers have been typed and others will do so as soon as possible. The men are establishing the donor's list as a community service, feeling they are particularly adapted for such aid to the town. Many officers have given blood in emergencies, but more or less on the spur of the moment, as the occasion arose. Now a list of the various types of blood will be available at Headquarters and any one in need of a donor can call Win. 1220 for quick action.

All the members of the Police Department have passed the tests given by Captain Hanson of the Red Cross and are certified as qualified to administer first aid.

THE ROBBINS ARE HERE

Word from Southern States reports that robbins, usually in warmer climate during this season of the year, are returning north This is said to be due to the exceptional cold in the previously warm regions. Here in Winchester a group of no less than 12 robbins have been spending the winter on the Blank estate on Highland avenue. They have been noted by many people. Evidently these birds knew their cold weather. Recent letters from Winchester people in the South remark upon their neglect in omitting to take their fur coats—and in one instance their heating plant also.

Feb. 16, Friday, 11 a. m. Meeting of the Architecture Study Group at the Museum of Fine Arts American Rooms with Mrs. Sigward.

WINTON CLUB CABARET

The Winton Club's annual Cabaret, "1940 American Follies" will move to the Town Hall next week after two weeks of strenuous rehearsing at the Winchester Country Club. These few short weeks while the show is in rehearsal are the completion of months of planning by Mrs. Harold F. Meyer and her committee, who have been busy since early last spring attending to the hundreds of details that must be worked out before the actual rehearsing begins. But by now, dance routines are learned by heart; songs and comedy skits are well under way, and a hundred fresh bright costumes are hanging on racks awaiting the thrilling night of Feb. 1, when the Pre-vue performance will take place.

The demand for table reservations has exceeded the expectations of even the most optimistic, and the Saturday night performance was sold out a week ago. There remain a few tables for Friday night, however, and those who do not want to miss one of the gayest parties of the year should make immediate reservations.

"Everything Starts with Rhythm," and that is the title of the first number, a peppy tap dance which includes several "tappers" who have been popular in recent shows. A male chorus, of some 25 voices, promises to be a hit number, for they are to sing some favorite college songs we all know and love. Another act is a dashing tango danced by a group of young people who will look very handsome in their South American costumes.

The comedy element is not lacking, for several popular favorites, along with some new stars, will appear on the program, while some fine singing voices will take the lead in several numbers.

Everyone looks forward to the drill, without which no Winton Club show would be a success, and this smart drill will be led on the floor by a beautiful drum majorette. The costumes are red, white and blue and the music is a medley of favorite American marches; all of which should be a fitting finale to what promises to be the best show ever.

There is always much entertaining on both nights, for this event is the highlight of all social activity in Winchester and there are to be many dinner parties. The Winchester Country Club is to serve special dinners on the Cabaret nights and many groups are planning to dine there before going on to the Town Hall. Reservations are necessary, of course.

DR. NORTON ADDRESSED ORTHOPEDIC SOCIETY

Dr. Mathew V. Norton of Oxford street addressed the American Orthopedic Society on Monday at the annual convention of the organization at the Carney Hospital in Boston.

Dr. Norton, who has made his home in Winchester for the past two years, is president of the Massachusetts Examining Physicians' Society and also medical advisor to the Industrial Accident Board of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

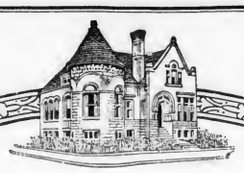

Graduated from Tufts Medical School in 1929, Dr. Norton served on the staff of the Hospital for Ruptured and Cripples in New York, is on the staff of the St. Elizabeth, Carney and Winchester Hospitals, and also that of the Lakeville Sanatorium.

YOUNG MEN'S BUSINESS CLUB ELECTS

Winchester Men Among Officers Chosen

Clifford P. Macdonald of Kenwin road served as organizer and presided at the first meeting of the Young Men's Business Club of Boston, held last Friday evening, Jan. 19, at the Boston Chamber of Commerce. Officers were elected as follows:

President—G. Raymond Drew, New England Tel. & Tel. Co.

Vice President in charge of activities—Robert Sibley, United Shoe Machinery Co.

Secretary—Clifford P. Macdonald, Boston Chamber of Commerce

Treasurer—Duncan Edmunds, Wild Stevens Co.

Advisor—Karl Lipsohn, Boston Chamber of Commerce

President G. Raymond Drew of Arlington Heights is a graduate of the Suffolk University Law School, Class of 1939, and Advisor Karl Lipsohn, is secretary of the Junior Executive Club of Boston.

Clifford P. Macdonald is a graduate of Winchester High School, Class of 1936, and Robert Sibley also lives in Winchester.

Various other companies, including Patterson, Wylde & Windeler, American Optical and Cyrus Brewer Company, were represented as this new organization for young men of Boston got under way.

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

The second meeting of the evening study group was held on Monday evening, Jan. 22, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl, 30 Mystic Valley Parkway, and if the number of members attending can be the criterion, it was even more successful than the first meeting. The discussion of "The Low Cost Housing Problem and its Solution" was ably conducted by Mr. Charles E. Greene and Mr. John Ely Burchard, guest speaker.

By charts and statistics Mr. Burchard showed the percentage of families in the country at various income levels and the shocking fact that 60 per cent live on an annual income of $1200 or less. From that basis he showed how important it is for adequate housing to be provided for low income families.

Mr. Greene spoke briefly of the various solutions used by European countries, Scandinavia, England, Germany, France and Austria and Mr. Burchard described progress made in the United States by semi-private agencies and local housing authorities working under the USHA. A question period followed the discussion.

The next meeting will be held on Feb. 5 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore C. Brown, 37 Calumet road, and the subject of the evening will be "High Lights of the Bright Lights of Broadway."

MRS. EDWARD O. HATCH

Mrs. Harriet D. Hatch, widow of the late Edward O. Hatch and for many years a resident of Fairview terrace, this town, died on Saturday at 90 Boston avenue, West Medford. She was the mother of Miss Grace E. Hatch, with whom she made her home. The funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at John Bryant's Sons funeral home, Somerville. Rev. Mr. Smith of the West Medford Congregational Church officiating. The interment was in the family lot in Woodlawn Cemetery.

BOOK REVIEW GROUP

The Book Review Group of the First Congregational Church will meet in the Ladies' Parlor at 2 p. m. on Tuesday, Jan. 30, to hear about the river books of America, as presented by Mrs. George Nardin with assistance from Mrs. Frederick Hatch.

On Feb. 27, Dr. Chidley will tell about "The Nazarene" by Sholem Asch, with the life and customs of Palestine and a brief account of the present situation. On April 2, Mrs. Bertram Albro will review the autobiography of William Lyon Phelps.

RECEPTION AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

More than 200 people attended the reception to members and friends of the First Baptist Church of Winchester last Friday night, Jan. 19.

This was a social event under the auspices of all departments of the church. Music was furnished by the vested choir following which the pastor, Rev. R. Mitchell Rushton, in a few well chosen words, gave a brief review of the past decade in the church and reported encouraging advances in every line.

He then introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Herbert Gezork of Andover, who thrilled his hearers with a stirring address on the "Inside Story of Germany."

Dr. Gezork, at one time pastor of the First Baptist Church of Berlin, Germany, is at present, professor of sociology at Andover Newton Institute and Wellesley College, and incidentally, will be one of the speakers at the Lenten services in Winchester.

In these troubled times, when all eyes are turning to the church for a deep inner calm to steady the minds and hearts of its people, it is most satisfying to be able to listen to speakers of such sincerity as Dr. Gezork.

Many friends waited during the social hour that followed the lecture, to be presented to Dr. Gezork and Reverend and Mrs. Rushton.

Refreshments were served and a trio furnished music throughout the evening.

WINCHESTER CHAPTER GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

A large number of members attended the meeting held on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. C. S. Cole gave a very interesting talk and demonstration in "Cosmetics."

A large attendance of members and friends is expected at the informal Bridge to be held on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 30 at Lyceum Hall.

This Bridge party is to be a social get-together, and is under the chairmanship of Mrs. F. L. Poirier, assisted by the following committee: Mrs. R. H. Cavanaugh, Mrs. J. J. Costello, Mrs. F. S. Evans, Mrs. C. A. Farrar, Mrs. J. B. Felt, Mrs. J. J. Gorman, Mrs. H. F. Graves, Mrs. C. H. Hintlian, Mrs. T. J. McDonough and Mrs. M. J. Quinn.

An attendance prize, together with a separate prize for each table, are but two of the many attractive and useful gifts to be awarded.

Mrs. M. H. Hintlian, 115 Church street, is in charge of reservations.

ATTENDED SESSIONS OF THE GENERAL FEDERATION BOARD

Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Eleanor Hudson Welch, chairman of the division of preservation of antiques in the General Federation of Women's Clubs, spent last week at the Hotel Mayflower, Washington, D. C.

They attended daily sessions of the board meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which is said to be the largest woman's organization in the world, with a membership of more than two million women living in all parts of the world.

Mrs. Roosevelt invited the entire Board to tea and a reception at the White House, Wednesday afternoon. All session of the Board meeting were held at the Hotel Mayflower, including the annual reception to which 1000 persons were invited, including the members of Congress and others high in social and official circles in Washington.

J. Edgar Hoover invited the board members to make a tour of the Federal Bureau of Investigation Friday afternoon, and Saturday morning Mrs. Roosevelt was the speaker at a meeting held at the White House.

DANCE AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

Old Timers Night at the Unitarian Church last Friday evening, Jan. 19, was a gay affair. Under the direction of Miss Marjorie Bradford, Metcalf Hall was beautifully decorated with rainbow lined flowers, while a race horse was outlined against the backdrop of the stage in ribbons won by that horse.

McGees Orchestra gave fine music for dancing with many old familiar tunes woven into their waltzes, polkas and Virginia reels. Many were in costume and after the grand march, led by Mr. and Mrs. William B. Wood, the costume award was given to Mrs. Wood and Mr. Kenneth Pratt.

Delicious refreshments were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Clark W. Collins and Mrs. A. Allen Kimball.

The dancing classes in preparation for this event were so successful that they are to be continued and the next one will be in Metcalf Hall on Wednesday evening, Jan. 31.

CAR ABANDONED AFTER ACCIDENT

Last Saturday morning shortly after 1:30, while on patrol duty Officers John Hanlon and Clarence Dunbury came upon an Oldsmobile sedan, smashed against a pole at the Winchester side of the Arlington line on Cambridge street opposite the Langley driveway. The right side of the car was badly damaged.

Investigation disclosed the car to be the property of William Holt of 28 Hale street, Newton Upper Falls. Mr. Hale told the police he had loaned the car to a friend the night of the accident, and the authorities requested him to have the operator report at local headquarters at once. The police found little apparent damage done the pole.

BARN BURNED

A barn owned by Mr. Joseph W. Perry of 727 Washington street was completely destroyed by fire last Sunday night. The fire was discovered at 10:10 and an alarm was sounded from Box 33, calling the apparatus to the scene. The flames, however, had made too great headway to permit the firemen to save the building, of which only a few sticks remained when the "all out" was sounded.

Besides this fire the department answered another alarm Saturday morning at 11:33 for a chimney fire at the home of Mr. George Byford, 195 Highland avenue. This proved inconsequential and did little or no damage.

Monday afternoon at 4:10 the Fire Department was called to the residence of Mr. Francis R. Mullin, 336 Main street. The men found the cellar full of smoke from a burned out belt in a refrieerator compressor.

TUFTS DEAN VISITED WINCHESTER HIGH

Dean Nils Wessell of Tufts College School of Liberal Arts, who is also director of admissions for that college visited Winchester High School Tuesday afternoon as the guest of Mr. Dana Cotton of the high school faculty.

Dean Wessell, who replaced the veteran Dean Frank G. Wren at Tufts, is intensely interested in the problem of student guidance and the purpose of his visit to Winchester was to study at first hand the work that Winchester High School and Mr. Cotton are doing in that pioneer field.

STOLEN CAR FOUND IN WINCHESTER

Early last Friday morning shortly after midnight the police were called to High street extension to investigate a car apparently abandoned there.

Upon arrival they found a Ford sedan, off the roadway, resting on a large boulder about 75 feet west of Ridge street on High street extension. The machine was registered to William Thayer of 115 North street, Somerville, and investigation disclosed that it was stolen in that city Jan. 18. The Somerville Police were notified.

ART ASSOCIATION TO SHOW AMERICAN MODERNS

Opening on Sunday, Feb. 4, with the customary tea for members, the Winchester Art Association will offer to the local public in the galleries of the public library an exhibition of modern American painting. The exhibition will, as usual, be on display for one month.

In America, a lively group of painters has sprung up pursuing American genre. Folk-ways have been a preoccupation of important American painting from the outset so this is in itself no new thing. Nor perhaps is the return to somewhat deliberate primitivism by such painters as Grant Wood. Perhaps the chief schism between the modern American painter and the academy lies in the sociological concern which appears almost everywhere.

This sociological concern has long been experienced in Europe. Van Gogh felt it. So did Seurat and Toulouse-Lautrec. These painters are now respectable in Europe. This is the principle reason European critics by-and-large do not regard any American contemporary painting as "modern" for our painters are still exploring American society in at least a partially realistic way. But defenders of the American view say that we are still discovering ourselves socially and that it is natural that our artists should be thus preoccupied Abstraction in an American painter would at this time be unnatural and therefore not fruitful.

The committee in charge of the exhibition has felt that it would be impossible at this time to bring to Winchester a truly representative group of important European modern paintings—and that if American paintings were to be the subject of the exhibition they should be most representative of the bulk of modern American painting. This was made possible through the cooperation of the Grace Horne Galleries of Boston.

The exhibition will include something over 30 original paintings by some 25 different painters including artists well-known to any follower of contemporary art such as Alexander Brook, John Steuart Curry, Susumu Hirota, Morris Kantor, Molly Luce, Reginald Marsh, Alvira and Waldo Pierce, Carl Zerbe, Paul Sample and Dale Nichols.

The pictures will range from the almost photographic, almost pretty land-scapes of Nichols and Sample, through a number of studies of negroes, of American rural life, of urban scenes, to abstractions by Carl Saxild and Fritz Pfeiffer. At the opening tea Mr. Rideout of the Grace Horne Galleries will speak about the paintings which are on exhibition.

TWO ACCIDENTS LAST SATURDAY

The first of two accidents reported to the police last Saturday morning took place shortly before 4:30 in the morning when telephone calls summoned officers to Washington street near the residence of Mrs. Helen Dewar. While on their way there Officers Edward Bowler and Clarence Dunbury picked up a Winchester man whom they placed under arrest for drunkeness, adding the charge of driving while under the influence of liquor when they found his car across the sidewalk and smashed against a tree and stonewall. In court later that morning the case against the defendent was continued for a week.

Saturday morning at 9:05 Roger D. Newell, of 426 Main street, reported to the police that as he was driving his Ford touring car south on Main street opposite the Atlantic Gasoline Station, a boy, giving his name as Charles Roche of 32 Westley street, coming from the right sidewalk of the street, was struck by his car and knocked down. The boy got up and went home, Newell told the police, who advised him to ascertain whether he had been injured.

WINCHESTER SKI CLUB

The Winchester Ski Club is going up to Intervale, N. H., tomorrow to enjoy a week-end of sport in that attractive country. Headquarters will be at the Headland Hotel.

M. S. P. C. A. NOTES

Members of the Winchester Auxiliary M. S. P. C. A. met on Wednesday, Jan. 17, at the home of Mrs. Harry W. Moulton, 30 Oxford street. Mrs. Edith Washburn Clarke presided over the business meeting after which a delightful tea was served by the hostess.

READING UPSET WINCHESTER

Reading High School's unbeaten quintet added Winchester to its list of victims Tuesday afternoon, defeating the local team, 42—23, in a Middlesex League game at the local gymnasium. The Reading seconds won the preliminary game from the Winchester seconds by a single basket, 17—15.

Reading led in the varsity game all the way, having a 22—9 advantage at half time and a 37—17 lead at the three-quarter mark. The visitors were a well drilled, experienced lot of players who out-maneuvered and out-shot the locals, showing superiority in getting the ball, both on the floor and off the backboards.

Winchester kept trying but the local boys were just outclassed, Reading's passing and all-around floor work being those of a finished team. The visitors shot from all angles and made a surprising number of their difficult shots good. All in all they looked like a club of real championship calibre.

White, visiting left forward, led both teams in scoring with ten floor goals and a foul basket for 21 points. "Tony" DeTeso, with eight points on four floor goals was Winchester's leading point getter.

The locals' "Bill" McEwen was held to three goals from scrimmage by the Reading defense, but for all that looked like one of the best players on the floor. The defeat dropped Winchester from exclusive possession of second place in the league standing to a two way tie with Stoneham, which team beat hapless Concord Tuesday.

Stoneham's win gave it three wins and two losses while Winchester's defeat resulted in the same figures for the locals. Belmont also had three wins before Wednesday's games, but also had one more defeat than Winchester and Stoneham.

MERCER—STALKER TEAM WON CLASS B BADMINTON CROWN

Winchester participants continued to occupy the spotlight in the Class B championship tournament of the Massachusetts Badminton Association at the University Club courts in Boston last Saturday when Carolyn Mercer and Nancy Bradlee Stalker won the ladies' doubles championship from another Winchester performer, Mary Cutter, and Dorothy Green of the Badminton and Tennis Club. The previous week-end Miss Cutter annexed the Class B singles crown.

Like "Susie," Miss Mercer and Mrs. Stalker were unranked in the doubles competition. "Pug" and "Nance" swept through the early rounds of competition and in the quarter-finals won from Elizabeth Ware and Mary Emery, 15—10, 15—9. In the semi-finals the Winchester pair had to come from behind to defeat Mrs. T. Barry and Mrs. C. F. Lyman, Jr., of the Gut 'n Feather Club of Marblehead, 7—15, 15—8, 15—9.

On the other side of the semi-final bracket "Susie" Cutter and Dorothy Green had taken the measure of the top seeded Mrs. Robert Walcott and Mrs. John Goodrich of the Badminton and Tennis Club, after a gruelling battle, 15—7, 14—17, 15—8. The championship match between the all-Winchester and half-Winchester teams was a thriller.

Due to the individual brilliancy of "Susie" Cutter, former intercollegiate girls' tennis champion, the Cutter Green team took the first game, 15—10. Playing aggressively, "Pug" and Nancy evened the match by taking the second, 15—7.

The last game was hard fought and closely contested, but the all around aggressiveness of the Mercer-Stalker duo, plus their everlasting willingness to try for everything finally decided the issue, 18—16.

The new Class B doubles champs numbered among the best all around girl athletes in high school during their undergraduate days, both being three sport performers. Nancy was a speedy wing on what probably was the best forward line Winchester ever had in field hockey; while "Pug," a brilliant goal-guard, tended the nets on the same club. Both played basketball and tennis, and have been turning their attention to badminton since the game became popular in Winchester.

UNITARIAN WOMEN IN WINCHESTER

The New England Associate Alliance met in the Unitarian Church last Thursday, Jan. 18, with more than 300 women in attendance.

In the morning Mr. Samuel S. Simmes gave a short history of the church in his usual entertaining style. Rev. George Ernest Lynch, Jr., spoke most interestingly on "What of the Church?"

Coffee was served in Metcalf Hall and the day was felt to have been an inspiration to those who came from many parts of New England.

Dishonest men in and out of fair Winchester endeavor to conceal their faults from themselves, as well as from others; honest men know and confess them.

WINCHESTER WON FROM BELMONT

Winchester High School's basketball team surprised the wise ones again last Friday afternoon when it defeated Belmont High in a Middlesex League basketball game in the local gymnasium, 33—28. The Winchester seconds made it unanimous by edging the Belmont jay-vees in the preliminary game, 17—16.

The locals' win moved them up in the league standing to second place, a hairline above Belmont which had as many wins as Winchester, but had also lost one more game.

"Bill" McEwen again paced Winchester to its victory, scoring ten points on five goals from scrimmage. Captain Byron Horie and "Tony" DeTeso each had six points, DeTeso garnering his on three floor goals while Horie's were made on two goals from scrimmage and two from free tries.

Donahue and Burns, with ten points and seven respectively were Belmont's leading point-getters, and when Burns was forced out on personal fouls the visitors' offense was handicapped.

With Burns in the game, however, the Belmont boys found Winchester's defense hard to penetrate for shots close up and the visitors were missing them from outside. Belmont surely had quite as many, if not more, scoring chances as Winchester, but their shots were not sinking, though many of them looked good as they hit the hoop.

The game was a good one to watch, both teams playing well. Winchester had the edge in shooting, scoring 14 from scrimmage and five from the foul line, to 12 and four for the opposition. Big "Moon" Boardley, Winchester's reserve guard and center, finally broke into the scoring column and got quite a hand when he sank his first floor goal of the season. This boy has been playing good defensive ball and if he gets his eye for the basket sharpened up, with his height, will prove a valuable addition to the locals' offense. Following is the summary:

SOFTBALL LEAGUE FORMED

On Monday night, Jan. 15, at the Winchester Ski Club headquarters, the softball moguls of Winchester met to boost the game by the formation of a town league. For the past few years, softball has been played and enjoyed by many. A few scattered teams have gotten together informally (or not as you choose) and the interest has been built up to the point where an organized league is now the order of the day. This first meeting was mainly for the purpose of settling a date when all able-bodied men working or living in Winchester, and who fancy themselves as softballers, can get together, elect officers for this league in embryo, and decide on a few rules, enough, at any rate, to save arguments from breaking up any games. The date has been set for Monday, Jan. 29, 7:30 p. m., at the same place at the corner of Main and Lake streets. There is still room for a team or two, and still room for plenty of men on the so-called teams already partly formed, so make it your business to be there if you like the game. Those present at the first meeting were as follows: Mul Olivier, Ted Atkinson, Joe Latorella, Jim Walden, Harry Bean. Temporary officers, president, Mul Olivier, secretary, Al Pennell, Joe Tansey, Patsy Tofuri,

READING LEADING MIDDLESEX

The fast stepping Reading High School basketball team still leads the Middlesex League with a perfect record of seven wins in seven trips to the post. Already the wise ones are looking with favor on the boys from up north to compete in the Tech Interscholastic Hoop Tourney, good judges of basketball believing this year's club fully as good as the unbeaten quintet Reading sported four years ago.

Behind the pace-setter, Winchester and Stoneham are tied for second place, each having three wins and two losses. Belmont and Lexington are in a third place tie, with three wins and three losses each. Wakefield and Concord each have a single win and five losses to show for their campaigning to date.

Tonight Winchester plays Lexington here, and while the locals ought to win, Lexington can't be taken too lightly. Next Friday evening Winchester plays at Wakefield. Following is the standing as of this morning:

	won	lost	pts
Reading	7	0	14
Winchester	3	2	6
Stoneham	3	2	6
Belmont	3	3	6
Lexington	3	3	6
Wakefield	1	5	2

WINCHESTER CURLERS WON

Skipped by "Geof" Neiley, newly announced candidate for school committee, the Winchester Country Club number two rink won the Worcester Cup in curling Monday evening from The Country Club, 15—14, in a bonspiel at Brookline. Following is the summary:

WINCHESTER		T. C. C.

But Why Put Yourself in Mothballs?

SUPPOSE the summer finery is packed away where the moths won't get at it—is that any reason why you should hibernate too—and miss out on a lot of grand and glorious fun?

For as you can see for yourself, the pleasure this Buick brings you isn't subject in any way to the weather-man's whims.

The elements can fairly howl—and they won't for an instant daunt the spirit of this Dynaflash straight-eight power plant, or ruffle the velvet quality of its better-than-a-wrist-watch smoothness.

Winter can do its worst to the roads—and you'll yet take them for boulevards; BuiCoil Springing not only cushions all the rough spots but lays a restraining hand on skids as well.

Winds may whistle and skies grow gray—but here you're snug and secure in stout, weather-tight Unisteel Bodies by Fisher. And you're cradled in seats with fireside-chair comfort, secure in the knowledge of tires that bite and brakes that grip.

Meantime—look at the jump you're getting on the tradition-bound wait-till-spring buyers. Weeks will pass before they put their orders in—weeks in which you'll be enjoying all of Buick's six-dozen-plus new features, reveling in this Buick's spirit-lifting style and beauty.

So step out of the mothballs and step into your Buick dealer's. The prices he's quoting, delivered at your door, are actually less than you're asked for some sixes.

Not a six but an EIGHT for $895 and up delivered at Flint, Mich.*

* Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

We cannot help but comment upon the conditions which are being exposed and aired in the Congressional investigation of the NLRB. Although not given great prominence in the news, they are such as should bring blushes to the most ardent New Dealers. With Ben Cohen's nephew and no one knows how many incompetents given soft jobs; with evidently the unqualified intention of baiting and obstructing business, it is no wonder that business is discouraged and apprehensive. And notwithstanding opposition by our great President and certain politicians, of all the money we are called upon to pay in the name of taxes, that which goes to the Dies Committee is the last we would refuse. Even though it looks now as though agreement has been reached to whitewash certain politicians, the investigation is doing a lot of good and setting a lot of people thinking.

The injection of the personal note in our columns this week will not, we trust, be taken amiss. And we have not been appeased in the matter of Social Security or the New Deal. Not at all. It's simply the fact that we have been accorded a breathing spell by our many friends and enemies. The En Ka's have their literature and chance books well under control for the coming Street Fair, and our sympathy has been properly extended to Elizabeth Cusack over her misfortune during her active dash thereon. The Wintons, by browbeating and persuasion have rallied to Billy McDavitt's standard and finally succeeded in supplying her (and us) with necessary copy for the annual program. The Little Woman is deep in costumes and doing a fitting job for the Cabaret which many chorus boys may envy. All-in-all, it seemed the one time in the year, with Sarah back and the Sprats away, to shake our magnificent head and let our hearty laugh ring out, come what may.

We suffered the first break in our family on Saturday night, when the youngest, and yet withal the oldest, member of the household was kidnapped. We refer to Sarah the pup. She who has accompanied us on our Christmas card for the past ten years. She is a wire-haired Fox terrier and proud of it, although her advanced age of 15 years has somewhat dimmed her hearing and her eyesight is not what it used to be. Allowed outside for an airing at midnight she was stolen and carried away by some ambitious liberal, resulting in a three-hour family search at ten above when she failed to demand entrance after her customary 15 minute run. Chief Rogers and Sergt. Cassidy eased the situation Sunday forenoon by supplying the Woburn address of her rescuer, and she was rapidly restored to her customary nook in the seat of our green chair. No ransom was paid. Her abductors took good care of her and her return home to the bosom of her family did not seem to make any deep impression other than to create a refusal to go outside after dark since the incident.

MORE FOR BREAKFAST

It may be that we are being taken for a ride on our Sunday morning breakfasts, but if we judge by the constantly increasing attendance of guests who seen to enjoy these occasions with us, we are far from alone in any epicurean tastes we may foster. This week we are gratified to welcome another addict; a man who evidently not only enjoys his Sunday morning breakfasts, but who also desires that others share his pleasure.

Returning from a dinner party at Stewart and Ethlyn Newton's Saturday night, and after having completed our tax returns and dumped the headache in friend Joe Worthen's lap, we were in a most receptive mood to investigate a solid and substantial package on our door-step. It proved to be another donation to the one and only morning meal.

Probably a perusal of the note which accompanied the gift will obviate any necessity of further explanation:

To a well known Notary Public
Who likes his sausage rare,
I offer this sweet morsel
With which none other can compare.

Even tho' your good friend McManus,
With sausages hits the spot.
Until you've tried, what is inside,
Unhappy's been your lot.

The delicacy of Squire's sausages
Does not no even daunt,
For the real, complete Epicurean
Eats sausage meat from Vermont.

You've always heard of contented cows,
But these are contented pigs
Who gambol o'er the Vermont hills
Dancing Green Mountain jigs.

THEODORE W. ATKINSON, JR.

P.S. T. Price, this package costs you nothing. Nor do the perusal of this round. But if you want a duplicate. 'Tis 39 cents per pound.

So our thanks go out thus publicly to friend Theodore our namesake, and needless to remark his gift was such as to include him in good standing in our Sunday morning circle. There was, however, but one fly in the ointment. Although the Little Woman is Vermont bred and raised, through the courtesy and assistance of Ward's Sea Food able manager, Mr. Charles C. Smith, she had a delicious fillet of finnan haddie soaking in its milk and ready for her capable culinary skill and our own discriminating taste to fill Sunday morning's void. However —with the return of Doc Hindes and his load of Vergennes bolted meal, we may look forward to the coming feast with true Vermont anticipation, for what can equal sausage meat and corn bread from the Green Mountain State on any snappy morning?

And so, Mr. Atkinson, we cordially extend to you and Mrs. Atkinson an invitation to join our breakfast circle next Sunday morning, provided of course, that your enthusiasm for Vermont sausage meat continues to remain at high pitch—for that will constitute the foundation of the feast.

The time—about 8:30 to 9.

The menu:

Fruit Juices
Prune Pineapple Cranberry Orange
Vermont Sausage Meat
Hot Corn Bread
(Vermont bolted meal)
Toast and Marmalade
(if desired)
Fresh Ground Coffee Pipes and Cigarettes

SOCRATES SAYS-

GOLD

Year after year this column has attempted to call to the attention of our citizens one of the major errors of New Dealers, one that perfectly typifies their logic.

New Dealism, Naziism, Communism, and all other "isms" either do not understand—or do they?—that humans must have something in which they can have perfect confidence, can rely upon, can hang their hats on—in short, something in which they can have implicit faith.

From the beginning of time there has been an inherent belief in the minds of men that gold was precious, magical, a standard of economic value—something upon which to rely.

Following the World War we witnessed a world-wide depression with its accompanying political changes and forms of government. Economic and monetary conditions became chaotic. It could not be otherwise.

Here in America also, everything possible was said and done by New Dealers to upset what confidence the people had in their own economic order, creating also in the minds of some the thought that our democracy had not worked and thus, although perhaps innocently causing people in this as well as other countries to become confused as to the future form of government even in the United States.

Charges were made that "we needed a plan," "Tories," "economic Royalists," "Entrenched Greed," etc., etc. There were vast spending schemes and ridiculously low interest rates on the savings of the people. Everything was done to discourage industry and thrift—almost to create the belief that to be industrious, thrifty, successful, or sturdy was something to shun. It has almost appeared that many of the governments of the world wanted their citizens to be in a position where they must look to the state for their bare existence.

The New Dealers first closed all the banks. (History will ponder why they did not guarantee bank deposits first and thus return confidence.) Next, they prohibited any citizens from owning gold. Then they increased what the government would pay for gold; then gold, of course, started coming in from all over the world, until today we have over one-half the gold in the world.

Let us keep in mind that during all this time the New Dealers—for political reasons—were trying in every way possible to create the belief that anyone who, through thrift or industry, had attained "economic security" should be ridiculed and liquidated. Thus New Dealers were breaking down the belief of the people that property and "gold" had value, while at the same time they were buying all the gold available at the increased price of $35 an ounce, because they said it was valuable.

RAYMOND WILKINS A DELEGATE

Raymond S. Wilkins of Winchester and Paul R. Foisy of Lowell have announced their candidacy as delegates to the Republican National Convention from the Fifth Congressional District. Maude M. Johnson of Melrose and Elizabeth F. Taylor of Belmont will be candidates as alternates.

Mr. Wilkins has been Chairman of the Board of Selectmen of Winchester, Chairman of the Winchester Town Finance Committee, and was the first president of the Republican Club of Winchester. In 1936 he was a delegate to the State Convention at Springfield. He has been a practising attorney in Boston for 25 years. During the World War Mr. Wilkins served overseas with the 301st Field Artillery and is a member of Winchester Post, 97, American Legion.

Mr. Foisy is a lawyer in Lowell and has been assistant District Attorney of Middlesex County. He was a delegate in 1936 to the State Convention, is a member of Lowell Post American Legion, is Judge Advocate of the Forty and Eight for Middlesex County, and is Vice President of the Franco-American Civic League of Massachusetts.

Mrs. Johnson was for 12 years a member of the Melrose School Committee. She has been President of the Women's Republican Club of Melrose, Vice President of the Business and Professional Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts, and the Director of the Presidents' Council of the Women's Republican Clubs of Massachusetts.

Miss Taylor was educated in the public schools of Belmont, Cambridge Haskell School, and Abbot Academy, Andover, and is a graduate of Skidmore College in 1937. She was one of the organizers and secretary and is now Vice President of the Young Women's Republican Club of Belmont.

HIGH SCHOOL 1940 FOOTBALL DATES ANNOUNCED

Faculty Manager of Athletics Ray V. Hayward announced the Winchester High School 1940 football schedule on Tuesday of this week, as follows:

Sept.
21—Framingham at Framingham
28—Wakefield
Oct.
5—Lexington*
12—Dedham at Dedham
19—Punchard
26—Maynard at Maynard*
Nov.
2—Belmont at Belmont*
11—Wellesley
16—Stoneham*
21 or 28—Woburn at Woburn

*Middlesex League games

Local football followers will note some major changes in this list, chief of them being the absence of Arlington from the Winchester schedule after many years of fine rivalry. The Winchester management frankly felt that Arlington has become too tough for the locals and dropped the Spy Ponders for Framingham, a team they believe more nearly in Winchester's class. Many old timers will regret to see the end of Arlington-Winchester rivalry, a rivalry that must go back to the 1890's and that used to include competition in football, baseball, basketball, track, cross country and hockey.

Another popular team absent from the new schedule is Marblehead, but this is emphatically not the fault of Winchester. Marblehead is going "big time" and dropped the locals for a team with more pull at the gate. The colorful "Headers" will be missed next fall.

In place of Marblehead Winchester has scheduled Wakefield, a team the locals used to meet regularly in the days of the Mystic League and even after they withdrew from that circuit to enter the Middlesex loop. If memory serves, Winchester used to hold its own with Wakefield pretty well, but under the new regime at Wakefield that school has been playing some of the Greater Boston select elevens and ought to prove about as tough for Winchester as Arlington, tougher on the average than Marblehead.

Dedham fills the place on the local schedule left vacant when Concord dropped out of the Middlesex League. This school should give the locals good competition on the average, being a bit larger than Winchester. Here, as in the case of Framingham, good competition will be an absolute necessity since there is no natural rivalry between the communities and in both cases long trips will have to be taken to see the games. Dedham has been booked on a one-year basis and further games are contingent upon general satisfaction after next fall's meeting. Framingham and Wakefield have been signed to home-and-home agreements, meaning they will be upon the local schedule in 1941.

Punchard is back as a non-league game along with Woburn, the latter being played whenever the powers that be decide Thanksgiving will be observed in the Bay State.

All in all, the '40 schedule looms as the toughest Winchester has had since the old Mystic League days, especially if Framingham, Wakefield, Dedham and Punchard happen to field elevens as good as some they have had in recent seasons. One thing is certain, the rabid Winchester football fan will see some of the country next fall if he follows the high school team to Framingham, Dedham and Maynard.

LIONS CLUB NOTES

A large attendance at last Monday's meeting made it about the most enjoyable so far this new year. It was too bad those two absent members were not present, especially in view of the fact that one of those members has always taken such great pride in his club and in Lionism in general.

Let's try and make next Monday's meeting 100 per cent.

After the minutes were read by Lion secretary Fred, the business on hand was discussed.

The new town directory is now in the hands of the printer and should soon be in the homes and stores.

The members listened to a very interesting discourse on the origin and manufacthre of Oriental rugs and carpets, given by Mr. Koko Boodakian of this town.

A number of the Winchester members attended a very fine get-together on Tuesday evening at the Unicorn Country Club, this was sponsored by the newly formed and very enthusiastic Stoneham Lions Club. A very lengthy picture was shown, portraying the life of a Cadet at West Point.

DEDICATION OF NEW BUILDING

The dedication of the new building and club house of the Christopher Columbus Club and the installation of officers for the year 1940 were held on Wednesday evening of this week. This one and a half story brick building located at Raymond place, Winchester, has a large assembly hall with a seating capacity of 500, various meeting rooms, game rooms, a kitchen modernly equipped, and in the basement two clay bocce courts for the Italian game of bowling.

The dedication was well attended, 400 people being present. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Richard MacAdams, Elliott Cameron, Kingman P. Cass, Donald Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilkins, Rep. William Ramsdell, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Lane, Mr. Lane representing the Fellsland Council, Boy Scouts of America; Dr. and Mrs. Angelo Maietta, Marshall Symmes, commader of the American Legion, and Mrs. Symmes; George Carter, Maurice Dinneen, William MacDonald, James Fitzgerald, Dr. Richard Sheehy, Carmine Frongillo, Venerable of the Winchester Lodge, Sons of Italy; Miss Mary Tucci, Venerable of the Winchester Women's Lodge Sons of Italy; Mr. and Mrs. John Cassidy, and Nathaniel Nichols.

The ceremonies of the evening were opened by an address from Dr. Angelo Maietta in which he cited the history of the parent organization, the Christopher Columbus Society, which was founded in 1923 by a small group of Italo-Americans. The plans for this new building were started in 1938; the construcion actually getting under way in July of 1939 and completed in December of the same year.

The officers for 1940 were duly installed by Mr. Raymond Wilkins who in times past has demonstrated his deep affection for the Italo-Americans of Winchester. He presented to the president of the club, Dr. Angelo L. Maietta, the charter of the organization and the gavel symbolic of authority. Mr. Franklin Lane congratulated the club upon its sponsoring a scout troop and commented upon the sterling example that the members have established. He encouraged the guidance of youth. Representative William Ramsdell, also speaker, extended greetings of the Commonwealth and spoke upon the civic advancement of the Italo-Americans in this community. Dr. Richard Sheehy cited the obligation we owe to our country and the stars and stripes, but reminded us not to forget the land of our nativity, Italy, the land which has given so much culture to all the world. Selectman Richard MacAdams, the principal speaker of the evening, reminisced in the early days of Winchester and pointed out that on the very site of this building he had spent many happy hours as a boy. He recalled the "Harvard Sluggers" and the "Nelson Tigers" and the circus coming to town and pitching its tent in the neighborhood of this building. He recalled many other anecdotes which were very pleasantly received.

Refreshments followed with dancing as general entertainment and inspection of the various rooms and recreational facilities. One of the highlights of the evening was the bocce game between such stalwart athletes as Raymond Wilkins and Franklin Lane against Dr. Maietta and Donald Heath, the game was won by the team of Wilkins and Lane. The officers of the organization are: Dr. Angelo Maietta, president; Salvatore De Tesso, vice president; Joseph Maggio, secretary and Frank Seratore, treasurer.

MRS. ISABELLA DOUCETTE

Mrs. Isabella Doucette, wife of Fred L. Doucette, died Saturday evening, Jan. 20, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Paul Cavanaugh, 293 Cross street, after a long illness. Mrs. Doucette was a native of Glasgow, Scotland, but came to Woburn in 1891 and for many years made her home in that city at 17 Franklin street. Besides Mrs. Cavanaugh, she leaves her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Frank Shea of Dedham; three sons, James of Revere; Joseph of Boston and William Doucette of Woburn; a sister, Mrs. Bessie Caswell of Woburn, several brothers and 15 grandchildren.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the late residence with requiem high mass celebrated in St. Charles Church, Woburn, of which the deceased had long been a member. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery, East Woburn.

ON THE DEATH OF A CHILD

A dear child sleeps his last sleep; he has been laid low
Where in summer the beautiful trees weep—
Where the zephyrs sigh, and the soft winds blow.
And flowers their vigils keep.
Never again on earth will we gaze upon him
Who so often thrilled our heart strings with joy,
Till our pulses are still, and our eyes are dim
And our earthly spirit without alloy.
A dear child's spirit has gone to the home of the blest,
In the depths of the dark blue skies,
Where, in vestments of beauty and holiness dressed,
A dear child, a sweet cherub has flown:
But no tempests are there, no storms are abroad,
There sorrow and death are unknown.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL NOTES

Upon invitation from the sixth grade, Mr. Frank E. Crawford, manager of the Winchester Hospital, visited the class and told them how the funds from the Greater Boston Community Fund helps the Winchester Hospital. The children greatly enjoyed his visit, and as an outcome prepared a dramatization which they presented to the third, fourth and fifth grades. In this play a wealthy man refuses to contribute to the fund. Sometime later he loses his money, his son is injured, and he and his wife have no way of taking care of the necessary expenses. At the hospital they find that their path is smoothed because the Community Fund enables the hospital to serve the community efficiently.

Grade 5 presented a radio program with Cecilia Snyder as the announcer. She introduced the characters of a skit entitled "The Scouts do a Good Deed." The players, who presented the skit through the microphone, were the following: Anne Erickson, mother; Scott Doub, father; Nancy Laverty, grandmother; David Smith, Jimmy; Ida Staffieri, Betty; Joseph Santo, Scoutmaster; Rosanne Borden, Doris Newton, speakers.

Three groups of players in Grade 4 visited the other grades to present an original play in three acts showing how the Community Fund makes possible the unselfish work of the Visiting Nurse. Act 1 takes place in the office of the Visiting Nurse early in a weekday morning. Act 2 is laid at the bedside of a patient a short time later. In Act 3, a few days later the patient, completely recovered is seen outside her house. Lillian Gross, the announcer, introduced the characters. They were: Ruth Murray, Gloria Carlson, mother; Lillian Gross, Cecily Chandler, Robert Edwards, child; Douglass Mann, Edward Moore, doctor; Marguerite Derro, Lillian Gross, nurse; Joyce Dana, Barbara Collins, Jean Fitzgerald, secretary.

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, January 28.

The Golden Text is: "O Lord, thou art my God; I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name; for thou hast done wonderful things; thy counsels of old are faithfulness and truth" (Isaiah 25:1).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The preparations of the heart in man, and the answer to the tongue, is from the Lord. . . . By mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by fear of the Lord men depart from evil" (Proverbs 16:1, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "It is reasonable to understand, instead of believe, that nothing can really be the happiness of being. To seek Truth through belief in a human doctrine is not to understand the infinite. . . . The understanding of Truth gives full faith in Truth, and spiritual understanding is better than all burnt offerings" (pp. 285, 286).

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The Introduction to Scouting Training Course held its first of two sessions Wednesday morning at 10 a. m. in the Lyceum Building. Everyone registered at Mrs. Tapley's table and were given paper, with their names and ranking in Scouts, to pin on.

Mrs. Harold Farnsworth gave a speech of welcome and introduced Mrs. Glazier who spoke on "Who Are the Girls Scouts and Why We Have Them." She said that Girl Scouts are girls from 7 to 18 who meet once a week in a troop and in this troop participate in activities which they have chosen. All this is under adult guidance. The reason we have Girl Scouting is to try to satisfy the needs and desires of the 7 to 18 year olds. Then she gave a background of Scouting—it's history, it's aims, and it's philosophy.

Those present were: Mrs. Harold Farnsworth, Mrs. Gilbert Tapley, Mrs. Donald Heath, Mrs. Kenneth Caldwell, Mrs. Harold Partridge, Mrs. Theodore Burleigh, Mrs. R. A. Drake, Mrs. Erickson, Mrs. Donald Simond, Mrs. Gorge Byford, Mrs. A. C. Fay, Mrs. Esther M. Campbell, Mrs. John Rutherford, Mrs. Roger Flynn, Mrs. J. Mulford Olivier, Mrs. Clinton Farnham, Mrs. E. B. Robinson, Mrs. Louis Williams, Mrs F. J. Ebens and Mrs. Robert Bayliss.

Dear Mrs. Elliott,

The Girl Scouts of Troop 5 made two families happy for Christmas. In these families there were 12 children. We sent two big boxes full of gifts that had once belonged to the Scouts. We also sent a Christmas tree. For the decorations we made animals and people out of dates, marshmallows, and gumdrops. These were put together with tooth picks and wrapped in cellophane. Then we strung popcorn. All this was sent over the Saturday before Christmas.

These people probably wouldn't have had any presents at all without our help. The children's hearts were filled with joy, but the Girl Scouts were almost as glad because they had made somebody else happy.

Yours truly,
Carolyn Litchfield, Scribe

ANNUAL REPORT OF RED CROSS

The secretary of the Winchester Chapter, American Red Cross, submits to the chairman, executive board, and town members an annual report of activities of the Winchester Chapter during the past year.

The executive committee has held four meetings in addition to the annual meeting.

The home service committee has been efficiently directed by Mrs. J. Henry Miley, chairman, and Mrs. Otis Wilson, investigator. Numerous cases have been investigated and assistance given of food, clothing, coal and money as necessary. Eighteen baskets of food including turkeys, were distributed at Thanksgiving under the direction of Mrs. E. Adele Emery. At Christmas, baskets of food and money were given.

The production committee, Mrs. Arthur T. Smith, chairman, have sent 47 sweaters, 5 beanies and 8 pairs of socks which were knit by the En Ka members, to Northampton, Mass., St. Elizabeth Hospital, Washington, D. C., Bedford Hospital and Rutland Heights Hospital. In addition 25 sweaters have been knit by the En Ka members for the War Relief Quota. The Mission Union of the First Congregational Church of Winchester have made 2 quilts with material purchased by the Red Cross Chapter, and which were given to the local Welfare Department. A bolt of flannel was purchased by the Chapter for the Girl Scouts to make leyettes for the Winchester Visiting Nurse Association. The production committee with the cooperation of the Junior Red Cross at High School, who made the 50 bags, have sent these bags filled with small articles such as diaries, penknives, playing cards, needles, thread, buttons, cards, comb sets, puzzles, etc., to National Headquarters. These bags were then sent to enlisted men on foreign duty for Christmas.

The chairman of hospital service, Mrs. R. K. Miller, reported an active year for the gray ladies. Weekly visits have been made to the Bedford Hospital. Cigarettes, tobacco, pipes, home-made candy, puzzles, magazines and playing cards have been taken each week. Eighteen thousand, five hundred and fifty-two surgical dressings for use in the operating room have been made. During the year two teas were given in the receiving wards. Transportation has been furnished for Veterans' families to and from clinics. The committee assisted the Recreational Aid in decorating the hospital for the Christmas holidays.

The Recreational Aid has been assisted at the weekly dances. The members of this committee have given 679½ hours of service.

A home hygiene and care for the sick course was given for high school students this year with Mrs. Charles Buss as instructor.

A course in first aid was given to the Winchester Ski Club, and to the Winchester Police and Firemen, with Mr. Alfred Hansen as instructor.

Mr. James J. Quinn, as chairman of the Junior Red Cross group with Miss White, school leader at high school, Miss M. J. Davis, school leader at the junior high school, and Miss Gertrude Lewis, leader of the Elementary grades reported a very successful year of activities. The following are a few of the many services rendered by this group: 100 per cent enrollment in all the schools; each group collected food at Thanksgiving time which was given to the Winchester Community Relief Committee for the Thanksgiving baskets; sent Christmas and Easter cards to the veterans at the Bedford Hospital for them to mail to their families and friends; sent magazines to the Seaman's Friend Association; collected playing cards for the men at Bedford Hospital. The junior high school group made covers for Easter Cards that were printed in braille and sent to a school for blind children in Louisiana. They also remembered the Veterans Group at the Bedford Hospital with favors at Hallowe'en, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Valentine's Day, and with home made cookies.

The elementary grades have made enexpensive gifts for Winchester Hospital, Winchester Home for the Aged, Little Wanderer's Home, Children's Hospital, Veterans' Hospital, Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, and parents of the children. Marion Horwood, of Wyman fifth grade, was selected to represent the Junior Red Cross at the Washington Convention last April. Folios were sent to France, Czechoslavakia, Finland, Greece, England, and Yugoslavia. This inter-change of folios with foreign countries tends to give better understanding of customs and life of these countries and establishes a feeling of friendship between them. The various services which these groups perform tend to teach the Juniors to serve their community, and to prepare them for a life of usefulness.

The chapter completed a very successful 1939 Roll Call for members with Mr. George R. Carter of the Winchester Theatre as chairman. With his well-organized plans, his enthusiasm, his untiring efforts and with the cooperation of the workers and townspeople $3,429.37 was raised.

Winchester Chapter responded to the call from National Headquarters to assist with war relief quota for foreign countries needing assistance. Since September the Chapter with the assistance of members of the En Ka Society, members of various churches, Mother's Association and women of the town have met at the Red Cross room to sew, and the following articles have been finished and sent as our first quota to New York for shipment to Finland and Poland: 50 woolen dresses, 60 sweaters, 25 hospital garments, 15 operating gowns, and 35 pairs of woolen socks.

The chapter wishes to thank all who have assisted in making it possible to complete our quota of garments.

Mrs. Harry Goodwin, chairman of Life Saving and Swimming, reported that classes were held this past summer at Palmer and Leonard Beaches. The chapter was very fortunate in securing Mr. Alfred Pennell, a qualified Red Cross instructor, and due to interest and enthusiasm with his classes a very successful season was concluded. One hundred and sixty-five boys and girls received instruction during the eight weeks. On August 12 the Winchester Red Cross and Winchester Park Department sponsored a meet at Leonard Field which included swimming events, diving, and life saving exhibitions which proved to be of much interest to the spectators and participants.

With increased activities and service work of the chapter a room was secured as permanent headquarters on the third floor of the Winchester Town Hall.

It is indeed gratifying to report such satisfactory results obtained during this past year. Yet it must be remembered that without the support of our townspeople the directors of the Red Cross Chapter alone could not have accomplished this admirable work. The Red Cross Chapter wishes to thank each and every one who has added his support to this commendable work.

Respectfully submitted,
Ruth M. Ferguson,
Recording Secretary

NEW X-RAY SOCIETY

On Jan. 16, 1940, a Massachusetts Society for X-Ray technicians was chartered, to be known as the "Bay State Society of X-Ray Technicians," which Miss Jeanne L. Rodier, x-ray technician at the Winchester Hospital, was made a charter member, and was elected to serve on the executive board for two years.

Miss Rodier is also a registered member of the American Registry of X-Rav Technicians, and a member of the National Society known as the American Society of X-Ray Technicians.

For further information concerning the Bay State Society please communicate with Mr. Bruva, president located at 295 Huntington avenue, Boston, phone Ken. 0193.

LET'S GO WINCHESTER!

As of Thursday noon, Jan. 25, the quota for Winchester in the Greater Boston Community Fund Campaign had reached 15 per cent of its total. The quota this year for the combined drives is $29,500.

The office of headquarters for the Winchester Organization for the Greater Boston Community Fund Campaign is open the following hours: week-days, 9:30 a. m. to 9:30 p. m., Sundays, 4 p. m. to 9 p. m.

The first completed report of solicitor's for the Winchester organization of the Greater Boston Community Fund Campaign was turned in for Precinct 5 by Mrs. James A. Riley, of Mrs. Dwight Hadley's team.

Chairman James Nowell reports that the final count in the organization of Winchester for the Greater Boston Community Fund Campaign is 650 or nearly nine percent of the adult population of the town. Winchester has the highest percentage of workers of any community now working in the campaign.

Let's go Winchester! We have the best organization in the Greater Boston Community Fund Campaign. So let's have the best results. Early reports are the best reports. Clean up the campaign the first week and watch the other communities try to beat us.

JOIN THE PLATTERBUG CLUB

The Park Radio of 609 Main street, Winchester, has recently instituted a new and novel plan which should interest every buyer of records. It is called the 609 Platterbug Club and every person who buys records can become a member without any obligation or expense.

Every one who visits this store to buy records of any type will be given a card which will be punched for every record purchased. When that person has bought 12 records he will be given one record free, in addition to this receiving a picture of the popular artist which they like best.

For added interest in the plan every person who joins this club will be given a card which will entitle them to vote for their favorite artist; and every record purchased from that time will be entitled to a vote.

On the 5th of each month a drawing will be made from these ballots and the person's name drawn will be given a free record of their choice. This is fun for all and every one can join. The Park Radio have a complete line of Victor-Bluebird-Columbia-Decca records in stock and a pleasing personnel to help you select your records.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE'S ACTIVITIES

Last Sunday evening a large group of young people from the First Baptist Church of Winchester was entertained at the home of Miss Carlotta Garrison. The meeting, led by Miss Florence Pinn, commenced by singing favorite hymns. Announcements were made by Miss Ruth Ormsby and Mr. William Palson, the president. The speaker was Rev. Sumant D. Ramteke, a former pastor in India, now attending Gordon College in Boston. He explained the Indian customs and religion and gave an inspiring account of the wonderful work carried on by the missionaries in India. Rev. Ramteke, after he has completed his studies in America, intends to return to India and continue his work in the missions there.

When the meeting was over, the young people were delighted by the tasty refreshments served to them by their hostess. The home meetings promote a friendly atmosphere and a closer fellowship in the group.

Persons who are always cheerful and good humored are very useful citizens of Winchester; they maintain peace and happiness and spread a thankful temper among all who live around them.

WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

Winchester readers who enjoy a novel of modern times, one with an easy-to-read, fast-moving plot, and yet which also gives food for thought, will like A. Hamilton Gibbs' new book, "A Half an Inch of Candle." It is a romance of present day Europe in which the characters, two lone victims of past wars, solve their social and political problems by their own personal philosophies, evolving quite naturally, as one can see, from the current feeling of futility due to tragic universal conditions.

Men will want to read Jule Romains' "Verdun" which is the eighth volume of the "Men of Good Will" series, bringing the reader to the object of the whole group, Verdun—the World War—and making a fitting and sensational climax to the series.

And then, another new novel on this same very timely subject, is "The Day Before" by Henry Major Tomlinson; a chronicle of life in London just before 1914, with vivid descriptions of such events as the Coronation and the Titanic disaster.

If you would like something more light, read Josephine Lawrence's "But You Are Young." People said Kelsie was "young" meaning she should be in no hurry to marry, she should wait until her father and brother found work, her sister went through college, and the rest of her family could get along without her, but Kelsie didn't wait!

If you read "Testament of Youth" by Vera Brittain you won't want to miss "Testament of Friendship" which is a record of the short but fascinating life of Winifred Holtby, young English author of "South Riding." Vera Brittain was one of her closest friends, and this biography is a beautiful one with glimpses into the lives of many contemporary English writers.

Another new biography which is already very popular at the Winchester Public Library, is "A Goodly Fellowship" by the much loved American teacher and author, Mary Ellen Chase. In it she tells of 30 years of changes in America.

Of course there is a constant demand for stories of adventure and travel, and when one as colorful and absorbing as "Land Below the Wind" is published, we are glad to announce its arrival at the Winchester Library. This is an account written by Agnes Newton Keith, the American wife of a British official, and this personal story of four very unusual years spent in North Borneo, with its human touch, humor and realness, will please many.

WHAT'S THE Good Word?

What good news are you missing — by not keeping in touch more regularly with far-away friends and relatives? Your life will have an extra sparkle when you hear, first hand, the good luck of folks who mean a lot to you. Why deny yourself these pleasant discoveries when it's so easy to make them by telephone? And it costs so little to call out-of-town — even less evenings after 7 and all day Sunday.

The good word is "CHEAPER"

Here are a few places you think of as far away and expensive to call. See how much cheaper the rates are than you thought.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Cora Anthony
Director of A. & P. Kitchen

There are drives on this week to increase consumption of citrus fruits and of peanuts. Both are plentiful and cheap and both have excellent health values. Peanuts are first cousins to dried peas and beans and like them very nutritious.

The cold weather has slowed both the production and shipping of eggs. Prices will probably be temporarily higher. Butter is higher but still below average winter levels. Fish is more plentiful but supplies depend almost entirely on weather. Meat prices remain very reasonable. Turkeys now cost less than during the holidays and all poultry is low in price.

Strawberries are comparatively plentiful and inexpensive but are not yet to be recommended for low cost budgets.

Low Cost Dinner
Roast Shoulder of Pork Apple Sauce
Browned Sweet Potatoes
Creamed Onions
Bread and Butter
Grapefruit and Lime Gelatin
Peanut Cookies

"Help Finland Week" Set By Hoover as Drive Peak

NEW YORK, Jan. 17—(Special)—Growing out of a nation-wide demand for a date when the American people can demonstrate their sympathy for the refugees of invaded Finland, Herbert Hoover, national chairman of the Finnish Relief Fund, today announced the week of February 4 as "Help Finland Week."

Hundreds of benefit events, from brilliant social affairs to boxing matches, have been scheduled for "Help Finland Week" by chairmen of the 48 state committees, the District of Columbia committee and by committees in distant, tropical Hawaii and ice-bound Alaska, the former president said

The nation's motion picture theaters are placing their facilities at the disposal of the drive and will set aside two days early next month as Finnish collection days.

School children, too, have volunteered to help underclad and hungry Finnish children by bringing a penny for each member of the family to school during "Help Finland Week."

Sports writers, under the direction of a committee headed by Joe Williams, Scripps-Howard sports editor and columnist, are working with local and national promoters to set up wrestling, boxing, tennis, track and hockey matches for the benefit of the Fund.

With Helen Hayes as chairman, a committee of noted stage and screen stars have set $500,000 as a goal, which will be raised through a series of personal appearances and benefit performances throughout the country. Such stars as Paul Muni, Katherine Hepburn and Tallulah Bankhead are working with Miss Hayes to set up shows.

Herbert Hoover

On the labor front the drive is headed by William Green and Matthew Woll, president and vice president respectively of the American Federation of Labor, and other labor leaders. Dr. Alexander S. Lipsett, director of the National Labor Organizations Division of the Fund, said that approximately 50,000 local labor unions have been asked to set up committees to raise funds from the nation's 8,000,000 organized workers.

Meanwhile, state and local committees have planned dances, horseshows, hunt breakfasts, skating and skiing exhibitions, art auctions, cabaret shows, amateur shows and scores of other events to raise funds for the drive.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Six members were absent from the meeting of Jan. 25. It will be necessary for these members to make up if the club is to appear in the excellent column of the January attendance contest.

Ralph Bonnell is planning a vacation which is all to the good for Ralph and we congratulate him. We regret, however, that this will naturally mean his absence from the home meetings and consequent inability to observe, not say experience the workings of the fine system which he has so ardently advocated.

We are pleased to report that our good friend and neighbor, Alfred H. Marchant, past president of the Rotary Club of Boston, is making a splendid recovery from his current indisposition. Several of our members gathered in special session last Tuesday evening at "Al's" residence to listen to his proposal for a community meeting to be sponsored by the Winchester Club at a early date. Arrangements for this meeting are proceeding satisfactorily.

District Governor Reuel Beach announces that the Mid-Year District Assembly will meet on Wedesday, February 21 at the Hotel Statler in Boston. This session will feature the promotion of youth service with special emphasis on juvenile delinquency, which will be a subject for discussion by a number of experts who are working for better conditions in Massachusetts. This discussion, at 2:30 p. m. will be open to the public.

The after-luncheon period at the current meeting was devoted to a discussion of club activities, present and future. Vice President George Carter submitted a very interesting plan whereby the club would be enabled, through a system of small contributions, to create an annual fund for the promotion of club and community service.

Next week we shall listen to an address by Mr. Ralph Robart, chairman of the Parole Board of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. The work of this Board is of tremendous social significace to our citizens and this club is fortunate in that it may head an authentic interpretation of the Board's objects and accomplishments. This meeting calls for a 100 per cent attendance of our members. Let each one do his part.

Question and Answer for the day (from R. I. Pamphlet No. 38)—

Why does Rotary limit membership in a club to but one man in each classification (newspaper classification and additional active member excepted?)

Because it enables the club to be a cross-section of the industrial and professional of the community.

Because it develops fellowship based on diversity of interest instead of similarity of interest.

Because it prevents the club from being dominated by any one business group.

Because is makes a membership more valuable and enables the club to demand attendance.

Because it allows a freedom in making vocational talks that would not be possible if a competitor were present.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The Boy Scout National Director of Cubbing, Mr. William C. Wessel, is visiting the Fellsland Council area on Monday, January 29. Mr. Wessel comes from the National Council office in New York City. His purpose is to meet with all people interested in the Cub program for boys of nine, 10 and 11 years of age.

Cubbing is a phase of the Boy Scout program, and has 125,000 membership, of a total registration of 2,000,000 boys and men in the United States. Cubbing in Fellsland Council is comparatively a new activity and at present there are 197 boys and 73 men and women enrolled as leaders.

To provide an opportunity for everyone to meet Mr. Wessel, it is arranged for all Den Mothers and all interested mothers to meet at the Winchester Library at 2 p. m., and Den Chiefs to meet there at 4 p. m. A supper meeting has been arranged for district chairmen: Messrs. Minot Edwards of Medford, Alexander Hayward of Stoneham, Roger Beattie of Woburn, Wendell Hoyt of Winchester, as well as Mr. R. H. B. Smith, council chairman of Cubbing, Mr. Edward W. Nelson, Scout executive, and Mr. Elliott R. Dudley, field executive. The purpose of this supper meeting is to discuss organization and promotion of new Packs with Mr. Wessel.

Everyone, and particularly parents of boys of Cub age, are cordially invited to meet at the Winchester Baptist Church at 8 p. m. to hear Mr. Wessel. Those who know him are anticipating a pleasant and worthwhile evening.

Scout Office Holds Open House

The Scout Executive, Edward W. Nelson has sent a cordial invitation to the citizens of this community to visit the Scout office on South Border road, Winchester, on Saturday, Jan. 27, between 1 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon. The occasion for this Open House is to show to the general public and Scouter friends the new office arrangement and heating plant that has been installed at the Scout Administration Office. For the past few years the office for administration was confined to an area of about 10 x 12 feet. Due to the expansion program in the council area, it was impossible to function properly, and ways and means are being created to raise funds for the new heating plant and the new office construction. This Scout office is the administrative headquarters for Burlington, Medford, Stoneham, Winchester and Woburn. It is from this office that all general orders are issued, and all records are kept.

The executive board has appointed a committee consisting of Messrs. William F. Bennett, Jr., of Medford; Walter E. Fish, Jr., of Stoneham; Maurice C. Bird, Franklin J. Lane of Winchester; and Eric B. Johnson of Woburn, to act as hosts and guides for this "House Warming" party.

MRS. THAXTER RENEWS PLAY READINGS

Mrs. Sidney St. Felix Thaxter is returning to Winchester to give a series of six play readings of current Broadway successes.

Opening the series on Feb. 2 at 2:15 p. m. Mrs. Thaxter will read "No Time for Comedy" in which Katharine Cornell starred on Broadway. The readings will occur on each second Friday afternoon through April 12, and will include such favorites as The Man Who Came to Dinner, Outward Bound, Kylark and Life With Father.

Mrs. Thaxter, who before her marriage played Broadway for two years and has since kept in constant touch with the more interesting current stage successes has delighted audiences wherever she has appeared and in many places her readings are eagerly awaited annual events.

The more true merit a Winchesterite has, the more does he applaud it in others.

Let us be what we are. This is the very first step towards becoming better than we are.

TOWN HALL TONIGHT

This is a gala week-end for the Winton Club and its many supporters, for their annual show takes place tonight and tomorrow night in the Town Hall. A happy excitement has prevailed during this past week of rehearsals with the various groups combining their forces to put the show together for its production. That their efforts and cooperation were successful was apparent last night when the Pre-vue performance took place for an audience of several hundred were most enthusiastic over the fast-moving, bright and entertaining program.

The Cabaret is always an occasion for much entertaining, and there will be smart dinner parties in many homes on both nights. One of the largest is that of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Freeburn of Cabot street whose guests include Mrs. Harold F. Meyer, chairman of the Cabaret committee and Mr. Meyer; Mrs. John C. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. John Stackpole, Mr. and Mrs. John Divine, Mr. and Mrs. Frderick Ritchie, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburt Kinsley, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Litchfield, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hill, Mr. and Mrs. John W. F. Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lamont, Miss Gretchen Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Grant and Mr. Cheney Cook.

Dr. and Mrs. William Davis of Central green will entertain, their guests including Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. Berkley Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Edgarton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Waterman, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Joy and Mr.and Mrs. Burton Cary.

Dining together at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Farnsworth on Central green are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. William McGill, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stone, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Butler and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Avery.

Mrs. Clarence Ordway and Mrs. Merton Grush will be hostesses at the former's home on Main street before the Saturday night performance to Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Billman, Mr. and Mrs. John Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Cushman, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Chamberlin, Mr. and Mrs. James Russell and Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Rollins.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Morrison of Glen road will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Kimball, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Worthen and Mr. and Mrs. John Pearson.

Mr. and Mrs. James Harlow of Oneida road are giving a buffet supper before the Friday performance, their guests including Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Martin, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, Dr. and Mrs. George Marks, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woolley, Mr. Lindley Beardsley, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Draper, Mr. and Mrs. John Kenerson, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Neiley, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Mason, Mr. and Mrs. James Dwinell, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Righter, Jr.

TOWN SKATING RINKS POPULAR

Over the past week-end the Park Department estimates that about 1000 persons used the town skating rinks at Leonard Field swimming pool and Winter Pond. The reason for this popularity can be found in the fine surface the Park Department under Supt. Tom McGowan is keeping at both rinks.

Lack of funds prevented the purchase of a planer or scraper such as is used in Newton and at the Winchester Country Club rink. In its place the Park Department is using a small pump and two lengths of hose, through which water is pumped from holes in the ice to form an entirely new, and of course, smooth surface. Experienced skaters spoke in most complimentary terms of the quality of the ice at Leonard Field and Winter Pond in comparison with that where scrapers or planers are used.

At both rinks places are set apart for hockey and for general skating, enabling devotees of both to enjoy themselves without interfering with the pleasure of anyone.

WINCHESTER GIRL WON PRIZE

An unusually interesting event in which a number of local women participated was a Pet Show, held Saturday night in Huntington Chambers Hall, Boston, by the Women's Association of the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital. The "pets" were a miscellaneous collection of animals, mostly dogs, fashioned of wood, metal, glass or fabrics. A small fee was charged for each entry, and the judging was done with painstaking seriousness.

First prize in the unique class went to Miss Jean Pentz, 417 Main street, whose entry was a bloodhound made of the transparent, glass-like plastic which has been developed for building purposes in recent years.

The group of four judges included Morris De Haven Tracy, 5 Marshall road.

MAJOR WOODSIDE FETED

Major Alonzo F. Woodside, assistant superintendent of mails in charge of the inquiry section, Boston Post-office, was tendered a testimonial dinner at the Hotel Manger Wednesday night.

Major Woodside, a veteran of the Spanish and World Wars, will retire after more than 49 years of service.

FEW CHANGES IN CANDIDATES AS DEADLINE FOR FILING FALLS

Few changes were made in the list of candidates for town office as printed in last week's Star as the deadline for filing nomination papers arrived yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Papers were not filed for Stafford Rogers and Frederick La Torella for Selectmen, nor did any further candidate appear for election to the School Committee, leaving "no contest" in this usually controversial bracket.

Marshall H. Pihl, candidate for assessor, filed his papers with plenty of signatures during mid-afternoon yesterday, and all others had been received prior to that time. Following is the complete list of candidates:

Assessor—John F. Cassidy, Edward G. MacDonald, Patrick T. Foley, Marshall R. Pihl.

Board of Health—J. Harper Blaisdell, M. D., Robert L. Emery, M. D.

Board of Public Welfare—Earle E. Andrews, William T. Mulcahy.

Cemetery Commissioner — Alfred H. Marchant.

Commissioner of Trust Funds—James W. Russell.

Moderator—George B. Hayward, Raymond S. Wilkins.

Park Commissioner — William S. Packer.

Planning Board—Arthur W. Dean.

Selectmen — Philip H. Gallagher, Marshall W. Symmes, William J. Croughwell, Ben R. Schneider.

School Committee—Rachel T. Kimball, Geoffrey C. Neiley.

Trustees of Town Library—Edgar J. Rich, M. Walker Jones (3 years), Clinton L. Farnum (2 years to fill vacancy), Charles H. Gallagher, (2 years to fill vacancy).

Water and Sewer Board—Edmund C. Sanderson and John J. Doherty.

FAMOUS GUIDES FROM NEW BRUNSWICK GUESTS OF ROTARY CLUB NEXT WEDNESDAY

Winchester Rotary Club will be host to a contingent of reknowned woodsmen and guides from the picturesque rivers of New Brunswick, at the dinner and entertainment at the Winchester Country Club on Wednesday evening, Feb. 7.

Mr. A. H. Marchant has completed arrangements with the New Brunswick government representative to present the guides in person, and they will bring with them a supply of venison and salmon from which the special dinner will be prepared.

The men are in Boston during the week at the Boston Sportsmen's Show and will bring with them on Wednesday evening some of the latest and most interesting moving pictures showing the thrills and pleasures of life along their favorite streams. While these woodsmen are not "troupers" in the sense of stage parlance they will have plenty of anecdotes and stories to tell that are typical of their experiences in the woods. As they tell them, in an unrehearsed program, there are bound to be occasions when they get the same sort of "Bird fever" that sportsmen are said to have when they see their first big game in the woods.

The plans for the event bid fair to develop a fine evening's pleasure and opportunity for both fathers and sons to meet these men of the woods and to know them better.

WINCHESTER YOUNG MAN DEDICATES PEABODY POST-OFFICE

On last Saturday afternoon Harold F. Ambrose, representing the U. S. Postoffice Department in Washington, D. C. officiated as principal dedication speaker at the exercises marking the opening of the new U. S. Postoffice building in Peabody. He was also guest speaker at the dedication banquet which followed in the evening at the Town Lyne House on the Newburyport Turnpike.

Mr. Ambrose has become quite in demand throughout the country as a guest at postal affairs because of his affluence as a public speaker.

He has served as director of publicity for the U. S. P. O. Department at Washington for the past five years but previous to going to Washington he made his home on Vine street in this town.

MORE EARPHONES TAKEN

Once again over the past week-end someone got into the First Congregational Church and stole an amplifier and set of earphones from the auditorium. A similar theft was reported during the Christmas season.

These amplifiers and earphones are maintained by the church for the benefit of those members of the congregation with impaired hearing, enabling them to follow the services and enjoy the sermons. The thefts have been reported to the police who are attempting to locate the party or parties responsible.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Hary Leavitt, 187 Westminster avenue, Arlington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara, to Parker Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Smith, 106 Ridge street, Winchester. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Porter Webster of Homer, N. Y. are the parents of a daughter, Gene, born Sunday, Jan. 28, at the Courtland Hospital, Courtland, N. Y. Mrs. Webster is the former Margaret Bradlee and the maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. Abbot Bradlee of Bacon street.

FUND MUST NOT FAIL!

The 1940 Community Fund Campaign is nearly over. The goal has not yet been reached. It can be attained Only If Every Worker carries out his task and if EVERY GIVER recognizes his full responsibility to the Greater Boston community. Three hundred thousand people in Greater Boston need YOUR help. You cannot fail them!

JOHN FRANK SHARON

John Frank Sharon, Winchester's assistant town engineer for the past 13 years, died early Sunday afternoon, Jan. 28, at his home, 18 Winthrop street, after a short illness with heart disease. He had attended to his duties at the engineering office on Saturday as usual, becoming seriously ill during the evening. His unexpected passing came as a shock to the entire community. Flags on the common and public buildings were displayed at half staff in his honor.

Mr. Sharon was born in Winchester June 30, 1890, the son of John Symmes, and Annie (Johnson) Sharon. He attended the Winchester schools and was graduated from Winchester High School with the class of 1909, winning an enviable reputation as a foothall and basketball player.

In April of 1910 he entered the town's engineering department under Town Engineer James Hinds, remaining until 1918 and taking courses in engineering subjects at Lowell Institute in Boston.

In 1918 he resigned to enter the employ of the Harry Hope Company, Boston engineering firm, for whom he worked for a time both in Connecticut and St. Louis, Mo. Later he was for a time employed by the Boston office of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, returning to the town engineering department in 1922. When the department was reorganized in 1927 he became assistant town engineer, continuing in that capacity until his death. He was a member of Waterfield Lodge, I. O. O. F. and a former member of William Parkman Lodge of Masons and of Winchester Lodge of Elks.

On Oct. 29, 1915, he married Margaret Ellen Horn of this town, who survives him, with four daughters, Elizabeth, Eleanor, Sally and Jane; two sons, Robert and Peter; all of Winchester; and two sisters, Mrs. Mabel Tucker of Hillsboro, N. H.; and Miss Alice Sharon of this town.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the Church of the Epiphany, town officials and members of many of the town departments being represented in the large gathering that filled the nave of the church. The rector, Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, read the service, assisted by Rev. William S. Packer. Organ music was played by Mrs. A. B. Corthell. The engineering office was closed during the services and two members of the department, Howard F Ambrose and Frederick A. Ewell, were bearers, with Arthur H. Cameron, Harry W. Dodge, Gordo H. Horn, Jr. and James J. Halwartz. Members of the vestry of the church acted as honorary bearers and ushers for the service. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. ESTHER G. SMITH

Mrs. Esther G. Smith, widow of Edward A. Smith and a resident of Winchester for nearly three-quarters of a century, died Wednesday morning, Jan. 31, at the home of her son, Lowell R. Smith, 10 Park avenue. She had been for the past year in failing health.

Mrs. Smith was the daughter of Harvey and Lucy (Graves) Small. She was born Sept. 5, 1853, in Bowdoinham, Me., came to Winchester 70 years ago and was married in this town Sept. 25, 1874. She lived for a time on Ridgeway and later for many years in the old Bacon house on the Parkway adjacent to Mystic Lake. Her husband died July 2, 1927.

Mrs. Smith leaves, besides her son, three grandsons and a granddaughter, children of the late Bertha I. Merrill of Warwick, N. Y., a great-grandson, a brother, Daniel Small of Bangor, Me.; and a sister, Mrs. Eva Cowdery of this town.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at the late residence with Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiating. Interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

The annual World Day of Prayer will be observed in Winchester on the first Friday in Lent, Feb. 9, at 2 p. m. in the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. All women of Winchester are invited to share in this service.

The program is under the auspices of the local Protestant churches. It is also observed by Christian women of all denominations around the world. Through this worship and prayer for world enterprises, comes a realization of common needs and the strength of a united purpose. This year, more than ever, there is need for new strength, new courage, new insight, and new and higher ideals. The world has desperate need of all this.

An offering will be taken for the benefit of two interdenominational projects regularly supported by the World Day of Prayer gifts.

M. C. W. G. NOTES

The regular meeting for February will be held next Thursday evening, Feb. 8 at the home of Mrs. Julia Fitzgerald on Washington street. A program for the spring diocesan work at the Working Boys Home and the Home for Aged conducted by the Little Sisters of the Poor in Somerville will be outlined.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Into the southland where blizzards blast and blow, there go our Ralph Bonnell and Harry Winn. Surely they know how to take it.

Not so fortunate was Warren Hersey who has been having a session with la grippe for the past fortnight. We are pleased to report that Warren is making good progress.

John McLean displayed "the fine Italian hand" today and with fine results. Especially when somebody suggested that the fine-collector himself was subject to a fine and the draw said "no cash due." Can you beat it?

On account of current world difficulties the Board of Directors of Rotary, International has decreed that the International Convention scheduled to meet at Rio de Janeiro in June be postponed to 1942. In the meantime arrangments are being made to hold the 1940 Convention at Havana, Cuba. Full details of the change will shortly be available. Toronto, tentatively selected as the place of meeting for the 1941 Convention, has also been obliged to ask for a postponement.

Our guest speaker today was Mr. Ralph Robart, chairman of the Parole Board of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, who addressed us on the topic "Parole and Release Procedure."

Mr. Robart called it to our attention that "parole" as decreed in Massachusetts should not be confused with "pardon" which latter function is not within the scope of the duties of his Board. The Parole Board has jurisdiction over inmates of the institutions at Concord, Charlestown, Sherburne, Bridgewater, Norwood and cases under treatment at the Juvenile Delinquency School. It is the endeavor of the Board to show lenience to those whose character, conduct and previous history indicate that they will react constructively when restored to normal social contacts. The speaker closed his address with an appeal to all parents to co-operate as closely as possible with public school teachers to the end that pupils may have the advantage of correct discipline during school hours.

Mr. Robart's address made a deep impression and we are indebted to him for information in a matter of public concern too little understood by our citizens.

Our regular meeting for next week will convene at 6:30 p. m. on Wednesday, Feb. 7 (note change of date). This will be a community meeting at which we shall entertain all Rotarian residents in Winchester and their guests, as well as former members of our club. Through the courtesy of Boston club officials we shall be able to present several well-known guides from the Sportsmen's Show in Boston. The main course will consist of venison and salmon from the north woods and streams. Stories of the northland, both short and tall, will be served and an evening of grand goodfellowship is in store for everyone present. Members should send in their reservations immedately. Don't miss this big meeting.

WINCHESTER WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

The Winchester Women's Republican Club is having a membership drive this week.

The purpose of this club shall be to broaden the understanding of the Republican aims in government and to support the best interests of state and nation.

Any person believing in the general principles of the Republican party and intending generally to support its candidates and to work for the interests of the club is eligible to membership. Meetings once a month including a social tea.

Active membership $1. Sustaining membership $5.

Send your annual dues which will continue to April 1941 to Mrs. C. F. Wolfe, treasurer, 19 Jefferson road, Winchester.

Any woman interested in joining the club come to our next meeting 2:30 p. m., Wednesday, Feb. 14 at Fortnightly Hall.

UNION LENTEN SERVICE

The Union Lenten Services, under the auspices of the Protestant Churches of Winchester, will begin Wednesday evening of this week at 7:45 in the First Baptist Church. The speakers and dates for the services are as follows:

Feb. 7, Dr. Fred Winslow Adams.
Feb. 14, Dr. Gaius Glenn Atkins.
Feb. 21, Dr. Raymond Calkins.
Feb. 28, Dr. Raymond Calkins.
March 6, Dr. Herbert Gezork.
March 13, Dr. Herbert Gezork.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following list of Contagious Diseases has been reported to the Board of Health for the week ending Thursday, Feb. 1:

Measles	1
Scarlet Fever	1
Dog Bite	1

WINCHESTER AGENCIES DEPEND ON FINAL FUND CONTRIBUTIONS

The final days of the Greater Boston Community Fund Drive are the cause of special effort being shown at the Winchester headquarters of the Drive in the Locatelli Building. Everyone of the 650 volunteer workers knows that these final days must bring success or failure to their conscientious efforts. The prominent Winchester agencies who are to participate in the Drive are dependent on the work of these hundreds of our fellow townspeople. Every resident of Winchester will benefit from the activity of these many workers.

Local Agencies Need Support

The local agencies which are vitally interested in the complete success of the Greater Boston as well as Winchester Drive are:

The Winchester Hospital
The Winchester Girl Scouts
The Winchester District, Fellsland Council Boy Scouts of America
The Winchester Visiting Nurse Association
The Home for Aged People in Winchester

As one of the agencies of the Greater Boston Drive, the Winchester Community Chest looks to the work of everyone of the thousands of workers in the metropolitan area to supply the necessary funds for our local welfare, health and social betterment institutions.

EPIPHANY PARISH HELD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting and supper of the Parish of the Epiphany was held at the church on Tuesday evening, with supper at 6:30 under the direction of Miss Eleanor Dow.

Rev. Dwight W. Hadley presided at the parish meeting which opened with the reading of the minutes of the last meeting by the parish clerk, Percy E. Gleason. Reports were made by the treasurer, Gerald Y. Hills; senior warden, Dr. Torr W. Harmer, who also spoke for the finance committee; and Dunbar F. Carpenter, who spoke as chairman of the property committee and also for the Miller Fund.

Officers were elected by ballot as follows:

Warden (2 years)—Dunbar F. Carpenter
Treasurer—Gerald Y. Hills
Clerk—Percy E. Gleason
Councilmen—W. D. Cutten, E. Phillips Walker, Dana M. Cotton, Robert H. Jewell
Delegates to Diocesan Convention—Walter H. Eddy, Robert H. Sibley, Charles M. Werby
Delegates to Arch Diocese Convention—Mrs. Francis E. Booth, Mrs. Donald Heath, Mrs. John Sharon

Reports were made by Gerald Y. Hills, president of the Church League; Mrs. Malcolm Nichols, Parish Welfare; Mrs. Warren Shoemaker, Tuesday Luncheon Group; Mrs. George M. Bryne, Altar Guild; Miss Ethel B. Davis, Church School; Gerald D. Curtis, Boy Scouts; Dana M. Cotton and Leonard Sherman, Young People's Fellowship; and Clarence Perkins, chairman of the Tower Building Committee.

The meeting voted to present the stone cross which has surmounted the front of the church since its construction to Rev. John W. Suter, Jr., son of the Epiphany's rector honorarius and himself rector of the Church of the Epiphany in New York City, to be used in his new church. This action was especially apropos and a pleasing to older members of the parish for the local Church of the Epiphany was built during the rectorship of the elder John W. Suter. The cross in question has to be taken down because of the new tower being built.

SOFT BALL LEAGUE ELECTS

The Winchester Soft Ball League held an organization meeting last Saturday at the home of Joseph J. Tansey on Canal street. Officers were elected as follows:

President—J. Mulford Olivier
Vice President—J. Joseph Tansey
Secretary—John J. O'Connell
Treasurer—G. Dwight Cabot

A league of six teams has been organized with games scheduled to commence Monday, May 13. Included in the league are the Economy Stores, Highland Flingers, Knights of Columbus, Park Department, Sons of Italy and the Ten Old Men.

The next meeting of the league will be held Monday evening, Feb. 5, at the Ski Club headquarters, corner of Main and Lake streets, commencing at 8 o'clock. All interested are urged to attend.

HAMLIN—RALLS

Mrs. Helen Sanborn Ralls, daughter of Mrs. Rena A. and the late Oren C. Sanborn, formerly of this town, and Edward Hamlin, Boston broker, were quietly married Tuesday in Boston by the Rev. Charles E. Park. Mrs. Rall's mother attended the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin left by airplane for their honeymoon, with the first stop to be New York City.

Mrs. Ralls, who has been making her home at 365 Beacon street, Boston, is a director of the Charlotte Cushing Club and secretary of the Winchester Horseshow Association. Mr. Hamlin is associated with the firm of Hayden, Stone & Co.

SALE OF ARTICLES MADE BY THE BLIND

The annual sale of articles made by the blind, sponsored by the Fortnightly and other church and civic organizations, will be held on April 4 and 5, in the Town Hall. Plans were formulated at a luncheon given by Mrs. Michael Hintlian, general chairman for the members of her committee, at her home on Jan. 18.

Remember the date, April 4 and 5. Make a list of the household and gift articles you need, and hold it until this sale presents a splendid opportunity for you to buy the most useful gifts at most reasonable prices.

"THROUGH THE BACK DOOR OF THE CIRCUS"

In Colored Movies

Even more interesting than the circus itself are the pictures and lecture, "Through the Back Door of the Circus," to be given by George Brinton Beals, in high school auditorium on Tuesday, Feb. 13, for the benefit of the Fortnightly Philanthropies. They reveal those events of circus day seldom seen by members of the audience.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE COURSE FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

The young people of Winchester are fortunate in having arranged a most unusual course of Vocational guidance which will start this Sunday at the First Congregational Church at 10:30 a. m. under the auspices of the Senior Forum.

The leadership of this course will be in the hands of the Guidance Department of the Boston Young Men's Christian Association. This department has won national reputation for its work.

The series is as follows:

Feb. 4—Building a Life Purpose. Speaker, Mr. Clifford Brown, executive secretary of the Boston Y. M. C. A.

Feb. 11—Educational Guidance . . . Shall we go to college? Speaker, Mr. Thomas Harris, Guidance Department.

Feb. 18—Vocational Guidance (using a special test). Speaker, Mr. Herbert Saul, Guidance Department.

Shall we continue our education? Why? What kind of schools are available? The reasons for choosing certain types of schools? What is the relation of our choice of schools to our future jobs? How can I know what kind of school or college I should choose?

How can I tell what kind of a job to prepare myself for? Are vocational guidance tests a help in finding out what I would be a success in? What shall I do when I am grown up and out of school? How can I tell if I have talent to do the thing I am most interested in?

These are a few of the things which will be discussed by the men during this course.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

MRS. JOSEPHINE SIGNORELLI

Mrs. Josephine Signorelli, wife of Andrew Signorelli of 68 Central avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., died Saturday afternoon, Dec. 27, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Salvatore Lentini, 44 Swanton street. She had come on from Brookline to Winchester to spend Christmas with her daughter and became ill during her visit.

Mrs. Signorelli was born in Italy, coming to this country as a young woman. She lived for some years in Winchester before moving to Brooklyn and had many friends in this town.

Besides her husband and Mrs. Lentini, she leaves another daughter in Winchester, Mrs. Beatrice Lentini; two brothers, Gaspare and Rocco Moceri, both of Niagara Falls, N. Y.; 14 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the Lentini residence with solemn high mass of requiem in St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

MRS. HATTIE F. HALL

Mrs. Hattie F. Hall widow of Clarence E. Hall, died late Saturday afternoon, Jan. 27, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. I. E. Gamage, 7 Bacon street. She was 81 years old.

Mrs. Hall, a native of Appleton, Me., was for many years a resident of Rockland, Me., and during the 22 years she had made her home with her daughter in Winchester, had spent her summers in that state.

Her husband died 25 years ago, and besides Mrs. Gamage, she leaves a son, Matthew W. Hall, a grandson, Hall B. Gamage, and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Wilson Funeral Home in Somerville, with Rev. George Hale Reed, minister of the Unitarian Church, officating. Final interment will be in Acorn Cemetery, Rockland, Me.

WILLLIAM J. CASSIDY

William J. Cassidy, father of Sergt. Thomas F. Cassidy and Patrolman William E. Cassidy of the Police Department died Sunday night, Jan. 28, at Sergeant Cassidy's home, 38 Lebanon street, after a short illness that followed a long period of declining health.

Mr. Cassidy, who was 85, was a native of County Roscommon, Ireland. As a young man he came to this country and for the past 60 years had been a resident of Winchester, having a wide circle of friends. During his active life he was employed as a teamster by Parker & Lane Co., local coal dealers; and was also a member of the town's highway department, retiring 12 years ago. He was a members of Winchester Court, Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters and of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Parish.

Mr. Cassidy was married 53 years ago on Thanksgiving Eve, his wife, the former Catherine McCraven, having died Dec. 28, 1932. Besides his sons in Winchester, he leaves a son, James H. Cassidy of Boston; a brother, Patrick Cassidy of Roslindale; a sister, Mrs. Bernard McGarry of Jamaica Plain; and four grandchildren.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the late residence with requiem high mass in St. Mary's Church, Rev. Fr. Joseph P. Mahoney was celebrant. Five members of the Police Department, Lieut. Edward W. O'Connell and Patrolmen Henry P. Dempsey, John H. Boyle, John J. Hogan and James F. Noonan were bearers, with Postal Carrier Joseph E. O'Connor, retired.

Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

MRS. MARY A. MUNROE

Mrs. Mary A. Munroe, widow of Alexander Munroe, died early Wednesday morning at her home, 248 Cross street, after a month's illness.

Mrs. Munroe was the daughter of George D., and Nancy (Porter) Nelson. She was born in Burlington 71 years ago, but came with her parents to Winchester when she was a year old and had since made her home here, receiving her education in the Winchester schools and having a wide circle of friends among older residents of the town.

Mrs. Munroe's husband died last September. She leaves a daughter, Miss Margaret C. Munroe; a son, Roderick A. Munoe, and two grandchildren, all of this town. Also surviving are three brothers, Michael and Neil Nelson of Winchester, and George Nelson of Woburn.

The funeral was held this Friday morning from the late residence with requiem high mass celebrated in the Immaculate Conception Church. Interment was in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery.

MISS AVERY'S LECTURE

"The British Empire" at Home and Abroad, and Its Chances for Survival as a Naval Power," is Eunice Harriet Avery's subject for the eighth lecture in her Winchester series, to be given on Wednesday, Feb. 7 at 2:30 p. m. in the Wyman School hall. This series is sponsored by the Wincheter Smith College Club for the benefit of its scholarship fund.

Ushers for this lecture will be Mrs. Clarence P. Whorf, Mrs. Robert Jennings and Mrs. Warren A. Maynard Mrs. Geoffrey C. Neiley, chairman of the committee for the lectures, and Mrs. Richard Parkhurst will be at the ticket table.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLES ACTIVITIES

Last Sunday evening in the Baptist Church the young people held an inspiring meeting led by Mr. William Palson. Miss Mary Warren, attending Gordon College spoke on the theme, "Where your treasure is there will your heart be also."

Great enthusiasm was experienced by the members of the group who were a part of the 2000 people attending the Baptist Convocation in Malden on Tuesday evening, Jan. 30.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

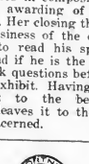

The Winchester Garden Club met Thursday, Jan. 25, with Mrs. Torr W. Harmer as hostess and Mrs. Ralph T. Damon as pourer. Spring bouquets and light pink roses blended harmoniously with the day's program.

Committee reports were given and the president, Miss Mary Alice Fitch, read a letter from the president of the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Julia C. Richards. This related to "Open House" at headquarters at Horticultural Hall, March 11 to 16. Mrs. Herbert T. West was appointed by the president to represent the club at the Conference Luncheon of the Trustees of Public Reservations, Jan. 31, at the Parker House.

Mrs. Reginald C. Robinson, a past president of the club, spoke on "Flower Show Exhibiting." Mrs. Robinson said the first consideration in planning a Garden Show is to have a purpose in mind—is it to be a show to emphasize horticultural excellence, flower arrangement or both. The plan for a number of classes that a judge can reasonably manage as the more classes there are, the more judges are necessary. There should be specific rules and regulations to govern exhibits. Proper invitations should be sent to judges including the plan of the show and a copy of the rules and specifications which they and the exhibitors are to be governed. Mrs. Robinson gave an illuminating definition of arrangement and collection, two words very much misunderstood: collection, meaning a presentation of a number of perfection exhibits; arrangement, when the exhibits are artistically or symetrically placed. Exhibits shown to demonstrate a judge's ruling.

The speaker suggested a reminder when exhibiting—a bud is considered a flower when it shows the slightest suggestion of color; also, if a rule calls for foliage, an attached seed pod would cause its disqualification as a seed pod is considered a fruit. It was interesting to hear that changing the water level we raise or lower the effect of an exhibit; also in a niche arrangement we can produce an effect of increase in size in relation to space by moving an exhibit either backward or forward.

Mrs. Robinson, a brilliant speaker, presented her subject in a constructive way, bringing out the points of arrangements in regard to fruit or flowers, errors in composition, receptacles used, awarding of prizes and scale values. Her closing thought was; it is the business of the exhibitor to take time to read his specifications carefully and if he is the least bit in doubt, to ask questions before he prepares his exhibit. Having completed his exhibit to the best of his ability, he leaves it to the judgment of those concerned.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The Literature Group will meet in Fortnightly Hall on Monday, Feb. 5, at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Myrtie Hodge will speak on "Sermons and Sermonizing," Mrs. Blanche Barnard on "Lectures as a Literary Form," Mrs. Maybelle Long will review "Kitty Foyle" and Mrs. Mann will discuss "The Ark and the Dove."

Did you know that Fortnightly has been invited to hold its next regular meeting in the new Masonic quarters, up over Hevey's drug store? Read the announcement in your Fortnightly News as to why, how, when and where. The program is to be on, Australia, a thoroughly different subject, in an entirely different setting. Sounds interesting, doesn't it. Be sure to attend, and make up your mind whether you prefer which hall and why!

LIONS NOTES

The last regular meeting for January was held Monday at Fred's, climaxing a very successful month and supplying a powerful incentive for Lionism in the months to come. Those few members who were regularly absent missed some very interesting discussions. The genuine enthusiasm shown by the majority who have attended is to be commended and it is hoped that with each succeeding meeting their interest will increase.

In the interest of those who find it difficult or impossible to attend on Monday noon, the suggestion was made by Tom Woods to inaugurate a stagger system for holding the weekly meetings. Under this arrangement the meetings would be held alternately at 12:15 and early evening at 6 p. m.

In accordance with this motion the next meeting will be held on Thursday evening, Feb. 8, at 6 p. m. sharp at Fred's. At this meeting motion pictures of a very unusual nature will be shown, and a few items of interest will be discussed among which is the possibility of a Valentine's Party. It is hoped therefore, that beside those who regularly attend, those for whom this meeting was particularly arranged, will be present.

A very amusing incident occurred at Monday's meeting when one of the members, Tommy Woods by the way, questioned the inactivity of the Lion Tamer. President Garvey, sensing Tommy's deep interest in this honorable office immediately appointed him to fill it. Don't question the jurisdiction of this Lion Tamer for it is the general opinion that Tommy will not be dormant. In fact he intimidated that as the occasions arise he will growl and roar for the benefit of the fund. So, beware. Watch your time and your pin or there will be a new march of dimes.

The question arose Monday in regards to the rank of a physician on entering the army. Is he a lieutenant commander or a left hand commodore? A solution to this warmly debated subject would be deeply appreciated by Doc. Emery. It is assumed that any suggestions from Doc. McManus would not be favorably received.

FRANCIS R. MULLIN PRESIDENT

The Boston College Club of the Mystic Valley was formed at a meeting held in St. Charles Catholic Center Hall, Woburn, on Thursday evening, Jan. 25. Approximately 50 alumni and students attending the organization meeting at which officers were elected and a program for the year drawn up.

President—Francis R. Mullin, '00, Winchester

1st Vice President—Edward J. O'Connor, '21, Woburn

2nd Vice President—Jerome J. Lynch, '34, Woburn

Secretary—Allan E. Rosche, '40, Woburn

Treasurer—Charles David Kimball, Woburn

Directors—Rev. Harold F. McDermott, '23, Woburn; Rev. Andrew J. White, '09, Wilmington; Raymond E. Underwood, '39, Winchester

Chaplain—Rev. Charles P. Heaney, '92, Woburn

The next meeting of the club will be held on Thursday, Feb. 8, at 8 p. m. in St. Charles Catholic Center Hall, Woburn. Alumni or students of the college who are not at present on the club's mailing list and wish to join should contact President Mullin at 336 Main street, Winchester.

FLORIDA NOT SO BALMY

Numerous Winchester people who are in Florida and other southern states have begun to wonder if they were wise this year in seeking southern climes to escape the cold usually prevalent here. John A. McLean, who is enjoying (?) his first winter in Florida with Mrs. McLean, writes that they are experiencing freezing weather right along at St. Petersburg. His townspeople, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Coffin, who have now become old winter residents of Florida, are amazed at the cold weather. Mr. and Mrs. Erskine White, who left town anticipating balmy weather for a month, write that they made a decided mistake in not including their usual heavy winter clothes in their wardrobe.

WASHINGTON-HIGHLAND MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The February meeting of the Mothers' Association will be held Tuesday, Feb. 6, at 2:15 p. m. in the assembly hall of the Washington School.

Miss Ferguson and Mr. Ekman will furnish the music. The speaker will be Mrs. Noah Lewis of the Judge Baker Guidance Center. Her subject will be "How Children's Adjustments at Home Affect Their Adjustments at School."

Refreshments will be served by the social committee. Children will be cared for in the kindergarten room.

Red Cross work is still being done on Tuesday mornings, sewing at Red Cross Headquarters; knitting at the school.

FIRE DEPARTMENT HELPED AT WOBURN FIRE

Winchester's fire department was among the many that assisted the Woburn department in fighting the big fire that destroyed the old Cummings Leather plant at Conn and Fowle streets in that city on Tuesday.

Woburn Box 451 came in at 2:15, Engine 3 and the Chief's car responding. The Winchester piece was stationed on Conn street near the railroad crossing the lumber yard with two lines in action. Many spoke highly of the efficiency with which the local department went about its work. The men returned to quarters at 530.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The regular meeting of the Winchester Historical Society will be held on Thursday, Feb. 8, at the public library at 8 o'clock. The speaker will be Mrs. Margaret Louise Wood, whose subject will be "Romance of Old Whaling Days."

Mrs. Wood tells of New England's thrilling and picturesque whaling era from early Colonial times until the Civil War period. Narratives and yarns of humor and tragedy from the South Seas to the Arctic regions are vividly related about the ships which sailed from Nantucket and New Bedford. Glimpses of modern whaling and current events are given.

In her lecture the speaker appears in a costume which was worn by her great-aunt who went to sea with her whaling-captain husband.

An unusual collection of family scrimshaw (carved whale's teeth and bone), a scale model of the "Charles W. Morgan," a fully equipped whale boat, harpoons, and pictures illustrate the whaling talks.

A cordial invitation is extended to all residents of Winchester to attend this meeting.

AIDED COMMUNITY FUND

After a month of strenuous effort on behalf of the Community Fund campaign of Greater Boston as a worker in the radio division at fund headquarters, Miss Marjorie H. Dickson of this town will return Feb. 5 to the comparative quiet of the Endicott Junior College campus at Prides Crossing where she is a freshman.

While Miss Dickson, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Dickson of Oxford street, was working for the fund and the many organizations it supports, she was also enlarging the scope of her own experience in the field of her major college interests, advertising and personnel.

This opportunity for vocational apprenticeship is extended by Endicott to all its students and is correlated with their curricular activities.

WINCHESTER SKI CLUB

Enjoys Week-End in Eastern Slope Region

The Winchester Ski Club spent its first club week-end of the season at the Headlands in Intervale, N. H. Its members and friends found good skiing on the Cranmore slope Saturday afternoon. That night part of the group enjoyed some fast skiing on the lighted slope of Spruce Mountain in Jackson.

Sunday, all agreed on Cranmore until the crowd from the snow train arrived when they quickly returned to Spruce Mountain and still found good fast snow and plenty of open space for practise.

Such enthusiasm was shown that we are all looking forward to more week-ends now being arranged. These trips will take us into various ski regions of the north country.

WINCHESTER LOST AT STONEHAM

Winchester High dropped into fifth place in the Middlesex League standing as the result of its 31—22 defeat by Stoneham High at Stoneham on Tuesday afternoon. The Winchester seconds won the preliminary game, 26—23.

The locals made a game of it during the first quarter, being only a point behind at the end of that time, 7—8. Stoneham's lead at the half was 17—11, and the victors ran this advantage to nine points during the last two periods.

Orsillo of Stoneham, with nine points, led both teams in scoring. McEwen and DeTeso each had seven points to tie for local scoring honors. Coon paced the victorious second team with 11 points, scored on five floor goals and one shot from a free try.

PLAYS AT BATES

INJURED AS CARS COLLIDE

Sunday afternoon at 5:15 a Plymouth coupe, driven west on Foxcroft road by Frederick S. Lang of 5 New Meadows road, was in collision while crossing Wedgemere avenue with a Pontiac sedan, headed south on Wedgemere avenue and owned by the Riverside Fuel Corp. of Riverside avenue, Medford.

Both machies were damaged and Phyllis Lindberg of 26 Fletcher street, a passenger in the Plymouth, complained of injuries. She was taken to the office of Dr. Philip H. McManus.

MORTGAGE PAID

The suggestion in the January 19 edition of the Winchester Star, that the churches of Winchester accept the proposition of the Massachusetts Baptist Convention to pay off the mortgage which they hold on the church for colored people in Winchester, amounting to (principal and interest) $2,080.00, as of February 1, 1940, for the sum of $1,600.00, has met with the following response, as outlined in the detailed report below:

First Congregational Church Methodist Church	$ 75.00
*Christian Science Church
The Rotary Club	242.00
Result of concert in the Town Hall, Jan. 25	73.75

The balance, $1,209.25 was paid without solicitation by 37 public-spirited men and women of every church in Winchester.

THE MORTGAGE WAS PAID JANUARY 31ST.

*The Christian Science Church was not permitted, under their rules and regulations, to contribute as an organization, but members of the church were glad to contribute individually.

LEWIS PARKHURST

READING STILL UNBEATEN

Reading's defeat of Concord at Concord Tuesday afternoon enabled the Middlesex League pace-makers to maintain their unbeaten status at the top of the circuit, their win being their eighth straight.

Winchester's defeat at the hands of Stoneham dropped the locals a notch in the standing, behind Lexington and Belmont, both of which teams have won a single game more than Winchester with the same number of losses. Stoneham by defeating Winchester strengthened its hold on second place, six points behind Reading.

Tonight Winchester goes to Wakefield for a game with Wakefield High, currently holding down the league cellar. Winchester ought to win this one, but Wakefield, with Conroy back in the lineup and on its own floor will not be as soft a touch as many might suppose.

The locals are about due for a brace and resumption of their early season form after dropping their last two games. They will, however, have to play ball to win tonight. Following is the league standing:

	won	lost	pts
Reading	8	0	16
Stoneham	5	2	10
Lexington	4	4	8
Belmont	4	4	8
Winchester	3	4	6

WINCHESTER LOST TO LEXINGTON

Another upset in the Middlesex League basketball series was recorded last Friday evening when Lexington High won a hair-line 30—29 victory over Winchester in the local gymnasium. The Lexington jay-vees also won by a single point over the Winchester seconds, 20—19.

The locals went outo the floor last Friday without their shooting eyes. At that they held a 17—15 advantage over Lexington at half time. With the resumption of play Winchester maintained its lead until the very final minute when three goals in quick succession gave Lexington the game by a single point.

The defeat dropped the locals from a two-way tie for second place to fourth in the league standing. The summary:

SCOUT EXHIBITION WILL WITNESS OVER 1000 BOYS AT MEDFORD ARMORY

The eighth annual Fellsland Council, Boy Scouts of America, Exposition and Rally, will be held this year at the Medford Armory on Feb. 10, between 2 and 10 p. m. The Exposition will be held on the final day of the national observance of Boy Scout Week, and will have about 1000 boys from Medford, Winchester, Woburn, Stoneham and Burlington, participating in the Rally events and demonstrations of about 45 merit badge subject booths.

Chairman Bill Jones of the program committee plans something different this year, by erecting a stage at the far end of the Armory for the presentation of a monster stage show, at both afternoon and evening performances, consisting of comedy and musical selections. The Troop 2 orchestra will play and special electric effects and a public address system will be installed by Dick Fredericks.

It is also planned by the committee to hold the semifinals of the council wide marathon contest of Scouting activities in the afternoon and the finals of these six events on the stage at night. The prizes for these events and the presentation of several Eagle Badges will be awarded by some well known public official to be announced at a later date.

The tickets for the occasion have been distributed to sell to all Troops in the County and the response has been most encouraging.

The motto for the Exposition will be "Let's go Everybody." Something doing for young and old, afternoon and evening for the most elaborate presentation of Scouting activities in the history of Medford and Fellsland Council Boy Scouts.

O. E. S.

The 187th stated meeting of Winchester Chapter Order of Eastern Star will be held in Masonic Apartments Monday evening, Feb. 5, at 5:30 o'clock—note change of time.

PENNY BAZAAR BY TROOP 11 OF GIRL SCOUTS

A penny bazaar will be given Monday afternoon, Feb. 5 from 3 until 5 o'clock in Metcalf Hall at the Unitarian Church by Troop 11 of the Girl Scouts.

There will be dancing and numerous midway attractions including a snake charmer, a wild man, a swimming match, fortune teller and a fish pond. While these may not be entirely authentic they are guaranteed to furnish entertainment.

Other booths will offer Valentines, place cards, novelties and other bits of Girl Scout handiwork at penny prices.

A food sale will offer cookies and candy while hamburgers will be available for consumption on the premises.

The bazaar is for the purpose of raising funds to defray the expenses of one or more Winchester girls at the Girl Scout camp this summer.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The annual legislative luncheon of the League will be held on Friday, Feb. 16 at the Winchester Country Club. The meeting will begin at 10:30 with a talk on "Labor Relations" and the subject for the afternoon meeting will be "Trade Agreements" with the speakers to be announced next week. Mrs. Joseph Worthen is in charge of the luncheon arrangements.

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

The History study group will meet on Monday, Feb. 5, at 9:30 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Arthur Gates, 237 Highland avenue for further study of European conditions since the Versailles Treaty.

The Music study group has voted to continue four more times, the next meeting to be held on Thursday, Feb. 8, at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. W. L Davis, 3 Central green. Other dates are Feb. 29, March 14 and March 28, the place of meeting to be announced.,

The next meeting of the Architecture study group will be at the Winchester Public Library, Feb. 9, at 10 a. m. Mrs. Howard A. Morrison is chairman of the committee who will present the program. Mrs. Bertram A. Albro will discuss Charleston, S. C., Mrs. George R. Ferguson will talk on the restoration of Williamsburg, Va., Mrs. John L. Lobingier will speak on the architectural ideas of Thomas Jefferson as exemplified at Monticello and the University of Virginia and Mrs. Morrison will take up the subject of the James River Plantations. Lantern slides will be used to illustrate. On Friday, Feb. 23, the group will meet at the American Rooms in the Museum of Fine Arts. Miss Mead of the library has been most helpful to the members of the study group in procuring special reference books and in arranging a table of books for their use.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore C. Browne of 37 Calumet road will entertain the Evening study group at their home on Monday evening, Feb. 5; coffee will be served at 7:30. Mr. and Mrs. Browne will also be chairmen of the program committee, who will discuss "Highlights of the Bright Lights of Broadway."

Mr. Browne will speak of his former experiences in the producing field at the time of the first World War. After five years under Prof. Baker at Harvard, Mr. Browne had three years of professional experience, including one season as stage manager of the Boston Grand Opera and of Anna Pavlova. His particular interest was in the technical development of the stage in the United States and in Europe. At that time Stanislowski of the Moscow Art Theatre, the Deutsche Theatre and the Lessing Theatre in Berlin were working out new types which were comparable to nothing in this country. Mr. Browne felt that Americans should not copy German methods but work out their own technique adapted to the theatre of the road which would carry the cultural experience of the stage from New York to San Francisco; and what we have today is a fusion of German technique and the straight attempt of reality of the old Belasco theatre, a revolution from both into something typically American and of great vitality.

Several plays of the current season will be discussed by other members of the group. Mrs. Jameson S. Slocum will speak of "Mamba's Daughters," Mrs. Robert Drake will review "John Henry," and Mr. Wayne E. Davis will talk on "The Man Who Came to Dinner," "Skylark," "The Way We Live," and "Male Animal."

NEED

By Mona Moulton

If you should sing to me alone
The songs I want to hear,
If you should look deep in my eyes
Ah, they could tell you Dear.

My words have vanished, gone away
Your lovely notes of song
Are joyous threads of life today
They carry me along

A little way, against your heart
Ah Love, I want no choice
I need no words, no dream apart
I need your voice.

TELEPHONE NUMBER 0029

We received a visit from John Roosevelt, son of the President, last week. John is to manage the new Filene store opening here in the Locatelli Building March 1. He is a very nice, pleasant young man, and will undoubtedly make a most favorable Winchester contact for his firm. Polities were not discussed and John agreed that our editorials are wholly one side from the business situation. We are glad to welcome to Winchester both Filene's and John Roosevelt. Winchester, in our opinion, is one of the best towns in the State, and we trust he and his new store will have no occasion to decide otherwise.

Under the high sounding titles including Contributory Report and Unemployment Compensation, we started off the bright new year of 1940 in the customary fashion this week—by pouring into the New Deal Milk Fund the little sum of $185.95. This included not only the usual so-called Social Security payments, but another fine under the title of Payroll Excise Tax. In other words we are fined several times for the milk fund. Our only hope is that after we pay our bills now due, we have made this sum and may thus keep out of jail. This is our penalty for hiring eight people and thus joining the one-third of the country classed as 'royal economists. Whether we will be able to do our bit and help this great New Deal out for the rest of the year or not is problematical. And the milking of America will go merrily on.

AND SO PORK GOES ITS WAY

The interest in our Sunday morning breakfasts is gratifying, especially when they are so generously donated, but gentlemen, don't you think that we eat anything except pork? With Sunday morning's breakfast well under control, what did we find last Saturday but another donation at our door from John McManus! John explained himself thusly:

Dear Mr. Wilson:

With no desire to detract from the glorification of any product of a neighbor State—but rather just to make sure that you and my friend "Doc" Hindes do not run short Sunday morning at breakfast, I am taking the liberty of presenting you with a supply of Arlington Sausage. (Our mutual friend Charles C. Smith says any more will cost you 35c a pound, Harris Richardson agrees).

There is a limit to the supply of Vermont sausage anyway and I would not want any such limitation to spoil your matutinal enjoyment.

Vermont sausage merely cause one to break into poetry, but Arlington sausage surely does make the rafters ring with cries for more.

And, the three jolly little pigs, named quality, freshness and flavor who will further add to your meal's enjoyment, must have heard about your breakfast engagement, even though their home was a way out in Indiana, because they hurriedly left their places in Indiana Piggy Glee Club Monday of this week and after reaching for a last snout full of golden kernels of corn, hopped the Squire Special Piggy Pullman for the East, where Thursday they sang their last song before passing into Piggy Paradise, and on Friday went through the last ground-up and entered into the only Piggy Heaven, Arlington Sausage.

The best is none too good for you and your friends.

Sincerely,
John H. McManus

Well! Well! So we augmented the Vermont sausage meat which Theodore Atkinson contributed, with Squire's little pig sausages. Being diplomatic we will simply remark in passing that both were delicious. So was the corn bread. And we missed you John.

And now gentlemen, we are willing to rest on our laurels and let the little pigs gambol for a few Sundays while we do a little further exploring in the field of a more varied menu. Haddock roe, we note, is still in the market, and with some of George Fowler's Beechnut hickory smoked bacon, is very delicious. So far as lamb kidneys and scratched eggs go, there seems a clear field, for we fail to note thus far any attempt to specialize in this dish provided the cook has the right ideas and skill. We are looking forward to the contribution of brother-in-law Bill Lindsley, ex-mayor of Burlington and poo-bah of Gardner, Me. Bill runs a box factory we might remark in passing, and his smelt package is a thing of beauty, especially with its contents of two dozen nine-inch fish, head to tail, and all selected from a fresh Kennebec catch. When this tidbit arrives a feeling comes with it which is the nearest to Sunday morning satisfaction attainable. Not having been to the Cape lately, our own special dish of friend Cotuit oysters has been lacking, but that is something in reserve which we may look forward to. Of course we get so many of those superb Peterboro eggs, that sometimes we wonder if we half appreciate them.

But seriously, John, we are commencing to imagine that the Little Woman has enjoyed sufficient pork for a minute or two, if we may judge by her desire as expressed recently to the effect that she wished we would interest some of these kind gentlemen in turkey—or say roast beef. So we thank you one and all, and if there are any special brands of turkey or roast beef you are proud of, we feel sure the Little Woman will be overjoyed to contribute her expert opinion as to quality and flavor. You may skip the coming Sunday. Among other items we are enjoying on this occasion is some of Irving and Myra Plitt's New York State honey, and we understand that the menu, aside from this feature, will depend more upon cullinary art than exceptional ingredients. So thanks for the whirl. We'll be seeing you.

THE ECONOMY BLOCK

"President Roosevelt asked Congress today to appropriate 35 million dollars to meet added or unanticipated expenses of government agencies during the current fiscal year."

"At the same time he asked an amendment to the relief act to permit the WPA to spend more than 50 million dollars for administrative expenses."

An aggitation is underway to raise the national debt limit. Whether this move will meet success at this time or not is problematical. Experts (?) it is said, are agreed that the limit may be safely raised.

"After three hours, Lewis related, the delegation went away woozy in the head, just like the good woman who is secretary of labor. Lewis remarked that he believed Miss Perkins would make a good housekeeper, but I don't think she knows any more about the economic problems of this country than a Hottentot does about the moral law."

A CALL FOR ACTION

To the Editor of the Star:

The dark shadow cast upon the family of an outstanding employee of Winchester has saddened the entire community. This has deepened with the realization that no help can be expected from the pension and retirement fund and system in which Winchester participates. In many respects the system is good but in this case it amounts to nothing.

Had the man who is gone been employed in a private industry under the protection of Social Security his widow and children under 18 would now be in receipt of allowances amounting to $83.20 a month. As it is all that comes their way from the treasury is one lump payment of about $80. After that the account is closed finally and forever.

A man whose entire working life, except for a year or so, has been spent in the service of the town, leaves a widow and young children to face a grim future. It is not enough to say "This is just too bad." Should not adequate action be taken?

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Is It Because

To the Editor of the Press Herald:

Mr. Ickes and Ambassador Kennedy say they think President Roosevelt should have a third term. Is it because he made one a cabinet minister and the other ambassador to the most important post in the diplomatic service? Is it because he has spent and wasted more of the people's money than all of the other president's put together? Is it because he has piled up the greatest national debt of all time, making the annual interest on it greater than was the total national debt in 1914? Is it because his administration holds the all time record for the number of labor strikes, agitation, labor lawlessness and unrest?

Is it because he has maintained a lopsided administration, favoring one part of the people, oppressing the other; encouraging the six-hour-a-day laborer, discouraging the sixteen-hour a day toiling administrator of little and big business—this honest laborer who has made America great, endowed its universities and colleges, founded its charities, paid its scientists and given employment?

Is it because he had accepted the credit and won a reputation for speeches written for him by somebody else? Is it because his administration has deliberately planned to deceive the people by tricky bookkeeping, budgetary sleight of hand, to make it appear that the President plans economizing when in truth the largest spending program in New Deal history is contemplated,

Is it because he has given our laborers, according to his own words, the greatest sweat they ever had? He said Oct. 19, 1932, "Taxes are paid by the sweat of every man who labors . . . Our workers may never see a tax bill, but they pay in deductions from wages, in increased costs of what they buy or in cessation in employment."

Is it because he holds an all time record for the number of Federal commissions and bureaus, and has cluttered up the departments with a throng of employes 12,000 more in number than President Wilson had at the peak of the World War?

Is it because he is the champion oppressor of the poor because he has burdened them with ever increasing taxes which they must pay? Is it because his monetary policies have done more harm and less good than any ever inaugurated by this Country? Is it because he is the pampered son of an "economic royalist" and never knew the value of money or the meaning of thrift?

Is it because he has appointed to high administrative positions impractical men, many of them of much knowledge but no wisdom, men who have wasted the people's money in stupid experiments? Is it because he tried to wreck the Supreme Court and appointed to that high tribunal two men of mediocre legal ability, one an ex-member of the Ku Klux Klan, the other a governor who supported a lawless mob that seized and held private property and threatened to destroy it if put out; sided with the lawless against the law abiding, against the Supreme Court of his state?

Is it because he holds the record over all presidents for broken promises? The President said in a speech on Sept. 29, 1932, "I shall use this position of high responsibility to discuss up and down the Country, in all seasons, at all times the duty of reducing taxes. I regard the reduction of Federal spending . . . the most direct and effective contribution that government can make to business." October 21, the same year, he said in a speech at St. Louis, "It is my pledge and promise that rigid government economy shall be enforced by a stern and unremitting administration policy of living within our income."

Is it because his administration is spending twice as much as it earns, because the people pay $2,000,000,000 a year more for taxes than for rent, $500,000,000 more than for food? Is it because his administration issued millions of dollars in bonds, payable in "United States gold coin of the present standard of value," and later repudiated that covenant to the shame and disgrace of the country? Is it because his administration has piled deficit upon deficit, has spent its energy in devising new taxation instead of new economies?

Is it because he is heading the Government to bankruptcy according to his own words, for he said, "If the Government extends its taxing to the limit of the people's power to pay and continues to pile up deficits, it is on the road to bankruptcy? Is it because he paid foreign producers to raise wheat and beef for us and paid Americans not to? Is it because he paid our farmers to destroy food when, according to his own words, millions of our people were undernourished, underfed and too poor to buy food? Confucius, the great Chinese sage, told the people to build storehouses to store food in time of plenty to feed the people in time of famine.

Is it because the New Deal, which should be called the Old Deal because all its stupid experiments have been tried and discredited long ago, has held this Country behind every other great nation in recovery? Is it because Mr. Roosevelt, after seven years experimenting with the people's money, still holds the all-time record of the number of the nations unemployed?

The kind of President this Country needs is to get it out of the mess Franklin D. Roosevelt has made is exemplified by him of common sense who said, "I favor the policy of economy, not because I wish to save money, but because I wish to save people. The men and women of this Country who toil are the ones who bear the cost of government. Every dollar we carelessly waste means that their lives will be so much the more meager. Every dollar that we prudently save means that their lives will be so much the more abundant. Economy is idealism in the most practical form." Thus spoke Calvin Coolidge.

The people of this Country having been toyed with, flimflammed and deceived, will never elect Franklin Deficit Roosevelt for a third term.

A BIT OF NATURE IN THE CELLAR

(The following article by School Committeeman Robert F. Lybeck of Everell road appeared in the February issue of The American Home Magazine. It should prove interesting to nature lovers, landscape enthusiasts and all who are interested in beautifying their homes.)

The idea of a naturalistic garden pool and waterfall in the cellar may sound fantastic. However, as I sit here and write, only a few feet away the water is tumbling eagerly over the rocks singing the song of a mountain brook. The spray throws glistening diamonds on the ferns and moss along the edges. Goldfish swim lazily, but happily, to and fro in the pool. The violets and lilies-of-the-valley seem to rejoice in their new-found home, and the cedar and the juniper are content.

When we built our home 12 years ago, cellar recreation or game rooms were in their infancy. Many times we discussed the advisability of converting our cellar into such a room, but not until a year ago did we arrive at a decision to proceed. Immediately we came face to face with a problem: what to do with a partially excavated portion, directly under the sunroom, windowless and separated from the main cellar by a 20-inch high concrete wall. It had become, as happens in many cellars, a dumping ground for the usual odds and ends, lumber, pipes, cement bags, discards of every description.

Suddenly came an idea, why not an indoor garden? A hurried search of available literature yielded little that would be helpful to a beginner. The several horticulturists consulted were most discouraging, pointing out that the provision of sufficient sunlight and satisfactory humidity control would be difficult problems. However, fools rush in where angels fear to tread. A clean-up of the accumulated debris yielded much that could be used, such as old bags of cement, now granite-like.

On the south and east we broke through the foundation walls and set in two cellar sashes for light. The hardened cement bags were piled in a corner to provide the elevation for the waterfall. Then we excavated a section seven by six feet and 14 inches deep. At one end of this we sank a four foot length of 18-inch tile as a blind well for draining the pool. Concrete six inches thick, reinforced with old furnace grate bars, was poured into the excavation to form the bottom of the pool. For the sloping sides, four-inch walls were poured, reinforced with wire lath and chicken wire. Presto! Our pool was finished. Then as a foundation for the waterfall, we constructed an irregular flight of three concrete stens. A three-inch lip was attached to each edge of the stairs and the risers to retain the water.

By this time October had arrived, which meant that we should have to hurry to collect the moss, ferns, and evergreens needed for our "landscaping." Fortunately a close friend owns a 200 acre wood lot not far away, abounding in stone walls and ledges and possessing even a swamp and a lively brook. A week end of scouting from dawn till dusk yielded many lichen-clad and moss-capped stones. Also we were lucky enough to find several water-struck rocks to use in the cascade. Of ferns and ground moss, abundant in the swamp, we secured several basketfuls and we also unearthed several moss-covered cedar logs.

Many enjoyable hours were spent arranging the rocks on the margin and in the pool, trying to achieve a naturalistic setting. Finally, with the spreading of a few pails of washed pebbles for the bottom of the pool, none of the concrete was in evidence.

Black loam mixed with peat moss was spread to form our "forest floor" and the evergreens (cedars, junipers, and pines) were set in and kept wet for several days. The ferns and moss were planted helter-skelter.

I must not forget to describe our method of supplying water for the fall. Partly because of the city water rates, but primarily because in the winter water from the mains is very cold and we wanted to try growing lilies, we decided to re-circulate the water from the pool. A reinforced concrete box several inches deep was built in the bottom of the pool and connected with it by a 1-inch pipe. Next we obtained a second hand 1 ½ HP motor, previously used in a refrigerator unit, and a trip to a dealer who specializes in dismantling automobiles yielded a water pump which we connected directly to the motor by means of a flexible canvas coupling. A disearded gasoline hose from a service station pump is the water supply line from the pump to the top of the waterfall, and the whole unit is carefully concealed with rocks, peat moss, and ferns. It gives an uninterrupted supply of 40 gallons per minute at a cost equal to that of burning a good-size electric light bulb.

To complete our setting, we covered an iron column that supports an overhead beam with birch bark stripped from a few fireplace logs; a stone wall was painted on the concrete retaining wall, and thus "our little bit of nature in the cellar" was made.

The room adjoining our garden is much like many other cellar rooms, furnished with wicker furniture, a glider, a grass rug on the floor, and of course a Ping-pong table which provides so much enjoyment for all.

Now, the crowd, whether it be the Girl Scout troop, daughters gang from college, mother's bridge club, or dad's committee, gathers in the garden room in the cellar. All ages are enthusiastic and we feel that our many hours of work and planning, besides being really joyful hours, were not spent in vain.

The City of London

England's capital city of London, unlike most other great cities of the world, has no centralized government. The metropolis is divided into several areas, oldest of which is the city of London, ruled by the city corporation, a municipal body which clings to ancient customs and traditions. Although the city of London is but a small area, some of England's greatest commercial institutions are located there.

Law of Diminishing Returns

In economics the law of diminishing returns is applied to the observed fact or law that in any given state of the arts an increase of labor or capital applied beyond a certain point, as in cultivation of land, causes a less than proportionate increase in the production from the unit to which the additional labor or capital is applied.

"Love" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, Feb. 4.

The Golden Text is: "The love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us" (Romans 5:5).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen? And this commandment have we from him, That he who loveth God love his brother also" (I John 4:20, 21).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "With one Father, even God, the whole family of man would be brethren; and with one Mind and that God, or good, the brotherhood of man would consist of Love and Truth, and have unity of Principle and spiritual power which constitute divine Science." (pp. 468, 470).

BETHANY NOTES

The calendar supper given by the ladies of the Bethany Society of the Second Congregational Church last Thursday evening was as delicious and attractive as had been promised.

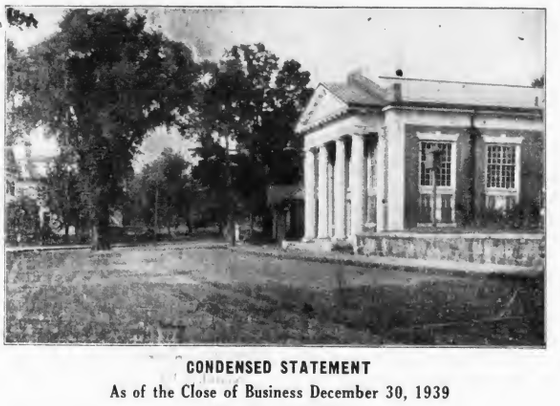

The 12 tables, each representing a month of the year were decorated with high color showing much imagination and originality. Following the supper Mr. Talone, well known Winchester musician entertained with several very fine selections on his cornet, Mrs. Lochman accompanying him, as she did the songs by a selected group of male voices of the church choir.

On Wednesday evening the Bethany ladies prepared and served the supper for the Men's Club monthly meeting. This innovation seemed to work out to the pleasure and profit of all concerned and doubtless is the forerunner of further co-operation.

The usual Bethany monthly luncheon and meeting will be held Tuesday, Feb. 6 at 12 noon.

WINCHESTER KNIGHTS WON FROM MEDFORD

Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus, won last week's inter-club tournament from the Medford Council, 9—8, winning two points each in bridge, whist and cribbage, three points in bowling, and losing four points in 45's, two in cribbage and one each in bowling and pool.

Dinny Collins and John Swymer defeated Doucette and Elliott of Medford, 1712 to 1551 in bridge, Dan Daly and Willie Giuliani won in whist from Webb and Beattie, 25—17, and the Winchester teams of Tom Travers and George Rogers, Jack Crowley and Luke Glendon split even with the Gaffney-Nestor and Griffin-O'Connell combines of the visitors. Moran, McDonald, Fleming and McDonald of Medford won in 45's, 13-12, from Ed Maguire, Henry Murray, Frank Rogers and George Young, and W. McDonald of Medford won a 75-42 decision in pool from Winchester's Eddie Quill.

Winchester won three and lost one in bowling, Frazier of the visitors having high three strings with 310 on 133. Mike Penta was Winchester's high man with 285 on a high single string of 97. Following is the summary of the bowling match.

"OUR TOWN"

On Friday and Saturday evenings in the Little Theatre Beneath a Spire the Parish Players presented "Our Town," a play by Thornton Wilder. The very large cast included the following as principals.:

Stage Manager Oscar W. Crowers
Mrs. Gibbs Myra Coon
Mrs. Webb Margaret E. Randall
Dr. Gibbs Harlow Russell
Emily Webb Helen Rassat
George Gibbs Van Cunningham
Professor Willard F. Milne Blanchard
Editor Webb Samuel M. Graves
Simon Stimson Alfred R. Pennell
Mrs. Soames Dorothy M. Wills

Minor roles were played by Francis Russell, Allan Breed, Eben Caldwell, Eleanor Randall, Mary Snell, Louise Olivier, John Kishler, Richard J. Johnson, Kezar G. Nichols, William Harris, A. Kirby Snell, Sally Parsons, Bertha K. Blanchard, Helen R. Parker, Jane H. Parker, Mary L. Hodge, Ruth M. Albee, Ruth S. Nelson, Nina A. Richardson, Margaret Hodgson, Doris L. Perry, Paula Mountain, Aram T. Mouradian, William Harris, James J. Sewall, Albert Hyatt. Francis Elder Chidley and J. Waldo Bond were general chairmen; Ralph E. Fulton was stage manager; Richard C. Ashenden, Jr., was in charge of lighting and the production was directed by Francis R. Hart, Jr.

Let us hastily say that this production is unquestionably one of the best which has ever been made in our town. To this theme we may later return; but having set that record straight let us devote first a few moments to Mr. Wilder and his play.

Despite the accolade of the Pulitzer prize which has more than once fallen on unworthy shoulders, despite the applause of jaded Manhattan critics, despite the prestige of a long run and universal success in the straw-hat circuit, "Our Town" is not much of a play. Probably all these successes are for that very reason.

Indeed it has much in common with "Abie's Irish Rose." Like that great opus of some years back its plot is simple and direct and may be expressed in three words, "boy meets girl." In the earlier play the extra interest centered on family opposition. Here not even that dramatic force is in evidence but the girl does die.

On this slender theme Mr. Wilder has hung a nosegay of platitudes. What these various characters say may pass for profound philosophy. It has ere this. It is the easiest kind of hokum to take a group of rural characters who are always for purposes of the drama (except when some unkind person writes a "Tobacco Road") assumed to be the noblest of all characters and through their simple, clipped, almost sparse speech, convey those fundamental truths which we of the city are supposed regularly to forget. Under the kind literary ministrations of Mr. Wilder this technique rises to the apotheosis of the homily.

We are asked to reflect that when a nation is in war it seems quite clear why though it is not so clear on later thought; that many thoughts come up to the cemetery every day "though they ain't no postoffice;" that marriage and birth and death are important things; that it is good to like birds and so on. Whenever the play is progressing without philosophy Mr. Wilder writes directly, simply and often poignantly; thus the wedding scene is really an effective commentary on a lot of things connected with marriage and the hours just before which are usually left unsaid. Occasionally, too, Mr. Wilder polishes off a good phrase such as "the day is running down like a tired clock."

One other criticism which is quite obvious to make is that the mechanics of the production, the lack of scenery, the interlocutor, the directness, are by no means such a novelty as might appear. The Greeks knew their unities and Mr. Wilder has done nothing but abide by some of Aristotle's principles, though not be it said, by the unity of time. The best of the humor stems straight from Booth Tarkington. And the lack of scenery and the intermeter may of course be found in "Yellow Jacket" and before that in a much greater theatre, the Chinese.

Yet when all this is said, when the scornful finger of criticism penetrates the veil of hokum with which Mr. Wilder, who well knows the resale value of simplicity, has surrounded his little play, the fact remains that to see it is to spend a pleasant evening, a rather universal evening if one may say so. At the time the homilies drop they do not seem quite so obvious as when they are reexamined in the study. Which means of course that Mr. Wilder has built good theatre.

We said a rather universal evening —universal because there is no particular reason why this play should have been laid in Grover's Corners, N. H. It might have been in Baranowicze, Poland, or Klatovy, Czechoslovakia, or La Dormida in the Argentine. Except for certain superficial details such as that of the soda-water it might have happened at any time. Because it might have been any place the actors were wise to eschew any effort at dialect. Because it might have happened at any time the make-up man was unwise to create so many beards. There was tradition in earlier productions for all the Mormon creations and the handle-bar devices but it became quite disturbing as the evening went on. Perhaps there was someone besides Mr. Cunningham without hirsute ornament. Memory fails to recall who.

A play like this without scenery to bump into, costumes to become disarranged (that is complicated costumes) and only moustaches to fall off (though none did) frees the actor so that he can consider the import of his lines and concern himself with the matter of having his audience hear them. This is a boon to amateurs and the players in this play took full advantage of it. This reviewer can not recall an amateur production in which the speaking of the lines seemed so good.

Again the absence of properties removes a perpetual source of amateur worry such as whether the revolver is going to be in the drawer.

In the production in question properties were imagined to exist and some of the principals moved their hands as though they were using properties. Those who did this with imagination achieved thereby an excellent effect, a rhythm similar to that of the ballet. Given a good deal of time and imaginative direction and this ballet-like technique might be susceptible to considerable development. On the other hand when an actor (and at least one did) tried to attain too much realism in these movements the action was distracting for it then became a sort of game between audience and actor to guess what the actor was pretending to do, a modified version of "Cliches." There was not too much of this.

So we reach the end of the review of an amateur play with nothing said about the acting and especially nothing about the individual actors. This is deliberate and just for this group came nearer to ensemble playing, to the devices of the Moscow Art Theater in this production than is usual. They are entitled to the greatest of praise as a group and so is their director for achieving this ensemble—perhaps Mr. Wilder is entitled to a small bow too.

If a word must be said of the principals let it be stated that but one gave a disturbing performance—the only performance out of key with that of the rest; that Mr. Crowers in the largest part had beautiful diction, was altogether convincing and his success should convince him of the virtues of straightforward playing; that Myra Coon was possibly the outstanding person on the stage, conveying just the proper impression of New England rural bleakness with warmth of motherly understanding; and that Van Cunningham was a joy. The Players should seriously consider giving "Clarence" or "Seventeen" with Mr. Cunningham in the leading role—that is, if an ingenue can be found. Good ones are scarce even in professional circles. Several of the stand-bys of the players gave the competent performances we expect of them and to these kudos we might add one for Mr. Pennell.

But it was as an ensemble that the Players prevailed; they are entitled to the fullest congratulations. We repeat—unquestionably one of the best which has ever been made in our town.

"FATHER'S NIGHT" AT NOONAN SCHOOL

On Tuesday evening, Jan. 30, a very fine gathering of mothers, fathers, friends and teachers of the Noonan School children came to the school hall to attend the annual "Father's Night," held by the Noonan School Mothers' Association. About 150 were present to hear our Superintendent of Schools, Mr. James J. Quinn. He held the thoughtful attention of his listeners as he told them of the work that is being carried on in our elementary and secondary schools; of the colossal task that faces educators today in raising the great masses of our children to the levels of higher education, and that America is the only country in the world that accomplishes such a task; of the striving on the part of our teachers to instill in our children a desire for cooperative effort (the ability to get on with one and other and to work for a common goal); and of the earnest attempt to imbue our students with a strong civic pride and loyalty to their community, state and nation.

Appearing on the program with Mr. Quinn were several talented children from the Noonan School now either in Junior or Senior High School, and two of our talented mothers . The program was as follows:

Piano and Drums Popular Selections
James O'Connor, Jr., and Hugh O'Doherty, Jr.
Piano Duet Under the Double Eagle
John and Joseph O'Brien
Reading The Master
Mrs. Frances T. Conlon
Piano solo Hungarian Rhapsody
Ann Albani
Piano Solo Moonlight Sonata
Frances Feinberg
Address ... James J. Quinn, Supt. of Schools
Contralto Solo In My Garden
Mrs. Helen Fitzgerald Cullen
Piano Solo Prelude
Pauline Milne
Movies America's High Spots, Snow Thrills.

Fathers serving as ushers were: Messrs. Charles Wilson, Frederick Patterson, Gustave Josephson and Thomas McGowan.

At the close of the program coffee and doughnuts were served by the committee: Mesdames Gustave Josephson, Walter Carroll, Frederick Patterson, Hugh O'Doherty, Thomas McGowan, James McLaughlin, Charles Wilson, John Hevey, Peter Albani and Edward McGrath; and the evening was brought to a successful close with Mr. Quinn receiving the parents assisted by Mrs. Joseph J. Tansey, president of the Association, Miss Gertrude Lewis, primary supervisor, Miss Mary F. Harhan, principal of the Noonan School with her corps of teachers, the Misses Helen Doherty Grace Doherty, Sarah McGowan, Elizabeth Powers, Mary McPartlin, Edna Foley, Jeannette Mullin, Mary McAuley and Mary Hart. As the guests left the hall, they all expressed their gratitude and pleasure to the members of the committe for a most instructive and enjoyable evening.

This report would not be complete without some mention of the interest that is still displayed in the welfare of our school by our past presidents and mothers whose children are no longer in the school. In our audience were Mrs. William E. McDonald, who as the first president of the Noonan School Mothers' Association served five years in that capacity and whose interest and zeal are in a great part responsible for the good organization we now have; Mrs. James J. O'Connor, during whose years as president the Elizabeth L. Naven Scholarship was founded; Mrs. Frances T. Conlon, who appeared on our program, and for whose brother, William J. Noonan, a hero of the World War, the Noonan School was named; and Mrs. Robert Beyer, who as last year's president (although now living in another school district) still retains her active participation in our association. We are all indebted to them for the interest they show in our activities.

PRE-VIEW OF MODERN AMERICAN PAINTING

Members of the Winchester Art Association and their guests will be afforded a pre-view of an exhibition of Modern American Painting in the galleries of the Winchester Public Library Sunday afternoon, Feb. 4. In accordance with a long-standing custom members and their guests will enjoy tea following a discussion of the pictures by Mr. Richard L. Rideout of the Grace Horne Galleries through the courtesy of which the exhibition has been obtained. The exhibition will be open to the general public on the following days and at the usual hours throughout the month of February.

Those familiar with the New Hampshire scene will possibly find a painting by Paul Sample, "Frozen River" among the most interesting. Sample is now in residence at Dartmouth students may study with him as an outside activity. Polly Thayer's "Country Station," Dale Nichols' "Through the Clouds" and Waldo Pierce's "Ice-House, Maine" will evoke similar interest.

Country subjects in other regions are treated in such paintings as Genoi Pettit's "Mid-Western Farm Scene" and Howard Gibbs' "Deep South." Boston's negro population is tellingly explored by Allan Rohan Crite in "South End Melody," "Weary," "Shawmut Avenue." Some metropolitan customs are satirized by Kenneth Hays Miller's "Saleswomen," Reginald Marsh's "Mr. Broe in the Doorway," Mervin Jules' "Train Washroom" and Stuyvesant Van Veen's "Backstage Sewing Room." Even some abstractions will be shown notably those by Fritz Pfeiffer and Carl Saxild.

Among the other noted painters represented in the exhibition will be John Steuart Curry, Alexander Brook, Molly Luce, Morris Kantor, Susma Hirota and Karl Zerbe.

Valentine's Day Dainties

By BETTY BARCLAY

Valentine's Day arrives while parties of all kinds are in full swing. It does not call for the creaking dinner tables of Thanksgiving and Christmas but it does demand unusual and delicious dishes that will delight guests. Here are a few ideas for this year:

Celebration Salad

2½ cups cold diced chicken, marinated ½ hour in
5 tablespoons Lemon French dressing

Combine with:

1¼ cups diced celery
1 cup seedless grape halves
¾ cup mayonnaise

Serve in lettuce cups or cream puff shells. Garnish with lemon quarters. Veal may be substituted for chicken. Serves 6.

Limas with Sausage

1 cup cooked, dried Limas
½ pound sausage
1 medium sized onion
1 cup tomatoes
½ teaspoon chili
½ teaspoon salt

Fry onion and sausage until well done. Add other ingredients and simmer for 30 minutes.

Apricot Presto

1 package chocolate rennet powder
1 pint milk (not canned or soft curd)
1 cup apricot puree (cooked apricots which have been put through a strainer)

Cookies or wafers

Make rennet-custard according to directions on package. When filling dessert glasses fill within ¼ inch from top. When ready to serve, spread the apricot puree lightly over the top of each rennet-custard. Garnish with crushed cookies or wafers.

Magic Valentine Cup Cakes

1 cup ground shelled peanuts
½ cup sweetened condensed milk
1 egg, separated
1 teaspoon baking powder

Shell peanuts, remove brown skins, and put through a food chopper. To ground peanuts add sweetened condensed milk, egg yolk and baking powder. Blend thoroughly. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Drop by spoonfuls into small-sized buttered cup cake tins. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 20 minutes. Makes 12 small cup cakes.

Maui Ice Box Cake

1 tablespoon gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 cup syrup, drained from gems, heated
⅓ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 egg whites
½ cup whipping cream
Sliced sponge cake or 2 dozen lady fingers
1½ cups canned Hawaiian pineapple gems
Maraschino cherries

Soak gelatin in water 5 minutes. Dissolve in hot pineapple syrup, add sugar and salt, and stir until dissolved. Add lemon rind and juice. Chill until jelly starts to thicken, then fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and whipped cream. Line sides of an oblong mold with sponge cake or lady fingers. Fill mold with alternate layers of pineapple mixture and sponge cake or lady fingers. Chill until firm. Unmold and serve garnished with the pineapple gems, cherries, and additional whipped cream slightly sweetened, tinted a pale green and put on the cake with a pastry tube. Yield: 8 servings.

Sweet Dreams Coffolate

Here's a refreshing party beverage, made with chocolate and decaffeinated coffee, so everybody can enjoy extra cups without counting sheep later on. Add 4 tablespoons ground decaffeinated coffee, 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, cut in pieces, 6 cloves, 4-inch piece of stick cinnamon and dash of salt to 4 cups milk, and heat in double boiler until chocolate is melted. Strain immediately. Combine 1 tablespoon of flour and ¾ cup sugar. Add liquid and cook 15 minutes, or until thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from fire, cool slightly and pour over 1 egg, well beaten. Chill. Serve ice cold with whipped cream if desired. Makes 1 quart coffolate.

STORY OF FINLAND AND HER PEOPLE IS SHOWN IN LATEST MARCH OF TIME

The latest March of Time entitled "The Republic of Finland," depicts the rise of the little 21-year old republic and the courageous Finns' desperate fight to defend their nation from Soviet Russia today. A vivid and enlightening story of the Finnish people, who are today desperately fighting to defend their nation, is brought to the screen of the Universal Theatre on next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

With colorful scenes of Finnish ski troops and other military units in action, the March of Time emphasizes the strategy and genius of Finland's famed General Carl Mannerheim and the unyielding courage of Finnish youth in their desperate struggle with Soviet Russia to retain the independence their people had sought for centuries, and for which they fought so hard only 21 years ago.

Depicting the life and national character of Finland's brave people, this newest March of Time features unusual pictures of the founding of the Finnish Republic in 1919, when General Mannerheim led Finland's white army against the Bolsheviks and secured the nation's independence.

WEEK-END FIRES

The Fire Department was called at 1:10 last Saturday night to put out a fire in a Chandler sedan, owned by former Selectman Walter H. Dotten of Alben street and parked on Main street near Elmwood avenue. Box 411 was sounded for the fire, caused by a short circuit. The damage was slight.

Sunday afternoon at 2:10 there was a fire caused by a portable oil burner at the home of Mr. Orazio Fiore, 43 Spruce street. The damage done was largely by smoke.

Monday morning at 8:30 the department was called to the home of Mr. Henry Kellogg at 86 Church street, a room in the house having become filled with smoke. The men found that a heat control which had been set too high was responsible for the trouble.

P. N. G. S. CLUB

The Past Noble Grand's Service Club of Victoria Rebekah Lodge 178, held their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening at the home of Sister Ruth McDonald, 85 Park drive, Boston. The regular business meeting was presided over by the president, Sister Ella Good, after which games were played and general discussion by the members.

Sister Josephine Arnold proved to be the best performer and carried home the prize.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Sisters Ruth Good and Hazel Boles.

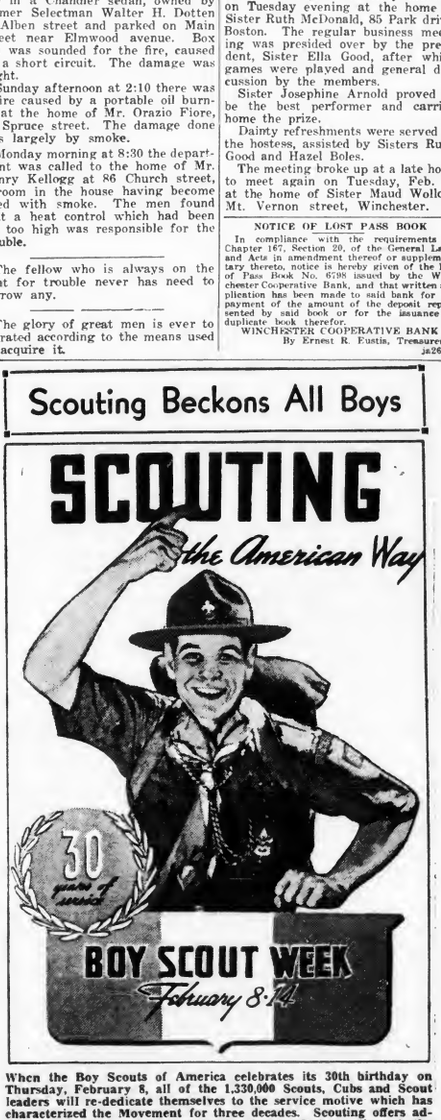

The meeting broke up at a late hour to meet again on Tuesday, Feb. 27 at the home of Sister Maud Wolloff, Mt. Vernon street, Winchester.

Scouting Beckons All Boys

When the Boy Scouts of America celebrates its 30th birthday on Thursday, February 8, all of the 1,330,000 Scouts, Cubs and Scout leaders will re-dedicate themselves to the service motive which has characterized the Movement for three decades. Scouting offers adventure, fun and achievement—attractive to all boys—through the democratic life of the Scout Troop and Patrol, as essential ingredients in its character-influencing program for the boys of America. Drawing on the rich experience of the Movement, local and national Scout leaders anticipate the opportunity to serve more boys annually.

NEW ENGLAND WONDERLAND

The lights dimmed, the hall was in darkness, as the audience waited. On the screen flashed familiar scenes of New England's summertime beauty. Green meadows and pastures, soft spray breaking on the rocks along the seacoast of Maine recalled sailboats and surfboards. Pleasant recollections of New Hampshire mountains in the autumn! Picturesque roads rolling along beneath the scarlet and golden leaves.

Then the scene darkens, the loud roar of the wind is heard as on the screen flashes pictures of trees uprooted, buildings crashed, the landscape broken and distorted, recalling the hurricane of 1938.

The view changes again. Skiing in the White Mountains is in the spotlight. The summer's warmth and roaring wind is forgotten as the skiers, some making perfect landings, while others tumble head over heels in the snow. A dangerous sport but thrilling, too, it is indeed the foremost winter sport in the world today.

These few scenes are taken from the motion pictures shown in the program "New England Wonderland," by John W. Roberts of Wakefield. The program proved most successful when shown in the First Baptist Church social hall on Thursday, Jan. 25. The audience was well pleased with the color pictures and the accompanying sound effects.

Cabaret Great Success

Program Pleases Large Audiences

The Winton Club presented its annual Cabaret, "1940 American Follies" last Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights in the Winchester Town Hall to capacity audiences, who acclaimed it as one of the best shows ever given by this organization. It was a well-rounded revue of 10 acts that combined beauty, rhythm and comedy in nice balance, with the patriotic American theme worked out in decorations, costumes, program and music. The execution of the dance routines and the smoothness of its entire presentation made it hard to believe that the actual rehearsal time was but two and one-half weeks.

The loyal support of the townspeople in making it also a financial success insures the continuance of the bountiful supply of linen furnished each year to the Winchester Hospital by the Winton Club.

Mrs. Harold F. Meyer of Sheffield west was the chairman of the Cabaret committee, which included Mrs. Edward V. French, Mrs. Frederick E. Ritchie, Mrs. Clifford Roberts and Mrs. M. Walker Jones as music chairman. Mrs. Meyer, who is loved by her many friends for her gracious personality, handled this exacting task with the executive ability and tact for which she is well known. Always pleasant, interested and cooperative, she was a splendid choice for this important position. She and her capable committee put in much thought and effort to produce as fine an entertainment as possible and the results showed their conscientious interest and achievement.

Mr. William F. Raterman of the John B. Rogers Producing Company trained the cast and directed and staged the show. A director of experience and genuine ability, he won the admiration and respect of the cast and committees alike for his intelligent and able handling of the whole production.

"Everything Starts With Rhythm" opened the show; 12 pretty girls in smart red, white and blue costumes, who saluted the flag and came down onto the floor to do a fast stepping tap dance. In direct contrast was the next scene, "Fog at Twilight," with seven girls in misty grey dancing against a black background with the lovely voice of Virginia Warren Voorhis singing an accompaniment.

"Alma Mater" was a male chorus of some 30 voices singing a group of college songs. William Cruger trained and directed this chorus and should be congratulated upon a fine job, for it was well done and greatly liked.

A number not on the program was announced by Lawrence Martin as a "Dance of the Alternates," the latter supposedly those girls who rehearse with different acts and go in the final show if needed. But these were large and not so graceful men in sunbonnets and gingham dresses, who executed a cunning dance with ridiculous daintiness and serious mien.

A scene in a Hollywood Cafe was next, with Lawrence Martin as master of ceremonies introducing a "floor show." There was a chorus of dancers, songs by Virginia Voorhis, skit by Carol Howe and Frank Rounds and a song and dance by Dick Fenno. This was a bright and entertaining number and well done by the participants.

After intermission, the show went on, with "Sun Valley," a winter scene with skaters and skiiers in brown and white representing the rotogravure section. William Cruger sang the opening song while Jeanne Moran was the attractive feature skater with this group.

"South American Way," was introduced by eight singing gauchos and danced by six couples in colorful costumes. Gloria Woolley was the feature dancer and was a most alluring "Carmen Miranda." Next was a comedy number with two sailors in the Crow's nest, one who spied a girl and the other a ship. Their comments, quite misunderstood by each other, were most amusing. Robert Jackson, Gordon Bennett and Janet Burbank did these parts well.

Not for many years has there been a lovelier number than "A Toast to Memories." Sung by Virginia Voorhis and danced by a most attractive group of young people in period costume to the strains of a Strauss waltz, it was a scene that will long be remembered.

The final number, the always popular drill, was enhanced by the presence of Miss Eleanor Griffin, drum majorette, whose grace and dexterity were fascinating to watch. The drill was striking and effective in red, white, blue and gold, and they performed well with snap and precision.

A stirring finale brought the show to a close. The drill performers, the chorus from the first act and the men in military costume were grouped on stage with the American flag waving in the center, while the orchestra played the Star Spangled Banner. Truly a magnificent ending, and one that caused one to think, even in the midst of the gay setting, how truly fortunate we Americans are.

OF INTEREST TO MEN AND BOYS

The difficult task of loading and unloading huge circus tents, elephants, and dangerous wild animals—and the many other problems involved in running a large circus, will be included in the thrilling colored motion pictures to be shown in the High School Auditorium on Tuesday evening, with a special matinee for school children, when George Brinton Beal presents, "Through the Back Door of the Circus," for the Fortnightly Philanthropy Fund.

An added attraction will be the exhibition of Scientific Gymnastics, by a group of Junior High School boys, under the direction of Alfred Mueseling, Physical Director of the Winchester schools.

WINCHESTER LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Mrs. Joseph W. Worthen and Mrs. Philip Woodward are in charge of the legislative luncheon of the League of Women Voters which is to be held at the Winchester Country Club on Friday, Feb. 16. The morning speaker will be Mr. Edward Schneider who is the regional director for the National Labor Relations Board who will speak on the Wagner Act. In the afternoon there will be a forum discussion on whether the reciprocal trade agreements shall be continued with one or two speakers taking part. This meeting is open to all with a charge of $1 for the luncheon.

REV. ROGER PECKE CLEVELAND WILL PREACH

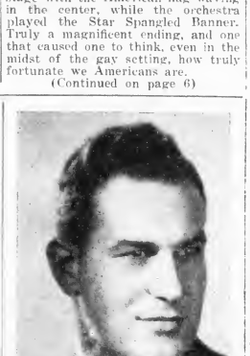

The Rev. Roger Pecke Cleveland who will preach at the Second Congregational Church next Sunday morning, is pastor of the Evangelical Congregational Church at Grafton. This Church is one of the many that had it's steeple blown down through the roof into the auditorium, during the hurricane of September, 1938.

ELK'S OBSERVED P. E. R.'S NIGHT

Winchester Lodge of Elks observed its annual Past Exalted Rulers' Night in Lyceum Hall Tuesday evening with a large attendance and impressive programs. Past Exalted Rulers officiated as follows:

Exalted Ruler John F. Donaghey
Esteemed Leading Knight Arthur J. Harty
Esteemed Loyal Knight Harry A. McGrath
Esteemed Lecturing Knight P. Everett Hambly
Secretary Joseph T. Callahan
Treasurer William E. Ramsdell
Esquire Charles A. Farrar
Chaplain Fred D. Clement

Affectionate reference was made to John F. McNally, first exalted ruler of the lodge, deceased since the last Past Exalted Rulers' night. Mr. McNally's death marked the first break in the lodge's chain of P. E. R.'s.

District Deputy Warren F. Cox of Massachusetts Northeast, a resident of Winchester and P. E. R. of Woburn Lodge, was the guest speaker and also delivered the 11 o'clock toast. The Past Exalted Rulers present gave interesting reminiscences of their experiences while in office. Supper was served after the meeting by the Board of Stewards under Alfred McKenzie.

WINCHESTER GIRL ON QUEEN'S COURT

Lynnette La Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph La Rose of 3 Euclid avenue, has returned to Sea Pines School on the Cape after a week-end home to attend the winter carnival at New Hampton Prep as the guest of Allan Perry of Medford. Miss La Rose was one of four girls chosen on the Queen's Court. She was accompanied by Betsy Ann Perry of Medford and Mary MacGrath of Winchester.

DR. BOOS TO ADDRESS MEN'S CLUB

The Men's Club of the First Congregational Church is fortunate in obtaining as their speaker on the evening of Feb 15, Dr. William F. Boos, internationally famous toxicologist,

Dr. Boos has lectured before many groups, both scientific and popular, on the subject of poisons, which include not only poisons administered with criminal intent but also those which occur in occupations, in foods, and in the home.

He is the author of a book entitled "The Poison Trail," a popular treatise on this very interesting subject, published by the Boston publishing house of Hale, Cushman, and Flint, of which our fellow townsman, Mr. Ralph T. Hale, is a member. Dr. Mabel S. Ulrich in the Saturday Review of Literature has thus aptly remarked of Dr. Boos medical-legal work: "If you are contemplating writing a detective story, or committing a murder (!), you will find it invaluable; if you have wondered how the men behind the scenes detect poison traces months after death, your curiosity can now be easily satisfied; if you are merely an intelligent and curious reader, you will still learn from it much that is news to you and gain a lively respect for the world's toxicologists."

The recent exhibition of contemporary portraits in the Art Gallery of the Winchester Public Library, held during January, included a portrait of Dr. Boos by the well-known portrait painter, Mary Danforth Page.

Dr. Boos is a graduate of Harvard College and of the Harvard Medical School and is a Doctor of Philosophy of the University of Heidelberg. At one time he was Parker Travelling Fellow from Harvard University and Lecture Assistant, both at the University of Strasbourg. During the World War he was physician in charge of the New England Manufacturing Company in Wilmington, largest munitions plant in the east. For 25 years he has been expert for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and other states in capital poison cases and other cases requiring a knowledge of medicine, toxicology, and chemistry. He has been expert for the United States government all over the country in prosecutions brought under the Pure Food and Drugs Act, as well as in capital cases. He has also been a lecturer in Toxicology at the Harvard Medical School.

This is sure to be a most informative, unusual and intensely interesting lecture.

It is the annual Guest Night of the Men's Club at which time each member is privileged to bring at least one guest.

The meeting will be held in the Social Hall of the Parish House at 8 p. m., Thursday, Feb. 15.

JAMES NAGLE

James Nagel, whose 90 years made him one of Winchester's oldest residents, died Thursday morning, Feb. 8, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Willard T. Carleton, 52 Church street, after a week's illness with pneumonia.

Mr. Nagel was the son of Garrett Nagle. He was a native of Ireland but had spent practically all of his life in this country, coming here with his parents at the age of three years. He was educated at Phillips Exeter Academy and spent much of his active life in the leather manufacturing business, operating his own plant in West Concord previous to the World War.

During the war he was postmaster at West Concord and also served as chairman of the Board of Selectmen in Concord and as Overseer of the Poor in that town. He came to Winchester from West Concord eight years ago and had since made his home with his daughter here.

Besides Mrs. Carleton, he leaves eight grandchildren, Frank, Loretta, and Jean Carleton, all of this town; and Paul, Catherine, William, James and Jean Nagle of Forest Hills, children of the late William Nagle. There are also surviving four sisters, Mrs. Joseph Smith and Mrs. Reed Lyons of West Concord, and Miss Alice and Miss Frances Nagle of Maynard.

The funeral will be held on Saturday morning with requiem high mass in the Church of Our Lady, Help of Christians, West Concord, at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in Natick.

ART ASSOCIATION TEA

There was another large attendance last Sunday afternoon at the tea and preview of the exhibition of modern art held at the Library Art Gallery under the auspices of the Winchester Art Association.

Mrs. Frederick Hatch and Mrs. Clifford Cunningham were hostesses, and the pourers were Miss Corinne Mead, town librarian, and a member of her library staff, Miss Cynthia Laraway.

Mr. Richard L. Rideout of the Grace Horne Galleries was the guest speaker, delivering an interesting and most informative address upon the pictures exhibited. He was introduced by Mr. John Ely Burchard.

UNITARIAN MEN'S CLUB

There will be another of the old time dancing classes at Metcalf Hall on Feb. 14 at 8 oclock. It will be a Valentine party. Come and bring your friends.

COMMUNITY FUND CAMPAIGN COMPLETE SUCCESS FOR WINCHESTER'S OWN AGENCIES

For the first time in years Greater Boston's Community Fund, of which our own Winchester Community Chest was a part, has won through to complete victory by over-subscribing its 1940 goal of $4,625,000. This means that Greater Boston goes down in the annals of social service and welfare fund-raising as the community which has raised the largest sum ever subscribed in one single campaign.

In addition to the complete success of the campaign this victory means that everyone of the 175 Fund hospitals, health, and social service agencies will be able to continue their great humanitarian work for the people throughout the great metropolitan area. Most important of all, the success of the Drive means that Winchester's own agencies—by their inclusion in the Greater Boston Drive—will receive their full quota of support from the contributions given by the town's generous citizens. These Winchester agencies are:

THE WINCHESTER HOSPITAL
THE HOME FOR THE AGED IN WINCHESTER
THE WINCHESTER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION
THE WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS
THE WINCHESTER BOY SCOUTS

Winchester itself subscribed 105 per cent of its quota indicating a splendid response to the appeal of the 650 volunteers included in the local organization. Our community had the distinction of obtaining pledges from a larger per cent of its population than any community in the entire metropolitan area. This is most significant of the civic-mindedness of our townspeople. Nearly 2800 pledges were registered through the Winchester headquarters. This represents over 30 per cent more pledges than were made in any previous Community Fund Campaign.

$31,200 WINCHESTER TOTAL

The total amount received through Winchester headquarters was $31,200 to date. This big amount was raised by the combined effort of an excellent organization of volunteer workers. The first Winchester group to go over its quota was the Industry Division, followed by the Public Employee group. Special recognition should be given to the latter for its complete co-operation with the new method of solicitation. The response was practically 100 per cent.

Precinct 3 won the precinct contest leading Precinct 5 in a close over-the-top finish with Precincts 1 and 2 jumping the hurdle close behind. Precinct 4 with the largest quota of all went over the top with a vengeance on the final day. Precinct 6 brought in their quota with a superb last minute effort.

The campaign was completely successful in every way and all the workers can now rest from their arduous labors with the satisfaction of a job well done.

DRIVE BRINGING NEW MEMBERS IN WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

Stressing the need for organization and united effort on the part of citizens to demand of an administration in Washington fair-play and tolerance in its policies, the Winchester Women's Republican Club is having an intensive drive, this month, for new members.

Convinced that this united effort will bring results, Mrs. Warren Whitman, president of the club, said, in part, when speaking of the drive: "A nation will be governed by as bad a government as its people will stand for and have as good government as its people will work for. Let each one of us work for good government which is possible through co-operation of a people with a common purpose.

"Only by organization and good team work can the efforts of individuals be most effective. The Women's Republican Clubs offer an opportunity for every woman to make her ideals and endeavor count for civic and political progress. This determination on the part of sincere and honest citizens can help the party in its sincere and honest effort to achieve sincere and honest government: a government that will lift despair from shoulders old and middle-aged and one that will open the door of opportunity to the ambition of youth.

"Let us have done with being tolerant of the futile and disasterous fumbling of incompetents whose frantic scramble for power threatens every economic and political liberty we possess. When those rights are endangered, so is every other right, public and private. Let each right-thinking citizen help create anew an atmesphere of confidence in the progress and achievement of these United States by working together for better government administration."

Any woman interested in joining the club is cordially invited to come to the next regular meeting in Fortnightly Hall at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, Feb. 14. Membership written at this time will continue through the year to the annual meeting of 1941. Further information may be had by calling Mrs. C. F. Wolfe, treasurer, 19 Jefferson road, Winchester.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

A petition signed by the storekeepers and real estate owners in the Centre was received asking the Board to take up the matter of parking along the westerly side of Manchester Field. As this field is under the jurisdiction of the park department the petition was turned over to the Park Commissioners.

IN PRAISE OF WINCHESTER

A committee of the national resources planning board chose the town of Winchester for study of efficient and economical methods of administration. This committee will make similar studies of other municipalities, both cities and towns, but Winchester was the first town to be selected for such purposes. Why?

The official statement is that Winchester was chosen "because of its excellent methods of procedure and its complete records." The work was done without cost to the town by a staff of federal experts under the general supervision of William Stanley Parker of Boston. The financial records of the town back to 1920 were examined. A mass of data was collected on the basis of which the town's prospective income was determined, together with the probable requirements for the operation of its several departments over a six year period ending in 1945.

No wonder a program based on such a study and embracing all the reasonable needs of the town received the unanimous indorsement of the governing officials. In a few years, certain new school buildings may make a bond issue necessary, but until that time the town is expected to continue its pay-as-you-go policy and incur no new indebtedness. The reports and complete tabulations of the planning board keep the taxpayers completely informed respecting income and outgo and call attention to prospective capital expenditures well in advance. Winchester deserves high praise.—[Boston Herald.

SPORTSMEN ENTERTAIN ROTARIANS

Through the efforts and courtesy of Al Marchant of Rangely, a 100 per center and past president of Boston Rotary, members of that organization residing in Winchester enjoyed a most entertaining evening at the Winchester Country Club on Wednesday. The occasion was the customary all-Winchester Rotary night, and as on similar occasions every Rotarian in Winchester was invited with guests. Through the efforts of Mr. Marchant, one of the managers of the Boston Post, a group of New Brunswick guides, now on visit to the Boston Sportsmen's Show, attended and gave a program of music and stories. About 116 Rotarians and guests were present. Supper was served at 6:30, with venison and salmon as the top items on the menu. Singing and instrumental music was followed by motion pictures of New Brunswick fishing.

FORMER WATER REGISTRAR DIED SUDDENLY

Miss Martha W. Greene on Visit in California

Word was received in Winchester this week of the sudden death of Miss Martha W. Greene, former water registrar, in Richmond, Calif., on Sunday, Feb. 4.

Miss Greene, whose home was at 7 Dix terrace, had been in California for three months visiting friends. She had concluded her visit on Jan. 12, and was boarding the train at Berkeley to return east when the sudden starting of the train caused her to fall on the platform of the car. She sustained injuries to her head and back, and was removed from the train at Richmond and taken to a hospital where she died suddenly Sunday.

Miss Greene was born 70 years ago in Stoneham, the daughter of F. Thomas and Sarah J. (Perry) Greene. Her early life was spent in Stoneham, she was educated in the schools of that town and was formerly a member of the Stoneham Rebekah Lodge.

Twenty-five years ago Miss Greene came to Winchester and Aug. 23, 1926, was appointed water registrar, holding this position until March 31, 1937, when she retired. She was a member of the Church of the Epiphany and of the Winchester Grange.

Surviving is a brother, Fred F. Greene of North Andover. A niece, Mrs Charles R. Fish (Louise Stinson) makes her home in Winchester on Myrtle street.

Arrangements for the funeral have not as yet been completed.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. John Carruthers of Pine street opened her home on Wednesday afternoon for a meeting of the Rainbow Mothers. Mrs. Ejnar Bratt was elected president and Mrs. Charles Downer and Mrs. Gifford of Woburn were made co-chairmen to assist Mrs. Bratt. Mrs. Carruthers served a delicious tea.

The Brookline Bird Club is visiting Ipswich this Saturday. Miss Grace Snow of this town, a member for many years, reports that some of the club members saw a Shufeldt's junco at the Nichols estate in Danvers recently and a harlequin duck last week in the cove between the life saving station and Straitsmouth Inn, Rockport. These birds are rarely seen in this section of the country.

Tree Warden Parker Holbrook with his foreman, Edward A. McKenzie, attended the conference of the Massachusetts Association of Foresters and Tree Wardens Wednesday at Horticultural Hall in Boston.

Dr. Clement F. Lynch of the Malden Board of Health, who has a Winchester home on Chestnut street, has finally won a long litigation supporting his contention that he is a legal resident of Malden and as such has the right to serve upon the Board of Health in that city. Dr. Lynch conducts a hospital in Malden on Pleasant street, has an apartment over the hospital and spends most of his time in that city. His Malden residence was questioned by a Malden councillor and others several years ago and the resulting litigation has just been completed.

John Herbert Waite, son of Dr. J. H. Waite of Winchester, was among the 254 students at the University of Virginia who, by maintaining a scholastic average of 87 per cent, have been placed on the dean's list of distinguished students for the second term of the 1939-40 session. Waite is a third year student in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University. He also is president of the University Chess Club.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

The regular meeting of the Women's Republican Club will be held on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 14, at 2:30 p. m. in Waterfield Hall. All members are urged to attend, as the subject for discussion is one of vital interest to all Americans. The club has been fortunate to secure as guest speakers, Professor Norman J. Padelford, head of the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts College, who will have for his subject, "Strategy for Peace or War."

Tea and a social hour will follow.

KNOCKED FROM BICYCLE

Harry LaVavelley, 12, of 3 Hampshire street, Cambridge, was knocked from the bicycle he was riding south on Cambridge street, Monday afternoon when the machine was in collision near the Winchester Conservatories with a Chevrolet sedan, also headed south and driven by David C. Chamberlain of 575 North River street, Manchester, N. H. The accident occurred shortly after 5:30 and Chamberlain told the police there was no light on the bicycle.

It was believed at the time of the accident that neither the boy nor his bicycle was harmed as a result of the collision. Tuesday evening, however, the boy's mother, Mrs. Anna LaVavelley, came to headquarters and reported that her son had been taken from school that day to the Cambridge City Hospital where it was found that he had sustained a slight fracture of the left collar bone.

'PLATTERBUG" WINNERS

Winners of the first "Platterbug" contest at the Park Radio Company on Main street were drawn Monday afternoon by a member of the Star staff as follows: First, Mrs. J. H. Smith, Jr., 19 Stevens street; second, Mrs. G. T. Chatfield, 6 Allen street; third, Mrs. P. J. McManus, 465 Main street.

All three ladies received free records. Glen Miller's orchestra was given first place in the voting with Tommy Dorsey, second; Artie Shaw, third; and Benny Goodman, fourth.

PURRINGTON—BUSH

Miss Alice E. Bush of Washington street, daughter of Mrs. William Bush, and Mr. Ralph L. Purrington were quietly married last Friday afternoon by Rev Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church. The ceremony was performed in Ripley Chapel at 3 o'clock.

The bride was attended by Mrs. C. J. Paradis and Mr. Glenn H. Browning was best man. Following a wedding trip to Florida, they will make their home in Winchester.

ON "LONELY HEARTS" BALL COMMITTEE

Miss Joan Martin and Mr. Arthur Farrar of Winchester are members of the committee in charge of arrangements for the "Lonely Hearts Ball" being staged by the dancers club at the Hotel Sheraton on Valentine's night, Feb. 14. The affair this year is featuring a Leap Year table dansant, and many dinner parties are being held preceding the event.

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

The third meeting of the Evening Study Group series was held on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore C. Browne, 37 Calumet road. Coffee was served at 7:30 by Mrs. Richard Wyman and Mrs. Austin Bunker. A large and interested audience heard Mr. Browne tell of his wide experience in theatre production not only in this country, but also in Germany and Russia and of his acquaintance with renowned performers of the stage and opera; Mrs. Jameson Slocum gave a vivid account of the current success "Mamba's Daughter's" and read a review of "John Henry" in the absence of Mrs. Robert Drake. Mr. Wayne Davis's amusing account of the Broadway presentations of "Skylark," "The Man Who Came to Dinner," and "The Male Animal" gave the crowning touch to a program devoted to "The Highlights of the Bright Lights of Broadway."

The next meeting will be held on Feb. 19 at the home of Miss Alice Main, 14 Herrick street. The discussion of the "P. V. A. Development," will be under the chairmanship of Mr. R. H. B. Smith, assisted by Col. Frank N. Gunby and Mr. Carlisle Burton.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON LEAGUE

On Thursday, Feb. 15, the Winchester Circle of the Florence Crittenton League will meet at the home of Mrs. Chandler W. Symmes, 230 Main street at 2:30 p. m. The president, Mrs. Harold B. Richmond, will preside.

The guest speaker of the afternoon will be Mr. Theodore A. Lathrop, general secretary of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children Mr. Lathrop, who is one of the leaders in his field of work, has chosen for his subject "What the Private Citizen Can Do For Child Protection."

Hortense Railsback, reader, will furnish the entertainment. Mrs. Railsback, who is a member of the faculty of the Bishop Lee School and also of the Leland Powers School, was a member of last summer's stock company of the Nell Gwynn players. Mrs. Railsback is in great demand and has many friends and admirers in Winchester.

Tea will be served by Mrs. John W. Johnson and her committee.

BUICK SALES

Retail sales of Buick cars in the Boston area during January were 52.8 per cent greater than in January of 1939, it was announced today by A. B. Connelly of Noyes-Buick Company. Sales totaled 1,134 units.

H. J. C. Miller, assistant general sales manager, reported similar increases for other Buick zones in the eastern area. New York sales were 67.6 per cent higher than the same month last year; Philadelphia sales were up 73 per cent, and the Buffalo zone, including upstate New York, reported a 52.6 per cent increase.

Sales during the month for the entire eastern area showed a gain of 59.3 per cent over January of last year ago.

Valentines to make at Wilson the Stationer.

It's the Early Bird that gets the Fun

ONE of these days the itch is going to hit you to get out and get in on the fun a Buick can be in the spring-time.

You're going to feel an irrepressible yen to touch off that husky, sweet-singing Dynaflash power plant and swing out in gentle coil-spring comfort to take in the fresh spring landscape.

Maybe, like others we know of, you've even got the model picked out, and are just "waiting a few weeks" to do something definite about it.

But may we emphasize, in purely friendly interest, that a lot of other people probably have the same idea.

And that when they start buying in droves—as they do every year about the ides of March—even Buick's big factory has trouble keeping up with them.

Of course, we're doing all we can to be ready for everyone.

But you can get only so many cars in a warehouse.

And what with everybody wanting Buicks this season, we can't say how long we can promise the delivery we can give now.

So why not play the early bird this year? Why not get the jump on your neighbor and be driving your Buick while he's still talking about getting his?

You've nothing to lose, a lot of fun to gain—and you'll find the address of your Buick dealer in the phone book.

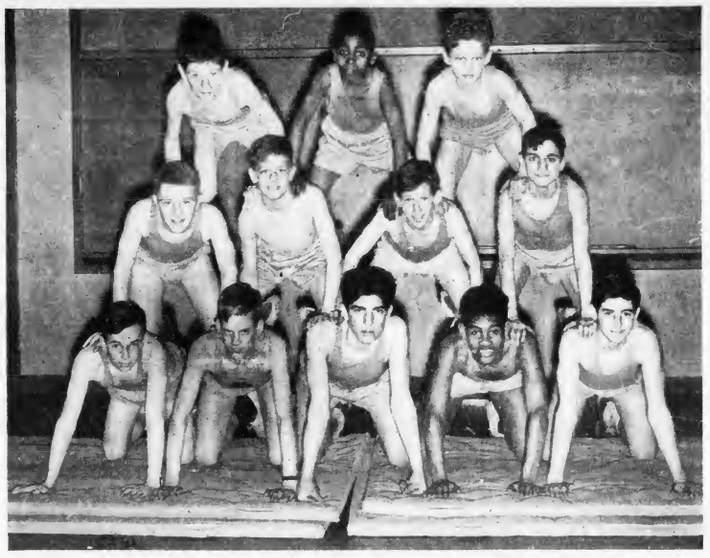

Help Promote Safety—Dim Your Lights When Passing

Not a six but an EIGHT for $895 and up delivered at Flint, Mich. *Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

NO FUNDS

One of the local taxi drivers had an interesting forenoon Tuesday when he contracted to drive a lady to the home of friends in East Boston.

Upon arriving in East Boston and doing not a little cruising about the highways and byways, his fare decided she did not know where to find the parties for whom she was looking. There was nothing to do but return to Winchester.

Returning to town, the taxi driver broached the matter of payment for the trip. Naively his fare replied that she had no money. At police headquarters she reiterated this statement.

After considerable debate she gave the name of a friend employed as a domestic at a west side home, who after being acquainted with the situation, reimbursed the taxi driver.

JUNIOR FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The next meeting of the Junior Fortnightly will be a "Seniors and Mothers Night" on Monday evening, Feb. 12 at 8 p. m. Speaker for the evening will be Mr. James E. Sullivan, manager of the local telephone office whose talk shall concern "Voice and Personality Over the Telephone." Mary Elizabeth Hall, club member, will give a monologue. Meeting will be held at Fortnightly Hall, Church street. Refreshments arranged by the Misses Marguerite Thwing, Bette Anne Budd, Colette M. Gaffney, and Marie L. Poirier.

The Round About Club will meet at the home of Sister Estella A. Cooper, 34 Myrtle terrace, Thursday, Feb. 15, at 10 o'clock. Basket luncheon.

WINCHESTER LOST AT LEXINGTON

Winchester High blew an early game lead at Lexington Tuesday afternoon and lost another Middlesex League basketball game to Lexington High, 33—29. The win was the second scored by the Minuteboys over the locals this season. Lexington won the second team game also, 26—14.

Winchester had a 10—7 lead at the quarter and was ahead at the half, 17—13. With the resumption of play, however, Lexington forged ahead to win, the locals hanging on grimly and remaining within striking distance all the way.

Fawcett, rangy Lexington right guard, led both teams in scoring with 13 points on 6 floor goals and a shot from a free try. DeTeso was again Winchester's best point getter with five floor goals and a foul basket for 11 points.

Most of the scoring was done by the boys in the back court, Winchester's forwards, tallying only nine points while Lexington's rang up five.

CHOIR BOWLING TEAM HELD PARTY

The bowling team composed of members of St. Mary's Choir held a most enjoyable dinner dance last week Thursday evening at the Cocoanut Grove in Boston. Miss Margaret Nowell headed the committee in charge of arrangements and was assisted by Miss Agnes Flaherty and Miss Catherine Murphy.

Members of the team who attended included the Misses Marion Nowell, Mary Maguire, Gertrude McNally, Rosalie Cyr, Josephine Cullen, Mary Murphy, Mary Pearson, Emily McGoldrick, Ellen Cullen, and Mary Halligan.

Their guests included Henry O'Neil and Roy Rivers of Winchester; William Sweeney, Richard McDonough, Robert Higgins and John Brennan of Woburn; Charles Winn and Lloyd Levesque of Nashua, N. H., Daniel Reagan and James Reagan of Cambridge; Albert Lennon of Arlington; James Sullivan of Dorchester, and Charles Bordon of Medford.

A delightful evening was spent and all present looked forward to the next party which the bowling singers plan.

MILLIONAIRES IN STOVE LEAGUE SESSION

Manager Paul Quigley and Treasurer John Donaghey of the club promise all a good time, with movies, novelty contests with prizes and a light lunch, as well as plenty of opportunity for a good old "stove league" session. All members of the club are urged to attend and those who "do not come nositively will not be lt in."

WINCHESTER RODE THE SNOW TRAIN

Many from Winchester were on the snow train which pulled out of the North Station on Sunday bound for No. Conway, N. H. Twelve cars were in the first section of the train and 14 in the second.

WAKEFIELD TRIPPED WINCHESTER

Winchester High lost at Wakefield in a Middlesex League basketball game last Friday evening, 48—39, the defeat being the fourth straight for the locals. The Winchester seconds won the preliminary game from the Wakefield jay-vees, 26—16.

The locals were handicapped against Wakefield by the absence of Marabella, rugged guard, who became scholastically ineligible, Coach Lauer using "Moon" Boardley, Hultgren, usually a forward, Joe Palumbo and and Bert Callanan at Frank's left back post.

Tony DeTeso, scrappy guard, led the locals in scoring with five floor goals and a shot from a free try for 11 points, one more than Bill McEwen tallied.

Bartnick, with 17, and Conroy, with 14, paced the winners. The defeat did not change Winchester's standing in the league, but did push the locals further away from the second place Stoneham team that won again last Friday.

ATTENDING CORNELL JUNIOR PROM

Among those attending the Junior Prom festivities at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., this week are Miss Nancy Scully, formerly of this town, who is the guest of David Whitmer of Buffalo, N. Y., at the Phi Kappa Sigma house; and James R. Towner of Everell road, a Cornell student, who is entertaining Miss Kitty Middleton, a student at New Jersey College for Women, at the Alpha Tau Omega house.

More than 1000 girls from colleges and finishing schools throughout the east are attending the prom festivities which include an ice carnival, house parties, musical and dramatic clubs produrtions, the prom, Cornell-Pennsylvania basketball game, a polo match and fraternity dances.

A special feature of this year's prom is the attendance of Mrs. Charles F. Hallock of Hartford, Conn., who also attended Cornell's first Junior Prom in 1882, taking her first train ride from Syracuse to Ithaca for the event.

INJURED IN BURLINGTON MOTOR CRASH

David Mellett, of Winnmere avenue, Burlington, father of Lee Mellett, custodian of the town hall, was seriously injured in an automobile accident in Burlington Monday morning. The automobile in which he was riding with George McIntire of Bedford street, that town, failing to make a corner on Center street, striking a tree. Mr. Mellett sustained a possible skull fracture and other injuries. The car, driven by McIntire, was badly smashed and all its occupants injured. Besides Mr. Mellett and the driver, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Lord of Burlington were in the machine.

All had been to vote, the accident occuring as McIntire was driving the machine away from the polls. The injured were taken to the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn.

QUIET WEEK-END FOR FIREMEN

The members of the Fire Department had their most quiet week-end in some time last week, answering only two alarms from Friday to Monday.

Saturday afternoon at 12:29 there was a grass fire in the rear of the residence of Mr. Herbert MacDonald, 15 Eaton street. Sunday afternoon at 4:18 there was a similar fire in the rear of the residence of Selectman Richard MacAdams, 3 Kenilworth road.

Who recognized Soviet Russia? Why, the Roosevelt Administration, amid great cheers and much propaganda. How do YOU think it worked out? Just like all New Deal deals.

Finding that the action of the Federal Government in raising the producer price 40 cents a hundredweight, effective Feb. 4, left them no alternative, the Massachusetts Milk Control Board has increased the retail price of milk in Greater Boston one cent a quart, in order to support the higher producer price and at the same time maintain a stabilized market.

Regardless of what one thinks about the social desirability of the hodge-podge of new legislative devices developed by the New Deal, it can hardly be denied that in the aggregate these measures have not been designed primarily for the purpose of encouraging business profits. If Mr. Roosevelt and his associates believe that there are more important matters than business activity and profitableness, that is one thing. Perhaps the American people agree with them. This is something which will be decided at next November's election. If, on the other hand, the citizens of the United States are sick of depression and they want good business to come back, they are at least entitled to be told how it can be accomplished.—[Edson B. Smith in the Boston Herald.

Winchester has recently afforded striking proof of its community spirit in the way in which its citizens rallied to the assistance of the New Hope Baptist Society, faced with the loss of their church home. The raising of money to wipe out the mortgage by local churches, organizations and interested citizens was strictly a community enterprise, fathered by Winchester's most public spirited citizen, Lewis Parkhurst, who was delighted by the fact that every church in town was represented in the group raising the amount necessary to guarantee the continuance of the town's colored church. It wasn't so much the amount raised as the manner in which it was gotten together, the promptness and spontaneity of response; the enthusiasm of those who followed Mr. Parkhurst's lead and the sympathy with and understanding of the problem besetting a group of the town's citizens, that bring the greatest sense of satisfaction and pride. Subsequent events as exemplified in Winchester's participation in the recently concluded Community Drive lend further cause for pride in the town's civic mindedness and desire to support worth while charitable enterprises. Unofficial reports indicate that Winchester subscribed more than its quota and had the highest percentage of contributions per capita of any town represented. All of which adds to the fact that Winchester is a fine town in which to live. Let us all try to keep it that way!

The financial page of a well known morning paper carried this week the following headline: "Stock values off in month. Drop $830,960,824!" On the front page of this same paper we noted the prominent headline: "Roosevelt cites gains. More jobs, income are among claims." And there you have it. The old battle between vested interests and the saviours of the nation. Take your choice. It may be true, that the starving two-thirds have no stock, but a declining "value" means much more than the loss of a few millions to the royal economists. It carries down all along the line. It means less purchases by great firms and less work for small firms—and all the way down less work for many people. On the other side of the picture, our great financier who is taking the country out of the red and bringing untold prosperity to (well—somebody), "cited substantial gains in the national economy (what a word) since he entered the White House." If we may believe the correctness of our newspaper, and we are inclined to do so from our own experience and observation, he "claimed that the federal, state and local government indebtedness had not increased during the period—that it would be time enough to think about the balancing (of the budget) when the national income had been raised to the neighborhood of 8 nought, nought, nought, nought, nought, nought, nought, nought, nought, nought!" "Any sudden and drastic curtailment of federal spending at this time would certainly be followed by unfortunate results (to whom?)." He cited in addition to sharp increase in national income, an increase in salaries and wages. We agree with him in the wages. Also in the 145 per cent gain in weekly payrolls of factory workers. So far as the 82 per cent increase in cash farm income is concerned, we would rather see a statement from our Petersboro friends before endorsing that. But what interested us in view of the financial page was the paragraph reading "A 55 per cent increase in dividends received by individuals amounted last year to 4,253, nought, nought, nought, nought, nought, nought. To us the noughts are intriguing. How about you?

HOW IT WORKS

The Home Owners Loan Corporation has taken back in foreclosure or by voluntary deed nearly one-third of the houses it refinanced in New York State. Amounting to 25,754 homes, it is indicated that many others are marked for foreclosure because the owners are behind in their payments.

THANKS PRATKEN

Received too late to include in this week's breakfast summary were two beautiful eggs for Sunday from Pratken (Ken Pratt). Pratken shelters during the winter the two ducks, Ike and Mike, who swim on Mystic Lake during the summer and who are well known to every canoeist and sailor thereon. He keeps them with his hens, and brags about his wonderful eggs. His contribution is magnificent —two whole breakfasts. He writes: "The Star can't be wrong—pleeze. These is for Sunday morning breakfast—and sech. We know they aint dux, but they is swell for scratched eggs." Thanks Pratken—and give Ike and Mike an extra handful of corn for us. We will grade them later.

OFF TO SEE OUR "FRIEND"

We had deceived ourselves last week, after that crack about turkey and roast beef, that our Sunday breakfast would lapse gracefully into obscurity and give us a breathing space to enjoy Agnes and Sanford Petts' hospitality and Winnifrede Meyer's excellent production in the name of the Winton Club. So it was with a carefree mind that we carried through and thoroughly enjoyed the Cabaret festivities. But —Myra and Irving Plitt will not be downed. Gracefully recognizing that the Sunday breakfast following Winton activities might well be a feature more to be shunned than enjoyed, they thoughtfully passed over the culinary effort dumped into their lap and left us with "friend" Cotuit oyster. But they carried on under the title "The Star Can Not Be Wrong," and left at our door a magnificent comb of honey and a huge jar of the same. Strange to relate we did not feel like honey in any form on Sunday morning, so we still have something to anticipate on more distant Sundays. Haddock, roe and bacon was our (noon) dish, and the LW stuck to scrambled Peterboro eggs. Our sincere apologies go to Elizabeth and Bill Packer. They arrived after the coffee was cold and the roe was exhausted—not to mention the somewhat grouchy host. Eleanor and Ken Moffatt fared somewhat better. They were better served in post-Winton Club breakfasts. Whether they anticipated honey or not (it was gracefully omitted from the chit-chat) they did not starve, (through the assistance of Grace Croughwell), and we would not be surprised if they call again. As for Elbra and Newell Squires; they should learn by this time that we never have Sunday breakfast before 8:30. Patience and Doc Hindes and the Atkinsons have acquired this information and will back up this assertion. All we can say to our many friends at this point is: don't omit the turkey or roast beef, but it's going to be dinner and not breakfast. Turkey and roast beef have to be properly approached. They are intriguing, but not at breakfast. Therefore we rest on this and that for the coming Sunday, when business permitting, we intend to look over the Camp and our "friend" Cotuit oyster.

COMMUNITY COMMITTEE THANKS CITIZENS

To the Citizens of Winchester:

The Community Fund campaign has ended successfully, Winchester having over-subscribed its quota. (Particulars elsewhere in the Star). The Campaign Committee extends its sincere thanks to all those who have participated in the drive, particularly the headquarters staff, who have, for weeks, worked unceasingly; to the large group of captains and solicitors who have canvassed the town more thoroughly than ever before and to the citizens of the town, whose generous response made it possible to reach our goal.

WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

Because Winchester people are so actively interested in the Theatre, the Library would like to bring to your attention the efforts on the part of the Winchester Public Library to meet your requests for books on this subject.

The Library has a new and most comprehensive reference book Theatre Handbook by Bernar Sobel which covers subjects pertaining to the theatre: stage, history, plays, makeup, players, publicity, playwrights, reviews of about 1000 plays, glossary of stage terms, and many other relative subjects.

Three biographies interesting to you who follow the legitimate theatre, and also, the radio theatre; "Letters to Mary" by Catherine Hayes Brown, a collection of frank, nonidolizing letters from Grandmother Brown to Granddaughter Mary MacArthur, giving an intimate and complete picture of the active life of Helen Hayes.

"Lorenzo Goes to Hollywood," wherein Edward Arnold, stage, screen and radio star, tells of his life, youth to theatre to motion pictures to broadcasting. The third new biography, "Hollywood Saga" written by Director William C. deMille, although mainly the story of the development of the moving-picture industry during the past 20 years, also gives many glimpses into the years of Director deMille's life which have been spent in Hollywood.

And, speaking of the drama of motion pictures, the book "Let's Go to the Movies" by William C. Pryor and Mrs. Helen Pryor, is a good book dealing with many phases of moving pictures, the story-choosing, acting, costuming, photography, as well as all the different types; cartoons, feature movies, newsreels, etc.

During the theatre season in Boston the Library always has constant inquiries about current productions and finds that collections such as those edited by Burns Mantle, adequately supplement the general play books. In the 1938-39 edition such plays as "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," "The American Way" and "The Little Foxes" are presented in Mantle's customary part-dialogue, part-summary manner. This year there is a collection edited by John Gassner entitled, "20 Best Plays of the Modern American Theatre" including "Hidden Tor," "Golden Boy," "Idiot's Delight," "Tobacco Road" and others.

Many of you will be interested to know that the Public Library subscribed to the Theatre Arts Monthly last week, and after this month it is hoped that you will ask at the Library for this periodical.

There is a new novel about the theatre! "Curtain Going Up" by Sophie Kerr Underwood, a story of a girl who dreamed of and really did succeed in writing and producing a Broadway play. The account of her bewildering, exhausting struggle is filled with plenty of back-stage theatre atmosphere.

All the books mentioned above have been added to the Library in the past few months, but there are many equally as valuable books on the theatre accessed in the past five years. Schonberger's "Play Production for Amateurs," has excellent chapters on scenery building, make-up, and costuming, as well as on the choice and production of the plays. It can be used as a manual for the director and as a guide for the student active in Little Theatre productions.

"The Art of Playgoing" by John Mason Brown is a book about the theatre with a unique approach, written for the members of the audience rather than for the producers, striving to increase their pleasure as observers by increasing their knowledge of the technicalities of the theatre.

Another older edition discussing important subjects from tryouts to articulation and from directing to costuming is Van H. Cartwell's "A Handbook for the Amateur Actor."

"Behind the Footlights," by Mather, Spaulding, and Skillen includes a history and analysis of drama, material on the development of technique, and on production itself, while Peter Bax's "Stage Management," helps with the script, rehearsals, stage staff, scenery, properties, lighting, wardrobe, etc.

The last one to be mentioned here is "Curtains Going Up" by Albert McCleery and Carl Glick which will be especially appreciated by those interested in the Little Theatre movement, as it gives a survey of 184 community theatres all over our country with suggestions for any who might wish to start a theatre of this type.

Nancy Kelley of Abbot Academy was home for the week-end. She had as her guest Julie Nelson of Baltimore.

EXHIBITION OF MODERN AMERICAN PAINTING

Members and guests of the Winchester Art Association filled the gallery and flowed over into the public library itself on Sunday afternoon when they met to view the opening of their latest exhibition, Modern American Painting. This exhibition will continue to be on view and open to the general public at the usual hours throughout the month of February.

The Association was fortunate in having as its guest speaker at the Sunday meeting Mr. Richard Rideout of the Grace Horne Galleries of Boston through the cooperation of whom the exhibition itself was made possible. Mr. Rideout placed the association further in his debt with his entertaining remarks about the many painters represented, with an insight into their lives and careers which made their painting seem far more interesting and with his explanation of the abstract paintings of Pfeiffer and Saxild which occupied the most important position on the two principal walls of the gallery.

Of abstractionists such as Pfeiffer Mr. Rideout reminded his listeners that such painters do not want a program for their paintings, do not want people to try to interpret them. They are to look at them merely as form and color and whether or not they are pleasing will be a matter for the viewer. He also developed slightly the theory of dynamic symmetry which concerns many such painters. He noted the similarity of the Saxild painting to one by Leger or Feininger but not in the palette of either.

The speaker called special attention to the work of Allan Crite a young negro who lives in the South End of Boston and who paints his own people and his own neighborhood seriously and sensitively. He has only recently sold some pictures successfully enough so that he has been able for a time at any rate to let his mother stop day work. Deeply religious, Crite paints a religious painting at absolutely statistical intervals and in the interim paints steadily scenes of his own milieu. People are already beginning to refer to him as the John Sloan of Boston.

Of John Steuart Curry the writer cannot agree with Mr. Rideout's summary conclusion that he was a better painter when he painted the laughing clown of the current exhibition than he is now that he paints huge canvasses in the safety zone of residence at the University of Wisconsin. This is none the less an important painting. Less imposing but pleasant is the water color of another resident college painter, Paul Sample who is now at Dartmouth College.

Perhaps the most disagreeable painting in the exhibition which is also one of the most interesting is called "Deep South." In very ugly colors several ragged and moth-eaten and diseased negroes carry slack cotton across a dismal field. Those who have seen desolate share-cropping country know however that the picture is truthful though not naturalistic.

"Blue River" by Susumu Hirota and "Harvard University" by Carl Zerbe, two impressionistic pictures seemed to please many of the visitors. Less exciting perhaps, they are also more restful. Reginald Marsh's "Mr. Broe in the Doorway," a portrait of the most painted model in New York attracted much attention both because of the quality of the painting and the subject, which is also characteristic of his later work. It was easy in this picture to see the effect of his teacher, Kenneth Hays Miller, whose "Saleswomen" also was hung. It was less easy to see the effect of the same painter on "Icehouse" by Waldo Pierce, also a Miller student. Pierce is sometimes referred to as the Rabelais of American painters for reasons which do not appear in the current exhibition.

There are other interesting pictures among them the studies of Herbert Barnett who has combined dynamic symmetry and cubism in a way which is his own and which is stimulating. Also to be noted was "Daguerreotype" by Morris Kantor who has since become a much greater painter than this picture, rather, a tour de force, would suggest. One of the loveliest pieces of work in the show was contributed by Aimee Lamb in her little pastel "Air Raid," which finds great beauty in the upturned faces of a tremulous group. Most satiric was a picture by Coulton Waugh called "Gallery," which depicts a disagreeable woman serenely dominating the gallery while she sits in the center viewing the pictures and being viewed; meanwhile two men in ill-fitting coats seem to have happened by and are looking at other pictures for unknown reasons.

And so it goes through a series of colorful, varied and amusing, interesting and provocative pictures. These pictures are not the work of people who can not draw or use color as so often is said of the modernists. There is ample evidence of craftsmanship thoughout the exhibition. If the mode of expression may have seemed at times strange, it is fair to say that as one lived with them longer they became more plausible. The show is clearly a success and opportunity should be taken to see this unusual exhibition while it is in town.

UNION LENTEN SERVICE AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Wednesday, 7:45 P. M.

Dr. Gaius Glenn Atkins will be the speaker at the Union Lenten service to be held in the First Baptist Church Wednesday evening, Feb. 14, at 7:45 o'clock.

Dr. Atkins is a preacher of unusual ability, having held pastorates in Providence, R. I. and Detroit, Mich. For many years he has been a professor at Auburn Theological Seminary, Auburn, N. Y. He has written many books dealing with religion, and for several years has prepared the interdenominational Lenten devotional booklet, "The Fellowship of Prayer."

Winchester is privileged to have him as one of its Lenten speakers. The public is invited to hear him.

JOSEPH LONIGRO

Joseph Lonigro, 34, a well known Winchester young man, died Thursday morning, Feb. 8, at his home, 106 Swanton street after a long illness. He was born in Italy but had spent much of his life in Winchester. He was a member of the Christoforo Columbo Club and of St. Mary's Church.

Surviving are his parents, Mario and Grace Lonigro, and a brother, Peter, all of Winchester.

The funeral will be held from the late residence Saturday morning with solemn high mass of requiem in St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Of exceptional interest, and importance, is the next regular meeting, to be held Monday afternoon. We are to have the pleasure of an informative talk on Australia, that romantic land "down under," birthplace of tennis stars and adorable koalas, and we are to "test out" the practicability of the new Masonic Apartments, as a possible location for future meetings. So do come, everyone! Come prepared to learn to love Australia! Come prepared to stop! look! and listen! in both directions, in the comparison of advantages, or otherwise, in our two possible places of meetings.

Of added interest is the Junior-Senior program, to be held on Monday night in Fortnightly Hall, when all members of the Senior Club are invited guests at the regular meeting of our Juniors. A splendid motion picture will be shown by Mr. John E. Sullivan, manager of our telephone company, which will show not only the intricate workings of the telephone, both as an instrument and as an industry, but also an instructive explanation of the voice culture taught to girls training to be telephone operators. Perhaps if enough Seniors congregate and petition Mr. Sullivan, he might start a course for club women, for surely there is no field where voice culture is more needed than among club women who must make announcements, which should, and easily could, be heard throughout the hall.

Of course you are all pacing the floor in anticipation of the big "Circus Day" program on Tuesday. Guaranteed to thrill and delight you, whether you be 9 or 90 for everyone loves a circus, and women especially, love to peak behind the scenes and watch the works go round. It is a program you won't want to miss. An added treat, as you will note elsewhere in this paper, will be seen in the scientific tumbling and balancing of a trained group of Junior High School boys, under the direction of Mr. Alfred Muerling, physical director of the Winchester schools.

If you need more tickets, call Elizabeth Hall, ticket chairman. If you need further information about the afternoon program for school children, call Muriel Barnes, in charge of arrangements. If you want to reserve an especial candy supply, call Esther Bursley, who with members of the Junior Fortnightly will dispense circus time sweets during the evening performance.

There are no reserved seats, but a group of charming ushers, recruited from our senior high school class will be glad to seat you as close to your preferred location as possible.

Facing Them

The best way to meet most difficulties is to face them. To stand still is fatal. If retreat be absolutely necessary the way is usually open; but to push on to the goal through all obstacles is usually the most satisfactory and manly course.

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, Feb. 11.

The Golden Text is: "God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (John 4:24).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit of things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace" (Romans 8: 1, 5, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "For right reasoning there should be but one fact before the thought, namely, spiritual existence. In reality there is no other existence, since Life cannot be united to its unlikeness, mortality. Being is holiness, harmony, immortality" (p. 492).

WAS WINCHESTER RESIDENT

Francis W. Bacon, who died Monday was a former prominent resident of Winchester. He was 83 years of age and a retired Boston architect, archeologist and designer of the marble shrine in Washington containing the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution. He died at Cannakale, Turkey, in the former childhood home of his wife, the former Alice Calvert, where he had resided since his retirement ten years ago.

He made his home in Winchester in the old Bacon mansion on Wolcott road which was demolished in 1928. He designed the living room in the home of Prof. Percival Mott on Wolcott road which was demolished in 1928. He designed the living room in the home of Prof. Percival Mott on Wolcott terrace, which in its day was an innovation in interiors.

He leaves besides other members of his family, a brother, Carl K. Bacon of Newton and a sister, Miss Lucy E. Bacon of Brookline, both former well known Winchester residents.

LADIES' AID MEETING

The February meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held Thursday afternoon of this week in the ladies' parlor of the Crawford Memorial Church.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. William T. Carver, president of the society gave a very interesting talk on the "Romance of Cookery" illustrated by very interesting pictures. A luncheon served by Mrs. Roger Burgoyne's group preceded the meeting.

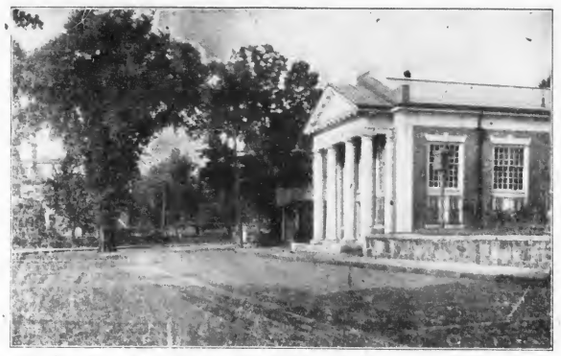

FALLON—QUIRK

Miss Mary Imelda Quirk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Quirk of Somerville and former Selectman Thomas F. Fallon, were married in Somerville by Rev. John D. Clark on Jan. 30. Mr. Fallon, whose home is at 14 Highland avenue, is widely known in Winchester, having been Exalted Ruler of Winchester Lodge of Elks and for many years in the milk business here.

MT. HOLYOKE CLUB BOOK TALK

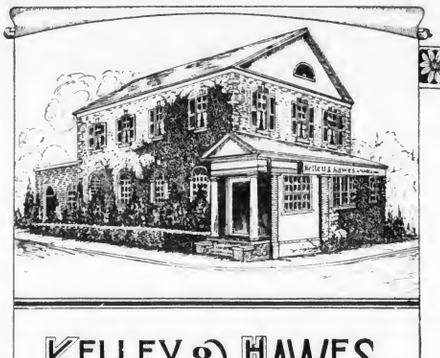

The large number of women who attended Mrs. Alice Dixon Bond's talk on books in the Winchester Library hall on Tuesday morning, Feb. 6, faced, like the two-headed god Janus, both the past and the present, for she spoke reviewed books of the past year that had been neglected in the rush for books for Christmas giving, as well as books of this present year.

Mrs. Bond recommended Christopher Morley's "Kitty Foyle" not only because of its gusty entertainment but because the author had successfully accomplished what he set out to do in the novel—show the workings of a body, brain, and soul. "Land Below the Wind," by Agnes Newton Keith appealed to the reviewer because it gave delightful pictures of North Borneo where the author's English husband is in charge of forests as well as of the author's own personality.

Mrs. Bond said that Mary Ellen Chase's "A Goodly Fellowship" with its pertinent remarks on education ought to be read by everyone while all in the teaching profession ought to be required to read it. Under the fun of "Let the People Sing" runs a thread of a good deal or substance, the speaker thought, for in addition to its amusing pictures of middle class English people who are queer the book contains an exhortation to the comnn people to awake to the realization of the power that is in their hands. In Robert Nathan's "Portrait of Jannie" the gathering was told that they would find a love story written in superh prose and an expression of the author's interest in the element of time, the latter a trend which is much in evidence in the writing of the present time.

A greater part of Mrs. Bond's time was devoted to the discussion of a book which she feels is one of the greatest ever written, Sholem Asch's "The Nazarene." She felt that it deserved consideration at length for this reason, and because of the difficulty a great many readers found in understanding the framework and manner of presentation of the book. She gave a brief sketch of the author's life and explained the complexities of its structure, at the same time keeping in sight for the group the stirring qualities of its theme.

The cast numbered around 150 this year, and a more loyal or conscientious group one could hardly find. Prompt to rehearsals, quick to learn and fun to work with, these fine people, so generous with time and talent, have earned the gratitude of the Winton Club, whose shows could not be successful without them. They always give an excellent performance, and this year was no exception.

Mrs. M. Walker Jones was music chairman and contributed much to the show's success in wise selection of musical accompaniment. Ruby Newman's orchestra, with the popular Sammy Eisen wielding the baton, played for the show and for the dancing which preceded and followed the entertainment.

Mrs. Hollister K. Olmsted was in charge of decorating the hall and it was most effective with lots of red, white and blue with toy soldiers and sailors. Sound equipment was again used this year with marked success. This recently added feature, no small expense to the Winton Club, greatly enlarges the choice of program and the interpretation of the numbers, for songs and skits can be included that formerly were impossible to be heard on account of the poor acoustics of the hall.

The program itself was a booklet of magazine size enclosed in a stunning cover designed by Mrs. Fulton Brown. Mrs. Clarence G. McDavitt was the chairman of the advertising, assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Moffatt, and they, together with a hard working committee collected over 200 advertisements for the program. A large responsibility for the financial success of the show rests upon this group and they did a splendid piece of work.

Costumes, under the supervision of Mrs. Fulton Brown and Mrs. T. Price Wilson, were fresh, bright and colorful. Mrs. Torr W. Harmer was wardrobe mistress, Mrs. Frank Rounds and Mrs. Warren Goddu had charge of shoes and Mrs. Joseph Worthen arranged the makeup schedule.

Mrs. James C. McCormick headed the ticket committee, while Mr. and Mrs. John Tarbell were chairmen of the refreshment bar. Mrs. Harris Richardson, assisted by Mrs. Raymond Dexter, was in charge of the flower sale, and Mrs. Percy Bugbee was chairman of the smokes. Mr. and Mrs. James O. Murray headed the properties committee and Mrs. Charles Emerson was in charge of floor arrangements.

In Review

In reviewing the "1940 American Follies," one might recall the first of the Winton Club Cabarets which took place in 1920. The club, founded in 1911, used various means to raise money for its avowed purpose until that year, when the first of these entertainments was given in the Town Hall. The only publicity was a small notice in the Winchester Star which read "The Winton Club Cabaret is at the Town Hall Saturday evening at 8. Cars leave the Town Hall and Winchester center at 12.08 for Wedgemere and Symmes Corner." The audience had an entertainment, dancing and a buffet supper, $1.50. There were 12 people in the cast and the affair netted $310.17.

In presenting what has enlarged itself into the ambitious undertaking that is the Cabaret today, it is necessary to engage professionals to stage the show. The Rogers Producing Company, the largest and oldest company of this type in the world, supplies program material, a director, costumes and scenery. Makeup, lighting, sound equipment and music are all engaged from the professional field.

All of these, however, could not achieve successful results were it not for the splendid organization within the Winton Club itself. Courage and intelligence, careful execution and much hard work over a 20-year period have built the foundation of the present smoothly running machinery that has such vital importance in the artistic and financial success of the Cabaret. Some of these committees are not in the limelight and sometimes do not seem to receive their share of applause, but without their efficiency and co-operation, it would be impossible to produce a show of the size and quality of this one.

Following are the committees, program and cast:

OF WINCHESTER INTEREST

On Tuesday evening, Jan. 30, Miss Anne Timmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Timmons of Mt. Carmel Penna., and Mr. Stanley Stith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stith of Swanville, Minn., were united in marriage by Rev. R. A. Eusden at the Newton Corner Congregational Church. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. William G. Cunkelman of Winchester.

The bride was attired in a beige cerpe traveling suit with luggage tan accessories and an orchid corsage. Mrs. Cunkiman wore rust crepe with a corsage of yellow tea roses. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cunkelman, 307 Washington street, for Mr. and Mrs. Stith and their immediate friends.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by William S. Allen to James A. Bailey, dated November 22, 1930, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 5518, Page 489, for breach of the condition of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Monday, Feb. 26, 1940, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by the said mortgage and therein described as follows:

"A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in Winchester, Middlesex County, being shown as Lot 1 on plan entitled "Plan of Land, Winchester, dated July, 1927, Parker Holbrook, Engineer", recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds at the end of Book 5152, bounded and described as follows:

Southeasterly by Church Street one hundred (100) feet; Northeasterly by land now or formerly of Edward J. Sharp et al, as shown on said plan one hundred (100) feet; Northwesterly by Lot 2 on said plan one hundred (100) feet; Southwesterly by land now or formerly of Helen F. Coughlin as shown on said plan one hundred (100) feet; containing ninety-five hundred (9550) square feet.

Said premises are conveyed subject to building line established by the Town of Winchester. The fifteen (15) foot strip on the Southwesterly side of the above described premises extending from Church Street to Lot 3 as shown on said plan is set apart as a common passageway for the benefit of and appurtenant to said Lots 1, 2 and 3, to be used by the owners of said Lots 1, 2 and 3 for all purposes for which public streets may be used in the said Town of Winchester.

Excepting however a certain parcel or strip of land seven (7) feet in width described in a partial release dated January 9, 1929, recorded with said Deeds, Book 5317, Page 148."

Said premises will be sold subject to any unpaid taxes or other municipal liens or assesments whatsoever.

Terms, Five hundred dollars ($500.) will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale, and the balance in thirty days thereafter.

GEORGE WASHINGTON-HIGH-LAND CHAPTER

The February meeting of the Chapter was held on Tuesday afternoon in the assembly hall of the George Washington School.

A short business meeting presided over by Mrs. Lyman Smith, president, was followed by a musical program ably presented by Miss Ferguson, pianist, and Mr. Ekman, violinist.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Noah Lewis of the Judge Baker Guidance Center. Her subject was "How Children's Adjustments at Home Affect Their Adjustments at School," was a most interesting one and held the interest of a large audience.

Mrs. Frederick Ives, Jr., and the social committee served delicious refreshments in the rear of the hall.

The second grade tea is being held this Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Paul Shiverick on Forest street.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Myron Widetsky of Chelsea, Suffolk County, Massachusetts, to Christine A. Gleason and Jesse D. Crook, Trustees of the Vernon Hill Trust under a written declaration of trust, dated December 18, 1936 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 6102, Page 211, dated July 5, 1938 and recorded with said Deeds, Book 6217, Page 595, for breach of the conditions and for the purpose of foreclosing said mortgage will be sold at public auction on the premises on Monday, February 26, 1940, at 2 o'clock P. M. all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed described therein as follows:

"The land in Winchester, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, with the buildings thereon, being Lots 1, 60 and 61 as shown on plan of "Vernon Hill in Winchester" designed by Rowland H. Barnes and Henry F. Beal, C. E's. dated Feb. 1936, which plan is duly recorded with said Deeds, and which Lots are located on Cambridge Street and Blossom Hill Road, and also Lots 201 to 204 inclusive, 207 to 210 inclusive, 211 to 215 inclusive, Lots 218 to 224 inclusive and 226 to 232 inclusive, which lots are shown on plan "Sub-Division of Land, Winchester, Mass." T. G. Armstrong, C. E. dated June 30, 1938, which plan is to be recorded herewith, which plan is a sub-division of Lots 2 to 28 inclusive on plan of "Vernon Hill in Winchester" above referred to.

Said premises are conveyed subject to a mortgage held by the Woburn Five Cents Savings Bank.

The mortgagees agree to release any lot on plan "Sub-Division of Land, Winchester, Mass." T. G. Armstrong, C. E. dated June 30, 1938 and Lots 1, 60 and 61 as shown on plan of "Vernon Hill in Winchester", designed by Rowland H. Barnes and Henry F. Beal, C. E's. dated Feb. 1936, upon payment by the mortgagor of the sum of seven hundred (700) dollars to the mortgagees for each lot to be released, and for the said consideration the mortgagees agree to procure a release from the Woburn Five Cents Savings Bank of the like amount.

Being a part of the premises conveyed to me by said grantees by deed dated this day to be recorded herewith, and subject to the restrictions contained in said deed.

Excepting from the above described premises Lot 1 as shown on plan of "Vernon Hill in Winchester", designed by Rowland H. Barnes and Henry F. Beal, C. E's. dated Feb. 1936, and Lots 201, 203, 204, 207 and 215 as shown on plan "Sub-Division of Land, Winchester, Mass." T. G. Armstrong, C. E. dated June 30, 1938, which lots have heretofore been released.

Said premises are to be conveyed subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles, municipal liens and assessments, if any there be.

Terms of sale one thousand dollars in cash at time and place of sale, other terms to be made known at the time and place of sale. Charles A. Gleason and Jesse D. Crook, Trustees of Vernon Hill Trust, Mortgagees and present holders of said mortgage.

EDWARD HENRY STONE

Edward Henry Stone, a life long resident of Winchester, died at his home on Cambridge street, Saturday, Feb. 10, after a brief illness. He was in his 89th year.

Mr. Stone was born in Boston, Feb. 15, 1851. His parents were Henry and Sarah (Ruggles) Stone and the family home was on Kingston street, very nearly at the spot where his business establishment has been located for so many years. When he was two years old the family moved to Winchester where he continued to reside.

In 1881, with the late James B. Forsyth, Mr. Stone established in Boston the firm of Stone & Forsyth Co., and ever since that date had actively participated in the affairs of the company, having been for over 50 years its Treasurer, and in recent years, Chairman of the Board of Directors.

In 1885 Mr. Stone married Martha Grace Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Mason of Winchester, and in 1935 they celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. Stone maintained a keen and life long interest in the civic affairs of the town and served as Selectman from 1894 to 1896. At the time of his death and for many years he had been a Trustee of the Winchester Savings Bank and was a member of the First Congregational Church. He was active and alert, enjoyed a wide circle of friends and acquaintances and in appearance seemed much younger than his age.

He leaves his wife, Martha Grace Stone, three children, Robert M. Stone, Miss Mildred Stone and Mrs. Carl W. Wood; and two sisters, Mrs. Jennie P. Teele and Miss Georgietta Stone. There are two grand-children, Mrs. George G. Collins of Meridan, N. H., Edward Henry Stone, 2nd; and one great-grandchild, Dorothy Collins.

Funeral services were held at his home Monday, Feb. 12, Dr. William E. Gardner, a friend of the family and assistant pastor of Trinity Church, Boston, officiating, in the absence of Dr. Childlev. The interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

FELT—ROBERTS

Mrs. Fred Henry Roberts of Wilmington announces the marriage of her daughter, Nancy Wilhelmina, to Mr. Francis Edward Felt of this town, son of Mrs. Jonathan B. Felt of Main street, on Saturday, Feb. 10.

The bride is a graduate of Bradford Junior College and Leland Powers School of the Theatre. Mr. Felt attended Brown University, prenaring for college at Winchester High School and St. John's Preparatory School. He is proprietor of the Winchester Paint & Wallpaper Co. at Thompson and Main streets, and with his bride will make his future home at Oxford Court in Cambridge.

TOOL SHED BURNED

Last Friday night shortly before 10 o'clock the Fire Department was notified of a fire at Ginn's Field near Wedgemere. Upon arrival the firemen found the tool house used by the workmen there ablaze. The fire had gotten too big a start to enable the men to save the shed and it, together with the tools it housed, was completely destroyed.

It is believed that the fire had an incendiary origin since there had been no fire in the stove in the tool house during the day. The Police were notified by Supt. Thomas McGowan of the Park Department and commenced an investigation.

BLIZZARD HITS WINCHESTER

Worst Storm in 25 Years Follows Open Winter

Wednesday night's blizzard is reported the worst storm experienced here in 25 years, with wind at 50 miles an hour blowing a heavy storm of snow which piled up to 17 inches and in places reached a depth of over four feet. All traffic was forced to a standstill. Automobiles by the score were stalled, and people sought shelter wherever they could find it, a number spending the night in the warmth and shelter of the Police Station. Winchester, in common with surounding places, was hard hit, but when it came to digging out yesterday morning, our town was far in the lead.

The storm opened during the middle of Wednesday afternoon, following a day of cloudiness and a morning of light snow. Once the storm started it rapidly arose to blizzard proportions, and by 5 o'clock the gale was driving the snow before it so thick that visability was practically zero.

Traffic snarls started early in Boston and rose to major proportions by 6 o'clock, when drivers abandoned their cars where they were and sought shelter. About Winchester snow plows were out early and had the main roads well under control till nearly 9 o'clock. At this time some plows became stalled and the numerous cars unable to move in the streets caused considerable trouble. From 9 on the roads were bad.

It wasn't that the Highway Department wasn't on the job. As early as 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon men and trucks were battling the snow, but the storm was of such exceptional velocity that the driving, sleety snow got under hoods of the trucks and tractors, wetting the ignition wires and disabling the machines.

While the storm was at its heighth it was all but impossible to make any headway, due to the stalling of machines because of ignition trouble and because of the fact that most of the town's equipment is too light to cope with snow of the depth encountered during this storm. Eight to ten inches on a level is about what the local equipment can handle officiently, and this storm precipitated much more than this amount everywhere, except where the hurtling gale blew roads virtually bare. This was characterized by veteran snow handlers as a ten ton tractor storm and the town is not so equipped. Few would advocate that it should be.

At the desk in the Engineering office two men were kept busy answering calls for assistance, some reasonable and many more of a selfish nature. So far as was humanly possible, emergency calls were taken care of. Many places where roads were plowed the driving snow behind the machine filled in the plowed way virtually as full as it was before.

At Police Headquarters call after call was received reporting motorists abandoning cars on the roads about town. Police estimate that between 30 and 40 were stuck on the highways through the fury of the storm.

Only one accident was reported to the Police, a Plymouth sedan, driven by Vincent McHugh of 22 Ash street, Woburn, colliding with a Ford coupe, driven by Madison W. Rawley of 2 Park avenue on Main street near Pike's garage at 6:45. Both machines were damaged but no one was injured.

The Fire Department had two runs during the fury of the gale, the first in response to an alarm from Box 27 at 10:45 Wednesday night for a fire in a Waite truck on Main street near Symmes road. Engine 3 responded to the alarm and the men found the truck able to go under its own power after the fire had been put out. It was confined to the engine of the machine which was owned by the Colonial Transportation Company of 300 Hancock street, Quincy, and driven by Jules F. Landry of 79 Squantum street, Quincy.

The second run of the night came at 12:04 Thursday morning when Stoneham Box 321 came in for a fire in the Bell Block in that town. This well known structure, former home of the Stoneham town offices and now housing stores and the Knights of Columbus apartments, was badly gutted. Engine 1 with Lt. Ray Hanscom driving, and the Chief's car went to Stoneham, and bar the loss of the engine's traction chains, got back to headquarters all right. Conditions on the highways were so bad however, that pieces of apparatus from Woburn,

RECREATION CENTER

Four members of the Winchester Badminton Club gave a spirited exhibition of badminton at the Recreation Center last Monday night. Miss Mary E. Cutter, Class B singles champion, Mrs. Nancy B. Stalker, Class B doubles champion, Mr. William A. Stalker, Jr., and Mr. Severin Ritchie were the players, and after several games of championship quality among themselves, Mr. Ritchie and Mr. Stalker asked for volunteers from the interested audience. Frank Mottola and Robert Feeney responded and made an excellent showing for the Recreation Center.

The annual Valentine Party for girls of 11 to 14 was held Wednesday afternoon at the Recreation Center. Two short plays were presented to start the afternoon entertainment. The first "Jealousy Never Pays," was written by Antoinette and Albina Maffeo, Marie DeTeso and Katherine Palumbo. The second play, "The Valentine Party," was written by Margaret Nixon. Both plays were presented by the same young ladies with the assistance of Theresa Faieta and Marietta DeTeso.

Between plays the valentine box was opened and valentines distributed.

A quiz program was next in order, each team consisting of ten members. The winners were Margaret Nixon, first, and Florence Capone, second. Suitable prizes were awarded and each participant received a gay new handkerchief.

A hilarious game of "Pin the Tail on Mickey Mouse" was the cause of much laughter and was finally won by Florence Capone, and the consolation prize went to Nancy Asaro. The party ended with ice cream for all, and was heartily voted a success by all the young ladies present.

MRS. SAMUEL C. WISWALL

Mrs. Minnie Kendall Wiswall, wife of Mr. Samuel C. Wiswall of 21 Park avenue, died at her home on Wednesday of pneumonia following a short illness. She was born in Dorchester, Feb. 22, 1863, the daughter of Henry C. and Clementina E. (Stiles) Kendall. She came to Winches er from Somerville with her husband 17 years ago.

She leaves her husband and a stepson, Mr. Harold D. Wiswall of Arlington. She was an active member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of this town, and was always interested in animals, being a member of the Winchester S. P. C. A.

The funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2:30 from the residence. The service will be conducted by Henry O. Glidden, reader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist. Mrs. Annette Symmes Hughes will be soloist. The interment will be in Forest Hills Cemetery.

WINCHESTER ARTIST CLEANING LIBRARY MURALS IN BOSTON

Alfred Lowe of 166 Highland avenue is busily engaged with the huge task of cleaning the famous John Singer Sargent murals at the Boston Public Library and says that two months will be necessary to complete the work and that of cleaning the Puvis de Chevannes paintings in the same building. R. Arcadius Lyon of the Fogg Art Museum in Cambridge is directing the latter job.

The Sargent paintings have not been touched since the placing of the first installment when the then new library in Copley Square was opened in 1895. Mr. Lowe, who is associated with the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, has handled these paintings and their models from the beginning and saw the carpenters set them up. Going to his office one passes a whole corridor of Sargent charcoals and a portrait in oils; with more Sargents in the basement where the equivalent of two city blocks of art treasures may be found. Here are kept the Sargent sketches of detail and models for the Boston Library murals. On the wall, the scenes from the library series are done in color, exactly as they appear today, only on a smaller scale.

Mr. Lowe, who formerly did portraits in oils, now enjoys color photography in his spare time.

EPIPHANY MEN TO PARTICIPATE IN WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY SERVICE

Men from the Parish of the Epiphany will participate in the special Washington's Birthday service and breakfast at St. Paul's Church, Malden, next Thursday, sponsored by the Men's Division of the Massachusetts Church Service League. Bradford U. Eddy of this town is president of the league, and another Winchester man, Clarence Perkins, is a member of the committee in charge of arrangements for the service at St. Paul's. Similar services will be held in Belmont, Boston, Brockton, Cambridge, Danvers, Fall River, Gloucester, Lowell, Lynn, Mattapan, New Bedford, Newtonville, and Quincy. James A. McConnell and Selectman Donald Heath are Winchester men actively interested in the success of this series of meetings.

The service at St. Paul's will commence at 8 a. m., and after corporate communion a breakfast will be held, at which the speaker will be Rev. Ernest H. Forster, on furlough from China, where he played a hero's part when the Japanese sacked Nanking.

MOTORIST BUMPED AVOIDING DOG

A Nash sedan being driven south on Cambridge street Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 by Thomas P. Hinchcliffe of 51 Thomas road, Swampscott, was in collision near Pond street with a Chevrolet coupe, also headed south and driven by John M. Tassev of 85 Miller street, Framingham.

Hinchcliffe told the police he had to stop suddenly in a line of traffic to avoid striking a dog, his machine being hit in the rear by the Chevrolet.

Both cars were damaged and Mary Tassey, who was riding with her brother in the coupe, complaining of injuries to her head.

FILENE'S OPENS IN WINCHESTER

What is probably the most beautiful of all Filene's many Branch Shops is scheduled to open March 2nd in the Locatelli Building in Winchester, located right in the heart of Winchester and beautifully situated to fill a long felt need in the thriving community. Three entrances from different streets give the store easy accessibility from all angles. It is a brand new store that has never before been occupied. It was planned for Locatelli after an original design located in the Beverly Hills section of Southern California.

The building, which is built around an open court, greatly resembles an English village of the story book variety. Copper roofs, arches, alcoves, plentiful wrought ironwork, stone balustades and a flagged court all contribute to the unusual charm and beauty of the shop. The interior is very modernistic in design with two long arms of floor space stemming out from the circular main portion of the shop. The offices will be above the selling floor on the balcony over the central rotunda. The new store will include shops for children, juniors, misses and women, featuring accessories, toiletries, corsets and underwear, gifts, leather goods, jewelry, furs, sportswear, coats, suits and dresses as well as headsize millinery. The proximity of the new shop to the railroad station is a decided advantage to the patrons as well as to the shop itself.

Miss Hazel F. Berry who has been the very competent manager of Filene's Northampton Shop since September 1934 has been appointed to take over the Winchester assignment.

METCALF UNION

On Sunday, Feb. 4, the officers of Metcalf Union, young people's group of the Unitarian Church, took charge of the regular morning service. This was in accordance with a custom inaugurated some years ago when the first Sunday in February was chosen as "Young People's Sunday" in Unitarian churches throughout the United States. Three subjects were suggested by the National Young People's Religious Union, with which this group is affiliated, and Emmons Ellis, president, chose to speak on "Youth Considers War and Peace." His talk was well thought out and given with earnestness and conviction. Alice Twombly, vice president, read the prayer; Frances Keyes, secretary, led the responsive reading; and Stephen Holmes, treasurer, read the scripture lesson. The entire service was conducted with a poise and dignity that well merited the many expressions of appreciation from members of the congregation. Ushers were James Weaver, Samuel Keyes, Robert Bayford and William Flewelling, and they also took charge of the collection and dedication of the offering.

On Sunday, Feb. 11, the regular monthly evening meeting of Metcalf Union was held at the church, followed by a delicious supper prepared by Mrs. Richard Fairhurst, Mrs. Wade Grindle, Mrs. Warren Goddu, and Mrs. Chandler Symmes. The speaker, Mr. Waldemar Argow, from the Divinity School at Harvard, talked interestingly on "Religion and the Drama," briefly tracing the history of the drama from earliest times to the present day, and showing a definite religious quality in some of the modern dramas, as for example, "Our Town."

FATHERS AND SONS NIGHT

The fathers and sons of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church are to gather in the Parish Hall, Friday evening, Feb. 23, for a dinner prepared under the direction of Mrs. William Carver, president of the Ladies Aid Society, the dads and lads will enjoy an evening of song, short talks, and movie films of baseball and football.

The feature of the program will be the showing of the recent American League Baseball film, "Touching the Bases," starring Joe Cronin, popular manager of the Boston Red Sox. Guests at the dinner will include Jack Burns, former big league first baseman and last year manager of the Toronto team; Horace Ford, well known Winchester business man and a noted National League player; and Billy Weir, a pitcher, belonging to the Boston Bees.

CO-CHAIRMAN OF CARNIVAL BALL

Frances-Jane Hayden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hayden of 11 Mt. Pleasant street, a junior at the Women's College of Middlebury, Vt., is co-chairman of the Carnival Ball, outstanding social event of the Middlebury College Winter Carnival to be held Feb. 15, 16, 17, and 18. She is one of 18 Massachusetts undergraduates actively participating in making arrangements for the annual winter sports holiday.

CHORAL SERVICE AT EPIPHANY

On Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock there will be a service of Choral Evensong at the Church of the Epiphany, to which the public is cordially invited.

Archdeacon Arthur O. Phinney of Yale street will intone the service and the vested choir, under the direction of Organist and Choirmaster Enos Held, will chant responses, also singing the Magnificent and Nunc Dimittis, Sofia Gardner, soprano, and J. Raymond Graham, tenor, will be heard in the duet, "Love Divine" by Stainer.

CASS OUT FOR RE-ELECTION

Selectman Kingman P. Cass has taken out nomination papers for the Massachusetts Republican State Committee and will run for re-election in the coming primaries from the Sixth Middlesex Senatorial District.

Mr. Cass has represented the Sixth District for the past four years and is now Assistant Treasurer of the Republican State Committee. The district comprises Wards 2, 3, 4 and 6 in the City of Medford, the City of Woburn and the Towns of Arlington and Winchester.

TONIGHT IS FAMILY NIGHT

Tonight, Friday the 16th, is family night at Masonic Hall. All Masons and their families are invited to another Family Night given by Winchester Royal Arch Chapter. The inimitable Frank Lane will again be the headliner. Those who were present last year will be sure to be present and those who were absent are not going to miss this one.

Dropping IN by Telephone

Folks ask you to "drop in" because they like to talk to you. But you're so seldom in their neighborhood. Perhaps they're wondering a little why you never accepted their cordial, really sincere invitation.

Even if it isn't convenient to visit their home, you can accept their invitation. You can drop in for a chat — by telephone. They'll appreciate it so much. You'll enjoy the voice-to-voice visit. And it costs so very little. Rates for out-of-town calls are especially low evenings after 7 and all day Sunday.

Rates for out-of-town calls are a happy surprise

Take just the few places listed below for example. Every one probably costs less to call than you thought.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

A lecture of unusual interest and charm was that presented before the Winchester Historical Society at its winter meeting on Thursday, Feb. 8, by Mrs. Margaret Louise Wood of Wakefield on "Romance of Early Whaling Days." Mrs. Wood appeared in a very attractive old-fashioned costume of the whaling period, and had arranged on tables some of the implements used in whaling, many articles of scrimshaw carved with a jackknife from the jawbones and teeth of a whale by the men on the ships during intervals when no whale was sighted, and a small model of the last of the whaling vessels, the "Charles W. Morgan" now at New Bedford and owned by the late Col. Green, all of which helped portray vividly the whaling era.

Mrs. Wood said the earliest settlers engaged in whaling, Nantucket taking first place. Later the industry moved to New Bedford when at one time had over 700 whaling ships, and prospered for about 60 years, until it became the third industry in Massachusetts. Although pirates appeared in New England waters, it did not deter these valiant whaling men, who followed the whaling grounds to the southern Pacific, and over 400 islands were discovered by New England whalers. Finally petroleum and the Civil War put an end to whaling.

Among the recent gifts to the society, which were shown at this meeting was a pair of knitted gloves worn in the Revolutionary War by Timothy Wentworth, an officer in Washington's army, presented by Misses Helen and Eliza Twombly, descendants of Mr. Wentworth, who was the grandfather of Sarah Wentworth, the first teacher in the little West Side School on Cambridge street. Miss Helen Twombly also presented two sketches of the old Myopia Club House, one made by Elmer Fletcher who was present at the official opening of the club, and the other made by Miss Alice Sanborn when 12 years of age.

Another gift shown at this time, which has been presented to the library by Mr. Lewis Parkhurst, was a small piece of wood from Longfellow's spreading chestnut tree. This is framed together with a copy of a letter explaining it, and is on the wall of the library.

Attention is called to the winter meeting of the Bay State Historical League at the Old South Meeting House, Boston, on Saturday, Feb. 17. From 10 to 12 a. m. league members will be welcomed at the following buildings: Old South Meeting House, King's Chapel, Christ Church, The Old North Church, Paul Revere House, Old State House and Faneuil Hall. At 2 p. m. Mr. George Wolkins will describe stirring events of pre-Revolutionary days in Boston and the important part played by the Old South Meeting House. His subject will be "The Great Town Meetings." Following the meeting tea will be served at Huyler's on Milk street.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER SERVICE

About 70 women attended the World Day of Prayer Service held in the Ladies' Aid Parlor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church last Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All of the churches in Winchester had been invited to participate as this day's program was sponsored by the missionary societies of all denominations and was non-sectarian.

Mrs. G. Raymond Bancroft presided. Miss Edith Swift and Mrs. Fred W. Carrier of the First Congregational Church reported on the work done this year by their two organizations. Mrs. Rony Snyder reported for the Second Congregational Church and Mrs. Charles Downer for the Baptist Church. Mrs. William T. Carver of the Methodist Church gave a short account of the four projects, Migrants, Christian schools, Christian Literature and Christian Colleges which are partially supported by the offerings taken on this day all over the world. This was essentially a service of prayer and meditation.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Well, have you decided upon the momentous question of the day, which hall you prefer for future Fortnightly meetings? Do think it over deeply and carefully, for it is a serious question and will be voted upon at the next meeting, so do be there, and do come fortified with good, substantial reasons.

Surely no program could have made a more auspicious occasion for a trial meeting in the Masonic quarters than Dr. Walker's beautiful picture and entertaining lecture on Australia. The great personal charm of both Dr. and Mrs. Walker, and the exquisite beauty of each and every scene of that romantic country "down under" made that program one to be long remembered by every member.

Equally as enjoyable and worth remembering was the program presented by the Fortnightly Juniors at their Junior-Senior night that evening, when Mr. John E. Sullivan, local manager of our Telephone Company, very ably presented "The Inside Story of the Telephone." Mr. Sullivan told of the place of research in industry, illustrated by a demonstration of parts of a telephone hand set and their operation. Miss Anna Travers, supervisor of the Winchester Exchange, told of the importance of voice culture in telephone work (at either end of the instrument) and of the training and work of the telephone operator as a unit in that wide spread industry. Two sound equipped motion pictures followed to illustrate each talk, each most interesting and instructive.

Mr. George Brinton Beal's unusual motion pictures, taken "Through the Back Door of the Circus" went from the sublime to the ridiculous parts of the good old circus days. The humorous side of the clown's, as well as the elephants' life, followed by the stark tragedy of living up to the tradition of the circus, "The Show Must Go On," despite the weather, the hour of day, or the size of the bruises of yesterday, told the whole story of the life behind the scenes of those happy people who love their dangerous existence, and couldn't enjoy life in any other manner.

The high light of the evening was the performance, by 12 of our Junior High School boys, of some of the finest acrobatic tumbling ever seen, inside a circus or on the stage. Great credit is due Mr. Alfred Muerling, physical director of the Winchester schools, for the splendid work he is doing with our boys. The general concensus of opinion was that "the film was swell, but the tumblers simply marvelous."

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE'S ACTIVITIES

A group of young people of the First Baptist Church attended the lecture given by Robert D. Evans, Ph.D., at the Boston Institute of Technology last Sunday afternoon. It is considered a privilege and a pleasure by the young people who attend these highly educational lectures.

The regular Youth Service meeting lead by Miss Florence Pynn was held in the Baptist Church Sunday evening. Miss Ann Downer and other members of the group assisted in making the program an interesting one. Miss Ruth Ormsby told the story of President Abraham Lincoln.

The young people of Winchester belonging to this group take part in and enjoy the activities, then why are there so many grown boys and girls without church affiliations?

Make a special effort this next Sunday evening to fill the place waiting for you in this group.

MY STAGE

By Mona Moulton

How do I know that this my life
Is not the all, the only stage
There is? Magnificent the set,
For these my precious years of age.
I don the trappings for my act
I walk through minutes, hours, days,
These actors that I meet are ghosts
Perhaps, of all my dreaming ways.
The sky winds snatch my voice away
They cast it back, I heard it speak
In question, answer, near and far
Away, down some unlistening street.
In mirrored pool I seek to see
Reflection's truth, in leaf or sky
I see myself, and still act on
My part; and then a distant cry
Comes; I hear it, the far call!
It's here, it's there, It's gone again
I sink back beaten, yet act on
My life is always just the same,
Yet I must seek somehow, somewhere,
Elusive, shadowless, the dream
Through all this living breathing air,
The heartbeat of a far flung scheme.
Almost I think I see at last
I think I heard in years now gone
Remembered, pulsing, streaming back,
And like a once familiar song.
I act my best, I play my part
I only know that I shall hear
The clock strike off my lessening days
Of life, year after year.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The monthly meeting of the Girl Scout Council was held last Wednesday morning at the public library with Mrs. Harold Farnsworth, Commissioner, presiding. The secretary and treasurer read their reports and the various committee chairmen told of the work of their respective groups during the past month. The Mariners are studying the meaning of the colored lights; and are using colored paper in a dark room as a medium. Plans are being made for a marionette show. The Freshman troop met last Thursday at the home of their leader, Miss Frances Pierce. They went over the parts for a play which they hope to put on sometime in March. These scouts also turned in some scarfs which they had been knitting for the Finnish relief.

Mrs. Oliver's troop have sent a year's subscription of "The American Girl" to a girl who has been ill with scarlet fever and will be shut up for some time. Mrs. Williams' troop have just completed a beautiful patchwork quilt. All in all, the Girl Scouts are doing a splendid and most worthwhile work with a great deal of eagerness and enthusiasm.

Troop 1

Troop 1 had a merry dance Friday, Jan. 19. It was a grand success. Captain Stillman assisted by Mrs. Harold Blanchard who planned the dance with a group of girls. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Drake were master and mistress of ceremonies. Lieutenant Bergerson headed a group of girls who decorated the hall. Bert Smith's orchestra supplyed the music. There were about 25 couples, all of whom had a grand time.

Troop 2

On Thursday afternoon, Feb. 8, the Scouts of Troop 2 were hostesses at a Valentine Tea in the Parish Hall of the First Congregational Church. Mrs. Dona Glazer, director; Mrs. Harold Farnsworth, commissioner, and 20 mothers were present. The table decorations of red and white were most attractive and after delicious refreshments were served, Commissioner Farnsworth assisted by Capt. Symmes invested Margaret Schneider as a Tenderfoot. Second Class and Hostess badges were also awarded.

STATE AUDITOR LEGION GUEST

Hon. Russell A. Wood, state auditor, was guest speaker at the February meeting of Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, held Thursday evening at the Post Headquarters on Washington street. Mr Wood, who was introduced by the Post Commander, Marshall W. Symmes, delivering a most interesting and timely address on "Problems of State Government." Following the address a delicious Italian spaghetti supper was served by "Tony" Chefalo and greatly enjoyed by the Legionnaires and their guests.

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

The Architecture Study Group will gather at the Museum of Fine Arts on Friday, Feb. 23, at 11 a. m. for a tour of the American rooms, half of the Group to be led by Mrs. Sayward, and half by Miss McInnis. Everyone is urged to be prompt. On March 8 an "Information Please" program under the chairmanship of Mrs. George F. Nardin will be held at the Public Library.

The next meeting of the Evening Study Group will be held at the home of Miss Alice Main, 14 Herrick street. Coffee will be served at 7.30. Mrs R. H. B. Smith is chairman of the program which will be devoted to a discussion of "The T. V. A. Development—A Workable Social Experiment or a Colossal Folly?" Mr. Smith has been very fortunate in securing Col. Frank N. Gunby for this meeting. Colonel Gunby has a personal knowledge of this project from its earliest stages and will speak on the building and construction and the far reaching territory T. V. A. has covered. He was chief engineer of the construction division during the development of Muscle Shoals and is now one of the associates of C. T. Main Co., nationally known engineers and construction. The subject will be further divided between Mr. Carlisle Burton, who will discuss the original idea behind the project and the present status of their achievement, and Mr. Smith, who will present the picture of the project from its inception as an Act of Congress to the recent purchase of the Commonwealth and Southern and other private power companies and its present influence on business conditions in the South.

The History Study Group will meet on Monday, Feb. 19, at 9:30 a. m., at the home of Mrs. George A. Wilson, 29 Pierrepont road.

Because of the holiday on Feb. 22, the meeting of the Music Study Group has been postponed until Feb. 29.

On Tuesday, Feb. 27, at 11 a. m., the College Club is sponsoring a lecture at the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston on the outstandin exhibition of the year, Medieval Art. The special exhibition galleries are showing examples of painting, sculpture and the decorative arts created between the yeasr 1000 and 1400. Painting will be represented by Giotto and his followers. The outstanding feature in sculpture is an embossed copper statue belonging to the Pierpont Morgan Library. It is the most beautiful Gothic figure in this country and has never before left the rooms of the Morgan library.

The lecture will be given by Mrs. Tanner of the Museum staff. Members wishing further details are asked to call Mrs. Lester Armstrong, Win. 0609.

TO SHOW FIRE MOVIES

On Monday evening, Feb. 19, at 8 p. m., Waterfield Lodge of Odd Fellows will sponsor the showing of the Boston Fire Department movies in the lodge rooms at Association Hall, Vine street.

A captain of the Boston Fire Department will lecture during the showing of the pictures which include the training school for firemen, equipment of the Boston Department, fire hazards and prevention, and recent big fires in Boston. These pictures are instructive and well worth seeing.

Chief DeCourcy and the men of the Winchester Fire Department have been invited as guests of Waterfield Lodge. Adult residents of the town are cordially invited to attend.

Have an "Afternoon Coffee" for Finland!

IF there's a benefit for Finland planned in your neighborhood why not follow the example of this authentic set-up and serve this "kahvileipa" and "vol" (that's coffee bread and butter!) with plenty of fresh, hot "kahvi"—Everything's Finnish in this picture—the little Finn-figurines, the jam-pot, the colorful china and the hand-made cloth!

"Kahvi" is the name for coffee over in Finland and it's served from breakfast time through "Aamukahvi" (ten o'clock in the morning coffee), luncheon, "afternoon coffee" and dinner. The menu may vary from "Lihapullia" (meat balls in gravy) to "Rapu sienien Kanssa" (crabs with mushrooms) but they serve coffee in the good old American manner with sugar and cream, accompanied by this Finnish bread that does just as well in the U. S. A. as it does in Helsinki:

KAHVILEIPA
Finnish Coffee Bread
(See Illustration)

4 tbsps. sugar	¼ cup luke warm
4 tbsps. butter	water
1½ teasps. salt	1 egg, beaten
1 cup milk, scalded	½ teasp. fine
1 yeast cake	cardamon
	4 cups sifted flour

Place sugar, butter and salt in a large bowl; add scalded milk, mix thoroughly and cool to luke warm. Crumble yeast cake into luke warm water, stir until the yeast cake is dissolved; add with beaten egg and cardamon to the first mixture. Stir in two cups of flour and mix until smooth; add remaining flour gradually. Turn out on floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic. Place in bowl; cover and let rise until double in bulk. Turn out on a slightly floured board, knead; form into braid. Place on oiled baking sheet, cover and let rise until very light. Brush with additional beaten egg. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 25-30 minutes.

WINCHESTER WON FROM CONCORD

Winchester High broke its losing streak in basketball last Friday evening, defeating last place Concord in a Middlesex League game by three points, 34—31. The Winchester seconds won the preliminary game, 16—14.

The local scoring was well divided, Pete Provinzano being high man with seven points. "Moon" Boardley was second with six. For Concord Moynahan had 12 and LaHiff, 16 points. The summary.

CUB NOTES

Den 6 Cub Pack 3

While Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin is in the South on a trip her duties as Denmother of Den 6 Cub Pack 3 are being fulfilled by Mr. Raymond A. Norris of Everett avenue and Mr. Marshall R. Pihl of the Parkway. Last Saturday evening Messrs. Norris and Pihl took Jack Albree, David Sargent, Biffy Shaglin, Russell Penniman, Tommy Kirwan; Conrad Rosander, Billy Cunningham and Carl Pihl to the double-header swimming meet between the Harvard Freshmen and Worcester Academy and Harvard varsity and Columbia. The boys were so thrilled with the Harvard pool that arrangements are being made for them to swim in it some Saturday morning.

Tomorrow afternoon, the den will visit the Peabody Museum at Salem which has one of the finest nautical exhibits in the United States.

WINCHESTER GIRLS BEAT MALDEN

Winchester High School girls' basketball team continued its winning stride Tuesday afternoon by defeating the Malden High girls' team at Malden, 27—9. The Winchester seconds won the preliminary game, 27—6.

The local girls were never in trouble, having a 14—5 lead at half time, and slightly bettering their first half showing with the resumption of play. Patricia Cole bagged scoring honors for both teams with eight points on three goals from scrimmage and two from free tries. Howlett had five points for Malden's best score. The summary:

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Troop 7

Troop 7 held their regular meeting last Monday night. Patrol leader Flaherty passed judging and service, Guy DeFillipo passed service and compass; Everett Stevens, handicraft, thrift judging and service; Ralph Reynolds, judging and service. Ralph Swanson received his Eagle badge, also third nlace on the bugling event at the Exposition. Proctor Jones, junior assistant scoutmaster, also received his Eagle badge. Troop 7 has three Eagle Scouts that attend regularly.

MILLIONAIRES ENJOYED GET-TOGETHER

The Winchester Millionaires, perennial baseball champions of Winchester, gathered Monday evening in Haggerty's Hall on Main street to enjoy a social get-together and to extend best wishes to one of their members, tall "Art" Johnson, left-handed pitcher, who is leaving this morning to report at the Florida training camp of the Boston Bees. Art was given a leather billfold and a sum of money by his team-mates.

Also remembered by the Millionaires was their business manager, Jack Donaghey, who was given a box of cigars as a token of appreciation of his services in behalf of the club. The 23 players and Manager Paul Quigley of the club received silver baseball charms.

Featuring the entertainment program was a lemon meringue pie-eating contest among Olio Lee veteran pitcher-outfielder of the club; "Rusty" Donaghey, hard-hitting backstop; and Tip O'Neil. Lee won by a "moustache." Robbie Lynch out-sucked Slick Coss, first-sacker, in baby-bottle milk drinking contest. "Joe" McKee, outfielder and "Rusty" Donaghey sang several duets and recordings were enjoyed over an amplifying system, set up by Gordon Pettingell.

WINCHESTER LOST AT BELMONT

In a closely contested Middlesex League basketball game at Belmont Tuesday afternoon Belmont High won a 34—31 victory over Winchester High, evening the series between the two schools, each having won one at home.

Burns, Belmont center, led both teams with 10 points, all scored from scrimmage. Horie had nine points on three field goals and three foul shots to edge Bill McEwen for local scoring honors. The summary:

The weather man will now tell us about the storm.

According to an eminent professor, Adolf Hitler holds the number one ego position in world affairs. He is credited with using the pronoun "I" at least once in every 53 words. Benito Mussolini ranks second and our great financier at Washington takes third place.

We received this week a cordial greeting from Harry F. Byrd, Jr., editor of the Winchester, Virginia, Evening Star. Some interested reader of our Winchester Star sent Mr. Byrd a clipping from our paper, thus inciting the exchange of amenity. We recall some years ago, when Mr. T. Park Weeks ran the Winchester (N. H.) Star, our being in more or less cordial contact with him. The similarity in name and initials was the source of many amusing mix-ups. Unfortunately the increasing governmental demands upon country newspapers caused the Winchester (N. H.) Star to suspend publication several years ago.

We note with interest the revival of the old and shopworn admonition that the millions of unemployed in the country must be put to work—or else. With our wonderful Social Security now in full swing how can it be otherwise? With every business man fronted with a fine for extending additional employment, what interests us is why our army of unemployed has not increased more than it has. Fined for employing, condemned for not employing more, what recourse has any business man in these days of mounting taxes and expenditures? When this Social Security fine reaches its maximum we may expect an unemployment situation greater than we have ever faced. The only socially secured appear to be the vast army administering the act. And what an army it must be! No wonder the audience at that show raided by the police in Baltimore was composed of Social Security workers. We hear that their numbers are so many that they cannot be housed in Washington and additional quarters have to be secured in Baltimore, with morning and evening trains to and from Washington. If every business man is paying in proportion to what we are, there will soon be no other business in this country outside that of Social Security. More milk from America.

Seated at our breakfast table we are constantly reminded of the large outlook we enjoy from a home situated in the center of our valley housing most of Winchester. Although not enjoying any extended view over the town as is the lot of many residing on the east or west side hills, we nevertheless get quite a perspective of various parts of Winchester. For instance; when seated in our dining room we look across Al Marchant's beautiful lawn, back of the railroad station, and watch you drive out of Thompson street and to and from the Post Office. Looking a little higher, over the mill pond, we see the cars and pedestrians making the turn at the Baptist Church; while a glance farther to the south reveals cars on the Main street hill both before reaching and after passing the Junior High School. Still further up we can watch the cars traveling the grade on Highland avenue. An interesting evening view is from our living room. Seated there at night we see the cars going up and down the Parkway, and by looking through two windows of Maurice Brown's house, we see the cars traveling down Bacon street. Central street is also largely in view. From our sleeping porch we note you passing on Church street, and in the still hours of the night often hear your confidential remarks—not excepting the argument of our trusty guardians who plow the snow and always choose the vicinity of Elliot Cameron's house for their confab. Our elevation is quite surprising. We have heard that the mansion of Skillings the Elder, built at the time when Rangely constituted his then extensive estate and which site is now occupied by the residence of Erskine White once entered into an argument between he and Skillings the Younger. D. N. Skillings the Younger built the mansion opposite the Town Hall, now occupied by his widow. It is related that as a result of the argument over the elevation of the two places, a surveyor was engaged to settle the controversy. He found that both mansions were of exactly the same elevation. We cannot vouch of this story, but probably Mrs. Skillings can set us right if we are wrong.

VINDICATION

President Roosevelt condemned Mr. Hoover because in two and one-half short years he did not end the worldwide depression and return America to prosperity.

President Roosevelt has had eight long years during which he brought about his own Depression of 1938.

Now, a few New Dealers are attempting to draft him for four more years, making 12 or more.

Mr. Hoover has now been completely vindicated by the record of President Roosevelt. In the summer of 1932 America was well along towards recovery—then the deluge and the smear. —Socrates

SHORT CHANGED

The Constitutional Amendment has changed the inauguration date from March 4 to Jan. 20, thus depriving President Roosevelt of a month and a half of his full eight years contract.

Something ought to be done about this. The people of America made a bargain and regardless of how they may feel about it now, they should live up to it.

It has been suggested by almost every New Dealer on salary that the President be given four years more—perhaps to make up for this month and a half. —Socrates

LIONS CLUB WHITE CANE

Almost everybody today knows what the white Cane is, and its use. Most persons know, also, that it was the Lions Clubs which put the White Cane into the hands of the blind, induced city councils and state legislatures to enact laws regulating its use, and presented the canes, free, to the blind. But not everybody knows that it was the Lions Club of Peoria, Ill., which first got the idea, and started the whole chain of White Cane usage. This review of the history of the White Cane is taken from a recent article in the Peoria Star:

A blind man crossing a Peoria street one day nearly 10 years ago started a movement that has carried to all parts of the country.

The man, virtually helpless in the swirl of traffic, his cane tapping futilely upon the pavement, was noticed by George A. Bonham, then president of Peoria Lions Club.

Thoughts of the man kept coming back and he began to search for some means of helping him and scores of other Peorians in his predicament. There should be some way of warning drivers before it was too late that the man was blind and his fate entirely in their hands.

"The cane—that's it! Paint the cane white and put a wide band of red around it. Then let the blind man hold it extended as he crosses the street." Mr. Bonham presented the idea at the next meeting of the Peoria Lions Club. It gained unanimous approval.

The canes were painted and distributed, the city council co-operated by adopting an ordinance giving the right-of-way to its bearer.

Furnishing the canes without expense to the blind became an international activity of the Lions organization. Ninety per cent of approximately 135,000 sightless in the country now have them, and once a year they are privileged to renew them.

Many states have adopted laws similar to the Peoria ordinance, and even in some foreign countries the white cane with the red band has become a symbol of the blind to be watched for and heeded.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON LEAGUE

The meeting of the Winchester Circle of the Florence Crittenton League scheduled for yesterday, Feb. 15, will be held on Thursday, Feb. 29, at the home of Mrs. Chandler W. Symmes, 230 Main street at 2:30 p. m. The president, Mrs. Harold B. Richmond, will preside

The guest speaker of the afternoon will be Mr. Theodore A. Lathrop, general secretary of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. Mr. Lathrop, who is one of the leaders in his field of work, has chosen for his subject, "What the Private Citizen Can Do for Child Protection."

Hortense Railsback, reader, will furnish the entertainment. Mrs. Railsback, who is a member of the faculty of the Bishop Lee School and also of the Leland Powers School, was a member of last summer's stock company of the Nell Gwynn players. Mrs. Railsback is in great demand and has many friends and admirers in Winchester.

Tea will be served by Mrs. John W. Johnson and her committee.

FUNERAL RITES FOR MARTHA W. GREENE

Funeral services for Miss Martha W. Greene of 7 Dix terrace, formerly water registrar of the Town of Winchester, will be held this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Charles W. Messer & Sons Funeral Home in Stoneham. Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, will read the service. Interment will be in Lindenwood Cemetery, Stoneham.

Miss Greene died suddenly on Sunday, Feb. 4, in Richmond, Calif. She had been enjoying a vacation in California and was boarding the train to return east when the sudden starting of the train caused her to fall and sustain injuries which proved fatal.

Miss Greene was 70 years old and a native of Stoneham. She was appointed water registrar Aug. 23, 1926, resigning March 31, 1937. She leaves a brother, Fred F. Greene of North Andover, and a niece, Mrs. Charles R. Fish (Louise Stinson) of this town.

BLIZZARD HITS WINCHESTER

All traffic on the busses and railroad ceased at about 9 p. m. Wednesday. The last train to leave the North Station was at 9:50, passengers reaching Winchester Thursday morning at 9:20. This train was crowded, many standing in the aisles, and one and all had an uncomfortable night. An attempt was made to back the train into the station when it became stuck beyond the draw bridge, but this was abandoned, and as an endeavor to run it through could not be carried out, there was nothing for anyone to do but make the best of the situation.

Thursday morning found all transportation stalled, although the early morning milk train got through about 7 o'clock and the Montreal express went in only about 40 minutes late. These two trains however, were the only ones to Boston till 10:15, when two others went through, picking up a great crowd of persons at the station who had decided to await until something on the line appeared. An outward train arrived about 10:30, and from then on a sketchy service was maintained each way during the day.

Busses were stalled all along the line. Beyond an inward Medford bus at 9:45, no busses on either line ran during the day.

A great army of snow shovellers was gathered early in the morning, and these, with many trucks, started the herculean task of clearing the center. Good progress was made during the forenoon, although the no-chain drivers and other auto experts appearing during mid-forenoon succeeded in hampering things considerably until sightseers and shovellers pushed them one side.

Winchester's main streets were all open to travel at daybreak, although in some places the way was narrow and the snow deep.

The depth of the snow on many streets was so great that plows could not clear it, and these will have to be shovelled out by hand. Although the storm abated after daylight, all schools were kept closed as it was not possible for the children to reach the buildings.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

In an article in the January issue of "Our Message" W. S. Alexander, Federal Alcohol Administrator, has this to say:

"The American family has a right to the protection of the law from invasion of its sanctity by the intrusion of spot advertising of alcoholic beverages on the radio. In my opinion, there is nothing that is making so much foul weather for the liquor industry as the continued intrusion into the homes of the country of alluring appeals to 'pep up with this brew' and 'go to town with that.'"

MORNING MUSICALE

Mrs. Fred C. Alexander of 5 Lakeview road will open her home on Tuesday, Feb. 20, at 10:15 a. m. for a morning musicale to be devoted to 19th century composers. The music committee of the Fortnightly is sponsoring the event. The program will be in charge of Mary Ranton Witham, who will review the musical legacy of the century. She will be assisted by Louise Alman, violinist; Lucy L. Wilcox, pianist; Sophia Gardner, soprano, and the Fortnightly Glee Club. Music lovers are invited. Coffee will be served.

BASKETBALL CHAMPION

Despite the fact that Reading High has another game to play tonight with Winchester it has already won the Middlesex League basketball championship for 1940 and had done so even before winning from Wakefield at Reading Wednesday afternoon, 45—36.

Reading has gone through its league schedule thus far undefeated and is a heavy odds-on favorite to defeat Winchester tonight for a perfect season. The local boys have not been a good road team at all this year and hardly figure to upset as fine a club as Reading away from home, but stranger things have happened and it would be a great help to a drab Winchester season to beat Reading tonight.

The locals go into the game in fifth place with a record of four wins and seven losses in league competition. Reading with 11 victories is riding high wide and handsome in first place with Stoneham's eight wins in 11 starts giving the boys from the hockey town a clean title to second place. Belmont, the most highly favored club on the circuit at the start of the season is in third place with a 6-6 rating, and Lexington with five wins in 11 games is fourth.

Stoneham ought to better its standing as a result of tonight's game with Concord at Stoneham, and Lexington ought to beat Wakefield at Lexington. This might be an upset though and if so, Lexington's chances to finish in a tie with Belmont for third place will go glimmering. If Lexington loses tonight and Winchester wins the locals will tie the Minutemen for fourth place.

Following is the league standing as of this morning:

	won	lost	pts
Reading	11	0	22
Stoneham	8	3	16
Belmont	6	6	*12
Lexington	5	6	10
Winchester	4	7	8
Wakefield	3	8	6
Concord	2	9	4

WINCHESTER SKI CLUB

Believe it or not, but in spite of Wednesday nights storm, 10 diehards of the Winchester Ski Club and a young lady guest enjoyed the regular movie night at the club's quarters. The films were of skiing in Canada and the club's own film of its week-end in Braintree, Vt., two winters ago.

Those attending were Gray, Phil and Bob Twombly, Harrison Wagner and Bubbles Larson for the junior members and for the active members Bronson Garner who brought as his guest Miss Barbara Whitney of West Medford, Jim Pinkes, Harry Bean, Ted Elliott and Will Grush who has done such a fine job in staging these ski movies twice a month since November.

With plenty of snow locally, President Bob Low has set a date of Sunday, next, Feb. 18 for a day trip through Middlesex Fells, with lunch at noon. All members of the club and their guests who would like to make this trip should he at Bob Low's house, 10 Alben street, at 9 a. m., sharp.

Mr and Mrs. Fred Wier and Marty Pinkham spent a very nice week-end at Gilford, N. H. last weekend. Harry bean, Bubbles Larson, Will Grush and Bronson Garner rode the snow train to Cranmore Mountain in North Conway, N. H.

The Innitou Ski Runners of Woburn who were the guests of the club at its meeting Wednesday, Feb. 7, have threatened to stage some real races on their new trail on Horn Pond Mountain and to introduce ski jumping close at hand on their 45 meter jump on the Winchester side of the mountain facing Pond street. They invite all skiers to use these facilities which they have worked on so hard.

In the future, address all inquiries regarding publicity to either Mrs. Fred Wier, tel. Win. 1515, or to the club secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Thomson, 4 Park road, tel. Win. 2094-W.

"Soul" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, Feb. 18.
The Golden Text is: "I will set my tabernacle among you: and my soul shall not abhor you. And I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people" (Leviticus 25:11, 12).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations; knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience. But let patience have her perfect work that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing" (James 1:2-4).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "We cannot deny that Life is self-sustained, and we should never deny the everlasting harmony of Soul, simply because, to the mortal senses, there is seeming discord. . . Truth will at length compel us to exchange the pleasures and pains of sense for the joys of Soul" (p. 390).

WINCHESTER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

The February board meeting of the Winchester District Nursing Association was held on Friday, Feb. 9 at the home of the president, Miss Adelaide Homer, with the following members present: Mrs. Reginald Bradlee, Mrs. Vincent Clarke, Mrs. E. Craig Greiner, Mrs. Robert Holmes, Miss Adelaide Homer, Mrs. Ralph Jope, Mrs. Clarence McDavitt, Mrs. Theodore Monroe, Mrs. Malcolm Nichols, Mrs. Richard Parkhurst, Mrs. Gardner Pond, Mrs. Thomas Righter, Mrs. Harlow Russell, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, Mrs. Jameson Slocum, Mrs. Henry Spencer and Mrs. Charles Young.

Mrs. O'Leary reported that January had been very busy with 346 visits made during the month, making a total for the year to date of 2993 visits.

Mrs. O'Leary made an appeal for old linen, damask or sheets to be used by the District Nurses for dressings. It would be greatly appreciated if those interested would look up their old linen and leave it at the Health Centre or call Win. 0730 and somebody will collect it.

It was reported that the District Nurse is now authorized to make visits on patients with communicable diseases in accordance with the regulations of the Board of Health.

ANGELO AMICO

Mr. Amico, a native of Italy, had made his home in Winchester for 26 years. He had been for some time retired but during his active years had been employed as a leather worker at the Winchester plant of Beggs & Cobb. He was a member of St. Mary's Church and of the Holy Name Society of that parish.

Surviving are five sons, two of them, Arcangelo and Fireman Frank Amico of the Winchester Fire Department, having been among the finest football players developed at Winchester High School since the war. Others are Joseph Amico of Woburn and Paul and Anthony Amico, both of this town.

Funeral services were held this Friday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass in St. Mary's Church at 9:30. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

Nude Horse

Dorothy and Sally, age five and three, were visiting their grandparents in a southern Indiana town. One morning they had been out playing when they suddenly burst into the house very much excited and frightened. Being asked the reason for their hurried entrance, Dorothy gasped out: "Oh, there was a horse went running down the street and nobody was with it. And it didn't have a thing on, not even a strap—nothing but just its skin and its tail."—Los Angeles Times.

Injury From Bullheads

Experienced fisherman pay little attention to the feelers, or "whiskers," about the mouth of a bullhead when they are handling this species of fish, for despite the belief of many persons to the contrary, there is no danger of injury from possible contact with these, according to old-time fishermen But anyone who knows anything about bullheads does take care to grasp a squirming, slippery specimen in a manner to avoid the first back fin and the two side fins or pectorals, for with these the bullhead is capable of inflicting a really painful wound.

CUB PACK NO. 9

Washington School District

The Parent Institution of Cub Pack No. 9, Washington District, consisting of Paul W. Dillingham, Frank W. Horne, Leslie Tucker, Francis Thomas, J. Stewart Chaffee and Chester D. Kenney, met with Mr. Eliot Dudley and received detailed instructions in regard to the organization and development of the Washington School District Pack. Mr. Clifford McDonald has been selected as Cubmaster and Mrs. J. Stewart Chaffee as Den Mother of Den No. 1. Additional Den Mothers are necessary for this district and anyone willing to be a Den Mother may communicate with Mrs. Chaffee, Win. 1475-W.

Pack 4

On Jan. 20, Pack 4 took a trip to the New Engand Museum of Natural History. The 22 Cubs accompanied by Mr. Atkinson, Mr. Barrett, Mr. Swanson and Mr Zarse were shown two motion pictures, 'Atop Yosemite" and "Jungle Roundup." Following the pictures they were given an opportunity to inspect the Museum.

Den 2 under the supervision of Mrs. C. H. Zarse entertained their mothers with descriptions of their trip to the Museum at their Den meeting on Jan. 23. Present also at the meeting were Scout Executive Dudley and Cubmaster Cooper.

The Pack took part in the recent Boy Scout Exposition at the Medford Armory. A booth was designed and erected with the assistance of the Pack committee showing the Cubs handicraft, progress chart and the Lion Cub requirements. Trimmed in blue and gold it had for a background two American flags and a blue and gold skin designating the town and pack.

There will be a trip for the pack on Saturday, Feb. 17 to the Harvard swimming pool to see a swimming meet between Brookline High, Huntington School and Harvard Freshmen. Cubs will meet at the home of Mr. T. M. Atkinson, 8 Chestnut street, at 9:15 p. m.

For Sniffles and Sneezes — Hot Lemonade

By BETTY BARCLAY

When Grandma prescribed hot lemonade for Grandpa's sniffles and sneezes, it was even then an old fashioned remedy. Nobody knew the "reason why." Today lemons are just as effective as ever in treating the common cold, and their prescription continues with the approval of modern medicine.

At this time of year when colds and "flu" are prevalent, hot lemonade is "tops" on the drink list in many a home. Ever since Wu Lai wrote his "Lemon Hot Water Song" away back in the 12th century when the Yuan dynasty ruled China, folks have been drinking hot lemonade. But whereas the ancient Chinese boiled their lemon juice with sugar or honey to make what they called "Shei-li-pic," up-and-coming lemonade mixers today use fresh lemon juice, just as it is expressed from the lemons. For the vitamins which are potent elements in lemon juice lose some of their health value when cooked. Today people know — thanks to research workers — that it is better to pour boiling water on fresh lemon juice to make hot lemonade.

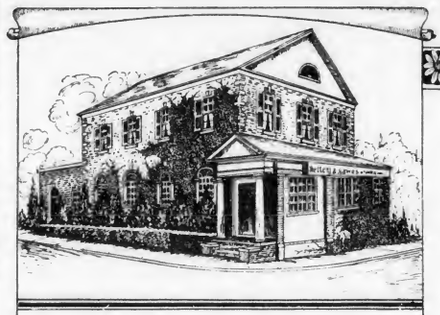

The wise housewife chooses clean-skinned fruit of fair size, since this is the greater economy in the end. Larger fruit gives more juice and clean skin assures good quality.

For one glass of hot lemonade, take one lemon — two is better. Add one cup of boiling water and sweeten to taste. Honey is an excellent sweetening agent.

Many persons find an "eye-opener" of lemon juice and water an excellent conditioner and cold preventive when made an early morning habit. This lemon juice bracer may be either warm or cold.

As a cold preventive, a daily health drink of lemon juice and water with baking soda added is recommended. Taken first thing in the morning, or even just before retiring, lemon, soda and water helps regularity. It assists in maintaining normal alkalinity and gives the added protection of vitamin C, abundant in fresh lemon juice.

For this healthful beverage, squeeze the juice of a lemon into a tall glass half full of water, put half a teaspoon of baking soda in another glass, pour back and forth and drink as the foaming subsides.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors was held on Monday, Feb. 5, with five of the seven directors in attendance.

Allan Wilde, Warren Hersey and Chief Rogers are all suffering from colds which prevented them from attending our current evening meeting.

Judge Curtis Nash will travel to a far country in search of mid-season relaxation, he being the third one of our members away from home this month.

Rotary Observance Week will be celebrated Feb. 18-24 in commemoration of the 35th anniversary of the founding of Rotary on Feb. 23, 1905. One feature of the event will be a nation-wide broadcast over the stations of NBC on Sunday, Feb. 18, from 12:30 to 1 p. m.

Our current meeting, held on Wednesday evening, Feb. 7, was the 11th in the series of community meetings which the club holds for the purpose of entertaining those Rotarians residing in Winchester who do not belong to the home club as well as former members of our own club. This series was initiated in 1934 at the suggestion of the Community Service Committee of the Rotary Club of Boston several members of which claim Winchester as their homes. And the Rotarian who arranged various details of this service at the first meeting and many subsequent meetings, including the present one, was Alfred H. Marchant, past president of the Boston Club and a well known citizen of Winchester.

To him we are indebted at this time for the entertainment features of the evening which were furnished by registered guides and woodsmen from New Brunswick under the direction of Cliff Davis of the Sportsmen's Department of the Boston Post. These men are now in attendance at the Sportsmen show in Boston and notable among their number was the chief of a tribe of Indians dwelling in New Brunswick, who appeared in his tribal regalia and spoke informally after the dinner. Cliff Davis introduced all the guides during the entertainment hour and many of them told stories of the north woods, gave exhibitions of wood chopping, moose calls and in general kept things moving at a lively pace throughout the evening. We must not overlook the string ensemble of four instruments, including a bass viol allegedly over 200 years old, whose members performed at intervals during the festivities. Also there was an exhibition of several reels of motion pictures. These proved to be some of the best nature views ever shown in this town and rare indeed is the man who could see them and not thrill to the beauties of river, woodland, animals in their native haunts and fish making the streams boil in their frantic struggles with the fisherman's rod. Dinner was served at 6:45 p. m. and the main dishes of venison and salmon were brought to us by our guests from New Brunswick.

The next meeting of this club is regularly scheduled for February 15 and our Dr. Angelo Maietta will give a vocational talk. Let all do him the courtesy and ourselves the pleasure of being present.

Percentage of attendance, Feb. 1, 88.57 per cent.

LIONS CLUB NOTES

Because of the repeated success of the Thursday evening meetings, it was voted by the members present last week to hold all meetings of the future on this day.

On last week Thursday a short business meeting preceded the main entertainment of the evening.

In accordance with the bylaws of the Lions Club the names of those absentee members, whose presence was so much desired but whose absence was so often recorded, were deleted from the membership list. It is regretted by all that such action was necessary but circumstances made immediate action urgent.

Mr. Koko Boodakian, who, only a few weeks ago gave a very interesting lecture on Oriental Rugs to the local group, attended his first regular meeting as a Brother Lion. The members accepted his application and extended him a hearty welcome.

As the main speaker of the evening the club was fortunate in having Mr. Robert True of the M. S. P. C. C. Mr. True outlined the history of the society from its inception in 1874, when laws governing child abuse were nil, up to the present day when 17,000 cases are cared for by this splendid humanitarian society. "The Case of Dora Hutton," a colored motion picture based on an actual case from the societies records, covered the plight of a motherless young girl whose father was addicted to liquor. Dora's life and that of the father were so reconstructed through the care given by the society that in the final chapter, reunited, lived happily ever after.

As had been expected the newly appointed Lion Tamer, Tom Woods, was frequently in action even though he did arrive a few minutes late. "Boss Emery" the politician, dug deep on several occasions and barely escaped a third trip when the trap laid by President Garvey and Doc. McManus proved a boomerang. No one seems to know how many pins Brother George Smith has. Every time he attends he claims that he hasn't received one. No excuses next time, George.

It is of little value to the treasury to be prompt and properly bedecked so if you desire to arrive late and minus a pin it is your right to do so, but, beware of the lion tamer. He's the toughtest one east of the Rockies.

To the penny wise—come early. Fred has another delicious dinner in store for you.

JUNIOR FORTNIGHTLY

The Winchester Junior Fortnightly will have a formal dinner dancing party on Friday evening, Feb. 16 in the Marionette Room of the Hotel Brunswick in Boston. Among the club members attending are the Misses Miriam Snow, Bette Ann Budd, Aline Bursely, Virginia Martens, Elizabeth Archer, Barbara Berry, Marie L. Poirier and Marguerite Thwing, social chairman, who arranged the party.

An Uncle Ab Saying

Uncle Ab says that most of what we call inspiration or genius is no more than the result of hard work.

AUTOMOBILE engineers talk a lot about car weight — and with good reason.

They know that riding qualities begin with enough road weight to hold you steady on your course — they know that weight is often another measure of size — above all, they know that weight means substance, strength, durability.

So it's interesting to note that this trim Buick SPECIAL gives you more weight per dollar than almost any other car you can buy.

With all its husky straight-eight power — power that's like velvet because engines are balanced after assembly — with all its room, and style, and comfort — this Buick still has one of the lowest costs-per-pound of any car on the market.

And nowhere else will you find valve-in-head power, all-coil springing, torque-tube steadiness and Buick's plussage in accessories at the figures that apply to the SPECIAL.

So if a little extra money is keeping you out of a Buick, take another look at those dollars.

They buy more car to begin with. More size and more substance.

They buy some six dozen new 1940 features, including many an "extra."

And you'll get most of them back in longer life and higher trade-in value — not to mention your fun and solid satisfaction!

Not a six but an EIGHT for $895 and up delivered at Flint, Mich.*

Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories — extra. Prices subject to change without notice.*

Overruling Supreme Court

The only way to overturn a decision of the Supreme court, whether it is reached by a divided vote or by unanimity, is to amend the Constitution in that particular which the court finds to be prohibitive of legislation.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Myron Wildstein of Chelsea, Suffolk County, Massachusetts, to Charles A. Gleason and Jesse D. Crook, Trustees of the Vernon Hill Trust under a written declaration of trust, dated December 18, 1936 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 6103, Page 211, dated July 5, 1938 and recorded with said Deeds, Book 6217, Page 595, for breach of the conditions and for the purpose of foreclosing said mortgage will be sold at public auction on the premises on Monday, February 26, 1940, at 2 o'clock P. M. all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed described therein as follows:

"The land in Winchester, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, with the buildings thereon, being Lots 1, 60 and 61 as shown on plan of "Vernon Hill in Winchester" designed by Rowland H. Barnes and Henry F. Beal, C. E's. dated Feb. 1936, which plan is duly recorded with said Deeds, and which Lots are located on Cambridge Street and Blossom Hill Road, and also Lots 201 to 204 inclusive, 207 to 210 inclusive, 211 to 215 inclusive, Lots 218 to 224 inclusive and 226 to 232 inclusive, which lots are shown on plan "Sub-Division of Land, Winchester, Mass." T. G. Armstrong, C. E. dated June 30, 1938, which plan is to be recorded herewith. Said plan is a sub-division of Lots 2 to 27 inclusive on plan of "Vernon Hill in Winchester" above referred to.

Said premises are conveyed subject to a mortgage held by the Woburn Five Cents Savings Bank.

The mortgagees agree to release any lot on plan "Sub-Division of Land, Winchester, Mass." T. G. Armstrong, C. E. dated June 30, 1938 and Lots 1, 60 and 61 as shown on plan of "Vernon Hill in Winchester", designed by Rowland H. Barnes and Henry F. Beal, C. E's. dated Feb. 1936, upon payment by the mortgagor of the sum of seven hundred (700) dollars to the mortgagees for each lot to be released, and for the said consideration the mortgagees agree to procure a release from the Woburn Five Cents Savings Bank of the lots so released.

Being a part of the premises conveyed to me by said grantees by deed dated this day to be recorded herewith, and subject to the restrictions contained in said deed."

Excepting from the above described premises Lot 1 as shown on plan of "Vernon Hill in Winchester" designed by Rowland H. Barnes and Henry F. Beal, C. E's. dated Feb. 1936, and Lots 201, 203, 204, 207 and 215 as shown on plan "Sub-Division of Land, Winchester, Mass." T. G. Armstrong, C. E. dated June 30, 1938, which lots have heretofore been released.

Said premises are to be conveyed subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles, municipal liens and assessments, if any there be. Terms of sale one thousand dollars in cash at time and place of sale, other terms to be made known at the time and place of sale. Charles A. Gleason and Jesse D. SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

Shopping for Sunday dinner should be easy this week as all meats and poultry are so attractively priced that the only difficulty lies in what to choose. Miss Cora Anthony, of the A. & P. Kitchens, gives you three good choices in the menus below. Your own market supplies may make something else seem even more appealing.

Egg supplies have been somewhat short due to the difficulty of getting them to market in cold weather but a break is anticipated very shortly. Butter prices are lower.

The damage to crops by the freeze in the south is not so severe as anticipated though the tomato crop was ruined. There will still be plenty of orange and grapefruit and enough vegetables to go around. However, string and lima beans, new potatoes, cucumbers, green peppers and summer squash are less plentiful and higher.

Here are Miss Anthony's menus:

Low Cost Dinner
Beef Pot Roast with Tomato Gravy and Potatoes, Onions, Carrots
Rutabaga Turnips
Bread and Butter
Butterscotch Cream Pie
Tea or Coffee Milk

Moderate Cost Dinner
Chicken Fricassee with Dumplings or Biscuits
Mashed Sweet Potatoes
Buttered Carrots and Celery
Bread and Butter
Lemon Meringue Pie
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner
Cream of Mushroom Soup
Roast Beef Browned Potatoes

TO THE BOARD OF APPEAL
WINCHESTER, MASS.

February 9, 1940

The undersigned being the owners of lots one and two No. 50 Lloyd Street, containing 12,080 square feet as described in the town plan book, has requested that the Board of Appeal authorize the Building Commissioner to grant permits to build a single residence house on Lot 1 containing 6,382 square feet, and to alter his present residence located on lot 2 containing 5700 square feet.

The petitioners are requesting that special exceptions be made to the provisions of Section 8A of the Zoning By-Laws which requires that each dwelling house shall be provided with a lot containing not less than 10,000 square feet in all single residence districts.

LESTER P. and
LILLIAN M. LEATHERS

TOWN OF WINCHESTER
BOARD OF APPEAL

February 16, 1940

Upon the foregoing application, it is hereby Ordered: That a public hearing be held thereon in the Building Commissioner's office No. 9 Mt. Vernon Street on Tuesday, the twenty-seventh day of February 1940 at 8 P. M. and that public notice thereof be given, at the expense of the applicants by publishing a copy of said application, together with this order, in the Winchester Star February 16, 1940, that notice thereof be given to the owners of all land adjoining the land described in the application, and all land on said No. 50 Lloyd Street within one hundred feet of said premises, by mailing to them postage prepaid, a copy of said application and order be posted in a conspicuous location upon said premises.

Bunny Collins, home from Colby Junior College last week through sickness, returned Sunday.

Mrs. Anna M. Dunning was able to return to her home last Sunday after several weeks illness in Winchester Hospital.

Officer James E. Farrell of the Police Department while patroling post night at 9 o'clock slipped on the ice on Swanton street near Washington street and fell, striking his head against the foundation of Purtle's Pharmacy. He was assisted to his feet by passers-by and later picked up by Sergt. Joseph Derro who took him to the office of Dr. Philip J. McManus. The physician found no bones broken, but Officer Farrell got a bad fall as well as a severe shaking up, injuring his head, back and neck.

John Penta of 51 St. Andrew road, East Boston, reported to the Police that as he was driving a Pontiac sedan south on Main street near Lawson road at 5:30 Friday afternoon John Filler, 10, of 17 Chestnut street, in crossing the street from the easterly sidewalks, ran against the right front mudguard of his car. Penta said he saw the boy, who was with a group of friends, and stopped his machine, but young Filler was unable to stop and ran into the fender. He took the boy home when his mother reported that aside from a shaking up he was not injured.

Saturday morning at 10:45 a White tractor and trailor being driven south on Main street by Arthur A. Todd of Intervale road, Wilton, N. H., collided with the rear bumper of a Plymouth sedan, owned by Edith M. Hovey of Inverness road and parked at an angle in front of the Locatelli Building at 542 Main street. The collision pushed the Plymouth against a Ford sedan, owned by Lawrence R. Hawkins of 11 Stratford road and parked along side. The machines were slightly damaged and no one was injured.

The Fire Department was called at 4:38 Thursday afternoon to put out a chimney fire at the home of Mr. J. H. McAlman, 42 Everett avenue.

The men of the Parish of the Epiphany enjoyed a social evening and get-together Tuesday, Feb. 13, in the parish hall of the church.

HIGH SCHOOL WON FROM FACULTY

Winchester High School's varsity basketball squad won a 38—29 victory over a faculty team in the high school gymnasium Wednesday afternoon, further enhancing the old adage that "Youth Must Be Served."

Youth was served, with plenty of opposition by the pedagogues, especially during the first half, and when it is recalled that the faculty had several of its outstanding players missing from the lineup for one reason or another, it would seem that they have every reason to feel a pardonable pride in their afternoon's work. No club can perform at full efficiency with such stars as W. L. Grindle, Arthur Butters, the "State of Maine Champ," Otis Leary, Otis, the "Doc," Alley; Dana Cotton, and Robert Keeney, to say nothing of Edward A. Bartlett, absent from the lineup. The wonder of it is that the teachers were able to "go" at all.

"Go" they did however, in no uncertain terms. Coach Lauer and Rogers were the starting forwards, Carlie Johnson was at center and Ray, the "Prof," Hayward and Bill Bramley, guards. This combination, reinforced by Winslow, Nichols and "Steve" Stevens gave an excellent account of itself, leading often during the first half, or that is, quite often, and being behind only three points at intermission, 24—21 (reported score.)

After the half things weren't quite so rosy, the faculty underpinning and wind going slightly sour during the third quarter when the high school third team, in rather apropos fashion, ran up a commanding score which the schoolboys managed to hold to the end.

The game ended in spectacular fashion with Stevens shooting a brilliant basket just after the final whistle, a basket which unfortunately was not allowed by Referee "Charlie" Dolan, out of B. C., who while sympathetically inclined toward the teachers, allowed that "rules are rules."

Dolan, in general worked a sterling game, that early contest foul assessed to Ray Hayward to the contrary notwithstanding. Ray himself was very, very busy during the matinee and turned in his usual thorough job. Coach Lauer also had a busy time playing against his charges, and although he rang up his share of baskets, it must be admitted that Carlie Johnson, playing for the faculty by virtue of his second team coaching berth, did most of the teachers' scoring; that is, aside from that one of Stevens which did not count.

WEEK-END FIRES

Friday forenoon at 11:52 there was a brush fire near the residence of Mr. John J. Doherty of 194 Forest street. At 4:53 the department was called for a fire which destroyed the Park Department tool shed at Ginn Field.

Saturday at 12:22 a. m. there was a grass fire off Parker road and at 12:44 p. m. that day a slight fire caused by an oil stove at the home of Rafaal Penta at 95 Swanton street.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS LEGISLATIVE DAY

In spite of the lack of transportation facilities there was a good sized audience at the legislative luncheon of the League of Women Voters which was held at the Winchester Country Club last Friday, Feb. 16. Mrs. Joseph Worthen, vice president of the league, opened the morning meeting and after some discussion it was voted that the league endorse a petition being sent to the Selectmen requesting that the Welfare Board be increased from three to five members. Mrs. Worthen then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Philip Woodward, legislative chairman of the Winchester League.

Mrs. Woodward spoke briefly on the forthcoming program of the national and state leagues urging that the members acquire a thorough understanding of the issues supported by the league. She then introduced Mr. Edward Schneider, regional attorney for the National Labor Relations Board, who spoke on the Wagner Act. He explained some of the difficulties of the board and defended its policies. At the conclusion of his talk he answered various questions and then the meeting adjourned for luncheon. In the afternoon the topic was "Shall the Reciprocal Trade Agreements be Continued" and the discussion took the form of a debate, with Mr. Franklin Johnson, publisher of the "American Exporter," taking the affirmative and Mr. William Cliff, secretary of the Home Markets Club, the negative. Each of these gentlemen gave an able presentation of his side of the picture and both answered questions from the audience.

Among those from out of town were Mrs. LaRue Brown, president of the state league, Miss Mary Heard, executive secretary and Mrs. F. J. Roethlisberger, state chairman of legislation for the league.

COLLISION DURING STORM

During the snow storm Monday evening shortly before 7 o'clock a Stewart truck, owned by the Liberty Transportation Company of 35 Sawyer street, Nashua, N. H., and driven by Wendall Billings of 64½ Bowers street, that city, was in collision on Main street in front of the Mystic School with a Ford sedan, driven by Paul Wolelskas of Box 46, Salem road, East Billerica.

Both machines were headed north, but only the Ford was damaged about the rear end. Kastantas Wolelskas, riding in the Ford, complained of injuries to his back, but refused attention here, stating that he would visit his own physician.

ASK PARKWAY BE PLOWED

Signed by 55 petitioners, the following petition has been this week submitted to Eugene C. Hultman, William Rogers, Melvin B. Breath, Austin J. O'Connor, and Joseph McKenney, Commissioners of the Metropolitan District Commission.

The undersigned residents and taxpayers of Winchester, Mass., live on the Mystic Valley Parkway.

This Parkway and particularly the sidewalks, has not been properly plowed following snow storms for some years passed, thereby endangering lives and property of abutting owners by preventing immediate aid in the instance of sickness or fire, and placing in peril pedestrians thus forced to walk in the street.

In this latest storm the snow was effectively removed from every principal street and sidewalk in Winchester except on the Parkway, which is under the supervision of the Metropolitan District Commission.

These petitioners therefore demand that said Commission clear this Parkway promptly and properly after this and all future snow storms.

EN KA FINANCE COMMITTEE HAS HAD A BUSY YEAR

From last September to the present time, the En Ka Society has provided the Winchester Hospital with the following gifts, amounting to nearly $1100.00: delivery table, bed pan sterilizers, breast pump, electric juicers and a special fund for nursing care.

The Winchester Home for the Aged has been helped as follows to the amount of $600: installation of new bath room and closet in dispensary, painting dispensary, two pair of blankets for dispensary, installation of water cooler, new linoleum for kitchen, pantry, etc.

A gift of $100 has been given to the District Nurse Association.

To the Community Recreation Center En Ka has given $215. This provides enough to maintain four dances, a large Christmas party, new games and dramatic coaching. The dances are attended by 125 to 150 young people and greatly enjoyed. A year ago when these dances were started only about 40 attended.

Knowing the New Hope Baptist Church needed assistance, they have donated $25 to them for much needed Bibles and Hymnals.

It is only because the people of Winchester have so splendidly supported the society's Street Fair that En Ka has been able to carry on such fine work.

MORE SNOW

Second Storm Within Week Hits Winchester

Winchester experienced its second severe snow storm of the winter well within a week after being literally buried under the precipitation of last Wednesday's blizzard. Tired shovelers, creaking trucks and tractors were still in process of recovering from their super-human efforts at the time of the first storm when they were called upon to battle the second, in some respects worse to fight than its predecessor.

This week's storm commenced about 2:30 Monday afternon, after threatening skies had heralded its approach through the morning. By mid-afternoon it was snowing in real earnest and Superintendent of Streets Parker Holbrook, newly returned from the convention which kept him at Atlantic City during the first blizzard, got his snow removing equipment and men on to the job. Plows and tractors were going all night and streets were quite passable Tuesday morning, though the walking was bad and the driving "not so good."

The snow of the second storm was very wet and heavy, making it much harder to shovel and plow than that of the first storm, though there was no where near so much of it. Despite the fact that it snow steadily all day Tuesday and Tuesday night, continuing with flurries Wednesday, relatively little accumulated, much of the snow being so wet it melted as it fell.

What did pile up, however, was hard to remove and the tired Highway Department workers and extra shovelers found their second job doubly difficult. Fortunately there was no such high wind as that which accompanied the first storm and trucks and tractors were able to keep going better.

The heavy nature of the snow caused considerable trouble with wires especially Monday night and Tuesday morning, lights being reported out in Rangely and other places about town. Wires were down on Highland avenue south of Sargent road, at Calumet road between Wedgemere avenue and Salisbury street, Bacon street near Ravenscroft road, Stevens street above Bridge street, Grove place, and Bacon street west of the Boston & Maine bridge. Early Tuesday morning Officer John Murray of the Police Department discovered an Edison house service wire hanging within a few feet of the ground on Highland avenue at the Washington School, Officer Clarence Dunbury remaining on guard there until the arrival of Edison repair men.

Incidentally the Edison repair crews had a busy time of the Monday night and Tuesday morning, and gave an excellent account of themselves.

While not so many motor cars were stalled during this week's storm, there were still plenty stuck in the heavy snow and many more so carelessly parked as to completely block narrow side streets and foot-paths. The Police were kept busy Tuesday and Wednesday forenon getting these latter machines out of traffic lanes.

Many complaints and requests for special service had to be disregarded by the Highway crews, and at the engineering office at the town hall harassed clerks and officials strove to placate irate citizens who felt that their particular case should be taken care of immediately.

A peak of 452 men were engaged in the work of snow-removal during last week's storm, but this number was soon greatly reduced as those unable to cope with the heavy work were laid off. It was estimated that considerably less men would be used this week's storm, but figures will not be available until the end of the week.

The eagerness of residents to get and keep their cars on the roads has been the chief handicap with which workers have had to contend, and if those who do not actually have to use their automobiles would leave them in their garages until the present emergency conditions are obviated, the job of snow removal would be considerably facilitated.

MAYOR KANE TO SPEAK IN WINCHESTER

Members of the Second Congregational Men's Club seem destined for an interesting session at their regular meeting at the church hall on Wednesday evening, Feb. 28.

Mayor William E. Kane, fiery and economically minded chief executive of the neighboring City of Woburn, is to be the speaker and few in the audience are afflicted with boredom when "Billy" takes the speaker's rostrum. A large attendance is expected.

WINCHESTER TEACHER NEW MAINE GUIDANCE DIRECTOR

Dana M. Cotton Resigns

Mr. Dana M. Cotton, director of guidance and a member of the Winchester High School faculty for the past six years, has resigned to accept the position of supervisor of guidance for the State of Maine.

Mr. Cotton was chosen for the Maine position by Educatin Commissioner Bertram E. Packard of that state and sanctioned by Governor Lewis O. Barrows and the Maine Executive Council. He has presented his resignation to the local school authoritics and plans now to begin his new duties on July 15 with headquarters at Augusta.

In entering upon his new duties in Maine Mr. Cotton becomes a part of a nation-wide movement to improve the guidance of secondary school students in selecting the proper courses to fit them for work most adaptable to their capacities. The field is a new one in Maine and he will be called upon to pioneer in it, setting up the necessary machinery for its general adoption by school systems and conferring with school superintendents upon its applicability to their specific needs.

Mr. Cotton came to Winchester High School as a teacher of Social Sciences. He was appointed director of guidance by the School Committee two years ago, his efforts in this new field having won for him the admiration alike of educators and parents generally in town.

He has been especially popular with the towns young people, is the present young people's director at the Church of the Epiphany and previously held a similar position at the Unitarian Church.

Mr. Cotton is a graduate of the University of New Hampshire, doing graduate work at Columbia University, Harvard and at Oxford University in England. He is a former resident of Gorham, Me., and has a first-hand knowledge of that State which should greatly assist him in his new field. His many friends in Winchester will regret to learn of his coming departure from town and all interested in the welfare of the high school students will be sorry that he is to be no longer associated with them.

EXHIBITION SKI MEET

The Innitou Runners of Woburn, will conduct their first annual jumping meet Sunday afternoon, Feb. 25, at 3 p. m. at the local hill located in the southeast slopes of Horn Pond Mountain.

The Innitou ski jump which was completed last December by members of the Innitou Ski Runners is considered, by persons who have jumped on the hill to be the best jumping hill in Eastern Massachusetts. The landing slope is nearly perfect. This week following the recent blizzard the jumpers of the Innitou Ski Club tried out the hill, and easily jumped 100 feet.

Members of the Innitou jumping team: Bill Moen, Birger Johnson, Alf Matheson, Iver Larson, Connie Neilsen, Odd Anderson, Carl Frederickson, will take part, as well as jumpers from other ski clubs.

Bill Moen placed first in the Class B jumping meet held at Mt. Hood in Melrose on Sunday, Feb. 18. Birger Johnson placed second, and Carl Frederickson placed fourth. These boys should make a better showing on their own hill with which they are more familiar.

The jumping hill is located off Pond street, Winchester near the junction of the Woburn Parkway, a short distance from Route 3 which is the main highway between Boston and Lowell.

MME. JENNIE SARGENT GOODELLE

Mme. Jennie Sargent Goodelle, former vocalist and teacher of voice, died Saturday evening, Feb. 17, at her residence, 5 Dix terrace.

Mme. Goodelle, who was 90 years old, returned to Winchester more than a year ago from Haverhill where she had been living and teaching. She had previously been a resident of this town for some years.

She was born in Newton, N. H., the daughter of Elijah, and Betsy (Nichols) Sargent, received an intensive musical education, including the study of voice under distinguished teachers, and at the height of her career sang in opera abroad. Later she was for many years engaged in teaching. She left no immediate survivors.

Christian Science funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the Kelley & Hawes Chapel. Interment was in Greenwood Cemetery, Haverhill.

SKIDDING CAR CAUSED ACCIDENT

Helen J. Ewing of 275 Walker street, Lowell, reported to the Police that while driving a Terrapane sedan south on Cambridge street near Russell's Farm at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning her machine was in collision with a Chevrolet sedan being operated by Arthur Decker of Lexington street, Burlington.

Miss Ewing told the Police the accident occurred when the Chevrolet skidded as it passed her machine. Both cars were damaged and Mrs. Sally Brown of 249 Pawtucket street, Lowell, riding as a passenger in the Terraplane, complained of injuries to her right hand, stating she would visit her own physician.

Cliff Thompson, former Stoneham High all around athlete, now playing a forward position on the Boston Olymnics Hockey team, was initiated into Winchester Lodge of Elks Tuesday evening. Looks like a hockey club in the making!

CANDIDATE FOR SELECTMAN

MARSHALL W. SYMMES

Voters of Winchester:

I am a candidate for Selectman. I seek this office because the duties of Selectman appeal to me, because of a genuine interest in town affairs, and because I would like the opportunity of serving the town which my forefathers helped to found and in which my family has lived for more than 300 years.

No one persuaded me to run. I am an absolutely independent candidate, interested in the welfare of the town as a whole, and promising only to work, and work hard to promote this welfare.

Born in Winchester, educated in its schools, I have spent my entire life in the town and would feel it a privilege to serve the community as Selectman, believing I have the education, business training and local interest to discharge satisfactorily the duties of the office.

On this basis I ask your support at the polls on March 4.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

The regular meeting of the Winchester Women's Republican Club was held on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 14, in Waterfield Hall, with the president, Mrs. Warren C. Whitman in the chair. Following the business meeting Mrs. Frederick Hatch, chairman of the Education Committee, gave two splendid and highly enlightening book reviews, dealing with the political and economic ambitions of Germany and Russia and their methods in obtaining their objectives.

Guest speaker for the afternoon was Prof. Norman J. Padelford, head of the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts College. Professor Padelford chose to discuss "The International Aspects of Our Foreign Policy and National Defense." He spoke of the two wars now being waged; one in the far Pacific and one in Europe, neither bearing any particular relationship to the other. He stressed particularly the ambitions of Japan in the Pacific; her wish to add the Dutch East Indies and the Philippines to her conquests in the near future, the looks of envy she is casting on Australia and New Zealand and her willful violation of the rights of U. S. citizens.

Turning to the European situation Mr. Padelford stressed the policy of Germany and Russia to disrupt the political institutions of European and American democracy. He said that the Monroe Doctrine had been the keystone of our policy since 1812 and to it the New Deal has added the good neighbor policy for the Americas. The Monroe Doctrine is even more important today since the factor of modern transportation has made our expediency and national safety dependent on the Monroe Doctrine.

Since we are bound by treaty to go to the defense of any American country threatened by a foreign power, since we must protect our own islands and have certain moral obligations to other countries, every American citizen should, since the menace to America is real, insist on a carefully defined national program for defense.

Members of the club and guests enjoyed tea and a social hour. Mrs. Theodore Elliott, chairman of the social committee, made a most charming and unique large valentine for the center of the tea table, which upon inspection showed a series of clever political partoons. Mrs. Robert R. Elliott was chairman of the tea committee and assisting her were Mrs. Florence Goodhue, Mrs. Muriel Barnes, Mrs. Dodds, Mrs. Hudson, Mrs. Helen Reisner and Mrs. Edith Chamberlain. Mrs. Harris Richardson and Mrs. Eben Ramsdell poured.

ON TOWN REPORT DETAIL

The Police Department has been busy this week on their annual detail of distributing town reports and warrants for town meeting, made doubly difficult this year by the heavy snowfall.

Sergt. Thomas F. Cassidy has been in charge of the delivery service, assisted by Officers John Dolan and Irving Reardon, Special Officers John Reardon and James Flaherty and Martin Feeney and John Callahan of the school traffic squad. James Halwartz of the Water & Sewer Department also assisted with the work.

RED CROSS SEWING

Red Cross sewing for war relief will be resumed on Monday, Feb. 26, at the Red Cross room, 3rd floor, at the town hall at 10 o'clock. From now on there will be no sewing Wednesdays.

ALOHA ALL MALAHINI WAHINE UUIS

Would you like to return to "Paradise" for one night? Then forget all your pilikia, don your Holoku and lei, and join the Kamaaina Kanakas of New England in a luau on the lanai of a real grass hut to be erected in Jordan Hall, on the night of March 4.

Huapala, the Island Sweetheart, will perform a Hula, accompanied by William Kalama and the Aloma Hawaiians. There will be colored motion pictures of Hawaii, with the beloved Don Blanding as master of ceremonies, as gay as he is while introducing the "Hawaii Calls" broadcasts each Saturday evening from Hawaii. There will be 18 island girls in a Holoku Parade with Alice Cooper Bailey as Kalunaolelo. Twelve boys, residents of Hawaii, here at college at Harvard, M. I. T., etc., will serve as ushers and translators, and will sing some of the more beloved island songs.

If you are pomaikai, you may win a trip to New York and dine in the famous Hawaiian Room of the Hotel Lexington where Huapala and the Aloma Hawaiians hold forth each night.

If you desire a translation of this delightful Hawaiian language, call Mrs. Gordon Mann, Win. 0165, who will be happy to furnish you with further details of this "One Night of a Life Time" party.

EXAMINATION FOR COAST GUARD CADETS

Edith Nourse Rogers, Congressional Representative from this district, has announced a competitive examination for the appointment of cadets to the U. S. Coast Guard Academy.

The examination will take place on May 15, 1940.

This examination is open to young men between the ages of 17 and 22 years. The mental requirements are, in general, those necessary for admission to engineering colleges.

The Coast Guard Academy is located at New London, Conn., where both an education and a career are offered to those who meet its high standards. The course of instruction is basically scientific and engineering in character. Annual cruises aboard modern cutters to European or South American ports give an opportunity to check classroom theories by practical seagoing experience.

Pay of a cadet while undergoing instruction is $780 per year, plus an allowance for subsistance. After graduation a cadet is eligible for a commission in the Coast Guard as Ensign.

Detailed requirements for entrance and pamphlet descriptive of the Academy and cadet activities will be sent upon request.

Address the Commandant, U. S. Coast Guard, Washington, D. C.

From Edith Nourse Rogers, Member of Congress.

FOR STATE COMMITTEE

Papers are being circulated here for Mrs. Anna W. Roberts of West Medford, for Republican State Committee woman from the Middlesex Sixth Senatorial District, which includes Winchester, four wards in Medford, Arlington and Woburn.

Mrs. Roberts was a founder and the first president of the Medford Women's Republican Club. She has been long a member of the Republican Ward and City Committee of Medford and is now city vice chairman. She is active in local charities, being a co-chairman of the Community Fund drive and secretary of the Medford Circle of the Florence Crittenton League for the past six years.

FAMOUS TOXICOLOGIST ADDRESSES MEN'S CLUB

In spite of the blizzard, Dr. William F. Boos of Harvard gave his fascinating lecture, "The Poison Trail," before 43 members and guests of the First Congregational Men's Club on Thursday evening, Feb. 15.

The next meeting at 8 p. m. on March 14 is Ladies' Night. Dr. Laurence Barber will speak on "The Lonely Land of Labrador."

CHARLES H. GALLAGHER
Candidate for Library Trustee

WILL OBSERVE 75TH ANNIVERSARY

Hugh de Payens Commandery, Knights Templar, will celebrate its 75th anniversary with a banquet and ladies' night to be held at Masonic Temple, Melrose, on Wednesday evening, March 13.

An organization meeting held in the Waverly Chapter House on March 10, 1865 was attended by several Winchester residents. The corner stone of the present Masonic Temple was laid the next year, and the building was dedicated on April 24, 1867.

The Grand Commandery will be represented by Past Grand Commander Charles F. White of Malden. Ralph E. Brown, Comptroller of Boston University, is making arrangements for a splendid entertainment.

Past Commander Percy W. Witherell, who was Commander on the occasion of the 50th anniversary held in March 1915, will deliver an historical summary of the outstanding Hugh de Payens Commandery events during the past three quarters of a century.

The present officers of the Commandery include: Commander Ernest W. Hinchcliffe, Generalissimo James C. Durgin Captain General Thomas L. Thistle, and Sir Knight Charles H. Symmes of Winchester, Trustee of Charity Fund.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

Troop 5 Council Meeting

Troop 5, Boy Scouts, held a council meeting at the new club house on Feb. 8 with a full attendance.

Frank Buzzotta, the president, presided, and two new members were present, Andrew Buzzotta, junior assistant scout master of the troop, and Anthony Luongo, cheer leader. After the routine business was disposed of Joseph Ferraina suggested that the troop take a 14 mile hike during vacation, plans being completed for the event. Mr. Lentine of the troop committee attended the meeting. He and Mr. Gigliotti of the committee are very popular with the Scouts because of their never-failing interest in troop activities.

Besides President Buzzotta, those attending the meeting included: Scoutmaster Salvatore A. Ferro, Joseph Marchesi, vice president; Joseph Ferraina, secretary; Angelo Paul Amico, treasuerr; Charles Ferro, Tony Paonessa, Gerald Donahue and James Tabaudo.

Special: 72 single sheets of paper, 50 envelopes in Vellum or Parchment for 50c at Wilson the Stationer.

Why let MILES stand between Good FRIENDS?

What separates warm friends are not the miles between but the stubbornness of words in a line, line after line—the coldness of words without voice. Close the awkward gap by talking voice to voice, heart to heart. Your friend is as near as your telephone—waiting. Out-of-town calls are very cheap, especially so evenings after 7 and all day Sunday.

Just small amounts take you great distances

Other places out of town are just as reasonable to call as these. Ask Long Distance.

MIDDLESEX LEAGUE BASKETBALL STANDING

Reading's easy victory over Winchester last Friday evening enabled the boys from up north to finish their Middlesex League season with a perfect record, having been undefeated in 12 games. The circuit title was in the Reading satchel before the game was played.

Stoneham finished in the runner-up position with nine wins in 12 starts. Reading's championship was assured after its second win over Stoneham which was by the narrow margin of one point and then only after the victors had come from behind in the final minutes of play. Stoneham had one of its best clubs in years this season, and had hard luck to have such a fine team as Reading to face .A school the size of Stoneham supporting two sports during the winter season is at a disadvantage, particularly when there is as much interest in one of them as there is in hockey in Stoneham.

Below the two top rungs on the ladder things are more or less undecided by the fact that Lexington and Wakefield did not play their final game last Friday, due to uncertain transportation facilities. Both schools have vacation this week and probably will not meet to play off the game until the resumption of classes, if at all.

In the event the game is not played, Belmont will stand third in the league with a .500 rating, six games each won and lost. If the Lexington-Wakefield game is played and Lexington wins, the Minuteboys will earn a third place tie with Belmont.

If Wakefield and Lexington do not play off their game, Winchester will finish fifth. The locals can do no better than this regardless of the outcome of the postponed game. If Wakefield should beat Lexington, however, Winchester will have to share its fifth place with Wakefield. Concord is in the league cellar with only two wins in 12 games.

While Concord's won and loss record is not especially creditable, the boys from the historic town really put up some stubborn opposition against the stronger clubs of the circuit, losing may of their games by very close scores.

Following is the circuit standing:

	won	lost	pts
Reading	12	0	24
Stoneham	9	3	18
Belmont	6	6	12
Lexington	5	6	*10
Winchester	4	8	8
Wakefield	3	8	* 6
Concord	2	10	4

* game still to play

WASHINGTON SCHOOL NOTES

On Friday, Feb. 9, Mrs. Paul Shivcrick, of Forest street opened her home for a delightful tea for the mothers of children attending the second grade of the George Washington School. Miss May Cullen, teacher of that grade and Miss Edna Hatch, principal of the School were the pourers.

There was a good attendance of mothers and invited guests included Miss Lewis and Miss Storer, special teachers in the elementary schools, together with the other teachers in the George Washington School.

First in the Hearts of its Countrymen

YOU don't have to look farther than the nearest parking lot to see how the public has taken to this 1940 Buick.

Although it is not the largest seller, polls of public opinion mark it clearly as the car "first in the hearts of its countrymen."

On general appearance, for instance, Buick gets better than a 19% vote as best looking, to 11% for the Number Two car.

Its thrifty Dynaflash power plant, now balanced after assembly, gives it twice as many Best-of-the-Bunch votes as any other, as does its chassis construction.

With soft and easy coil springs all around it's only natural that some two and a half times as many people pick Buick as best for ride. And a two to one vote on room is understandable in view of the SUPER'S close-to-five-feet front seat.

But the really satisfying thing to us is the way people size up Buick's value.

Half again as many people pick Buick as best buy as pick any other. And three out of five who rate Buick No. 1 say it's the value that gives it the edge.

So it's not surprising when polls show more people wanting Buick than want any other car — and when Buick's midwinter sales hit new peaks.

And shouldn't that, in turn, logically suggest: better get yours now — and be sure of having it?

GIFT TO PUBLIC LIBRARY

A piece of the Spreading Chestnut Tree and the following letter framed and presented to the Library by Richard Parkhurst.

Cambridge, Mass.
June 8, 1926

Mr. Richard Parkhurst,
Winchester, Mass.
Dear Mr. Parkhurst:

On a plate attached to a chair that is now in the home of the deceased Poet Henry W. Longfellow, on Brattle street, Cambridge, Mass., is the following inscription:

"This chair made from the wood of the Spreading Chestnut Tree is presented as an expression of grateful regard and veneration of the Children of Cambridge, who, with their friends join in best wishes and congratulations on his Anniversary Feb. 27, 1879."

From selected sections of the Spreading Chestnut Tree that at one time stood on Brattle street, Cambridge, not far from the deceased Poet's home, the tree that he immortalized in his poem of "The Village Blacksmith"—this chair was made.

From the wood of which this chair was made a few cuttings or trimmings remained, one of which the maker of the chair preserved, until November 1923, at which time it came into the writer's possession.

It is probably the only remaining piece of The Spreading Chestnut Tree in existence, that has not been made into some finished article.

Having heard of your love for such treasures as these, am presenting to you, a portion of the piece that remained 1/5 of it) believing that you will find happiness in its possession and cherish it for the sentiment attached to it.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) John S. Clary

RETAIN THE PRESENT WATER BOARD

To the Editor of the Star:

The proper functioning of the Water and Sewer Department is certainly as important as any service in Winchester. The Town has been fortunate ever since the water system was begun in 1872 in securing the unpaid services of citizens of high standing and unselfish devotion to the interests of the people. There is ample reason to be proud of the whole record.

It has been made possible, through wise counsel, to provide a system which has been adequate for our needs at a cost which the town can afford. The wells which have recently been constructed on the West Side yield enough water along with the reservoirs to meet our requirements for a long time. If the water from the wells causes complaint on account of hardness, this difficulty can and no doubt will be corrected, also at a cost well within our means.

The records of the Department are remarkably complete because of painstaking effort on the part of the Board.

The writer of this letter on account of his interest in the affairs of the Board, his lifelong residence near the source of our water as well as experience with the Committee on Increased Water Supply which was appointed by the Town and which studied for a period of three years the matter of additional supply when it appeared that the reservoirs then in use would not for long yield enough water for our requirements, believes that the Department is in good hands and there, at least for the present, it should remain.

Respectfully,
James W. Russell

SOCRATES SAYS-

FOURTH TERM

The mere fact that New Dealers are begging for a third chance is a definite admission that they have failed.

FOURTH TERM

History will record that President Roosevelt had little regard for tradition, precedent, or the dangers of perpetual autocracy, in considering a third term.

It can only be recorded, where he has allowed it to go so far, that he would have run if he had thought he could have been elected.

If President Roosevelt does not run, what better prophecy does the G. O. P. require?

"ECONOMIC ROYALISTS"

What is an "Economic Royalist?" Is it one who inherited wealth? Is it one who is wealthy? Is it one who manages a large corporation or is it one who obtained wealth through the stock market, or in some other quick way?

"Economic Royalists" are the "Bogey Men" of all New Deal office holders, yet if an "Economic Royalist" comes within any of the above classificatins many of the New Deal high officials and ambassadors could be said to qualify as members of that outlawed cult.

List your New Deal office holders and see for fun whether they are "Economic Royalists" or not. Then laugh it off, for this phrase, like most New Deal words, is pure, simple, political baloney. "Entrenched Greed," "Tories," "plan," even "New Deal" are honeyed, catch phrases like "Abundant Life," simple vote-baiting such as has been used since Confucius and Nero.

Some day, in the far off never-never land, citizens will hire, as servants of the people, poor talkers, not orators, engineers, not politicians, to manage their government and then they will have efficiency.

H. O. L. C.

One of the greatest jokers in the New Deal is the Home Owners' Loan Corporation theory.

New Dealers told the nation that the H. O. L. C. was set up to save people from losing their homes." Then they foreclosed on them.

Today the book losses of this New Deal set-up is over $78,000,000.00 from the sale of foreclosed property alone. The number of unfortunate citizens who have lost their homes from such foreclosures is not given. Administration costs are not given either.

The final loss suffered by the taxpayers of America, through this foolish theory, may well be close to $1,-000,000,000.00.

Perhaps if home owners had lost their property quicker they would have saved money.

General Manager Jones says that against any losses must be set the $350,000,000 saved by low interest rates on the mortgages. Low interest rates are responsible for the low interest rates that banks are now paying for the savings of the workers, which, in turn, lowers their standard of living.

The banks love the H. O. L. C., for they got rid of a large part of their worst mortgages. Some day some "young lawyer" may take a peek behind the exact law creating this H. O. L. C., "to save the homes of the people." He may agree with the New Dealers, who have said that "you must go back of the wording of a law to see the intent of the law," and the intent they said was "to save the home owners," not to kick them out.

The call of the H. O. L. C. can be: Hi-Oh-Liquidated-Citizens!

THE CENSUS MAN WILL GET YOU

The law states that refusal to answer questions of the census takers can bring a fine up to $500 or six months imprisonment, or both; wilful misinformation can bring the same penalties.

Now, no one questions the right of government to take a census in order to determine "the state of the nation." It is vital for the proper functioning of government. The danger can be in what questions are to be asked and what use will be made of them?

A good case in question is the Housing Census, which is in addition to the regular ten year population count. Although it will cost only an additional $8,000,000, New Deal chicken feed. Why have it? The new Housing Project of the New Deal was kicked out by the New Deal Congress itself last August.

The people will and should respond instantly to the questions of the census takers; but they should consider very seriously the questions asked and learn, if they can, why they are asked.

The Director of the Census informed Congress that census facts have a new value since government has decided to push social planning, and here is the danger. Every "One Party Government" demands and requires all details of the citizens' personal life. Citizens will know the questions if not the answers in a very short while. If they arouse your interest and curiosity, write your Congressman and Senator and ask him why you were asked such intimate and personal things.

Cheer up! Perhaps some local neighbor or New Deal politician may ask the questions instead of a total stranger.

—Socrates

SERVICE PLUS!

Too late for inclusion in the story of last week's blizzard the Star learned that one of the town's leading bank figures and a widely known legal light of the community were among those marooned in the Arlington Police Station during the heighth of the storm last Wednesday night.

They had been to Newton attending, we understand, a fisherman's dinner, and after considerable difficulty, by devious and hard-to-travel ways, finally reached Arlington where their motor gave up the ghost.

The financier and advocate were hospitably received at Arlington Headquarters, and due doubtless to the advocate's standing in Police circles, machinery was put in motion to get both as near to their homes as possible.

Telephonic communication finally established the fact that Mystic street in Arlington was passable to the Winchester line and that Cambridge street was ditto from that point to the "Athens of America," which that night seemed quite a lot further than "eight miles from the gilded dome."

At 3 o'clock on Thursday morning the Arlington Police dispatched their distinguished guests in a cruiser to the Winchester line where a Winchester cruiser took up the white man's burden.

Both the nancier and the advocate were taken to the end of their streets, but from then on the problem of transportation was placed squarely up to them. It looked like "waller." As a matter of fact and to keep the record straight, it was "waller." Both arrived home finally, not so badly off, which was quite a bit more than many of their fellow townsmen and women could say that large young morning.

Business, Brick Manufacturer.
Occupation, Vice president and treasurer of the Winchester Brick Co., East street, Winchester.
Organizations, Boston City Club, Winchester Lodge of Elks.
Public Offices held, Election Clerk in Town of Milton, held this office for 3 years).
Education, Experience and Qualifications: Attended Milton Public Schools and Lawrence Academy, Groton. As a resident of Winchester for more than 10 years, and as a large stock-holder in the Winchester Brick Company (a local firm which paid the Town of Winchester over $750 in taxes in 1939) I am vitally interested in the affairs of the Town and Town Departments.

As Vice President and Treasurer of the Winchester Brick Co., I have full executive responsibility of a corporation doing a gross business of $120,-000 yearly.

I am guilty of being a young man, but I think that this is a strong asset rather than a liability, because it is my opinion that more young men should take an active part in the affairs of the town.

Also my business demands that I be in Winchester during the day and, and if elected, I shall be available throughout the day for consultation with any tax-payer or Town Department.

FORTNIGHTLY MORNING MUSICALE

Despite the inclemency of the weather, many local music lovers fared forth to enjoy a delightful morning musicale, given by the Fortnightly Music Group at the home of Mrs. Fred Alexander on Lakeview road, on Tuesday morning. Mary Ranton Witham, chairman of the program, gave a splendid paper on "Nineteenth Century Composers," followed by representative groups of selections by Lucy Wilcox, pianist; Sophie Gardner, soprano; and Louise Allman, violinist, and the Glee Club in chorus.

Morning coffee preceded the program.

"Neighboring Winchester," was the topic of the Jordan Marsh broadcast over WBZ on Wednesday morning. Not only was an interesting history of Winchester given, but local names, locations, and organizations of present importance were given, with due emphasis on the importance of the Fortnightly as a leading Women's Club. Preceded by a brief history of the club's activities and objectives, capably told by Dorothy Howard ,its president, the Fortnightly glee club sang several delightful selections.

ATTENDED CONVENTION

Dr. Irving Humphrey had charge of the entire scientific program at the 21st annual convention of the Massachusetts Chiropody Association. Dr. John McLean also of this town, who by the way is chief clinician at the Boston Dispensery, acted as chief diagnostican at this convention and diagnozided all cases that came before the convention clinic for treatment and perscribed treatments.

VALENTINE PARTY

John and Robert Pearson of 47 Shore road, entertained their playmates at a party on Tuesday afternoon, in honor of the recent St. Valentine's Day.

A large box attractively decorated, was placed in the midde of the room, where as the children arrived they deposited their Valentines, and after a luncheon in the red and white decorated dining room where two Valentine cakes decorated the table, games were played and an entertainment enjoyed.

Later in the afternoon, John and Robert served as postmen and distributed Valentines to all the children present who included: Anne Perry, Richard Treacy, James Pearson, Eleanor Smith, Phyllis, Peg, Barbara, Gloria, Lorraine Daniel and James Pearson.

ELKS' INTER-LODGE TOURNEYS

The Winchester Lodge of Elks bowling, pool, billiard and card teams go to Newton Monday evening for an inter-lodge tournament with the teams of Newton Lodge, this being a postponed match.

Next Tuesday Brookline Lodge comes to Winchester for a tournament match.

PLAY READINGS AT EPIPHANY PARISH HOUSE

There will be four more play readings by Mrs. Sidney St. Felix Thaxter at the Epiphany Parish House. On Friday, March 1 she will read "The Man Who Came to Dinner," and on March 15, "Skylark." The plays for March 29 and April 12 will be announced later. Mrs. Thaxter hopes to read "Life With Father" and "Margin for Error."

Tickets will not be sold at the door, but may be obtained from any member of the Tuesday Luncheon Group. Prices, $3 for six admissions, 60 cents for single admission.

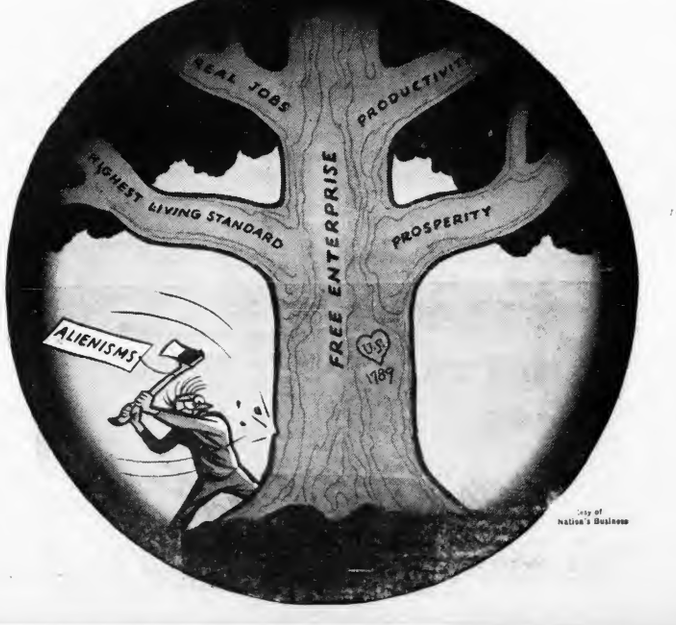

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

The Music Study Group will meet on Thursday, Feb. 29, at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. William L. Davis, 3 Central green.

The Evening Study Group was unable to meet on Monday, Feb. 19, because of the storm. Consequently the program devoted to the T. V. A. Development has been postponed. The next regular scheduled meeting will be held as announced on March 4, at the home of Miss Alice Main, 14 Herrick street. The subject of discussion will be "Men Who Influence Public Thought."

MARSHALL R. PIHL SPEAKER

Marshall R. Pihl spoke before the Collectors and Treasurers Association of Massachusetts at their semi-annual meeting held last week in Boston. His talk was reported at full length in last Sunday's Herald and is being sent by Henry F. Long, Commissioner of Taxation, to every Collector and Treasurer in Massachusetts.

Boiling on Ice

Boiling a kettle of water on a block of ice is an experiment that is often performed with liquid air, which looks like water though it is not quite as clear. If liquid air is placed in a kettle, which is set on a block of ice, the ice being much warmer than the liquid air will cause it to boil or change into gas. If the liquid air is poured on the ice it will boil vigorously, sending off clouds of vapor.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Thirteen members were absent from the meeting of Feb. 21.

The weather mans' valentine of the 14th inst. in the form of a furious blizzard forbade the gathering of our members on the scheduled date of Feb. 15. Wherefore that meeting was perforce, omitted. And in order that the meeting scheduled for Feb. 22 should not conflict with the holiday, that meeting date was changed to Wednesday, Feb. 21.

Our James Quinn is attending a convention of educators in the Middle West. We expect to greet him again at our next meeting.

We have heard from Harry Winn at Miami, Fla., where he attended the Rotary Club meeting on the 15th inst.

At this meeting we had the pleasure of welcoming a new member to the service of the Rotary Club of Winchester, Ernest B. Dade has come to us as an additional active member to represent the classification "Watch Hands, Manufacturing." We believe that the club service has been substantially strengthened and that Ernest himself, will experience keen pleasure because of new opportunities to increase his usefulness as a good citizen. Again, our cordial welcome, Ernest.

Today our attendance cards appeared with the "Four Objects of Rotary" printed on the reverse side of the cards. It is proposed to recite these objects at each one of our meetings so that all of our members may realize the full significance of the comprehensive service which Rotary sponsors. And surely this is a matter concerning which none of us can know too much.

Our Dr. Angelo Maietta during the after-luncheon period today gave a vocational talk, a custom which our members have observed since the organization of the club. Angelo, as is well known, specializes in that branch of the science of healing known as allergy. Allergy, we are told, is a term applied to those physical reactions wherein certain persons are oversensitive to contact with certain substances of a very diverse nature. The study of allergy commenced about a century and a half ago and for many years was pursued chiefly by European physicians and scientists. In 1905 a prominent American physician became interested in that branch of research, since which time very great progress has been made in acquiring knowledge of the phenomena of allergy and in the relief of the victims of allergic reactions. We wish to congratulate Angelo on his very apparent and extensive knowledge of his profession and also his skill and clarity in explaining its fundamentals to his lay audience. And so the Rotary vocational talk again scores heavily.

Next week Thursday, Feb. 29, we are to listen to an address by Mr. Roland Sharpe, a member of the staff of the "Christian Science Monitor." Mr. Sharpe is particularly well informed in the field of international relations and he will speak to us of the present situation as it affects Russia, Finland, Scandinavia, Germany and the Allies. The presentation will be one of the season's best and it calls for 100 per cent attendance. We suggest that you bring guests. The speaker merits a large group of hearers.

BOOK REVIEW CLASS

The Book Review Class of the First Congregational Church will meet in the ladies' parlor at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 27. Dr. Chidley will discuss "The Nazarene" by Sholem Asch and the life and customs of the people of Palestine. He will also speak briefly on the present situation there. Anyone who would like to come will be welcome.

"Mind" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, Feb. 25.

The Golden Text is: "Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite" (Psalms 147:5).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "My son, attend to my words; incline thine ear unto my sayings. Let them not depart from thine eyes; keep them in the midst of thine heart. For they are life unto those that find them and health to all their flesh" (Proverbs 4:20-22).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The basis of all health, sinlessness, and immortality is the great fact that God is the only Mind; and this Mind must be not merely believed, but it must be understood" (p. 339).

WINCHESTER THRIFT SHOP TO HOLD DONATION DAY

On Tuesday morning, March 12, there is to be a morning coffee and Donation Day at the First Baptist Church in preparation for the sale the following day at the Winchester Thrift Shop. The Thrift Shop was organized some years ago under the direction of the Women's League of the church, when Mrs. Charles A. Burnham was president. It's purpose is to raise funds, helping to pay off the mortgage on the church and though the shop remains open from October to June and has become a most successful business venture, these sales are given from time to time.

At 10:30 a. m a fashion show "The Easter Parade" will be presented by Filene's, who open their new Winchester store in March.

Morning coffee will be served from 10 to 10:30 and again from 11:30 to 12 with the following pourers: Mrs. Harold B. Richmond, president of the Florence Crittenton League; Mrs. George A. Dutting, president of the Red Cross; Mrs. Warren C. Whitman, president of the Republican Club; Mrs. Henry K. Spencer, president of the Winton Club; Mrs. Stanley J. Barnes, president of the Mothers' Association; Mrs. John L. Lobingier, president of the College Club; Mrs. Charles A. Woolley, president of the En Ka Society; Mrs. Paul H. Howard, president of the Fortnightly.

Mrs. Charles A. Burnham is general chairman of the affair and she will be assisted by Mrs. Martin Swanson, president of the Women's League, chairman of hostesses; Mrs. Norman Mitchell, chairman of decorations; Mrs. Lester Pratt, chairman of serving; Miss Helen Lorentz, chairman of coffee; Mrs. Myrtle Cobb, chairman of donations; Mrs. Otis Hammett, chairman of marketing; Mrs. Malcolm Wilson, chairman of fashion shows; and Mrs. R. Mitchell Rushton, chairman of publicity.

DR. ADLER TO LECTURE IN WINCHESTER

The all-absorbing subject of child and adult guidance will be expertly treated in a lecture by Dr. Alexandra Adler, noted Vienna psychologist at Fortnightly Hall on Sunday afternoon, March 3, at 3 o'clock. The lecture is being sponsored by the Community Service Committee of the Fortnightly and is open to the public. There will be no admission charge.

BETTER HOMES AND GARDEN

The meeting of the Better Homes Garden Club, scheduled for Feb. 21, will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 28, at the art gallery of the Public Library. The program will be the same as originally planned.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

James H. Biggart of Baldwin, N. Y., president of Alpha Kappa Psi at Columbia University has been visiting his fraternity brothers at Boston University and his friends and former classmates at M. I. T. this week. He will be the house guest of Walter M. Ennis, 9 Englewood road of this town over the week-end.

Edison repair crews had a hard two day job in the Andrews Hill section of the town repairing a light service that was burned out in many places when a high tension cable fell upon it during the storm. Light service in the vicinity was curtailed as a result of the accident.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Last Sunday's rotogravure section of the Boston Globe devoted two pages to pictures of ice boating on Mystic Lake and specifications for making an ice boat by Frank G. Trott of Mystic avenue, turf editor of the Globe and an ardent ice boater at Medford Boat Club for the past 40 years. Incidentally there is a fine snap of Frank, himself, at the tiller of his boat, complete with white parka, mittens and everythin'.

Mr. George W. Tilley of Lloyd street, veteran dealer in fine felts, was among those from Winchester who attended the chiropodists' convention on the holiday at the Parker House in Boston.

Those who have occasion to drive along the Parkway between the center and Wedgemere Station will miss for a time at least the big rooster weather-vane which for years has surmounted the cupola of the barn on the Francis J. O'Hara estate at the corner of Mystic avenue and the Parkway. The recent blizzard knocked the big bird from his perch and he is now hanging in a precarious position from the cupola.

The Fire Denartment was called at 9:30 last night to correct trouble with an oil burner at teh home of Mabel McCarthy, 18 Canal street. There was little damage done.

The Fire Department was notified Wednesday evening that a house was afire on Grayson road. Box 65 was put on from the station and apparatus sent to the scene of the supposed fire. Upon arrival the men found a householder burning rubbish at the rear of a house, the reflection causing neighbors to believe the structure was ablaze.

Miss Ann Kimball, a senior at Smith and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Allan Kimball of Cabot street, spent two days this week with her parents in Winchester.

Mr. Dana M. Cotton of the high school faculty has been confined to his home for several days this week with a heavy cold.

Baggage Master Edward Fitzgerald of the B. & M. Railroad at Winchester Station has been confined to his home on Winchester place this week with a severe cold.

Miss Patricia Crouchwell left Thursday for a stay at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Merrill held open house for their Rangely friends on Washington's Birthday.

Mrs. Edward Bagnall is enjoying a vacation at St. Petersburg, Fla., where she is registered at the Sewanee Hotel.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. and Mrs. John Costello of Mason street are leaving town this week for Palm Beach where they will be guests at the Hotel Seminole.

Mr. and Mrs. Washington Irving Plitt entertained a group of their friends on Washington's Birthday at their home in the Rangely region of Winchester, the occasion being Mr. Plitt's birthday.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles H. Tozier of Ridgefield road have left town for a trip to Mexico City.

"A good time was had by all," at the birthday anniversary of Nelson Dalrymple, popular clerk at the Winchester Drug Company, where appropriate festivities were held last Saturday evening.

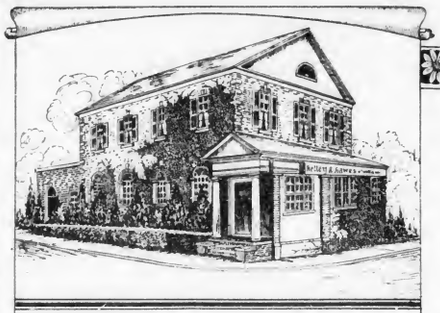

Congratulations were very much in order and several customers, when appraised of the gala occasion sang all they could remember of "Happy Birthday to You."

Proprietor Max Mayer made giant pancakes for all who would "take a chance" and to climax the evening, Nelson received a package of the famous "Digby Chicken" from relatives in Nova Scotia.

A Noted Artist—A Prize Kitten—A Record-Breaking Book!

"SMOKY," famous blue ribbon winner, "assists" his Missy, Helene Carter, well-known painter of animals and flower subjects. Smoky is busy designing his miniature garden for the Flower Show circuit; also for "Gardens on Parade" at the 1940 World's Fair, for thousands of people to admire. He hopes to win more prizes. The clever kitten gets his hot tips, of course, from that indispensable Garden Encyclopedia, without which any amateur grower or flower show competitor is simply sunk. Indeed, more than 310,000 copies already have been sold—a world's record for a horticultural book!

Young Smoky is reading up on all the damaging winged insects and beetles he will soon be chasing through his garden, including Olympic team grasshopper high-jump champions. Smoky objects strenuously to wearing a little tinkle-bell to warn birds of his approach.

"I hate that bell! Cramps my style," he says. "Makes me feel like a toy fire engine. I'm going to look up in the Garden Encyclopedia and see what it says about bells interfering with a kitten's personal liberty! My Missy jimmied my tin bank with a can-opener and got out some of my pennies to buy this book for me. It has 1300 pages and 750 nice pictures—a real bargain! Tells all about teaching little seeds to grow and what to do with flowers after they bloom, but the fellows who write this stuff shouldn't interfere with cats having fun. Meow! Meow!"

AIDING MISSIONARIES

The Misses Rosalie Cyr, Margaret Nowell, Marion Nowell, Josephine Cullen, Agnes Flaherty, Mary Maguire, Gertrude McNally, Mary Murphy and Mae Donahue are members of the committee assisting with arrangements for the whist which is to be held on next Thursday evening in Lyceum Hall to benefit the Passionist Catholic Missions under the direction of Rev. Leo J. Berard, C. P. Proceeds from the party will further the work being done in the mission fields of China where Fr. Leo has been stationed for the past eight years. Play will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

The Kerr "Changepoint" fountain pen, the pen you've liked so much at your local bank, can be purchased at Wilson, the Stationer's, Star Building. $2.50, $3.00, $3.50.

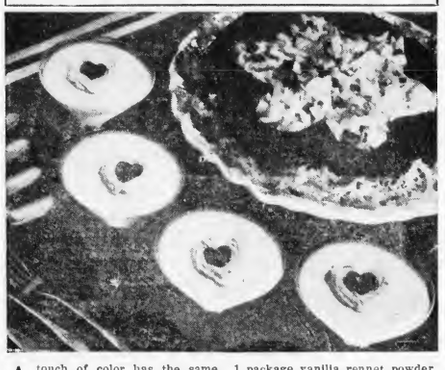

EXHIBITING IN NATIONAL SPORTSMAN'S SHOW

Alexander Irving Heinlich of the Snowflake Gardens is using for his exhibit in the National Sportman's Show in Grand Central Palace, New York City from Feb. 17-25, an old mill and waterwheel, a photograph of which was seen in the New York Herald-Tribune of Feb. 18. Mr. Heinlich is forcing a lot of material in his greenhouses in preparation for the Spring Flower Show in Mechanics Building, March 11-16 in Boston. He will present a large ledge garden next to the stage in Grand Hall. This is a particularly choice location for his exhibit.

Flag by Any Name

For unmounted units, a flag is a color; for mounted or motorized units, a standard, and for ships it's an ensign.

Spring Color Schemes in Food

A touch of color has the same effect on food as on our attire or in the home. Color brightens things up, makes them more attractive and in food it increases the desire and whets the appetite. Colorful frostings, toppings or decorations are always desirable and at this season of the year we are more willing to "fuss a bit" than during the heat of summer.

Red and white are the colors for February and there are dozens of red and white combinations available. You might elect to serve Spanish rice as the main dish; or a specially savory corned beef hash; or a juicy lamb stew, rich with tomatoes, in a rice ring. Sliced tomatoes, tiny radishes, cranberry jelly and red-skinned apple rings are a few of the red foods obtainable.

One of the most attractive red colorings for dessert use is grenadine syrup, and vanilla rennet-custard with grenadine topping carries out the red and white effect to the last delectable nibble. Best of all its qualifications as a party dessert, perhaps, is the fact that this one can be made in ten minutes, without eggs and without cooking.

Vanilla Rennet-Custard with Grenadine Topping

2 cups milk (not canned or soft curd) or 1 cup milk and 1 cup cream
1 package vanilla rennet powder
1 egg white
¼ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup grenadine syrup

Set out 4 or 5 dessert glasses. Warm milk slowly, stirring constantly. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently. When COMFORTABLY WARM, (120° F.) not hot, remove at once from stove. Stir rennet powder into milk briskly until dissolved — not over one minute. Pour at once, while still liquid, into individual dessert glasses. Do not move until firm — about 10 minutes. Chill in ice box. Just before serving, beat egg white until it holds peaks; add sugar and syrup by tablespoons, beating well after each addition, and continue to beat until mixture is very stiff. Drop a puff of the mixture on each dessert and trickle a little grenadine syrup over the top.

The following menu for a February luncheon party might be served buffet style to simplify it still further:

Loganberry Juice Cocktail with dash of Whipped Cream
Corned Beef Hash
Buttered Julienne Beets
Waldorf Salad in Cranberry Jelly Mold
Hard Rolls
Vanilla Rennet-Custard with Grenadine Topping
Coffee

LIONS CLUB NOTES

In accordance with the constitution and by-laws governing Lionism this club endorses no individual for Selectman or for any other public office. Any accusations to the contrary are false.

Despite the inconveniences caused by the recent heavy snowfall the number of members present at last Thursday's meeting was close to the high mark for the year. The general good cheer that prevailed enlivened the entire affair and made parting a sweet sorrow.

The business meeting, although short, accomplished a great deal. A number of changes were made in the various committees in a attempt to render them more effective. From the note struck by President Garvey it is apparent that a great deal of effort need be expended by each member in order to attain the ends in view. The benefits of the club cannot be fully realized unless and until each member does the part expected of him. Remember "Where cooperation dwells efficiency excells."

Plans for guest night, Thursday, Feb. 29, were introduced. President Garvey has secured the services of Attorney George W. Roberts who, for five years was a member of the city council and who at present is a member of the Legislature. Mr. Roberts is a recognized authority on Horse and Dog racing and has chosen for his subject, "Horse and Dog Racing and How it effects the State. The information of an authority on this subject will be of interest to all.

Last Thursday night Doc McManus, beside wearing the suit with the pin, proved that his generosity does exceed his good disposition. Doc Emery, George Prescott and Koko Boodakian related experiences with snowstorms of so many years ago that the younger element of the club referred to the boys as Old Timers. Fred Scholl's experiences fell in the category of ancient history. Nuff Said.

The next meeting will be Guest Night on Thursday evening, Feb. 29.

MYSTIC VALLEY BOSTON COLLEGE CLUB

On Wednesday, Feb. 28, at 8:30 p.m., Hon. Daniel J. Gallagher will address the members of the Mystic Valley Boston College Club and their friends at St. Charles Hall, Woburn.

A short business meeting preceding Mr. Gallagher's address will be held.

Mr. Gallagher is a graduate of Boston College, class of '92, and a classmate of Rev. Charles P. Heaney, Pastor of St. Charles Church, Woburn. Mr. Gallagher has been very active and prominent over a period of many years in Boston College and Knights of Columbus circles. He was United States District Attorney at Boston under President Wilson, and has been for over 40 years one of the outstanding trial lawyers of the Massachusetts Bar. He was a member of the Lawyers Advisory Board during the World War. He is a brilliant orator and his reputation as a most forceful and interesting speaker is not confined to Massachusetts, but is well known in other parts of the country, where he has been invited to address Bar Association, K. of C. and other important meetings. His long continued interest in and support of, Boston College is well known to the alumni and friends of Boston College. He is a former president of Boston College Alumni Association, now consisting of approximately 8000 members.

The members of the Mystic Valley Boston College Club invite their friends, including ladies and gentlemen, to a most interesting address by Mr. Gallagher.

HINTLIAN ON HONOR ROLL

COMMITTEE OF SAFETY CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The February meeting of the Committee of Safety Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held on Monday, Feb. 19, at the home of its regent, Mrs. J. Churchill Hindes, 6 Crescent road.

The chapter feels greatly honored by the fact that Miss Margaret Newman has been chosen by the state organization as one of the two D. A. R. pages to carry the flag at the head of the state delegation at the reception by Governor Saltonstall at the State House on Washington's birthday.

In accordance with the usual custom, our chapter will again sponsor a girl of outstanding character and high scholarship, chosen from our high school, to attend the state conference in Boston on March 11 and 12, together with a representative from over 100 other high schools in the state. From this number one girl will be drawn by lot at the conference to go to Washington as a guest of the National Society at the time of the Continental Congress in April. Mrs. Cahalane, who has the matter in charge, reported that this grl has not yet been chosen.

We were privileged to have Mrs. Harry T. Jackson read extracts from a diary of a soldier in the Revolution, Caleb Haskell, her great-great-grandfather. Mr. Haskell then 20 years of age, was one of the "huskies" picked by order of General Washington to march from Newburyport to Quebec under command of Benedict Arnold. Previous to marching to Quebec these soldiers were quartered at Cambridge and this diary contain a vivid account of the events preceding the battle of Bunker Hill. The diary states that on July 2, 1775, "Hon. Geo. Washington, Esq. Commander in Chief of the United Forces in America" arrived in Cambridge. On Sept. 14, 1775, 1100 men commanded by Colonel Benedict Arnold and Lt.-Col. Green and Lt-Col. Enos set out for Newburyport. Many did not survive the hardships, and only 185 returned. There were many amusing and pathetic incidents recorded in this diary. The time was too short to hear more than a small part, and Mrs. Jackson will read from it again at a later meeting.

At the close of the business meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Reinald F. Cahalane, Mrs. Edmund A. Merriam and Mrs. Nestor W. Davis.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The Dramatics Committee, under the excellent direction of Edith Chamberlin, will present a sparkling three act comedy, entitled, 'Always Tell the Truth," at the regular meeting on Monday afternoon. In the cast are Edith Flynn, Louise Kelly, Mary Low Hodge, Claire Reynolds, Willa Chaffe, Jane Chandler, Alice Drew, Ruth Ferguson, Lillian Howe, Jane Robinson, Dorothy Wills, Mayola Wood and Therese Mann.

The Conservation Group will present an unusually beautiful and interesting program on Tuesday afternoon, when our President, Dorothy Howard will show her own motion pictures in color of "The Azalea Gardens at Charleston, South Carolina." There will be an exhibition of forced buds and bulbs by members of the Garden Group. Tea will be served by Louise Bancroft and her committee.

Cats as "Retrievers"

The ancient Egyptians are said to have killed wild ducks with throwing sticks, to have made use of decoys and to have trained cats as retrievers They also hunted with trained lions, which belong to the cat species. There have been also hunting leopards used as long ago as the reign of Fubla Kahn in China.

GOLD

The theory of attempting to raise the value of gold in the world was based upon ideas of protecting the value of the dollar in the markets of the world. This, of course, was done although, like any other artificial method, it can be but temporary at best.

The New Deal theory of the Hull Reciprocal Trade Treaties is, of course, tied in with our gold buying program, of necessity, but there are so many complex problems already present and continually arising, that the program is becoming most serious. The war may—for a time—give an impression of prosperity but this ridiculous gold buying program will be some problem before America is through with it.

We are told that the New Deal has given up its "Brain Trust" and that competent, experienced business men are now to be asked for advice. If their advice is heeded America will stop buying more gold and paying for same with the labor and the commodities of this country.

After we have taken what gold England and France have left—by cash and carry—we will be faced with lending them their own gold with which to continue buying of us. When we reach this period let's remember our last World War debts and, if we believe we should back these democracies in their war, let's charge it right off. Of course, we could mark our gold up higher and give them the difference but by then a new administration—free from the hysteria that accompanies all new deals—will be governing the United States.

There must be faith to make economice work, also something to which to tie. The quicker this little old world returns to faith in the gold standard and to faith in the Golden Rule, the longer will this civilization last.

As President Roosevelt said, on Sept. 3, 1939: "Let me make the simple plea that partisanship and selfishness be adjourned and that national duty be the thought that underlies all others."

So be it. $35 an ounce for gold—to all comers—was a partisan New Deal theory. Let's stop it.

—Socrates

THIRD TERM

President Roosevelt was described recently as 'the only man in this nation who is fit and able to carry on the program he started."

There is no question at all concerning the statement, for few, if any other men in this nation, consider the program fit or able to be carried on.

Even with the most rabid of President Roosevelt's followers have said, time after time, "We agree with many of the objectives but cannot agree with his methods."

It is a fact the Convention will stage a "Draft Roosevelt," but there will be a pre-convention Draft Control to shut the door.

Socrates

A WHISPERING CAMPAIGN

It has been knowingly whispered, as if an insider had given the information, that the reason President Roosevelt went back on his 1932 campaign promises of economy and efficiency was because some "ism" threatened the country and it was necessary to stave it off.

Think of it! America was indicted and accused of wanting to change its form of government!

This reason is given as the excuse, even by some of those who could be classed as "Economic Royalists."

America never, not for one single instant, seriously considered any change in its form of government and it is beginning to resent the inferences advanced as an excuse in 1933 and ever since for what has been done to our democracy.

Socrates

THE THIRD TERM ANTI-LYNCHING PLAN

In the Democratic presidential campaign of 1932, the New Dealers promised they would enact an anti-lynching law.

For seven years they have killed the bill every time it has come up. The Republicans have voted for it every time.

This present session of Congress must again vote on the Anti-Lynching Law, but the New Dealers will lynch this promise as they have all the others.

Probably what New Dealers had in mind was the Anti-Lynching of the Depression. Now they want four more years to Anti-Lynch it again.

The Famous Dover Castle

For centuries Dover castle, its gray walls high perched on white chalk cliffs, has been the first object to catch the eye—and the imagination—of voyagers to England. "The white walls of England," the cliffs have been called, in the phrase of Hubert de Burgh, its most notable constable, was "the very key and gate of England." The British preceded the Romans on that hill. Romans gave place to Saxons, the Norman conqueror built on the foundations of all three, and since his day the castle has never been without a garrison.

Pair—Two

Do not use "a pair of" when all you mean is two. A pair refers to two things used together, equal, or suited to each other. It is not a synonym of the word two. We talk of a pair of tongs, a pair of deuces, a pair of lovers. A cow and a postage-stamp are two objects, but they are not a pair of anything. A pair of twins would indicate four children.—Tit-Bits Magazine.

GOLD

Before it is too late it might be smart to resume immediately the use of gold coin for circulation and private hoarding in the United States.

The danger of inflation from our enormous reserve is very great. Our funds are so great—causing interest rates to be so low—real prosperity cannot possibly return.

Unless something is done before very long the United States will own all the gold in the world, in a hole in the ground in Kentucky. There are those who believed it wise to have raised the price and purchased it all. Perhaps it might be unwise to stop buying it at this time but something must be done.

There is at least one thing we can do with it—make it into United States coins and put into circulation. What harm if citizens do hoard it? The result would be less hoarding by the government with its possible resultant dangers.

If citizens and banks hoard their gold it would at least lower the enormous cash reserves begging for investment at starvation rates. Perhaps those not hoarding could then put their savings to work at real prosperity returns and honest rates.

—Socrates

PERMANENT W. P. A.

Colonel Harrington, W. P. A. Administrator, reported last week that 87 per cent of those dismissed from W. P. A., last fall, have not yet found employment.

Colonel Harrington further stated that 9,000,000 are unemployed and 2,151,813 on W. P. A.

These facts, together with the 500,000 added to the government civil employees, those on relief, C. C. C., government projects, etc., etc., prove rather conclusively that Mr. Roosevelt's statement of what he has accomplished in eight years is pretty far from the right picture.

New Dealers are now stating that the country faces a permanent W. P. A.

What a confession this is after Smear-Hoover Campaign and promises of "abundant life!"

If a permanent W. P. A. is "The Plan," then Harvard young men should establish a Graduate School for W. P. A. careers.

THIRD TERM

John L. Lewis, head of the C. I. O., is quoted in the press as stating that if President Roosevelt should try for a third term, he would be 'ignominiously defeated."

Mr. Lewis knows what he is talking about when he states that President Roosevelt could not be re-elected.

The reasons that he could not be re-elected are:

First: America would not allow perpetual control of its administration. We will not return to autocracy or economic royalism.

Second: His administration has miserably failed and his promises have not been carried out.

America demands a liberal government along constitutional lines, not simply liberality of words and doles.

WINCHESTER SKI CLUB

The request of the members of the Winchester Ski Club to "Dare St. Peter" was heard and many members enjoyed some good local skiing over the week-end.

On Saturday, Bob and Phoebe Low, Marty Pinkham, Fred and Anna Lee Wier skiied at the Unicorn Country Club, Stoneham. After side-stepping the slope the run down was good. They also had some experience in first aid, in assisting a girl who suffered a broken ankle.

Sunday found Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bean, Bubbles Larson, and Marty Pinkham heading north to the Uncanoonic region of New Hampshire.

The trip arranged through the Fells on Sunday was enjoyed by President and Mrs. Bob Low, others who joined in were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Elliott and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Dunsford, Jim Pinkes, Harrison Wagner and Ted Atkinson.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

Steak may not be regarded as a specialty for Sunday dinner but at least it is a favorite dinner and steak prices are now lower than in many months. For the holiday and week-end dinners of roast beef, lamb, or pork, turkeys or smoked ham are all very reasonable.

Butter prices dropped somewhat but like eggs there may be an upturn, due to last week's storm.

Many vegetables normally shipped from Florida and Texas at this season are scarce and high so that for variety you may wish to turn to canned vegetables, suggests Miss Cora Anthony of the A & P kitchen. Fresh peas, however, are inexpensive for the season.

The chief fresh fruits in market are apples, oranges, grapefruit and lemons. Even bananas are high. South American fruits where available are very reasonable in price.

Three Sunday dinners suggested for different budgets follow:

Low Cost Dinner
Boiled Smoked Shoulder

This Month's STAR RECIPE

By BETTY BARCLAY

As lemon meringue pie is a favorite with both young and old, I have chosen the following as this month's star recipe.

Try it and see if you don't agree with my choice. Yes! I am giving the meringue recipe also. Follow both carefully and your dessert that day will be a thrilling dinner finish.

Sunkist Lemon Meringue Pie

1 cup water or milk
¾ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
5 tablespoons cornstarch
½ cup cold water
2 well-beaten egg yolks
1 tablespoon butter
6 tablespoons lemon juice

Bring water or milk, sugar, salt and lemon peel to a boil in saucepan on direct heat. Add cornstarch, blended with ½ cup of cold water. Cook over low heat, until thickened (about 5 minutes), stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add separately, mixing well after each addition, the egg yolks, butter and lemon juice. Pour filling into baked pastry shell.

When filling is cool, top with a merigue, made from:

2 egg whites
4 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Beat egg whites until frothy. Add sugar gradually. Continue beating but only until egg holds its shape in peaks. Fold in lemon juice. Brown pie in moderate oven (325° F.) for 15 minutes. (Makes one 8-inch pie.)

Note the three lemon pie tricks that are followed in this recipe. Trick one — add lemon juice and egg to pastry mix — result, flaky crust of a superior tenderness. Trick two — cook filling first, then add freshly squeezed lemon juice after the cooking flame is out — result, a filling fragrantly fresh in flavor. Trick three — add a little lemon juice to the meringue — result, a more tender, easy-to-cut meringue.

Tuesday morning shortly after 10 o'clock a Chevrolet sedan, being driven south on upper Main street near Clark street by Francis Muracco of 40 Harvard street was in collision with an oil truck, driven north by C. Romano of East Boston. Muracco told the Police he was obliged to swerve his car to avoid a Ford cabriolet, being driven by an unidentified woman who suddenly swung the machine away from the side of the road where it had been parked. Muracco's car was damaged about the rear end but no one was injured.

BEN R. SCHNEIDER

CANDIDATE FOR SELECTMAN

Ben R. Schneider, candidate for the office of Selectman, has lived in Winchester since 1926 and has always taken an active part in the civic life of the community.

He has been a Town Meeting Member from Precinct 2 since 1931 and for the past three years has been a member of the Finance Committee, of which he is now the Chairman. He has been interested in Boy Scout affairs, serving both as the Chairman of the Camp Lane Building Committee and as the Chairman of the American Legion Boy Scout Committee.

A native of Pennsylvania, Mr. Schneider is a graduate of the Engineering College of the University of Cincinnati. He served for two years in the 34th Infantry, 7th Division during the World War and saw ten months active duty in France.

Since the war, he has had extensive experience in cost work, planning and management, all of which constitute good training for the office of Selectman.

We believe that Ben R. Schneider's qualifications admirably fit him to be a member of the Board of Selectmen of Winchester and heartily endorse his candidacy and urge his election.

ELECT MARSHALL R. PIHL ASSESSOR

A Qualified, Experienced Lawyer, Trained in Real Estate and Taxation

MARSHALL R. PIHL
Town Meeting Member
Candidate for Assessor

The law provides for a minimum of three Principal Assessors in each town. This provision was made to avoid the concentration of authority under one head, and to ensure the combined judgment of at least three, qualified persons in the performance of so important a function.

I feel that through education, study, application, and 14 years of practical experience concerning the valuation and assessment of real estate and the legislation relative to the same, I have acquired the analytical ability, knowledge, stability and judicial temperment so necessary to the proper fulfillment of the duties of an Assessor.

Therefore, I solicit your support for my election to the Board of Assessors on next Monday, March 4th.

MARSHALL W. SYMMES

CANDIDATE FOR SELECTMAN

To the Voters of Winchester:

We the undersigned voters of Winchester, wish to endorse the candidacy of Marshall W. Symmes for the office of Selectman in the Town of Winchester.

Mr. Symmes was born in Winchester and has lived here his entire life. He is a graduate of Winchester High School and of Tufts College, subsequently attending Harvard Graduate School. He gained valuable experience with a Boston brokerage house before entering the publishing business, with which he has been identified for 20 years.

He is a property holder and his family have been actively interested in local affairs for over 300 years. He would welcome the opportunity to serve the town in which he also takes such a vital interest. At present he is president of the Winchester Historical Society, Commander of Winchester Post of the American Legion, director and trustee of the Winchester Boat Club, where he was Commodore for seven years during the most difficult days of the depression; a member of the Winchester Tax Payers' Association, Town Meeting Member for Precinct 3, and a member of the Standing Committee of the Unitarian Church, in charge of the physical property of the Society.

We believe strongly that his election to the Board of Selectmen will be for the best interests of our town and we recommend him for your support at the polls on Monday.

JOHN J. DOHERTY

CANDIDATE FOR WATER & SEWER BOARD

Voters of Winchester:

I seek election to the Water & Sewer Board at the polls March 4, on the basis of 22 years experience with all types of water conditions gained in the plumbing and heating business.

I am a partner in the Fells Plumbing & Heating Co., and have been in business in Winchester for 13 years. As a local tax payer I am vitally interested in giving the town the best service possible, keeping in mind, however, the cost of such service to those who pay the bills.

If elected, I pledge myself to work at all times for the best interest of the entire town, and will appreciate your support and vote on Monday.

CANDIDATE FOR ASSESSOR

PATRICK T. FOLEY

To the Voters of Winchester:

We, the undersigned voters of Winchester, wish to endorse the candidacy of P. T. Foley for the office of Assessor in the Town of Winchester, feeling he would adequately meet the qualifications for this position. Our reasons for having this faith in his ability to fill the position satisfactorily are as follows:

1. Residence. A lifelong resident, with his own home and family established here; and, therefore, with a sincere interest in not only the present, but also the future welfare of the town.

2. Business—Founded the P. T. Foley Plumbing & Heating Co., 20 years ago in Winchester, a company, which has grown and flourished through the years and which has worked in conjunction with some of the best-known architectural firms in the country. These contacts have given him a thorough knowledge of not only his particular line, but also of every phase of building and construction—its costs and ultimate value and conversely, its depreciation value.

3. Real Estate. His interest here is two-fold. He is himself an owner of considerable property, has bought and sold real estate for a number of years and has, therefore, the point of view of both the buyer and seller of property. This knowledge, in our opinion, is of inestimable value, since it enables him to more fairly appraise property.

4. Personality—Proof of his affable personality is his success in business for so many years. We are confident that if elected to the position of Assessor, Mr. Foley will bring to this office that same graciousness of manner and courteous bearing that have characterized all of his contacts in business, and our townspeople will thus be assured of a man easily approachable on any problem, personal or otherwise; a man amenable to new ideas or to changes in our present system of valuation; and a man who will always be here in town accessible at all times and ready to help settle any problem within his province.

Solemn high mass of requiem was sung in St. Mary's Church Monday morning for Mrs. Angelina Orlando, wife of Pasquale Orlando of 54 Swanton street. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

Mrs. Orlando died Thursday evening, Feb. 22, at the Massachusetts General Hospital following several weeks' illness. She was 62 years old and a native of Mazzara, Italy, where she spent the greater part of her lifetime. She came to this country 20 years ago, settling in Woburn, where she lived for four years before coming to Winchester, her home for the past 16 years. She was a member of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Winchester Lodge, Sons of Italy in America, and of St. Mary's Church.

Besides her husband Mrs. Orlando is survived by a daughter, Miss Phyllis Orlando of this town; two sons, Pasquale, Jr., of Glen Cove, N. Y.; and Joseph Orlando of Somerville; two grandchildren and two sisters and a brother living in Italy.

FREDERICK D. PABST

Frederick D. Pabst, a long time resident of Winchester and former employee of the Puffer Manufacturing Company, died Sunday, Feb. 25, at his home, 23 Kirk street, after a long illness.

Mr. Pabst was 71 years old and a native of Bangor, Me. As a young man he learned the tinsmith's trade, and before his retirement five years ago he was for 20 years employed as a tinsmith at the Puffer plant on Swanton street. He had been a resident of Winchester for 40 years and was well known among older citizens of the town. A brother, Albert Pabst of Dorchester, survives.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the late residence with requiem high mass celebrated in the Immaculate Conception Church. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

LADIES' NIGHT

First Congregational Church Men's Club

Tuesday, March 12 has been selected for the annual Ladies' Night. The original date of March 14 having coincided with Town Meeting.

Dr. Laurence L. Barber, well known lecturer will deliver his illustrated travelogue entitled "The Lonely Land of Labrador." Dr. Barber's travel talks have been received by capacity audiences throughout metropolitan Boston and outlying cities. We anticipate a very interesting and worthwhile evening's entertainment.

The program commences at 8 p. m. concluding with refreshments and a social hour.

WINCHESTER THRIFT SHOP

The outstanding event on the March calendar at the Baptist Church is the Donation Day for the Winchester Thrift Shop which is to be held on March 12 from 10 a. m. to 12 M with Mrs. Charles A. Burnham as general chairman.

Morning coffee will be served before and after the Fashion Show which Filene is presenting from 10:30 to 11:30.

Donations will be received at the church that morning and will be sorted and marked at the shop in the afternoon by a committee headed by Mrs. Otis Hammett in preparation for the sale at the Thrift Shop on Thursday, March 14.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the affair and to bring with them a donation for the Thrift Shop which will sell for about one dollar. The shop is entirely dependent on the voluntary offerings of its friends. The need is great and a generous donation will be much appreciated.

Among the patronesses are Mrs. Robert Armstrong, Mrs. Paul Avery, Mrs. Harold Bates, Miss Marguerite Barr, Mrs. J. Harper Blaisdell, Mrs. E. Abbot Bradlee, Mrs. Joseph Butler, Mrs. Norman L. Cushman, Mrs. Clark Collins, Mrs. Burton Carey, Mrs. Cutler Downer, Mrs. Paul Elliott, Mrs. Charles Eaton, Mrs. Vincent Farnsworth, Miss Blanche Eaton, Miss Barbara Fernald, Mrs. Harold Fuller, Mrs. Theodore R. Godwin, Mrs. Merton Grush, Miss Helen Hall, Mrs. George Heintz, Mrs. J. C. Hindes, Mrs. Albert Huckins, Mrs. John Joy, Mrs. Daniel Kelley, Mrs. Herbert Kelley and Mrs. Fulton Brown.

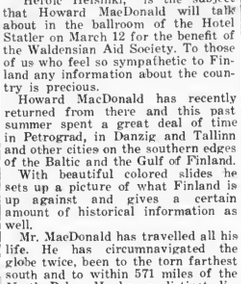

Also Mrs. Arthur Kidder, Mrs. Charles P. LeRoyer, Mrs. Eugene MacDonald, Mrs. Clinton Mason, Mrs. William H. McGill, Mrs. Clifford Mason, Mrs. Harold Meyer, Mrs. Howard Morrison, Mrs Clarence Ordway, Mrs. Harry Parsons, Mrs. Gardiner Pond, Mrs. Thomas Righter,, Mrs. Fred Ritchie, Mrs. Clifford Roberts, Mrs. James Russell, Mrs. George Rivinius, Mrs. Edwin Rooney, Mrs. Alfred Radley, Mrs. William Speers, Miss Cassie Sands, Mrs. Ben Schneider, Mrs. J. W. Smith, Mrs. Robert Stone, Mrs. Russell Wiggin, Mrs. Joseph Worthen, Mrs. T. Price Wilson, and Mrs. Francis Wyman.

VICTORIA REBEKAH LODGE

The Past Noble Grand's Service Club of Victoria Rebekah Lodge, 178, were entertained by Sister Maud Wolloff on Tuesday evening, Feb. 28, at the home of her sister Mrs. Eva Cross of 9 Winthrop street. The regular business session was held with President Ella Good presiding. General dieussion on various topics were discussed by the members, also various events which the club members will hold during the spring; the first event being a bridge and whist party which will be held in Association Hall on Vine street, Thursday, March 7 at 8 p. m. to which we hope all our friends will come and enjoy the evening with us.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Sister Lillian Doneghey, Glenwood avenue on Tuesday, March 26. Delicious refreshments were served at the current meeting by the hostess assisted by her sister Eva Cross and her cousin Elizabeth McWha.

"Heroic Helsinki," is the subject that Howard MacDonald will talk about in the ballroom of the Hotel Statler on March 12 for the benefit of the Waldensian Aid Society. To those of us who feel so sympathetic to Finland any information about the country is precious.

Howard MacDonald has recently returned from there and this past summer spent a great deal of time in Petrograd, in Danzig and Tallinn and other cities on the southern edges of the Baltic and the Gulf of Finland.

With beautiful colored slides he sets up a picture of what Finland is up against and gives a certain amount of historical information as well.

Mr. MacDonald has travelled all his life. He has circumnavigated the globe twice, been to the torn farthest south and to within 571 miles of the North Pole. He has a distinct dislike for the average lecture. He says "Nobody likes to be lectured to but everyone likes to be entertained." He mixes history with philosophy, amusing incidents and dramatic themes.

SURPRISED ON ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Alban H. Peterson (Alice Ghirardini) were pleasantly surprised last Saturday evening when they were given a party at their apartment at 325 Beacon street in Boston by Mr. and Mrs. William McInnis of Dorchester on the occasion of their wedding anniversary.

Among the guests were Miss Jean Endicott and Mr. Arthur Simmons of Winchester, Mr. and Mrs. C. Lockman of Cambridge, Louise Baker and Mr. Frank Bass of Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Peck of Arlington, Miss Jean Morse of Lexington and Mr. William Cole of Marblehead.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson were recipients of many attractive gifts with congratulations and best wishes of all present. Mrs. Peterson, a former widely known Winchester girl, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ghirardini of 216 Rutledge road, Belmont. Mr. Peterson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alban Peterson of 687 Concord avenue, Cambridge. He is a Harvard graduate, class of 1932.

HOMESTEAD LAW ADAPTED TO ECONOMICS OF TIMES

In the current issue of the Boston University Law Review Marshall R. Pihl of this town, lecturer on real property at the summer session of the law school discusses the nature and effect of the homestead law in Massachusetts. In the course of the article Mr. Pihl explains that chapter 32 of the acts of 1939 which took effect on Jan. 1, 1940, adapted the law to the economies of the times and raised the homestead exemption to $4000. Prior to this, the limit had remained at $800 since 1851 and as a consequence the law had been ignored as ineffective for most of the past 50 years.

BALLOT BRISTLES WITH CONTESTS

Hottest Contest Likely for Selectman and Assessor

Not for some years has a Winchester ballot included so many contests as those being waged for election to town office at the polls on Monday. Contests for eight of the 14 offices to be filled is unprecedented in recent years, and the fact that included are several offices seldom contested lends added spice to the election dish this year. All this year's ballot lacks is a contest for school committee to make it replete with thrills and bring out a record-making vote. As it is those in the political know expect a large vote Monday, given decent weather and traveling conditions.

Chief interest in this year's election is centered in the contests for Selectman and Assessor, in each of which four candidates are entered. Two Selectmen will be elected and one Assessor.

Candidates for Selectman include William J. Croughwell of 22 Ravine road, purehasing agent for a Boston banking house; Philip H. Gallagher, of 16 Prospect street, vice president and treasurer of the Winchester Brick Company; Ben R. Schneider of 21 Winthrop street, a consulting engineer; and Marshall W. Symmes of 243 Main street, New England representative for a New York publishing house. In a sense all are starting from scratch, no one of them being a candidate for re-election. Mr. Schneider, as chairman of the current Finance Committee has been most actively identified with strictly town affairs, but Messrs. Croughwell, Gallagher and Symmes have all demonstrated sufficient strength to make even the most canny of local politicians reluctant to name the two winners from this field. Mr. Croughwell's business experience, Mr. Symmes' family background and the vigor of Mr. Gallagher's campaign make it difficult to overlook any of them as possible winners.

The fight for Assessor is quite similar to that for Selectmen, though in this instance one of the four candidates, John F. Cassidy of 22 Water street, present chairman of the Assessor's Board, is a candidate for re-election and as a consequence enjoys whatever advantage may be said to go with the candidate already in office. Opposing him are Patrick T. Foley of 26 Mt. Pleasant street, proprietor of a local plumbing firm; Edward G. MacDonald of 8 Parker road, Winchester automobile salesman; and Marshall R. Pihl of 30 Mystic Valley Parkway, an attorney. Of the last three Mr. MacDonald has the advantage of two previous campaigns for Assessor, last year missing election over the then chairman of Assessors, Harry T. Winn, by a very narrow margin. Long active in the local political arena, Mr. Foley has been waging a hot campaign for election, and Mr. Pihl, who last year polled the highest vote among the town meeting members in Precinct 4, has also been very active.

The contest as election nears seems pretty much in the air with the backers of each candidate working hard and conceeding nothing to the opposition. Here again many astute followers of local politics are frankly at a loss to name the ultimate winner.

While interest is undoubtedly chiefly centered in the contests for the above named board there is some speculation about the outcome of the remaining contests upon the ballot. These include the competition for Moderator, Board of Health, Board of Public Welfare, Constable, Trustee of Town Library (two years) and Water and Sewer Board. In each of these, with the excention of Library Trustee, a present official is a candidate for re-election.

For Library Trustee, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of George H. Eustis, Clinton E. Farnham of 3 Woleott road, an investment broker and former principal of the high school, is being opposed by Charles H. Gallagher of 15 Canal street, accountant and treasurer of the local Taxpayers' Association. Both are new candidates.

For Board of Health Dr. J. Harper Blaisdell of 18 Brooks street, chairman of the Board who is a candidate for re-election, is being opposed by Dr. Robert L. Emery of 170 Mt. Vernon street, a Winchester general praetitioner. For Moderator George B. Hayward of 35 Everett avenue, veteran incumbent, is being opposed for re-election by Raymond S. Wilkins of 25 Cabot street, former chairman of Selectmen. Both are attorneys and both are widely known. Earle E. Andrews of 196 Highland avenue, chairman of the Board of Public Welfare and candidate for re-election, has opposition in William T. Mulcahy of 163 Highland avenue. The latter is a real estate manager in the State Department of Banking and Insurance. Mr. Andrews is a lawyer and former Finance Committee head.

None of these contests is arousing the interest occasioned by that for the Water and Sewer Board where one of the town's veteran officials, Edmund C. Sanderson of 2 Dix street, for many years chairman of the Board, is being opposed by John J. Doherty of 194 Forest street, proprietor of a local plumbing firm and active in local Elks' circles. Mr. Doherty has been eamnaigning vigorously for election and Mr. Sanderson's friends have not been inactive. The latter has been associated with the Water and Sewer Board for 24 years.

Strangely enough there is no contest for election to the School Committee this year, Rachel T. Kimball of 18 Cabot street and Geoffrey C. Neiley, the sole candidates, being assured of election. This fact is undoubtedly a tribute to the popularity of Mrs. Kimball and to the general satisfaction with Mr. Neiley's former service on the committee.

Contests for town meeting members are being waged in Preincts 1, 4 and 5 with the requisite 11 candidates being on the ballot in 2, 3 and 6. Sixteen candidates are running for the 11 vacancies in 1; 15 in 4 and 12 in 5. Following is the complete ballot:

ENDORSES JOHN F. CASSIDY FOR ASSESSOR

To the Voters of Winchester:

I heartily endorse John F. Cassidy for re-election to the Board of Assessors on March 4 and call your attention to the following excerpt appearing on Page 59 of the 1939 Town Report:

"The co-operation between departments of the own is generally known to be all that is desired. The current year, however, offered a rather unusual opportunity to experience the benefits of co-operation between boards in that after the tax rate for the year had been established we were confronted with an unforeseen opportunity to effect a substantial reduction in this year's tax rate or permit the established tax rate to prevail and thereby postpone the available reduction until next year. To properly handle the problem it was necessary to have the complete co-operation of the Board of Assessors, Tax Collector, Town Counsel, Finance Committee and the Board of Seleetmen. In spite of the fact that a change from the established tax rate entailed an additional burden on the personnel of the Board of Assessors and the Tax Collector's office it was most gratifying to note that the primary desire of all concerned was to accomplish that which would be condueive to immediate benefit to the tax payers of the town. The result, therefore, was a reduction of $2.00 from the established tax rate."

With Mr. Cassidy's knowledge of the department and his experience for the past 15 years the townspeople will be well served by re-electing JOHN F. CASSIDY as their Assessor.

MR. EARLE E. ANDREWS
Chairman of the Board of Public Welfare, a Candidate for Re-election

Voters of Winchester:

As fellow members with Mr. Earle E. Andrews, the present chairman, on the Board of Public Welfare we urge that he be re-elected.

He was a member of the Winchester Finance Committee during the three years beginning 1927 and its chairman during the third year.

He has been a member of the Board of Public Welfare since 1932 and its chairman during the past seven years. He was also Federal Civil Works Administrator and Federal Emergency Relief Administrator in Winchester during the period when those two organizations funetioned, working some of those weeks as mueh as 25 to 30 hours, all without pay. He has been considerate of those in need, and also of Winchester tax payers.

Mr. Andrews was born in Bingham, Me., in 1889, is married and has one son. He moved to Winchester in 1920.

He was admitted to the Bar in 1916 after attending Mt. Hermon, Hebron Academy, Worcester Poly-Tech and Boston University Law School.

He has also been admitted to the Federal and Oklahoma Bars, and is a member of the American Bar Association, Massachusetts Law Society, Middlesex Bar Association, Oklahoma Bar Association. Locally he belongs to the American Legion, Winchester Historical Society, Winchester Boat Club.

He served two years in the United States Army during the World War and is a member (Captain) of the Officers Reserve Corps.

He sympathizes with the principle of Civil Service which requires competitive examinations for workers seeking positions.

We believe that Winchester citizens are fortunate in having a man of Mr. Andrews' ability and experience willing to continue to serve them.

Signed,

WINCHESTER LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Corrections in Questionnaires

The League wishes to make the following additions and corrections in the questionnaires of the following men:

Mr. Patrick T. Foley, candidate for Assessor, is a member of the Lodge of Elks, Red Cross and Knights of Columbus, as well as the Winchester Post, 97, American Legion.

Mr. Charles H. Gallagher, candidate for Library Trustee, was a Town Meeting member about 1928-1931, and his place of business is 441 Stuart street, not State street.

The League expresses to the many candidates for Town Offices its appreciation for their cooperation in filling out these questionnaires, and also for returning them promptly. We hope it proves beneficial to all.

The League is grateful to Mr. Price Wilson for the space and time given the League for this branch of its local activity.

Chairman of Questionnaires
Elizabeth S. Hall,

Billfolds at the Star Office.

WINCHESTER SKI CLUB

Members of the Winchester Ski Club enjoyed their week-end of skiing in various localities.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Dunsford were in Chelsea, Vt., over the long holiday week-end. On the bowl in Dracut Marty Pinkham, Harry Bean and the Fred Whitney's were to be found, entered in an impromptu slalom race. Willard Grush found the Tecumseh trail at Waterville Valley in excellent running condition. Gray, Phil and Bob Twombly were in the Eastern Slope region, with headquarters at Whitney's for the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lowe and the Kenneth Thompsons spent Sunday skiing at Peterborough, N. H., while Ted Elliott and family enjoyed the thrill of seeing jumping on our local Horn Pond mountain.

Accidents come to the best of skiers and it is unfortunate to know that "Bubbles" Larson will be out of the running a few weeks due to a broken leg. Pictures shown at Wednesday's meeting were taken in the Canadian Rockies at Banff.

MISS ELEANOR TOPLIFFE
315 Cross Street
Belmont, Massachusetts

A stenographer can't afford to be late for work.

So Eleanor Topliffe goes to work by B and M

She knows the B and M gets her to work on time. Her nerves are never upset by traffic snarls or by trying to "beat the clock." She thinks it's silly the way some girls depend on "hit and miss" transportation, because she KNOWS it's far cheaper to ride on the train.

MERITS ELECTION ON RECORD

To All the Voters of Winchester:

The Board of Assessors as at present constituted consists of Mr. Harry T. Winn, who resides on Swan road, in Precinct 4, Mr. Frank H. Enman, who resides on Highland avenue, in Precinct 2, and Mr. John F. Cassidy, who resides on Water street, in Precinct 6. Not only is the Board representative but also its members are completely harmonious and co-operative. Furthermore, it is thoroughly experienced. Mr. Winn has been a member for 19 years, during 14 of which he was Chairman. Of his present term, two years remain to be served. Mr. Enman has been a member for 15 years. Of his present term, one year remains. Mr. Cassidy also has been a member for 15 years, and during the year just ending has been Chairman. His present term is about to expire.

Throughout this long period of 15 years during which the present Assessors have labored together, Mr. Cassidy, like his colleagues, has been serving the town honestly, impartially, faithfully, and efficiently. Not only has he become thoroughly familiar with the duties of Assessor by so long performing them but also he has gained a personal, actual, intimate, and complete knowledge of the assessable properties located in the town such as comes only from experience. Now he is presenting himself as a candidate for another term. On such a record he merits an overwhelming vote, not only in fairness and justice to him, and not only for the welfare of the town, but also because the enlightened and legitimate self-interest of each individual voter calls for the re-election of such a public servant in such a public office.

Respectfully yours,
James N. Clark,

ELKS TO HAVE ATHLETIC NIGHT

Winchester Lodge of Elks is holding an athletic night Tuesday evening at its quarters in Lyceum Hall, an elaborate program having been prepared commencing with the initiation into the lodge of "Cliff" Thompson, former Stoneham High all around athlete and present member of the Boston Olympics hockey team.

The entire Olympics team is expected to be present at the athletic testivities with several professional hockey and other sports stars and members of the Winchester Hockey Club.

An entertainment program will be presented and refreshments will be served. This is strictly an invitation party, limited to Elks and their guests.

Winchester Elks won four points in their inter-lodge bowling match with Brookline Tuesday evening at the Winchester Alleys. Bart Connolly and John Cline are leading the inter-lodge league in 45's, having won eight straight matches with two more to play. Revere and Cambridge are the lodges still to be met.

Following is the bowling summary which shows Doherty of the local team with three string of 316 and also high single string of 118. McCarthy of Brookline having a high single of 113, was high man for the visitors.

SMITH COLLEGE LECTURE

Dr. Hans Kohn, professor of Modern European history at Smith College, will speak in Winchester on Friday evening, March 15, at 8:30 p. m., in the high school auditorium. This is the final lecture in the series sponsored by the Winchester Smith College Club for the benefit of its scholarship fund. A profound and distinguished student of modern European politics, author of many widely read books and articles in his field, Doctor Kohn is also a stimulating speaker in great demand among college groups.

His early career spent travelling widely as teacher and lecturer in Europe and the Near East gives his interpretations of the various peoples more than academic weight. His 12 years in this country have added to his distinction as teacher and lecturer. Doctor Kohn will be known to many who heard him speak at the School for Politics held by the Cambridge League of Women Voters a year ago, or attended his lectures at the Harvard Summer School last year. He gave the evening lecture in last year's Winchester Smith College Club series.

Chairman of the committee for the lectures is Mrs. Geoffrey C. Neiley, assisted by Mrs. James R. Doty, Mrs. Neil Borden, Mrs. John Ely Burchard, Mrs. Roger Flynn, Mrs. Richard Parkhurst and Mrs. Robert Jennings.

ON COMMITTEES AT WELLESLEY

Two Wellesley seniors from Winchester are serving on committees for the senior promenade, which takes place tonight. Lion and Lamb motive will emphasize the leap year to over 100 couples dancing from 9 till 2.

Miss Gene MacDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander S. MacDonald of 4 Ravenscroft road, is on the Decorations Committee. Miss Rebecca Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton B. Jackson, is chairman of the General Arrangements Committee, which has general supervision over the prom. Both Miss MacDonald and Miss Jackson were senior prom maids to the prom in their sophomore year and both are society members: Miss MacDonald, Zeta Alpha, and Miss Jackson, Shakespeare. Both attended Winchester High School with the class of 1936.

INJURED ON SKI TRIP

Winchester Boy Has Broken Leg

Conrad Larson, Jr., son of Mrs. Mabel and the late Conrad Larson of Maxwell road, sustained a badly broken leg on Washington's birthday while on a skiing trip in Vermont.

Young Larson, a high school pupil, with four Winchester friends, "Bran" Livingstone, a pupil at the Cambridge School and John Tracy, Ray Williams and "Bud" Irving of Winchester High, left home last Wednesday to enjoy three days of skiing in New Hampshire and Vermont over the holiday. The accident occurred near the Ski Bowl at Bellows Falls in Vermont.

The boys had been skiing for about four hours and were trying out a trail with which they were not familiar. The trail was sharply down hill through deep snow with a sharp S turn. Larson hit the turn at high speed and failed to negotiate it, though he is an experieneed skiier. He fell off the course and when his friends and other skiers reached him it was found that his right leg was badly injured.

He was placed upon a toboggan and taken to the foot of the slope where he was transferred to Livingstone's beach wagon, in which the boys had made their trip north.

Livingstone drove Larson and their friends to the Rockingham Hospital in Bellows Falls where x-rays disclosed that his leg was broken in three places near the ankle. Larson was kept at the hospital over night, his injured leg being placed in an ingenious cradle that prevented any movement of the broken bones but permitted him to be brought home by his friends on Friday.

That afternoon he was admitted to the Winchester Hospital where the broken bones were set by Dr. Alexander Aitkin. The leg was placed in a cast and Larson was then taken home where he is now reported as making the best of his enforced idleness and eager to see any of his friends who would care to drop in.

WINCHESTER GIRLS AT GARLAND

Miss Babara Corwin and Miss Betsey Jones of Winchester, seniors at the Garland School of Boston, are spending the month of March gaining practical experienee in their major studies.

Miss Corwin, who is majoring in foods, is getting intensive training as an assistant in the kitchens of the Winchester City Club two days a week and as apprentice teacher in the town's public schools.

Miss Jones is assisting in the clothing department of the Copley Fashion School of Boston in connection with her studies in clothing at Garland. The Garland School provides this period of prevocational training for all its seniors.

The Star urges every one to go to the polls on Monday and cast their ballots in the election of town officers. A large and excellent group of candidates are in the field this year and the time, effort and money they have expended in advancing their candidacies entitle them at least to a representative vote. It is often the case that those who find the most fault with town officers seldom assist in choosing them at the polls. This week's Star should enable all interested to secure helpful information concerning current candidates, and every one should be interested to place in office the best candidates available. There have been some hot contests this year and generally speaking those seeking office have conducted their campaigns in a manner to reflect credit upon themselves and the offices they seek. The electorate should also do its part. Every one who can possibly do so should vote on Monday. Transportation for those who can not get to the hall is easily obtainable. No community is much above the level of its voting interest and voting intelligence. In Winchester through the years this level has been high. The best way to keep the town a good place in which to live is to maintain this high level. Capable and honest town officials are the best possible insurance for the future of any community. Winchester enjoys its present high standing among towns of the state because the quality of its administrative officers has always been high. There is little present reason to suppose that its high standard will be lowered.

SOCRATES SAYS-

MARK DOWNS

There are, however, only 34 votes to go around. This will call for 12 delegates-at-large and 60 district delegates, thus each New Deal delegate will have from one-third to one half of a vote at the convention.

It is said that these Massachusetts delegates are to be pledged to Postmaster General Farley, with a special delivery stamp for President Roosevelt, another of those famous commemorative stamp issues (July 25 to Nov. 4). "The Last Hundred Daze."

The inference seems to be that these delegates votes are considered as only worth from thirty-three and a third to 50 per cent at this time, a highly speculative adventure, "this third four year plan."

New Deal America is now staging an inflation, even of delegates. Maybe it is the plan to have all remaining New Dealer voters in that convention hall at Chicago. They must pack something.

MR. KENNEDY

Mr. Kennedy says that "he would support a Roosevelt third term because he believes the present crisis in world affairs demands that the experienced President remain on the job."

If Mr. Kenned· is implying that Mr. Roosevelt's experience with this present world war makes it necessary for another term, it is too ridiculous for serious consideration. The fact probably is that a new President no matter who might be elected, would be of far greater value to the United States in its foreign relations, for then Europe might hesitate, not being so sure of all our policies.

A new President, not committed to the recognition of Soviet Russia, not known for his policies concerning commerce and government, would do more to help World peace and noninvolvement of the United States in the war than any other single factor in the world situation.

Ambassadors and Cabinet members might the better serve our country's full interests if they remained neutral at home as well as abroad. Let the politicians fight for their jobs on the home front.

As President Roosevelt says, "We must have unity at home."

THE YOUTH MOVEMENT

In speaking of the American Youth Congress, Mrs. Roosevelt is quoted as saying, in their defense, "What the youth really wanted were jobs; that they would prefer private jobs but were turning to the government for help as their only possible recourse under existing economic conditions.

Ther are two things about this Youth Congress that are difficult to add together:

It is a strange thing that—for the first time in the history of the United States—its youth have been willing to turn to government for help—youth having been the creative age in the glorious history of our country.

Next, if they feel that government help is their only possible recourse, what must their feelings be towards the New Deal Government after eight years—with such economic conditions still existing?

Of course, Mr. Hoover was not confronted with the loss of horse by youth while he was President. Either the New Deal has stimulated the appetites of some youths for government "Abundant Life" or such appetites are additional vindication for Mr. Hoover.

Youth, as such, should mean vitality, ambition, and possible genius. Old age should mean achievement, comfort, and repose.

If government attempts to regulate both ends—both will be "Dead End Kids." —Socrates

BACK TO "THE AMERICAN WAY"

A Correspondent Suggests That Hoover Is Best Equipped to Rescue the Country

To the New York Herald Tribune:

I think we are all agreed that our domestic problems are in a sorry state and that something should be done about correcting them and starting us on the road to constructive recovery.

This can be accomplished only by putting an administration in Washington that will work for the good of all the people, not part, setting class against class, for that is not "the American way." In other words, we don't need so much politics, for God knows we have had enough of it during the seven long years of the New Dealers' misrule. Let's cut out the politics and get down to business in the traditional American way.

How can we do this? Well, first of all give the New Dealers their walking papers this November and then, what is just as important, let the politicians of both parties know that "we, the people," are going to have something to say about who is to "take over" for us in Washington and that they are going to give us what we want and need down there, that is an administration favorable to all business in this country. The man best equipped intellectually, and with the widest experience, both as an organizer and with ability to work out a good business administration, is Herbert Clark Hoover.

Speak out, America. Don't be afraid to mention the name of Herbert Hoover, and if you are "fed up" with conditions as they are today, not inherited by, but created by, the New Deal, then rise up and let the politicians know that you have a candidate to offer them and that you intend to draft the one man best equipped from every standpoint to straighten out the mess we now have in Washington.

Start the ball rolling for a Fair Deal for Herbert Clark Hoover. Let them know that your candidate for 1940 is this great American, and by so doing bring our country back to its true inheritance, that of private initiative, not regimentation, but real freedom for the people. That is the best and safest road back to the American way.

INTERESTING TOWN FACTS

To the Editor of the Star:

For the past 90 years the Town of Winchester has been fortunate in having men of ability to supervise its activities. Now, Mr. Editor, your humble servant desires to point out to some folks the history of our first town meeting and our pioneer Town Fathers.

May 7, 1850, the first town meeting was held, and Nathan B. Johnson, Loring Emerson and John Symmes were chosen Selectmen. David Youngman was chosen Town Clerk, Samuel B. White, Treasurer and John M. Steele, Charles Goddard and Frederick O. Prince, School Committee. Mr. Prince served as Mayor of Boston, but maintained a summer home in Winchester.

Twenty days later, at a town meeting May 27, 1850, a letter was received from Colonel W. P. Winchester enclosing his check for $3000 in token of his appreciation of the honor conferred upon his family. The death of Colonel Winchester occurred Aug. 6, 1850, at the age of 49 years, less than three months after he presented his check towards the election of a town hall or a cemetery.

From 1850 till 1874 the inhabitants received their water supply from Wedge Pond, the Aberjona River and private wells. Thanks to the foresight of our pioneer water commissioners and our present water and sewer board, who supervise the activities of our water department that is valued at more than a million and a quarter of dollars (and remember they receive no compensation for the valuable services that are rendered) we have always enjoyed an abundance of pure water.

Twenty-five years after the Town was incorporated in 1850, or in other words at the town meeting held July 10, 1875, David N. Skillings, Moses A. Herrick and James F. Dwinell were chosen the first water commissioners of the town. From July 1873, to March 1940, 21 men have supervised the activities in connection with our water system.

Prior to 1873 our North Reservoir was called Turkey Swamp. The first work at the reservoir was done July 15, 1873 by Nicholas Fitzgerald, father of James J. Fitzgerald, former Selectman and grandfather of ex-chairman James Fitzgerald, Jr. More than 100 years ago Mr. Fitzgerald was employed at the Black Horse Tavern, harnessing and unharnessing the horses of the stage coach that furnished Winchester's public means of conveyance to and from Boston and the northern cities.

C. Linehan became the contractor for the construction of the reservoir Sept. 6, 1873 and work began Sept. 8. The town began storing water Dec. 5, 1873 and water was first run into the pipes Sept. 20, 1874.

This article is in regard to the North Reservoir. Perhaps some time I shall write of the history of the South and Middle Reservoirs and of the Police and Fire Departments.

Yours truly,
Patrick H. Craughwell

HAYWARD CANDIDATE FOR MODERATOR

Feb. 28, 1940

To the Editor of the Star:

It has come to my attention that there are still a few people who are in doubt as to whether or not I am a candidate for re-election as Moderator.

This misunderstanding I attribute first to numerous misleading statements made at the time of solicitation of names on nomination papers; and secondly to the fact that owing to my recent absence from Town for several weeks, I did not comply with the solicitation of the Winchester League of Women Voters for details as to my qualifications.

I want to state emphatically that I am still a candidate for re-election and some of my qualifications are as follows:

I reside at 35 Everett avenue, was born Sept. 5, 1876, graduated from Brown University and Harvard Law School, have practiced law since 1904 and I am a member of the Massachusetts and United States Bar and Middlesex Bar Association; I am past Master of William Parkman Lodge of Masons, past Patron of the Eastern Star, former member of the Winchester Country Club, Calumet Club and Chamber of Commerce, and now a member of the Shrine, Congregational Men's Club, Boston City Club and Corinthian Yacht Club; have served on numerous committees of the Town, acted as Selectman for two years and have served to date as Moderator of the Town for over 15 consecutive years.

I have as Moderator been active in the selection and appointment of the members of the Finance Committee of this Town for over 15 years. In view of the recent Boston Herald's editorial comment as to the splendid condition of our Town; and the fact that our Finance Committee has been in a very large measure responsible for said condition, I feel somewhat gratified in the part that I have taken in their annual selection and appointment.

Yours very truly,
George B. Hayward,
35 Everett avenue

FROM MRS. KIMBALL

To the Editor of the Star:

Although there is no contest for the School Committee I feel that every voter is entitled to know my qualifications to serve as a member of this committee, for which I am a candidate. I am:

1. A firm believer in public school education.
2. The mother of two children now enrolled, and two who have graduated from Winchester High School.
3. A graduate of Radcliffe College with the degree of A. B. in 1916.
4. A resident and home owner in Winchester for 11 years.
5. Mindful of the cost of education as it affects the tax payer.
6. Pledged to approach all school problems with a thoroughly open mind.

My interest in school affairs is townwide, and it is my sincere wish that any one having a school matter to discuss will feel free to call upon me at any time. I shall be pleased to be of whatever assistance possible.

ELECTION WOULD BENEFIT TOWN

Voters of Winchester:

Bob Washburn says: "Tell me what a man has done and I will tell you what he is."

I have known Marshall R. Pihl for 20 years as a close friend and have always found him to be honest, straightforward, thorough and intelligent.

His education, organizations, activities and experience as previously printed in the Star should clearly prove to the thinking public that his election as Assessor would be a benefit to the Town of Winchester.

MRS. GLADYS K. EUSTIS

Word was received in Winchester this week of the death on Feb. 24 in San Francisco, Calif., of Mrs. Gladys K. Eustis, wife of Wyatt St. B. Eustis who is a native of this town and son of Mrs. Clara (Ellis) Eustis of Stevens street and the late George Homer Eustis.

The deceased was married in April, 1915, at the New Old South Church in Boston by Rev. George A. Gordon. Her husband was then a resident of San Francisco and she went West with him immediately after the wedding, spending all of her married life in that city. Besides her husband, who is a brother of Ernest R. Eustis of this town, treasurer of the Winchester Co-operative Bank, she leaves a daughter, Gladys Mary Eustis; a son, Wyatt St. B. Eustis, Jr.; and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Parker Davis of Evanston, Ill., and Mrs. Cushing Vose of Brookline.

Funeral services took place and the interment was made Wednesday in San Francisco.

MRS. CLARA WHITE POND

Mrs. Clara White Pond, of 144 Mt. Vernon street, widow of J. Shepard Pond and a life-long resident of this town, died Thursday morning, Feb. 29 at the Winchester Hospital after a short illness.

Mrs. Pond was the daughter of Samuel B. and Susan (Merrill) White. She was born March 7, 1860, in Winchester, was educated in the local schools and on Oct. 13, 1885, married Mr. Pond, who died Christmas Day, two years later.

Mrs. Pond was one of the older members of the First Congregational Church. A daughter, Miss Marion W. Pond, with whom she made her home, survives her.

Private funeral services will be held on Saturday with Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiating. Interment will be in the White family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

I notice from your paper that you have been having real winter in Massachusetts. Well, that toughens the fibre and makes real men.

Out here we've had a very easy winter, with only a few days of sub zero temperature and not much snow at any one time. Since I feel it my civic duty to keep my section of sidewalk clear, the weather has been very acceptable.

I still find real pleasure in reading the Star and rather look forward to its coming.

CRUISE DANCE AND SUPPER PARTY

Miss Jean Kenney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester D. Kenney, gave a cruise dance and supper party last Friday evening on the S.S. Kenney, which is the recreation room at her parents' home on Prince avenue.

The S.S. Kenney docked at 5:30 and among Jean's shipmates were Janice Mortenson, Nancy Davidson, Barbara Smith, Nancy Greiner, Gloria Herrick, Jean Herrick, Barbara Wansker, Ann Jennings, Gerna Magnusson and Mary Moriarty; also Herbert Clemen, Stillman Hilton, Gordon McGovern, Richard Fenno, William Wilde, John Joy, Robert Maynard, Philip O'Rourke, Raymond Peppard, James Kimball and Fred Hicks.

Decorations of red, white and blue lent a festive note for the supper, after which the young people went on to Lyceum Hall for the meeting of their dancing club.

ASSISTING WITH SHAKESPEAREAN PRODUCTION AT TUFTS

Mrs. Carlene Samoiloff of Carrig Rohane, Highland avenue, is in charge of costumes and scenery for this week's production of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" by Pen, Paint and Pretzels, senior honorary dramatic society at Tufts College, in Jackson Gymnasium on the college campus.

Mrs. Samoiloff is assistant to the director of dramatics at Tufts, Dr. Marston Balch, assisting both with dramatic classes and actual stage productions. For "Twelfth Night" she planned the color schemes, as well as designing the actual costumes and scenery. There are 17 changes of scenery, much of which is aesthetically unusual. The scenery is changed in full view of the audience on the darkened stage, under blue lights, by stagehands dressed in black, adding greatly to the interest of the performance.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Five members were absent from the meeting of Feb. 29.

Vice President George Carter has been confined to his home with a severe cold for several days past, but managed to hasten his recovery to the point where he could attend today's meeting. Good work, George!

Today we announce the 14th birthday of that sturdy youth who adorns our highways with his person clothed in raiment of blue and gold. Yes, Chief "Bill" Rogers was passing the cigars as the luncheon ended. By the way, did you notice the date at the beginning of this writing?

The frowns of the weather man forced the cancellation of the regular mid-year District Assembly on Wednesday of last week. This was most regrettable as Governor "Bill" Beach had prepared a most interesting business program to be followed by an evening of exceptioally attractive entertainment features. And now we look forward to the spring conference "just around the corner."

We are in receipt of a copy of the list of proposed enactments and resolutions to be considered at the 1940 Convention of Rotary International in Havana. Among the enactments we note No. 40-3 which seeks for a change in the phraseology of the second object of Rotary covering vocational service. This enactment was submitted by the Rotary Club of Cambridge, and we recollect that Governor Beach, on his visit to this club last fall, made an eloquent plea for a revision of Rotary's second object with greater emphasis on mutual understanding and good will in vocational relationships.

Mr. Robin Sharpe, member of the staff of the Christian Science Monitor, spoke before our club at the current meeting. Mr. Sharpe, who has made an intensive study of international developments, gave us his impressions of the present crisis in Europe. He visualizes a long drawn out conflict in that area with the major strokes yet to be undertaken. It is already apparent, however, that the totalitarian governments as represented by Germany and Russia, are in a life and death struggle with the democratic powers as represented by Britain and France. In these first months of the war the armies of the contestants have been sparring for position while each is supporting a blockade calculated to deprive the other of necessary supplies. It is highly probable that the coming spring will see the great European nations swinging into belligerent action, which will usher in the widest spread and deadliest battles which the world has ever experienced. And again, said Mr. Sharpe, make no mistake; it will be a fight to the death.

Our next meeting on March 7 brings us well along in the first month of spring. And we hope that the well known spring exuberance will have a favorable effect on our attendance record which of late has shown a strong tendency to wilt. Everybody up!

Reading room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street.) Open daily 11 A. M. to 5 P. M., Saturday, 11 A. M. until 8 P. M., except Sundays and holidays.

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, March 3.

The Golden Text is: "God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ" (II Corinthians 4:6).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people. But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd" (Matthew 9:35, 36).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus established his church and maintained his mission on a spiritual foundation of Christ-healing. He taught his followers that his religion had a divine Principle, which would cast out error and heal both the sick and the sinning" (p. 136).

GOLD

Now, when we stop buying gold, either because the New Deal sees its folly, or worse still, we have bought it all, what will happen to the value of our dollar and what will happen to the value of our gold? It would be well, even at this late date, to stop buying gold and admit at least one error, then establish some form of government control over the value of the dollar, even though such control would not have been so necessary under sounder economics. This whole question is tied in with the Hull Reciprocal Trade theory, but we have been "planned" into this mess and should stop it now.

After we own all the gold in the world and "sea shells" are again used for currency—because the New Deal has taught America and the rest of the world that gold has no real value and is only a commodity—the United States will then be the only place where all the teeth in the world can be filled.

For many long years we have seen gold dug up from a hole in the ground. It's buried three miles deep in Africa but only 60 feet deep in Kentucky. As usual, the New Deal is not even boulding its own.

If the New Deal Party had allowed President Hoover to hold his proposed World Economics Conference in London, in June, 1932, the world depression would probably be well over and perhaps this new World War would not have occurred.

Film Placed in Baseball Shrine

WILLIAM M. BEATTIE (left), curator of the National Baseball Museum and Hall of Fame, receives a print of the American League film, "First Century of Baseball", from William S. McLean, director of advertising for the Fisher Body division of General Motors, whose firm produced the pictorial history in celebration of the baseball centennial. The film will be preserved with other records of the national pastime in the archives at Cooperstown, N. Y., birthplace of the century-old game.

SPRING FLOWER SHOW

Walls banked with orchids, veritable fortunes in flowers, islands filled with native wild flowers and shadowed with the golden bloom of acacias from Australia, rose gardens, ledge gardens, brooks, waterfalls and fountains, the 69th New England Flower Flower Show of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society on March 11 through 16, Mechanics Building, Boston, will provide a feast of beauty for winter-starved gardeners and flower lovers.

But, this year, beauty is being matched by solid and practical gardening demonstrations. New England has become the garden center of America and, in response to the demand from amateur gardeners for instruction and information, the show is devoting acres to helping everyone, whether it be a window box, a backyard or an entire estate.

For example, New England wants to see the new flowers of 1940. The show has them all, not cut blooms in vases, but living gardens, actually growing and blooming just as they will do next July and August.

Roses are another flower becoming ever more popular. The Society not only has a rose garden bright with outdoor varieties but also is staging two complete rose shows of the best roses of the United States and Canada —one on Monday, the other on Thursday.

Spring bulbs are another very popular type of garden material. All the new varities of tulips, narcissi, and daffodils will be on parade. House plant enthusiasts will have their classes and sections also, as will the devotees of amaryllis, camellias, gardenias, gladioli, begonias, clivias, and so on. Flower arrangements staged by garden clubs will provide every woman with ideas for her own table and party decorations. A dozen complete gardens will present ideas and plans to fill all sites and pocketbooks.

And, a final example, the new garden chemicals will be on parade. For instance, an entire greenhouse will be devoted to vegetables and flowers grown without soil and experts of the Waltham Field Station will be on hand to answer all questions about this intriguing form of horticulture.

Gardeners always have questions and problems to answer. To meet this need, the Society and the Garden Clugs are each maintaining booths at which all garden questions will be freely answered without charge or obligation. Experts will be in attendance through the show, backed by all the resources of the 111year-old Society, and they invite gardeners to "stump them."

All in all, 172 gardens and some 100 trade displays offer New England [illegible] a series of bewildering beauty but also living demonstrations of all that is new and all that is best for gardening in these six states.

MISS AVERY'S LECTURE

Eunice Harriett Avery will discuss "Education" in her ninth lecture in the Winchester series, to be given on Wednesday, March 6, at 2:30 p. m., in the Wyman School hall. This will be the last afternoon lecture in the course sponsored by the Winchester Smith College Club for the benefit of its scholarship fund, the final talk in the series, by Prof. Hans Kohn of Smith College, coming on the evening of March 15. Extra punches on course tickets may be used up at the afternoon lecture only.

Coffee will be served after Miss Avery's lecture. Chairman of the committee for the lectures is Mrs. Geoffrey C. Neiley, assisted by Mrs. James R. Dow, Mrs. Neil Borden, Mrs. John Ely Burchard, Mrs. Roger Flynn, Mrs. Richard Parkhurst and Mrs. Robert Jennings.

TOOK PART IN TOURNAMENT

Miss Katharine Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth S. Hall of 12 Winslow road, recently took part in the finals of a table tennis tournament held in the garve room of Evans Hall, new Simmons College dormitory. Miss Hall, representing her dormitory, North Hall, was defeated by Miss Kathryn Wilson, representing the small houses on Main Campus.

Miss Hall, a sophomore in the School of English, transferred to Simmons from the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina.

EFFICIENT SERVICE

To the Editor of the Star:

After carefully scrutinizing the Winchester Star and the annual town report in regard to the Health Department, Water and Sewer Department and Board of Asssors, I have observed that three chairmen of the above named departments desire to serve the Town for the next three years. After rendering efficient service to the Town for 55 years, I for one, believe that a grateful electorate will manifest its appreciation for the services rendered. Why? Because I believe they are cooperating for the interest of the Town of Winchester. Now please listen voters! Would you desire to be removed from your job if you served your employer efficiently?

Very truly yours,
Patrick H. Craughwell

Mr. Meek Puts $30 on Right Side of Ledger

The meek little man counted his change and moved away from the railroad ticket window. He looked worried, counted again and edged diffidently back.

"I think," he said apologetically, "that you made a mistake in the change."

The sleek-haired clerk became chill with sudden hauteur.

"Sorry, but you should have rectified that when I gave it to you. Can't do anything now."

"But," said the little man, peering piteously over his glasses, "I didn't notice it at the—"

"Rules of the comp'ny," recited the clerk pompously. "We can't risk gettin' gypped by people who don't count their change. Move along, please; please; others waiting."

"Are you sure you can't do anything about a serious error like this?" The agonized anxiety in the small voice would have melted a human heart.

"Yes. Absolutely! Now, will you move on or must I—"

"No, there's no need of that," sighed the lamb, melting into the passing throng. "You're just out $30, that's all."

Boiling on Ice

Boiling a kettle of water on a block of ice is an experiment that is often performed with liquid air, which looks like water though it is not quite as clear. If liquid air is placed in a kettle, which is set on a block of ice, the ice being much warmer than the liquid air will cause it to boil or change into gas. If the liquid air is poured on the ice it will boil vigorously, sending off clouds of vapor.

A Mid-Winter Salad Gem from Sunny Hawaii

Spoon-size cubes of canned Hawaiian pineapple cut from the juiciest part of the fruit, unpeeled apple slices, grapefruit and avocado segments against a background of greens make this salad that tastes like a harbinger of spring.

TASTY fruit salads provide an easy and inexpensive way to add zest to winter menus. There are many fruit combinations, of course, but the simple salad is often the most successful.

Canned pineapple gems, spoon-size cubes of Hawaiian pineapple cut across the grain to release the delicious juice, make an ideal base for many salads. Or they can be served alone, as they come from the can.

Here are some delicious combinations in which gems are used: Canned figs stuffed with cream cheese balls, orange slices and pineapple garnished with watercress; a banana split lengthwise topped with pineapple and chopped salted peanuts on a bed of lettuce; and pineapple cubes surrounded by unpeeled apple slices, segments of grapefruit and avocado served in a bed of chicory.

Clark Gable and Vivien Leigh in "Gone with the Wind"

By BETTY BARCLAY

You have your recipes for special egg and fish Lenten dishes, but here are a few suggestions that I am sure you will appreciate — not only during the forty days of Lent, but for forty months thereafter.

Magic Mayonnaise

⅔ cup sweetened condensed milk
¾ cup vinegar or lemon juice
¼ cup salad oil or melted butter
1 egg yolk
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains cayenne
½ teaspoon dry mustard

Place ingredients in mixing bowl. Beat with rotary egg beater until mixture thickens. (Or place in jar, cover tightly, and shake vigorously 2 minutes.) If thicker consistency is desired, chill before serving. Makes 1¾ cups.

The mayonnaise recipe given above will carry an additional cup of oil if this flavor is particularly liked. The vinegar may also be increased up to ½ cup. To double recipe: Use one whole egg instead of egg yolk and double all other ingredients. This makes 2½ cups.

This is a delicious dressing with fish or vegetable salads.

Ribbon Gem Salad

2 tablespoons gelatin
½ cup cold water
1½ cups pineapple syrup*
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup mild vinegar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 3-ounce packages cream cheese
¼ cup cream
1 cup cucumber cubes
3 cups canned Hawaiian pineapple gems
1 pimiento chopped
½ cup pecan halves
Mayonnaise dressing

Soak gelatin in cold water for five minutes, dissolve in hot pineapple syrup. Add sugar, salt, vinegar and lemon juice; cool until slightly thickened. Beat the cheese to a smooth paste with the cream and add ½ cup of thickened gelatin. Combine remaining gelatin with cucumber cubes, half of pineapple gems, pimiento and nuts. Pour half of this into a loaf mold (10 x 5 x 3), chill until set. Let other half stand at room temperature. Spread cheese mixture on top of set gelatin, chill and pour in remaining soft gelatin mixture; chill. Serve sliced on crisp lettuce and garnished with remaining pineapple gems. Pass mayonnaise dressing. Yield: 8 servings.

*Syrup drained from 1 lb. 14 ounce can Hawaiian pineapple gems plus water to make 1½ cups liquid.

You can serve the longed-for second and third cups of coffee without any qualms over nerves or sleeplessness if you make your steaming brew from decaffeinated coffee. Be sure to have it piping hot. Here is a tempting brew to serve with Lenten meals.

Steeped Coffee

(An improved "boiled" coffee)

Use 1 heaping tablespoon decaffeinated coffee, regular grind, for each cup (½ pint) boiling water. Put coffee in pot. Pour boiling water over coffee, cover tightly, and let stand in a warm place 6 to 9 minutes. Strain from grounds immediately through fine wire strainer, muslin, or cheesecloth. Remember when making decaffeinated coffee by the pot or percolator methods that it needs slightly longer brewing than the ordinary kind to bring out its full, rich flavor.

JOSHUA RUSHWORTH

Joshua Rushworth of 23 Garfield avenue, a well known resident of the Highlands district, died Friday morning, Feb. 23, at the Winchester Hospital following an illness of several weeks. He was 69 year old.

Mr. Rushworth was a native of Burroford, England. He was educated in England and there learned the machinist's trade which he followed through his active lifetime. Forty-five years ago he came to this country, settling in Lynn, and 10 years later came to Winchester where he had since made his home. Until his retirement five years ago he had been employed as a machinist at the Winchester leather manufacturing plant of Beggs & Cobb.

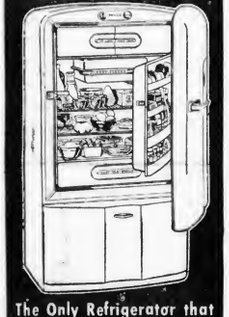

Mr. Rushworth was a widower. He leaves two daughters, Miss Mildred and Miss Mary Rushworth; and three sons, John E., George F., and William J. Rushworth, all of this town.

Funeral services were held from the late residence Monday morning with high mass of requiem celebrated in St. Mary's Church by Rev. Fr. Francis Sullivan. Bearers were Carl and John Peterson, Donald Thomann and Franklin Eshbach, all of Winchester. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery

COMMUNITY FUND CAMPAIGN

Winchester subscribed a total of $31,837.70 to achieve 106.3 per cent of its quota in Greater Boston's 1940 Community Fund Campaign, it was announced this week by James Nowell, community chairman, following the latest audit at headquarters. On February 6, the Campaign was reported over the top in its effort to secure minimum support for 175 hospitals, health and social service agencies during the next 12 months.

"The thanks of Greater Boston are due to each and every generous citizen who helped put the Community Fund across," Mr. Gray said this week. "But we must always remember that the goal this year was the absolute minimum necessary to keep these great human services operating throughout 1940.

"Since the Campaign, the volunteer budget committee, headed by Charles M. Rogerson, has been holding extra sessons to pare down agency budgets even further. We must stretch every Community Federation dollar to the limit in providing vital assistance for more than 300,000 people this year.

"Stringent economy in all agencies is still vital since the oversubscription was not large enough appreciably to bridge the gap between the minimum campaign goal and the sum total of the agencies' needs as found by the budget committee."

R. Ammi Cutter of Cambridge, chairman of the Metropolitan Division, saw deep significance in the fact that the organization raised more in this year's Campaign than ever before.

The response to the appeal of the 1940 Community Fund Campaign in the cities and towns of the Metropolitan area shows increasing recognition that the 175 Community Fund agencies are dealing with social problems which affect, directly and indirectly, all the 46 communities in the Greater Boston area," Mr. Cutter declared.

"The more general understanding of the importance of these agencies to people living outside Boston is highly gratifying. With each new campaign we can anticipate further progress in making known the fact that the Community Fund agencies by their work help people throughout the whole Metropolitan area and also many people living beyond Greater Boston.

"The work of the Campaign organizations in the cities and towns of the Metropolitan Division was done most effectively by a total of about 8000 volunteer workers. To them for their generous and enthusiastic help the agencies are very grateful."

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The second session in the Girl Scout training course for leaders, assistant leaders, troop committee members, being given by Mrs. Harvey Glazier, local director, will be held on March 6 from 10 to 11:30 a. m., in Lyceum Building. The course is a program course being given by lecture, discussion and demonstration.

The first session took place on Feb. 28. The course being for consultants and council members also.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Four unusually interesting programs lie ahead of us this week. Four splendid, highly educational, very valuable lectures, of the type for which Fortnightly is famous, and each is free, for Fortnightly members and their guests.

On Sunday afternoon Winchester is to be honored by the presence of Dr. Alexandra Adler, famed psychologist, who will educate us along the proper channels of child guidance.

On Monday afternoon, at the regular meeting of the Fortnightly Literature Committee, we will learn a great deal about "American Humor," when Gertrude Kimball will discuss the development of the type of humor now known as American Humor, and Mrs. Bertram Albro will tell of some of the best of our present day American humorists.

On Tuesday morning, at the home of Mrs. John Carruthers, Mr. Harry E. Gardiner, fomerly on the State Board of Education, will talk on "Modern Education," a subject of vital interest to Winchester parents, under the auspices of the Education Committee. Coffee will be served promptly at 10 o'clock by Annette Hughes and her committee.

On Friday afternoon, March 8, at 2:30, the Literature Group will hold its annual open house and tea in Fortnightly Hall. Miss Corinne Mead, librarian of the Winchester Public Library, will be our guest speaker. Her subject will be "The Public Library in Relation to Our Community." In her talk Miss Mead will speak about some of the services now available at the library, and will look ahead to the enlargement of the usefulness of the public library to the citizens of Winchester.

Miss Julia Gestzy, of Budapest, Hungary, International News Correspondent, who was to have spoken to us on "Newspaper Day," will be present to tell us something of her reportorial experiences in the far flung corners of the earth.

There will be an exhibit of material representative of each "Literature Day," each type of literature discussed during the past winter by the Literature Group. Mrs. Arrowsmith will show her collection of "Little Magazines." Mrs. Long will show representative types of Book Reviews. Mrs. Grosvenor will show the Book Reviewing Field to be enjoyed in Boston publications. Mrs. Mann will show some of the more famed American Newspapers and Editorials. Mrs. Sullivan will exhibit Fashion magazines and Mrs. Hodge will have examples of sermons and lectures for your perusal.

NOTED VIENNA PSYCHOLOGIST TO LECTURE IN WINCHESTER

Through the efforts of Dr. Z. Eileen Taylor, chairman of the community service of the Fortnightly, Dr. Alexandra Adler will lecture, on Sunday, March 3, at 3 p. m. in Fortnightly Hall.

Because of the prominence of the speaker, the doctors of Winchester with their wives, have been invited to serve as patrons and patronesses and all are expected to attend.

Dr. Adler is eminently capable of presenting the very difficult and highly interesting subject entitled "Practical Aspects of Child and Adult Guidance." She is the daughter of Dr. Alfred Adler, exponent of the Inferior Complex Theory, and one time contemporary of the great Dr. Sigmund Freud, one of the foremost psychologists of Europe.

She is a graduate of the University of Vienna, where she maintained a clinic in conjunction with her work as consultant of the Vienna Juvenile Court. She is the author of the book, "Guiding Human Misfits," and many papers on nervous diseases.

At the present time Dr. Adler is research fellow in neurology at Harvard College and reseach assistant at Boston City Hospital.

The citizens of Winchester are signally honored by the presence of Dr. Adler, and a very interesting and instructive lecture on this little known, but highly important subject, will be capably handled.

At the conclusion of the lecture, there will be a question period, after which a moving picture entitled "The Case of Dora Hulton," will be shown, illustrating the prevention of cruelty to children.

This is a free lecture, to which the public is cordially invited, and is of especial interest to parents of young children.

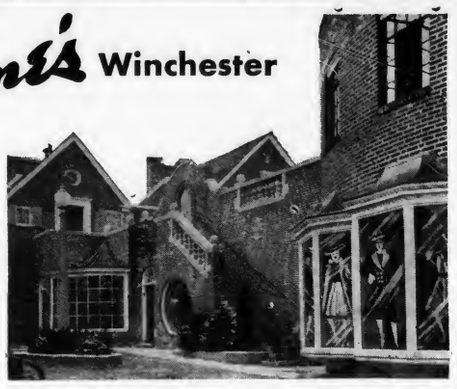

Refreshments will be served.

LOCOMOTIVE BOILER USED

An interesting episode of the recent cold snap was the freezing of a new sewer on Meadowcroft road. Winchester largely escaped the frozen water and sewer pipes so common in other nearby places, but one or two such incidents were rapidly remedied under the direction and experience of chairman Edmund C. Sanderson of the Water & Sewer Board. In the Meadowcroft road case, late fall sewer work resulted in the ground not being sufficiently settled and packed down before the extreme cold was experienced. When the sewer froze, seriously inconveniencing several families, Chairman Sanderson secured a large locomotive boiler for contractor Thomas Quigley, put a gang of men at work, and for three days and nights pumped live steam into the pipes. At the end of that time the line was completely cleared.

The Kerr "Changepoint" fountain pen, the pen you've liked so much at your local bank, can be purchased at Wilson, the Stationer's, Star Building. $2.50, $3.00, $3.50.

EN KA STREET FAIR

That plans for the 1940 En Ka Street Fair, which takes place May 18th, are well underway was disclosed at a morning coffee at the home of Miss Eleanor Dow of Main street on Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. Allen P. Lindblad is at the helm this year as chairman of the general committee. Assisting her are Mrs. Franklin J. Lane of Yale street, Mrs. Warren Jenney, Jefferson road, Mrs. William C. Cusack, Mystic Valley Parkway, Mrs. A. Allen Kimball, Cabot street, Miss Gladys Marchant, Rangely, Mrs. Francis Millett, Symmes road, Mrs. Robert MacArthur, Valley road, and Mrs. Theodore W. Cunningham, Lantern lane.

Under the capable direction of the managers of the various booths, the Artist's Fair gives promise of being one of the gayest and most colorful even sponsored by En Ka.

Among those in charge of booths are Mrs. Richard Wilder, Mrs. Wilfred McKenzie, Mrs. Kendall Way, Mrs. Richard J. Clark, Mrs. Harold Dover, Mrs. Guy Howe, Mrs. James F. Dwinell, Mrs. Marshall Symmes, Mrs. Thomas Righter, Jr., Mrs. Samuel D. Cole, Mrs. Edwin Zimmerman, Mrs. George Pierce, Jr., and Mrs. Campbell Ross.

Mrs. Warren J. Shoemaker of 1 Wildwood street announced a sale of second hand clothing to take place at her home on March 13, proceeds of which are to be donated to the many En Ka charities.

That the sale of recipe boxes, consisting of favorite recipes of En Ka members, had met with great enthusiasm was reported by Mrs. Theodore Cunningham. Mrs. Cunningham announced that anyone desiring one of these attractive boxes which make delightful gifts may contact any club member or call Win. 1856.

Mrs. Clark Collins and Mrs. Chandler Symmes are once again in charge of the gigantic task of costuming the many Street Fair workers and already have things well in hand.

LIONS CLUB NOTES

On Wednesday, Feb. 21, a regular meeting was held, and we are happy to report, that despite the adverse weather there was a very large and enthusiastic attendance.

Owing to a slight confusion in dates, (this month being of 29 days) we are sorry to say that Representative Roberts, who was to address the meeting this week, will not be with us unitl the evening of March the 7th, at which time we feel sure that there will be a full attendance of the members. Be sure to be on time, and don't forget your button. Button! Button! Oh where is my Button?

Last week Lion President Kay Keiser Garvey put on a quiz program, which not only contained some very interesting questions, but also some very strange answers. This contest was won by Lion Powers, but we feel quite sure that had Lion Doc. Emery been present, Chris would have had some very strong competition, as it seems to be the concensus that Doc. is a very recognized authority on all subjects that were mentioned. Also Lion Doc. McManus, (who proved who was boss, by going home) might have made it a bit harder, had he dared to stay.

In veiw of last week having been Lion's Rededication Week, we quote excerpts from the message of our Lion International President Alexander T. Wells.

In our list of "Lions' Objects" appear, among others, these ideals:

1. "To unite the members in the bonds of friendship, good-fellowship and mutual understanding."

2. "To promote the theory and practice of the principles of good government and good citizenship."

3. "To create and foster a spirit of generous consideration among the peoples of the world."

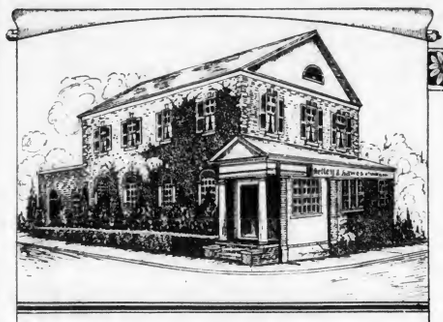

Based on these solid principles is the Lions Code of Citizenship and Patriotism. To bring all these matters vividly to the attention of the citizens of all the countries, our International Association set apart the week of February 18 to 24 for the observance of Rededication Week. In that week Lions pledge themselves anew to the services of their respective countries.

Our observance of Rededication Week had as its background the principles set forth in the Declaration of Independence that "all men are created free and equal;" and the pronouncement of the Magna Charta of Great Britain, and the Bill of Rights of the United States Constitution, guaranteeing freedom of religion, of speech, of assembly, and of the press.

How glorious and splendid it would be if the citizens of all nations could participate in the observace of an universal Rededication Week, or Brotherhood Week, call it what you will, and pledge their allegience to and in support of those aims and principles which have been incorporated in our Lions Objects and in the Lions Code of Citizenship and Patriotism.

Miss Marjorie (Mardi) Dickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shaw Dickson of Oxford street, had Thomas Carol of Kentucky and Harvard University as her guest last week-end at the Endicott Winter Carnival on the campus of the Prides Crossing junior college where she is a student. An evening hayride under the full moon and an afternoon skating party on the campus pond were features of the midsemester holiday.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

New cabbage and new potatoes make an excellent vegetable combination especially when served with smoked ham, tongue or corned beef, says Miss Cora Anthony of the A. & P. kitchen. If you happen, however, to prefer spinach to cabbage, you will find it of good quality and reasonable in price.

Smoked hams and bacon are unusually low in price. Fresh pork loins are somewhat higher but still low along with other pork cuts. Most poultry continues to be reasonable. Lamb at the moment is high.

Apples, grapefruit and both Florida Valencia and California navel oranges constitute the best fruit values as bananas are rather scarce and high. Strawberries are more plentiful but still far from cheap. Lemons are a good value.

Three Sunday dinner menus for different budgets follow:

Low Cost Dinner

Roast Stuffed Breast of Veal Gravy
Sweet Potatoes Creamed Carrots
Bread and Butter
Steamed Cherry Pudding with Cherry Sauce
Tea or Coffee Milk

Moderate Cost Dinner

Roast Stuffed Chicken Giblet Gravy
Mashed Potatoes Glazed Carrots
Buttered Peas
Bread and Butter
Orange Spanish Cream with Orange Sections
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner

Tomato Juice Stuffed Celery
Baked Ham with Cinnamon Apples
New Potatoes in Jackets
Buttered Spinach
New Cabbage and Carrot Slaw
Rolls and Butter
Orange Refrigerator Cake

ALL IN A NIGHT'S WORK

Police officers, both day and night, have all sorts of details in the course of a year's duty so Sergt. Charles J. Harrold and Patrolman Clarence Dunbury were not particularly concerned over an order received via the radio last Saturday night shortly before midnight to go to a home not far from the center where the incessant crying of children led neighbors to believe that something was wrong.

Upon their arrival the police found that the youngsters in question had been put to bed and had awakened from their slumbers to find their parents had gone out and left them alone. Not liking the experience they had given voice to their fears in so lusty a manner that neighbors had become alarmed.

Not a whit nonplussed the officers set to work to quiet the youngsters, soothing their fears and tucking them into bed once more. The Star is informed on good authority, however, that neither Sergt. Harrold nor Officer Dunbury is available for similar service on their nights off!

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

Lobingier will discuss Dr. John Dewey.

The History Study Group will meet on Monday, March 4 at 9:30 a. m., at the home of Mrs. Paul Elliott, 11 Warren street.

The Architecture Study Group will hold an "Information Please" session at their next meeting on March 8, at the public library at 10 a. m. Mrs. George F. Nardin is chairman of the program and will conduct the meeting, and the expert of the occasion will be the well known architect and former resident of Winchester, Mr. Frank Sewall Owen.

HIGH SCHOOL BOY TO GET $4000 RADIO SCHOLARSHIP

RCA engineers televising a studio show. (Insert) David Sarnoff, RCA President, encourages talent.

THE outstanding radio scientist of the future will be given a flying start toward his goal through the award of a $4000 college scholarship next Fall, according to a plan announced today by David Sarnoff, President of the Radio Corporation of America.

Realizing that tomorrow's radio engineering talent is to be found among the boys who are now in the senior classes of high schools, Mr. Sarnoff intends to find the student who is best fitted by brains and natural ability to succeed in a scientific career. To this end, a competition is being offered this week through the Principals of 17,000 high schools throughout the United States to students who are qualified by high scholastic standings.

Ten preliminary winners will be selected on the basis of their ratings in this examination. All of them will be brought to New York next August at the expense of the company, and will spend a month in thorough inspections of RCA and NBC engineering facilities. The Judges will select one of the ten boys as the final winner of the $4000 tuition and maintenance scholarship. The others will receive cash awards of $100 each in addition to full expenses of the trips, which will include visits to many scientific exhibits at the New York World's Fair.

Mr. Sarnoff, who himself rose unaided from messenger boy to the head of the mammoth RCA organization, believes that the competition will bring to the fore a boy of outstanding ability and that the scholarship will enable him to lay a solid foundation for a successful career. It is expected that several local high school seniors will be able to qualify for the examination, which will be given on April 23rd.

WINCHESTER RED CROSS

The Winchester Red Cross wishes to publically thank the women of the town who have given so many hours of service for Red Cross War Relief sewing and knitting, and the following organizations for their generous cooperation: En Ka Society, Washington School Chapter Mothers' Association, Wyman School Chapter Mothers' Association, First Congregational Church, Second Congregational Church, First Baptist Church, Unitarian Church, First Church of Christ, Scientist.

We express our sincere thanks to Mrs. Francis Dyer, Mrs. Ione Dana, Mrs. Fred Dodge, Mrs. Walter Dickson, and Mrs. Harold Dover for their services in assisting in the cutting of the garments for the sewing.

The following is a list of War Relief garments completed by the above group for the second quota to be sent to Europe:

110 woolen dresses
100 sweaters
70 pairs of socks
25 beanies
5 mufflers
10 hospital garments

PASSION PLAYERS IN WINCHESTER

The Passion Players' Guild of Woburn presented their Lenten drama, "The Man of Sorrows," on last Sunday afternoon and evening in the town hall under the auspices of the Ladies' Sodality of St. Mary's parish.

Audiences of good size attended both performances, acclaiming the Passion Players who have brought their drama to a high state of perfection through hard work and constant repetition. Their performances in Winchester were their ninth and tenth of the current season, but constituted their first appearance here since 1935.

Local members of the large cast included "Jack" Collins in the role of Ezekiel, a member of the council of the high priest, Ciaphas; Chester Kelley as the priest, Dathan, and George Wilson, youngest member of the Players, who played the difficult part of Samuel, the frightened boy of the upper room.

Soloists were Joseph Kilbride, Grace Kerrigan, Margaret Kilbride and Eleanor Breslin. Marie Blair of Medford was the dancer in the scene in King Herod's courtyard. Edward P. O'Donnell of Woburn, founder of the Passion Players' Guild directed the performance, for which the musical score was arranged by Thomas Deechin, also of Woburn and the production's pianist.

RECREATION CENTER NOTES

A party was held on Feb. 22nd at the Recreation Center for the boys from 11 to 14 years of age. The program opened with songs sung in chorus accompanied by Eugene Mottola on his harmonica.

A "true or false" contest appropriately chosen for George Washington's birthday, was captained by the Fiore twins, Richard and Robert, and won by Richard. The second prize went to Frederick Keith. Each of the other participants received a gift. The popular game "Pin the Tail on Mickey Mouse occasioned a great deal of laughter and excitement and was finally won by Robert Fiore. The consolation prize was given to Francis Carson.

A very jolly afternoon ended with double portions of ice cream for each boy and was voted a great success by all.

Yankee Perseverance Makes Prospect Bright For '40 in 'New New England'

Reconstruction after the hurricane of September, 1938, has given New England opportunity to rebuild and modernize many residential and business sections under "community planning." State Planning Boards of Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island report widening of streets, generous spacing of dwellings, and modernization of business districts. Above: hurricane destruction at Rocky Neck, Conn. Lower left, typical modern residence featuring generous window areas. Upper right, example of store-front modernization with vitrolite, a structural glass. Right, activity in the textile mills.

BOSTON.—Day-by-day Yankee perseverance may earn for New England the honor of being the cradle of a new American prosperity.

The land where rugged pioneers were born and nursed in the early days of the white man's life in a new world is setting the pace for a more prosperous national economy. The upswing in New England industry, as measured by the economists, is the more noteworthy because it was made while the six states recovered from the greatest disaster in their history—the hurricane of September 21, 1938.

New England goes into 1940 with bright prospects after an impressive rehabilitation program set in motion after the big blow took a toll of 600 lives and caused property damage estimated at $400,000,000. The "new New England" is a tribute to the residents of those states where the period of grieving was shortened and the task of reconstruction undertaken with a grim determination to build a better homeland over the wreckage of the old.

Reflecting in a large part the extent of rebuilding from the hurricane, an increase of about 27 percent in residential construction in 1939 is one of the significant indices of improved business conditions for the year, as reported by F. W. Dodge statistical survey. The total value of contracts awarded during the first 10 months of 1939 was $66,957,000 as compared with $52,704,000 during the first 10 months of 1938.

Many rebuilt homes have gone beyond traditional colonial architecture and are making use of wide expanses of polished plate glass window areas to bring outdoor light and scenes into the home. In commercial reconstruction and new building, a distinctly modern type of architecture is being used in many places for the first time. Light weight metals and varied colors of vitrolite structural glass are teaching many New England shopkeepers for the first time the sales appeal of merchandise displayed in attractive glass settings.

Striving hard to keep in step with the building boom, other lines of endeavor show marked improvement when compared with a year ago, according to records of the New England Council. Factory employment kept about eight per cent ahead of 1938. Millions of dollars in increased wages resulted from a 16 per cent boost in payrolls. For every 100 freight cars loaded in New England in 1938, 111 were loaded in 1939 with manufactured products destined for every state in the union and almost every nation on the globe.

The tenor of New England's improving trade and industry is summed up in the economists' reports that "general business activity" for the year was about 17 per cent ahead of 1938.

In such manner has New England pulled itself up by its own boot straps and set an example to the rest of the country for Yankee ingenuity and resourcefulness.

No Wonder She Fainted

He was a dapper little man at the door trying his best to sell a can opener.

"Madam," he began glibly, "I am selling a can opener that cannot be beaten. It can open any can that cannot be opened by an ordinary can opener, and any can that can be opened by a can opener. If you can show me a can that cannot be opened by any can opener other than this can opener, I will prove to you that this can opener can open a can quicker than any other can opener can. Now if you can get a can opener that can open a can quicker—"

But by this time the lady of the house had fainted on the cold doorstep.

Simple Desserts Most Popular

Most of us prepare elaborate desserts for special occasions. Few make this a regular practice as the days and weeks come and go. We prefer the simple dessert, particularly if it is easy to prepare, economical and delicious.

Here is a dessert that does not call for eggs. No baking or boiling is needed. The ingredients should be in every home at all times — with the possible exception of the toasted almonds for which you can easily find a substitute. Mothers of children who refuse to drink milk will find it particularly beneficial.

Apricot Vanilla Rennet-Custard

½ cup dried apricots
1 cup cold water
1 tablespoon sugar
2 cups milk (not canned or soft curd)
1 package vanilla rennet powder
Chocolate sauce
Chopped toasted almonds

Wash dried apricots thoroughly, add water, cover, and simmer for ¾ to 1 hour, or until soft, adding more water if necessary to prevent scorching. Drain off excess liquid and rub apricots through a strainer, stir in the sugar, and cool. Divide cooled puree among 4 or 5 sherbet glasses or custard cups. Make rennet-custard according to directions on package. Pour over apricot puree. Do not move until firm — about 10 minutes. Then chill. Just before serving, garnish with a pool of thick chocolate sauce and a sprinkling of chopped toasted almonds.

Makes 4 to 5 servings, depending on size of sherbets.

RECORD VOTE IN TOWN ELECTION

Symmes and Schneider New Selectmen—Cassidy and Sanderson Re-elected

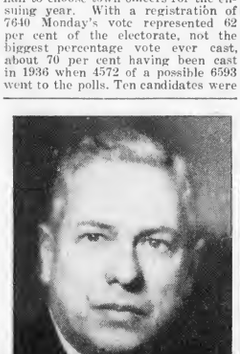

MARSHALL W. SYMMES
Led Field in Contest for Selectman

JOHN F. CASSIDY
Re-elected Assessor

Winchester polled an all time high vote for a town election Monday when 4686 went to the polls at the town hall to choose town officers for the ensuing year. With a registration of 7640 Monday's vote represented 62 per cent of the electorate, not the biggest percentage vote ever cast, about 70 per cent having been cast in 1936 when 4572 of a possible 6593 went to the polls. Ten candidates were running for the office of selectman in that year incidentally.

BEN R. SCHNEIDER
New Selectman

Monday's figures were, however, remarkable in view of the inclement weather, though tired workers expressed the belief at night that more votes could not have been gotten out regardless of conditions. The fact that 435 voters had been added to the registration just before election undoubtedly contributed to the large vote, but in general the hot fights being waged for selectmen and assessor, plus the contests for moderator, board of health, board of public welfare, constables, trustee of town library, and water and sewer board got the voters to the polls in especially large numbers. Not for years has a local ballot listed so many chances for voters to express preference. What the vote would have been with a school fight on the ballot can only be wondered at. Undoubtedly more would have voted had the candidates for school committee had opposition.

Chief interest was centered in the four cornered fight for the two vacancies on the board of selectmen by William J. Croughwell, Philip H. Gallagher, Ben R. Schneider, and Marshall W. Symmes. For three weeks previous to election speculation had been rife as to the successful candidates with most of those viewing the contest impartially believing that Mr. Symmes would be one of those elected.

This view proved sound, Mr. Symmes with the high total of 2206 votes showing well rounded strength that sagged below the 300 vote mark only in Precinct 6. Running first in precincts 1 and 2, second in 3, 4, and 5, and third in 6, he was at the head of every unofficial tabulation of figures from the time the first results commenced to come in after election. Behind him, speculation was rife as candidates and workers waited to learn the result of the voting just as it had been preceding election when those long associated with local politics sought to name the other candidate who would be elected.

Mr. Schneider, a candidate with strong backing, was running second in the early tabulations and after Precincts 5, 1 and 2 were in still held this position. His margin, however, as announced at this time was not conclusive and when Precinct 6 gave Mr. Gallagher 594 votes the unofficial tabulators moved him up into second place. Precinct 4, however, gave Mr. Schneider 457 votes to Mr. Gallagher's 115, and in addition it was discovered that a mistake in counting added 100 to the previous Schneider total.

The result was to ensconce Mr. Schneider firmly in second place in the contest and to elect him to the other vacancy on the Board. Mr. Croughwell in third place showed greater strength in 3, 4 and 5 than Mr. Gallagher could muster, though his vote in these precincts was disappointing to his friends and supporters. Mr. Schneider polled 2088 for second money, Mr. Croughwell, 1974, and Mr. Gallagher, 1883. This last figure represented a fine showing for one entirely new to the local political arena who had to make his fight pretty much his own.

Running the selectmen's contest a close second in public interest was the contest for assessor, in which the present chairman of the board, John F. Cassidy, was opposed for re-election by Patrick T. Foley, long identified with Winchester politics; Edward G. MacDonald, who had run strongly

WINCHESTER MEN HEAD TECH ALUMNI

Henry E. Worcester of Church street is the sole nominee for president and John Ely Burchard of Wildwood street, sole nominee for vice president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Alumni Association, announcement to the effect having been made by the association secretary, Prof. Charles E. Locke Formal election of Mr. Worcester and Mr. Burchard will be by mail ballot with the choosing of Technology Corporation members. It is a real distinction to have both the president and vice president of the Tech Alumni residents of Winchester. Mr. Worcester is director of the Revere Sugar Refinery and the Manati Sugar Company, a life member of the institute's corporation, president of the Winchester Hospital, vice president of the East Cambridge Savings Bank and a member of Technology's alumni advisory council on athletics. His clubs are the Union, University, Engineer, and the Union League Club of New York.

Mr. Burchard, a national authority on housing, is chairman of the board of the Metropolitan Housing Association of Greater Boston, and a member of the advisory committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce committee to the bureau of standards.

Another Winchester resident, Francis A. Barrett of Park avenue, associated with the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, is a nominee for the Technology alumni association executive committee, and Charles R. Main of Prospect street, an industrial engineer, has been nominated for the association nominating committee. A former Winchester resident, Stanley G. H. Fitch, accountant, now of Cambridge, is also listed with the latter nominees.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Republican Club will be held Wednesday, March 13. Dessert will be served at 1:30 p. m. under the direction of the social committee, Mrs. Theodore Elliott, chairman.

The program for the afternoon will be a novel and very interesting one as the education committee will sponsor "The Legislative Merry-Go-Round," when the Winchester Women's Republican Club will investigate the New Deal.

The executive board will be the investigating committee. The interrogated, members of the education committee will be Harry Hopkins, Mrs. Philip Woodward, Harold Ickes, Mrs. E. R. Grosvenor, Secretary Hull, Mrs. R. Keeney; Secretary Woodring, Mrs. A. K. Hayden; Mme. Perkins, Mrs. S. L. Duffett; Secretary Wallace, Mrs. R. M. Sparks; Secretary Morgenthau, Mrs. E. O. Horner; Voice of the White House and the New Deal, Mrs. W. A. Whitman.

OBSERVED 90TH BIRTHDAY

Mr. Frederick Buckmaster, of Brookside road, widely known and popular resident of the Highlands district, observed his 90th birthday on Monday, March 4, by attending a dinner party given in his honor at the Shaker Glen House in Woburn.

Dinner was served to some 30 guests, including members of Mr. Buckmaster's family and friends. A social hour followed the dinner, during which the honor guest was presented with a fine radio, for which he graciously expressed his thanks.

Mr. Buckmaster is the father of three sons, Winfred, Clarence and Edward Buckmaster. Despite his advanced age he enjoys good health and rounded out his 90th birthday anniversary in fine spirits.

WATER COLORS EXHIBITED AT LIBRARY

Tea and Pre-View Sunday

There was another good attendance last Sunday afternoon at the tea and preview of the exhibition of paintings by the Boston Society of Water Color Painters being held this month in the Library Art Gallery under the auspices of the Winchester Art Association.

Mrs. James O. Murray and Mrs. Carl S. Eaton were hostesses for the tea, Miss Helen Redfern pouring. Servers were Mrs. Jameson Slocum, Mrs. Marshall Pihl and Mrs. Ben Schneider. The attractive centerpiece of tulips for the tea table was donated by the Winchester Conservatories.

Mr. Frank L. Allen of the Massachusetts School of Art was the speaker, his informal address being most enjoyable and informative. In referring to the current exhibition he characterized the paintings as "conservative" but one sensed nothing disparaging in his use of this word.

The exhibition is conservative! The lay man senses this fact as he enters the gallery and sees on display a group of pictures which he can easily understand and which depart but little if any from accepted schools of line and color. On the whole the group is delightful and some of the studies shown have great charm.

Two studies by Lovering Hathaway capture the imagination. "Saw Mill" shows a rambling old red building with piled up logs against steep sloped green hills with a bold sky treatment. "Junk Dealer's Yard" portray's the nondescript cluster of straight-sided weather-beaten buildings huddled in the rocky yard you so often see on the outskirts of a town, with a telegraph pole pointing the traveled way and straggling trees and a bit of high land at the rear.

C. H. Richert's "Ottercreek" and "Oak Point" are both of rock-girt pale blue water, the first with a background of purpling high land and the second with a green covered point jutting between water and sky.

"Acadian Barn" by Glen McNatt is a fine combination of the picturesque with the realistic, the graying walls and sloping roof of the barn with its open doors, outbuildings, cattle troughs and woodpile being to the life.

Excellent perspective and depth obtain in W. Harry Smith's "Old New England," a finely painted study of a characteristic long gray house and ell, seen stretching away from the doorway of the barn. Abundant detail adds rather than detracts from this picture which has more appeal with each viewing.

Two studies by William J. Kaula, "Clouds and Shadows" and "Temple Hill" demonstrate in striking fashion the mastery of sky painting for which this artist is justly noted. The effect of distance is splendidly attained in the "Temple Hill" view.

Most unusual is Sears Gallagher's "Crow's Nest," an arresting picture of these solemn birds perched upon a dead tree on high ground overlooking a rocky point against which water is churning white. The misty, uncertain background adds an eerie note to this study. The same artist's "Blizzard" is another fine picture and just now especially apropos with its solitary man dwarfed by the elements as he wades through deep drifts toward a modern snow-covered house and garage, seen through the bare branches of a tree in the right foreground.

One would scarcely credit the sombre "Harwich Wind Mill," with its storm-blackened sky, to Stanley Woodward, so dark are the colors. This picture is in sharp contrast from Mr. Woodward's other picture, "Rural Florida," an especially warm and luminous study of a low lying buff colored building in a tropical setting, both building and foreground crisscrossed with shadows cast by low-hanging trees.

Once again the imagination is piqued by "Old Hulk," Carroll Bill's painting of two square riggers drawn up on land and laying aslant to rot beside the water which they formerly sailed.

Very colorful are "Winter Road" by Harry Sutton, Jr., with its blue-white snow covered road winding between trees of green and red-brown, and Philip Little's "Wood Interior," the latter giving one a real sense of depth and light filtering through tall trees.

Masterfully painted is John La Valle's "Rocks of Potonska," a most realistic study, and there is much charm in the same artist's "Landscape," with its green grown path winding through scrubby lowland toward glimmering marshy pools with a hint of the sea beyond.

Winter sports fanciers will enthuse over C. Scott White's "Wildcat Valley," showing skiers in line beneath a snow clad mountain peak with leafless trees and deep blue slopes in the middle distance.

Charles Copeland's "Winter Morning" is a charming study of birches, low shrubbery and grasses showing through the snow against a background of trees, shading from gray to purple with a touch of green, under a green-blue sky. Few pictures shown here have been painted with greater delicacy or with a surer touch.

"Salmon Pool" by William H. Drury will appeal to fishermen and flower lovers will find the studies by Nellie Littlehale Murphy, Sallie Cross Bill, Polly Nordell and Margaret Patterson very pleasing.

M. C. W. G. NOTES

Next Thursday, March 14, the regular business meeting for March will be held at the home of Director Ann Grant on Winthrop street extension.

IN SUPPORT OF A BOARD OF PUBLIC WELFARE OF FIVE

A few figures for recent years will present graphically the increase in responsibility which has been carried by the Winchester Board of Public Welfare. In 1930 expenditures for all types of relief in Winchester totaled $23,775, $4,697 of this was refunded by the state. In 1939 relief expenditures in Winchester, including WPA, were $194,235. Of this amount $79,137 was Winchester tax money.

This winter the Department of Government and Economic Welfare of the Winchester League of Women Voters has studied the problem, of federal, state and local public welfare. As the figures indicate the past ten years have been marked by an enormous increase in the size of this problem. There has been an equal increase in its social complexity. A recent much needed reorganization of the State Department of Public Welfare in the interest of economy and efficiency, has greatly increased the responsibility placed upon the town boards of Public Welfare. This fact has emphasized the need for qualified personnel in local offices which the League has supported.

Today the following types of relief are administered locally:

Public Welfare, Aid to Dependent Children, Old Age Assistance, Veteran's Relief (which is handled by the Selectmen) General Unemployment Relief. In addition to these groups the Board of Public Welfare is also responsible for certifying all those who are employed on WPA, sent to CCC camps and who are picked by the Federal Youth Administration.

When the Welfare Board was organized in 1895 as a board of three, called the Overseers of the Poor, the problems to be faced were few in number and comparatively simple.

A comparison of town boards shows, that with the exception of the School Committee and the Board of Selectmen, no town board has the responsibility for spending more money than the Board of Public Welfare. There are five Selectmen, five members of the Planning Board and Cemetery Board, the Library Board and School Committee have six members each.

The expenditure of $194,000 for Public Welfare in Winchester during 1939 merits the thoughtful consideration of the taxpayer.

The financial and social problems involved are so serious and complex that it was the considered judgment of the study group of the League that the local Board of Public Welfare should be increased from three to five members. This would insure the interest of a larger group of citizens in the understanding and interpretation of the problems and make available for those in distress the advice and concern of a more representative group.

CONGREGATIONAL MEN'S CLUB TO HOLD LADIES' NIGHT

Plans are complete for the Ladies' Night which the First Congregational Men's Club is holding on Tuesday evening, March 12 at 8 o'clock in the Parish House. Dr. Laurence Barber is to be the guest speaker and his address, "The Lonely Land of Labrador," is illustrated with wonderful color pictures that no lover of nature will want to miss.

Dr. Barber is especially well equipped to speak authoritatively on Labrador, having visited that interesting country this past summer, stopping at 12 Grenfell stations where he saw at first hand the work being done among the Esquimaux. He also visited the primitive Indians at Northwest River just when they emerged for their annual contact with civilization after months of trapping in the far interior.

On one day alone Dr. Barber saw 154 ice bergs, taking many remarkable photographs of these beautiful formations so feared by navigators. Also among his pictures are many of Labrador fishermen, all in color. A real treat awaits club members and their guests on Tuesday evening.

Also, and this is important! All members are urged to save the evening of May 25 for another gala occasion, an event having a really novel angle. You'll be surpised, and we believe, disappointed if anything prevents your sitting on this little party we have in store for you!

DOG PULLED FROM RIVER

Wednesday afternoon the Fire Department received an S. O. S. for a big black dog who had broken through the ice on the river at the rear of the McCormack residence on Winchester place. Lts. Ray Hanscom and Jim Callahan responded on the double quick with Firemen Walter Skerry and Jack Flaherty, Jr.

The Firemen didn't have to emulate "Mike" Grant's rescue from the Mill Pond earlier in the week, being able to get their dog ashore with the assistance of a long handled tree-cutting hook. The insertion of the hook in the dog' collar was all that was needed to get the grateful animal onto the river bank.

MRS. AUER WILL SPEAK

At the meeting of the Ladies' Friendly Society, 2:30 Tuesday, Mar. 12, the speaker will be Mrs. Auer who will talk on, "A Dutch Woman Looks at America." Mrs. Auer was born in Holland and lived there until she came to America to marry Professor Auer of Harvard. She and her husband were in Holland last fall when the war broke out. She can tell the problems of her native country from the inside. All ladies are welcome.

Harold S. Fuller of Winchester has been appointed to succeed the late Ripley L. Dana as chairman of the joint metropolitan committee of the Community Federation of Boston and the Boston Council of Social Agencies

FULLER APPOINTED

In announcing Mr. Fuller's appointment, J. Wells Farley, chairman of the executive committee of the Federation, and Robert B. Stone, president of the Council, pointed out that in directing the activities of this committee Mr. Fuller will carry on the work, ably inaugurated by Mr. Dana, dealing with questions and policies rising out of Greater Boston's Community Fund Campaigns for the support of 175 social service agencies serving the 46 cities and towns of the metropolitan area.

Actively interested in community affairs for a number of years, Mr. Fuller has been a leader in Greater Boston's Community Fund Campaigns. A graduate of Dartmouth College, Mr. Fuller is president and general manager of the Bicknell and Fuller Paper Box Company, president of the Winchester Community Chest, a past president of the Winchester Hospital, a member of the board of Incorporators of the Winchester Savings Bank, a director of the Winchester Country Club, and has headed both the national and New England paper-box manufacturers' association.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON MEETING

Mrs. Chandler W. Symmes opened her home at 230 Main street on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 29 for the meeting of the Winchester Circle of the Florence Crittenton League.

This meeting, one of the best attended of the year, was presided over by Mrs. Harold B. Richmond, the president. After the report of the secretary, Miss Gretchen Stone, and a most interesting business meeting, Mrs. Richmond, introduced Mrs. James R. Jack, wife of Prof. James R. Jack of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Professor Jack is one of the world's authorities on naval architecture, especially on submarine design. It seemed the irony of fate that he should be on a ship that was torpedoed by a submarine. Professor and Mrs. Jack were passengers on the Athenia last summer when it was torpedoed.

Mrs. Jack told of the rescue work of the survivors, how she had been rescued and went aboard a private yacht, the Southern Cross, later being transferred to the City of Flint which normally accommodated eight passengers but in this emergency took 239.

The afternoon came to a close with a group of monologues by Hortense Railsback who as always greatly pleased her audience.

Tea was served by Mrs. John W. Johnson and her committee.

WINCHESTER RED CROSS

First Aid Course

The Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross under the leadership of Mrs. George A. Dutting offers without charge a first aid course to the residents of Winchester. While this course has been especially arranged for the personnel of the town's industries, there is at present an opportunity for 15 more persons to enroll as members of this class.

The course , under the leadership of Mr. Hansen, well known authority in this field, will begin next week Thursday, March 14, at 7:30 p. m. in the Red Cross room, third floor, at the Winchester Town Hall. There will be 12 sessions, each lasting two hours. An examination at the end of this time will qualify those who pass to administer first aid.

Manuals are supplied free of charge by the chapter, and may be purchased at the end of the course.

If you are interested, drop a card to Mr. A. R. Pennell, 2 Palmer street, Winchester or call Winchester 0976-J.

BUILDING PERMITS GRANTED

The following building permits were issued by the Building Commissioner for week ending Thursday, March 7:

Reshingle dwelling at 22 Elm street.

Now sign at 746 Main street.

ELLIOTT F. CAMERON

CAMERON ELECTED CHAIRMAN

Elliott F. Cameron was elected Chairman of the Board of Selectmen for the ensuing year.

ELKS HELD SPORTS NIGHT

Members Also at Inter-State Contest

Winchester Lodge of Elks held its long awaited Sports Night Tuesday evening in Lyceum Hall with a large attendance and an excellent program.

A class of candidates was initiated by the officers of the lodge, headed by Exalted Ruler John J. Doherty, among the candidates being "Cliff" Thompson, star forward of the Boston Olympics' hockey team. Several of Thompson's team-mates were guests of the lodge at the Sports Night, along with members of the Winchester Hockey Club whose manager, Bill Holland, was also initiated, along with his brother Frank, the occasion being the first in the lodge's history when brothers were initiated together. Edward F. Bennett was the fourth candidate of the class.

After the degree work five acts of vaudeville were enjoyed and supper was served by the board of stewards under Alfred McKenzie.

Last Sunday afternoon a delegation of local Elks went up to Portsmouth, N. H., for the inter-state P. E. R.s' ritualistic contest among associations from Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts. George Steele, P. E. R. of Gloucester Lodge, chairman of the inter-state committee of the Massachusetts State Association, was in charge of the contest which was attended by 200 and won by Massachusetts with a percentage of 97.12. New Hampshire was second with 96.38 and Maine, third with 95.09.

Arthur Harty, P. E. R. of Winchester and its present chaplain, served as chaplain of the Massachusetts ritualistic team, being marked 100 per cent. Warren F. Cox of this town, District Deputy G. E. R. of Massachusetts Northeast, was among the dignitaries and speakers at the contest.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Wansker of Cabot street sailed from New York last Saturday for Palm Beach, Fla., where they will remain for the next few weeks.

Mrs. L. G. Young and her daughter, Miss Valma Young, formerly of 345 Main street, left last Saturday to locate at Falmouth Foreside, Me.

MRS. ELLEN CONKEY

Mrs. Ellen V. (Read) Conkey, widow of John A. Conkey first vice president of the old Boston Baseball Association, died Sunday morning, March 4, at her home, 164 Lake avenue, Cambridge. She formerly made her home for 20 years on Cambridge street near Calumet road and leaves two sons, one of whom, Edwin Matherson, is a resident of this town. The other, Stephen Matherson, is living in California.

Mrs. Conkey was 92 years old and a native of Dracut. Before coming to Winchester she lived for many years in Newton, and following her local residence had been for the past 15 years a resident of Cambridge.

Her husband, who died in 1903, was founder of the customs brokerage firm of John A. Conkey Company and also associated with Al Spaulding and George Wright in the formation of the Boston Baseball Association, the first professional baseball organization in this section.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the A. E. Long & Sons funeral parlors, Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge.

GEORGE WASHINGTON HIGHLAND CHAPTER

The March meeting will be held in the assembly hall of the George Washington School on Tuesday, March 12 at 2:15. The speaker is to be Dr. Edward A. Lincoln, consulting psychologist for the schools of Winchester. His subject is "How Tests and Measurements of Intelligence Are Used in the Schools."

A discussion and question period will follow the lecture. There will also be a musical program and refreshments.

LIONS CLUB NOTES

Last week Thursday evening's meeting established two new records for 1940. The first was for the number of member's present and the second was for the good time that was had by all. Laughter and good fellowship reigned supreme.

The club was honored by the presence of five very welcome guests who, it is hoped, will avail themselves of the invitation to join us again soon. The door is always open.

After the minutes of the last meeting were dispensed with President Garvey summarized the text of a letter received from the Secretary General relative to the membership drive. In 31 days, the month of January, more than 11,000 new members, selected professional and business men, were admitted to the club. A lesson in endurance might be taken from the Concord, N. H. group. They report "systematic plans have been made to continue our development program up to the end of March."

Plans for a card party to be held sometime in the near future were introduced. More elaborate discussion on this subject will be in order after the committee has ample time to investigate the possibilities.

The entertainment for the evening was supplied by an N. B. C. network vocalist, Mr. Bouchere, who was very ably assisted by his accompanist. The change to music and singing from the usual trend of speakers proved to be a very pleasant success. Doc Emery's interpretation of "Butterflies in the Rain," merited him a prominent berth in the Glee Club.

Evidently the new directory will be a success. Doc McManus thinks that its O. K. so what greater indication could be desired. It is indeed a credit to all those who labored so faithfully that the purpose of the booklet might be realized. Both user and advertiser will find it an article of inestimable value.

The affair reached its climax when Major General Emery departed with a bang and, according to some reports, nearly flew off the handle. If anyone finds the motor of George Smith's truck laying around please get in touch with George at once. Very urgent!

"Horse and Dog Racing and How it Affects the State," was the topic of discussion at the meeting held last evening. Attorney George Roberts of the Massachusetts Legislature was the speaker.

WON BOWDOIN SCHOLARSHIPS

Charles N. Bacon, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Bacon of Grove street, has been awarded the Cleaves and Woodhull Scholarships at Bowdoin College where he is a member of the freshman class.

Young Bacon was an honor graduate of Winchester High School in the class of 1939, having a fine scholastic record. At graduation he was awarded one of the Mothers' Association Scholarships and the Washington and Franklin History Medal. He has maintained his high grades at Bowdoin and his friends will be pleased to hear of the new scholastic honors which have come to him.

ART BOOKS IN WINCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY

Opposite the charging desk in the Winchester Public Library is a table on which are displayed the more recent books on art. Published within the past five years, these books are all up to date in text and attractive in illustrations, and will appeal to one casually interested in many subjects as well as to the student of art.

Among the books is "Modern Works of Art" which was published by the Museum of Modern Art in New York, and has liberal examples of such modern art phases as expressionism, cubism, futurism and surrealism.

"Fantastic Art, Dada, Surrealism," edited by Alfred H. Barr, Jr., with essays by Georges Hugnet, analyzes and interprets these subjects and includes notes on the painters and their paintings.

If you wish to read up on special fields of art; on painting still life, landscapes, miniatures, murals, portraits; on the technique of art, or the restoration of paintings, you will enjoy "Painting" published by the Garden City Publishing Co., from the text used in the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Perhaps you have noticed in the book stores this season the elaborate displays of the new art book edited by Thomas Craven and entitled "A Treasury of Art Masterpieces." This volume, containing excellent reproductions and commentaries of painters from Giotto to Grant Wood, may also be used at the Winchester Public Library. Also covering the same period is "World-Famous Paintings" edited by Rockwell Kent.

Using the plates from "Life" Magazine had his own new text and biographical material, Peyton Boswell, Jr., has presented this year a large but beautifully done volume entitled "Modern American Painting." Then there is the "History of American Paintings" by Samuel Isham which has chapters on subjects from the primitives through to present day impressionism and modernism.

Malvina Hoffman gives a brief outline of the history of sculpture, the necessary study, technique and processes in her well illustrated volume "Sculpture Inside and Out."

Taken up by countries, with a page on the art development of the country, a picture and biographical material about one representative painter and a copy of one of his paintings, the booklet "Contemporary Art of 79 Countries" edited by International Business Machines Corp., is small but extremely helpful, in that it presents information about some countries and painters not commonly included in art books.

Those interested in learning to draw, design or paint will want to look at "You Can Design," by Winold Reiss and Albert Schweizer which presents a simple method of drawing, commencing with ordinary scrawls and developing these abstractions into real creative designs. "Painting as a Hobby," by Stephen Thach is for the beginner, explaining the rudiments and listing the necessary equipment. Elliot O'Hara's new "Art Teacher's Primer" gives assignments to art classes which may be used to supplement art school courses.

There are also several biographies for those who enjoy reading about the lives of the famous old masters. In the book "Leonardo da Vinci," art-critic Kenneth Clark depicts the life and artistic development of da Vinci by presenting a collection on his quotations, his drawings, and telling of his varied interests. An earlier biography of da Vinci by Antonina Valentin has over 500 pages of text and colored illustrations.

A large volume of El Greco's paintings in color and in black and white, with entire paintings and also full paged details, was recently published by the Oxford University Press of New York and is named simply "El Greco." Another biography, a short but comprehensive "study of the artist and his work in relation to his times" is Walter Pach's "Vincent Van Gogh," including many copies of his paintings.

Young readers will understand and enjoy "Stories of the Painters" written by Amy Steedman and published in 1938. It is divided into seven different schools, with an easy-to-read text and colored reproductions of the best-loved paintings.

A biography of the Dutch painter, Vermere, written by Philip L. Hale, includes some chapters on the man, others on his work, and many illustrations. This book was completed and prepared for the press by Frederick W. Coburn and Ralph T. Hale, Mr. Hale of the Hale, Cushman and Flint, publishing house, is a trustee of the Winchester Public Library.

These books are only a few of the collection which may be found at the Winchester Public Library, together with the monthly periodical "Connoisseur," with which is incorporated International Studio, and which has many fine copies of famous paintings as well as articles on painters, pottery silver, jewelry and other related subjects.

A. W. O. L.

One of Winchester's taxi drivers would very much like to meet up again with the individual whom he picked up in the square last Friday night and drove for nearly three hours through different towns and cities, finally arriving in Boston.

The fare told the taxi man he was a number pool bookie and was on a collecting tour. Stops were made in the various cities and towns visited, and in Boston the fare borrowed $5 from the taxi driver, stating he would return the money when he paid his bill.

At the corner of Commonwealth avenue and Newbury street the man again got out of the taxi, and this time, failed to return. The matter was reported to the Boston Police and to the local authorities, a good description of the man being given.

FASHION SHOW BY FILENE'S AT THRIFT SHOP DONATION DAY

Plans have been completed for the Fashion Show and Annual Donation Day for the Winchester Thrift Shop which is conducted by the Women's League of the First Baptist Church and will be held at the church on Tuesday, March 12.

Morning coffee will be served at 10 a. m. and again at 11:30 a. m., and it is expected that the Winchester ladies and neighboring townspeople will join their friends at the church for coffee.

The following will pour: Mrs. Harold B. Richmond, president of the Florence Crittenton League; Mrs. George A. Dutting, president of the Red Cross; Mrs. Warren C. Whitman, president of the Republican Club; Mrs. Henry K. Spencer, president of the Winton Club; Mrs. Stanley J. Barnes, president of the Mothers' Association; Mrs. John L. Lobingier, president of the College Club; Mrs. Charles A. Woolley, president of the En Ka Society; Mrs. Paul H. Howard, president of the Fortnightly.

At 10:30 Filene's of Boston and Winchester will present an "Easter Parade," a fashion show of 1940 costumes for all types and all occasions. Those who will model for the parade are: Mrs. Robert T. Burr, Mrs. William McGill, Miss Betty Elliott, Miss Gretchen Stone, Mrs. Ralph Jope, Mrs. Joseph Gudhelm, Miss Shirley Ryan, and Master Robert Burnham.

Donations will be received at the church that morning and will be sorted and marked for the grand sale on Thursday, March 14. Arrangements will be made to pick up by truck, donations too large to be brought to the church.

Mrs. Charles A. Burnham is general chairman and will be assisted by Mrs. Martin Swanson, president of the Women's League, chairman of hostesses; Mrs. Norman Mitchell, chairman of decorations; Mrs. Lester Pratt, chairman of serving; Miss Helen Lorentz, chairman of coffee; Mrs. Myrtle Cobb, chairman of donations; Mrs. Otis Hammett, chairman of marking; Mrs. Malcolm Wilson, chairman of fashion show; and Mrs. R. Mitchell Rushton, chairman of publicity.

FILENE'S NEW WINCHESTER STORE OPENS

WINCHESTER LOVES A PARTY

So Filene Put A Good One On Friday Night

Winchester loves a party! With the gathering at the Winton Cabaret and the En Ka Street Fair it has long been recognized, and when George Carter opened his movie house it needed no further proof. So when Filene decided to put on a party at its opening last Friday night, everything was set to bring Mr. and Mrs. Winchester and all their friends out for the occasion. And out they came. From eight until eleven Filene's new and beautiful store was crowded beyond its ample capacity for accommodating the needs and wishes of our townspeople.

And it turned out to be an ideal party—just the kind that Winchester people love. Everyone raved over the decorations and stock and simply went on an orgy of hand-shaking and greeting friends. What Miss Hazel F. Berry, the store's capable manager, had in mind when she ordered the doors opened at eight we wouldn't know. But whatever it was, Hazel immediately gave it up and spent the evening meeting people and making inner plans to give them the hospitable service they apparently knew they would receive.

John Roosevelt, assistant manager, was naturally a center of attraction. One could always place John by the friendly crowd which surrounded him; not that a crowd was needed at all, for John is no shorty and was always able to see where he was needed even if he was unable to reach the spot. That crowd hanging over the balcony rail, greeting him in unison as "my friend," got a pleasant smile and liked it, and undoubtedly put him down on their list at once as a "regular."

As for us, we gave up the struggle early in the evening. After losing the Little Woman in the crush we parked along with Alice and Tat Badger and looked the situation over, and when we finally realized we were in front of a full length mirror and moved over to give the girls a chance to view their appearance and wish for some new duds, we had a really good time.

We got a rose bud along with everyone else, and while we failed to hear and enjoy the five piece orchestra which gave a program in the balcony, it was wholly due to our inertia. We were glad to greet our old friends Alice and Vincent Farnsworth whom we had not seen since the last party at the Calumet Club. Frank Rowe took exception to our white cap in a friendly way, but we stumped him when we explained it was entirely suitable for winter wear as it was of white flannel. Frank left us in favor of the children's dresses, which claimed his secondary interest. We couldn't even cross the few feet which separated us from Vera and Harold Peckham of West Medford, but the greetings were passed. Clarence and Dora Whorf were enjoying themselves if we may judge by their smiles, as was Gretchen Butler, while Buster Barta got a stance at the head of the stairs and was really head and shoulders over John Roosevelt. We noted that Nellie and Theresa and Catherine Sullivan all had their rosebuds and all seemed to be enjoying things in the spirit of the evening.

The politicians were present of course. In view of the recent election we will tactfully omit names, but in our search for the Little Woman we noted Ray Kimball out on Main street 521st in line and she told us she would not give it up for the world (not that we would do such a thing as to urge her to.) If we had not met Edith Clark and received her information that our party was in Horace Ford's, we would have been home earlier, and as it was except for the kind offices of Officer Joe Quigley, who put us out through the locked door, we might not have been in by bed-time.

Altogether it appeared to us to be a top-notch party and a great success. It is true that to accommodate 5000 people it was necessary to close the doors occasionally and for anyone to attempt to describe the color schemes and decorations besides greeting friends and lining up appointments, was hardly possible.

But undoubtedly all Winchester, when the festive spirit wanes, will take its time and view the store from every angle and in its proper setting. A competent staff headed by Miss Berry, who, by the way, is residing at 15 Stowell road, includes John Roosevelt and a group of attractive and prominent Winchester girls whom most of us know. They are:

Polles Phipps	Alice Harwood
Ruth Bowe	Camilla Powers
Christine Craven	Katherine Mathews
Hazel Boan	Harriette Kolb
Sybil Spencer	Jane Oliver
Eugenia Peppard	Helen Bottger
Phyllis Sylvester	Josephine Brown
Katherine Cunningham	Margaret King
Jeanne Miller	Rita Mitchell
Virginia Walker	Marion Bradley
Blanche Cain

The male personnel at the store includes besides the assistant manager:

William W. Abbott	John M. Colgate
John B. Woolner	Gordon B. Pettingell
Harry A. McGrath

Above is the BUICK SPECIAL four-door touring sedan $996

THERE are a lot of things about this stunning 1940 Buick to claim your attention—that is, if you really want to know what's what in motorcars.

For instance, you've got to admit that its style has done a lot to brighten up and beautify the boulevards.

And you have to agree, from the way folks are swinging over to Buick, that it must have something value-wise that's pretty important.

What you hear about its quick-off-the-mark engine and the silkiness it gets from balancing after assembly certainly calls for inquiry.

So do the rave notices BuiCoil Springing gets and the talk you hear about five-foot front seat room in the SUPER and its Foamtex cushions soft as a down puff.

But skipping this—even skipping the fact that Buick's prices are lower than some sixes—there's one thing that alone is enough to send you hot-footing to your Buick dealer.

That's the fact, obvious from the very looks of other cars, that as Buick goes these days so goes the industry.

It set this year's pace last year—and right now, style-wise, comfort-wise and feature-wise, it is the car others will be like "some day."

So do the obvious thing. Go try out this superb traveler. You'll never be really happy till you have one.

Prices Begin at $895 for Business Coupe —Sedan prices start at $955—

delivered at Flint, Mich. Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.*

The heighth of political tact as expounded by Comrade Allan Wilde: "I predict he will be high candidate in a group of losers."

Each year the defeat of some good candidate for precinct member because a change of residence has forced him to seek election where he is not well known or where a so-called slate of candidates has been already chosen leads the Star more and more strongly to the conclusion that our limited town meeting act should make some provision for precinct members at large. These members would be elected by the entire town and would afford an opportunity for those who for reasons given above or other reasons cannot get elected in their individual precincts. A vote by the entire town would very likely guarantee election to any one who has demonstrated interest in town affairs yet who is unlikely to be chosen town meeting member in any given precinct. Often our town meeting has been deprived of a good and above all, an interested member because a candidate has moved from the precinct where he is known to another where he is a political outsider. There are all too few members of our town meeting who are willing to take the trouble to be informed on town affairs. Those who are ought to have the opportunity for membership regardless of where they happen to be living.

The youth of the town would all have a better idea of their obligations to the community which does so much for them if there were more parents like the father Chief Rogers discovered last week-end supervising his son in the job of removing some glass which he had broken on Highland avenue near Main street. The youngster was doing a very thorough job with dustpan and broom, the father's stern face indicating that no particle was to be missed. When reminded by the Chief that his son was not the only one involved, and as a matter of fact had not been complained of as actually breaking the glass, the father replied that the boy had been with those responsible, if not responsible himself, and that he wanted him to realize that breaking glass in public places is not an acceptable social practice. Chief Rogers was delighted and asked the Star to comment upon the little episode. All too often it is his experience that parents uphold their offspring in their wrongdoings or manifest supreme indifference to the youngsters' anti-social tendencies. Such an attitude on the part of parents breeds contempt for authority which can easily develop into that lawlessness which is beginning to reach alarming proportions among the youth of the land. Fathers like the one mentioned above help materially to counteract the growing parental indifference to, and ignorance of their children's behaviour. Fortunate are both the community and its youthful citizens when parents concern themselves to teach their offspring good social habits.

Winchester's town election has passed into history so far as 1940 is concerned. The Town appears to be in good hands and will undoubtedly grow and prosper (so far as New Deal permit allows) through the year. Marshall Symmes, whom a number of our prophets felt would be left at the wayside, came out top man as Selectman. Marshall will make a good Town Father. He has reason to feel proud of the support given him, but when we viewed him yesterday we noted that his head appeared to be of normal size and we don't think it will grow any bigger. Ben Schneider accompanies him on the Board. Ben is a citizen who carries the confidence of everyone and is the type we want to head our Town. These two new members together with Don Heath, Alvin Litchfield and Elliott Cameron, will make an excellent group. We were sorry to see our good friend Bill Croughwell get left. Bill ran under pressure and only consented to take up the burden through his sense of civic duty and a willingness to share a busy life and do his bit for his town. He is the type of man Winchester has been so lucky to get during all its years down through the past. Phil Gallagher, another who failed to receive the complete endorsement, was another desirable candidate. He received a flattering vote, entirely on his own and through no outside effort. These two will make a strong back-log for future years. Rev. Howard Chidley got somewhat steamed up over movies, but this will undoubtedly be ironed out to the satisfaction of all. George Carter has given Winchester one of the best, if not the best, movie theatre in the whole state. As we see this situation, the theatre will not die if it fails to get Sunday afternoon shows and the Town will not go to the dogs if it does. At any rate it is something for the Town to decide. John Cassidy, our cheerful and respected Assessor, was returned to office by a handsome vote which proves conclusively that Winchester people like him and have faith in his judgment and effort. We were sorry to note that Jimmie Cullen failed to win a place as a town meeting member in his new precinct. He takes great interest in town affairs and that is the type we want. Perhaps he will be allowed to enter discussions from the floor. "Ed" Sanderson, who is in our opinion one of the most efficient and painstaking officials our town has, was retained in office. Ed has had some trouble with our water, which is either too hard or too soft, but people evidently recognized that without his fore-thought and good judgment we would now be paying top notch prices for Metropolitan drinking. The tellers as a group cannot receive our plaudits. To be frank they appear to have been lousy. From what we hear, this branch of our town government should be revised and either a school established for their instruction under Jim Quinn's supervision, or else the losing candidates in each election be sentenced to tabulate for the following year. Anyway—this branch of our annual meeting receives a low rating so far as we are concerned. So far as we can see we had a good campaign and an excellent list of candidates, and withall no dirt slinging or serious disturbances in our general friendly relations. Now for Town Meeting.

JIM AND JIM

We don't vouch for this story, but with all the campaigning which went on during the recent town election, it seems very plausible.

It appears that Mr. Householder—or Mr. Voter—who shall be nameless, assisted his wife in putting the baby to bed. Later, upon their retiring, when they started to look in on the baby, they found that the door, which had a spring lock, had closed, locking them out.

There was nothing for it but that Mr. Voter pull on his trousers, fish out a ladder and go in by an upstairs window.

As he raised the ladder a voice at his elbow remarked: "I'm Mr. ———. I'm a candidate for ——— at town election. Can't I help you?"

Explanations were made. The political candidate insisted on doing the honors, and the upshot of it all was that he went up the ladder and through the window.

Meanwhile Mrs. Voter, (attired, we suppose, for bed) was waiting in the upper hall for her husband to open the door. Imagine her surprise when a stranger appeared. On his part it never phased him a bit. "I'm a candidate for ——— at town election," said he.

Reports are that he got two votes at that house.

WHY?

To the Editor of the Star:

Under Article 16 of the warrant it is proposed that the Town purchase for school purposes from Mr. Lewis Parkhurst a parcel of land known as the Ripley lot lying between the Junior High School and the Unitarian Church at a cost of $4975, its assessed value. Under article 17 it is proposed to purchase for playground purposes a parcel of land situated behind the Winchester Conservatories assessed for $1182 at a cost of $3500. The Finance Committee recommends both appropriations, that is to say, they propose paying Mr. Parkhurst the assessed valuation and paying the owner of the land behind the Winchester Conservatories nearly three times the assessed valuation.

Many of the citizens have seriously doubted the economy of the Finance Committee's recommendations during the past dozen years. This sudden change to penuriousness in recommending the purchase from Mr. Parkhurst of the Ripley lot at the assessed value, while also recommending the purchase from another of the undeveloped land to the rear of the Winchester Conservatories at a price nearly three times the assessed value, has occasioned them considerable surprise and at the same time aroused their curiosity. Inquiring into the matter they find that their gratitude for this abrupt turn to economy is considerably dampened by learning that it is being accomplished at the expense of one of Winchester's most distinguished citizens. Certainly there is no one who has contributed so much to the development of the Town.

Back in 1930 the Finance Committee recommended the acquisition of the Ripley lot at its then assessed value of $18,800, although nobody knew how much more than $18,800 the town would have been compelled to pay. The limited Town meeting by a vote of 179 to 4 voted the appropriation, as included in the total appropriation of nearly $400,000 for the establishment of a Junior High School and on referendum to the voters the whole program was defeated. Subsequently, however, and after a compromise, the Junior High School became a fact, but the Ripley lot was not purchased. Some of the land acquired for the new school cost the town a great deal more than its assessed value. After the Junior High School building had been erected, Mr. Parkhurst acquired the Ripley lot well knowing the necessity of controlling the development of that land if the architectural beauty of the Center was to be preserved. The Town later purchased a small strip of this lot fom Mr. Parkhurst for $1000. Finally the Planning Board and the School Board decided the Town ought to acquire the remainder of this land and so advised Mr. Parkhurst who had in the meantime torn down the buildings which, with the sale of the small portion to the Town, resulted in a reduction of the assessment to $4975. He also had regraded the lot and made its appearance pleasing.

Mr. Parkhurst agreed with the Boards on the advisability of the acquisition by the Town of the land and they asked him the price at which he would convey it to the Town. He gave them the details of the net cost to him of the property of approximately $8000 after crediting the $1000 for the parcel theretofore sold the Town and then said that he would convey it to the Town for whatever price the Boards thought fair. Mr. Parsons was chairman of the special committee which in 1930 recommended the taking of the lot then containing 27,000 feet and assessed for $18,800 no matter what it cost, and is chairman of the present Planning Board which now thinks $4975 is a fair price for 21,590 feet of the same land which is $3000 less than the cost to Mr. Parkhurst.

Maybe the Planning Board, the School Board and the Finance Committee are proud of their economy in this instance, but most of us would like to see the economy of these Boards demonstrated in some direction other than taking advantage of Mr. Parkhurst's generosity.

MR. GALLAGHER THANKS VOTERS

To the Voters of Winchester:

Through the columns of the Star, I want to take this opportunity to thank every one who worked so hard in the interests of my election to the Board of Selectmen, those who so generously endorsed my candidacy, and also those who evidenced their confidence in me by voting for me last Monday.

The results of the election were close and, although defeated, the courteous and fair treatment I received throughout the Town has impressed me greatly, and I sincerely hope that I shall be as well received another year.

It has been a distinct pleasure to have campaigned for Town office and to have talked and visited with so many of the voters of Winchester.

I congratulate the successful candidates, Mr. Schneider and Mr. Symmes, and they have my hearty good wishes for splendid success in their work.

Gratefully yours,
Adv. Philip H. Gallagher

MR. FOLEY THANKS YOU

To the Editor of the Star:

I feel that my campaign for election to the office of Assessor would not be complete without public expression of my appreciation to all those who so loyally supported my candidacy.

To the successful candidate, John F. Cassidy, I extend my congratulations and best wishes. I entered the fight for Assessor because I honestly believed I could win. A majority of the electorate decided against me and I am sportsman enough to accept their decision.

P. T. Foley,
Adv. 26 Mt. Pleasant street

APPRECIATION FROM MR. SYMMES

To the Editor of the Star:

My election to the office of Selectman brings me not alone a deep feeling of appreciation of the efforts of my friends who worked in support of my candidacy, but also a sense of ooligation to prove worthy of the confidence of all who voted for me at the polls. My vote was very gratifying, and I shall try to meet my obligation to the town by giving the very best service of which I am capable.

Marshall W. Symmes,
Adv. 243 Main street

MR. CASSIDY EXPRESSES THANKS

To the Editor of the Star:

I wish to express my sincere thanks to the voters of Winchester for their support of my candidacy for re-election to the Board of Assessors at the polls on Monday. Such endorsement is both pleasing and a challenge to prove worthy of the town's further confidence. I shall bend every effort toward meeting this challenge successfully.

John F. Cassidy,
Adv. 22 Water street

FROM MR. SCHNEIDER

To the Editor of the Star:

I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to all those who supported my candidacy during the past election and to assure those who voted for me on Monday, March 4, that I deeply value their confidence.

As Selectman, I will seriously endeavor to further the best interests of the town.

Sincerely yours,
Ben R. Schneider,

WINCHESTER'S OWN GLEE CLUB

It is interesting to note an outgrowth of the "Alma Mater" chorus of the Winton Club show has manifest itself in our midst, as a result of the many favorable comments heard about the singing of this group.

The enthusiasm shown by the members to continue in this pleasant past time brought about a recent meeting at the Country Club to forward a more serious male singing club in Winchester.

At this meeting it was proposed to organize a glee club whose aims were to promote interest and enjoyment of music and to aid and abet any worthy charitable organization of the community of Winchester.

The following officers were elected: Carl Wood, president; Bill Auger, leader; Jay Turner, secretary-treasurer; appointments to board of directors, John Kenerson; Dan Barnard; committee for refreshments, Dick Wilder, Tom Aldrich, Maurice Tompkins.

The club voted to draw up a constitution and by-laws and, in adjourning, reviewed some of the numbers sung for the Winton Club show.

Any men wishing to join the club are invited to communicate with Jay Turner, secretary at Win. 1452-M.

CUB NOTES

Pack 4

The regular meeting of Pack 4 was held March 7 at the Mystic School. Invited to this meeting were the parents of the Cubs. After a short talk by Cubmaster Cooper the following awards were made: 21 wolf badges, 2 bear badges, 2 gold wolf arrows, 1 gold bear arrow.

To demonstrate to their parents some of their Cub achievements Den 1 gave an account of one of their field trips and marched in formation, Den 2 gave an account of activities at their Den meetings, sang a song ending with their Den cheer, Den 3 gave a demonstration of a living pyramid. Scout Executive Dudley was called on and after speaking briefly, announced that the Council was formulating plans for a Cub day camp this summer. Lead by Mr. Holdsworth at the piano the meeting ended with the singing of America.

TRAINING COURSE FOR GIRL SCOUT LEADERS

The training course for Girl Scout leaders was held at the Lyceum Building Wednesday morning at 10 a. m., with about 20 attending. There was a discussion on the objective of the homemaking field and program activities. Practical experiences in this field were brought to the group by Mrs. Harold Partridge, Mrs. James Campbell and Mrs. Kenneth Caldwell.

Mrs. Harvey Glacier conducted the training course and the next session will be held March 20 at the same time and place.

LENTEN CANTATA AT UNITARIAN CHURCH

On Sunday, March 17, at 5 p m. the choir of the Unitarian Church will sing Dubois' Cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ."

It is perhaps little known by the town's people that the quartet of the Winchester Unitarian Church, in tonal quality, balance and artistic ability, is acknowledged by competent critics to be the equal of any choir in Metropolitan Boston.

All music lovers are invited to attend this vesper service.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, WINCHESTER

Sunday Services and Sunday School 10:45 A. M.

Wednesday testimonial meeting, 7:45 P. M. Reading room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street.) Open daily 11 A. M. to 5 P. M., Saturday, 11 A. M. until 8 P. M., except Sundays and holidays.

"Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, March 10.

The Golden Text is: "O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong" (Daniel 10:19).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh: yea, though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth know we him no more. Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new" (II Corinthians 5:16, 17).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The calm, strong currents of true spirituality, the manifestations of which are health, purity, and self-immolation, must deepen human experience, until the beliefs of material existence are seen to be a bald imposition, and sin, disease, and death give everlasting place to the scientific demonstration of divine Spirit and to God's spiritual, perfect man" (p. 99).

MIKE GRANT TO THE RESCUE

Tuesday afternoon as assistant superintendent of streets Michael Grant was driving into the parking area at the rear of the town hall his attention was attracted by a big collie which had broken through the thin ice of the mill pond and was struggling to get out of the cold water.

Leaving his car, "Mike" quickly got the safety ladder kept near the pond and ran it onto the ice, working his way out until he was able to pull the struggling dog from the water. As he did so the ice let go under him and he was thrown into the pond, from which, however, he was able to extricate himself quickly. He was assisted by Walter Parkins, and given a cheer by bystanders who were attracted to the scene. A call was sent into fire headquarters and several firemen responded, but "Mike" and the dog were on terra firma before they arrived.

CUBS VISIT WATCH HAND FACTORY

The Cubs of Den 1, Pack 8 and representatives from Den 2 visited the Watch Dial Factory of J. H. Winn & Sons last week, Tuesday.

Mr. Dade, manager of the plant, took the group on a tour of the factory, explaining carefully the various processes through which a piece of raw material passes before it emerges in the finished stage, as the hand of a watch, clock or radio dial. Many operations are necessary whether it be the tiniest second hand, many of which lay in rows like soldiers, or the hand for a 24 inch dial, which is being made.

The Cubs noted with interest the care with which hands are packed for shipment that they may neither bend nor become scratched. Altogether they voted Mr. Dade a very hearty appreciation of his interest in them and sang one of their Cub songs in his honor as a way of voicing their thanks.

cations for the office of assessor were believed by many to offset his lack of acquaintance with the town's electorate.

In winning re-election with 1849 votes Mr. Cassidy demonstrated a popularity that permitted him to carry every precinct and poll more votes than any two of his opponents combined. Mr. Foley, waging a vigorous campaign, landed in second place with 978 votes, Mr. Pihl polled 884, and Mr. MacDonald, 809. The latter's showing in view of his splendid run last year, when he came within some 40 votes of winning, is one of the surprises of the election.

In the other contests there was little doubt of the outcome from the time the first returns came in. Raymond S. Wilkins, former chairman of Selectmen, defeated Moderator George B. Hayward for moderator, 2418 to 1712; Dr. J Harper Blaisdell, a candidate for re-election, won from Dr. R. L. Emery for Board of Health, 2450 to 1719, and Chairman Earle E. Andrews of the board of public welfare successfully withstood the challenge of William T. Mulcahy, 2818—1303.

The four-cornered fight for constables resulted in the re-election of the veteran Edward F. Maguire, 3218; Gleason W. Ryerson, 3017, and Michael J. Foley, 2853. Frederick J. Larson failed of election with 1630 votes.

Despite a record vote of 612 votes in precinct 6, the highest any candidate with opposition could roll up in any precinct, Charles H. Gallagher failed to defeat Clinton E. Farnham in the contest for the two year term as library trustee. Mr. Farnham's winning total was 2228. Mr. Gallagher polled 1768.

Edmund C. Sanderson, veteran chairman of the water & sewer board, carried every precinct but 6 in his campaign for re-election, defeating John J. Doherty, 2497—1777.

Alfred H. Marchant polled the high vote of the election, running unopposed for cemetery commissioner, getting 3545. Rev. William S. Packer, unopposed for park commissioner, polled 3540 for second place. Rachel T. Kimball, a new comer to local politics, running unopposed for election to the school committee, showed a flattering vote of 3354, very evenly distributed.

Aside from the candidates themselves little interest was manifest in the contests for precinct members, excepting in precinct 4 where many were eager for news of the candidacy of James A. Cullen, for some years a member in precinct 6, who not long ago moved into 4. Mr. Cullen, after a vigorous campaign, failed of election, being one of four unsuccessful candidates in a field of 15.

Horace Ford, ex-big league ball player, was high vote getter in precinct 1; Gleason W. Ryerson in 2; Harriet C. Hildreth, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, 3; Sidney C. Blanchard and former Selectman Franklin J. Lane tied in 4; John B. Kenerson, 5; and Thomas W. Conlon, 6.

While voting ran fairly heavy through the day the peak was reached from 4 to 6:30 when 1247 votes were cast. Precinct 5 was the first to announce its totals at 8:50, with 4 the last in at 10 o'clock.

Everything was tabulated at 11 o'clock, but an error in one of the precincts was discovered, making it necessary to open that particular ballot box. This box, sealed by the warden, could not be opened by any other finally straightened out and the tired town clerk and her assistant were able to go home for a brief rest before returning to duty.

done by the police. It was 2:30 Tuesday morning when everything was official and it was necessary to locate the warden, this finally being

MT. HOLYOKE CLUB BOOK TALK

The title of the books which Mrs. Alice Dixon Bond chose as deserving of emphasis at her monthly book talk on Tuesday morning, March 5, in the Winchester Public Library hall proved a good contrast to the gray, sleety morning, "How Green Was My Valley." Written by Richard Dewellyn, it is a story of Welsh miners a generation or so ago and is, according to Mrs. Bond a "rich" book which will appeal to everyone.

Mrs. Bond discussed six other books at the meeting which was sponsored by the Scholarship Committee of the Winchester Mt. Holyoke Club. Three of them were non-fiction, "Gentlewoman Give to Please" a Victorian book of etiquette, edited by Gerard Tickseli, "Life's a Circus" by Lady Eleanor Smith, the account of her gay life among gypsies and English nobility, and Vera Brittains great tribute to her friend Winifred Holtby, "Testament of Friendship."

In "Come Spring" Ben Ames Williams has written a long historical novel about ordinary people and the founding of a Maine town. "An Old Captivity" by Nevil Shute is the story of a young aviator and his expedition from England to Greenland, written by a man who not only designs but flies trans-Atlantic planes.

The last book talk of the season will be given on Tuesday morning, April 2.

FOR STATE COMMITTEE

Mrs. Jennie Stevenson of 85 Suffolk street, West Medford, has joined the contest for Republican State Committee from this Senatorial District, including Winchester, Woburn, Arlington, and four wards in Medford.

Mrs. Stevenson has lived in Medford since the World War, during which she served as Yoeman (F), United States Navy. She attended New York Teachers College and taught for a time at Bronx Commercial School.

Lately she has been active in the Medford Girl Scouts, Visiting Nurses Association, Women's Club and the Women's Republican Club. She was chairman of membership, treasurer and then president for two years of the Republican Club, which grew to a membership of over 1000 during her administration.

DEMOLAY TO HOLD FOOD SALE

Two years ago the Middlesex Chapter, Order of DeMolay held a food sale in Winchester. It was so successful that the fellows have decided to hold another one this year. The sale will be held in the Economy store on Saturday, March 16. It will begin at 9 o'clock and run on through the day.

As there aren't many good cooks among the boys of the chapter, they have to rely upon their mothers and friends to supply them with food. If you would like to help out the fellows by making a food donation, call Paul Butterworth, 0835-M and he'll see that it is collected at your home Saturday morning.

The DeMolay boys urge all their Winchester friends to drop around at the Economy on the 16th, and look over their display of home-cooked food.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Edward Bemis to Winchester Savings Bank, dated September 12, 1919, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4295, Page 95, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Tuesday, April 2, 1940, at nine thirty o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and therein substantially described as follows: "A certain tract or parcel of land on the Northerly side of Sheffield West, in said Winchester, bounded and described as follow, to-wit: Beginning at the Southwesterly corner of said premises at a stone bound set in the ground at the Southeasterly corner of lot four (4) on a plan hereinafter referred to, and the street line of said Sheffield West, thence the line runs Northwesterly by said lot four (4), one hundred and twenty-two (122) feet to a stone bound; thence turning and running Northeasterly, fifty-two (52) feet, to a stone bound at the Northwesterly corner of let two (2) on said plan; thence turning and running Southerly by said lot two (2), one hundred and twenty-eight (128) feet to a stone bound in the Northerly line of said Sheffield West, the Southeasterly corner of said lot two (2); thence running Southwesterly by said Sheffield West, eighty and 26/100 (80.26 feet to the point of beginning. Said lot contains seven thousand seven hundred and twenty-five (7725) square feet and is numbered three (3) on a plan entitled, "Land on Sheffield West, Winchester, Mass., belonging to Ripley and Hovey, dated May 17, 1910, W. J. Dotten, Surveyor", recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book of Plans No. 185, Plan 40. The premises are subject to restrictions enumerated in deed from Frank L. Ripley and another, to Edward A. Morris, dated May 18, 1910, recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 3520, Page 432." WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

Miss Mary Alice Fitch, president of the Winchester Garden Club was hostess for the Feb. 29th meeting. Throughout the house violets and red roses; varied blossoms with a touch of acacia gave evidence that spring was near. Miss Fitch planned a festive day for members before the regular program.

Before luncheon-dessert was served, a clear sweet voice was heard in the distance chanting from Savoy's operetta, "Pirates of Penzance:"

"For some ridiculous reason, to which, however, I've no desire to be disloyal,
Some person in authority, I don't know who, but very likely the Astronomer Royal,
Has decided that, although for such a beastly month as February, 28 days as a rule are plenty.
One year in every four its days shall be reckoned as nine and twenty.
Through some singular coincidence—I shouldn't be surprised if it were owing to the agency of an ill-natured fairy—
You are the victim of this clumsy arrangement, having been born in leap-year, on the 29th of February.
And so, by a simple arithmetical process, you'll easy discover,
That though you've lived—years, yet, if we go by birthdays, you're only—and a little bit more."

With a few Janes interspersed in the chant, sung by Mrs. Herbert T. West, it was very evident that it was Jane Robinson's birthday. The members then sang "Happy Birthday to Jane," as they went into the dining room. In an artistic setting on the serving table were two cakes with candles marking the four-year period; the inscription on one, "Joy to Jane" and the other "Joy to Ellen." Ellen Jackson, too, had a birthday. Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Torr Harmer (in the absence of Mrs. Jackson) cut the cakes. Mrs. Arthur W. Pitman poured. An unique centerpiece was a painting by Mrs. M. H. Hintlian—it depicted a young woman skipping the years and circling near her were little faces from babyhood to a blushing bride and on to 1940. It was cleverly thought out and portrayed with creative ability by the artist. A short verse was read by the president:

Happy Birthday to You
"Joyous Jane is a genius making her posies bloom, Joyous Jane has no kitchen, only a pretty East Room.
Joyous Jane skips her birthdays, gaily skips three or four!
Joyous Jane is reducing, skipping her cakes evermore."

There was an air of mystery about this because the author is unknown.

Mrs. John A. Maddocks and Mrs. Reginald H. Robinson were appointed to exhibit for the club, March 11 and 12 at the Spring Flower Show in Mechanics Building. Their exhibit will be a dining room arrangement.

"Japanese Arrangement" was Mrs. M. H. Hintlian's topic for the afternoon. Mrs. Hintlian presented her subject with valuable information and suggested many books on arrangements could be found in beautiful colored prints. Just a few notes are: the Japanese regard flower arrangement as one of the highest forms of art worthy of a lifetime of study. It is necessary to have an understanding and knowledge of plant material to have a great love of nature and an idea of the complexity and paradoxity of the Oriental temperament. Following this art from youth has given the Japanese an idea of proportion and taught them the power of concentration. The Japanese can take a few flowers, a spray of greenery, a few stones, a plain container and a will to work out a natural and beautiful arrangement.

The art of flower arrangement as practiced in Japan is undoubtedly of religious birth, and is an outcome of Buddhism, having its inception in India, flowers being used as an offering to Buddha. It was brought to China and Japan by the Buddhist Priests. The Tea Ceremony, in embryo, also came from India. It and the arrangements are closely related, in fact, the Tea Ceremony strongly influenced floral arrangements or Ikebana (living flowers or keeping plant material fresh in water.)

The Buddhist Priests in China were the first instructors of flower arrangement. They taught the preservation and the conservation of nature. The first flower arrangements worked out with a system were known as Shin-no-hana (central flower arrangements) a huge branch of pine stood in the middle and around the tree were placed three or five seasonable flowers. The general form symmetrical. This is found in Japanese religious pictures of the 14th century.

The Ginkaku Li Temple or "Silver Pavilion" at Kyote is the birthplace of Japanese flower arrangements and the Tea Ceremony according to Japanese rites. It was here that Yosimasa in 1478, a patron of the arts, retired from the world and built a villa which included a beautiful garden. To this Buddhist monk we owe our first formulated flower arrangement. To his friend and attendant priest, a contemporary artist, the Japanese attribute the further development of flower arrangement. It was he who conceived the idea of representing the three elements of heaven, man and earth. To him also is attributed the landscape or dish garden. After So-ami came Kenobe, a priest of a temple in Kyuto distinguishing himself as a master of flower arrangement. He became the founder of a school of floral art which has existed for more than 400 years. The Ikenobe school has the largest number of students in Japan.

During the 17th century a certain Emperor mastered the art and it then became fashionable among nobles and high officials. The Japanese call flower arrangement and the Tea Ceremony, Huryu, in English this means "elegant amusement."

With a branch of a tree is twisted or dwarfed, instead of being straight and luxuriant, or has become mossed-covered and old, such a branch is said to be harmoniously peaceful. A perfect plant is said to have a powerful personality and creates a desire for possession but a poor plant fills one with tenderness. This beauty, born of peace, is the beauty of Huryu, the beauty of Ikebana.

In flower arrangements the actors are the flowers and trees, the stage, the container as in the drama is a foil necessary to set the leading characters in high relief so in Japanese flower arrangement, a foil is employed in order to emphasize the characteristic form of nature.

Mrs. Hintlian closed her interesting talk with "A Package of Seeds" by Edgar Guest.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL NOTES

The second grade presented a delightful assembly program on Friday, March 1. The theme of the program was an out-growth of their recent study of the grocery store. Betty Ann Parker was the announcer. Ann York and Benson Snyder sang a song "Mister Grocer." A skit, showing the storekeeper and his helper selling groceries to several shoppers, was skillfully presented. In the skit several children, personifications of various groceries, told interesting facts about the foods they represented. At the conclusion of the little play the group sang, "The Grocery Store."

Miriam Parker recited a poem, "The General Sore."

The program showed that the second grade understands how the groceryman helps his neighbors.

TOWN MEETING OPENING SESSION HELD

Acting on 26 of 35 articles in the warrant the opening session of the current town meeting, held last evening in the town hall, voted almost without exception to accept the recommendations of the Finance Committee as voiced by the committee's chairman, Selectman-elect Ben R. Schneider. Not for years, at least has there been so smooth running meeting. Seldom, if ever, has there been one more generally dull. Such opposition as there was to the Finance Committee's dictates got exactly nowhere, and the meeting, under the gavel of the new moderator, Raymond S. Wilkins, had actually finished Article 6, the long article dealing with departmental appropriations at 9:15.

It is more than likely that the warrant would have been completed last night, had the Park Board been able to give the delegates a more exact picture of the land which it is proposed to purchase at the rear of the Winchester Conservatories for a west side playground. An attempt to have the article, seeking an appropriation of $5200 for the purchase of this land, taken from the table where it had been consigned earlier in the meeting, resulted in a motion to adjourn, offered by Mr. Farnsworth at 10:45, and subsequently carried.

Previous to the debate on this article there had been little excitement. Mr. Cullen and Mr. P. T. Foley questioned the wisdom of a $1200 item in the Police account for the purchase of a new ambulance, feeling that the figure requested would not secure an ambulance much better than the present wholly unsatisfactory vehicle. Mr. Camcron assured the meeting that an adequate second hand ambulance could be secured for that figure, 1935 vintage, and that the present ambulance would be given to the Fire Department to replace the fire alarm car, gradually falling apart, thus "killing two birds with one stone."

This bon mot got one of the laughs of the evening. There were very few Mr. Wilkins got another when he felt Town Counsel Pike's opinion upon a question of public liability outweighed that of School Superintendent Quinn, pointing out that after all Mr. Pike is "a lawyer."

In the matter of departmental accounts there was no deviation from Finance Committee figures. The engineering department budget was reduced $500, that amount being deducted from the $3000 salary requested for an assistant engineer, a position vacant since the death of John F. Sharon, and not likely to be filled, according to Mr. Schneider, for a few weeks yet.

Among the larger appropriations, were Fire Department $49,340; Health Department, $22,963.62; Highways and Bridges, $94,861; Interest, $18,297; Parks and Playgrounds, $26,230; Old Age Assistance, $19,300; Pensions and Annuities, $14,198; Police Department, $59,953.70; Library $17,511; Public Welfare, $20,083; Reserve Fund, $15,000; School Department, $290,546.85; Sewer Construction, $13,700; Snow and Ice, $31,000; Street Lights, $22,992.50; Water Construction, $14,100; Water Maintenance, $33,390.

At the opening of the meeting Mr. Schneider explained that the $31,000 item for snow and ice removal would eat up practically all the savings his committee had been able to effect in the town's budget and also pointed out that in the past 10 years the town's necessary appropriations for relief and state taxes have increased some $150,000.

Despite this fact the Finance Committee chairman pointed out that if his group's figures were accepted by the meeting, the town's tax rate would be about the same, or slightly lower than it was in 1930.

There was no particular disposition to do anything but accept the Finance Committee figures. Mr. Cullen vainly sought to reduce the Selectmen's budget by the amount of a $250 salary increase requested for the Board's clerk, and questioned salary increases for the clerk of the Finance Committee and the Water Registrar. His objections served to inform some members of the meeting that salaries are apportioned under various accounts, two speakers stating their belief that salary totals should be available for precinct members.

The meeting voted $5,000 to erect a bath house at Leonard Field and $4,490 to continue its recreation program. It also voted to accept the recommendation of the Recreation Committee, providing for a committee of six to conduct experiments in the use of school buildings for adult recreation purposes.

There was no objection to the town taking the land adjacent to its west side water supply to protect that supply, nor to the purchase from Mr. Parkhurst of the lot between the Junior High School and the Unitarian Church, $5200 being voted for the latter parcel. Money for the land wanted on Wedge Pond for Park purposes was also voted.

Charles Eshbach, a Massachusetts State graduate, was chosen director of the town's activity in aid of the county agriculture extension service.

Strangely enough no motion was introduced under the article dealing with the proposal to grant police officers a day off in six, this article being indefinitely postponed along with the Sunday sports article. Mr. Russell was successful in getting a sense of the meeting vote to increase the number of members of the Park Board to five, legislation by the General Court being necessary actually to effect the change. The vote was 86-57, after Chairman Davidson of the Park Board had voiced his group's opposition to the increase in number.

GEORGE BURTON COLE

George Burton Cole of 29 Mystic avenue, a resident of Winchester for half a century and former well known Boston clothing salesman, died Sunday night, March 10, at the Winchester Hospital after a short illness.

Mr. Cole was the son of Henry King, and Mary (Packard) Cole. He was born Jan. 13, 1861, in Bridgewater and as a young man engaged in the men's furnishings business in Wareham and Fall River. Later he came to Boston and in 1892, entered the employ of Browning King & Co., clothiers, as a salesman, remaining with that firm 45 years until his retirement in 1937. He was widely known in men's clothing circles, and numbered among his customers many from this town.

Mr. Cole came to Winchester 50 years ago and on Sept. 6, 1894, married Nellie M. Cutting of this town, they being among the first residents of the Mystic avenue-Cutting street section developed by Mrs. Cole's father, the late Alexis Cutting, whose home is now the American Legion Headquarters on Washington street.

Mr. Cole lived all of his married life at 15 Mystic avenue, in one of the houses built by his father-in-law, and after the death of his wife in 1933, he continued to reside at that address until ill health caused him to give up his own home a little more than a year ago. His long residence gave him a wide acquaintance with citizens of the town of all walks in life and he was universally popular with those who knew him. An ardent lover of baseball, he attended as many of the local games as possible and last season attended a number of the better contests played on Leonard Field. He attended the First Congregational Church and during his more active years was a member of the First Congregational Men's Club.

Surviving are two sons, Paul C. Cole of Methuen and Donald P. Cole, a member of the editorial staff of The Fall River Herald News. There are also surviving four grandchildren, Robert C., Frank G., and Sally F. Cole of Methuen, and Donald P. Cole, Jr., of Fall River.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon in the Kelley & Hawes Chapel with Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiating. Idabelle H. Winship, soprano soloist of that church, sang two favorite hymns, "The Old Rugged Cross" and "In the Garden." Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

UNITARIAN CHOIR TO PRESENT "SEVEN LAST WORDS"

"The Seven Last Words of Christ," Theodore Dubois' beautiful Lenten cantata, will be sung by an augmented choir at the Unitarian Church Palm Sunday afternoon, March 17, at 5 o'clock with Lincoln B. Spiess as organist.

Solo roles will be sung by members of the church quartet, Gladys de Almeida, soprano; Virginia Boynton Raymond, contralto; Edgar M. Randle, tenor; and John F. Jenkins, bass. Competent critics have praised the quartet highly for its balance and tonal quality, and in Dubois' fine score its members should find ample opportunity to display their musicianship.

"The Seven Last Words" are in reality the seven last sentences spoken by Christ upon the cross. Dubois' setting for these historic words of the Saviour combines the dramatic with music of great beauty, passages for both soloists and chorus being equally interesting and masterfully written. The beautiful duet of the Second Word, the pathos of the Stabat Mater, the despair of the Fourth Word, the music portraying the storm and the simplicity of the closing prayer have an appeal that is universal and very real.

"The Seven Last Words" have been sung often in Winchester, yet one can hear such repetition and get new inspiration from it. The public is invited to hear Sunday's presentation at the Unitarian Church. The minister, Rev. George Hale Reed, will make the invocation and pronounce the benediction.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

The next meeting of the Board will be held on Tuesday the 19th owing to the town meeting coming on Monday.

The chairman has appointed the following sub-committees of the Board:

Accounts, Elections and Cornorations: Messrs. Litchfield and Heath.

Fire Department: Messrs. Litchfield and Symmes.

Highways: Messrs. Heath, Litchfield and Schneider.

Police and Licenses: Messrs. Cameron, Heath and Litchfield.

State Aid and Soldiers' Relief: Messrs. Schneider and Symmes.

Street Lights: Messrs. Symmes and Schneider.

Town Hall: Messrs. Heath and Symmes.

William H. Rogers, Chief of Police, has been appointed a Constable for the purpose of serving warrants and other town documents.

CALDWELL SCHOOL COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN

At the recent organization meeting of the School Committee Mr. Kenneth F. Caldwell of Bushcliff road was elected chairman for the ensuing year. Mr. Caldwell, a former Finance Committee member, was re-elected to the School Committee upon the expiration of his three year term two years ago. He is currently commencing his third year of service in his second term on the committee.

CERTIFIED FOR BAR

Miss McGonigle High School Graduate

Miss Susan E. McGonigle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McGonigle of Cross street, was among those certified by the Board of Bar Examiners as prospective attorneys entitled to practise in the courts of Massachusetts. One hundred seventy-three of 515 candidates were certified and will be formally admitted to the bar of the Commonwealth on April 17 when they take the oath in the Supreme Court.

Miss McGonigle was graduated from Winchester High School in 1935. She was one of the outstanding students in her class, having been a Mothers' Association scholarship winner, a graduation speaker and a member of the permanent honor roll.

Entering Northeastern College of Law, she was graduated with the class of 1939, serving as treasurer of the university Law Club. For a time after leaving high school she was employed at the Winchester Co-operative Bank and as secretary in the H. I. Fessenden real estate office. For the past two years she has been employed by the Boston law firm of Badger, Pratt, Doyle and Badger.

WINCHESTER AVIATOR INJURED IN CUBA

Lieut. Robert B. Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cox of Myrtle street, was injured Sunday when the United States Marine Corps plane which he was flying with Lieut. Escholm M. Mallory of Orlando, Fla., was damaged in making a landing at Camaguay, Cuba.

Lieutenant Cox, who is a member of the Marine Corps Aviation Reserve, had been for some time on duty at Ponce in Cuba and was on his way back to his home base at Quantico in Virginia when the stop was made at Camaguay, probably to refuel. According to reports of the accident received by his family in Winchester the young man was not seriously injured, but had a narrow escape from death with his fellow aviator when their plane went on fire just before the crash.

Both flyers were rendered unconscious by the accident and had the fire not gone out almost immediately their chances of escape would have been slight.

Lieutenant Mallorys injuries were worse than those of Lieutenant Cox but they are not thought to be serious. Both aviators were taken to the Jackson Memorial Hospital at Miami, Fla., and after treatment there will return to Quantico. Lieutenant Cox expects at that time to come to Winchester for a vacation with his parents.

Lieutenant Cox graduated from Winchester High School in 1931 and from Northeastern University with honors in chemical engineering in 1936. He entered the Marine Corps Aviation Corps for a reserve officer's commission in December 1936 and was commissioned last July.

MRS. DUNNING HONORED

Mrs. Anna M. Dunning was honored at the annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, Thursday, March 14, when she was elected permanent honorary president of that group of women with whom she has been associated for many years. For 12 years Mrs. Dunning was president of the Ladies' Aid and last year she was elected honorary president. This year it was decided to give Mrs. Dunning added honor by voting her to this permanent honorary position. Great enthusiasm marked the election of the new officers. Mrs. Arthur Fay, president; Mrs. William Seaton, vice-president; Mrs. Roger Burgoyne, secretary; Mrs. Edna Johnson, treasurer. Members of the board, Mrs. Frank Herrick, Mrs. Mildred Dodge, Mrs. Leonard Griffiths, Mrs. Norman Hitchcock, Mrs. Andrew Geddes, Mrs. Ralph Hatch.

Appreciation of the generous services of the retiring president, Mrs. William T. Carver, was voiced and she was presented with flowers from her board. Preceding the meeting a delicious luncheon was served by the Housekeeper's Table Group.

PARISH PLAYERS TO PRESENT "THE HOUSEMASTER"

"The Housemaster," an eminently successful drama by Ian Hay, will be presented by the Parish Players of the First Congregational Church of Winchester on the evenings of March 29 and 30 in the Little Theatre Beneath a Spire.

This play was originally produced in Shaftesbury Theatre, London, England, and played to large audiences for 663 performances. It was later most enthusiastically received in New York and has become one of the outstanding plays of recent years. It depicts life in an English public school for boys. It is comedy and comedy at its best, with an underlyin gtheme which is really serious but with a whimsical humor throughout which is irresistably appealing. It is delightfully reminiscent of the well-loved "Good-Bye, Mr. Chips."

"The Housemaster" is produced under the direction of Alan Hay of the Brookline Amateurs. Mr. Hay has directed a number of the many successful productions of the Parish Players among which are The Middle Watch; Bird in Hand, The Roundabout; Outward Bound and Tovarich.

REV. DWIGHT HADLEY AT TUFTS

Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, celebrated Holy Communion for members of the Episcopal Club of Tufts College Wednesday morning at 7:30 o'clock at Crane Chapel in the college theological school.

UNION GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE

Methodist Church, 7:45 P. M.

The annual Good Friday Service of the Protestant Churches of Winchester will be held in Crawford Memorial Methodist Church Friday evening, March 22, at 7:45.

Dr. Chidley will preach on "A Cross Faces East." Ministers of the co-operating churches will have part in the service.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

On Wednesday, March 13 at 1:30 p. m., the Women's Republican Club of Winchester met in Waterfield Hall. Delicious ice cream, cakes and coffee was served by Mrs. Fred Chamberlin and her capable committee, consisting of Mrs. James Wooley, Mrs. Charles Vanner, Mrs. Ralph La Rose, Mrs. T. S. Knight and Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth. Mrs. Walter Chamberlin and Mrs. Paul Bowler poured at the coffee table.

At 2:30 the meeting came to order. After the secretary's and treasurer's reports had been read Mrs. Elisbeth W. Pigeon was introduced and told the club members of the great need to sell in every way republicanism before the elections next November. She then suggested that the club should enroll in a course given by Mrs. George Wyeth on the history of the Constitution. And with the admonition to vote in the primaries on April 30, she closed her talk. It was then moved and seconded that the Women's Republican Club of Winchester should act as hostess at a one day meeting to be held in April for all of the Women's Republican Clubs in Middlesex County, at which time Mrs. Wyeth should speak.

The meeting was then turned over to the education committee under the capable leadership of Mrs. Frances Hatch, who told the audience that she as chairman would lead an investigation of the New Deal. She then brought up on the stage Secretary of Commerce Harry Hopkins represented by Mrs. Philip Woodward; Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, Mrs. Edward Grosvenor; Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Mrs. Robert Keeney; Secetary of War Harry Woodring, Mrs. Ashley Hayden; Secretary of Labor Mme. Perkins, Mrs. S. L. Duffet; Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace, Mrs. Ralph Sparks; and Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Mrs. Errol Horner.

Mrs. Hatch as leader of the investigation uncovered some very amusing and enlightening points. "Mr. Hopkins," "Mr. Ickes" and particularly "Mr. Wallace" drew many laughs from the audience while "Mme. Perkins" retorts were especially humorous. "Mr. Hull" and "Mr. Woodring's" answers presented the audience with many interesting facts and figures and drew applause from the floor, while "Mr. Morgenthau's" remarks about the Republican chance to draw a headache if they tried hard enough next November closed the discussion. The club was most appreciative of Mrs. Hatch's work in putting this excellent program together.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE'S ACTIVITIES

On Thursday evening, March 7, the Young People of the First Baptist Church met at the church where transportation was provided taking them into the roller skating rink at the Boston Institute of Technology. They arrived at the rink where they met Miss Ruth Ormsby, the director, secured skates and immediately began to take part in the fun. Most of the young people are active participants of this sport, thus they enjoyed the evening immensely. After three or more hours of skating during which there were no serious falls or accidents the group reluctantly returned home. The hour was a little later than expected perhaps, but the happy hearted young folk were in time to have the beauty sleep needed for school on Friday.

There was a particularly interesting Youth Service meeting held in the First Baptist Church on Sunday evening, March 10. Prof. Edwin Gedney of Gordon College spoke on, "What it means to be a Christian."

It is the sincere wish of this organization that any of the Winchester young people who, of course, are not attending another group will come this Sunday evening and enjoy a friendly fellowship hour.

EN KA SOCIETY MEETING

One of the largest and most enthusiastic En Ka meetings was held Tuesday, March 12 at 1 o clock at the home of Mrs. Arthur Jackson. The tea committee consisting of Mrs. Alvin Litchfield, Mrs. Frederick Ritchie, Mrs. Arthur Jackson, Mrs. Francis Millett and Mrs. Theodore Chilcott served a delicious luncheon. Mrs. Lucius Smith and Miss Barbara Fernald poured.

Mrs. Charles Woolley, the president presided in her usual charming manner and introduced the chairman of Ways and Means, Mrs. Allan Lindblad, who is the new chairman of the annual En Ka Street Fair which is to be held Saturday, May 18. Mrs. Lindblad announced that she is having an "Artist Fair," and her descriptions of booths, costumes and interesting old French street lamps made us feel that once again En Ka was to give the town an unusual and artistic Street Fair.

Mrs. Harold Richmond, chairman of the Finance Committee announced that her committee had purchased a new linoleum for the kitchen at the Home for the Aged and also has had built for them a much needed linen closet.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT DIRECTS HIS OWN RADIO PROGRAM

Robert "Bob" Elliott, a senior at the Winchester High School, is framing his career early. In an unusual series of after-school programs, given through a public address system, Elliott has acquired an enthusiastic audience which assembles in the school auditorium every week to hear the latest "Radio Guild" program.

It all started when Elliott, who plans to enter radio announcing as a career, was looking for a subject to develop as a means of gaining extra honors in English. He finally decided to adapt various types of fiction into radio scripts, and at the suggestion of Mr. R. M. Keeney, head of the English Department, a trial script was produced for a small audience, with Elliott taking all of the four parts. The result was that the idea was an immediate success.

"Broadcasting" from a make-shift studio, the writer, director, and producer, Elliott, sometimes takes three or four parts at a time, and has added a feminine lead as well as a sound-effects man.

Perhaps we will soon be hearing another Orson Welles in Robert Elliott and his Radio Guild.

"WATCH OUT!"

Some of the town's leading citizens have received letters from parties which Police Chief William H. Rogers states are connected with what is known as the "Spanish Swindle."

The letters are received from parties purporting to be in Spain, sometimes in prison there for debt, and are written to induce recipients to come to Spain with a specified sum of money to be used in securing the release of papers which can be negotiated for a large fortune held in this country.

Routes of travel are given and in cases where gullible parties have done as directed by the letters they have been relieved of the money they took abroad soon after their arrival.

The operators of the "swindle" are not in this country and as they invariably use cables for their communications, they can not be punished under the postal laws.

Every effort is being made to prosecute them, and any who receive letters such as those mentioned above are urged to communicate at once with Chief Rogers.

MISS PEARSON THE SPEAKER

Miss Mary Pearson addressed the Foreign Missionary meeting of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church last Tuesday evening with the subject "Mexican Women and Their Religious Customs." Miss Pearson has been a missionary for 19 years in Mexico and is at the present time at home on a furlough. Her presentation was direct and her information abundant.

She left with her audience a glowing picture of Mexico's religious background and of the contribution new roads have made in the internal life of Mexico.

SUPPER PARTY

Joy Eldredge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Stuart Eldredge of Myrtle terrace, entertained the members of her dancing class at a supper party after their class last Friday evening. Games, dancing and St. Patrick's decoration made the occasion memorable. Guests included Jean Alley, Marjorie Johnston, Jean Crampton, Margaret Parkhurst, Marcia Turners, Patsy Root, Eben Caldwell, Peter Meigs, Billy Cusack, Kenneth Symmes, Ronald Moore, Richard Blackham, and Jimmy Morrison.

RILEY AND COLE WIN AT BADMINTON

The annual mixed doubles tournament of the Winchester Badminton Club was played last Tuesday evening. Dick Riley and Ann Cole won defeating Bill and Nancy Stalker in the finals 15 to 10, 15 to 12. Jimmy Cleaves and Barbara Berry won the consolation tournament.

A men's doubles handicap tournament will be played next Tuesday evening at 7:30 p. m.

HARVEY RALSTON TWELVE

Cub Harvey Ralston celebrated his 12th birthday on Tuesday, March 12, with the help of Den 1, Pack 8. After the formal cub meeting a few exciting games were enjoyed, followed by refreshments which the boys all welcomed with approval. Harvey entered his teens with the good will of all his den and with the wish that he enter into the Scouting program with the same zeal he has shown in cubbing.

METCALF UNION PLAY

In the long history of successful Metcalf Union plays, none can have been much more so than "Mama's Angel Child," the play given by the Union last Saturday evening.

The announcement of the cast given, just before the curtain rose, by Stephen Holmes, treasurer of the Union, was followed by some amusing remarks which put the large and admiring audience into jovial mood.

Edna McCormack, in her dual role of child and young lady, Daphne Charmer by name, showed marked ability. Emmons Ellis, as the elderly "gay lothario," was exceptionally good, as usual. Frances Keyes, the privileged cook was very clever and amusing. Sam Keyes as the very correct butler, brought down the house each time he appeared. Alice Twombly, the very attractive young widow, Mrs. Charmer had her hands full, managing her spoiled brat, and her love affair, but she was equal to the task. Her smart costumes, by the way were really furnished through the courtesy of Filene's new Winchester shop. Bill Flewelling played the part of Dick Armstrong with the ease and naturalness of an experienced actor. Ruth Elliott deserves special credit for taking the thankless part of the grouchy and much disliked governess. Polly Kimball was the prompter and was very efficient. Mr. A. Russell Ellis was coach and director and accomplished his results with unfailing cheerfulness and geniality. Mr. Geo. Hayden, Jr., was on hand as always, ready with helpful suggestions almost to capacity and after the play, a large crowd of young people enjoyed dancing to music by the Gold Coast Orchestra.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Brownie Troop 6 under the leadership of Mrs. Bailey held a flower show on Monday afternoon, March 4. They exhibited plants in flower which they had grown from bulbs; and paper tulips and jonquils which the girls had made, and these formed a jolly springlike background for the other plants.

Refreshments of a grapejuice punch and delicious cookies were served by the Brownies and each guest received the most solicitous attention.

First prize for the best flower growing from a bulb was awarded to Sally Vincent. The prizes for the best paper jonquils went to Janet Ober and Carolyn Zinn. The prize for the best paper tulip was won by Louise Knight. And the prize for the best scrap book went to Martha Bailey.

The monthly meeting of the Girl Scout Council was held last Wednesday at the Library.

Why I Like to Go to the Girl Scout Day Camp

The main reason why I liked going up to the Girl Scout Cabin was because of the enjoyable companionship of Miss Gregg, the director. She always acted like one of the girls, was lots of fun, and left no one out.

While I was at the cabin I participated in a dramatization called "Hansel and Gretel," and since then I have been interested in dramatics. The success of this activity was due largely to the coaching of Mrs. Newton. I especially enjoyed this work.

I enjoyed also nature-craft under the direction of Mrs. Stillman. We made candle sticks, curtain pulls, place cards, and pine needle vases.

I hope to go to the Girl Scout Day Camp this coming summer.

FRANK ROGER MacNEILL

Frank Roger MacNeill of 333 Washington street, a life-long resirent and one of Winchester's older citizens, died early Monday morning, March 11, at the Winchester Hospital after a three weeks' illness following a shock. He was 85 years old.

Mr. MacNeill was the son of Roger and Elizabeth (Mellen) MacNeill. He was born in Winchester, received his education in the public schools and was throughout his lifetime a gardener, caring for some of the town's finest estates.

He was well and favorably known, having a wide circle of friends. He was one of the town's oldest voters, having registered in October 1880 and voting continuously from that time until this past town election when illness prevented his going to the polls.

Mr. MacNeill was a member of Winchester Lodge, 1445, B. P. O. E.; of St. Mary's Church and of St. Mary's Holy Name Society. On Oct. 16, 1890, he married Margaret Leonard, who died Feb. 12, 1927. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Harry Ferullo and Miss Dorothy MacNeill of this town, and three sons, Roger of Bridgewater; Henry of Stoneham; and A. Leonard MacNeill of Winchester.

The Elks' funeral ritual was exemplified at the late residence Tuesday evening by the officers of Winchester Lodge led by Exalted Ruler John J. Doherty.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning with solemn requiem high mass celebrated in St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

MRS. FLORENCE MORTON CURRIER

Mrs. Florence Morton Currier, widow of Prof. Charles Francis Adams Currier and a former resident of Winchester for many years, died Sunday, March 10, at her home in Arlington. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Bigelow Chapel in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge. Cremation followed the services, and the ashes will be interred in Wildwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Currier was the daughter of Charles B., and Sarah Ann (Pray) Morton. She was born in Somerville May 29, 1860, and before her marriage taught in the Somerville schools. She came to Winchester after her marriage and made her home at 1 Webster street for 30 years, her husband, who was professor of history at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, serving for many years as a member of the Winchester School Committee.

Professor Currier died Sept. 7, 1913, and 10 years later his widow left Winchester. She had latterly made her home in Arlington and was a member of the Orthodox Congregational Church in that town.

She leaves a son, Prof. Francis Morton Currier of Arlington, professor of German at M. I. T., and a brother, George Morton of Lowell.

MRS. IDA C. COSGROVE

Mrs. Ida C. Cosgrove, widow of Charles H. Cosgrove and a former resident of Winchester, died Monday morning, March 11, at her home, 34 Lowell street, Woburn.

Mrs. Cosgrove, a native of Prince Edward Island, came to the United States as a young woman, and for some years made her home in Winchester on Oak street. She had been a resident of Woburn for more than 30 years.

Surviving are two sons, William of Somersworth, N. H., and Charles of Woburn; three daughters, Mrs. Lindsay Ayer, Mrs. Herman Johnson, both of Woburn; and Mrs. Margaret McCormick of Brookline; and a sister, Mrs. Maude Cormier of Dorchester.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning with solemn requiem high mass in St. Charles Church, Woburn. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

LIONS CLUB NOTES

The meeting of Thursday, March 7, was very well attended (thanks to the "Prodigal") and the offerings of the evening were most enthusiastically received.

Prodigal Lion Coakley was appointed chairman of the popular convention committee. This was greeted with a great round of applause, not only by the club as a whole, but by Lion Jack as well. Now just what do they have in Havana that appeals so much?

Our two guest speakers of the evening, Rep. George Roberts and our own Rep. Eben Ramsdell, gave a most interesting discourse on some facts pertaining to the so-called "dog racing racket" in Mass.

Their disclosures about who and what is behind all this racing controversy, gave their listeners an insight into what a problem confronts our Legislators, when they attempt to enforce or enact laws to protect the Commonwealth against the inroads of crookedness.

The statement, so often heard, that when the Lions clubs start out to do something, they do it and do it well, is born out amazingly in the fact that during the month of January, as a result of the "Melvin Jones" drive for a larger membership, there were enrolled, 12,483 new members in the many Lions Clubs thoughout the world.

Success such as this is added proof that Lions are men of action and accomplishment, and when a Lion or a Lions Club sets out to do a job, it can be considered done, and done well.

When all the clubs in the association unite to put over an activity, the Lions roar of success can be heard around the world, and this roar was loud and long when the Founders program came to a close on January 31, 1940.

GEORGE WASHINGTON HIGHLAND CHAPTER

The March meeting of the Chapter was held on Tuesday afternoon in the assembly hall of the George Washington School. Mrs. Lyman Smith, president, presided over a short business meeting and then introduced Mrs. Constance Whitcomb, teacher of piano from Melrose who presented a delightful program of piano music.

Dr. Edward A. Lincoln, consulting psychologist for the Winchester schools was the speaker of the afternoon. Following his talk there was an interesting discussion and question period.

Mrs. Frederick Ives, Jr., and her social committee served a delicious tea at the close of the meeting.

Tuesday morning's alarm from Box 42 was for a fire at the Beggs & Cobb leather company plant on Swanton street. Sparks from a buffing machine set waste afire in the blower pipe in the upper shop. Only slight damage was done.

Miss Ruth Loftus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aruthr W. Loftus of Meadoweroft road, is cast in one of the principal roles in "The Belle of Bagdad," the sixth annual operetta being given this evening at the Elizabeth Peabody House in Boston by the Glee Club of the Boston University School of Education.

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

The Evening Study Group will devote its next meeting to the subject of modern music as one of the significant phases of American life today. "Music—Swing versus Sibelius," will be discussed from various angles by Mr. Donald Kitchin et fils, Mr. and Mrs. Jameson S. Slocum and Mrs. Robert A. Drake. The meeting will be held on Monday, March 18, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Fulton, 10 Dix street. Coffee will be served at 7:30 p. m.

The History Study Group will meet on Monday, March 18, at 9:30 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Arthur E. Gates, 237 Highland avenue.

The Architecture Group, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert Cummins will meet in the library on Friday, March 22 at 10 a. m. to take up the subject of "Churches." Slides will be shown of famous examples of the 17th and 18th centuries, such as the Old North Church, King's Chapel, Christ Church in Cambridge, etc.; Mission churches of the Southwest, the English influence in Virginia and the Dutch in Pennsylvania. Mrs. F. E. Abbe will give an account of the life and works of Bulfinch.

The annual meeting of the College Club will be held at 3 p. m. on Friday, March 29, the place of meeting to be announced later.

"ART" JOHNSON GOING WELL WITH BEES

News from the Boston Bees training camp at Bradenton, Fla., would lead one to believe that Winchester's "Artie" Johnson, former high school and Millionaires' left handed pitcher, is doing well in the spring workouts of the National League club.

"Art" has worked in several of the intra-club games and last Sunday pitching against the regulars, went three scoreless innings, allowing but a single scratch hit.

Several of the scribes have referred to Johnson as "stylish," meaning that his delivery and general actions on the mound are smooth and pretty to watch. While he has not had the publicity some of the other rookie pitchers have received, visitors to the Bees' camp report that the management thinks well of the local boy and believes he has what it takes.

COLLEGE GIRLS IN NEW YORK

Miss Helen Murray daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Murray of 10 Crescent road, was one of 15 Wells College students who spent the week-end of March 10 in New York City on a field trip in sociology and economics. Saturday the group visited city and federal housing projects and attended a matinee of "Pins and Needles." On Sunday social agencies dealing with Negro and alien groups were visited in connection with a course in American life. The group divided Monday, girls majoring in sociology going to the Women's House of Detention to study modern prison conditions and attend a lecture on the supervision given to released prisoners. Students whose primary interest is economics spent the morning at the Stock Exchange, Federal Reserve Bank and Clearing House. The group met in the afternoon to tour a large industrial plant before returning to college.

Miss Murray will leave Aurora on March 22 for a 10 day Easter holiday.

Mr. Bernard Cullen, a former Winchester boy and brother of M. Edward Cullen, popular clerk at the Winchester News Company, was on Tuesday re-elected treasurer of the Town of Hamilton.

DR. KOHN TO LECTURE AT HIGH SCHOOL

Ushers for the lecture by Dr. Hans Kohn of Smith College to be given tonight at 8:30, in the high school auditorium will be Messrs. Neil H. Borden, John D. Cecil, Clark W. Collins, Roger Flynn, Willard Grush, Robert Jennings, Warren A. Maynard, Geoffrey C. Neiley, Richard Parkhurst and Royce H. Randlett. Dr. Kohn is professor of modern European history and imperialism at Smith College. His will be the final talk in the series sponsored by the Smith College Club for the benefit of its scholarship fund. Mrs. James R. Doty, president of the club, will introduce the speaker. Chairman of the committee for the lecture is Mrs. Geoffrey C. Neiley.

Several dinner parties will precede the lecture. Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence P. Whorf will join with Mr. and Mrs. Harold V. Farnsworth in entertaining Dr. Kohn at the Farnsworth home. Their guests will be Miss Jean Farnsworth, Miss Alice Lyman, Miss Janet Spencer and Miss Betty Whorf, who are students and former students of Dr. Kohn at Smith College; Mr. and Mrs. Webster Whorf, Mr. Oliver Andrews and Mr. Percy Goodale, Jr.

Dining with Mr. and Mrs. Harrison F. Lyman will be Dean Athur B. Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Chase, Dr. and Mrs. Nathaniel W. Faxon, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Metcalf Melcher and Miss Mabel Colgate.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren A. Maynard will have as dinner guests Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Burleigh and Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Simonds. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert H. Tapley will have as their guests Mrs. Ernest French, Mr. Charles Tapley and Mr. and Mrs. John D. West. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Tibbetts will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dover, and Mr. and Mrs. Prescott Wild will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Chapman.

TO SHOW WORK OF LOCAL ARTISTS

The Winchester Art Association has announced that its annual exhibition of local talent will be held in the Library Art Gallery during April, opening April 2.

This event on the Association's calendar is always eagerly awaited, and because of the number of entries received last year it has been necessary to impose certain restrictions on this year's show.

Entries will be received at the Library only on Wednesday, March 27, during the regular library hours, 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Non-members of the Art Association must pay an entry fee of $1.00, which must accompany the entry and which will not entitle the entrant to membership in the association. Oils must be framed and water colors mounted. Sculpture, ceramics and other forms of art can not be accepted because of the limitations of the gallery. All entries are at the owner's risk, though every precaution possible will be taken to ensure their safety.

Entries will not be received from those under 18 years of age, only two entries will be accepted from any exhibitor and not more than one entry from an exhibitor will be hung, perhaps not even one. The judges alone will be responsible for the choice of pictures.

MR. JOHN G. CLARK TO PREACH

Mr. John G. Clark, formerly assistant minister to Dr. Chidley at the First Congregational Church, and now chaplain at the State Infirmary at Tewksbury is to conduct the Sunday morning service at the Second Congregational Church as a candidate for the vacant pastorate.

Mr. Clark is a graduate of Mercer University, Georgia 1935 and of Andover-Newton Theological School where he received his B. D. degree in 1938.

During his two year association in Winchester he made a wide circle of friends, especially among the young people whose activities were under his direction and it is with pleasant anticipation that we welcome him on Sunday.

Why lug the Drum when you can twirl the Baton?

Above is the Buick SPECIAL 4-door touring sedan $896*

YOU never yet saw a band come down the street without someone out in front setting the tempo, while someone back in the crowd obediently thumped in time.

So you'll get what we mean when we ask, why drive a car that's along just for the march—when you can pilot a Buick and show the others the way?

Maybe someday the others will have engines like velvet because they're electrically balanced after assembly; but Buick has them now.

Maybe tomorrow they will have coil springs all around that never need greasing—but Buick has them today.

Maybe sometime you'll get the front-hinged doors, five-foot front seat room and Foamtex cushions of the SUPER—maybe you'll get direction signals with automatic cut-off as standard equipment—but you can get those on the Buick you buy this year.

Maybe someday you'll get a car as long as Buick for the money, or with a frame as heavy without paying more.

But why take a chance on those maybes when this honey's here, ready for you to take over right now?

So drop in on your Buick dealer. Drop in to talk facts and figures, or drop in to see what next year's cars will try to look like.

But drop in! Soon!

Prices Begin at $895 for Business Coupe—Sedan prices start at $955—

*delivered at Flint, Mich. Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

OPERA BOOK AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Last week the newspapers announced the public sale of opera tickets, meaning that in a few weeks the Metropolitan opera season opens and already ticket-holders and radio listeners are calling for stories of the operas, librettos, and music of the best known operatic selections.

The Winchester Public Library has quite a number of these for your use. The librettos, which have a short sketch of the plot, complete dialogue, and some music, are in the frail but generally adequate paper editions, welcome gifts to the library from Winchester opera goers. Among the most popular ones are "William Tell" and "The Barber of Seville" by Rossini, "Aida," "La Traviata," "Rigoletto," "Il Trovatore" by Verdi, "Marriage, of Figaro" by Mozart, "Carmen" by Bizet, "Faust" by Gounod, and Wagner's "The Flying Dutchman," "Tannhauser," Lohengrin," and "Twilight of the Gods."

Many books, the old as well as the new, are devoted to the opera stories and their composers. Lawrence Gilman in his book, "Wagner's Operas" records incidents in Wagner's life that suggested and influenced the writing of his opera, comments on the stories and gives the comparative merits of each

An old but very well prepared volume is George P. Upton's handbook "The Standard Opera." Including 70 operas from which the season's repertoire is most likely to be chosen, it has five or six page summaries of each plot, with music principal motives and settings.

Ernest Newman's big book entitled "Stories of the Great Operas" can be heartily recommended as a reliable volume to have on your family book shelf. This is as timely now as in 1928 when it was first published, and will, in all probability, be considered just as readable and informative by the next generation. It has all of Wagner's operas, several by Puccini, Verdi, Rossini, Mozart, Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman" and Humperdincks' "Hansel and Gretel." The detailed story of each opera is related, together with a very fine descriptive analysis of the music. Each motive is named and given in music form so it can be played, learned, and intelligently recognized when the reader finally finds himself in his opera box.

Henry Edward Krehbiel's "A Book of Operas" by Grabbe and Nordhoff. More generally used is Gladys Davidson's "Two Hundred Opera Plots" which devotes its pages, as its title implies, to plot only. An old book, published in 1911, this is still one of the best of its kind, for such material does not become antiquated and will be of value as long as opera itself remains unchanged.

Published in 1939, "Master Builders of Opera" by George C. Jeff is a collection of biographical sketches of all well known opera composers in the past 200 years. As it is arranged chronologically and has a dependable text, it may also be used as a history of the opera.

A translation by Margaret Armour of all four parts of "The Ring of the Niblung" appears in two volumes. There is no music, the text being written as an epic poem with roles and action indicated. These are new editions and are attractively illustrated by Arthur Roekham.

The "Authentic Lebrettos of the Italian Operas" and the "Authentic Librettos of the French and German Opera" are two new books with both foreign and English text and the music of the principal airs.

The Winchester Public Library will be pleased to reserve any of this material for Winchester readers if it is not immediatelv available.

SUCCESSFUL DONATION DAY FOR THRIFT SHOP

While the cold March winds blew about Winchester on Tuesday, the social hall of the First Baptist Church was thronged with early risers eager to join their friends amidst the background of flowers and partake of the steaming coffee and delieious cheese biscuits and doughnuts daintily served by Mrs. Lester Pratt and her committee.

The annual donation day and fashion show for the Winchester Thrift Shop was a most successful event. The social hall was crowded with enthusiastic friends of the shop and the donations received were the finest in quality, largest in number and received in the cleanest condition ever known.

The fashion show by Filene's, under the direction of Miss Hazel Berry was indeed timely. Fashions for every occasion were paraded. Silhouettes for the different types of figures included fitted and flared styles with colors ranging from the brilliant reds to the soft pastels so easy for the mature woman to wear.

Much credit is given to the general chairman, Mrs. Charles A. Burnham, whose broad vision and eeaceless activity makes the Thrift Shop continue to grow, to the splendid co-operation of the president of the League, Mrs. Martin Swanson and to all the ladies of the church whose continued loyalty and support make the Winchester Thrift Shop a reality.

TOWN MEETING OPENING SESSION HELD

The only article under which occurred anything approaching a debate was Article 17 dealing with the proposed purchase of land for a west side playground.

Mr. Davidson championed the lot at the rear of the Conservatories as the best available. Mr. McCarthy believed the land was not accurately described either in the warrant or on the chart shown by Mr. Davidson. Mr. Russell felt not a little glass would be broken in the greenhouses and also wondered if considerable alterations would not have to be made to the property to fit it for use as a playground.

Dr. Blaisdell moved the motion to purchase be laid on the table until the next meeting when the Park Board should be able more accurately to describe the land and what would be necessary to fit it for playground use. This motion was carried, but later in the meeting Mr. Worthen moved to take the article from the table and spoke in favor of the proposed purchase, feeling a playground on the west side to be a necessity and having confidence that the Park Board and Planning Board had chosen the best available spot. Mr. Reynolds concurred.

Dr. Blaisdell explained that he was not opposed to a west side playground, but felt that insufficient information upon the proposed site was at that time available. He felt that a mistake had been made in locating the town's newest playground on Shore road and reminded the meeting of the result of haste in placing the Symmes Park water tower.

The question was raised as to the fate of Article 17 should the meeting finish the warrant at one session with that article on the table. Moderator Wilkins ruled that the article would then be dead until the next meeting, a year hence.

At this point Mr. Farnsworth moved to adjourn, and though there was some objection the motion prevailed.

Mr. Wilkins was given an ovation when he mounted the moderators' rostrum and swung his gavel to call the meeting to order.

SNOWFLAKE GARDENS EXHIBIT

The annual Spring Flower Show of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society which closes tomorrow, March 16, has an exhibit of interest to Winchester people. Mr. Alexander Irving Heimlich of the Snowflake Gardens, is presenting a ledge garden from a gentleman's estate, a more cultivated type than he has shown previously. Azaleas and rhododendron are the most beautiful of his evergreen shrubs which are at the peek of their blossoming, while a pleasing profusion of flowering plants is ingeniously placed so that their beauty may be admired from all angles.

Alpines from the lofty crags in Switzerland, uncommon species from the Himalayas and rock garden plants gathered in unfrequented spots in South America nestle beside New Hampshire plants of distinction and rarity. These have been taken from their own gravelly soil in their native state, the soil has been changed from acid to alkali, and under new soil conditions, the plants have been cultivated for use this week.

Mr. Heimlich's success in his exhibition work is noteworthy. His spring flower show exhibit of 1935 was a replica of an old mill and a paddle-wheel which is an original. This he used last month at the Sportsman's Show in New York, where it attracted so much favorable attention that it is now to be used once again in the New York World's Fair of 1940 as a part of the Gardens on Parade. As Mr. Heimlich was unable to devote the required time to the designing of the garden for his will, Mr. Kottmiller, Manhattan's most famous garden designer was secured to do this.

This year's exhibit in Boston includes a tulip garden and a showing of snapdragins of oil shades and colors, but his ledge garden which is planned and designed for this show will be his unique contribution to the enjoyment of beauty pickers who annually make a pilgrimage to the Spring Flower Show.

JOHN HANCOCK MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

President Guy W. Cox, in his annual report to the policyholders of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company of Boston, this week announced at the Company's annual meeting that increase in insurance in force for 1939, which was more than double the increase for the previous year, amounted to $175,121,057. This brought the total insurance in force to the sum of $4,350,678,255, the highest amount in the Company's history.

Payments to policyholders in 1939 amounted to $95,678,234, or $317,863 per business day.

Dividends for 1940 will continue at the rate adopted in 1937 and maintained through 1938 and 1939. The amount set aside for this purpose is $20,643,391, an increase of $1,076,119 over 1939.

"In view of the general fall in the interest rate on safe investments," remarked President Cox, "this announcement must afford our policyholders some measure of satisfaction."

A gain of 6.65 per cent was shown in admitted assets, which amounted at the close of 1939 to $981,719,965.

Assigned liabilities amounted to $893,758,628, of which $806,638,843 constitutes the legal policy reserve. Surplus resources, which include a contingency reserve of 25 million dollars, amount to $87,961,337, which is 9.84 per cent of liabilities.

The mortality experience was again favorable for all classes of business and was lower than it ever has been before. There was a marked decrease in suicides.

"The Company ends the year," concluded President Cox, "with a highly commendable increase in business in force, in assets and in surplus strength. This record indieates the continued confidence of the public in our services and its belief that life insurance is an indispensable basis for individual and family thrift, progress and security."

TEN YEARS IN WINCHESTER

On Tuesday, March 12, Mr. Morris Snyder, proprietor of McLaughlin's Shoe Store on Thompson street, observed the 10th anniversary of his entering business in Winchester. McLaughlin's Shoe Store is of course one of the town's old line business establishments, having been carried on prior to Mr. Snyder's ownership by the late Mr. James H. McLaughlin.

Mr. Snyder purchased the business from Mr. McLaughlin and actually took over the management on March 12, 1930. The business has prospered and in honor of its 10th birthday its owner has installed new streamlined white and blue chairs and rugs for the greater comfort and convenience of patrons.

"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, Sunday, March 17, 1940.

The Golden Text is: "Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come" (Revelation 4:8).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "By the word of the Lord were the heavens made and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth. . . . Let all the earth fear the Lord: let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him. For he spake, and it was done; he commanded, and it stood fast" (Psalms 33: 6, 8, 9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. Truth, Life, and Love are substance, as the Scriptures use this word in Hebrews: 'The substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen'" (p. 468).

W. C. T. U. NOTES

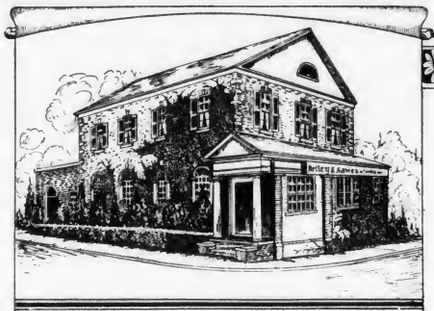

An article in the "Union Signal" dated Jan. 27, 1940, contains a warning for all those who are interested in the future of the United States, and who of us is there who is not?

"The publication of liquor advertisements in newspapers and magazines where they cannot well be ignored by young or old, the radio broadcasting of appeals in the interest of beer and other intoxicants, subjecting millions of women and children to alcoholic beverage salesmanship, and the display of intoxicants among necessities and harmless luxuries in stores frequented by multitudes of women and children all represent a fraud on those who trusted the Government to protect the people instead of promoting liquor by the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

One thing is certain:

We cannot continue to pour nearly 2,000,000,000 gallons of alcoholic drink every year into the veins of our democracy and expect it to retain the vigor and efficiency so vitally needed in these critical times.

AMERICAN RED CROSS WAR RELIEF IN EUROPE

Winchester Chapter Appeals for Money to Buy Materials

Bulletins from National Headquarters in Washington state that the European conflict is destined to go down in history as a war that has brought more suffering to civilian populations than to the soldiers at the front. Out of the five nations at war, Finland is the one exception; she is engaged in a conflict which definitely follows the old pattern.

Although there has been little action on the western front, it has not lessened the disorganization of national life in France and Great Britain. Mass evacuation of populations from congested areas, because of the threat of aerial warfare, has caused distress, especially to the children and the aged. Trade facilities have been reduced by warfare on the seas. Thousands of men have been taken away from commodity-producing jobs, resulting in a severe shortage of everyday essentials.

The American Red Cross has spent more than a million dollars to date on war relief, for Finland, German-occupied Poland, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Romania, England, and France. In addition 1,750,000 surgical dressings and 225,000 articles of clothing have been financed and produced by chapter volunteers throughout the United States. More than 2,000,000 volunteer hours have been given by Red Cross chapter volunteers in the United States.

The Winchester Red Cross Chapter and its volunteers have sent two large shipments of garments and sweaters to Europe. At this time the money allocated by the chapter for war relief is exhausted, and we need money to buy materials and yarn. If there is any organization or person who can assist by contributing any amount for the purchase of materials it will be greatly appreciated by the Winchester Red Cross Chapter.

We have a large group of volunteer workers who are willing to give their hours for service, won't you help financially. There is still an urgent need for warm clothing. In all countries this has been a very hard, cold winter, and in areas where people have been evacuated to safety zones, there is a great need for these destitute people.

Kindly send contributions to Mr. William E. Priest, Treasurer, c/o Winchester Savings Bank.

WINCHESTER JUNIOR FLORENCE CRITTENTON DINNER

Plans are progressing rapidly for the dinner dance to be given under the auspices of the Winchester Junior Circle of the Florence Crittenton League.

This party will be held at the ever popular Seiler's Ten Acres in Wayland on April 11.

Many parties have already been planned before the dance.

Heading the committee appointed by Mrs. Richard Harlow, the Circle's president, is Mrs. John L. Coon, Jr. and Miss Francis Pierce. Mrs. Robert H. Smith heads the reception committee. Mrs. Chas. M. Vanner is in charge of publicity. Chairman of the subscription to be taken at the dance is Mrs. Everett P. Stone and Miss Betty Cooper heads the flower vendors.

Invitations may be had from any circle member.

A LITTLE MONEY CAN DO A big JOB

Sometimes even a small amount of money received at a critical time can be very important. That's why far-sighted husbands and fathers find a John Hancock Readjustment Income Plan tailored to their families' needs.

This plan is especially designed to provide income to cover essential family expenses during the readjustment period following the death of the breadwinner. By keeping the family financially secure, it gives them time to prepare for the future.

Our booklet, "Two Lives," shows how a typical family in moderate circumstances is solving an important problem with a John Hancock Readjustment Income Plan. Write for your copy.

With the coming of spring, many Winchester people are becoming more and more home-conscious—colorful slip covers—styled furniture pieces, among other things—and so it was for these people that the Winchester-owned Hill-Welch Company of Lynn was dedicated in 1890. Upon entering wide Colonial Open-Pediment main doorway, one is immediately impressed with the superb interior Colonial Architecture. A pair of winding stairways in traditional manner, leading to the Mezzenine Interior Decoration Shoppes. The assortment of fine furniture is superb, and six large floors of displays insure the second largest selection in New England.

Young brides (and not so young brides of Yesteryear) revel in the five completely decorated Hill-Welch Model homes (Whitney Maple House, Budget Home, Strathmore House, Home-Planner's bungalow, and the Modern Windowed House) and each is tastefully furnished in riotous colors complete to the tiniest detail.

Hill-Welch, being New England's exclusive member (by invitation) of the "Grand Rapids Furniture Maker's Guild" assures one a complete selection of really treasured types of furniture for the entire home—from knick-nacks to pianos.

Mr. Fred W. Aseltine, of 7 Cabot Street, President of Hill-Welch, cordially invites all to inspect the beautiful Colonial Hill-Welch store, one may really obtain so many ideas of home-decorating that have made Hill-Welch Company of Lynn famous down Boston's North Shore.

MALDEN STRAND THEATRE

"Winter Carnival," with Ann Sheridan and Richard Carlson, will open at the Strand Theatre in Malden today. The story is unfolded against the lveld background of the great outdoors in its winter setting. It shows the thrilling winter sports on Dartmouth's snow-bound hills. The supporting cast includes Helen Parrish, Marsha Hunt, Alan Baldwin and Robert Allen.

"The Gentleman From Arizona," filmed in Cinecolor, with J. Farrell MacDonald, Joan Barclay, John King, Craig Reynolds and Nora Lane as the players, will be the second attraction on the bill starting today.

GRANADA THEATRE

Nelson Eddy and Ilona Massey in "Balalaika," plus "The Earl of Chicago," starring Robert Montgomery, will make up the double feature opening at the Granada Theatre in Malden today. In "Balalaika," Nelson Eddy has the most interesting picture of his career.

"The Earl of Chicago," presents Robert Montgomery as Silkey Kilmount, modern Chicago gangster. The film starts out as a straight gangster picture, revealing the "insides" of modern liquor rackets. Silkey becomes a British peer through inheritance.

"GONE WITH THE WIND" AT PRINCESS THEATRE

The Princess Theatre in Wakefield has been selected in this vicinity to show the outstanding motion picture drama, "Gone With the Wind," that gripping story of the Civil War south that has been crowding theatres and causing so much comment wherever shown.

The Princess Theatre production will be exactly as shown in the famed Atlanta premiere, and as the production will not be shown anywhere, except at advanced prices, no one should hesitate longer to see this "must" of the current cinema season.

"Gone With the Wind" opens at the Princess Easter Sunday, March 24 continuing for one week. See advertisement elsewhere in this issue for additional information.

EIGHTH ANNUAL HIGH SCHOOL VAUDEVILLE SHOW

Cast of Over 100 in Popular Favorites and Many New Numbers

On Friday afternoon and evening, March 29, at the Winchester High School auditorium, the Annual Vaudeville Show takes the spot light. The general planning committee, consisting of Ray Hayward, George Lauer, Debrah Fenton, and David Schneider, ably supported by the various committees necessary for such a production, are promising an afternoon and evening of stellar entertainment for the people of Winchester.

The afternoon performance is arranged primarily for the enjoyment of grade school children, although high school students and adults who are unable to attend the evening performance will be admitted in the afternoon, if they can find a seat. The price for grade children is 15 cents, for all others 25 cents.

Attractive hand-made art posters and an unique window display down town have already aroused interest in the show and those who have witnessed any of the previous seven productions need not be reminded that they are in store for two hours and a half of excellent entertainment. Tickets are on sale at the high school and at MacCormack's Drug Store. Information as to dates for exchanging tickets is available at both places.

Among the high lights of the current production might be mentioned two characteristically excellent dance numbers coached by Mrs. John T. Phelps. On the program they are listed as the "Blue Bird Ballet" and "Sail Ho!" Among the sure-fire tap numbers will be Marie Cucolo, Brock Lynch, John Grady, and Ruth Horn. Yvonne Clennon, a talented freshman girl, will present a charming dance number.

Looking again at the program one discovers such mystifying titles as "Nut Crackers," "Censored," "Ballet Who," "Tanglefoot Himself," "Snake-Eye," "a la Marquis de Queensbury."

Those who enjoy tumbling acts will be offered two different attractions this year entitled "Floating Power" and "Small Fry."

But there are other numbers on the program which are designed to add color and variety to the show. If the members of the general planning committee are to be believed, this production will be the best yet. During the intermission between the halves of the show candy will be on sale under the auspices of a group of attractive young maidens whom it will be difficult to refuse.

One of the interesting features of this annual vaudeville production is one that seldom is appreciated at its full value. That feature is the great number of students of the school who faithfully and unselfishly devote much of their spare time in carrying out the work done by the many committees back stage and out of sight of the public.

With over 100 members in the stage cast, there are as many more busy on various committees preparing for the most successful production in the eight years of the history of the project. The returns from the production are added to the treasury of the Athletic Association and help to make it possible for the association to carry out such worthwhile projects as publishing the School Hand Book.

An attractive program is being prepared by the program committee, containing the list of acts with the names of all the members of each act and appropriate pen and ink sketches illustrating each of the numbers. The cover design for this program was selected from those offered by students in a recent contest. The artist for the cover chosen was Robert Elliot of the senior class. In previous years it has developed that the lights in the auditorium have been constantly dimmed so that the programs were difficult to read. This year arrangements are being made for lighting so that every two or three acts the lights will enable the audience to use their programs.

All seats for the production are reserved, with no standing room available. Exchange tickets should be secured as early as possible. Price for adults is 75 cents, for high school students and others 50 cents for the evening performance. Remember the date: Friday afternoon and evening, March 29.

PRATT TUFTS CLUB TREASURER

Kenneth M. Pratt of Wildwood street was elected treasurer of the Mystic Valley Tufts Club at the annual meeting of the organization held last Friday. Mr. Pratt was graduated from Tufts with the class of 1915 and has been very active in the graduate dramatic activities of the college.

Other officers of the club include Clarence A. Roberts of Medford, president; Harriet Burke of Somerville, vice president; Ruth Miller of Medford, secretary; and Prof. Titus E. Mergandahl, Ethel Hayes, both of Somerville, Harry O'Brien, Trueman G. Morrison, both of Medford and Olive MacPheson of Somerville, executive committee.

Graduates of Tufts College living in Medford, Arlington, Somerville, Malden, Everett and Winchester are eligible for membership.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Frederick Murray O'Neil of 83 Pleasant street, Woburn, and Grace Doris Boyle of 995 Main street.

DR. MARY TAYLOR MAYNARD

Dr. Mary Taylor Maynard, wife of Dr. Herbert E. Maynard, died Wednesday morning, March 20, at her home, 80 Church street, after a long illness. Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Ralph Dexter Larson of this town, and a brother John Taylor of Alexandria Bay, N. Y. Cremation at Mt. Auburn will follow private funeral services this afternoon, at which Rev. George Hale Reed, minister of the Unitarian Church, will officiate.

Dr. Maynard was born 65 years ago at Alexandria Bay, N. Y., the daughter of George and Elizabeth (Peck) Taylor. She was a graduate of Cortland Normal School and of Boston University School of Medicine, from where she received her M. D. Degree.

She was married in Boston Feb. 2, 1907, and came to Winchester immediately afterward, becoming through her interest and ability a leader in many civic organizations including the Unitarian Alliance, Visiting Nurse Association, Red Cross, Women's Fortnightly Club as president, organized and was the first president of the Winchester Florence Crittenton League and was from its inception until her death a member of the Winchester Horse Show Committee. She was recognized as an authority on parliamentary law and served as parliamentarian for many years at D. A. R. Conventions.

Dr. Maynard bore with great fortitude a long continued affliction and, though realizing from the first the nature of her illness, refused to inflict her troubles on her friends. To them she was always cheerful, confidently looking forward to some future event, rejoicing in their joys and comforting their sorrows.

She had a keen, active mind, was well informed on current events, positive in her views, but tolerant with those who held different opinions. Efficient in all she undertoook, few have accomplished what she did to advance civic activities.

Her loyal friendship will be missed by many who will long cherish her memory.

"Let her own works praise her in the gates."

WINCHESTER MAN HONORED

Dr. Charles H. Tozier of this town had the pleasure of being invited to a reception given in his honor at the Pan American Union in Washington, D. C., last Saturday evening, by the Brazilian Ambassador.

At the reception the doctor was presented to the Ambassadors and delegates of the 21 republics that form the Union. This being the first meeting of the 50th anniversary of the foundation of the Union of the Republics of Central and South America.

The large hall of the beautiful Pan American Union was filled with about 1000 members and promptly at 9 p. m. the doctor began his illustrated lecture on "Brazil, the Friend of the United States, A Country You Should Know and Visit.."

The lecture and pictures in natural color were exceptionally well received and invitations were extended to the doctor by the ambassadors present to visit their country, and all possible help would be given to him to obtain a set of pictures to show before the Union at various meetings in the future.

"The Land of the Aztecs in Mexico" and "The Land of the Incas of Peru" will be the next two lectures offered.

TO RESURFACE MANCHESTER FIELD

Park Commissioner George T. Davidson informed the Star during the town meeting that the Park Board expects to have a WPA project approved providing funds to recondition and resurface Manchester Field.

If the funds are forthcoming, work will commence this spring and the field will not be available for use for about a year, as the new surface will be given a chance to set and the grass to get a good start before play is permitted.

The surface of Manchester Field has been getting worse and worse for some years, due to the town's continued refusal to provide funds to keep it in good condition. Those who recall the playground when it was second to none in Greater Boston will welcome the possibility of having it restored to its former fine condition. Incidentally it is said that there will be no more snow dumped on the field.

ANNOUNCE JUDGES FOR LOCAL TALENT SHOW

Judges who will select the pictures to be hung in the exhibition of local talent to be sponsored by the Winchester Art Association at the Library Art Gallery during April have been announced as Rev Phillips E. Osgood of the Emanuel Church, Boston, Mr. Richard L. Rideout of the Grace Horne Galleries and Mr. Sam Morton Vose of the Robert Vose Galleries.

BUILDING PERMITS GRANTED

The Building Commissioner has issued permits for the erection and alteration to building on land owned by the following for week ending, Thursday, March 21:

Andrew Comita, Winchester, inside alterations to dwelling at 6 East street.

Harold Bostwick, Winchester, alteration to present dwelling at 11 Appalachian road.

John W. Peterson, Winchester, a new hen house on land in rear of 35 Baldwin street.

Town Meeting Dissolved

Midnight Session Featured By Sharp Debate

In a long drawn out session, at times enlivened by debate, the first adjourned session of the annual town meeting finally concluded this year's warrant and dissolved five minutes before the town hall clock chimed the hour of midnight. One hundred and eighteen of the 229 precinct members were in attendance, and those who hoped that things would move along as smoothly and swiftly as they did at the opening session last week Thursday evening were doomed to disappointment. The Finance Committee was still in the saddle, but the delegates occasionally took the bit in their teeth, even though their attempts to get off the straight and narrow way did not get very far.

Article 17, dealing with the proposal to buy land at the rear of the Winchester Conservatories for a west side playground, was the first considered, and though some vigorous objections to the purchase were expressed it seemed apparent that over the week-end not a little of the opposition sensed at the opening session of town meeting had subsided.

Mr. Davidson voiced the Park Board's endorsement of the lot which he said is the only one available on the west side of sufficient size to be practical for baseball. Mr. Schneider gave the land the Finance Committee's blessing, and Mr. Parsons, going rather fully into the matter, added the approval of the Planning Board.

Mr. Rotundi, speaking as a contractor, believed it would cost in excess of $25,000 to put the land in shape for use as a playground, and Mr. McKenzie admonished the delegates to inspect the land, on which he found "enough water to float the Queen Mary."

Mr. Gleason felt the land was being badly maligned by those who do not know it as he does and questioned the figures given by Mr. Rotundi. Mr. Davidson added that the land would be improved as a WPA project, the town having to pay only for a piece of drain-pipe. In reply to a question by Mr. Sparks, the Park Board chairman admitted that he could not tell how much it would cost to fit the land for playground use.

Mr. Rotundi felt that WPA labor cannot do the type of work necessary to grade the playground, and Mr. Farnsworth voiced his opposition to the site because of the necessity for children to cross Cambridge street to reach it.

Mrs. Woodside favored a west side playground but felt the site in question was not desirable from either the location or play angle, and that the children of the west side would be old and gray before the proposed site would be fit for playground use.

Mr. Caldwell favored the site in question and Mr. Worthen reiterated his stand of the previous meeting in favor. Mr. MacAdams asked for an expression of opinion of delegates living in the districts affected, eliciting responses in favor of the playground from Mr. Nowell, Mr. Lane, Mr. MacDavitt, Mr. Sparks and Mr. Cass.

At this point the question was put and the $3500 necessary to purchase the land voted, 155 to 55.

Mr. Cusack attempted here to have the meeting reconsider that portion of article 6 dealing with the Police Department budget with a view to providing more funds for a new ambulance for the town instead of the $1200 voted at the first meeting to buy a second hand 1935 vehicle.

In championing the motion to reconsider Mr. Cusack stated a new Chevrolet ambulance can be purchased for $1,800, a new LaSalle, for $2,800. He felt, writing off depreciation, and all other expenses involved, the town would much better buy a new machine than a second hand one. Mr. Cullen and Mr. P. J. Foley agreed. Mr. Cameron stated the Selectmen have no objection to spending the town's money for any sort of article needed by the community wants, but its members had felt the $1200 second-hand machine would fill the bill and save the town money, especially in view of the relatively few times the machine is used in a year. The motion to reconsider was then put and lost, 88 being in favor and 69 opposed, a two-thirds vote being necessary.

Under Article 29, Mr. Cullen attempted to have a committee appointed to investigate the several town departments. In his argument he contended esnecially that of the town meeting members who vote on appropriations and town policies 64 are "interested" members, such as departmental heads, town employees or others who either spend the money appropriated or receive that money. He criticized the procedure of certain town departments, laying especial emphasis upon the handling of a specific veteran's welfare case, and felt that it would be as well for the precinct members to investigate departmental procedure and see if improvement can not be made. Mr. Cullen's remarks drew a heated rejoinder from Mr. MacAdams, who defended the

WHEATON HONOR FOR WINCHESTER GIRL

Miss Marjorie Rush, daughter of Commander and Mrs. Richard M. Rush of Woodside road, has been elected president of the Dramatic Association at Wheaton College where she is completing her junior year.

Miss Rush has been treasurer of the Dramatic Association this year, and has taken part in Wheaton dramatics, playing in "Silt" and "Moor Born" her freshman year and in "Riders to the Sea," the Founders Day Play, and the Nativity Play. She has been in the school vaudeville show during the past two years, and holds membership in several clubs, including the Music Club, the International Relations Club, Romance Languages Club and Psyche. For the past two years she has been associated with the Wheaton News, the student publication of the college, and is a member of the Dance Group that after several other appearances, danced last Saturday evening at Peabody House in Boston.

Miss Rush graduated from Winchester High School with the class of 1937, winning the Washington and Franklin History Medal and the Teachers' Club scholarship. She commenced her newspaper writing in high school, having been an editorial writer on the then student publication "Highlights."

EIGHTH DISTRICT CONFERENCE IN WAKEFIELD, MARCH 29

A Round Table discussion of "Education for Democracy" by leading educators from India, Germany, England and Norway, arranged by Mrs. Franklin S. Nichols, State Chairman of Education will be an important part of the Departmental Conference of the Departments of Literature and Education of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, at the Congregational Church, Wakefield, on Friday, March 29, with the Kosmos Club as hostess club.

UNITARIAN MEN'S CLUB

The next old time dancing class takes place Wednesday, March 27 at 8 p. m. in Metcalf Hall. These evenings of square dancing increase in popularity. And where can you have a real work out and session of fun for the immense sum of "two-bits." See you there.

DROWNING SCARE

Police and Firemen worked for several hours Monday evening in an attempt to locate a child thought to have broken through the ice of Mystic Lake near Robinson's Point.

Mr. James F. Dwinell of Prospect street, while driving along the Parkway during the late afternoon, saw what looked to be a child struggling in the water near Robinson's Point across the lake.

Mr. Dwinell made all haste to the point, but it was some minutes before he was able to reach the place where he had seen the accident. The ice was broken there, but no one was in sight. Hastening to the home of Mr. Martin Swanson nearby he notified the police, who sent men to the lake, the fire department also sending the ladder truck, lifeboat and men to assist. The Metropolitan police were notified and sent men to the lake.

After more than four hours of dragging the men gave up their task, and as subsequent investigation has disclosed no child missing it is believed that if one did get into the lake, he was able to extricate himself before Mr. Dwinell could circle the ice in his machine.

The March meeting of the Winchester branch of the M. S. P. C. A. was held Wednesday, March 20, at the home of Mrs. Pattison on Washington street. The president, Mrs. Edith Washburn Clarke presided. The various reports indicate that good work is being done through our shelter for the stray animals in the town. At the close of the meeting tea was served by the hospitality committee.

GEORGE KIRKPATRICK

George Kirkpatrick, a resident of Winchester for more than 30 years, died at his home, 8 Fairmount street, early Monday morning, March 18, after a brief illness. He was 80 years old.

Mr. Kirkpatrick was born in Kirkcudbrightshire, Scotland, the son of John and Elizabeth (Cairns) Kirkpatrick. He came as a small boy to this country, living first on Hewitt's Island, Me., and later for some years in Portland. Thirty-two years ago he came to Winchester and during his active life was a nurseryman, having his own business at his home.

He leaves a daughter, Isabelle Kingsbury of this town; a son, Dr. George Holland Kirkpatrick of Lynn; a granddaughter, Mrs. S. Brainard McCarthy of New York City; and three sisters, Mrs. Louis Bartar of Tennant's Harbor, Me., Mrs. James Barrett and Mrs. Grierson, both of Leominster.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the late residence with Rev. H. L. Sthengaard of the Magazine Street Baptist Church of Cambridge, officiating. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

WILLIAM J. MEARLS

William J. Mearls of 20 Middlesex street died at his home Tuesday afternoon March 19, after a long illness.

Mr. Mearls was born 52 years ago in Newfoundland. He came as a child to this country and for the past 16 years had been a resident of Winchester, coming to this town from Woburn. He had been a garage man at one of the local garages and was well known.

Mr. Mearls is survived by his wife, Mrs. Julia (O'Driscoll) Mearls; by two daughters, Mrs. Mary O'Keefe of Arlington and Mrs. Katherine Loughlin of Woburn; four sons, John of Woburn, Thomas, Joseph and William J. Jr., of this town; three brothers, Thomas of South Boston, John of Watertown and Anthony Mearls of Somerville; and a sister, Mrs. Margaret McGinn of South Boston.

The funeral was held from the late residence this Friday morning with services at St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock. Interment was in the Cambridge Cemetery.

CAROLYN LINDSEY

Carolyn Lindsey, nine months old daughter of John G. and Helen (Grant) Lindsey of 36 Harvard street, died Friday morning at the Children's Hospital in Boston.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Kelley & Hawes Chapel with Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiating. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MYSTIC SCHOOL

Mystic School parents, teachers and their friends are to have coffee together at 8 o'clock, March 26, Tuesday evening in the school auditorium. At 8:30 Dr. Herbert Gezork will speak on "Nazi Youth in Germany." Dr. Gezork was born and reared in Germany; and educated at the University of Berlin and the German Baptist Divinity School of Hamburg. As executive secretary he served the German Baptist Youth Movement until 1933. Because he found it impossible under Hitler to continue his work as a leader of a Christian Youth Movement, he left Germany and came to this country in 1937. At present he is Professor of Social Ethics at Andover-Newton Theological School and Wellesley College. You will want to hear Dr. Gezork and to see your friends at the Mystic School. Mrs. Charles Greene of Highland avenue is entertaining the speaker and a few friends before the meeting. Several other dinner parties are in the process of being planned. Save the evening. Mark your calendar now, March 26, 8 o'clock. Mystic School.

TENTH ANNIVERSARY CONCERT OF THE FORTNIGHTLY GLEE CLUB

A large and appreciative audience filled an attractively decorated Fortnightly Hall on Wednesday evening, March 13, to hear a fine program given by the Fortnightly Glee Club, to celebrate their tenth anniversary. The Glee Club under the direction of Mary Ranton Witham and accompanied by Lucy L. Wilsox deserves to be highly praised for their interpretation of the numbers rendered.

The assisting artists were Ralph Tailby, baritone; and Louise Allman, violinist. Mr. Tailby is a favorite of Winchester audiences and his deep, rich quality provided delightful contrast to the women's voices. Miss Allman's numbers were played with her usual artistic style and skillful technique.

The program was as follows:

Song of the Sun Lang

COMMITTEE OF SAFETY CHAPTER, D. A. R.

The March meeting of the Committee of Safety Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held on Monday, March 18, at the home of Miss Margaret Newman, state page, at 9 Cliff street, with the regent, Mrs. J. Churchill Hindes, presiding.

The chapter was greatly honored by having as special guests the state regent, Miss Ethel Lane Hersey of Hingham, and the state vice regent, Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith of Somerville. Members belonging to other chapters but residing in Winchester were invited to this meeting, and we were pleased to welcome Mrs. Harry S. Parsons, a member of Boston Tea Party Chapter, and Mrs. Charles H. Johnson, a member of Sarah Bradlee Fulton Chapter of Medford.

As we were all anxious to hear our state regent and vice regent speak, the business meeting was short, but two very fine letters were read thanking us for our gifts to Crossnore School in North Carolina and Hillside School in Marlboro, the latter extending a cordial invitation to attend visitor's day at the school on June 19.

Mrs. Smith, the state vice regent, was first introduced, and she spoke particularly on the Student Loan Fund established by the society 10 years ago. She said that any second year college student of good character and leadership qualities was eligible for aid from this fund but must first make application through the local chapter; that 111 Massachusetts students had been helped since the fund was established. As the society is 50 years old next October, great stress is being laid on Jubilee projects throughout the country, and Mrs. Smith dwelt on the Massachusetts project, that of raising money for the Edith Scott Magna Scholarship at International College, Springfield, and urged us all to come and bring our friends to a dessert bridge, concert and living pictures, to be held at the Men's City Club, Boston, on May 9, in aid of this project.

Miss Hersey, the state regent, was then presented, and spoke on building for permanence. She said we had in Washington visible evidence of our building for permanence in our Memorial Continental Hall, speaking of the museum there, the state rooms, the childrens' room, and our library in Constitution Hall, stating the genealogical library was the finest in the country. She said we are also building for permanence in the work the society is doing for young people, and as evidence of this spoke of the Junior American Citizenship Clubs, Girl Home Makers Clubs, the work with approved schools, at American International College, and she also spoke of the Americanism certificates given to adult aliens in night schools for perfect attendance.

These two fine addresses gave us much first-hand information about the splendid work being done by the society.

At the close of the business meeting our Good Citizenship pilgrim from the high school, Miss Jean Drake, was presented to the members. Although not lucky enough to be drawn as the Massachusetts girl to go to Washington as the guest of the society, Miss Drake will receive a pin at graduation and is eligible to join the national Good Citizenship Pilgrim Club.

After the business meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Charles Beaudry, Mrs. J. Frank Hodge and Mrs. Reginald Cahalane, assisted by Miss Jean Drake, Miss Jane Cahalane and Miss Betty Newman.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The Conservation Committee, Louise Bancroft, chairman, and the Music Committee, Sophia Gardner, chairman, have combined to present an afternoon of Birds, Music and Flowers, at the regular meeting on Monday. The Conservation Committee will present Mr. Carl W. Bucheister, secretary and Treasurer of the Massachusetts Audubon Society, in an illustrated lecture on "Bird Life of the Winchester Region," and the Music Committee will present the Fortnightly Glee Club, with Mary Ranton Witham, director and Lucy Wilcox, accompanist.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS HAD COMMUNION BREAKFAST

Two hundred members of Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus, and their friends, attended the council's annual communion breakfast on Palm Sunday morning in Lyceum Hall. The council received communion in a body at the 8 o'clock mass in St. Mary's Church, proceding from the church to the hall where a delicious breakfast was served by Fred H. Scholl of Scholl's Restaurant.

Grand Knight Thomas Travers served as toastmaster for the speaking program which followed the breakfast, those who responded including Rev. Joseph E. McGoldrick of St. Mary's Church, District Deputy Dana Kelly, P. G. K. of Winchester Council; and District Deputy Griffin of Saugus. Guest speaker was Gerald Caoughlin, head of the English Department of Boston English High School. Solos were sung by Grand Knight Travers and Dannie O'Donnell.

Seated at the head table with the Grand Knight were Father McGoldrick, Edward F. Maguire, oldest charter member of the council; Daniel Lydon, P. G. K.; Frank Hurley, D. G. K.; Samuel Kinton, rec. secy.; Bernard Crowley, fin. secy.; Walter Burns, lecturer; Charles Doherty, chancellor; and William Guiliani, outside guard.

Among the features of the occasion was the bright green carnation adorning the lapel of P. T. Walsh, a decorative note that was envied and much admired.

RAINBOW GIRLS

The next regular meeting of Winchester Assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls will be held Friday, March 22 at 7:15 p. m. in the Masonic Hall, Mt. Vernon street, Winchester. It is to be "Dad's Night."

All fathers are invited to be present after the meeting. All Masonic fathers are cordially invited to the initiation work.

TROOP 5 CHARTER NIGHT

Three hundred parents, friends and invited guests attended the Charter Night held last week Thursday evening at the new Christofor Columbus Society's recreation building. Dr. Angelo L. Maietta served as toastmaster and the honor guests included president R. H. Sibley of Fellsland Council, superintendent of schools James J. Quinn, Mr. G. Cristaldi, president of the Christofor Columbus Society, Mr. Dexter Blenkhorn, Mr. A. Barbaro, Mr. Ernest H. Butterworth, former Selectman Franklin J. Lane, and assistant scout executive E. Dudley.

The program commenced with a troop meeting opening ceremony, after which Dr. Maietta explained the purpose of the charter night exercises.

Scoutmaster Salvatore A. Ferro then presented service stars as follows: one year, H. Donahue, J. Ferraina, D. Molinaro, T. Paonessa; two years, A. A. Amico, A. P. Amico, F. Buzzotta, C. Ferro, F. Lambiase, A. Luongo, J. Marchesi, M. Procopio, J. Tibaudo, F. Franchita; nine years, Salvatore Ferro; committee, V. Gigliotto, chairman; S. Puma, A. Lambiase, Dr. A. L. Maietta, D. Simonetta, G. Ferro.

President Sibley of Fellsland Council next presented the new charter to the troop with the individual troop membership cards for the scouts. After Charles Ferro had demonstrated first aid and Tony Paonessa, fire lighting, Frank Buzzotta conducted interpatrol competition in knot-tieing, compass, fire by friction, Morse signalling, relay race, semaphore and fire-lighting by flint and steel. The Flying Eagle Patrol, wearing red, won this competition from the Panther Patrol, wearing green, 8—6.

Scoutmaster Ferro then conducted a bravery demonstration, and in the course of his remarks explained what was expected of parents of scouts, his address being entitled "Catching the Significance of Scouts." The scout oath and law and a demonstration of knot making and fire lighting with flint and steel was given by Angelo Ferro, 7, and Christopher Ferro, 11 years.

Musical selections were presented by the Mountain Playboys, Pat Ferraina and Guy Migliaccio. The president of the troop council, F. Buzzotta, and the scribe, Charles Ferro, reported on the "Forecast of Big Things."

Following the recitation of the troop poem, written by Gaspare Lentine, a telegraphic talk was given by Dr. Maietta. The troop song, written by Anthony Luongo, was sung by A. Luongo and R. Horn.

Vincent Gigliotti presented a senior patrol leader's pin to Frank Buzzotta. A closing stunt was put on by the troop, Scoutmaster Ferro conducting an investiture ceremony.

Badges were presented by president Sibley as follows: Tenderfoot, Samuel Buzzotta, John Gerardi, John Graziano, Richard Horn, Gaspare Lentine; Second Class, Charles Ferro, Harold Donahue, Tony Paonessa; Merit (Woodwork) Charles Ferro, Tony Paonessa. Superintendent Quinn presented awards to highest honor scouts, Joseph Ferraina, Gaspare Lentine, and Harold Donahue. He also presented a patrol flag to the Panther Patrol, winner during the intra-troop competition. President Sibley also presented awards, won by the troop in past competitions; four blue ribbons, three red, and two white ribbons. It was also announced that the troop had saved and collected money for a scout handbook which was presented to Nicholas Dizio who was forced to be absent from troop meetings by an attack of scarlet fever. Joseph Ferraina presented the book to Scout Dizio.

Committee pins were presented to Gaspare Russo, Salvatore Lentine, and Antonio Giuliano. Following the presentation of Colors and the blowing of taps by Dominic Talone, the program was brought to an impressive finale.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The Winchester Girl Scout Council met Wednesday, March 13 at 10 a. m. at the library, with Mrs. Harold Farnsworth, Commissioner, presiding. After the secretary's and treasurer's report there were reports from the chairmen.

Mrs. Earl Wood, chairman of the Juliette Low Memorial Fund told that troops were bringing their contributions during the National Girl Scout Week, March 11-16. This fund was formerly used to send Girl Scouts and Girl Guides to an International Encampment at The Chalet at Adelboden, Switzerland. This year the fund will be used to aid Girl Guides in war-torn countries and to promote an encampment at Camp Andree, N. Y. for Scouts and Guides in this hemisphere.

Mrs. Donald Heath reported on troop activities and told of the Marionette Show by Troop 9 to be held at the Washington School, March 28.

Mrs. Lowell Smith reported that several troops had used the cabin for winter sports during the snow season.

Mrs. Henry Moffette told of Brownie activities and of the spring plans.

Mrs. Harvey Glazier, director, discussed the Girl Scout plan of work as set up by the National Convention last October. Girl Scouting serves a two-fold purpose, the welfare of the girl in Scouting and a responsibility to society for the girl. Responsibility to the girl involves a well-balanced, interesting, useful, stimulating and inspiring program. Responsibility to society for the girl involves that the adult members clearly understand the purpose of the Girl Scout movement and its fundamental principles of service, friendliness, justice and tolerance for all.

On Thursday afternoon, March 28 at 3:45 p. m. Troop 9 of the Winchester Girl Scouts will present a variety show for the benefit of their "Camper-ship Fund."

The first half of the program will be devoted to the production of Pinocchio, dramatized by three of the girls, in marionettes, made by a group of girls and dressed with the assistance of Mrs. Arthur Fay and Mrs. Emil Lundin.

The second half of the program demonstrates the work of various other groups of girls in an original skit written by three girls who are working toward their Writer's badge.

Between the scenes various girls contribute specialties of dancing, monologue and music.

Candy will be sold during the intermission by girls wearing creations designed and executed by themselves under the direction of Mrs. Sherman Saltmarsh and Mrs. John Clark.

PROVINZANO NEW HOOP CAPTAIN

Peter Provinzano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pietro Provinzano of Florence street, has been elected by the letter players to captain the Winchester High School basketball team for the 1940-41 season. He is a brother of Frank Provinzano, former Winchester High School and Wilbraham Academy all around athletic star, now at Boston University.

Peter will have the distinction of being a sophomore captain, he having played his first season of varsity basketball this year. He is an all around athlete, playing football last fall and being one of the promising candidates for a varsity pitching job this spring. It was his long cross the field sleeper pass to "Dex" Derby in the final minutes of play that enabled Winchester to score on Woburn last Thanksgiving.

In basketball Peter plays a forward position. He will have no letter players around for his club next year, this having been aside from himself strictly a senior outfit. Bert Callanan, Jimmy Coon and "Joe" Palumbo, football captain-elect, saw some varsity service toward the end of this year's campaign and will be back next season. Most of the second team, which didn't do too badly at the end of the schedule, will be available, but the outlook at this time at least for a winning team next year is not too bright.

WEEK-END MOTOR ACCIDENTS

The first of two motor accidents reported to the Police last week-end took place last Friday night shortly before 10 o'clock when a Pontiac sedan, driven by Rolf Stevens of 32 Prince street, West Newton, while turning left from Calumet road onto Cambridge street, was in collision with a Ford sedan, driven south on Cambridge street by Abraham D. Davis of 24 Ransom road, Brighton. After the collision the Ford swerved to the side of the road and hit a tree. Both cars were damaged, the Ford badly. No one was injured.

Saturday afternoon shortly after 5:30 a Plymouth sedan, driven by Frederick W. Warnock of 587 Broadway, Somerville, in starting to go north with a green light in the center on Main street at Hevey's Pharmacy, was in collision with a Ford truck, owned and driven by John D. Sullivan of 13 Middlesex street, who was also starting to go north. Only slight damage was done and there were no injuries.

CUBS TO MEET

The Winchester Cubs Baseball team will hold an important organization meeting Monday evening at 7:30 at the home of Sam Provinzano, 37 Florence street. Plans for the season will be discussed and several important matters decided upon. All members are urged to attend.

See the new Eversharp Repeating Pencil. On sale at the Star Office.

WINCHESTER SKI CLUB

The first member of the Winchester Ski Club to pass the third class qualification test is Allton Dunsford. The test was taken on the Tecumseh Trail in Waterville Valley, N. H., Sunday.

The Twombly boys skied the Jackson Region, Marty Pinkham to Gilford, Ted Elliott at Jackson and Kenneth and Hilda Thomson at Peterboro, N. H.

Of interest to all members is the meeting scheduled for next Wednesday, March 27 at the club room on Main street. Fred Fish of Winchester will show his latest ski movies.

THE HARVARD CLUB

The Harvard Club of Eastern Middlesex will hold its third meeting of the current season on Thursday, March 28, at the Shaker Glen House in Woburn. Prof. Kirtley F. Mather, will speak.

The attendance at the January meeting was quite gratifying. If any Harvard men have not recevied a formal notice or wishes additional information, this may be obtained from either the President, Edgar C. Haselton, 86 Mineral street, Reading or the secretary, Edward A. Ramsey, 64 Tamworth Hill avenue, Wakefield.

A LITTLE MONEY CAN DO A big JOB

Sometimes even a small amount of money received at a critical time can be very important. That's why far-sighted husbands and fathers find a John Hancock Readjustment Income Plan tailored to their families' needs.

This plan is especially designed to provide income to cover essential family expenses during the readjustment period following the death of the breadwinner. By keeping the family financially secure, it gives them time to prepare for the future.

Our booklet, "Two Lives," shows how a typical family in moderate circumstances is solving an important problem with a John Hancock Readjustment Income Plan. Write for your copy.

Our annual town meeting for 1940 has come and gone, Monday evening's second session winding up the business in what must be some kind of a record for the passage of the 35 articles. Some people thought it strongly resembled one of those Hollywood "yes" meetings we read about, but perhaps it was only streamlined and carefully guided by a Finance axis. At any rate, the "intelligent electorate," as Pat Craughwell delights in calling it, seemed willing to allow a spirit of strict neutrality to prevail. If Frank Rowe had not jumped up at 12 o'clock no one knows what might have happened, but Frank was right there with his usual little speech. He ought to receive an appointment or something as "town meeting ender." Ray Wilkins seems to have been satisfactory in the rostrum. No adverse comment has been heard. Lowell Smith was heard occasionally issuing an under-cover growl and Jimmie Cullen tried hard to live up to the Star's recent publicity. He was heard and listened to. Whether he was surprised to get a committee appointed or not we have not heard, but we trust he will not expect too much from it. We don't see any harm in recording the Finance Committee vote along with their recommendation. It may not amount to anything, but then again it might. If the Queen Mary is really brought to Boston, we suppose Connie Mack will be right on the pier waving directions to dock it in the mud puddle on the newly purchased playground back of the Conservatories. How any "intelligent electorate" could approve such a location for kids to play is beyond us. We don't think they will travel away up there and if we lived on the east side of the Cambridge street speedway we'd spank their pants if they ever crossed it without means of an under-pass. Making two under-passes. The wage increase of town officers and clerks seems to have made some bad blood in the stream of town affairs. This is always a ticklish matter. Even in our own plant we have to approach it in a round-about way and an eye for future New Deal emancipations. We congratulate them that got it and sympathize with them that are still under-nourished and looking longingly at the more abundant life. Earl Andrews appears to have created some sensation as an orator, but was badly handicapped by indifferent timing. A big mistake was made in placing him at the end, rather than the start, of the program. He was good though, and may be in the next serial. We still believe that small committees accomplish more and efficient work than big ones, but we suppose committees must be appointed and changes must be made—at least the "intelligent electorate" thinks so. All-in-all, the meeting turned out satisfactory and no matter what was done to be individually criticized, our Town still seems in a fair way to hold its lead in the Commonwealth. So far as we are concerned—and fellow editors and radio commentators take notice—we took our own temperature again! We found no indications of a slight cold. Rather considerable heat on the New Deal side. This will probably subside along with the division of our wealth, and we expect to continue to perk along until the announcement of the third term.

WINCHESTER MAN MEMBER OF UNIQUE CLUB

John A. Mooney, 130 Cambridge street, has been awarded membership in the unique Flying Fisherman Club, revealed by Capt. E. V. Rickenbacker, president and general manager of Eastern Air Lines, the sponsoring organization.

While trolling in waters off Palm Beach, Fla. Mooney caught a 54-pound Sailfish, seven feet, one inch in length. Capt. Dee Sanderson of West Palm Beach, skipper of the fishing boat "Fun" served as cruise guide and attested the catch as legitimate.

Complying with a club membership certificate Mooney flew to the Florida fishing grounds via the Great Silver Fleet of Eastern Air Lines. He has been awarded a framed, engraved membership certificate signed by Capt. Rickenbacker, in recognition of his catch.

B. C. CLUB COMMUNION BREAKFAST

The Mystic Valley Boston College Club will hold its first annual communion breakfast, Sunday morning March 31, following the 9 o'clock mass at St. Charles Church, Woburn. The breakfast will be served at 10 o'clock in Catholic Center Hall, Woburn, and the guest speaker will be Hon. E. Mark Sullivan of Boston.

NEW ENGLAND REFINERIES FACING EXTINCTION

All New England, and especially Metropolitan Boston, is vitally concerned with the recently expressed opinion of representatives of the Boston sugar refining business that this 200 years old New England industry, and specifically Boston's two refineries, are facing "extinction" unless Congress rejects the demands of the western beet sugar industry for "special" legislation granting it a larger share of the American consumer market.

New England's only sugar refineries are located in Boston, the Revere Sugar Refinery at Charlestown and the American Sugar Refining Company at South Boston. Employing more than 1200 men and women these plants have total annual payrolls of $2,000,000 annually. Indirectly several thousand more persons get employment from them through purchases of materials, trucking and stevedoring. The plants pay over $400,000 in taxes and spend approximately $2,000,000 for supplies and materials, a large proportion of this amount remaining in New England.

Owners of these firms contend that granting a larger share of the American sugar market to the beet sugar producers will sound the death knell of the cane refining industry, in which already serious inroads have been made.

In 1929 domestic cane refineries produced 76.93 per cent of all the sugar used in the country. In 1939 the same refineries produced only 58.48 per cent, because of the production of beet sugar and sugar refined in the Tropics nearly doubled during that time.

In 1937 Congress enacted the sugar act granting the beet sugar business approximately 25 per cent of the American market. This provision expired March 1, and the beet sugar growers are sponsoring a new bill calling for a greater share in the market.

If an increased percentage is granted, New England refinery owners believe their historic industry dating to pre-revolution days is doomed at a heavy cost to this section of the country.

Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers is alive to the situation, and indeed nearly the entire New England congressional delegation has been enlisted by the Boston refiners in behalf of their fight to continue or decrease the present output level of beet sugar.

Winchester has even more than usual interest in the refiners' struggle for existence because one of its townsmen, Henry E. Worcester is vice president of the Revere Sugar Company.

EASTER VACATION ON

Winchester boys and girls began to arrive home from school and college for the Easter vacation this week. Among those noted thus far were:

Carolyn Joy, Dorothy Joy, Marion Davis and Anne Kidder from Bennett Junior College.

Helen Davis from Emma Willard School, Troy, N. Y.

Grace Croughwell, Helen Butler and Jean Howard from Bradford Junior College.

Betty Collins, Bunny Collins and Barbara Moulton from Colby Junior College.

John Spaulding is home for the Easter vacation from Williston Academy.

Carl Bolter, Franklin Joy, James Godwin and Ernest Stockwell are home from Andover.

GRADUATED FROM SCHOOL OF PHARMACY

Fred McCormack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCormack of Winchester place, was graduated Monday evening from Franklin Union School of Pharmacy.

Fred, or "Polock" as he is known to football fans throughout the Mystic Valley, graduated from Winchester High School in 1937. He was president of the graduating class, a scholarship winner, president of the Science Club, and first baseman on the baseball team and a star guard on the football team, winning all Middlesex League honors in the latter sport.

Fred has been working since graduation in McCormack's Pharmacy, owned by his brother, Henry, and going to Franklin Union nights; devoting his spare time to the Lawrence Light Guards of Medford, in which he holds membership. His graduation from Franklin Union will be good news to his many friends.

NARCOTIC OFFICER TO SPEAK

Officer Francis L. Sweeney of the Boston Police Department Narcotic Squad will give an illustrated talk under the auspices of Waterfield Lodge, I. O. O. F., on Monday evening, March 25, at 8 o'clock in Association Hall on Vine street.

The regular lodge meeting will precede Officer Sweeney's address, commencing at 7.30. All men of Winchester who are interested are cordially invited to attend the lecture.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

John G. Woolley has the following significant sentence in the March issue of "Our Message."

The Christian conscience has to be aroused, not merely to the enormity of the liquor traffic, but to the enormity of the sin of doing nothing about the liquor traffic.

The Harvard Law School is the oldest law school in the United States, and its library of over 460,000 volumes is claimed to be the most complete law library in the world.

PARISH PLAYERS

On the evenings of March 29 and 30 in the Little Theatre Beneath a Spire, the Parish Players of the First Congregational Church of Winchester will present "The Housemaster," an eminently successful comedy by Ian Hay. This play is produced under the direction of Mr. Alan Hay, who has been the director of a number of the Parish Players' past successes.

The following is quoted from an article written by Mr. Hay for the Brookline Amateurs during their production of "The Housemaster" last fall.

"The Housemaster is a comedy but not a farcical comedy, it's underlying theme is quite serious.

"It cannot be denied that the English public school is a contributing factor in the greatness of the British Empire. There is a combined esprit de corps among the graduates of these schools that is part and parcel of a feeling of obligation to the nation in which they have been developed. In England proper and in every corner of the far-flung British Colonies can be found former prize scholars and Old Blues. Somewhere, sometime, when the minds of these officers and administrators were in a receptive state, the thought intruded that they could of some use in playing for the 'home side.' Possibly the Etons and Harrows and the others have done more for Democracy than we can presently measure. At any rate, the possibility that they have done so is a pleasant and intriguing notion.

"Along with the serious side of preparation for service to the British Empire, it would be rather too bad if the boys didn't have a bit of British fun."

And "The Housemaster" shows what happened once upon a time at one of these English schools at Marbledown.

LADIES' FRIENDLY HELD ANNUAL SUPPER

A thoroughly delightful evening was enjoyed by the members of the Ladies' Friendly of the Unitarian Church on Tuesday when, after a splendid supper, served by Mrs. Russell Ellis and her committee, the Dramatics Group of the Fortnightly presented a sparkling three act comedy, entitled "Always Tell the Truth."

Mrs. Curtis Nash, president of the Ladies' Friendly presented Mrs. Fred Chamberlin, chairman of the Dramatics Group and coach of the play, who announced the play and its cast.

Great credit is due Mrs. Chamberlin for a splendid job in casting and coaching this very enjoyable comedy. Every character was well chosen and equally well trained, and all seemed to enjoy acting their various characterizations as much as the audience seemed to enjoy watching them.

Outstanding ability was displayed by Louise Kelly, as the heroine, and Mollie Hodge as the caustic grandmother, the instigators of the foolish idea of having every one tell the truth and by Alice Drew the timid club woman who turned detective in an effort to locate the spurious jewelry. Jane Robinson, as Lizzie the maid, was hilariously funny; each appearance called for more and louder laughs. Some one should call the attention of Hollywood talent scouts to this light-under-abushel residing so quietly in our tiny town.

The cast included: Catharine Nutter, Louise Kelly, Jane Robinson, Mollie Hodge, Therese Mann, Claire Reynolds, Dorothy Wills, Willa Chafe, Mayola Wood, Alice Drew, Lillian Howe, Ruth Ferguson, Jane Chandler, Alice LaRose, prompter, Mary Snell, make-up.

DAVID ERSKINE

Older residents of Winchester will learn with regret of the death of David Erskine at Hollis, N. H., on March 5.

Mr. Erskine, who was 74 and retired, was a former well known resident of this town, making his home for many years on Linden street and engaging in the furniture and piano moving business with his brother, the late Hugh Erskine. He was said to be the oldest charter member of Waterfield Lodge of Odd Fellows.

Funeral services were held on March 8 at Nashua, N. H., where the interment was made. The Odd Fellows' funeral ritual was exemplified by the officers of Waterfield Lodge of this town.

HELP THE BLIND TO HELP THEMSELVES

"The finest way to thank God for the blessing of sight, is to lend a helping hand to those struggling in the dark." Helen Keller

And the easiest way for you to help the blind in Massachusetts is by purchasing articles made by them, in order that they may be self supporting in their homes, and not forced to beg from door to door, or on street corners. Come to the sale in the Town Hall on Thursday and Friday, April 4 and 5, and purchase one or more lovely, useful, beautiful article, some as low as ten cents. By so doing you will help some unfortunate person to achieve that honorable right of all Americans, financial independence.

Come to the committee meeting, in Fortnightly Hall, on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock to hear Miss Rose Trainor, head of that splendid organization doing such good work among the blind. Hear her stories of the personalities behind some of those lovely little articles on sale, and you'll purchase them with reverence and own them with pride, when you know their history.

Mrs. Michael Hintlian, chairman of the sale, announces the following organizations in charge of tables during the sale, and the chairman of each table:

The Fortnightly—Mrs. R. K. Miller
Fornightly Juniors—Mrs. Donald Ash
Better Homes and Gardens—Mrs. R. Elliott
League of Women Voters—Mrs. Harold Fuller

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

The Music Study Group will hold its final meeting on Thursday, March 28 at 10 a. m. at the home of Mrs. Howard A. Morrison, 12 Glen road.

Mrs. Truman M. Godfrey of 38 Everett avenue will be hostess for the annual meeting of the Winchester College Club on Friday, March 29 at 3 p. m. The chairman of the study groups, which have been very well attended and have had most successful programs will report, Mrs. John Chipman for the Nature Lore Group, Mrs. John P. Carr, Music Group, Mrs. Alton Jackson for the Architecture Group, Mrs. William F. Morton for the History Group, Mrs. Lester H. Armstrong for the Museum Group and Mrs. Wayne E. Davis for the Evening Study Group.

The program of the afternoon, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Norman J. Padelford will be devoted to short talks by representatives of various colleges, who will tell from the student point of view, why their particular colleges should be recommended, for especially good departments, newly developed educational theories, etc. The speakers included David Riley of Swarthmore, Kirby Thwing of Bowdoin, Nancy Snider of Simmons, Margaret Heath of Wheaton and a Viennese graduate student, Ilse Zechner of Radcliffe. Mothers of the speakers will be the guests of the College Club and the meeting will be conducted by the president, Mrs. John L. Lobingier.

STENOTYPY AT BURDETT EVENING SCHOOL

In a machine age nothing would be more natural than machine shorthand. Machine shorthand will be introduced at Burdett College, Boston, in an evening course which will begin April 15.

Business, in its quest for new and more efficient methods, is awakening to the need of shorthand written by machine. This modern system of machine shorthand which has been developed was originated by the Stenotype Company and is known under the name of stenotypy.

Stenotypy is not new to Burdett College, the training having been offered when the system was first made available more than 20 years ago.

Interesting to note is the fact that the stenotypy class which will start April 15 and will be taught by Mrs. Hannah Cunningham, who is responsible for the training of her husband in the writing of stenotypy and who is now associated with him in his reporting business.

The stenotype machine weighs 5½ lbs, is absolutely noiseless, and is easy to operate. The stenotype machine is on exhibition at Burdett College from 5 to 8 p. m. in the evening and Saturday afternoons from 12 to 4. An experienced operator is also present to demonstrate the machine, and visitors are invited to witness these demonstrations.

The Stenotypy Course at Burdett College is offered in co-operation with the Stenotype Company of Chicago. It is to all intent ad purposes the equivalent of a graduate course. Its appeal is to employed men and women who have already acquired a background of typewriting and transcript. Perfected skill through expert class instruction is now obtainable, and Burdett College is happy to be able to meet this demand.

"Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, March 24.

The Golden Text is: "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal" (Matthew 6:19).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. . . . And we know hat all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose. . . . What shall we then say to these thines? If God be for us, who can be against us?" (Romans 8:1, 28, 31).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Emerge gently from matter into Spirit. Think not to thwart the spiritual ultimate of all things, but come naturally into Spirit through better health and morals and as the result of spiritual growth" (p. 485.)

FREE DISCUSSION GROUP MEETINGS

Winchester has been selected as one of the places to be favored with a branch free study and discussion group of the Henry George School of Social Science.

Once a week, for a period of ten weeks, beginning Tuesday, April 2, at 8 p. m., the Winchester class will meet at the American Legion House.

The objective is to determine the basic causes of wars, unemployment, depressions, in fact what is wrong in a civilization when 10,000,000 people do not have an opportunity for gainful employment. The group teaches no "isms" of any kind. Only the fundamentals of economics and social philosophy necessary for an intelligent appraisal of conditions are studied and discussed. The classes are non-political, non-sectarian, and not a cent of profit accrues to anyone connected with this educational movement.

The school calls attention to the fact that the word "economics" is not as "high hat" as it sounds; that "economies" is simply the study of earning a living in society.

The question and answer method of teaching is employed and a discussion follows each question. There are no examinations. All that is necessary is common sense and a desire to know what it is all about.

The Winchester class is conducted by Mr. Winthrop L. Upton who has been thoroughly grounded in the ideas expounded.

Readers of the "Winchester Star" both men and women, are invited to attend these free lectures. It is suggested that you attend the opening night and then decide whether you will care to continue for the entire series. There is no obligation incurred by anyone.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL NOTES

On Friday, March 8, grade 1 presented an assembly program. The theme was an outgrowth of their study of pets. Henry Mustin was the announcer. Judith Snell recited "My Kitten," ad Joan McFarlane recited "The Animal Store." Two songs, "My Doggy" and "Flippety-Flap" were sung by the following:

John Farrell	Bernard Crowley
Richard Errico	Charles Newhall
John Welch	Erdine Maddock
Daniel Delorey	Joseph Conley
Leonard Slack

A group read fluently and with ease a story from one of their readers. It was called "The Story of the Little White House." The group included these children:

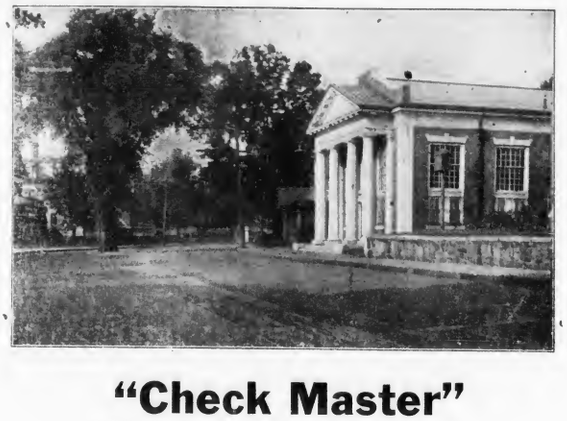

Ann Dillingham	Rose Carole Staffieri
Dorothy Parker	Warren O'Shea
John Borden	John Doherty
Rickey Ives	Martha Whiting

Original stories about pets were told in an interesting manner Austin Pryor told about his dog. Richard Carroll about his cats. Joan Quigley about her goldfish, Patsy Harrold about her canary, and Alvan Siegal about his baby sister.

Through the study of pets the reading of grade 1 had been stimulated, and created tendencies in some encouraged.

BOSTON MUTUAL LIFE REPORTS LARGE GAINS FOR 1939

Increases in Assets, Insurance in Force and Income Announced by President Benton

The sturdy, consistent growth which has marked the development of the Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company in recent years, continued its upward movement during 1939, according to the annual statement just issued by President Jay R. Benton.

On December 31, the number of policyholders was 280,150, a gain of 10,008 for the year. The total admitted assets stood at $14,141,389, having increased during the year $835,698.

First mortgage investments amounted to $1,433,803; most of them are in residential properties in the Boston Metropolitan District. Federal Housing Loans amounted to $241,916. The mortgage portfolio showed a return of 5.36 per cent. Only one foreclosure was added during 1939.

The Company owns by foreclosure 165 parcels of real estate with a book value of $1,164,317. 127 of these are in Massachusetts, the net return being 2.93 per cent. The Company has continued its policy of liquidating its owned real estate as speedily as conditions and prudent business judgment warrant.

On December 31, liabilities totalled $13,313,575, the greater part of which was the Policy Reserve amounting to $12,619,968 for the fulfillment of policy guarantees. This fund was increased last year by $634,967.

Surplus funds, over and above all reserve requirements and obligations, stood at $677,813.

The directors have voted to pay dividends in 1940 on the same liberal basis as last year and over $225,000 has been allocated for this year's dividends, the largest amount since the Company has been doing business.

The income received during 1939 exceeded all disbursements by $837,154. New Policy loans decreased 20 per cent in number and 13 per cent in cash; cash surrenders decreased 7½ per cent in amount. Mortality experience was again favorable and was responsible for 90 per cent of the increase in operating gains in 1939 over 1938.

The splendid record of progress made by the Boston Mutual is largely attributable to the type of management which it enjoys.

The officers are: President, Jay R. Benton, formerly Attorney-General of Massachusetts; Secretary - Treasurer, Edward C. Mansfield; Actuary, Byron Wright; Superintendent of Agencies, William H. Moody.

TOWN MEETING DISSOLVED

town departments and especially the Finance Committee who he assured the meeting really have to be "shown." Mr. Cullen's motion to investigate was lost on a voice vote.

Article 30 seeking to provide a committee to investigate real estate valuations was indefinitely postponed. So too was action on the proposal to burn dead grass on vacant land as a fire prevention measure. Indefinite postponement was also voted on the question of printing or omitting the tax list of personal and real estate in the town report. The sum of $150 was voted under a motion offered by Mr. Sullivan to plant trees on Cross street near Verplast avenue as screen from the excessive dust there.

Action on the proposal championed by Mr. Davidson to change the building laws with respect to gas ranges was laid on the table, after Mr. Lyman of the Board of Appeal and Mr. Dinneen, building inspector, had urged further study of the matter. Provision was made for study of the proposed change by a committee.

Returning to the article on committees, postponed from the first meeting, it was voted to establish a committee of three, to be appointed by the Moderator, to consider the inequalities of salaries paid town officers and employees, exclusive of school executives and teachers, fire and policemen and the town librarian. Mr. Nichols championed the motion, calling attention to what he believes is "discrimination" in salaries being paid clerical workers at the town hall.

Mr. Farnsworth moved to amend the motion to consider all salaries. Mr. Schneider, who had introduced the original motion, voiced opposition to considering police and fire and especially school salaries, believing the job of acting upon school salaries particularly is one for a trained expert.

Mr. Farnsworth's amendment was lost and the original motion carried, with another providing for a committee of five, four to be appointed by the Moderator, and one to be a Selectmen, said committee to consider the feasibility of making alterations to the town hall or in any way improving it, or its use by the town.

A third committee was appointed to conduct a survey of parking facilities in or near the square and make recommendations for their improvement at the next annual or special town meeting. One member each of the Selectmen, Park Board, Planning Board and School Committee is to serve on the committee with a merchant to be appointed by the Moderator.

Mr. Cameron spoke in favor of this motion, telling something of the problem besetting the merchants of the town through lack of parking space and prompt action was urged by Mr. Ford, speaking as one of the merchants affected.

At this point Mr. Cullen again entered the lists to seek the appointment of a committee of 14, to consider the defects of the present limited form of town meeting in Winchester and make any recommendations proper for improving the working of the act here.

He repeated his remarks about the number of town meeting members who are directly "interested" in articles under discussion and asked that in all fairness the committee be appointed to see if the act as it operates in Winchester can not be improved.

No one spoke in opposition but the vigor of the shouted "no" caused the Moderator to believe the motion lost. Immediately doubt was expressed, even by members of the "solid south" and a polled vote was taken, the motion being carried 118 to 37.

This brought the meeting to the consideration of Article 27, under which it was proposed to increase the Board of Public Welfare from three to five members. Mr. Schneider stated that the Finance Committee, after careful study, felt the committee should be increased. Mr. Bates concurred. So did Mr. Nichols. In general the arguments for the increase were the amount of money spent by the Board of Public Welfare, the great responsibility of the members which should be lightened and the need for injecting more of a social welfare note in the functioning of the department.

Mr. Andrews objected at great length, stating that the committee has nothing to do with money spent under WPA projects voted by the town, that it merely certifies whom it believes should have aid, that its duties are fixed by law and that enlarging the board will not relieve the responsibility of any of its members, but can make it more difficult to arrive at necessary decisions quickly.

Mr. Smith read a letter from a State Department of Welfare Research officer in which the opinion was expressed that unless specific conditions seemed to indicate otherwise three is a better number for welfare boards than five. Some 299 of 351 city and town boards are of three members, he said.

Mr. Andrews in his remarks was critical of the investigations conducted by both the Finance Committee and the League of Women Voters, and their researches were defended by an unannounced member of the committee and by Mrs. Worthen.

Mr. McKenzie felt that the enlargement of the Board was an attempt the use Winchester as an experimental guinea pig for human misery. He opposed the change. The question was finally put and the motion to enlarge carried 109 to 56.

Just before the final dissolution, Mr. Rowe moved that a resolution be adopted providing a committee of three, the Moderator and the town's representatives in the General Court to take whatever steps are possible to decrease the number of names necessary for town nomination papers. At 11:55 Mr. Rowe, as usual, moved that the meeting "be now dissolved."

JOHN J. ROBINSON
President of the N. E. Tel. & Tel. Company

MILLIONS FOR IMPROVED TELEPHONE SERVICE

John J. Robinson, president of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, spoke in Cambridge yesterday before a group of 50 supervisory people of the North district of the Telephone Company's metropolitan division. He said that during the next year more than $10,800,000 will be spent for the improvement of telephone service in and around Boston. A substantial part of this sum he said, will be devoted to providing dial service of the most modern type for telephone users in Somerville.

The North district includes the territory bounded by Reading on the north, Winthrop on the east, East Boston on the south and Woburn to the west. Mr. Robinson described it as the most highly industrialized section served by the Telephone Company in five of the New England states, and seat of some of the foremost educational institutions in America.

Within this territory, he said, there are 108,688 telephones representing 8.7 per cent of the total number of telephones served by the Company. This number represents 17 telephones for every 100 population and 70 telephones for every 100 families. A force of 1,412 trained telephone men and women is required to handle business transactions with customers, build and maintain the telephone plant and handle the calls, he said.

Speaking at the Commander Hotel, where he was introduced by Walter M. Crotty, district manager, he said that although the number of telephones in Cambridge has not yet reached the peak of 28,028 that represented the maximum year-end total in December 1930, the city has 3,126 more telephones than it had on Dec. 31, 1933, the low point of the depression for the Telephone Company. Only 325 new telephones, he said, will bring Cambridge to the point of the highest number of telephones it has ever had.

The largest construction job in the district at the present time, he said, is the work of bringing to Somerville the advantages of dial service. It is expected that the change to the new type of service will be made this summer, at which time approximately 14,000 telephones in Somerville will begin to operate through dial equipment.

Each day in the district, Mr. Robinson said approximately 543,440 calls are made, making a total of 197,845,600 calls each year.

Speaking of the Telephone Company as a whole, Mr. Robinson said that although total revenues for the year reached an all-time high of $77,251,142, higher operating expenses, including taxes, kept net earnings down to a comparatively moderate figure. Total telephones in service at the end of 1939 were 1,254,605, which is 10,514 below the peak year-end development of 1931.

Local supervisory employees present at the meeting included: Mary Vaugh, chief operator; Edward Fanning, traffic manager; Michael MacDonald. Robert Stanfield and James Ford, plant supervisors; and John Sullivan, business office manager.

MYSTIC VALLEY CAMERA CLUB

Members of local camera clubs and others interested in photography are invited to attend the meeting of the Mystic Valley Camera Club of Woburn at club headquarters, 18 Union street, Woburn, Wednesday evening, April 10. A representative of the Eastman Kodak Company will give an illustrated lecture on color photography.

Homer Lovering of Stoneham is president of the Mystic Valley Camera Club; Ralph White of Wilmington, vice president; Roger Lohnes of Woburn, secretary - treasurer; and Thomas Hennessy of Woburn, publicity director.

IT'S BEEN A COLD WINTER ANYWAY

Contrary to careless everyday phraseology, when the house becomes chilly it is not because the cold comes in, but because the heat goes out, says the National Geographic Society. Heat energy, in other words, always flows from the warmer to the cooler spots, never in the reverse order. As every janitor knows, there is no such thing as "cold"—at least no set degree. Until a substance reaches absolute zero 459.6 degrees below the Fahrenheit zero point) there is some "heat" in it.

MALDEN STRAND THEATRE

"Vigil in the Night," with Carole Lombard, Brian Aherne and Ann Shirley as the featured players, will headline the bill opening at the Strand Theatre in Malden today. Briefly, it is the story of a nurse, played by Carole Lombard, who has two loves, her work and her young sister, who is also a nurse. She jeopardizes her promising career when she takes the blame for her frivolous sister who causes the death of a patient. "Vigil in the Night" comes on the heels as one of the dramatic gems of the year."

"Oh, Johnny, How You Can Love," with Tom Brown, Peggy Moran, Allan Jenkins, Donald Meek, Juanita Quigley, Isabel Jewel, and Betty Jane Rhodes as the players will be the second feature on the bill starting today.

GRANADA THEATRE

"The Shop Around the Corner" with James Stewart and Margaret Sullavan, and "Congo Masie" starring Ann Sothern will be he program opening at the Granada Theatre in Malden today. In "The Shop Around the Corner," James Stewart and Margaret Sullavan are cast as clerks in a novelty shop run by Frank Morgan. The supporting cast includes Joseph Schildkraut, Felix Bressart, Sara Hayden, William Tracy, Inez Courtney and Sarah Edwards.

"Congo Masie" is the further adventures of the irrepressible show girl first introduced to the screen audience as just plain Masie, who got herself all tangled up in complications in the American West.

MYSTIC THEATRE, MALDEN

Headed by an all-star cast, Walter Wanger's "Slightly Honorable," a streamlined story of society scandal, will be the attraction opening today at the Mystic Theatre, Malden. Pat O'Brien, Edward Arnold, Broderick Crawford and Ruth Terry receive top billing in the excellent cast.

"Young As You Feel," the newest of the Jones Family films will be the second feature opening today at the Mystic, and it finds the famous family taking a fling on Broadway.

FOREIGN BOOKS AT PUBLIC LIBRARY

Besides 30 Italian books mentioned in the Star several weeks ago, the Winchester Public Library recently borrowed, for the use of the Winchester readers, about 25 books in French from the Division of Public Libraries. Among them are "Partir" by Dorgeles, "Madame Bovary" by Flaubert, "Maria Chapdelaine" by Hemon, two novels by Andre Maurois, "New York" by Paul Morand and Rolland's "Jean Christophe."

The Library owns over 100 novels and plays in French and hopes to add to this collection in accordance with the demand. Among the novels are ones by Balzac, Daudet, Dezoe, Dumas, Anatole France, Victor Hugo, George Sand, Jules Verne, Voltaire, and Zola. The most popular plays are by Jean Racine, Alfred de Musset and Corneille.

Finnish readers will be interested in the books printed in the Finnish language, including "Seitseman Veljesta" (The Seven Brothers) by Kivi, "Yksin" (Alone) by Aho, an historical novel "Karoliinin Polka" (Karoline's Son) by Kontio, "Ala Nuolaise Ennenkuin Tipahtaa!" (Don't Count Your Chickens Before They are Hatched) by Valtonen, and a translation of our American Doctor's Odyssey.

The Library also owns about 25 Swedish books by Sweden's much loved Selma Lagerlof, by Viktor Rydberg, Karl-Erik Forsslund, Marika Stjernstedt, transations of Kate Douglas Wiggin's books, and other well known authors.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

Eggs again are the headline food of the week both for abundance and low cost. The drop in butter prices was halted by government buying. Cheese prices are unchanged and it is one of our best foods, nutritionally speaking. Cora Anthony of the A. & P. Kitchen recommends that cheese or egg and cheese dishes be included in your menus this week.

Meats are generally a little higher with lamb leading the list. More fish is being landed but still the demand equals the supply, which keeps prices firm. Poultry is still low though prices are a little higher.

Spinach, peas and the cabbage family continue to be the best values among geen vegetables. Salad greens also are inexpensive. String beans and a few others are still prohibitive in cost.

Recommended additions to the list of reasonable fruits are fresh pineapple and rhubarb.

Here are three dinners at three price levels,

Low Cost Dinner
Boiled Smoked Calli Ham
Candied Sweet Potatoes Spinach
Bread and Butter
Vanilla Pudding with Chocolate Sauce
Tea or Coffee Milk

Moderate Cost Dinner
Chuck Roast of Beef
Scalloped Potatoes
Broccoli with Lemon Butter
Bread and Butter
Stewed Fresh Rhubarb Cookies
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner
Fresh Pineapple Cup
Baked Fresh Ham Candied Yams
New Asparagus in Cream
Green Salad

Strawberry Sundae Cookies

THE WORLD AT WAR

With the Russo-Finnish peace that subtracted 196,000,000 people from the total score of belligerent populations, the warring world still adds up, roughly, to more than a billion people—or well over 50 per cent of the earth's entire population, says the National Geographic Society. Largest belligerent group (in terms of national population) is that of the United Kingdom, with approximately 484,000,000 under its banner. This figure accounts for the inhabitants in all of Britain's colonies, dependencies, and mandates, with the exception of Palestine. The French Empire, also with an expected mandate (that of Syria) has around 115,000,000 people. Under German, including her share of conquered Poland, as well as the former Czech territory, and the dependency of Slovakia, is a population of some 107,000,000. In the Far East, China's unoccupied territory now holds an estimated 300,000,000 people; while Japan, plus her colonies, mandates, and the conquered Chinese, accounts for about 280,000,000. Even when there were three world conflicts, instead of the present two, Uncle Sam officially listed the world's belligerents only as follows: Germany, Poland, France, the United Kingdom, India, Australia, Canada, New Zealand and South Africa.

SUPERINTENDENT QUINN TO ADDRESS PARENTS

Junior High School Associates Plan Program

On Tuesday evening April 2 in the high school auditorium the Winchester Junior High School Associates are presenting a program of definite interest to parents of pupils in the Senior and Junior High Schools.

Supt. James J. Quinn will speak on "Our Secondary Schools and Their Problems." Mr. Quinn has recently attended the meeting of school administrators in St. Louis, Mo., and the Chicago convention of the Progressive Education Association. These national organizations gave considerable time to the discussion of the secondary school. The increase in high school attendance and the need for vocational and practical courses due to changing times and conditions have brought problems to the schools which have to be met. Mr. Quinn will tell how different sections of the country are dealing with this problem.

Also on the program will be Lt. Joseph J. O'Connell of the Brookline Police. Lieutenant O'Connell is in charge of the school safety work and his experiences and remarks will be of help to all working to better our Winchester traffic problems. His subject will be "Can the Bicycle Situation be Solved?" Lieutenant O'Connell will be introduced by Mr. W. Leicester Fox, of the Massachusetts State Safety Council.

This is the regular mid-year meeting of the Associates. It is hoped that all members will be able to arrange to attend. A cordial invitation to be present has been sent to all Senior High School parents and the faculty. Also several groups who have been giving the subject of traffic safety their attention have been notified that they will be welcome to hear Lieutenant O'Connell.

VASSAR TEA

Mrs. James Nowell of Stratford road will open her home for a Vassar tea on Friday afternoon, April 5, at 4 o'clock. This is the first time that a Vassar gathering of any sort has met in Winchester. The committee in charge was surprised to be given a list of more than 40 persons who might be interested to attend.

The tea officially opens the campaign in Winchester to raise money for the Vassar 75th Anniversary Fund. Vassar has not asked for any contributions except for the regular ones from her alumnae since 1921.

The recent decrease in all incomes now make it necessary to raise funds for salaries and scholarships. This money will not be spent for buildings or new equipment.

There will be a short talk during the tea about the present status of the college, including its contributions to foreign relief. Questions will be most welcome.

Anyone interested in Vassar or in meeting Winchester alumnae, is cordially invited to come.

The Winchester Committee for the Vassar 75th anniversary fund includes Mrs. Langley C. Keyes, chairman; Mrs. Fulton Brown, Mrs. J. Girard Chandler, 2nd, Mrs. Richard J. Clark and Mrs. Herman F. Pike.

TENNIS COURTS MAY BE READY APRIL 19

The Park Department will make every effort to have the town tennis courts at Palmer street, Loring avenue, Ginn Field, and Leonard Field ready for use by April 19. The hard courts at Leonard will of course be all right, but whether the frost will be out of the other surfaces in time to have them ready by Patriot's Day is a question. Park Department employees report that the frost has stayed in the ground longer this year than any other time since the Palmer street courts were constructed. Nothing can of course be done until it is completely out of the surfaces to be put in shape.

Tennis devotees at Palmer street will find that the winter has brought improved facilities to this popular sports center. Last fall the old rotting timbers edging the sidewalk above the number 1 court were replaced with a concrete wall, and this spring the wall has been extended to include the territory above the number 5 court so that a good seat has been provided for the railbirds all along the courts generally used for tournament play.

ENGAGEMENT OF WINCHESTER INTEREST

Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Webb Hill of Jamaica Plain announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Penelope Hill, to John Dwinell, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Fisher Dwinell of Prospect street.

Miss Hill, who is a graduate of the Winsor School, made her debut in the 1936-37 season and is a member of the Junior League.

Mr. Dwinell attended the Middlesex School and was graduated from Harvard in 1938. His clubs include the Hasty Pudding Institute of 1770 and the D. U.

GRADUATED FROM SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY

Miss Evelyn M. Corey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston E. Corey, of 7 Cliff street, this town, has been awarded her bachelor of arts degree from the College of Liberal Arts at Syracuse University, it was announced last week by Keith J. Kennedy, registrar.

Miss Corey completed requirements for graduation during the fall semester, majoring in zoology.

One of 14 students to receive degrees from the College of Liberal Arts at midyear, Miss Corey was a 1935 graduate of Winchester High.

HIGH SCHOOL VAU-DEVILERS AWAIT GONG

Annual Feature Show This Evening

The long awaited Vau-Devil Show, one of the real red letter events on the social program of the Winchester High School, takes place this evening in the school auditorium commencing at 8 o'clock.

Oldsters, or at least oldsters with young ideas, medium oldsters and all youngsters will revel in this extravaganza of talent which each year eclipses all previous petormances and sends the audience home with something new and different to rave about.

Really this Vau-devil show is a good show. It packs them in and keeps them happy. Seats are always at a premium, so if you have decided to go this year and find out why the neighbors are never at home on Vau-devil night, get down early. The old S. R. O. sign has been hung out every year.

Just take a look at the program and see if you can afford to miss this all star bill:

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

On Monday, April 1, the Winchester League of Women Voters is to have an all day meeting, from 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. George Y. Brayley, 84 Cambridge street. The president, Mrs. William Cusack will preside.

All members are urged to attend the morning program which will be devoted to discussions, led by the department chairmen, on the State and National programs.

There is to be a box luncheon at noon and coffee will be served by Mrs. Bowe and her committee.

Mrs. Horner will introduce the speaker for the afternoon. Dr. Mary Lakeman, who will speak on Health Insurance.

Friends are cordially invited to join us in the afternoon session.

TOWN GETS STATE INCOME FUNDS

Winchester has received its return of Massachusetts State income funds for the first six months of the year, amounting in round figures to $37,456. There will be another return in November.

This money can be used for any purpose the town desires, but a great part of that received later in the year has to be returned to the State.

Incidentally at the treasurer's office at the town hall on Wednesday 550 pay roll checks had been made out along with 200 additional checks for bills.

ART ASSOCIATION TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Winchester Art Association will be held Tuesday evening, April 2, at 8 o'clock in the art gallery of the public library.

In addition to the election and the reports of the various officers the meeting will serve as the opening of the exhibition of local talent which will run through next month. All members of the association are urged to attend.

EPIPHANY RECTOR IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Rev. Dwight Hadley, Wife and Daughter Injured

Rev. Dwight W. Hadley of the Church of the Epiphany, his wife and daughter, Miss Martha Hadley, were painfully injured Wednesday in an automobile accident at Beacon Falls in Derby, Conn.

The Hadleys, whose home is at the Episcopal Rectory in Glengarry, were driving to Waterbury, Conn., to return Martha to St. Margaret's School after her Easter vacation. According to police accounts of the accident their car skidded on the icy pavement and crashed into a ledge, damaging the machine and injuring its occupants.

All were taken to the Griffin Hospital in Derby where it was found that in addition to a severe shaking up, Mr. Hadley had sustained a broken nose and lacerations of the head and face, Mrs. Hadley had sustained a fractured knee and Martha, a concussion of the brain. None was thought to have been seriously injured.

Dr. Torr W. Harmer, senior warden of the Church of the Epiphany, called the hospital yesterday, and was able to talk for a short time with Mr. Hadley, who stated that it would be several days at least before any of them would leave the hospital.

HENRY F. LUNT

Henry F. Lunt of 185 Mystic Valley Parkway, a life-long and well known resident of Winchester, died Wednesday afternoon at the Malden Hospital, after a brief illness with pneumonia. He had been ill for about a week, but had been up and attending to his business as usual until Monday when he was persuaded to go to the hospital. His condition was critical when he was admitted and grew steadily worse until the end.

Mr. Lunt was a collector for the Periodical Publisher's Service Bureau in Boston. He was born June 4, 1869 in Winchester, the son of Charles F., and Sarah W. (Ford) Lunt. The family home was first on Mt. Vernon street, now forming a part of the Home for Aged People, and later on Fairview terrace. He served the town as election officer in 1894 and again in 1910-11. In 1896 he held the old time office of field driver whose duties were to keep domestic animals in their proper places.

Mr. Lunt was a member of the Boston City Club, John T. Wilson Camp, Sons of Veterans; and of the First Congregational Church. He was very active in Sons of Veterans' circles and was known throughout the state for his long participation in Memorial Day parades. For 36 years, with the exception of 1938 when illness prevented, he carried the G. A. R. colors in the local Memorial Day parades, going over the long hot routes in remarkable fashion for one of his years. Last May he was able to serve after his year's absence from duty.

Mr. Lunt was the last of his immediate family. He leaves three cousins, Mrs. Emma L. Foster, Mrs. Mary A. Schofield, both of Cambridge; and Mrs. Gladys S. Tarbell of this town.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m. in Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church, with Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

DINNER HONORS ARTHUR W. DEAN

Arthur W. Dean of this town for many years chief engineer of the state department of public works and the state planning board, was honored last night at a dinner in the Boston Chamber of Commerce building by several hundred friends, including public officials, engineers and members of the planning boards of seven states.

Dean is retiring to engage in private consulting practice. He will continue to serve now, as chairman of the Metropolitan Planning Division, to which he was named recently by Governor Saltonstall.

Miss Elisabeth M. Herlihy, chairman of the state planning board, introduced Arthur D. Weston, chief engineer of the department of public health, who served as toastmaster at the dinner.

MISS MILLS ENGAGED

The engagement of Miss Marjorie E. Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos S. Mills of 52 Garden street, Cambridge, to C. Mason Aldrich, Jr., of Providence, was announced by her mother, Sunday afternoon, at a tea in the Hotel Commander, Cambridge.

Miss Mills, who made her debut in the season of 1935-36, is the granddaughter of the late Charles Mills of Winchester. She is a graduate of Miss Howe's School, Belmont; Edgewood Park Junior College, Briarcliffe, N. Y., and the Erskine School. Mr. Aldrich prepared at Moses Brown and was graduated from Brown University with the class of 1936.

A fall wedding is expected.

WARNING

Commander Edward D. Fitzgerald of Aberjona Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Winchester, has asked the Star to warn townspeople that the local post is not at present sponsoring a dance and are not selling tickets for one. Any such representation is false.

The Winchester Post of the American Legion is planning to start a post of Sons of the American Legion.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

Annual Meeting and Luncheon at Winchester Country Club

The annual meeting and luncheon of the Winchester Women's Republican Club will be held at the Country Club on Wednesday, April 3. Luncheon will be served at 1 p. m. and reservations must be made before 10 a. m. on Monday, April 1. Mrs. Fred S. Scales is in charge of the luncheon tickets.

For the program the Education Committee has prepared questions, which are based currently on matters that are much in the papers on facts any Republican should know and partly on what has been presented by the committee, during the year. The audience will be divided into two parts, with a contest to see which half can do best with the questions presented. There will also be brief mention of the possible Republican candidates for President.

EDWARD A. McDONOUGH

Edward A. McDonough of 4 Hillside avenue, retired Bell Telephone official, died Wednesday evening, March 27, at the Winchester Hospital, after an illness of three months. He was 56 years old.

Mr. McDonough was the son of Michael and Mary (Beston) McDonough. He was born in Salem, and educated in that city, first entering the Bell Telephone service 34 years ago with the New England system in Boston. From Boston he became associated with the long distance lines of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. in New York, and later was for 26 years associated with the Pennsylvania Bell Telephone Company, rising to the position of division traffic superintendent for Western Pennsylvania with headquarters in Pittsburg.

Because of ill health Mr. McDonough retired four years ago, coming at that time from Pittsburg to make his home in Winchester. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth D. McDonough, whom he married in Bradford June 25, 1908; his mother, a daughter, Miss Marion E. McDonough of this town; two sons, Edward A., Jr., of Pittsburg, and George R. McDonough of Winchester; two sisters, Miss Mary B. McDonough of Odessa, Del., and Mrs. James Fullerton of Beverly Cove; and a brother, John L. McDonough of Lewiston, Me.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning from the late residence at 9:15 o'clock, with high mass of requiem in St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock. Interment will be in St. James Cemetery, Haverhill.

FLORENCE CRITTENTON LUNCHEON BRIDGE

Mrs. A. Allen Kimball is chairman of the annual luncheon and bridge which the Winchester Circle of the Florence Crittenton League is giving on Wednesday, April 10 at 1:15 p. m. in Metcalf Hall at the Unitarian Church.

Mrs. Kimball's committee consists of Mrs. E. Ober Pride in charge of tickets; Mrs. Francis E. Booth, Mrs. Nicholas B. Browne, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, Mrs. Chandler W. Symmes, Mrs. Arthur T. Rogde, Mrs. Paul J. Rocray and Mrs. Walter S. Dickson. Mrs. Dickson will be in charge of the sale of home-cooked food which is always so popular at these annual parties.

Members of the Winchester Junior Circle will serve as waitresses under Mrs. Daniel Barnard.

Mrs. Kingman Cass will be in charge of the dining room assisted by the following members of the board: Mrs. Roland Fletcher, Mrs. Benjamin Hill, Mrs. Harold Meyer, Mrs. Vincent Clarke, Mrs. Fred Ritchie, Mrs. Wilburt Kinsley, Mrs. John Johnson, Mrs. Walter Winshin, Mrs. Woodford Wilcox and Mrs. Herbert T. Wadsworth.

The following menu will be served:

Southern Chicken Shortcake
Cranberry and Pineapple Relish
Spring Salad Bowl
Butterscotch Rolls
Lime Sherbert Home-made Cookies
Coffee

The committee is busily at work and fell very much encouraged by the large number of tables already taken.

EDUCATIONAL EXHIBIT BY LOCAL SCHOOL CHILDREN

A demonstration of the educational methods being used in the Secondary Schools will be given in the Fortnightly Hall on Wednesday, April 3, at 2:30. Representative groups from the different schools will present original acts typifying their activities in the new type of Socialized Education.

The Education Committee of the Fortnightly, through its Chairman, Mrs. Leon D. Hughes, extends a cordial invitation to all Winchester parents to attend this unusually interesting program.

FOUR PASTORS TO EXCHANGE PULPITS SUNDAY

The annual exchange of pulpits by the Protestant Ministers of Winchester will take place next Sunday at the usual hour of worship in each of the following churches:

Methodist Church: Rev. R. M. Rushton.

Baptist Church: Rev. George Hale Reed.

Unitarian Church: Rev. Howard J. Chidley.

First Congregational Church: Rev. Roger E. Makepeace.

Church of the Epiphany: Rev. William S. Packer.

Some wild ducks were seen in the river next to the Central Hardware Store this week.

SALE OF ARTICLES MADE BY THE BLIND

Would you like to be introduced to a seeing eye dog? Would you like to watch a blind girl doing more exquisite weaving than you ever dreamed was possible? Would you enjoy watching a blind girl spin yarn—another work with hammered pewter? Would you like to examine a talking book, the project of the Massachusetts Junior Club Women for this year? Would you like to meet Lawrence Thompson, a grandson of a beloved Winchester club woman, Beatrice Thompson, and see the many interesting things on his Educational table? And would you like to meet the charming Miss Rose Trainer, head of the Division of the Blind in Massachusetts, and hear her interesting stories of her work among the blind in our state?

All these things are possible—just come to the Town Hall on Thursday or Friday, April 4 or 5, and see how little handicapped these brave soldiers are by the loss of their sight. Come and join the fun—see all your friends—and help them out in the good work of helping the blind to become self supporting.

Mrs. Michael Hintlian, chairman of the committee in charge of the sale, has announced the following church and club organizations in charge of tables for Thursday:

The Fortnightly—Mrs. Rasmus K. Miller
Fortnightly Juniors—Mrs. Donald Ash
Better Homes Garden Club—Mrs. Robert R. Elliott
League of Women Voters—Mrs. Harold Fuller
Catholic Daughters—Mrs. Manlino G. Moffeo

SULLIVAN—OUTRIDGE

On Easter Sunday afternoon, March 24, at 3 o'clock, in St. Mary's Rectory, Miss Eleanor Iris Outridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Outridge of Frank street, Woburn, became the bride of James Charles Sullivan of this town, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan of Nelson street. Rev. Fr. Joseph E. McGoldrick performed the marriage ceremony, at which the bride and bridegroom were attended by Miss Mildred Outridge of Woburn, sister of the bride, and the bridegroom's brother, Joseph Sullivan of Woburn.

The bride wore a full-skirted gown of ivory silk taffeta having a long train. Her simply arranged finger-tip veil was of tulle and she carried a bouquet of Easter lilies. The honor maid wore a dress of horizon pink chiffon, trimmed with misty blue, and a small matching flowered toque. Her bouquet of American Beauty roses was tied with ribbon matching the blue trimmings of her dress.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the bride and bridegroom entering to the strains of the Wedding March from Lohengrin played by the bride's sister, Miss Barbara Outridge. Easter lilies and ferns made a most artistic background for the receiving line.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Montreal Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan will make their home at 45 Park street in Stoneham.

The bride is a graduate of Woburn High School and attended Fisher Business College. Previous to her marriage she was employed as a secretary at the J. H. Winn's Sons watch-hand factory in Winchester. Mr. Sullivan, who is also employed at the watch-hand factory, is a graduate of Winchester High School.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO HEAR DR. STEARNS

Dr. Alfred E. Stearns, headmaster, emeritus of Phillips Andover Academy, will speak to the Young People of Winchester at the Senior Forum meeting in Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church Sunday morning, March 31 at 9:30 a. m.

An invitation to hear Dr. Stearns has been extended to the Young People of all the Winchester Churches.

Dr. Stearns has been a leader and counsellor of youth for nearly half a century. His wide experience in working with young people has given him a genuine understanding of what youth is thinking.

Dr. Stearns is one of the most outstanding men in the field of secondary education. He is the author of number of books, and is in great demand as a speaker for schools and colleges throughout America.

The Young People of Winchester are fortunate in having so distinguished a guest and speaker! All Young People cordially invited.

CANEY CREEK CRUSADERS TO VISIT WINCHESTER

Winchester will be privileged to hear the Caney Creek Crusaders Friday evening, April 5, when a group of 11 virile young men from Caney Creek Junior College at Pippagrass, Kentucky, and their mountaineer leader, will appear at the parish hall of the Church of the Epiphany under the auspices of the young people's societies of the Winchester churches and the Fortnightly Woman's Club. It should be understood at once that there will be no admission charge, and no collection will be taken, facts which in themselves make the affair most unique.

The Caney Creek Crusaders are making Winchester one of the stopping points of their current spring tour, the purpose of which is the promotion of education and goodwill. Through the medium of these young men increasing numbers of residents of more cultured communities are coming to know about the Caney Creek Community Center at Pippagrass in the Kentucky Mountains and the splendid work that is being done there with the under privileged residents of that region.

The Crusaders' coming to Winchester is the result of a visit paid last summer by Mrs. Paul Howard, president of the Fortnightly, to her old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd, who has worked for 50 years among the poor whites around Pippagrass and is the head of the Caney Creek Community Center there.

What Mrs. Howard saw and heard at the Center made her want Winchester residents to know of the work being done there and prompted her to arrange for the Crusaders to stop in Winchester on their current spring tour of the North.

The young men will come to Winchester from Melrose where they are booked to appear before the Old State House Chapter of the D. A. R. They are making their tour in donated automobiles and the only expense to Winchester will be their entertainment which will be provided by members of the various young people's societies.

The Crusaders will present a varied program, comprising a short mountain play, speeches dealing with conditions in the mountains and the work of the Caney Creek Community Center, singing of mountain ballads, and an open forum for questions the audience may wish to ask.

The boys are very versatile and no strangers to the entertainment platform, having appeared before such representative organizations as Boston Rotary Club, Los Angeles Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club of Springfield, Lions Club of Tacoma, American Association of University Women in Washington, D. C., Beaver Country Day School, Boston; State Teachers' College, Montclair, N. J.; Peoria, Ill., Y. W. C. A., and many others.

The public is cordially invited to hear the Crusaders at the Epiphany Church on April 5. The program will commence at 8 o'clock. Remember, no admission and no collection!

ON SUFFOLK SPORTS HOP COMMITTEE

Robert L. Harkins of Eaton street, a member of the class of 1941 at the Suffolk University Law School, was a member of the decorations committee for the recent Sports Hop which drew a record crowd to the university.

Mr. Harkins, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Harkins, gave a final dramatic touch to the sports motif of the decorations when he entered the hall in full ski costume with his skis on his shoulder.

"Bob" is prominent in extra-curricular activities at the university, being sports editor of the "Suffolk Journal,"to which he contributes a column entitled, "Behind the Eight Ball," and a member of the varsity tennis team. In the March 19 edition of the journal, in addition to his column, he contributed a feature article and a poem.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

The Literature Group will hold its final meeting of the year in Fortnightly Hall on Monday April 1, at 2 o'clock. Two current novels, "Land Below the Wind," by Agnes Newton Keith, and "How Green Was My Valley," by Richard Llewellyn, will be reviewed by Vesta Keeney.

The program of the day will be, "Children's Books." Mary Downes will discuss "Fairy Tales and Folk Lore," Martina Evans will tell about "Children's Picture Books," and Edith Ellis will take "Favorite Books of Children Between the Ages of 6 and 12," and will include school text books in her discussion.

There will be an exhibit of books from the Children's Room of the Winchester Public Library, which will illustrate each version of the program and acquaint Fortnightly parents with the splendid type of literature available to our children in our Winchester Library.

TWO GRASS FIRES TUESDAY

The Fire Department had a forerunner of its coming spring season Tuesday when alarms for two grass fires were received at the Central Station, the first at noon time for a fire on Allen road, and the second at 3 p. m. for a fire on Chesterford road.

Three hundred thousand guests are expected at the American Legion Convention in Boston next September.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

On Tuesday, April 9, there will be a bridge and fashion show at the Winchester Country Club at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. This is the annual spring bridge run by the members of the chapter and promises to be a grand success.

Before the bridge, a luncheon will be served in the club dining room. This is put on by the Country Club for the convenience of the Guild members and their friends. All those who wish to make reservations for the luncheon, should call Mrs. Edward McDevitt, Win. 1835-W.

After the bridge there will be a fashion show by Filene's. A beautiful showing of spring and summer clothes will be displayed. Many of our members will act as models as well as several professional models.

Tickets for the bridge are in charge of Mrs. Charles Doherty, tel. Win. 0683-W.

OF WINCHESTER INTEREST

The March 23 issue of the Boston Traveler in its feature column, headed "Through the Years," under the 50 year caption refers to the presentation to the Town of Acton of a Memorial Library.

The donor was the Hon. William A. Wilde of Malden and Boston, a native of Acton, member of the Legislature, and grandfather of former Selectman W. Allan Wilde of this town.

The Traveler places the date when the library was presented to Acton as March 24, 1890. Mr. Wilde, the donor's grandson, is of the opinion that the actual date was somewhat later in the year. He has often visited the library which contains a memorial room housing a very interesting collection of revolutionary relics.

MICHELE PIZZANO

Michele Pizzano, a resident of Winchester for more than half a century, died Tuesday morning, March 26, at his home, 98 Harvard street, after a long illness. He was 73 years old.

Mr. Pizzano was born in Italy, but came to this country as a young man and for more than 50 years had been a resident of Winchester, holding membership in the Christopher Columbus Society of this town. For 25 years he was employed as a gelatine worker by the J. O. Whitten Company of this town, retiring from active work several years ago.

Mr. Pizzano leaves his wife, Mrs. Maria (Cauppico) Pizzano, and five daughters, Mrs. Henry Kardezeski and the Misses Jennie, Nellie, Josephine, and Helen Pizzano, all of Winchester.

The funeral was held from the late residence this Friday morning with requiem high mass celebrated in St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

MRS. ELLEN HURLBURT

Mrs. Ellen Hurlburt, widow of William Hurlburt and a life-long resident of this town, died Sunday evening, March 24, after a long period of declining health.

Mrs. Hurlburt was born in Winchester, educated in the Winchester schools and spent her entire life in this town, having a wide circle of friends among older residents. She leaves no immediate survivors.

The funeral was held yesterday morning from the Moffette & McMullen funeral home on Thompson street. Requiem high mass was celebrated in St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

LIONS CLUB NOTES

The regular weekly meeting held last Thursday was augmented by the presence of two new members, Lion Oliver and Lion White. The club takes this opportunity to extend publically to these new Lions a very hearty welcome. It is the consensus among the members that Lionism and all that it stands for will be greatly benefited by the addition of two such members.

Brother Lion Bill Murray was presented with a membership key as a reward for his recruiting activities. A fine accomplishment and a worthwhile reward. However, excited or not excited, George Prescott still sees no reason why Bill should indulge on anothers generosity. Probably a slip of the tongue.

Another reward, symbolic of a genuine interest in Lionism, was made to Tom Woods. For his 100 per cent attendance during the past year he received the perfect attendance button. Who's next?

Billfolds at the Star Office.

Help Promote Safety—Dim Your Lights When Passing

IN other, blunter words, why be satisfied to trail?

Why buy a car that's content to follow along—when little, if any, more money will put you in a Buick up where the banners are flying?

For this year's automotive style pattern was cut by Buick a good twelve months ago.

This year's performance tempo was set two years back when the Buick Dynaflash engine appeared.

And this year's comfort standards still have some catching up to do to equal Buick's combination of four coil springs, recoil-mounted Knee-Action, the SUPER's five-foot front seat room and Foamtex cushions.

Eventually, perhaps, others may find a way to micropoise-balance engines after assembly; they may heavy-up their frames, and generally seek to equal Buick's staunchness.

Meantime you'll have those Buick blessings to enjoy.

You'll drive the style-leader, the comfort-leader, the value-leader—a car full of things that will still be "new" a good two years from now.

And as a visit to your Buick dealer will show, you'll get it at prices like those you find on the sixes, at figures so little above some of the lesser cars that the difference is more than made up by the additional equipment included in Buick's price.

WINCHESTER FANS AT BRUINS' GAMES

Winchester is well represented at the Bruins-Rangers games during the National Hockey League playoffs. One of the box parties at the first game in New York last week included Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Feeley of 19 Ardley road and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Baldwin of 5 Ardley place. At the second game in New York on Tuesday of this week Mrs. William E. Holdich of 5 Parker road also attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, by the way, will, at the end of the present series, have completed three years of attendance at Bruins games, during which time they have never missed a home game at the Boston Garden nor a "playoff" game in Boston or "abroad." The Baldwins plan to accompany the Bruins team to either Detroit or Toronto for the Stanley Cup series, provided, of course, that the Bruins win the present series with the Rangers. Mr. Baldwin is publicity manager of the Boston & Maine and Maine Central Railroads.

THE BRITISH ISLES IN KODACHROME

For the benefit of the organ fund of the Second Congregational Church a program of motion pictures, all in natural color, of a tour of Great Britain and Ireland will be presented by Mr. A. D. Nichols of 59 Yale street, in the church auditorium on the evening of Monday, April 1.

The pictures were taken by Mr. Nichols during a tour of the British Isles which he and Mrs. Nichols made in the summer of 1938.

FOSS—COLUCCI

The marriage of Miss Teresa E. Colucci, daugnter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Colucci of Swanton street, to Woodrow Wilson Foss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Foss of Somerville, took place Easter Sunday afternoon, April 24, in St. Mary's Rectory with Rev. Fr. Joseph E. McGoldrick, officiating.

Miss Colucci was attended by her sister, Miss Lucy Colucci, and Henry Colucci of theis town was groomsman.

The bride wore a short white fur jacket over a gown of white net with a double tulle veil arranged with a pearl trimmed crown. Her flowers were bride's roses and white sweet peas. The honor maid wore an opossum jacket over her powder blue chiffon dress with a small hat of powder blue. She carried pink roses and pink sweet peas.

After the ceremony a large reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. Foss and his bride will spend their honeymoon on a tour of New York, Washington, Cleveland, Chicago, and Detroit. Upon their return they will make their home on Summer street in Medford.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's High School and of Burdette Business College. Mr. Foss attended the Diesel Engine School and is service manager of the West Newton Motor Mart.

WINCHESTER COLLEGE CLUB

Dr. and Mrs. Holbrook Lowell will be hosts to the Evening Study Group at their home, 4 Lakeview road, on Monday evening, April 1; coffee will be served at 7:30. "Modern Glass" will be the subject. Mr. Warren Whitman will discuss "Glass for Utility Purposes" and Mrs. Wayne E. Davis, substituting for Mrs. Gilbert Tapley, will talk on "Glass for Authetic Purposes."

The Architecture Study Group will go on a trip to Salem on Friday, April 5, under the guidance of Mrs. Earl E. Andrews. They will visit the Essex Institute where Mr. Willis Ropes will talk on points of historical interest and conduct the group through the museum. They will also visit the Pingree House and the House of Seven Gables.

On April 26, the Group will visit Historic Cambridge, also under the chairmanship of Mrs. Andrews.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE'S ACTIVITIES

Braving the chill icy blasts that blew constantly from the frosty northland, about 30 young people met at the First Baptist Church at 5:30 and proceeded to the Lawrence Observatory where the Sunrise Service was held on Easter Sunday. Standing on the leeward side of the tower the meeting opened by singing several Easter hymns. Mr. William Palson led the meeting and offered the first of a number of sentence prayers, brought to a close by Rev. R. M. Rushton. Miss Ruth Ormsby told the old and yet still beautiful story of the first Easter.

As the service was carried along the sun rose spreading its glorious rays across the sky. An awe-inspiring sight, a picture that tells its own true story and needs no explanation, showing us the wonderous beauty of God still in His Heaven, as always the light of the world.

When the service was over the young people returned to the church social hall where a hot reviving breakfast was served. By the number of gracious comments about the meal it was certified that Miss Alice Ralph as chairman of the refreshment committee was worthy of her position.

On Sunday evening the time of the usual Youth service was given over to a pageant, "Magda," directed by the youth leader, Miss Ruth Ormsby, who acted the title role. Mr. Charles Downer played opposite her as Thomas. Several other well known church members took part, including many of the young people. As the pageant ended so came to an end another Easter Sunday leaving fresh in our mind the story of the newly risen Christ.

They say a coming aggitation which will develop into a burning issue about town is the opening of our beautiful Manchester Field for an auto park. After all the money our Town has spent in removing the old unsightly tannery, freight yard, coal yard and tenements, it would hardly seem that the citizens will now turn this recreation spot over to the residents of nearby places as a spot to leave their cars while in Boston. Furthermore, there is plenty of parking space on Shore road at an even closer range than the field. No one wants to use it. Why? If Winchester is spending conscious, the removal of some of those unsightly places on Winchester place and in its vicinity could be well considered. The Star trusts and hopes that Winchester will never turn this field, the first real civic beauty and recreation spot, into an auto park.

Eighty-four per cent of the precinct members attended the first session of the recently concluded town meeting, 82 per cent being present at the adjourned session. These are rather better percentages than some we have had in preceeding years but they still leave something to be desired, particularly when one realizes that not a few of those who absent themselves from town meeting do so habitually. The worst instance of this coming to our attention of late is that of one member who has not attended a session since 1937. This sort of thing is all wrong. Precinct members have much more responsibility to attend town meeting than did individuals under the old unlimited form, for they represent many who can not now vote on town matters. They owe it to those whom they represent to attend meetings and to inform themselves upon matters to be decided. They should not accept precinct membership if they do not intend to do so. Some town meeting members permit themselves to be placed on slates for election, knowing they are quite likely to be away during town meeting time. This is unfortunate for in a large majority of instances the absent members are those who one would place in the "independent" voter brackets. The voters who a speaker at the last town meeting referred to as "interested" are always present at the meetings. Every precinct member should be unless prevented by illness. He shouldn't permit himself to be elected unless he intends to be. This committee appointed to investigate the defects of the present form of the limited town meeting in Winchester can well concern itself with getting rid, if possible, of those members who demonstrate a lack of interest in their jobs by failure to attend meetings. There are other defects, of course, but empty seats in the delegates' section of the hall is making our representative town meeting much more limited than those who designed the act under which we operate intended.

SOCRATES SAYS-

"OVER HERE"

Secretary Hull is reported as stating to Congress that the principal reason for continuing Reciprocal Trade Treaties, with one man doing it instead of Congress (the spirit of the Constitution) is that when the World War ends world recovery will be better served.

While we all desire world recovery, why not forget a world New Deal and international meddling and mind our own business?

Nobody alive knows when this war will end, how it will end, nor who, if anyone, will win it. If ever there was a time when our Congress should be in control of international affairs, it's when this war ends. Mr. Hull is exactly wrong.

We have one Democratic President who kept us out of war and who tried to settle the last World War. He even went over there to do it. His "objectives" were altruistic also, but European diplomacy was too smart.

America belongs "over here" and the quicker President Roosevelt and Mr. Hull are told this the safer the United States will be.

The risk which children run in riding two upon a bicycle was clearly shown last evening shortly after 6:30 when a bicycle being ridden by a local boy with a girl upon the handlebars collided with an automobile on Main street in front of Lane's funeral home. The boy rode his bicycle to the left of the machine and in attempting to cut across to the right, the bicycle with its weight on the handle-bars collided with the automobile bumper. The bicycle was damaged but fortunately neither the boy nor girl was injured.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Two members were absent from the meeting of March 28, which is by way of saying that more Winchester Rotarians attended a meeting of the home club than ever before in its history. Yes, you have guessed it; the club now enjoys the largest membership it has ever registered. And still we look for more members.

George Carter has decided that he isn't so sick after all. We were glad to greet him for the first time in three weeks. And Ralph Bonnell is back again also; we noticed no wrinkles on his brow after his experience in jury service. Nor do Curtis Nash and Parker Holbrook lately returned from vacations exhibit signs of furrowed foreheads. It is indeed a pleasure to welcome these recent absentees.

Again we call attention to the District Spring Conference which convenes in Soneham on Friday, April 12. The Governor's Monthly Letter, distributed today, contains full details of the Conference and the accompanying registration cards should be filled out and returned to the secretary before April 6. Winchester Rotarians should make every effort to attend this Conference. Never in the history of our club has it been called in a location so near to Winchester. Stoneham Rotarians deserve great credit for assuming responsibilities as hosts for the Conference and have a right to expect support from their neighbors. They will be greatly encouraged if a large fraction of our membership is in attendance. Send in your registrations as soon as possible. The ladies of Rotary will be most welcome and special entertainment has been provided for them.

Guest speaker at the current meeting was our fellow-townsman, Mr. Robert F. Lybeck, well known chemical engineer of the petroleum industry. As most of us know, the subject of Mr. Lybeck's address, "Petroleum," is extremely complicated and far reaching. The petroleum industry, next to agriculture, is the largest in America, its annual business amounts to one and one-half billion dollars and from it four million people derive their subsistence. Mr. Lybeck, after a brief description of the development of the industry in this country, called our attention to the several recent accomplishments of great significance in this field. American chemists have developed from the octane series, present in petroleum, an aviation full immensely superior to any other now available and this fuel has been retained solely for American aviation. There is a formula from which synthetic rubber can be produced in quantity to when the demand for it arises and in many respects it is superior to natural rubber. The speaker had on exhibition a fabric made from artificial glass which had much the appearance of a fine grade of silk. And there was also a panel of artificial glass, non-shatterable, which gies great promise in the optical field in the manufacture of lenses, etc. Mr. Lybeck, at the close of his address, gave more detailed descriptions of petroleum products to interested members.

It was agreed that this presentation was one of the season's finest and we unanimously appreciate Mr. Lybeck's courtesy in coming to us on very short notice. We are also indebted to Harry Winton for his offices in securing this feature.

NEW HONOR FOR "MACK"

Scanning the list of Selectmen's appointments this week we note that the Board in its wisdom has nominated our fellow scribe, E. P. McKenzie of the Woburn Daily Times, for the important post of fence viewer in the Town of Winchester. This is an appointment which might well be overlooked by some and we hasten to call it to the attention of those who like to see ability recognized in public service.

"Mack" ought to be a good fence viewer. He's seen a lot of fences in his time, though probably those he has viewed most often and with greatest concern have been those over which opposing batters have belted baseballs carelessly thrown by pitchers of semi-pro teams he has managed through the years.

When asked for an interview about this most recent honor thrust upon him, 'Mack" stated that he hadn't entirely made up his mind whether or not to accept the portfolio of fence viewer. He intimated in the event he did take the job he would ask for an immediate raise in pay!

MR. CRAUGHWELL FAVORS TREES

To the Editor of the Star:

As I was unable to attend the town meeting held a week ago last Monday night I was unable to participate in the discussion in regard to planting trees on Cross street. I desire to assert that in my opinion it is a progressive measure that deserves the support of the taxpayers.

Why? Because it will have a tendancy to hide the depressions on Cross street west of Verplast avenue. It certainly will, so to speak, dress up the street. Planting trees from Verplast avenue to Loring avenue will help to solve the dust problem from Loring avenue to the Cross street depot.

I have discovered that the virgin soil, sand and gravel, has been removed, hence the unsightly depressions on the north side of Cross street. From Loring avenue to the depot there is no building of any description in Winchester. On the east side of Cross street from Loring avenue to Washington street there is a farm, gasoline station, grocery store, gasometer, patent leather factory, gelatine factory, the cellar of the old Washington school, the abandoned Highlands R. R. station, the Metropolitan sewer headquarters, several dwelling houses and a church.

From Loring avenue to Washington street there are 70 trees adjacent to Cross street. From Loring avenue to the depot there are seven trees, or in other words there are ten times as many trees east of Loring avenue as there are west of Loring avenue.

The beautiful trees that we admire on Cambridge street are sixty years of age. They were planted by the residents of Cambridge street in the year 1880. To name all these residents would take up too much space. I shall however mention a few names: Samuel W. Twombly, one of the pioneer fathers of our park system; Henry A. Emerson, son of Loring Emerson, one of the first Selectmen of Winchester; Edward Russell, Varnum Locke, Wyman Lock, Stephen Langley, John Ayer and Joseph Purrington. The late John Cummings of the city of Woburn presented the trees to the residents of Cambridge street from Pond street to the Arlington line. Mr. Cummings presented the trees and the abutors planted them. A marvelous cooperation I call the transaction.

Perhaps if the town fathers plant trees west of Loring avenue on Cross street and help cover up the unsightly depressions and ragged ledge, some person 60 years from 1940 (in the year 2000) will assert that the town fathers of 1940 certainly cooperated as did Mr. Cummings and the residents of Cambridge street in the year 1880.

Very truly yours,
Patrick H. Croughwell

GEORGE WASHINGTON SCHOOL NOTES

A Junior Red Cross meeting was held in the George Washington School assembly hall on Friday, March 15, with vice president Rosanne Borden presiding. After the business meeting a program concerning the care of school property was presented by grades 4, 5, and 6.

The fourth grade told about the care of books. A set of rules governing the treatment of old and new books was given. Three members of the fourth grade recited original poems. An original skit showed the pupils in a classroom discussing the care of new books with their teacher.

Grade 5 presented in alphabetical arrangement a set of rules governing good citizenship. These rules embraced all the characteristics of a good citizen.

A one act play, "Winning the Contest," was written and acted by a group from the sixth grade. In the skit a group of pupils resolved to take the best possible care of their school grounds, especially the shrubs around the building, in order to win a contest for the best-kept school yard.

The program proved that the members of grades 4, 5, and 6 had realized at least one aspect of good citizenship—the care of the property of others.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Frank R. MacNeill wish to express their grateful appreciation to their friends and neighbors for the beautiful flowers and other expressions of sympathy extended them during their recent bereavement. They wish especially to thank the Winchester Lodge of Elks, teachers of the Mystic School and the employees of J. H. Winn's Sons for their kindness.

DOLL SHOW

Each Brownie entered one or two dolls having 25 in all.

Mrs. Earle E. Andrews, president of the Doll Collectors of America and Mrs. Harold Wright of Westford, who has a large collection of dolls were judges. First prize for the American doll went to Nancy Newhall, 8 Kenwin road. First prize for the best foreign doll went to Sandra Torngren of Highland avenue, and first prize for most unusual went to Beth McCall, 8 Alben street. Many others were given blue, red, and white ribbons.

The Brownies also did a Major Bowes program for their mothes and teachers, with prizes going to Marguerite Derro, for her clever tap dancing while jumping rope; also Sandra Torngren, age 8, for an accordian selection and Nancy Newhall, a piano solo.

Mrs. Harold Farnsworth, our Scout Commissioner, came to the party and the Brownies recited their promise and sang the Smile Song for her.

Refreshments were served by the teachers of sandwiches, ice cream and cake which ended a delightful party.

PAST NOBLE GRAND SERVICE CLUB

Following the business meeting the following were installed by Sister Kathleen Cameron assisted by Sister Mabel Larson: president, Sister Lillian Donaghey; vice president, Sister Ruth Good; secretary and treasurer, Sister Jessie Ripley; sick committee, Sister Kathleen Cameron; press committee, Sister Bessie Mobbs.

The club is to have a dinner party on the evening of Friday, April 26 to be followed by a theatre party at the Colonial Theatre, it is hoped that all our past noble grand's can attend.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her sister, Mabel Larson. The next meeting will be held at the home of Sister Bessie Mobbs, 57 Lake street, Tuesday evening, April 30.

LEGION WELFARE BRIDGE

The Welfare Committee of Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, is sponsoring a bridge and whist to be held Thursday evening, April 4, at 8 o'clock in Lyceum Hall.

Proceeds from the party will go to swell the Post's welfare funds used to alleviate suffering and distress of needy veterans and their dependants. More and more calls for assistance are being received by the Welfare Committee all the time, and bridge and whist party is being run with a view to increasing the funds available for welfare work.

Charles D. Roche, Martin Foley and Past Commander Nathan Thumim are the committee in charge of arrangements for next Thursday's party. They have secured many fine prizes and promise all who attend a pleasant evening.

SUNDAY SERVICES

Sunday, March 31, 1940

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, WINCHESTER

Sunday Services and Sunday School 10:45 A. M.

Wednesday testimonial meeting, 7:45 P. M.

Reading room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street.) Open daily 11 A. M. to 5 P. M., Saturday, 11 A. M. until 8 P. M., except Sundays and holidays.

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, March 31.

The Golden Text is: "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning" (James 1:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Commit thy works unto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be established. . . . How much better is it to get wisdom than gold! and to get understanding rather to be chosen than silver! . . . He that handleth a matter wisely shall find good: and whoso trusteth in the Lord happy is he" (Proverbs 16:3, 16, 20).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "When understanding changes the standpoints of life and intelligence from a material to a spiritual basis, we shall gain the reality of Life, the control of Soul over sense, and we shall perceive Christianity, or Truth, in its divine Principle. This must be the climax before harmonious and immortal man is obtained and his capabilities revealed" (p. 322).

RED CROSS WAR RELIEF SEWING AND KNITTING

Latest reports from Washington state that there are hundreds of thousands of refugees, evacuated from the war zones, who are still in desperate need of warm clothing.

The Winchester Chapter still has yarn for sweaters and the Red Cross room at the Winchester Town Hall is open every Monday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. for sewing.

Although the chapter has material and yarn to use, the money allocated for this work has been exhausted, consequently the Winchester Red Cross chapter would greatly appreciate any contribution of money in order that the chapter may continue the production of warm clothing for war relief work in Europe.

Kindly mail contributions to Mr. William E. Priest, treasurer, Winchester Savings Bank.

ARTHUR W. DEAN TO PRACTICE

With his retirement from active public service, Arthur W. Dean, for 36 years employed in the capacity of Chief Engineer of State Departments, first of New Hampshire State Highway Department (which he organized) then of the Massachusetts Highway Commission, the Massachusetts Department of Public Works and the Massachusetts State Planning Board, will carry on a Consulting Engineering practice jointly with Lewis E. Moore, specializing in highways, bridges and other structures, reports, estimates and general planning.

Mr. Moore has had long experience in design and construction, and for about 20 years has been in consulting practice. His work includes the Cottage Farm Bridge over the Charles River, the recent grade separation viaduct at the Cambridge end of the bridge, the Harvard and Arsenal Street bridges and many other bridges and complicated structures.

MAINE NIGHT

In honor of the Pine Tree State, Maine Clubs will unite in celebrating with a dinner and dance, at the Hotel Lenox, Boston, on April 6, at 6:30 p. m.

The honored guests invited are Governor and Mrs. Saltonstall, Governor and Mrs. Barrows and Ex-Governor and Mrs. Brewster and other distinguished Maine people.

Clubs participating in this gala event and Winchester people that are members of the committee are: The Aroostook Club, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crabtree, Dr. and Mrs. Francis Sleeper, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hall.

Massachusetts Daughters of Maine, Dexter Club and the Hallowell Club.

Reservations can be made by calling any of the above names on or before April 4.

WINCHESTER SKI CLUB

At the club house Wednesday night members and friends saw some excellent movies in color shown by Fred Fish. These consisted of skiing in the Laurentians and in our own Eastern Slope Region.

Easter week-end skiers included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Low who went to Cannon Mountain with the A. M. C.

Harry Bean and Martin Pinkham were also at Cannon Mountain and on the Richard Taft Trail.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitney skied at Temple Mountain.

DISCUSSION CLASSES REPEAT

The discussion groups, studying the fundamental reasons why we have wars, industrial depressions, and so many unemployed, which have been meeting one night each week for the past ten weeks, in and around Boston, have aroused such interest that it has been decided to repeat the series of ten free lectures.

The locations and dates of the opening classes for the spring series are as follows: (All times are at 7:45 p. m. unless otherwise noted).

Boston: Doll & Richards Building, 138 Newbury street, Monday April 1, also Thursday, April 4.

Arlington: Robbins Public Library (side door), 695 Massachusetts avenue, Wednesday, April 3 (7:30 p. m.)

Brookline: Public Library, 361 Washington street, Wednesday, April 3.

Cambridge: Phillips Brooks House, Harvard University, Monday, April 8.

Malden: Dowling Building, Room 516, 8 Pleasant street, Monday, April 1.

Medford: Children's Library, 115 High street, Thursday, April 4.

Somerville: Somerville High School, Highland avenue, Monday, April 1, (7:30 p. m.)

Winchester: American Legion House, 84 Washington street, Tuesday, April 2, 8 p. m.

Woburn: Y. M. C. A., 555 Main street, Thursday, April 4.

These classes are held under the direction of the Boston Extension of the Henry George School of Social Science, a non-profit educational institution with headquarters in New York City. It appears that this educational plan of presenting the philosophy of Henry George is the only way to properly present the truth and logic of Henry George's ideas. More genuine approval of Henry George's plan for correcting the economic evils in the world has been secured in the space of five years since the school started, than in the preceding 40 years. The experience of the school is that it is a sheer waste of time for anyone to attemnt to expound the theories of Henry George in one hour, two hours, or any number of hours of dis-jointed talks before civic bodies, clubs, church organizations, or individuals. What Henry George was actually proposing cannot be understood in any other way than by attending the series of ten, correlated meetings and obtaining the benefit of the open discussions by the class members. These discussions are exceedingly interesting as well as profitable.

Even though one does not agree with the theories presented every participant will develop a more logical alignment of his own thinking on the questions of depressions, wars, unemployment, and the problem of low wages. There is no attempt made to convince anyone unless he can convince himself of the basic truths presented.

Those of the public who are interested in the problems of higher and higher taxes, how to obtain a larger salary, and how to improve the standard of living of all classes of society should select the class most convenient to attend and become a part of this interesting study and discussion adult educational movement. Enrollments are not restricted to the city or town in which one lives.

There is no charge for admission. Both men and women are invited. The classes are sponsored by a group of solid American citizens concerned only with a continuous expansion of our great Democracy as laid down by our forefathers in the Bill of Rights.

Attend one of these meetings to obtain first-hand information.

Further details may be had from Winthrop L. Upton, 28 Westley street, tel. Win. 0621-M.

HOOD EMPLOYEES ATTEND 36TH ANNUAL DANCE

More than 500 members of H. P. Hood & Sons Employees' Mutual Benefit Association attended the Organization's 36th annual dance held Tuesday night at the K. of C. Hall in Somerville. Special entertainment was provided with music furnished by Baron Hugo's orchestra.

Seward E. Nichols of Arlington, vice president of the M. B. A. was chairman of the committee that organized the affair. Serving on his committee were the following members: Sidney Johnson of Wollaston, Henry Tufts of Quincy, Miss Gladys Orpen of Everett, Harold Mahan and Linwood Bennett of Brighton, Rinley Hassell of Winthrop, and Porter Covell of South Boston.

Harvey P. Hood, president of the company, and Mrs. Hood were guests of honor.

The First Parish Church (Unitarian) at Meeting House Hill, Dorchester, formed in 1630, is the oldest church organization in Boston.

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Nine members were absent from the meeting of March 21, one of whom has already made up for his absence.

Word from George Carter tells us that he is improving slowly but still under orders to remain at home. Take it easy, George.

Winchester Rotarians are cordially invited to attend the annual dinner and dance sponsored by the Rotary Club of Lexington. This function will take place at the Old Belfry Club, Lexington on Monday, April 1. Lexington Rotarians are exceptionally good entertainers. We trust that a goodly number of our members will avail themselves of this invitation.

The April "Rotarian" will demand a share of your attention. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, the nation's "First Lady," will describe self-help cooperatives, another idea for the relief of unemployment. J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the FBI tells us that America's criminals are home grown and gives the reasons why. Read your "Rotarian" and be entertained as you learn.

An open meeting was held during the after-luncheon period. The topic under discussion, "Manchester Field, its Origin and its Future," was quite unheralded but it proved to be of extraordinary interest to everyone who is interested in Winchester. It would have been well if every citizen of this town could have listened to the discussion. The immediate cause for the consideration of the matter was the demand that a large section of the field be converted into a parking area. It transpired that a great many Winchesterites believe that there is much to be said pro and con before definite action is taken. We are indebted to our George Davidson, who is practically a life-long resident of this town, for a very careful and detailed description of the processes by which Col. Manchester brought it about that an extremely unsightly, noisy and malodorous tract of land in the heart of the town was converted into a beauty spot which, in all probability, was the starting point from which Winchester was transformed from a drab aggregation of manufacturing and business plants and low-grade dwellings into one of the most beautiful and desirable residential communities within this commonwealth. Col. Manchester made this project his life work and after dogged effort against the bitterest of opposition he came to an early death, a death probably hastened by his devotion to the cause he had espoused. Afterwards the late Edwin Ginn did very much in promotion and extension of the work begun by Col. Manchester.

Many of our members entered into the discussion after George's able and unprejudiced presentation of the history of Manchester Field. While there was complete agreement that there is need of improved parking space in Winchester center it was pointed out that there are now several such spaces near at hand which are not fully used and that the opening of Manchester Field as an automobile park could not bring adequate relief from present conditions without destroying its value as a recreation center and public park as envisioned by its creator. Which eventuality is unthinkable for those who love our town as a retreat from the sordid hubbub of the great city.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Mr. G. Frederick Robinson, president of the Watertown Historical Society, will be the speaker at the annual meeting to be held on Thursday, April 4, at the Public Library at 8 p. m.

Mr. Robinson will speak on the subject, "From Boston to New York by Stage Coach.' He will read letters written by passengers at that time and will show slides of houses and buildings of that period. Those who have heard this talk speak very highly of it.

A cordial invitation to attend is extended to all residents of Winchester.

GARDEN BOOK WEEK AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

Next week, from April 1 to April 6, is Garden Book Week. Gardeners, both amateur and professional, have much practical information to be learned from the many excellent garden books now published, and the Winchester Public Library has many comparatively recent books of this type for your use.

Rock gardens have become very popular, but truly attractive ones need careful thought and preparation, "Common Sense in the Rock Garden," by James H. Bissland stresses the beauty of simplicity, tells how the rock garden can be merged into the rest of the garden, and gives suggestions as to plants and their care. A large well-indexed book, each chapter dealing with a different flower, "Pleasures and Problems of a Rock Garden" by Louise Wilder discusses the flowers which make especially attractive displays in rock gardens.

"Roses of the World in Color" has a colored rose illustration on almost every page and was written by J. Horace McFarland, one of America's authorities on rose-growing and on flower photography. It is a beautiful as well as valuable handbook of rose growing. Two more noteworthy books on roses are "A Year in the Rose Garden" and "The Rose Manual" by Dr. J. H. Nicholas who is one of the world's experts on the growing and breeding of roses.

Two books on special flowers are "Modern Dahlias," on understandable book on the preparation of the soil, the constant care, and the exhibiting of dahlias, written by J. Louis Roberts who has been growing these flowers for 25 years, and the second book, with chapters on the breeding, culture, diseases and the many different types of larkspur is "The Garden of Larkspur" by L. H. Bailey.

"How to Grow Perennial Flowers" by Victor Ries is a practical aid for selection, placing and care of perennial plants in your garden. And for those who wish information about flowering bulbs, "Bulbs for Your Garden, by a former Winchester man, Allen H. Wood, Jr., contains much material on growing, on the different varieties of bulbs, fertilizers, and other such subjects not found in the usual books on bulbs.

Equally interesting to both men and women, a new book "Bouquets and Bitters" by Julian R. Meade is presented as a garden tour of the nation, recording garden information in conversations with well known people who also enjoy gardening.

Approaching this subject from yet another angle "Stories and Legends of Garden Flowers" by Vernon Quinn is a book of interest to gardener and to general reader, including as it does, true histories and fantastic tales about 50 of our best known flowers.

Starting on April 2 of any year "In Our Country Garden" by Clare Ogden Davis takes the reader week by week through the garden year, giving advice for the growing of better flowers. Along this line are two more books, "Friday to Monday Gardening" by Margaret Olthof Goldsmith which has advice on amateur's problems, a complete planting chart and many truly fine photographs; and "The Plant Doctor" by Cynthia Westcott which takes up its material by the month, from March to November, and includes an accurate alphabetical reference list of plants, diseases and chemicals.

Bird lovers will learn from Margaret McKenny's "Birds in the Garden" the garden flowers they must plant to attract the different birds.

The two new books explaining how your plants can grow and flourish on easily prepared solutions instead of soil are "Soilless Culture Simplified" by Alex Laurie and "Chemical Gardening for the Amateur" by Charles Connors and Victor Fiedlens.

Many other books on gardening, both old and new, may be seen on the Garden Book Week table at the Winchester Public Library and may be borrowed at any time.

541,880,000 pounds of raw sugar were imported into Massachusetts from Cuba last year.

MORE TELEPHONES THAN EVER BEFORE

Winchester had more telephones in service last December than ever before at any year-end period, Manager John E. Sullivan of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company announced today.

Although for the Telephone Company as a whole and for the Company's metropolitan Boston division the total number of telephones in service did not reach the peaks of 1931, certain residential districts around Boston, of which Winchester is one, passed all previous records, he said.

Winchester had 337 more telephones in service last December than during the previous peak of December 1931, and 515 more telephones than in December 1933, the low point of the depression in telephone development. The total number of telephones in Winchester at the present time is 4075, Manager Sullivan said.

Pointing out that in a recent statement John J. Robinson, president of the N. E. Tel. & Tel. Co., said that approximately $22,500,000 will be spent on expansion and improvement of the Company's telephone facilities, Manager Sullivan said that Winchester will benefit in various ways from the expenditure. A substantial sum will go toward maintaining and improving the present facilities and providing new telephones for home owners who will build in Winchester.

Outside Winchester the major construction jobs planned for this year will bring the advantages of dial service to Somerville late next July, to Newton next fall and to Quincy in the summer of 1942. These three construction jobs alone will cost more than $8,000,000 in all, Manager Sullivan said.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

In the March number of the temperance magazine called "Our Message" the following item is quoted from the Herald of Holiness.

The town of Barrington, R. I., has persistently refused to repeal Prohibition and now is the only town in the state which has no relief rolls. It is rather significant.

A LITTLE MONEY CAN DO A big JOB

Sometimes even a small amount of money received at a critical time can be very important. That's why far-sighted husbands and fathers find a John Hancock Readjustment Income Plan tailored to their families' needs.

This plan is especially designed to provide income to cover essential family expenses during the readjustment period following the death of the breadwinner. By keeping the family financially secure, it gives them time to prepare for the future.

Our booklet, "Two Lives," shows how a typical family in moderate circumstances is solving an important problem with a John Hancock Readjustment Income Plan. Write for your copy.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in certain mortgage deed given by Howard W. Warren and Viola W. Warren, his wife in her own right, both of Winchester, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, to the Cambridge Federal Savings and Loan Association, an United States corporation, doing business in Cambridge, Massachusetts, dated August 25, 1937, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 6147, Page 123, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction, on the premises, on Tuesday, the ninth day of April, 1940, at two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:

"A certain parcel of land, with all the buildings and structures now or hereafter standing or placed thereon, situated in Winchester, in the County of Middlesex, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, shown as lot numbered 6 on a "Plan of Subdivision of Lots, Winchester, Mass., June 10, 1929, Parker Holbrook, Engineer", said plan being recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, being bounded and described as follows:

Northwesterly by land now or formerly of Estella C. Cooper, as shown on said plan, ninety-eight and 92/100 (98.92) feet;

Northeasterly by land now or formerly of Pauline F. Donaghue as shown on said plan, seventy-six and 91/100 (76.91) feet;

Southeasterly by Lot C as shown on said plan, eighty-seven and 94/100 (87.94) feet; and Southwesterly by a Private Street and by Myrtle Terrace as shown on said plan, sixty-five and 03/100 (65.03) feet. Containing 6,562 square feet of land as shown on said plan.

Together with the fee in that portion of said Private Street to the middle line thereof as abuts on the aforesaid premises on the Southwest. Said premises are also conveyed subject to and with the benefit of a right of way in the whole of said Private Street for all purposes for which public ways may be used in said Winchester.

The above described premises are also conveyed together with and subject to the rights, restrictions, reservations and easements set forth and referred to in a deed from William P. Greeley to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts recorded with said South District Deeds, Book 2794, Page 111, insofar as the same are now in force and applicable to the above described premises.

Meaning and intending to convey the same premises conveyed by deed of Mildred E. Rounds, dated July 1, 1940 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 6042, Page 15."

Said premises are to be sold subject to unpaid taxes and municipal liens.

Two Hundred (200) Dollars will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Other terms will be announced at the time and place of sale.

WASHINGTON'S ANNUAL TOURIST TREK BEGINS

With tourists frequently reaching peak proportions at Easter time, the national capital is expecting this year to establish a new tourist record, largely because of Hitler's curtailment of foreign travel, and the President's proclamation of 1940 as "Travel America Year."

Washington is many things to many people, but government is still the principal industry and tourist attraction," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic Society. The White House last year was visited by 1,500,000 men, women and children.

No record is kept of the thousands who visit the Capitol to see the Senate Chamber and the hall of the House of Representatives; but the Library of Congress, bordering on the Capitol grounds, had more than 1,020,000 visitors in 1939 and more than half a million strolled through the marble corridors of the new Supreme Court building.

G-Men's GHQ Popular

Exhibits of broadest appeal are the various museums of the Smithsonian Institution which last year reported a total of 2,233,345 visitors, while 2,201,080 people peered into the cages of the National Zoological Park.

Each day last year more than a thousand persons were shown the work of the Federal Bureau of Investigation with its crime laboratory, fingerprinting files and trophies of the more notorious criminal cases handled.

The Washington Monument, 555 feet high, last year welcomed more than 900,000 visitors who sought a bird's-eye view of the city. An elevator in the towering obelisk ascends to the top in 1½ minutes.

Millions Made Daily

Others than stamp collectors flock to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing to see the only place in the United States where postage stamps are made; for here, in addition, all the paper money is also engraved. The annual daily output is 3,300,000 notes with a face value of $14,000,000. Postage stamps are run off at the rate of 46,000,000 a day, giving some measure of the mail carriers' daily job. These unique operations last year attracted 361,268 travelers to the Bureau.

Many non-governmental buildings vie for the attention of visitors to Washington. Notable among these is the Washington Cathedral, on Mt. St. Alban overlooking the city, where one of the ten largest cathedrals of the world is under construction. The Cathedral, the site of the tombs of Woodrow Wilson and Admiral Dewey, was visited last year by a quarter of a million persons.

Other buildings interest tourists and architects because of their history and structural beauty. The chapel of Trinity College, near the Campus of the Catholic University of America, has been pronounced a gem of ecclesiastical architecture; and the Octagon House, home of the institute of architects, is a direct link with the earliest social life of the capital.

The Custis Mansion, later the estate of Gen. Robert E. Lee at Arlington, overlooks the capital from a hill on the Virginia side of the Potomac. The estate now is the Arlington National Cemetery, where are interred the remains of many of the nation's heroic dead, including the Unknown Soldier of the World War. The restored Lee mansion contains a fine exhibit of colonial furnishings.

Washington's proximity to battlefields, to Annapolis, to Alexandria and Mount Vernon extends the interest of a visit to the capital. By motor over the Memorial Highway which parallels the Potomac on the Virginia side, or by steamer down the broad river, Mount Vernon was last year host to 650,000.

The Kerr "Changepoint" fountain pen, the pen you've liked so much at your local bank, can be purchased at Wilson, the Stationer's, Star Building. $2.50, $3.00, $3.50.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage given by MYRON MANOR, INC., a corporation duly organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and having its principal place of business in Boston, Suffolk County, Massachusetts, to the MIDDLESEX FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, an United States corporation, doing business in Somerville, Massachusetts, dated June 14, 1939, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 6301, Page 404, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of the conditions of said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing the same will be sold at public auction on THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1940, at FOUR O'CLOCK p. m., on the granted premises, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage, to wit:

A certain parcel of land, with all the buildings and structures now or hereafter standing or placed thereon, situated in WINCHESTER, in the COUNTY OF MIDDLESEX, and COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS, being the lot numbered TWO HUNDRED AND THREE (203) on a plan entitled "Sub-division of Land, Winchester, Mass., dated June 1, 1938, made by T. G. Armstrong, C. E., and recorded with Middlesex South Di-trict Deeds, Book 6217 Page 595, and is bounded and described as follows:

EASTERLY by Cambridge Street, eighty-eight (88) feet;

SOUTHERLY by lot 204 on said plan, one hundred and seventeen and 56/100 (117.56) feet;

WESTERLY by lots 206 and 207 on said plan, eighty-eight and 57/100 (88.57) feet; and

NORTHERLY by lot 202 on said plan, one hundred and twenty-seven and 53/100 (127.53) feet.

Containing 10,780 square feet of land, according to said plan.

Subject to restrictions of record insofar as the same are now in force and applicable, and to the establishment of a building line by the Town of Winchester by a taking dated March 28, 1927, and recorded with said Deeds, Book 5083, Page 512.

Being a portion of the premises conveyed to said corporation by deed of Myron Widetsky, dated July 5, 1938, and recorded with said Deeds, Book 6217, Page 595.

(Said parcel of land is also shown as a portion of the lots numbered THREE (3) and FOUR (4) on a plan entitled "Vernon Hill in Winchester", designed by Rowland H. Barnes & Henry F. Beal, Civil Engrs., dated February 1936, and recorded with said Deeds, Book 6200, Page 556.)

TERMS OF SALE: Said premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes and assessments, tax sales and tax titles, and to municipal liens and assessments, if any there may be. FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS ($500.00) in cash will be required to be paid by the purchaser at the time and place of sale—other terms to be announced at the sale.

WAR ON ICE

Uncle Sam's military experts are taking the hint from Europe's frozen-front tactics and are promoting special ski-and-snowshoe maneuvers for American troops now training in winter-bound areas from New York to Alaska. As Europe freezes over in the grip of one of the severest winters on record, increasing numbers of troops—offensive and defensive—have been reported using sleds, skis and snowshoes, and even "sled tanks," says the National Geographic Society. The Russo-Finnish conflict, especially in the bitter battles of the Far North, has been a spectacular testing ground for winter-sports implements turned to war uses. One new and startling development is credited to the Russians who are reported to be using an armed and armored machine, set on skis, and driven at high speed by means of airplane propellers. Another newly developed Soviet practice is to make airplane landing fields smooth by flooding them with water which then freezes. As defense measures, frozen lakes on various European frontiers now are guarded by troops on skates.

In a Needham cemetery is the grave of a Civil War veteran, John S. Coulter, who had previously been a bugler in the British Army at Waterloo.

It looks like rather a late spring for outdoor baseball work in Winchester. The Shore road field will need plenty of warm sunny weather to dry out and it will take plenty of the same sort of days to get rid of all the snow piled on Manchester Field during the past winter.

Winchester surely had a frigid week-end for Easter with the glass seldom higher than 20 degrees and going as low as 6 above early Easter morning. With the high wind both Saturday and Sunday it seemed much colder than the actual thermometer reading, but 12 degrees Saturday and 6 Sunday was cold enough! The Easter parade this year was largely furs and winter ulsters with few "toppers" in evidence.
